RELIGIOUS HATRED.

The Intense Bitterness That Divides Islam and Hindooism.

It is difficult to express the eternal and inevitable hatred and detestation which have always existed between the Mohammedan and the Hindoo in India. It is often forgotten by critics that the differences between the Mohammedan's religion and the Englishman's are minute compared with those that divide Islam and Hindooism. They of the east take their religion much more seriously than we of the west, and in the eyes of Islam the dog of a Christian is far better than the swine of a Hindoo.

The Pathans of the northwestern frontier—keen, hardy and relentless fighters, without education and without the wish for it—may stand as a type of the Mohammedans. They are kept from the throat of Hindustan only by the presence of the British government. If restraint were removed from the Mohammedan the Hindoos would go down like grain before the sickle, and the Pathans would turn India into one widespread hell. The first to fly would be our friend the babu. Yet he is precisely the man who today does all he can to make British rule in India difficult. Were there any chance of his succeeding agitation would promptly cease. Grim indeed would be the silence of the Bengali press about the moral delinquencies of the white man. The Brahman agitator knows his Englishman and understands exactly how far he may be trusted to go doggedly on with his ungrateful work.

I once saw a curious instance of the contempt in which the educated Bengali babu is held by men of his own blood. Toward the close of 1902 I was traveling up to the Durbar at Delhi and happened to be in the dining car on the three foot Rajputana-Malwa railroad. A well known rajput asked if he might join me at dinner. I was delighted and found him a most interesting companion. From first to last nothing could exceed his courtesy. But in pausing in the midst of a sentence and apologizing to me he leaned back in his chair and stretched out his arm behind him, barring the narrow passageway. A well to do Bengali babu was stopped by the outstretched arm. The rajput then called the Bengali ugly things. He told him that he was one of a filthy and seditious lot of cowards, mangy curs that bit the hand that fed them, and he finished by saying that, could he have his own way, he would subject the whole lot of them to a certain torture whose very mention made the wretched babu a shade grayer. I never saw such a spectacle of shivering terror. With a final sneer, the rajput told his victim to go, and then he turned back to the table with a pleasant smile.—Perceval Landon in World's Work.

An Interesting Experiment.

That the earth revolves on its axis can be proved by a simple experiment. Fill a medium sized bowl nearly full of water and place it upon the floor of a room that is not exposed to jarring from the street. Upon the surface of the water sprinkle a coating of lycopodium powder. Then take powdered charcoal and draw a straight black line two inches long upon the coating. The line should be north and south. After this is done lay upon the floor a stick so that it will be exactly parallel with the charcoal line. Any stationary object in the room will answer as well, provided it is parallel with the line. If the bowl is left undisturbed for several hours it will be seen that the black mark has turned toward the parallel object and has moved from east to west in a direction opposite to the movement of the earth on its axis. This proves that the earth in revolving has carried the water with it, but the powder on the surface has been left a little behind.

Bear Baiting In Olden Days.

So popular was bull baiting in olden days in England that riots followed the attempt to suppress it in the large towns. Bear baiting was more popular still, if that could be. In various places, Liverpool, especially, it made part of the festivities at the election of the mayor, being held before his worship started for church. Ladies commonly attended in great numbers. There was a famous bear at Liverpool which showed such grand sport in 1782 that certain fair admirers presented it with a garland, decked it with ribbons and carried it to the theater, where a special entertainment had been "commanded," which bruin sat out in the front of their box. But of gossip about bull and bear baiting there is no end. Enthusiastic lovers of Shakespeare read with interest the petition of the royal bear warden, addressed to Queen Elizabeth in 1505, complaining that his licensed performances had been neglected of late because every one went to the theater.

Mother Works Without Pay.

"Mother gets up first," said the new office boy. "She lights the fire and gets my breakfast, so I can get here early. Then she gets father up, gets his breakfast and sends him off. Then she gives the others their breakfast and gets 'em ready for school, and then she and the baby have their breakfast."

"What is your pay here?" asked the man.

"I get $3 a week, and father gets $3 a day."

"How much does your mother get?"

"Mother!" he said indignantly. "Why, she don't have to work for anybody."

"Oh, I thought you just told me she worked for the whole family every morning."

"Oh, that's for us but there ain't no money in that."

An automobile was overturned in New York yesterday and two men killed and two others seriously injured.

NEW WAY TO BE WELL

Healthfulness of Oranges.

The one lesson which most people never seem to learn is, how to guard their health.

We have been eating oranges since time immemorial, yet how many of us know that orange juice contains a medicinal principle which has a marked action on the stomach, bowels, kidneys and skin. Some physicians go so far as to say that they can cure the average case of Indigestion, Constipation, Billiousness and Dry Skin with orange juice and proper diet.

This can be easily proved to the satisfaction of any sufferer. Take the juice of one or two oranges every morning before breakfast, take one or two "Fruit-a-tives" every night at bed-time, exercise a reasonable care in diet, and the proof will be found in health.

The cure will be greatly assisted and hastened by taking "Fruit-a-tives" in conjunction with the orange juice. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in which the medicinal principle of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are many times increased by the special way in which they are combined. Then tonics are added and the whole made into tablets. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers, or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price—50c a box—6 for $2.50. The Equinox Storm Fable.

The United States weather bureau has denied that the coming of the equinox brings with it a storm. The belief, it says, that the old fashioned people put in this theory is all misplaced. Any big storm that happens to occur within a week or two of the time that the sun is crossing the line, say the weather men, is dignified by the name of "equinoctial storm," when, as a matter of fact, there is generally some atmospheric disturbance every week or two, and those that occur about the time of the equinox are just taking their turn and are not the result of the crossing of the sun.

Only the choicest of selected hill-grown tea leaves are used in "Salada" Tea, giving it a delicate fragrance and delicious flavor.

SLOW PROMOTION.

Promotion in the transatlantic lines is slow, and there are more deserving and qualified candidates than positions for them.

Probably the captain has been in the same line since he began as a fourth officer when he was a very young man. Before that he must have had some experience in sailing ships and acquired at least a mate's certificate. On many of the great transatlantic liners all the officers are holders of masters' certificates, and thus some of them, although at the bottom so far as actual position goes, are certified by competent examiners in seamanship and navigation to be qualified for the top.

There are six or seven navigating officers under the captain in the biggest ships, and each aspires to be a captain himself in time. Progress is labyrinthine in this profession, however. The ships themselves are graded as well as the men.

Suppose you have risen to be chief officer in one of the inferior vessels of the fleet; the captain dies or retires; his place is not given to you, but to the chief officer of the commodore ship of the line, and you are merely transferred, without change of rank, to a better ship. From that ship you pass to a better and a better until the slow and wearying progress leads you, after scores of voyages and anxious experiences in the fitful Atlantic in the fogs of summer and the hurricanes of winter, to the commodore ship. The command of her becomes vacant, but it is not yet for you. You are promoted to a captaincy—to the captaincy of the least important ship of the line. But, although you are sent down from the top of one ladder, it is to climb another, and you are little inclined to complain.

Then, if there is nothing against you, if you avoid accidents and if the owners approve of you in all ways, you will in another ten years or so have had command of intermediate ships and at last have risen to the newest, finest and fastest. By this time you are likely to be verging on middle age or beyond it, and the next step will be toward the limit at which you must retire, leaving the climbing to others, some of whom may never reach the top, near though it seems.

Favor plays no part in advancement at sea. All the lines keep to those of their own officers whose ability and fidelity are proved and promote them, with few exceptions, in the rotation I have described. The captains are all men who have risen in the line they serve, and happily no usurpation by outsiders is ever heard of.—William H Rideing in Youth's Companion.

Teach Them of Canada.

Chatting with Canadians at the opening of the Franco-British exhibition both the Prince and Princess of Wales again and again emphasized special interest in Canadian progress, which the prince clearly sees.

In promoting colonial interests in England he may find a peculiarly fruitful field of his own, just as the King has done in promoting good relations with foreign lands. The princess so fully shares this view that for some time past she has encouraged Mr. Mackinder, director of the London School of Economics, and other authorities on colonial questions, to come regularly to Marlborough House to talk with the young princes on Canadian and other Empire topics, illustrating talks with maps, photographs, and the prince's own colonial trophies gathered in Canada, Australasia, India, and elsewhere.

No one is more disappointed than the young Prince Edward himself that he will not be allowed to break into his naval school life at Osborne to visit Quebec with his father.

Canadian Bread Superior.

At the rooms of the Royal Society, London, Prof. T. B. Wood showed how a loaf made from English wheat was small compared with one made from Canadian wheat, because the yeast "grows" better and the glutine is more elastic in the Canadian product. Also, Canadian yeast emitted carbon dioxide at twice the rate English yeast did.

"SHOW ME" PROOF

That is What Hyomei Will do in All Forms of Catarrah and Troubles of the Breathing Organs

It's not a question of Hyomei having cured someone else, but will it reach your own particular case. If its Cold in the head, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Pneumonia, Croup or any affection of the breathing organs; W. Madill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George street, Peterborough, says yes, and will refund the money if it fails. No other preparation for the same purpose can successfully do this, because the Hyomei system of treatment is different from anything else.

You simply breathe and inhale its medication in dry air from which destroys the germ life that causes oppressed breathing, Nasal Catarrh, Throat Irritation and Lung Troubles. It brings to these suffering organs the balsam laden air they would get in the Pine and Eucalyptus forests. The air that stamps out Bronchial troubles.

The prince of entertainers Marshal P. Wilder, says:—Hyomei is easy to use, and swift to cure. It insures you pure air and kills the germ of disease. It helps the voice.

JAS. A. HALL,
Returning Officer.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—As you are aware I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good economical and efficient administration of our affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province generally.

The test of good representation, either by a Government or member, is good work and, in this respect, both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their tust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Hendburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government. The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent., while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent.

Disregard of the rights of labour was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labour abolished by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labour at 30 cents per hour to compete against free labour.

The introduction of the "spoils system" the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to local option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, neglect of law reforms with a view of making our law courts available for securing justice within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests of the city in every direction and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our workingmen and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

Very sincerely yours,

G. A. GILLESPIE

GOOD CROWDS AT JACKSON PARK

Band and Moving Pictures There Last Night for First Time This Season

The moving pictures and the band drew a large number to Jackson Park last night. The night was just a trifle cool, however, and the crowd was not as large as it would have been under more favorable circumstances.

The pictures were enjoyed and the band gave a good programme. It was the first time the band has been there this summer.

NEW MACHINERY IS INSTALLED

The Prepayment Meter Company has just finished the installation of new lathes and drills. This has been rendered necessary by the increase in the business of the company.

"MODEL" LAUNDRY ON HUNTER ST.

A new laundry is being established on Water street in the premises formerly occupied by the Peterborough Decorating Company.

The laundry, which will be known as the "Model" laundry will be conducted by two well known local young men, Messrs. F. G. Pope and J. O'Brien and will have a most modern equipment.

SEVERAL HOUSES WILL BE ERECTED

The following building permits have been issued at the city hall during the past few days:—

E. Cook, brick veneer dwelling on Gladstone Ave.—$900.

Henry Cox, stable on Rogers street.—$300.

Jas. E. McIlmoylem brick veneer dwelling on Pearl Ave.—$2,000.

INVITATION TO CONVENTION

Mr. Jas. R. Bell, secretary of the Peterborough branch of the Retail Merchants' Association, has received a letter from E. M. Trowern, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, stating that the ninth provincial convention will be held in the I.O.F. hall, Galt, on June 17th, and 18th.

Secretary Trowern asks to be informed concerning how many delegates the local branch will be in a position to send to the convention.

A local meeting will be called at once to consider the matter.

A busy social week opened in London with the King's last levee of the season in St. James' Palace. There was a large gathering of diplomats present.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

A. W. CRESSMAN NOT THE WRITER

Is in no Responsible for Letter Signed "Fair Play" Which Appeared in Yesterday's Local Papers

Mr. A. W. Cressman has handed the Review the following letter for publication:—

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—It having come to our knowledge that we are by some persons thought to be identified with the letter in last night's paper signed "Fair-Play Merchant." We wish the public to know that this letter was not written by us, or have we any knowledge of who the writer was, and I think it would be better if a question such as this, of public interest could be discussed in the open, rather than over a nom-de-plume.

A. W. CRESSMAN.

C. G. E. COERCION

Editor of the Review

Sir,—I challenge the West Riding Reform (!) Association to name the men at the CGE. Works who complained of being coerced by the men whom the West Riding Reform Association had called upon the carpet by the CGE. management

2 To produce the correspondence between the Association and the CGE. management and thus show the public what was charged and who were charged with it.

3 To make a clean breast of the whole business and thus give the men "called off" a chance to show that they made us of their own freedom, in their own time in their own way.

4 To produce Mr. Stratton's letters of some years ago when he succeeded in doing the same old thing in the same old way.

Yours, etc.
PRO PERSONA

THE C. G. E. OUTRAGE

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I was much amused in reading Hon. J. R. Stratton's denial to an article that appeared in the columns of the Mail and Empire, said article charging him with sharp practice in the present campaign, in which he is endeavoring to coerce certain employees of the C.G.E., and, of course, he makes an indignant denial. Of course he would. We that know him know full well that he was the inspiration. He also claims that he never tried to coerce any of the factories or anyone else. Now don't that give you a jolt? Had he not the numbered ballot then, and is it not a fact that more than one batch was printed in the Examiner office? The Hon. J. R. had many ways and means of coercing, and he never failed to use them when required. I wonder what he calls the case of Mr. Wm. Croft, when he was deprived of a license and drove out of business, and he by that one act coerced every man in the liquor business in Peterborough. They were whipped into line and stayed there.

ONE OF THE COERCED.

THE C. G. E. AFFAIR

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Mr. Stratton may squirm as he likes and shove all the blame on the West Riding Reform Association, but why don't these gentlemen deny the whole business? Why was an attempt made to coerce workingmen because of their political opinions. Mr. Petterson is not to blame. Nobody but this numbered ballot association of political tricksters is to blame, and they are getting it.

Yours.

TEN YEAR OLD BOY, A TRUANT

Was Taken to School This Morning by Mr. Cochrane—Was in Court

A young lad of ten years was charged with stealing a bicycle at the police court this morning. His Worship discharged him.

It appears that the boy has been playing truant for some days. He wasn't at school yesterday, and when he went home last night his mother hid his clothes so he couldn't leave this morning until the truant officer came after him. Truant Officer George Cochrane took him to school, but at recess P.C. Newhall took him away again to court.

OBITUARY

The death occurred at 570 Gilchrist street, this afternoon, of Mrs. Charles Reynolds, a lady who was held in high esteem by many friends. She had been ill for three or four weeks and was 60 years of age. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Miss Annie Reynolds, of this city. An unusually sad feature in connection with Mrs. Reynolds' death is that a daughter passed away only three weeks ago.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon from 570 Gilchrist street, to Little Lake cemetery.

In the Turkish community in Paris on Saturday night the Princess Fatima and her son, Prince Sulah, were murdered in their sleep by a poor Turkish student whom Mehemet Ali, the brother of the Princess, had befriended.

CITY QUEEN IN GANANOQUE

Will Start in 2.35 Class in the Races There To-day — Will Race in Eastern Circuit

Mr. Geo. Powell has shipped City Queen, owned by Mr. T. Bennett, of Port Hope, to Gananoque and she will start there in the races to-day in the 2.35 class. Later she will be campaigned in the Eastern circuit.

City Queen is a speedy and honest little stepper and should stand good chances of getting within the money. Trainer Powell has her working nicely.

THE TOPIC OF THE HOUR

The biggest success of last season's theatrical offerings will be seen again at the Grand on Saturday evening, when Henry B. Harris' fine production of this great American play, "The Lion and the Mouse."

It is a wonderfully strong play and the mere announcement of its return should be sufficient to pack the theatre, as our theatre going public know the drama deals with a widely discussed topic of the hour, that of the influence wielded by the money power in American politics.

"The Lion and the Mouse," is the play that all America is talking about just now. Charles Klein wrote "The Lion and the Mouse," and the best judges of matters dramatic have given him credit for creating the great American play, for which everybody has been patiently waiting for many years. The subject which Mr. Klein selected is one of vital interest to America at this time—the influence which the financial powers of the country are exerting—and he has treated the matter in a masterly manner. While the drama is serious in its aspect there is an abundance of humor introduced in the beardsides of as keen-edged wit as it has been the playgoers' pleasure to listen to in many years. Plan now open.

Fiske stock company at the Grand

The Fiske Stock Company, one of the strongest repertoire organizations before the public this season, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House for the week commencing Monday, June 8th. The plays presented are entirely new to our theatre-goers and are controlled exclusively by this company. "Through the Breakers," will be the offering at the opening performance on Monday evening. Aside from the dramatic company eight big vaudeville novelties are presented, the vaudeville programme alone being almost an evening's entertainment. An entire change of play and specialties are given at every performance during the engagement. The Opera House management have made special arrangements whereby the company will play at the extraordinary low prices of 10 and 20 cents and at these prices the "standing room only" sign should be in evidence every night as the "Fiske Company" is one of the best repertoire companies on the road.

MERRY WIDOW HATS GREAT NUISANCES

Conductor on Hour's Ride Car Complains—Received Black Eye From Jab by a Hat

The "Merry Widow" hat has received another knock, and this time it is from a well-known local street car conductor. The man who takes the fares on the hour's ride car informed a Review reporter yesterday that while going his rounds the other day he received such a severe jab in the eye with a "Merry Widow" sailor, that it was very black and sore for some time. He experiences great difficulty in collecting the fares owing to the largeness of the ladies' hats and the numerous features and other decorations that project from them. He thought that those who wore such large headgear should be charged ten cents instead of five.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. HORSE BECAME FRIGHTENED

A horse became frightened of a car at the entrance to Jackson Park just as the crowd was starting for home last night. The animal reared and it looked for a moment as if the buggy would be upset. A young lady was just in front of the horse when it started to cut up and had a rather narrow escape.

HORSE SHOT ON BROCK ST. LAST NIGHT

Laid on the Street for Several Hours—Was Suffering and Fell Exhausted

A horse suffering from a grease leg was disabled at the corner of Brock and Chambers sts. yesterday and lay there for several hours. Finally about 7 o'clock P. C. Meagher was sent for and shot the animal. The horse was turned out into the street and wandered down George St. Its right hind leg was so badly swollen that it became exhausted at Brock St. and fell. It lay there from shortly after 3 o'clock until nearly eleven at night. It is said that a man by the name of Mitchell brought the animal down to Mr. Geo. Downer on George St., who, it is alleged, left it to wander around.

The residents in the vicinity of Brock and Chambers Sts. were highly incensed over the horse being allowed to be left so long as it was. Its leg was bleeding and it was anything but a pleasant sight for pedestrians to look at. It was nearly four hours after it was shot before it was removed.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS, 1908

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital, and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons, concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient servant,

T. E. BRADBURN

A DISTURBANCE IN PARIS ATTEMPT TO KILL DREFUS

Canonization of Zola Occasion for the Attempt—Gregori, a Military Writer of Note, is the Assailant—Motive for the Attempt.

Paris, June 5.—Just at the close of the ceremonies attending the canonization of Emile Zola in the Pantheon yesterday, when the President of France, the Premier and a host of Ministers of state were taking their departure, Louis Anthebne Gregori, a military writer of note, drew a revolver and fired two shots point blank at Major Alfred Dreyfus, for whose liberty Zola had fought and won.

Men distinguished in all walks of life filled the pantheon and when the shots rang out there was intense excitement in fear that the President had been assassinated, but even the attempt on the life of Major Dreyfus has created a profound impression. Soldiers speedily surrounded Gregori, and he was taken, bruised and bleeding with his clothing almost torn from his back, to jail.

The affair has caused a tremendous sensation in Paris, and the motive of the would-be assassin is the cause of much mystification, for Gregori, instead of being an ordinary fanatic, such as is carried away by the political passions of the moment, is a man of mature age, having been born in 1844, and was highly esteemed in the circles where he was known. Although born of Italian parents, he has been an ardent Frenchman for years, and has written authoritatively on military subjects, enjoying close relations with many high French officers. He was one of the correspondents who followed the big French and German manoeuvres for the purpose of securing data for technical papers.

His friends are at a loss to under[illegible] induced him to commit such a foolhardy act, and many are disposed to question his statement that he simply shot as an individual in protest against the participation of the army in the ceremonies attending the placing of the ashes of Zola in the pantheon.

Some do not hesitate to express the opinion that he may be but the tool of a little clan of royalists, who, under the name of L'action Francaise, have never ceased to insist that the court of cassation illegally prevented an appeal in the Dreyfus case, nor abandoned hope of seeing a revision of the case favorable to the contentions of the Nationalists.

By the shooting of Dreyfus, they pointed out, the whole affair may be indirectly reopened before July, as the assassination or attempted assassination must come before the assize court for trial.

Some color is lent to this theory by a series of remarkable articles that appeared in L'action Francaise from the pens of Chas. Maurreas and Leon Daudet, son of the poet, who are the leading spirits among the royalists supporters of the restoration of Phillipe of Orleans.

The articles apparently anticipated yesterday's events, that of Maurreas declaring that "there may be a rumbling before the revolution," while Daudet wrote: "The real hero will be Dreyfus, and Dreyfus may ask himself whether this nocturnal glorification of modern crime will not conjure up a terrible dawn. He has already heard the stroke of midnight."

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS FROM MANY POINTS OF THE WORLD

Mr. Giguac, Independent Conservative in North Essex, has withdrawn.

Twenty persons were drowned in Mexico as the result of a cloudburst.

George Miller, aged 15, was shot by a companion, aged 4, at Toronto, with a rifle, which he didn't know was loaded. He will probably die.

Violent protests were made by the Socialists and Labor members in the House of Commons against King Edward's approaching visit to Russia.

Lord Strathcona presided at a banquet to Lord Crewe by the Canada Club in London. Very complimentary things were said about Canada.

THE ACCIDENT AT OWEN SOUND

Verdict of Coroner's Jury Arrived at in a Few Moments.

Owen Sound, June 5.—"That Engineer William H. Bouskill came to his death through a collision of engines 1,490 and 826 on the night of May 29, the cause of such collision being unknown to the jury, and that the yards of the C.P.R. should be better lighted and some means of locking the valve of locomotives when left standing on the tracks should be adopted."

The above was the verdict of the jury in the inquest on the body of Engineer Bouskill, who died in the hospital here early Saturday morning following the wreck of the passenger train through the collision with the runaway engine.

Fireman Wilson, Baggageman Stone, the tramp, James Batts, and William Bouldoc are improving rapidly and will be able to leave the hospital in a short time.

Shooting Event at a Charivari.

Peterboro, June 5.—The village of Baillieboro is excited over a shooting affray, the result of a charivari at the home of James Byers, who lives a mile from the village.

His son, Weigh Byers, was married a month ago, and the boys were long in preparing the celebration. When the crowd roused the family after 11 o'clock of the 2nd, and, after a noisy demonstration, asked for money, the father fired a charge of shot into the crowd, injuring six of the men.

Among them were Ernest Anderson, Wellington Bateman and one Gibson, all of whom were injured in the face.

Bateman may lose his sight.

Govern Sale of Weapons.

Detroit, June 5.—At a session of the convention of the International Association of Police Chiefs, a resolution, introduced by Chief McWeeny of South Bend, Ind., was adopted, urging upon the President, the Congress and governors of the various states and the Canadian Government, the enactment of a uniform law governing the sale and use of dangerous and deadly weapons.

Shot Down Escaping Convicts.

Birmingham, Ala., June 5.—A desperate break for liberty was made at the plant of the Alabama Manufacturing Co., at North Birmingham, by nine convicts.

The guards fired on the men and the day policemen of North Birmingham joined in the fusillade. Five of the convicts were shot down, two of them being fatally wounded.

Groom Cut His Throat.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Alex. Scott, the young foreman of the Winnipeg Paint & Glass Co., did not turn up at his wedding. Getting uneasy, the brother of the bride, Miss Jeannie Sullivan, and the best man, went to the bridegroom's house and discovered him dead with his throat cut. A clear case of suicide.

STAGE MANAGER PLACED IN GAOL

Montreal, June 5.—Harry McLaughlin, stage manager for Madame Nasimova, the Russian actress, is in the Montreal jail under peculiar circumstances.

After the performance at His Majesty's Theatre on the night of Friday, May 22, he strolled down to the local tenderloin district, where he got into a row with some strangers, and was arrested on a charge of creating a disturbance. Not wishing to let his friends know of his predicament he spent the night in a police cell, and appeared before Recorder Dupuis in the morning, expecting to get off with a fine. Great was his surprise to get a sentence of two months in jail, without the option of a fine.

Lawyers are now trying to get him out, but as the recorder says he cannot change his judgment the matter is being taken to Ottawa.

Death From Exposure.

Renfrew, June 5.—Last Friday Michael Sholes, while driving to Barry's Bay took ill, apparently, for when he met John Retsa he asked to be directed to a physician. Two hours later two men found the team at the same place and going to Retsa's house, a hundred yards away, returned with him and found Sholes hanging out of the rig with his head on a wheel and his feet inside the wagon. Believing he was drunk they removed the horses to a barn, but Sholes remained in the rig all night exposed to heavy rain, and it was not until 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon a passing farmer took charge of him. He died on Sunday. His body, it is said, was covered with bruises. An enquiry will be held.

Farms Damaged by Floods.

Brockville, June 5.—A deputation of farmers residing along the Gananoque river waited on the municipal council of the Township of Leeds and Lansdowne and urged it to take steps to lessen the serious damage to their farms by floods.

It was shown that the danger could be minimized by controlling the water flowing into the Gananoque river from the Rideau canal system at Morton.

The council adopted a resolution calling upon the Minister of Railways and Canals to afford relief by increasing the openings in the Rideau canal.

Hon. Mr. Whitney at Toronto.

Toronto, June 5.—The speakers at to-night's big rally of the Conservative candidates in Massey Hall will be Hon. J. P. Whitney, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, M.P.; Hon. J. J. Foy, Hon. Dr. Pyne, Hon. Adam Beck, Hon. Thomas Crawford, W. K. McNaught, John Shaw, W. D. McPherson, K.C., T. R. Whiteside and Geo. H. Gooderham.

AN EXCELLENT REVIEW OF THE GOVERNMENT'S RECORD

Col. Matheson Made Splendid Impression Before Meeting of Electors at Grand Opera House Last Night.

WHITNEY HAS KEPT HIS PRE-ELECTION PROMISES

Record of Whitney Administration is One of Progress and Reform—Finances of the Province Have Been Ably Handled—Government Has Dealt Fairly With the Labor Interests—The Charges Made by "Rip Van Winkles" Effectively Answered.

Considering the short notice given the attendance at the meeting of the electors of West Peterboro held in the Grand Opera House last night was quite large. About 350 were in attendance, including a good sprinkling of ladies who took a deep interest in the subjects discussed. The principal speaker was the Honorable Colonel Matheson, Provincial Treasurer, who gave an excellent address on the issues of the day. He was given a most attentive hearing and his clear and forcible review of the deeds of the Whitney Government aroused great enthusiasm. He predicted that the Conservatives would be returned to power next Monday, with as large a majority as they had at the present time.

Mr. Jas. Kendrey, ex-M.P., occupied the chair and the others on the platform were Ald. Phelan, Messrs. W. Croft, F. H. Dobbin, Jas. Stevenson A. P. Pousette and J. W. Garvin.

LICENSE LAW ENFORCED

Mr Kendry extended a very hearty welcome to Col Matheson He said he wished to apoligize for Mr. Bradburn not being present but he had to attend a meeting in Ennismore which had been previously advertised and Mr. Matheson had found it impossible to be present on any other occasion.

Mr Kendry said he wished to speak on the license question. He said the liquor license law was splendidly carried out by the present provincial government. The people of Ontario had one thing for which they ought to be particularly thankful and that was the secret ballot.

In Peterborough the commissioners had taken away the licenses from three hotel keepers and they were Conservatives at that. Under the law of the former provincial government great latitude had been evident in the enforcement of the license law but now the law was strictly enforced. In Peterborough the commissioners had done good work and there was a good inspector for the riding. Even the Examiner had not criticized the license commissioners and it would certainly have done so had it had any ground whatever for doing so.

Any hotel keeper who had not voted for the old government was refused his license and government servants were discharged if they did not vote "right." The Whitney government had done enough to be returned to power if for no other reason than for their enforcement of the liquor license act and the giving of the secret ballot. In conclusion he ventured to say that Mr. Bradburn would be returned by a larger majority than before.—Loud applause.

MR. J. W. GARVIN

Mr. J. W. Garvin followed Mr. Kendry and gave an eloquent address that was received with frequent outbursts of applause. His presentation of the record of the Whitney administration was clear and forcible and answered very effectively many of the statements made by the Liberal speakers and the Liberal press.

Mr. Garvin said he was glad to bring the message that East Peterborough would in all probability be redeemed next Monday. Great enthusiasm prevailed among the Liberal-Conservatives of the East Riding and they were united for Mr. Thompson.

Mr. Garvin, after a few introductory remarks, took up the La Rose mine case and showed very clearly that the action of the Whitney government in this connection had been a splendid move for the province. The government had secured control of the La Rose property and a splendid addition to the revenue of the province was the result. Not only was the revenue at present increased but hundreds of thousands of dollars per year for perpetuity were assured from this source. The commendable action of the Whitney government in withdrawing from the prospectors the Gillies limits, was also referred to by the speaker. This territory was worth at least $30,000,000 and was conceded by experts worth more than $100,000,000. Had the Ross Government remained in power the party's favourites would have been given valuable concessions in the Cobalt district. The revenue of which was now going into the treasury of the province.

In 1906 the Whitney Government appointed the Hydro-Electric Commission. The Hydro-Electric Commission were appointed to conserve the great water powers of the province. The day is near at hand when the whole of Old Ontario will be gridironed with transmission lines carrying this wonderful power of Ontario all over the province. He thanked Mr. Matheson and the Whitney Government for the splendid service of the Hydro-Electric Commission to the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Garvin told of the Ross Government's establishment of so many Model schools. It had been necessary for teachers then in order to get their first-class certificates to resign their positions and go to the Normal school. In the meantime Modelites took their positions and the teachers who had gone to Norwood very often could not come back to their old positions, and many of them went to the Northwest and other remote parts of the province where there were openings.

The Whitney Government had seen the necessity for building Normal schools and, thanks to them, and more especially to the splendid efforts of Mr. Bradburn, one of these grand institutions was in Peterbor- Everything that intelligent men could do in the matter of education had been done by the Whitney Government.

The speaker told of the large number of young girls that the Provincial Secretary, Hon. Mr. Hanna, had seen in the Mercer Reformatory. He called Mr. Kelso's attention to the deplorable condition of the girls in the institution with barred cells, and of the tendency their close confinement and environment would have to degenerate instead

THE DOMINION PARLIAMENT BUSINESS IS VERY SLOW

Minister of Militia Makes Statement Respecting Camps—Dr. Daniel Brings up Representation of Maritime Provinces—Contracts Given to Sir Frederick Borden's Son-in-Law—Many Members Away.

Ottawa, June 5.—In the House Dr. Daniel of St. John brought up the question of representation of the Maritime Provinces. The discussion which arose extended over the three sittings.

At the morning session R. L. Borden complained of employes of the I.C.R. in Temiscouata being coerced and intimidated into voting for the Liberal candidate in the provincial campaign.

The Minister of Railways replied that employes of the I.C.R. quite understand that they were quite free to vote for whom they pleased.

At the request of R. L. Bordon, Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, gave his promised statement with regard to the holding of militia camps.

It having been decided, he said, to hold camps of instruction in Eastern Canada and the Maritime Provinces, an order was issued fixing dates, but owing to local conditions it had been found necessary to make some changes.

Camps would be held as follows: Goderich June 15, Niagara June 15, Kingston Aug. 31, Rockliffe, postponed from June 22 to a date not fixed. Last year the troops of No. 4 militia district trained at Petawawa, but owing to prevalence of typhoid fever in the camp it had been decided to instal a complete drainage system, before the ground was used again. The Ottawa authorities had undertaken to lay a three-inch pipe to Rockliffe camp, Laprairie, ground flooded, postponed to some date not fixed. Sussex, no change of date.

Sir Frederick referred to fears expressed in some papers that the militia would not be able to go into camp owing to lack of money. These fears, he said, had probably arisen from militia orders issued on May 27, which prepared the troops for the contingency that it might be impossible to hold camps unless Parliament provided funds. But there were some days to spare.

The Western Canada camps, Sir Frederick said, were proceeding, the expense being met out of one-eighth of the interim vote passed some time ago.

R. L. Borden observed that the House was aware that no vote had been asked for militia camps. If the request had been made it would have been favorably entertained. However, as the Minister had said, there was plenty of time yet.

Sir Frederick remarked that if a vote were passed to-day it would not follow that the money would be available unless the assent of His Excellency were given. He reminded the Opposition that the supply bill had been before Parliament for a month.

R. L. Borden pointed out that it would be practicable to pass an emergency supply bill to cover this service.

Mr. Fielding said a proposition had been made to take a vote on account and the Government received the intimation that the Opposition was unwilling to concur.

"The only estimates of the Militia Department," retorted R. L. Borden, "that have been discussed went through in five minutes."

Mr. Fielding insisted that the Opposition had refused interim supply, but just as Mr. Speaker left the chair at 6 o'clock, R. L. Borden got in a final word, declaring that the only proposition put before the Opposition was one to suspend the rules of the House.

At the morning session R. L. Bordon asked if any considerable body of militia would be assembled at Quebec for the tercentenary, and Sir Frederick Borden replied that arrangements were being made by Gen. Otter with a view to having a considerable number reviewed at Quebec. He would make a final announcement on Monday.

The House went into supply in the evening on estimates for immigration and F. D. Monk criticized the general policy of the Government and advocated the imposition of a head tax.

Mr. Oliver said that a provision had been placed in the act to enable the Government to impose a head tax if it saw fit.

Mr. Monk also advocated that an effort be made to turn the stream of French immigration now directed towards the Argentine Republic.

Hon. Mr. Lemieux seconded the suggestion, but pointed out that the French law was against an immigration propaganda being carried on in that country.

After three and a half hours, an item of $[illegible],000 for salaries of immigration agents was passed.

The House adjourned at 12.30 a.m.

The commons committee on banking and commerce has approved of a bill proposed by the Crown Life Insurance Co., which provides for a reorganization of that company to restore an impairment of its capital.

In the public accounts committee Mr. Crocket conducted an examination as to labor-saving machinery purchased for the Dominion arsenal at Quebec.

Col. Jarvis, secretary of the Militia Department, produced a letter from Lieut.-Col. Gaudet of the arsenal giving orders that these machines should be purchased from L. S. Macoun, who is a [illegible]-in-law of Sir Frederick Borden.

The negotiations for a settlement of the deadlock are proceeding between the two leaders.

No one expects anything substantial to result until after next Monday. Meantime there is a suggestion that the House adjourn over election day, as a majority of the members will be away voting.

There are 86 Ontario and 65 Quebec members, all of whom want to be home.

R. L. Borden has received the following telegram from Melfort, Sask.: "Melfort Conservatives send congratulations on your fight against the iniquitous Aylesworth Bill. Keep it up."

Further Restrictions on Chinese.

Ottawa, June 5.—A bill amending the Chinese Immigration Act, was passed in the Senate yesterday.

Sir Richard Cartwright stated that it was proposed to limit the free admission of Chinese students to persons under 17 years of age. He stated the law was being strengthened by making Chinese who evade the act or entered Canada by fraud liable to a year's imprisonment or a fine of $500, or both, and also to deportation.

In committee on a bill to amend the Exchequer Court Act, Senator Ferguson stated that some merit had been made of the fact that Mr. Justice Cassels had declined to accept remuneration for his enquiry into the Marine Department. The Senator stated that under the law the judge could not accept remuneration for business other than his proper business. The bill was given third reading.

The Senate adjourned until Tuesday evening.

DR. GRENFELL HAD A TERRIBLE ENCOUNTER WITH ANGRY DOGS

Exciting Experience of Celebrated Missionary Physician Who is Well-known in Peterborough—Defended Himself With Knife—Temperature Ten Below Zero.

St. John's, Nfld., June 5.—Battling for forty hours against a pack of hunger-maddened dogs on an ice pack off the coast of Labrador, with the temperature 10 degrees below zero and only a knife to defend himself is the thrilling experience that Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, the celebrated missionary physician, recently had. The story is told by Capt. W. Bartlett of the steamer Strathcona, which has arrived here from the north.

Dr. Grenfell had left Battle Harbor, Labrador, to attend patients at another settlement ten miles distant, and was driven off the coast by a moving ice-field and into an area covered only with broken drift ice. Before he could stop the dogs, they carried him into the water. The dogs attempted to climb on Dr. Grenfell's back and he was obliged to fight them before he was able to climb on to a solid piece of drift ice. The dogs also succeeded in saving themselves.

With the wind howling a gale, the temperature 10 below zero and night at hand, the doctor thought he would be frozen to death, as his clothing was saturated. He cut his skin boots in halves and placed the pieces over his [illegible] and chest to shield these parts of his body from the blast. As the wind and cold increased and night came on, he determined to kill and skin three of the dogs to afford him more warmth and to supply the other animals with food, fearing that becoming hungry they would tear him to pieces.

As it was they attacked him savagely, biting him about the hands and legs. The doctor spent a trying night. Wrapped in the skins of the dead dogs he still found it so cold that repeatedly he had to run about to keep up the circulation of the blood. Hoping that next day he would be in sight of land, though the ice was fast receding from the shore, the doctor took the legs of the dead dogs and binding them together, made a pole, to the top of which he attached part of his shirt to serve as a signal and this eventually proved to be his salvation, as the flag was seen by George Reid and others of Locke's Cove, Mare Bay, and they effected a rescue. Dr. Grenfell was made a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George two years ago by King Edward.

TO THE CITY MINISTERS

In connection with the publication in Saturday's Review of the church announcements for Sunday, The Review frequently finds it difficult to secure the notices. Ministers are frequently out when called up by telephone and have to be rung up several times before the necessary information is secured. It is believed that a better way would be for the ministers to call up the newspaper offices and give the announcements as early as possible. The Review would like to secure them on Friday if possible, but Saturday morning will do if they cannot be given sooner.

The Review hopes that the ministers of the city will act on this suggestion, as it means a more satisfactory arrangement for all concerned.

TWENTY THOUSAND STUDENTS STRIKE

Because Professor Criticized Doctrines of Roman Catholic Church.

Vienna, June 5.—A strike involving nearly 20,000 students in nearly all the leading Austrian universities and high schools begun through the renewed activity of Dr. Wahrmund, professor of Catholic Ecclesiastical, whose attitude, as shown by a speech in which he criticised the doctrines of the Roman Catholic Church, recently led to difficulties with the Vatican. Prof. Wahrmund resumed his anti-clerical lectures at Innsbruck University, but the clerical students closed the university.

The Liberal students at Innsbruck then called upon the non-clerical students of all the universities to organise a general strike until Prof. Wahrmund's academic freedom, was respected.

London Methodist Conference.

Exeter, June 5.—Rev. A. H. Going, Exeter, pastor of the Conference Church, was elected president of the London Methodist Conference on the second ballot over Rev. R. D. Hamilton, Petrolea, and Rev. Joseph H. Oliver of Sarnia. Rev. T. F. Blatchford was elected secretary.

Will Cross the Line.

Sackville, N.B., June 5.—Dr. Raymond C. Archibald, formerly of the staff of the ladies' college here, but latterly professor of mathematics at Acadia, has accepted a position on the faculty of Brown University.

Mail Soaked With Water.

Montreal, June 5.—The work of unraveling the contents of four bags of English mail fished from the mail car at the bottom of Current river is now going on at the postoffice here. There are about four thousand letters, and much of it is little more than a mass of pulp.

To Oppose Woman Suffrage.

London, June 5.—A number of influential women, including the Countess of Jersey, Mrs. Humphrey Ward and several prominent writers and social reformers have started an organized movement to oppose the granting of the suffrage to women.

For the Quebec Fund.

London, June 5.—(C.A.P.)—At Newcastle, a great town meeting decided to issue an appeal in the name of the Lord Mayor or Lord Howick for funds in connection with the Quebec tercentenary movement.

Town of Dundas Was Seized.

Hamilton, June 5.—A warrant to seize the Town of Dundas was placed in the hands of Sheriff Middleton, because the town failed to put up $2,210 damages awarded to the family of the late Joseph Sutton. A hurry-up call was issued to the council, and a special session was held when the money was put up.

"Million Dollar Freight" Wrecked.

New York, June 5.—Five men were injured when the Adams Express fast freight, known as the "Million Dollar Freight," on the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, crashed into a switch engine on a sharp curve at the Port Morris freight yards. Both engineers were arrested.

CROWN PRINCE IS INVOLVED

Sensational Testimony Implicates Prince George of Servia.

Cettinje, Montenegro, June 5.—Sensational testimony involving Crown Prince George of Servia, in a conspiracy against Montenegro, has been given at the trial, which is now proceeding here, of 32 prisoners charged with revolutionary activity in connection with the discovery of a store of bombs in Cettije last year.

Two of the witnesses declared that the bombs in question had been manufactured by Servian artillery officers on the direct order of Prince George, the intention being to use them against the Montenegro Government with the object of overthrowing the existing regime.

This sworn testimony has aroused the greatest excitement here, and the rupture of diplomatic relations between Montenegro and Servia is expected as a result.

Lumbermen Drowned.

Fredericton, N. B., June 5.—A large number of stream drivers arrived from the headquarters of the St. John river Wednesday night, bringing news that eight men employed on the Cushing Co.'s drive had been drowned by the breaking of a bateau while they were shooting the Rapids. Only two bodies were recovered.

Ross stream drivers who came down from headwaters of St. John Wednesday night report that four other men lost their lives by drowning on the Upper St. John.

Two Cents to Germany.

Berlin, June 5.—The deepest public interest has been manifested in the announcement of the approaching reduction in the postage rates between the United States and Great Britain to two cents an ounce. A high official of the German postoffice was questioned regarding the possibility of extending this reduction to Germany. He expressed himself as in favor of the idea, but he pointed out the financial difficulties from which both the United States and Germany would suffer should such a reduction with Germany be carried out.

G.N.W. Lineman Killed.

Brampton, June 5.—Mr. Godin, a lineman in the employ of the G.N.W. Telegraph Co., fell from the top of an electric light pole in this town yesterday, and was instantly killed. He was attaching a guy wire to the pole when he must have touched the wire, and was knocked off.

Robbers Get $10,000.

Fairland, Okla., June 5.—Robbers cracked the safe of the Bank of Fairland here yesterday, and escaped with $10,000. The robbery was committed by three men who rode on horseback. Posses are in pursuit.

Rev. Mr. McCulloch Elected President

Lindsay, June 5.—Rev. R. McCulloch of Omemee, was elected president of the Bay of Quinte Conference. He received 202 votes out of 277 cast. Rev. F. Greatrix of Port Perry came second with 60.

Burglars at Port Elgin.

Port Elgin, June 5.—Burglars entered J. B. Roddick's jewelry store by means of a chisel, and took four or five hundred dollars' worth of the best goods. They also tried two other stores.

FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1908

THE W. R. R. ASSOCIATION

Is it fair to the Liberal electors of the County of Peterboro that their names should be made use of under the high sounding caption of "The West Riding of Peterboro Reform Association," merely for the purpose of enabling a few wire-pullers, Mr. Stratton amongst them, to head off some employees of the C. G. E. works who were doing good, honest work for the Whitney Government? This scandal, for it is no less than that, will not down. There is intense irritation amongst the men called off, not at the Company, but at the W. R. R. Association and Mr. Stratton. A most unfair attempt has been made without bringing forward one particle of proof, to take advantage of the men referred to, in the way of depriving them of their political freedom. A grosser outrage was never attempted here. Why, may we ask, does not Mr. Gillespie repudiate this interference? Why are these men not allowed "to go" at all but are held back at all hours day or dark? If the W. R. R. Association do not want this — if Mr. Gillespie does not mean to profit by it — why do they not say so?

MR. MacKAY AND NEW ONTARIO

In the fifteenth of his political sermonettes Mr. MacKay grapples with the questions of colonization and labor which as he sees them are as much parts of the same thing as are the two faces of a dime. Some of his propositions savor more of romancing than of preaching, and others of them sorely smite the Laurier Government in the manner of the boomerang.

It was against determined opposition he says, that money was from time to time voted in the days of Liberal rule to put exploring parties into the field of New Ontario. Here the sermonette is not historically accurate. So far from there being determined opposition to the investigation of Ontario's natural resources, there was the strongest pressure from Mr. Whitney's side of the House, to have the back country surveyed as a preliminary to the framing of a policy for our Northland: Not only under Mr. Whitney's leadership but in times long before that the Conservative Opposition urged the men in office to have a sympathetic exploration made of the Nipissing, Algoma, Thunder Bay and Rainy River districts and a rough summary made of their timber, mineral, water-power and agricultural possibilities. Had that advice been followed when it was first proffered to the Liberal Government, the importance of conserving our white pine forests might have been realized in time to prevent their spoilation for the benefit of Michigan sawmills. Our pulpwood areas, once their magnitude and productiveness were ascertained, might have been husbanded and turned to the utmost public advantage, instead of being secretly conveyed as a gift to parties desiring to turn them to speculative account. A wise and honest administration of the province's limber belt would have preserved great forests that have now disappeared and would at the same time have made them enormous annual producers of wealth. Some of our finest mineral deposits, real bonanzas, that were allowed to fall into the hands of private exploiters who paid little or nothing for them might have been saved for the people and made a perpetual source of large revenue and sustainers of great industries employing Ontario labor. Water powers that were turned over to persons having influence with the Liberal Government might have been reserved and made great centres of production, instead of remaining undeveloped. A policy for the welfare of the settler, the prospector, the miner and the man of enterprise might have been established, and the new country opened up by railways and public roads long before it was. In short, had Conservative counsels been followed in the days of Liberal rule, New Ontario would be a far more thickly peopled country than it is to-day, and would have been yielding an annual output many times what is being derived from it. Because the late Government persisted in keeping the public and itself in the dark as to the riches of that great region, it was regarded as a wilderness into which population and capital would not venture except in the wake of private exploration, and private exploration was usually followed by a big haul in the form of timber berths or mining claims. Had stock been taken, as Conservative statesmen again and again urged, the people would have known and valued their possessions, and the Government would have been restrained from making away with so great a portion of these assets as political booty. Mr. MacKay says that settled Ontario is sidetracked by the Grand Trunk Pacific. If that is so, the blame lies at the door of his party friends at Ottawa. The Liberal Government of the province did its best to keep us sidetracked. It endeavored to prevent the building of the Canadian Pacific line from Toronto to Sudbury, maintaining that the company's right to build branch lines had expired. It stopped the T. and N.O in the middle of the Huronian belt, and left it to a Conservative administration to push the line to a connection with the National Transcontinental and to build necessary branch lines.

On the subject of labor Mr. MacKay declared he would not allow to be brought into this province a class of immigrants that would injuriously affect our own workers. He surely does not need to be in office to prevent injury to our own workers from that cause. Has he not influence enough with his leaders at Ottawa to persuade them to mend their immigration policy?—The Mail and Empire

HAD BARLEY IN BOTTOM OF BAGS

Lindsay Liveryman Discovered That He Was Being Deceived

Lindsay, Ont., June 4th, 1908.—A farmer who lives on the banks of the Scugog brought in a load of oats to a local livery man and sold them to him at 50c a bushel. The liveryman and the farmer's son carried the load of oats up the three flights of stairs, and after they had all the bags carried upstairs and were emptying them, the liveryman found about half a bushel of barley in the bottom of each bag. The liveryman then made the farmer acknowledge that he had put the barley in the bags to cheat him out of some of his hard earned money. The farmer admitted this and offered to take out the barley but the liveryman would not consent to this and he made the farmer load up his oats and drove home, feeling like a thief caught in the act.

INDIAN WITNESS WAS ARRESTED

Appeared This Morning---Will Give Evidence in Case on Monday

Sam. Blaker was arrested last night up the river where he was working on a drive. Blaker was married on Monday and John George, another Indian, was arrested the same day for being drunk and disorderly. George was remanded until Monday. George said he got the intoxicating drink from Blaker, and it is expected that he will be able to give material evidence as to where he procured the liquor. He was [illegible] to go on his premise [illegible] next Monday morning.

> (The Examiner)

The above picture of the present situation, in miniature, we clip from the correspondence-column of the Examiner. Since the Conservatives put nearly three hundred names on the registered lists recently, while the Liberal organization put on an insignificant number, the motive of the above contribution to the literature of the hour would look to be apparent. It means, we should think, judging from the publication of the notice at this juncture and in one paper only, that the men who registered have made themselves liable to taxes—and to something more. However, there is this about it. Voting on Monday will not make their position any worse. So we hope that this new move on the part of Mr. Stratton to coerce the electors will receive in full the treatment that it deserves. A man need not pay his poll-tax to vote.

INJURED ON HIS WEDDING TOUR

Montreal, June 4th—Word has been received of a serious accident which befell Mr C. Ernest Johnson, of the Canadian Fairbanks Co., son of Major Lacey R. Johnson, Bishop street, while on his wedding tour, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Johnson's marriage to Miss Beatrice Fowler, only daughter of Mrs J. H. Fowler, of Victoria avenue, Westmount, took place on Saturday evening at St. Matthias church, after which he and his bride left immediately on a trip to Vancouver.

They were passengers on the Pullman attached just behind the dining car on the train which reached Winnipeg last night two hours late. As the train was nearing Oxdrift, shortly after four o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. Johnson was standing in the vestibule facing the dining car. At that place there is a sharp curve and as the Pullman's wheels took it the buffer snapped while the train was running at very high speed.

Immediately the heavy car jumped the track and keeled along on the ties. For a moment it seemed as though it would topple over, and the passengers rushed for the doors. Within the space of a moment the car stopped short, while the rest of the train swept on ahead. The sudden jolt threw Mr. Johnson head first to the track with terrific force. He alighted on his shoulder and head, and lay stunned until assistance came. Then, with remarkable pluck he refused to be carried and insisted on walking to the car door. Once there he collapsed and was carried to his berth. The engine from a passing freight rushed eastward for medical and when a doctor arrived and the damaged car had been repaired, the train started on its journey again.

Mrs. Johnson nursed her husband during the run to Winnipeg and an ambulance was waiting when the train arrived there at midnight.

THEY WERE VERY YOUNG TO MARRY

Boy Fifteen Years and Girl Eleven of Age are Married

Sergeant, Kentucky, June 4—Elder Joseph Hall's son Leonard, fifteen years old, and Mrs. Sarah Proffit's daughter, Annie, 11 years old, were married here at Upper Rock House, Creek. The ceremony performed by Elder Hall, who is a pillar in the Hardshell Baptist church, was witnessed by many relatives.

Just before the ceremony was performed the bride was found by her mother dressing several of her dolls which she had played with since she was a baby. The girl almost broke down as she kissed the dolls good-bye.

The young husband has been offered a position in a local store and says he will support his young wife to the best of his ability. His father, while not rich, is comfortably well to do, and says he will see that the young couple do not find the matrimonial sea too rough at the start.

A New Baby.

A New Baby! What magic, what mystery, what charm these words have for us. Yet, how infinitely more they mean to the mother. A new life; short, to be sure, but full of possibilities. Some one must be patient, hopeful, watchful, proud and never discouraged. That "some one" is the mother. She has heard her baby's first cry, and whether it be her first or tenth, the feeling is the same. Her feeble arms are out-stretched; those arms that will never desert it as long as the mother shall live. And that hand which supports the head of the new-born babe, the mother's hand, supports the civilization of the world.

Is it any wonder, we ask you, mothers, that with all these responsibilities resting upon your all too weak shoulders, we urge upon you the necessity of selecting the babe's medicine with utmost care; the necessity of protecting your babe from worthless, unknown and narcotic drugs as you would protect it from the fire?

EXCELLENT MEETING AND RECEPTION AT ENNISMORE

Mr. John Moloney in the Chair and Mr. Cornelius O'Connor on the Platform—Mr. Bradburn Well Pleased With the Prospects Everywhere—The Issues of the Day Trenchantly Treated.

The large hall of St. Martin's T. A. S., Ennismore, was the scene last evening of one of the pleasantest and perhaps most profitable meetings ever held in that goodly township. As usual, the meeting was favoured with the attendance of ladies. It is the last on the list of Mr. Bradburn's meetings and will long be remembered by him and by those who accompanied him as one of the most pleasing on the list. There was excellent attention given.

Mr. W. H. Moore, K.C., who made the chief speech of the evening, began by taking Liberal speakers sharply to task for avoiding a discussion of the more important features of the Whitney Government's administration of the affairs of the province. It was always some little side issue like toothpicks or stepladders that most engaged these gentlemen's attention. They carefully refrained from "enlightening" the people on the great forward movement of the Government all along the line from a secret ballot to settlers' rights. The C.N.R. guarantee originated in the incapacity of the Ross Government, which got the worst of a bad bargain with Mackenzie and Mann and then left it as a legacy to their successors. There was no excuse or reason for leaving out of the Ross Act upon which all subsequent proceedings were founded, "terminals, branch lines and harbors." A child could understand that the omission of all these words meant that branch lines, terminals and harbors were not included in the bill. The La Rose deal as it was called, was a similar case. When Whitney came into power Mr. O'Brien had in his possession a claim of immense value for which he had paid seven hundred dollars! The La Rose people were fighting for it. Mr. Foy gave each a share and kept 25 per cent. of the output for the province, which has already netted us $110,000 over all payments. (Applause.)

Mr. Bradburn, who was in excellent form, was well received. He thanked the electors for their attendance and for their kindness in giving him such a handsome vote at his last election. He took up some of the issues treated by Mr. Moore and gave a detailed review of them, pointing particularly to the fact that if "the school books were a job lot at reduced prices" it was a strange thing that the Ross Government had not been able to get the people the same good bargain. The truth was, the Ross people were a job lot themselves. Colonization road grants had been largely increased and the money was now spent on the roads. He wished to emphasize the fact. Everywhere testimony was borne to the excellent results of the new policy. He might say also, that all branches of the present Government's policy were new. It was the very first time that departments were managed on their merits. It was no longer, who is who, but what is best for the people as a whole, and for the especial object under consideration. The ballot was now perfectly secret. The electors were free. A new era had begun in provincial politics. Mr. Foy, K.C., Col. Matheson, in fact every member of the Cabinet was anxious to do his best for this province and the speaker thought they had succeeded. (Applause.) The uplifting of rural schools was a fine example of an enlightened and progressive policy. Normal school education was now within easy reach at Peterborough. The great expense of going to Ottawa or Toronto was avoided and in the near future. Mr. Whitney expected to make education even less expensive to the people than at present. (Loud applause.)

Mr. Peck treated the various acts in detail that bore more particularly upon the municipal life of the people. When he, the speaker, was in the County Council Ennismore, and North Monaghan had been represented only in a general way. Now they were directly represented as before. Mr. Ross' innovation had been a very foolish one. Mr. Peck closed an excellent address with the hope that Mr. Bradburn would be elected by a large majority. (Applause.)

Mr. Burnham observed that the wonderful success of the Whitney administration had been founded on their financial efficiency and good intentions. Under Ross & Co. continued deficits had shut off all hope of progress. The administration became the prey of sharks and crooks. The surpluses of Mr. Whitney on current account and his wonderful success in realizing large sums out of the people's resources for the benefit of the people, not only had enabled him to give $900,000 more than formerly back to the people, but it argued well for the future. The usual cheers concluded the proceedings.

EAT WHAT YOU WANT

But Find the Way to Digest What You Do Eat.

The first thing to do in the case of indigestion or stomach weakness is to strengthen the muscular walls of the stomach and intestines, so that they will care for the food that is eaten. In no other way can this be done so well as by taking a Mi-o-na tablet before each meal. This restores strength to the stomach, muscles and stimulates the pouring out of gastric juices, then the food digests readily and you begin to get the full benefit from what you eat.

Use Mi-o-na whenever you have sick headache, heartburn, bad taste in the mouth, coated tongue, spots before the eyes, sleeplessness and the many other symptoms that are the direct result of indigestion.

W. Medill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough gives with every 50 cent box of Mi-o-na a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

AN EXCELLENT REVIEW OF GOVT'S. RECORD

of reform them. As a result of Mr. Hanna's agitation these girls were sent out to homes in the country and had an opportunity to build up their womanhood. And the result had been most gratifying and showed the great wisdom of Mr. Hanna's idea. The speaker endorsed the whole policy of the Whitney Government, and praised them for the magnificent work they had done in building up the province. Mr. Garvin was loudly applauded by the audience for his excellent address.

ALD. HARRY PHELAN.

Ald. Phelan was then called upon and made a neat speech. He was glad to be able to endorse the record of the Whitney Government. Mr. Whitney had made promises while in Opposition and had kept them when he came into power. This was a striking contrast to the record of the Laurier Administration at Ottawa. Sir Wilfrid had not kept one of his pre-election promises. Mr. Phelan referred to the good work of the Whitney Government in wiping out the secret ballot. The good administration of the license law was also referred to by the speaker. Ald. Phelan, in closing, predicted a big majority for Mr. Bradburn on Monday. Great applause greeted this statement.

The speaker of the evening was then called upon by the chairman and, on arising to speak, was given an enthusiastic reception. He expressed the pleasure at being present in Peterboro to support the Whitney Government and his friend, Mr. Bradburn.

Col. Matheson said that many things had been promised by Mr. Whitney and he claimed that the Government had kept them. The secret ballot had been promised and the reforms promised in this respect had been given. The old numbered ballot had been done away with. Nowhere more than in West Peterboro had the evil of the numbered ballot been felt. The marked ballot made it possible to know how a man voted. Such was not the case now. The ballot introduced by Mr. Whitney was entirely secret; it was impossible to tell how a man voted.

Col. Matheson then dealt with the change in the County Councils Act. The reform brought in by the Whitney administration had meant fairer representation for the townships. The county councils as they were constituted at present, were training ground for higher municipal experience. The reeves who constituted the county councils, brought home to the members of the township councils the experience gained in the county councils and a greater knowledge of municipal affairs was the result.

Having effected improvements in the administration of the affairs of the province the Government had set to work to get better revenue. They saw that the timber dues were better collected. In Mr. Cochrane the Government had a man who gave nothing away and showed no political favours. The revenue from the mines was also looked after well. Last year the province received from mining properties, $[illegible],000, as compared with $32,000 in 1904. The increase during the next few years would be even greater.

The railway tax had been increased and half the revenue was given to the municipalities. The license fees had also been increased and the percentage given to the municipalities had been greatly increased. The Opposition were raising the cry of increased expenditure. The expenditure had been increased, but the Government had the money to spend. When they had collected the money it was not theirs to horde up. The Government had seen to it, however, that the expenditure had been kept well within the revenue. Further, the money had been well spent for the improvement of the educational system of the province, on public works and in other beneficial ways. The debt had not been increased as the Globe said.

It was not only in finances that the Government had done its duty. The work of the Attorney-General's Department was commendable. The pool rooms at Fort Erie and Toronto Junction had been wiped out by Mr. Foy's department and the election crooks in London had been given a lesson that would have a most beneficial effect for years to come.

Col. Matheson then took up the reduction in the price of schoolbooks. The prices of the readers had already been cut down by one half and in the near future reduced prices would apply to all school books. There was every assurance that the reduction in prices would be permanent.

The cheapness of a book depended upon the number sold. With the large number of school books sold there was no reason why they could not be produced at small cost.

The speaker was confident that the Government would be able to reduce the price of school books from 33 1-3 to 50 per cent.

Col. Matheson then dealt with the labor question. The action of the Whitney Government and the labor interests had been made a great deal of by Mr. Preston, of Brantford, and Mr. Stratton, of Peterborough. The charge that the Whitney Government had placed prison made goods on the market in competition with open manufactured goods was not true. During the time when Mr. Stratton was Provincial Secretary, ninety per cent. of the goods manufactured in prison was sold on the open market. Under the Whitney Government only 20 per cent. of it was sold on the open market.

The labor interests in Hamilton were satisfied, the Trades and Labor Council in Toronto was satisfied, the labor interests generally were satisfied. Only the Rip Van Winkles like Mr. Stratton and Mr. Preston were raising the holler. (Laughing.)

Col. Matheson took up the Canadian Northern Guarantee and showed clearly that the action of the Whitney Government in this matter had been greatly in the interests of the province, Mr. MacKay had understood what was being done and had agreed to it. He did not blame him for this, but he did blame him for trying to mislead the people, for saying that the Whitney Government had done something wrong, that they they had been bought by Mackenzie & Mann. Mr. MacKay knew that his own statements were untrue and unworthy of decent statesmanship.

The speaker then took up the La Rose mine case and added to the explanation given by Mr. Garvin.

The Opposition were referring to "that last awful week." That last awful week for whom? asked the speaker. Not for the Government, who had done right, but for the members of the Opposition, who sat silent in their seats, and assented to everything. Then it was that they should have objected, not now, when they were appealing for the suffrage of the people.

Col. Matheson concluded with an appeal to the ladies to extend their support and to the electors to support Mr. Bradburn and the Whitney Government on Monday next.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers.

AN INJURY TO THE REV. BEN OLIEL

Rev. Mr. Ben-Oliel, we are sorry to state, met with a painful accident on Sunday when doing up his horse for the night, the animal kicking him in the face and breaking his nose. While it is reassuring to know that no serious disfiguration or danger is expected, Mr. Ben-Oliel will be confined to his home for some days.—Millbrook Reporter.

IT IS A DRAMA THAT APPEALS

"The Lion and the Mouse" Which Appears Here To-morrow the Most Successful Play of Years

There is a great deal of novelty connected with "The Lion and the Mouse," a dramatic picture of household life connected with the career of a financial magnate. "Ready Money" Ryder the central character of the play, who represents the money octopus of the present time is probably one of the greatest characterizations ever written into an American play. That the drama is one of the most successful ever produced in this country goes without saying. It has had an uninterrupted run in New York of almost a year and is still being presented there. Henry B. Harris will offer the play to local theatregoers at the Grand Opera House, tomorrow, Saturday, matinee and night.

PAIL OF RED PAINT SPILT OVER "DRUNK"

Two drunks appeared before the magistrate this morning charged with being drunk and disorderly. One was fined two dollars, while the other was discharged. One drunk presented a rather unusual spectacle as he sat in the prisoner's dock. He was bedaubed with red paint from head to foot. Yesterday afternoon he was feeling rather cheerful as he walked up Water St., carrying a suit case. At the corner of Water and McDonell Street a painter carrying a pail of red paint was going up a ladder. The "drunk" walked over to him and and started to shake it, with the result that the painter dropped his pail, spilling the contents over the man below. Just then a policeman happened along and took the inebriate to the police station where he had an opportunity to sober up.

FIRST CONCERT THIS SEASON OF 57th BAND

Will be Given at Victoria Park To-night---Programme is Splendid One

The first band concert of the season in Victoria Park will be given to-night by the 57th Regimental band.

The programme to be given, and which has been published in the Review, is an excellent one. A very large crowd will doubtless assemble to hear the opening concert. There will be about 35 pieces in the band.

GETTING EASIER FOR CANOISTS

Water Going Down in Little Lake---Currents Yet Pretty Strong

The water in Little Lake is going down nicely and as a result the canoists and others who go in for pleasure boating are finding matters much more convenient.

The water around the boat houses and landing places having gone done it is much easier for them to get their crafts in and out of their boat houses and the currents in the river are not so swift although they are yet running pretty strong.

ENTERTAINMENT GREAT SUCCESS

Box Sale and Concert in Forester's Hall Last Evening---Under Auspices of St. Luke's Congregation

The box sale and entertainment held last evening in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street, under the auspices of the congregation of St. Luke's church, was a most successful event. The affair was attended by an exceedingly large number and the evening was spent most enjoyably. The ladies of the congregation are to be most heartily congratulated on the success attending their efforts.

Boxes containing useful articles were offered for sale and were quickly disposed of. A candy booth was also well patronized, and a refreshment stand, too, was quickly sold out. The young ladies of the church assisted as waitresses.

After the sale Rev. Dr. Langfeldt took the chair, and after a few opening remarks introduced the programme. It was an excellent one and several of the numbers were encored. The programme was as follows:—

Instrumental Solo—Miss C. English.
Vocal Solo—Mr. Chandler.
Recitation—Mr. Vincent.
Sword Dance—Misses J. Cressman and P. Denne.
Address—Rev. J. R. Webb.
Instrumental Solo—Miss. K. Leary.
Vocal Solo—Miss Ruth Dawson.
Recitation—Kathleen Vincent.
Highland Fling—Miss J. Spence.
Solo and Chorus—Don't you Want a Paper, Dearie"—Miss Florence Scott and Messrs. E. Sawyer, F. Butcher, Edith and Lulu Scott, Bertha Curtis, R. Quartermaine, Eva Nesbitt and L. Browning.
God Save the King.

CHILD BADLY BURNED BY FLAT IRON

Mrs. Thomas Allen, of 156 Water street, St. Mary's Ont,—"My little daughter, Mildred, four years old, was severely burned a few months ago, by sitting on a hot flat iron. She received three burns in all, one on her thigh, another on her eel and a third on her instep. At the time of the accident I used oils and then one preparation after another, yet nothing seemed to take out the inflammation or heal up the open wounds. Finally we heard of Zam-Buk and obtained a box. I began applying this balm and was agreeably surprised when in the course of a few days the wounds were not so inflammed, and the child rested easier. I persevered in using and gradually the sores on the heel and instep healed over but the wound on the thigh took a much longer time. However, new skin formed over this as soon as all inflammation and soreness was drawn out. Now only a small mark remains to show where the burns had been."

Zam-Buk is healing, soothing and antiseptic. It is the home first aid, and no mother or home should be without it. Of all druggists and stores, sell at 50 cents a box.

HALF DAY EXCURSION
Steamer Otonabee will make her regular half day trips through Jubilee Point, Gore's Landing and Idyl Wyld, Saturday June 6th, leaving Wolfe Street wharf at 1.15, Street Railway Wharf 1.30, returning at 10 p.m. Tickets 25c. Harry Phelan, General Manager, Otonabee Navigation Co. dz

DR. STRATTON GAVE ADDRESS

Before Royal Astronomical Society Last Evening—Subject "The Medium of Vision of the Eye"

The largest attendance that has ever been at an Astronomical meeting in Peterborough was present last evening when the Royal Astronomical Society of this city met at the home of Mr. H. B. Collier, 555 Weller street. There were one hundred present and an interesting and profitable time was spent. The president, Rev. Dr. Marsh was in the chair and opened with a few introductory remarks. The chief feature of the evening was the address by Dr. Stratton of Napanee on the medium of vision of "the eye" taking it up from an anatomical stand point. The doctor went into the effects of light on the eye, explaining how a sensation can be changed into a perception. He also showed why it was that it was impossible in a normal eye to have more than one perception of the same object at one and the same time. Dr. Stratton handled his subject in such a way that even those who had not taken up the study of physiology in any of its branches could thoroughly understand his explanations.

Dr. Stratton will leave on the 30th of June for the Old Country, where he will spend six or seven months. While in England he will visit Dr. Maunder at the Greenwich observatory.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

THE C.G.E. SCANDAL

To the Editor of the Review

Sir,—Several letters have appeared lately in your columns with regard to coercion that has been exercised at the C. G. E. shops due to the action of the Liberal Association of West Peterboro. These letters have not touched on one great, and you may say, vital point, i.e., what is and is going to be the effect on those men who are working in our factories. In the first place, it has had this effect; some of the best workers in the Conservative ranks have been compelled to refrain from even attending committee meetings, to say nothing of talking the great questions of the day over with those who do not quite see eye to eye with them or, in political parlance, "canvassing." Now, as Canada has always been considered a free country where a man could freely express his opinions so long as they were not treasonable, do you not think, Sir, the above mentioned coercion smacks a good deal of Russia? The present effect is that all through the factories the men are very much displeased with this meddling with what is none of their (the Liberal Association) business, and Sir, I can assure you they are going to resent it at the polls on Monday next where, thanks to the Whitney Government, they can exercise their franchise without these despots being able to find out how they vote. It is high time for working men, and for that matter, all honorable men to wake up and assert their rights, and if they only do that, there is small danger of such disgraceful proceedings taking place in future. Let every man, therefore, get out himself and bring his neighbour on Monday next and vote for the man who upholds freedom of speech and freedom of the franchise against the machine.

HARRISON ACCEPTS CHALLENGE AND WILL WALK WITH COOPER

Match for $100 a Side to take Place at Belleville Rink on Friday June 13th—Should be an Exciting Race—Four Hour Contest

Jimmy Harrison the crack local pedestrian, has accepted the challenge of Jack Cooper to walk a four hour race at the Belleville rink on Saturday June 13th. The match will be for $100 a side and conditions binding it have been agreed upon.

This morning Harrison wrote to Cooper taking up the latter's defi. He leaves for Belleville next Friday and will be accompanied by his capable trainer. From Belleville he will go to St. Catharines for the big six day walk there on June 15 th. for the championship of Canada. He has been training hard of late and has rounded into runaway condition.

Cooper is a crackerjack for the shorter distances and the tilt between him and Harrison should be a hummer from bell to bell. Local followers of the walking game think Harrison's chances against his speedy little opponent are good but the latter is looked upon as a very formidable proposition.

The race should prove a great drawer to the lovers of exciting sport and as Belleville is a good sporting town there is every reason to believe the rink will be packed for the event.

A GREAT GAME IS IN STORE FOR THE FANS TOMORROW

When Athletics and Port Hope Come Together at Riverside Park—Locals Will Have Strongest Nine of the Season—Port Hope a Fast Bunch.

The Athletics will have on their best line-up for tomorrows' game with Port Hope at Riverside park, that they have had this year and the game should be the most interesting of the season. The Lunch aggregation will be in the best of shape and as they realize they are up against a big proposition when they take on the Hopers they have been practicing faithfully and getting down to work in all departments.

Jack Sheridan has decided to don a baseball uniform once more and will hold down the left garden for the Athletics. Connors will be moved in from the outfield and look after the second station. The team certainly looks good on paper.

Tonight they play a practice game at Riverside park with the Strathconas and the line-up which will be the one for tomorrow's game also, will be:

Catcher—Rattray.
Pitcher—Quinlan.
First base—Graham.
Second base—Connors.
Third base—Landry.
Shortstop—Shea.
Left field—Sheridan.
Centre field—Callahan.
Right field—Pilling.

Port Hope comes here prepared to put up a hard argument and think they have good chances of winning. The laketown nine have shown great form this year having defeated Cobourg, who won from the Athletics a few days ago in Cobourg. No matter which way the game goes it will certainly be worth the money.

WEST ENDS WON FROM PARK NINE

Score Was 22-18—Game Played Last Night in West Ends Field

The West Ends and Park Nines met last night in the West End field, the former winning by 22 to 18. As may be seen by the scores there was some big stick work on both sides and the contest was an interesting one. The teams lined up as follows:

West Ends—J. Esmo, c; F. Whaley, rf; H. Hicks, ss; E. Callaghan, p; D. Mernna, cf; G. Ahearn, 3b; H. Callaghan, 1b; J. Cronin, 2b; M. Dobson, rf.

MORE ABOUT THE REYNOLDS WALK

Jimmy Reynolds starts on his walk to Toronto and return a week from today. The change of date from the 15th of June to the 11th was made as a matter of convenience to the syndicate posting the opposition money, which amounts to $600 against Reynold's wager of $300. Reynolds has also posted two other bets of $50 to $100 each and says that he has been promised $100 if he succeeds. Reynolds starts at 6 o'clock in the morning on the 134 mile walk which he must complete in 33 hours in order to win the money. In his last attempt he failed in 56 hours. Messrs. Jack Henderson and Dick Woodcock will accompany him.

McLEAN CAUGHT FOR FAST TIME

Edmonton, June 3.—Eric McLean, of Brackman Kerr employ, left yesterday afternoon for Toronto where he will compete in the 100 and 200-metre races in the Olympic trials. Mr. McLean's sensational running at Calgary several days ago in almost world's record time has led his friends to think that he will take a good place in the Canadian trials and may be possibly chosen to represent Canada at London. Before returning to Strathcona Mr. McLean will visit his father, A. A. McLean, M.P., P.E.I., and Mr. McLean, at Ottawa.

HOW PORT HOPE BEAT COBOURG

Speaking of Wednesday night's game at Port Hope, the Guide says:

The Port Hope base ballists covered themselves with glory on Wednesday afternoon, when they trimmed Cobourg by the large margin of 12 to 7.

Quite a gathering was on hand to see the contest and they thoroughly enjoyed the programme. It was a fine game to watch, lots of hitting and base running, while the fielders pulled off some clever stunts.

The local team was considerably disorganized. O'Toole was unable to play owing to illness. O'Hearn took his place at third, O'Brien was moved to short stop and Jack Wilson held down second. Considering these changes the locals put up a fast game and altogether too speedy for the Cobourgites.

Cobourg had on three strangers from Guelph; Turner, a slab artist, Whitstone at 1st, and King in left field. Turner is a southpaw and appears to have considerable speed, but the locals walloped him to the four corners of the lot, and finally Manager Mulhall took him out. He was replaced by Whitstone, but he too was touched up in lively fashion. Of the importations King is the only ball player, and once again our Eastern friends have been loaded.

There were sever large errors credited against Port Hope, but many of them were due to the uneven condition of the ground and might be overlooked. On the whole the boys put up a snappy game. O'Brien and Jack Wilson played rather deep and on different occasions when they fielded the ball perfectly they were unable to throw the runner out at first. Dunphy did great work in the box, striking out nine men and keeping the hits well scattered. "Doc" Andrus, formerly of this town, but now of Whitby, did the receiving and did it nicely. Andrus has signed a certificate and will be found on the line up regularly now.

LADY GOTHARD WORKED WELL

Stepped Fast Halves at Driving Park Yesterday Afternoon ---Looks Good

Lady Gothard, with George Powell, worked three halves yesterday in 1.16, 1.16 and 1.17. The Conners mare is rounding into shape and under Trainer Powell's excellent schooling looks as though she were good for some of the long end in the stake races this summer when she cuts loose. She is stepping in good style.

Yesterday was her first workout of the season.

Harry Direct and Orillia Belle will be working at the Driving Park track this afternoon. The track is in good shape and the horses are making fast time.

BASEBALL

Yebbie Flaherty will be on the Athletics again in a week or so. Yeb will be a strong addition to the ranks

LINDSAY PRESS ON GAME THERE

The Warder Tries the Rubbing in Process, But Admits the Petes. Looked Good

The defeat of the Lindsay Wideawakes by the Petes evidently hurt the feelings of the tender young thing who is responsible for the sporting dope in the Lindsay Warder. He has dug up the vitrol bottle and proceeds to throw a little of the sharp stuff. Read the bitter words he has penned;

"The hired misfits in the pay of Manager Johnston of Peterborough, did not have such an easy time with the Wideawakes of the town league as they imagined they would. True, the castoffs of the minor pro. leagues won by the score of 4—1, but at that they did not cover themselves with glory.

The game was played at the Agricultural park yesterday afternoon, and was witnessed by a small crowd. Nothing exciting was noticeable in the game it being rather dull at times, and the crowd was quiet considering that two old enemies such as Peterborough and Lindsay were batting it out for the honors.

Murphy scored in the first for the Petes, he making a nice steal. Two Petes, be making a nice steal. Williams dropping the throw home. Two runs came in during the fourth and one in the fifth for Peterborough and that finished their scoring. Bill Cinnamon notched Lindsay's only run. Clements made a wild pitch to third and Bill toddled home. Cinnamon was running for Koyl.

The visitors are fast on bases, and clever fielders. Their trickiness helped them a lot and also got them into some holes. On one occasion with a man on third and one on second, Workman coaxed the Peterborough man to try and steal home by getting ball from the catcher. The Pete promptly bit and was nipped at the plate. The second man tried to get to third but was also caught.

The locals failed to connect regularly with Clements' speedy delivery, and the Peterborough fielders were always on the job. But three hits were made off his delivery and Cinnamon got two of these.

Scribe "Josh" Craig, of the Peterborough Weekly Examiner, played right field. He is the understudy of the team for that position.

THE POST

The Lindsay Post has the following to say of the game;

"By a score of 4—1 the Peterboroughs won from the Wideawakes in a listless game of baseball at the fair grounds last night. The Petes came up on the afternoon train returning on the east bound flyer and from all accounts they enjoyed their trip. The game was won or lost by a number of loose plays on the part of the Wideawakes and though they had not much of a chance of coming out winners, they might have held down the score some. The Petes handle the ball in a manner much superior to the showing made by the local ball tossers, and were by far the better all-round team. In the Midland league they ought to make the others go some, to beat them out. The contest was of nine innings duration and was about four innings too long for local fans, who have got to like the short game."

SATURDAY'S EVENTS

The following are the sporting fixtures of local interest on Saturday.

Taylor will sport the emblem of the Irish American Athletic Club in the 400 and 800 metres races, and in the field against him will be the crack runners of the east.

FAREWELL TO A SUMMER SUIT

Farewell old friend, 'tis time for us to part,
Although thou wert enwrapped around my heart.
In other days —when summer zephyrs sighed,
When in the pine the summer bird replied,
Unto her singing swain —'tis now good bye.
I look upon thee with regretful eye.

Thou never hadst the strength of Hercules.
But now the cloth that dost encase the cheese,
Is not so tenuous and thin and pale
As thou. The soft and every balmy gale,
Of verdant June blows through thee in a trice,
Ah, dark suspicion, Wert thou worth the price.

Alas, thine elbows are a filmy veil,
And there's a stain of green, a trifle pale,
But not invisible upon thy back.
Thy buttonholes are also gone to wrack.
And, ay, thy lining let me turn my face.
And look no longer on its sad disgrace.

There is a fringe about the Southern Pole,
That stirs the deep emotions of my soul,
Unhappy ornament. Couldn'st thou have been
Upon a curtain there 'twere not a sin,
But fringe is not a fashionable boon
Around the bottom of a pantaloon.

Inside the ankles fearsome rents have grown,
For "interference" is a fault, I own.
And every passing perfume laden breeze,
Would fan the knobby portion of my knees.
And so farewell, beloved suit of clothes,
I will have to get another I suppose.

ORANGEMEN WILL PREPARE FOR CELEBRATION ON 13TH

A meeting of the Orange Lodges in Peterborough District will be held at the Downer's Corners hall on Tuesday evening next at 8 o'clock. The lodges in this district are the three in Peterborough and the Lakefield, Smith, Nassau and Downer's Corners lodges. District meetings are held about twice a year, and one has already been held in the district this year.

The District Master will preside at the meeting on Tuesday and important business will be transacted. Preparations will be made in connection with the big celebration in Peterborough on the 21th.

FELL ON A LIGHTED LAMP AND SERIOUSLY INJURED

Mrs. Henry Greenis narrowly escaped serious injury as a result of falling on a lighted lamp on Monday. Her chest was badly lacerated and a deep cut was inflicted over the right eye.

The accident occurred at the residence of Mrs. Hugh, Mill street, where Mrs. Greenis was engaged in nursing Miss Parsons. During the night Mrs. Greenis was seized with a toothache and was on her way to a nearby room to secure relief. On reaching the hall she tripped and fell on the lighted lamp which she was carrying. In falling the light was smothered.

Mrs. Wheeler heard the fall and immediately rushed to the scene fearing that it was Miss Parsons. Dr. McKinley was called and Mrs. Greenis was removed to her home on Pine street, where she is progressing favorably.—Port Hope Guide.

STEAMER "BEAVER" HAS BEEN PASSED UPON BY INSPECTOR

The steamer "Beaver" which was recently rebuilt at Lakefield, is lying at the Wolfe street wharf where the finishing touches are being put on. The local boat inspector, Mr. Wm Lang, has taken the measurements of the Beaver and found them to be satisfactory. The government inspector of hulls and boilers will be here in a few days to make the final inspection, after which the Beaver will be ready to take to the water for good. She will be engaged largely in tugging at the lakes.

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS WILL BE BULLETINED AT REVIEW OFFICE ON MONDAY NIGHT

The returns of the Ontario provincial elections will be bulletined at the Review Office on Monday night. Arrangements have been made with the C.P.R. Telegraph Company to have placed in the Review Office in order that a prompt service will be given. The returns as they come in will be thrown by lantern slides on a canvas on the south side of Hunter st. opposite the Review Office.

The returns for the whole province will be given with the usual promptness of the C.P.R. Telegraph Company and the Review bulletin service.

LADIES ADOPTED NOVEL METHOD OF SECURING MONEY FOR CHURCH

The Ladies' Aid Society of the George street Methodist church, has adopted a novel method to secure funds to re-decorate the interior of the church. The money is to be raised by the collection of coppers. For this purpose cards have been distributed among the members of the society and these are now hanging on to every cent piece that comes their way. Each card has space on it for 200 coppers or in other words, $2. Each card has two hundred small squares on it and every time a copper is added to the collection one of the squares is marked off. "A Mile of Copper," this scheme is called, and judging from the way the ladies have been securing the cents it is going to be a great success. The returns, it is understood, will be made in September and by that time sufficient coppers should have been collected to handsomely re-decorate the interior of the church.

E. GODIN, FORMER LOCAL MAN, ELECTROCUTED IN BRAMPTON

Emmanuel Godin, of Toronto, a G.N.W. lineman, who formerly worked in the same capacity for the local branch of the G.N.W., was electrocuted by touching a live wire in Brampton yesterday morning. The deceased is survived by a wife and three sons, Dona, Henry, and Thomas. He left Peterborough about 13 or 14 years ago. A despatch to the Globe concerning the fatality says;—

Emanuel Godin, 15 Sackville street, a lineman in the employ of the G. N.W. Telegraph Company, accidently touched a live wire at Brampton yesterday morning and was instantly killed. Godin was sent up one of the poles at the corner of Main and Queen streets to find out what was wrong with the wires. The pole carries the electric wires in addition to telegraph wire, and it is supposed the unfortunate man touched this. The body fell a distance of thirty feet to the ground and was taken into Stork's drug store.

Godin was 54 years of age, and leaves a wife and three sons, all of whom are married. The dead man carried $1,000 insurance in the Foresters.

MR. CARTON PROVES HIS STATEMENTS

Regarding Trade in New Ontario ---Writes in Reply to Mr. O'Brien

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—On my return from New Ontario in the early part of May last, I was interviewed by one of your representatives for a few minutes' discussion on business conditions in the north, as the short news item in your paper indicated.

What I said at that time was true, notwithstanding a person who signs himself J. D. O'Brien, has since written in contradiction. These facts are so generally known that it seems like a waste of time and space replying to his lengthy epistle. I should have answered sooner, but was waiting to hear from the T. & N. O. Railway Commissioners' department. I have their report before me now, which points out, and is ample proof of the changed conditions in New Ontario between 1907 and the present year, 1908. This official report will surely verify what the "local man," (myself) says about business being dull in New Ontario, and effectually rebutt what your Cobalt correspondent claims as "The Pouring in of Prosperity."

This Government report shows that there were just 13 088 less passengers carried on that road for January, February and March this year than there were for the same three months last year. Is there anything more to be said? Do these figures leave room for further controversy on this subject? Surely not.

Anyone who reads Bradstreet's or Dunn's reports can easily get at the true conditions in regard to what I said about business failures. Any of the manufacturers or wholesalers who have done business out there I feel sure will agree with what I say.

We have a manufacturer in our own city who has done an extensive business out there but for business reasons does not want his name published. I think you will find that he will endorse what I have said as to trade conditions throughout New Ontario.

Respectfully yours,
M. CARTON.

TEACHERS TO VISIT ENGLAND

Arrangements in That Direction Now Being Made

A Montreal despatch says:

When Mr. Alfred Mosely visited Montreal recently, he conferred with the members of the Protestant Board of School Commissioners, and requested the co-operation of the board in the proposed visit of Canadian teachers to Great Britain in the autumn of 1908. Arrangements were made that the secretary of the board Mr. H. J. Silver, 187 Peel St, Montreal, should act as secretary for the Province of Quebec.

The steamship companies, C. P. R., Dominion and Allan lines, offer the round trip in second cabin at special rates, going on or after September 1st, and returning not later than March 15th.

Requests for steamer accommodation must come from school boards, and no applications from individual teachers will be received unless transmitted through the proper educational authority and with its endorsement.

CANADIAN NORTHERN MAY EXTEND TO FORT CHURCHILL

Only a Gap of 480 Miles—A Guarantee of Bonds and a Cash Subsidy From the Dominion Government—Shortest Outlet to the Seaboard.

Ottawa, June 6.—Legislation looking to the building of a railroad to Hudson Bay will be brought down in a few days, it is said.

The Canadian Northern Railway is already in operation to the Pas, on the Saskatchewan river, from which it is but 480 miles to Churchill on Hudson Bay, and it is said that the Canadian Northern will be entrusted with the construction of this 480 mile link, a Government guarantee of a portion of their bonds and a substantial cash subsidy in lieu of the land subsidy which was voted years ago by the Dominion Parliament for this purpose.

The agreement will provide for running rights over this line to Hudson Bay on equitable terms to all other companies who desire to establish this connection. All tolls and charges will be controlled by the Federal authorities, in much the same way as the Government has done with the eastern division of the Transcontinental.

A route for the Hudson Bay line has already been surveyed by one of the Government engineers, who reports that there is nothing to prevent a line being built at reasonable cost from the Pas to Churchill, and that it will cut one thousand miles off the distance which shipments from the grain producing centres of the western provinces have to travel to reach the Atlantic seaboard without, moreover, adding a mile to the length of the ocean voyage, for Liverpool is no further from Churchill than it is from Montreal or New York.

The evidence of the Hudson Bay, of whalers, and of successive Government expeditions in regard to the navigability of Hudson Straits, is conclusive that these waters are available for commercial purposes for at least three months in each year, while some say they can be used for four and five months.

The Minister of the Interior has introduced an amendment to the Dominion Land Act providing for the sale of the remaining even numbered sections in Alberta and Saskatchewan to settlers, and it is understood that the money derived in this way will be sufficient to secure the opening of this shortest and cheapest outlet to the seaboard for the grain of the Canadian Northwest.

On Stranded Steamer.

Morrisburg, June 6.—A party of about twenty Berlin tourists reached Morrisburg yesterday after a most thrilling experience and long delay on the St. Lawrence. They were passengers on the steamer City of Montreal, which stranded at noon on Thursday fourteen miles below here, and which is likely to remain there for about a week.

The steamer was carrying over 600 tons of freight, and this heavy cargo is all that prevented her from turning turtle when the steering cable snapped, and the boat swerved towards the New York shore. The tourists were at dinner when the steamer broadsided to the 20-mile-an-hour current, and bumped into the rocks. Tables, chairs and dishes were hurled pell-mell over the floor, and some of the passengers were badly shaken up. The piano turned over, and the freight in the hold slid badly, and pandemonium reigned until the ship struck hard.

They were taken off in a launch. The loss is $2,500.

New Steamboat Service.

Buffalo, June 6.—It is officially announced that beginning at once the Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Railroad will establish a through passenger boat service between Charlotte, N.Y., and Port Hope and Cobourg, Ont.

It is planned to run three days a week—Monday, Thursday and Saturday, making connections with the Grand Trunk at Cobourg for all points in eastern, western and northern Canada.

Loses a Leg.

Kingston, June 5.—George Coxworthy, aged 40, received terrible injuries at locomotive works and may die. While running a small planer his right leg was cut off at the knee.

Victim of Explosion Dies.

Shelburne, June 5.—R. J. East, injured through the explosion of the cylinder of his soda-fountain succumbed to his injuries, never regaining consciousness.

DECIDE TO FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS

Brazil Will Inaugurate a Vigorous Campaign Against Dread Disease.

Washington, June 6.—As a means of checking tuberculosis in the principal cities of Brazil, the sanitary authorities of that country have instituted a campaign involving the expenditure of $1,250,000. According to a report from Consul General Geo E. Anderson, who is stationed in Brazil, the authorities of the republic are preparing a campaign especially in Rio Janeiro as drastic as that against yellow fever.

The Brazilian project includes as its material features:

The compulsory report of every case of tuberculosis to the sanitary authorities, the complete assumption of charge of all cases of tuberculosis by public authorities; infectious cases to be separated from the public, and patients supported by the public; the establishment of hospitals, with complete isolation, for tuberculosis-infected invalids, and of hotels and boarding houses, agricultural colonies, sanitaria for those not invalids, the absolute refusal of admission into Brazil of any person or animal having tuberclosis; the inspection of all forms and materials likely to carry bacilli of the disease, with power to destroy anything infected, and the betterment of food, housing and other conditions of life of the large mass of the people in which tuberculosis is raging, for the prevention of the disease by fortifying the people against it by improving their general health.

DAMAGE DONE BY FLOODS IN WEST

High Water Prevails in Southern Alberta.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 6.—Mountain streams are in flood throughout southern Alberta. The Belly river is rising five inches per hour and is now eight feet above the regular high water mark. The St. Mary's river is also many feet higher than usual, while the Willow, Pincher and Lees creeks and the Pothole and Old Man rivers are washing away their banks and sweeping everything before their flood. The bridge at Brocket has moved and there are fears for the Alberta Railway and Irrigation Co.'s line between Cardstone here and MacLeod.

The lower part of Cardston is abandoned, the houses being flooded. No trains are running, they either struck landslides or have returned.

The telegraph and telephone service, north, south and west, is practically useless.

There has been two inches of rain in 48 hours, with no sign of cessation. Crops, however, are uninjured, and very little is under water.

Pumping Station Swept Away.

GREAT RALLY WAS HELD AT TORONTO

Toronto Gives Enthusiastic Reception to Premier and Local Candidates.

Toronto, June 6.—While not such a demonstration as the gathering in London on Wednesday night, the final rally of the Conservative campaign in Massey Hall last night was a testimony to the esteem in which the Whitney Government is held by their supporters in Toronto.

The speechmaking was good, no one except Premier Whitney exceeding ten minutes, while most of the speeches were under five, and Mr. Whitney spoke three minutes less than an hour.

The speakers were Premier Whitney, Hon. G. E. Foster, Thos. Whitesides, G. H. Gooderham, John Shaw, W. D. McPherson, W. K. McNaught, Hon. J. J. Foy, and Hon. Dr. Pyne. Thomas Crawford was absent. P. W. Ellis occupied the chair.

Will Grant No Licenses.

Victoria, B.C., June 6.—Announcement is made by the Provincial Government that no licenses would be granted for the sale of liquor in construction camps along the G.T.P. The Government has been deluged with hundreds of applications, but all have been refused.

Apart from the moral grounds, the Government finds that the expense of policing the district is greatly reduced.

No license will be granted at Prince Rupert either.

BOTH SIDES DO A LOT OF TALKING AT THE CAPITAL

Suggestion That Closure Should be Introduced—Mr. Owen Stirs up Hon. Mr. Fielding—Reference to Minister of Customs' Speech—$1,500,000 Voted For Department of the Interior—Conmee Destroyed Basis of Agreement.

Ottawa, June 6.—Parliament yesterday talked closure. Both sides talked and business was delayed.

Duncan Ross, H. W. Kennedy and D. A. Gordon were those who wanted the gag applied to the Opposition. Throughout the day the debate was acrimonious and Hon. Mr. Fielding, who agitates himself unduly when things do not go to suit him, was visibly annoyed.

C. L. Owen (Northumberland) made his maiden speech, and roused the anger of the Finance Minister. Quoting the speech of Hon. Mr. Paterson at Brantford the other evening, in which the Minister of Customs said there were 1,800 men in his Department who could not get their money because the Opposition held up the supply, Mr. Owen said it was unjust and unfair to mislead the public in that way. The Customs estimates were before the House for some days, because Mr. Paterson asked for an increased expenditure and could not give a satisfactory explanation of what it was for. But before Mr. Paterson went away Monday night, every dollar of his estimates had been voted.

Mr. Fielding charged Mr. Owen with unfairness in bringing up the matter in the absence of the Minister. He would repeat that not one dollar had been voted for Customs or Postoffice Departments.

Mr. Owen recalled the Finance Minister's observation that the Opposition had no rights except what the majority should choose to give.

Mr. Fielding reiterated the statement. But, he went on, the trouble was that the Opposition had too many rights, which permitted them to delay the business of the House to an extent that would not be tolerated in any other deliberative chamber.

Mr. Lancaster pointed out that the Minister of Customs, who was paid by the country for looking after business, was away meddling in Ontario elections, whereas if an ordinary member stayed away he lost his pay.

"We had a Minister of Justice," said Mr. Taylor, "once, but now we have a Minister of Justice brought up at the feet of ex-Premier Ross to do his dirty work."

This was declared to be unparliamentary, and Mr. Taylor withdrew the expression. He went on to say that the Opposition would be worse than serfs if they did not stay here till the bill was amended. In conclusion, he invited the Government to attempt to apply the closure.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Carvell, Lennox and Chisholm. "Let us," said the latter, "stop acting like children, and get to business." There are no manufacturers in the country who would work their employes from 11 o'clock in the morning until 3 o'clock next morning; yet Parliament was a factory turning out laws and wind-bags. He thought half a dozen back-benchers on both sides could settle the difficulty, and, they should take it out of the hands of the two leaders.

At midnight the House adjourned after having voted one million and a half dollars for the Interior Department, one hundred thousand dollars of which was for immigration expenses.

Just before the House rose, Mr. Graham, Minister of Railways, made a plea that provision be made for the outside employes of his Department. Mr. Graham intimated that the impression was abroad that these employes might be without their money for some time.

"I want to be away on Monday, like many other members," replied Mr. Graham.

With this the discussion ended and the House rose, to resume again on Monday.

It is now stated that the two leaders had all but reached a basis of agreement when an unexpected difficulty arose. This time it was James Conmee of Port Arthur who is responsible for the hitch.

The Prime Minister's overtures to Mr. Borden with respect to the Manitoba lists were said to be satisfactory to the Opposition, but Mr. Conmee came down from New Ontario with the complaint that the lists in the unorganised districts are in bad shape and he urged his leader not to give way to the Opposition, and there the matter rests.

The latest report of the Canadian section of the International Waterways Commission was tabled in the Commons yesterday.

The commissioners deal at length with the problem of power distribution, and carefully weighed the problem of equitable distribution of the power development of Niagara Falls.

Declines the Bishopric.

Washington, June 6.—Charles H. Brent, Bishop of the Philippines, in a cablegram received yesterday, declined to accept the post of Bishop of Washington, in succession to the late Bishop Henry Samerile, to which office Bishop Brent was elected last month. The declination is made in the following message in response to his notification:

"Must decline. I would have gone, but God bids me stay. John Fifth, thirty. (Signed Brent."

To Educate Chinese Youths.

Pekin, June 6.—The Chinese Government is at present engaged in framing a plan for the education of Chinese boys in America. Under it it is proposed to pay to American schools and colleges the majority of that portion of the Chinese Boxer indemnity which was cancelled by the United States and returned to China.

It is proposed to send 200 students annually to the United States for a period of ten years.

Chinese Claims.

Vancouver, B.C., June 6.—Mackenzie King's Chinese claims commission concluded its sittings yesterday after a session of ten days, during which 130 claimants were examined. The original claims totaled $25,000, but additions brought it up to between $26,000 and $27,000. The award will not be made for a few days.

Another Clue.

Paris, June 6.—Mme. Steinheil, whose husband and mother were murdered in their residence last Sunday, was subjected to a fresh interrogatory. It is declared that she revealed, in answer to questions, the fact that her husband had had relations with a woman of questionable antecedents.

Railway Collision.

Annapolis, Md., June 6.—In a head-on collision between two special cars of the Washington, Baltimore & Annapolis Electric Railway Co., eight passengers were killed and a score of others seriously injured, some of them perhaps fatally.

The collision was due to a confusion of orders.

Extra Police For Quebec.

Quebec, June 6.—The civic authorities have decided to increase the local police force by 80 men for the tercentenary festivities. These 80 extra constables will be brought from Toronto and Montreal.

Snow In Montana.

Butte, Mont., June 6.—Eight inches of snow on the level, washed into slush by a driving rain, cut Butte off from the outside world yesterday.

Off to Russia.

London, June 6.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria started for Reval, Russia, yesterday for a visit to the Emperor of Russia.

A large suite accompanied the royal party, including Sir Charles Hardinge, Permanent Under Secretary to the Foreign Office; Sir Arthur Nicolson, British ambassador to St. Petersburg; Admiral Fisher and Lieut.-Gen. Sir John French.

Shooting a Balloon.

North Adams, Mass., June 6.—While the balloon North Adams, carrying N. M. Arnold of this city as pilot, and C. DeAngelis Frua, who is said to be an officer of the Italian army, was passing 500 feet over the village of Poestenkill, N.Y., rifle shots were fired at it, according to Pilot Arnold.

Crushing the Insurrection In Korea.

Seoul, June 6.—The active movement to suppress the insurrection is now general throughout Korea.

Japanese troops have been distributed in all disaffected provinces, and an aggressive campaign has been inaugurated with a view of quickly capturing the various semi-organized bands of insurgents and suppressing the insurrectionary element.

Japanese Marquis at Montreal.

Montreal, June 6.—Marquis Nakaniro Ieba Keike, fifth son of Prince Toga of Japan, is here on a trip around the world. He is the guest of Sir William Van Horne while in this city.

Appointed School Inspector.

Welland, June 6.—J. W. Marshall, B.A., has been appointed to the position of inspector of public schools for the County of Welland.

Improving the Welland Canal.

St. Catharines, June 6.—The lock gates on the Welland Canal are now being equipped with five horse-power motors, by which they can be opened in 30 seconds and closed in the same time. Previously it required eight minutes to open and close the gates, so that the new arrangements will make a saving of three hours in the passage of a steamer from Port Colborne.

New Era In Surgery.

Chicago, June 6.—The dawn of a new era in surgery is announced by Dr. T. T. Morris of New York in the meeting of the surgery section of the American Medical Association. He declared that surgery is at present in the pathological, and that it is at the dawn of the physiological period.

HON. J. P. WHITNEY
Prime Minister of Ontario, whose Government should be returned on Monday.

THINK ATTACK HAS HURT RATHER THAN HELPED CAUSE

Fury of Nationalist Press Unbounded—An Offer to Kill Dreyfus—To Eject Zola's Body From the Pantheon—Searching for Incriminating Documents.

Paris, June 6.—Whether the attempt upon the life of Major Alfred Dreyfus, at the time of the canonization of Emile Zola in the Pantheon, was only the individual act of a man believing himself to be an outraged patriot, or had behind it an incipient Nationalist plot, the Republican press is unanimous in deploring the incident, and believes it injured, rather than aided, the cause. Even the papers which doubted the wisdom of burying Zola in the Pantheon think that the shooting of Major Dreyfus consolidated the Republican sentiment, and they evidently desire to see the incident die out as quickly as possible. Any attempt to reopen the old Dreyfus issue at the trial of Louis Gregori, the man who shot the major, they point out, can easily be frustrated as being plainly extraneous. On the other hand the fury of the Nationalist papers is unbounded. L'Action Francaise fires a broadside which recalls the most exciting days of Dreyfus and Boulanger. At the head of its columns this newspaper prints a statement by Charles Maurras it is likely the authorities will investigate. In this article the writer says that on Wednesday night "a resolute patriot" visited M. Daudet and Lieut. Bonnefleury and himself offered to kill Dreyfus, but his proposal was rejected. A leading editorial in this paper appeals to the country to turn to the Duke of Orleans for redress, and con[illegible] with these words: "Do you desire that Zola's body be ejected from the Pantheon? Do you desire to march Dreyfus to the execution block? If so, invoke your King."

The paper also republishes a number of London reviews of the Dreyfus case, insisting that he is a traitor. The decision of the Court of Cassation to cut off the time for an appeal, the paper says, is illegal and it concludes its article as follows: "What we ask for Dreyfus is not six balls from a revolver, but the twelve bullets from the execution squad."

Other newspapers declare that Gregori, much grieved at the death of his mother, has lately manifested signs of mental derangement.

Gregori's sister is unable to account for his act, except that he was carried away by indignation at the idea that the army, to which he has devoted his life, and which he so passionately loved, should salute with its flags the author of "Le Dabacle." She said her brother latterly had displayed symptoms of melancholia. The authorities are pursuing their investigation with the view of determining whether or not there is a plot behind the attempt. Yesterday Gregori was taken to his apartment, and was present when the police made a thorough search of his rooms for possible incriminating documents. Their efforts developed nothing of importance.

The bullet was extracted from Major Dreyfus' arm without difficulty.

Crushed Under Auto.

Brunswick, June 6. A fatal automobile accident took place near here. Lieut.-Commander Assmann and First Lieut. Johannes Fritzsche were killed and First Lieut. Elmanhorst and the chauffeur, a man named Eioke, were severely injured.

The automobile was a high power machine. As it was entering a small village the chauffeur endeavored to avoid running over a girl cyclist and suddenly put on the full brake power. The machine turned, practically a double somersault. It fell upon the occupants and crushed them.

No New Grouping of Powers.

St. Petersburg, June 6.—Considerable significance is attached in St. Petersburg to an obviously inspired article published in the official Rossia which, while speaking warmly in favor of the meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas at Reval, declares that the suggestion of any new grouping of the powers at the present time is impossible.

This article blames a number of the newspapers of Russia for the markedly anti-German tendency of recent comment on King Edward's approaching visit.

Signorinetta Also Won the Oaks.

London, June 6. Signorinetta, the Italian filly, owned by E. Ginistrelli, and the winner of the Derby, yesterday added the Oaks, "The Ladies' Derby," to her credit, winning with almost as much ease as she captured the Derby Wednesday. Betting was three to one against the winner.

After the race King Edward sent for Signor Ginistrelli, received him on the royal balcony, and congratulated him heartily on the remarkable feats of his filly.

THE DEATH OF REV. DR. FINDLAY

Had a Son Killed in the South African War.

Barrie, June 6.—Rev. Dr. Allan Findlay, superintendent of New Ontario Missions for the Presbyterian Church, died suddenly yesterday. He was not sick an hour.

Rev. Dr. Findlay leaves a widow, five daughters and four sons. He was the father of Private Findlay, the first Canadian soldier to be shot in the South African war. Another son, Oliver, was accidentally shot and killed at Sudbury two years ago.

Rev. Dr. Findlay returned from the North the previous night, and made no mention of feeling unwell. He was an early riser, and yesterday got up and dressed as usual, but complained of dizziness. He lay down again, and expired before a doctor reached the house. He was 68 years old, and had resided in Barrie for thirty years.

Chinese Refused Request.

Pekin, June 6.—China has refused the request made by Japan for permission to station treaty men in Chinese territory, over the Korean border, for the purpose of apprehending leaders of the Korean insurgents, who make their escape in that direction.

Blockade In Montana.

Helena, Mont., June 6.—The greatest railroad blockade in the history of Montana has resulted from the rainfall of the last week. The streets of Helena are flooded and on every side of the city railroad tracks are washed out.

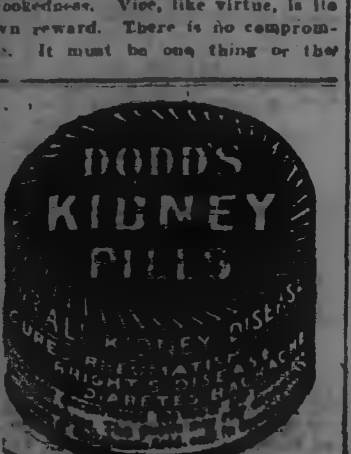
A BRITISH SUBJECT

The Catholic Record has a lengthy editorial on what may best be expressed in its own words, "No nation is so prompt and so truly careful of her subjects all over the world as Great Britain." This just tribute to the watchful care of the motherland over her own immediate children might well be extended to the treatment of those in "British dominions beyond the Seas," as His Majesty's coronation title now reads. Wherever we are, to borrow a Scottish phrase, "we are a John Tamson's Bairns." The causa causans of the article in question was an attack by Italian roughs upon Scottish students temporarily resident in Italy. It seems these students who are in attendance at an ecclesiastical college in Marino were proceeding to their college from a country retreat which they had been visiting during a period of extreme heat. The roughs met them on the highway and attacked them. Razors, knives and other lethal weapons were made use of by the roughs to an alarming extent. Many of the students received frightful wounds in defending themselves. The attack has been the subject of inquiry in the British House of Commons. The British Ambassador to Italy has been instructed to investigate the affair. Side by side with advanced humanitarian methods the most savage anarchism is growing and developing daily. It is likely however that when the forces of order get properly in motion they will be able to protect popular rights and to preserve liberty. It is gratifying meanwhile to note that a British subject is still backed by all the forces of the British Empire.

THE CAMPAIGN

The campaign is over all but the shouting. Orators great and small have done their worst or best, according to the point of view. The sides have resounded to the eloquence of the various speakers who have been intent on "saving the country" at all costs. The outstanding features of this campaign, however, are the continued appeal by the Whitney Government to its record as an honest record. Mr. Whitney seems to wish to stand or fall on his merits as a man, not a politician, indeed the wonderful success of his financial policy which has enabled him and his cabinet to do "great things", in all directions, for the province, seems in his eyes to be second to his desire to give a clean administrative record to the people. Of course, he is right. He despises baby-play in politics or elsewhere. A cat can steal, but it takes a true man to be honest. This same spirit is taking possession of the people everywhere, especially those who may be called "representative." They recognise that they have been "fooling" too long with crookedness. Vice, like virtue, is its own reward. There is no compromise. It must be one thing or the other. Whitney stands pre-eminently for candour, even sometimes it may be called "brutal frankness." He is trying to do right, and, "like my grandsire at Hastings" he is doing well.

There are many sermons in his record which, indeed, is more than mere sermons and exhortations. It is the pleasing record of a well-spent life. No one expects, in fact, no one wishes that the opposition should be as weak in every way as it is at present. But mark our words, there will be "doings" on Monday. The people know a good thing when they see it.



QUESTIONS OF THE HOUR

Would you have the old license administration back again? Would you have the old ballot back again? Would you have the policy of giving away Niagara Falls power to favorites back again? Would you have the policy of giving the mining wealth of Cobalt away to favorites for a song, back again? Would you have provincial poverty back again? Deficits, deceit and despair?

"The normal revenue is one million dollars short of the normal expenditure." — (Hon. G. W. Ross, in the Globe, March 23rd, 1904.)

— Which of these do you want back again?

The present system of handling our Northern Ontario wealth means wealth for the people of Ontario. We own it. Why shouldn't we enjoy it? The O'Brien mine, worth $10,000,000 given away by Hon. A. G. MacKay for seven hundred dollars! Do you want that back again?

A BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Win or lose, let us be the equal of the prize-ring at least. Let us all play fair.

Mr. Whitney is wise and strong—safe, sure and discreet. He has developed the people's wealth for the people and we shall get it.

Mr Whitney declined to bribe Hamilton with a Technical school. He told them that no matter which man won, Hamilton stood an equal chance. That has been his reply in all cases.

All bye-elections under Mr. Whitney were clean. There were seven of them and there was not one charge of corruption. No wonder "Cap" Sullivan is singing sadly, "Massa's in the cold cold ground."

Mr. Ross would not close the Toronto Junction poolroom. Mr. Whitney closed it.

It's a foregone conclusion, boys. In four years more we shall rejoice in free school books, free roads, free schools, cheap railway rates, cheap transportation and why shouldn't we?

A PICAYUNE POLICY

"I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment, will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province generally." — From Mr. Gillespie's address. Do you want "the Province ignored? That is what he says he will do in the above. We are a united people and let us continue so. Fairplay for all.

POLITICAL NOTES

The Liberals are holding another meeting in Lakefield to-night. Lakefield has received more "enlightenment" this campaign than usual. Mr. Thompson has made a very good impression there.

Investigation shows that the only man for whom or by whom there was ever attempted any coercion in the C. G. E. was Mr. J. R. Stratton. Failing the numbered ballot, he desires to shut down on the boys altogether. Before they had the appearance of freedom. Now they are not to have even that. Aren't they thought Just wait. If Mr. Gillespie gets all that is coming to him he will know whose tactics to blame.

WHY WONDER AT CRIME?

"We all know that the world has come to set up less exacting standards of morality in politics and governmental relations than in ordinary matters. A person seems to think it no wrong to cheat the customs; an elector comes to regard the sale of his vote as a venial offence. * * *"—The Examiner, April 28, 1908.

Is that the theory of manhood and womanhood which you wish your children to be taught? Is it any wonder that corruption was at one time rife in Peterborough!

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN? LOOKS LIKE MORE COERCION

> Editor Post Card Column:
> Dear Sir,—Will you kindly inform you correspondent of yesterday, who was so very anxious to pay his "statute labour tax," that I will be in my office on Saturday evening next at 8 o'clock sharp with a complete list of registered voters. Come one and all and pay your outstanding taxes before election day. Save trouble and costs.
> Yours truly,
> W. J. GREEN,
> Tax Collector.
> Peterborough, June 4, '08.
> (The Examiner.)

The above picture of the present situation, in miniature, we clip from the correspondence-column of the Examiner. Since the Conservatives put nearly thirteen hundred names on the registered lists recently, while the Liberal organization put on an insignificant number the motive of the above contribution to the literature of the hour would look to be apparent. It means we should think, judging from the publication of the notice at this juncture and in one paper only, that the men who registered have made themselves liable to taxes —and to something more. However, there is this about it. Voting on Monday will not make their position any worse. So we hope that this new move on the part of Mr. Stratton to coerce the electors will receive in full the treatment that it deserves. A man need not pay his poll-tax to vote.

EDITORIAL NOTES

editorial note

Let every elector take a friend with him to the poll. We owe it to our beloved province.

"I tell you, gentlemen, Mr. Bradburn will have a big majority on June 8th." —Ald. Phelan at the Opera House.

ed the moral uplift

"I ask your support of Mr. Bradburn and the Whitney government for a more important reason than any yet given: I refer to the moral uplift of our people from such honest faithful administration of public affairs. Think of how you felt as fathers and as citizens under the degrading conditions of four years ago and because of the noble example now set before the country uphold the hands of Whitney. He is a man of sterling integrity who, when serving the people is not afraid to say "No." to the wealthiest corporation or to the most dominant influence." Mr. Garvin at Opera House.

Col. Matheson then dealt with the labor question. This action of the Whitney Government and the labor interests had been made a great deal of by Mr. Preston, of Brantford, and Mr. Stratton, of Peterborough. The charge that the Whitney Government had placed prison made goods on the open market in competition with manufactured goods was not true. During the time when Mr. Stratton was Provincial Secretary, ninety per cent. of the goods manufactured in prison was sold on the open market. Under the Whitney Government only 20 per cent. of it was sold on the open market.

The labor interests in Hamilton were satisfied, the Trades and Labor Council in Toronto was satisfied, the labor interests throughout the province generally were satisfied. Only the Rip Van Winkles like Mr. Stratton and Mr. Preston were raising the bogey. (Laughter.) — The Provincial Treasurer at the Opera House.

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—It is my privilege to again appear before you as the Conservative candidate in the approaching election of members of the Ontario Legislature, and while on the previous occasion I was in opposition to the Government, I now have the pleasure of supporting the Administration of Hon. J. P. Whitney, whose management of the affairs of the Province, with the support of an able cabinet, has, during his short premiership, proved of such marked benefit.

Measures of a far-reaching character have been passed, and the statute books of the last three years are replete with legislation of a high order, as well for its originality as its soundness. Let me mention a few of the important acts of the past sessions. The establishment of a Railway and Municipal Board, the new act relating to mining, the creation of the Hydro-Electric Commission, the amendment of the liquor laws, amendments to the law relating to the election of members of the Legislature, particularly the alteration in the ballot, which is now absolutely secret.

The administration of the public domain, especially the mining laws of the Province, has been most profitable, adding large sums to both revenue and capital, and the different changes which have been effected in the Education Department have met with the approval of all persons, concerned in that most important branch of the public service.

One of the beneficial acts of the Government is the taking with its own hands the distribution of electric energy through the great water power of Niagara Falls, and other rivers capable of hydraulic development. Thus are the different municipalities through the Province enabled to obtain the inestimable commodity at a minimum of cost.

The Government, while endeavoring to serve the people generally have not been unmindful of the importance of this riding, and when the new normal schools were to be created one of the four was placed in this constituency, thus affording exceptional advantages to the teachers and schools of this county.

In the short time which will elapse before polling day, I shall endeavour to make my views more fully known to you both privately and publicly, and I bespeak your cordial support, not so much because of any merits of my own, as on account of the splendid record of the Government.

I have the honor to be, gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

T. E. BRADBURN

"UNSEEN WORLD" DEALT WITH INTERESTINGLY

Speaker at Gospel Hall Speaks About Some Mysterious Subjects

A large number heard the address on the "Unseen World," by Mr. McMurdo at Gospel Hall last night. It proved exceedingly interesting. Mr McMurdo spoke in part as follows:

Man—is composed of three parts, spirit, soul and body, 1 Thes. 5-23. The spirit is the God conscious part, the soul the self-conscious part and the body, the sense conscious part. The tabernacle in the wilderness is a beautiful picture of this. There were the outer court, the holy place and the holiest of all, the outercourt would typify the body, the holy place, the soul, and the holiest of all the spirit. Man is essentially a spirit, and therefore he pries into the unseen world.

Spiritism—or spiritualism has a great fascination for many in these days. The man who says it is only jugglery and fraud only exposes his ignorance of the subject. Spiritism is very real, while at the same time there has been and is today a good deal of fraud connected with it. It is forbidden in the Bible in such verses as Ex. 22. 18; Lev. 19. 26 and 31, also chap. 20, 27, Deut. 18 9-14, 1 Sam. 28, 3-25.- It has often been quoted that the Witch of Endor brought up Samuel. God brought up Samuel. The Witch was afraid and surprised. No one has ever received a communication from their dead relatives but they have certainly received messages from evil spirits who pretended to be the dead friends. This has been proved over and over again. For example a spirit would pretend to be Wm. E. Gladstone, and yet not be able to write good English or again one would pretend to be Erasmus and not be able to write Greek. Spiritualism has been exposed from time to time and what a heartrending story of lives that have been wrecked who the poor victims were possessed against their will by low foul spirits. Many have been led in through curiosity and they have gone on laying out their bodies for unseen influences to work upon them and now they are beyond the power of God altogether and they are left as beacons, on the highway of life— wrecks. Spiritual, moral and physical wrecks.

Christian Science— which is demon-science. Like spiritualists they deny the inspiration of scriptures, the divinity of Christ, the atonement, etc., Christian Scientists tell us there is no sin, no evil, no death. No matter and no such thing as personality. It has come from India by way of the Pacific ocean only dressed up with a different suit of clothes. Everything unpleasant is a delusion. I wonder how the delusion came about for it is a very real one. It does not make people holier and happier and what does not make people holier and happier is neither good for this life or for the life to come. A lady from Rutherford, New Jersey, was telling me a few of her experiences with Christian Scientists.

One incident I give as a sample:— She had had several conversations with a lady who appeared to be lovely in every way. She seemed to be so kind and good, until one day this lady had a straight talk to her on the person and work of the Lord Jesus Christ. She asked her about the blood of Christ which maketh an atonement for the soul. The scientist got up in a tearing rage and the demon in her spoke out and said, "The blood of Christ is no more than the blood of a bull."

BUDDHISM.

The popular idea of heaven is that it is a place where hunger and thirst are felt no more, where there is no more sickness or weariness, no more suffering or pain, no scorching heat, no biting cold, a place where the holy in perfect bliss repose in the shade of trees green with perpetual spring, and pluck the fruits mellow with perpetual autumn, a place where old friends meet and pass their existence forever within the sound of ceaseless prayers which are said for the benefit of all animated beings.

The tortures of hell, or purgatory, whichever you may prefer to call it are described with a minuteness and detail too horrible for us to dwell on, but there is one thing worth remarking, that is the fitness of the punishment to the sin. Just take one example: A man has lived and died a glutton. The consequence is that he is punished by hunger. He is born with, perhaps, a body as large as a mountain, and a stomach capacious as a cavern; food is within his reach, and he is as hungry as all the wolves in Siberia; he would eat, but his mouth is as small as a needle's eye and his throat is as narrow as a hair. Gluttony was his sin and hunger is his punishment.

It is the same all through. A man's punishment springs directly from his sin. The great points of contrast between Buddhism and Christianity are, — the Christian doctrine of one life of probation, resurrection of the body, salvation by faith in Christ, as opposed to their doctrine of escape by works; creation by a pre-existent creator and government of of the world by the same all-powerful Creator. On these points the two are diametrically opposed; but with the exception of these and a few others, the teachings of the two religions bear a striking resemblance.

Buddhism fails to produce holiness. It holds out the greatest inducements to virtue and shakes direst terror over vice; but it succeeds neither in destroying vice or producing virtue. "It is henceforth good for nothing but to be cast out and trodden under foot of men." It usurps haughtily and with a high hand the worship and honor due to Jesus Christ alone. By teaching that men can unaided, themselves from sin, and pass to the life beyond, from the region of sorrow and suffering, it makes the cross of none effect and says that the death of Christ was superfluous. It not only usurps His rightful dominion, but actually vaunts itself as greater and mightier than He, and this too, when it knows itself to be an utter failure, quite incapable of performing the smallest of its many boasts, and is conscious in the person of its highest officers, that, foundation and superstructure, it is a fabric of lies, warp and woof it is a tissue of falsehood. Priests are either deceivers, or deceived, or partly both; temples are guilded cages of unclean birds, the whole system is an utter abomination, an offence to God and a curse to man. Let us pray for the speedy destruction of this religion, which haughtily robs God, and remorselessly pollutes and crushes man. May it soon fall and its oppressions be replaced by the mild sway of that master whose yoke is easy and whose burden is light. Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

AMERICAN NEW THOUGHT.

There is much that is good in this but the theology is bad. It denies the person and work of Christ and to follow out this teaching of the new thought would land you into saying "I am God." One book of the series proves that it comes from India in which you are told to repeat the word aum. Come to the facts. This is nothing more nor less than demonology.

HYPNOTISM.

Hypnotism is something like poison. It must be handled with great care. The knife in the hand of a surgeon, would be all right but the knife in the hand of a man unskilled would be a very dangerous thing. It is a dangerous thing for a Christian because he works with forces and cannot very well tell where they come from. However, as far as I know it has never been proved that a subject would do anything in a hypnotic state against their moral principles.

It is sad to think that many pulpits are filled with men who preach another gospel. A good deal of the so-called gospel is a little Hindoo philosophy and American psychology and a little theology thrown in to the bargain. No Christ, no blood, no atonement. Read 1st Tim. 4th Chap. and 2nd Tim. 3rd Chap., also first eight verses of the 4th Chap.

MEN'S MEETING AT THE Y.M.C.A.

Mr. S. C. Moore of Toronto Will be the Speaker To-morrow

The meeting for men on Sunday afternoon at 4.15 at the Y.M.C.A. will be of particular interest to-morrow as it will be addressed by a particular layman of Toronto, Mr. S. C. Moore, of the T. Kinnear Co. The music will also be of special interest. Every man is cordially invited to attend.

After the meeting a meeting of the Religious Work Committee, comprising of Messrs. J. F. Thornton, W. B. Warne, W. J. Dunlop, A. B. Cunningham, J. W. Bennett and Dr. J. E. Middleton, will be held to discuss plans for the summer work.

The Sunday morning Bible Clubs arew more interesting than ever. Any men will receive a cordial welcome. Class starts at 10 a.m. and closes at 10.45. The Sunday school lessons and personal Christian work are studied.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

PRESBYTERIAL SOCIETY MET

Gratifying Increase in Membership During the Past Year

Peterborough, Ont., June 5th.— The annual meeting of the Peterboro Presbyterial Society was held in Peterboro, on Wednesday and Thursday of last week. The Presbyterial reported the addition of three Mission Bands, a total membership of 891 members and contributions to the amount of $2,385.00. On Wednesday afternoon Dr. Chone Oliver, of Neemuch, India, who has been on the mission field for the past seven years gave a helpful address on the conditions of the work there and the obstacles encountered and the necessity of continued assistance. She also gave the history of the great revival which has spread over that land. In the evening Rev. R. P. McKay, D.D, who has spent the last year in visiting the mission fields of Asia gave a very inspiring address on the work in Korea. He ended by saying that if he knew the language he would go to China at once and spend the rest of his life in telling the story of the Cross. Mrs. Burns was again unanimously chosen president for the year.

THREW STONES AT HIS CHILDREN

Citizen Complains of Action of Neighbors Child—Advised to Settle Matter Himself if Possible

Yesterday afternoon a man called at the police station and informed the chief that a neighbor's child had been throwing stones at his children and hit one of them, a baby about two and a half years old.

The Chief advised him to amicably settle the matter with his neighbor and without resorting to securing the services of the police. He said, however, in case this could not be done, he would be willing to take a hand in the affair.

"STUNG" MUCH IN EVIDENCE DOWN RIVER

Mosquitoes are a Pest to Those Going Down the Otonabee in the Evenings

The mosquitoes are proving a nuisance to those who go down the river on pleasure bent. They are unusually thick this year and have no regard for the rights of others. They are especially bad in the evening and every one who goes down the stream is "stung" literally, though perhaps not figuratively. It is expected that the pests will disappear in the near future, or at least decrease in numbers.

CHARGED WITH ILL TREATING SICK HORSE

Two Men Appeared in Court To-day—Was Dismissed—Other Cases

Henry Mitchell and Geo. Downer were charged before Magistrate Dumble this morning with illtreating a horse by leaving it on the street without food or care. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for Downer and pleaded not guilty. Mitchell also pleaded not guilty. The information was afterwards changed to Mitchell alone and read for allowing the horse to run at large. He also pleaded guilty to this and, after hearing the evidence the case was dismissed.

The horse was brought down to Downer's house and left there. It wandered down to Brock street where it stood for several hours. It was suffering from a grease leg. It was finally shot by P. C. Meagher.

DRUNK AGAIN.

John Ferguson was fined two dollars and costs yesterday for being drunk and again this morning he graced the prisoner's dock with his presence.

"Are you guilty, or not guilty, of being drunk in a public place?" asked the magistrate.

"Well, I believe I am," was the prisoner's answer.

"Five dollars to be paid forthwith, or ten days in gaol," was His Worship's sentence.

Ferguson was "dead broke" so had to go back.

MUST GET A TAG.

Zimri Blodgett was fined two dollars and costs, amounting to $1.60 for neglecting to pay his dog tax. He must also procure the tag in addition to his fine.

NEW PATENT ACT WILL HIT AMERICA HARD

It is Also Claimed That the Colonies Will be Affected

London, June 5.— Judge C. H. Duell has been busily engaged here for the past ten days to see what can be done to modify the British Government's patent act of 1907, which comes into operation on Aug. 28 of this year. The provisions of the act which are aimed at foreign patentees, specify that all patents registered in England by foreigners shall become null and void at the expiration of four years after registration if the owners of the patent fail to set up a factory and manufacture the article patented "to an adequate extent." As American manufacturers are doing a large business in England they stand to be forced to expend thousands, perhaps millions, of dollars in the construction of plants here as provided by the new act.

The subject is, of course, of vast importance to the American Manufacturers' Association, the members of which will be harder hit by the bill than those of any other country.

Among American manufacturers which will be particularly hard hit by the new act are typewriters, cash registers, all kinds of fine steel working machinery, laundry, boot, shoe, and leather working machinery, elevator and pneumatic tube parts, in addition to a thousand and one small articles sold by Americans under the protection of English registered patents.

Judge Duell says, "One of the most hopeful signs for a modification of the act, however, is the attitude of English inventors, who are also hard hit, and also the inventors of the British colonies who patent here. Their solicitors say that they threaten to work up retaliatory measures against the mother country. If these hopes materialise, we will, of course, find unexpected assistance. Meantime, August 28, the day when the new act becomes a law, is drawing near, and we have precious little time in which to work.

INDIGESTION CAN BE CURED

Dr. Williams Pink Pills Succeed After Other Remedies Fail

There are twenty drugs to help your digestion for a time, but there is only one medicine that can positively cure your indigestion for good. To any one with indigestion a half dozen boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are worth all the purgatives and mixtures in the country. all these have failed Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the worst cases of indigestion by going straight to the root of the trouble in the blood.

You can take a purgative to tear through your bowels and make a clean sweep of your food, whether it is digested or not. You can take stomach bitters to create a false appetite—if you don't care what happens after you swallow your meals. You can drug your stomach with tablets and syrups to digest your food for you—if you don't care how soon you ruin your system altogether. You can do all these things—but don't call it "curing your indigestion." There is only one way to cure indigestion, and that is to give red blood that your stomach and liver will have strength enough to do their natural work in a healthy and vigorous way. That is why Dr Williams' Pink Pills cure indigestion—they actually make new blood. Here is the proof. Mr. R. McCorkell, St. Thomas, Ont., says:— "About a year ago my system became generally wrecked. My stomach was always in a state of nusea. The sight of any kind of food often turned my stomach and I would arise from the table without eating. Doctors advised different medicines, which I took without benefit. Finally I became so run down that I had to quit work. For two months I tried to build myself up with the aid of doctors but as the time went on and my condition did not improve I became much discouraged. Then a friend told me he thought Dr Williams' Pink Pills would help me and I began their use. In three weeks time I was so improved that I went back to my work but I continued using the pills until I had taken twelve boxes, and now my stomach is strong and I am ready for a good meal three times a day and life now really seems worth living."

It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make new, red blood that they cure such common ailments as anaemia, with all its headaches and backaches, rheumatism, neuralgia, St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis and the secret ailments from which women and young girls suffer so much. You can get the pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont.

HAY WILL BE A BUMPER CROP

Farmers Say the Meadows are in Fine Shape—Rapid Growth

"You can almost hear the grass growing," said a farmer on the market to the Review to-day. "There's going to be a big crop of hay," he continued, "and its safe betting that there will be no $16 a ton touches next fall."

It is a long time since hay was so far advanced at this season of the year, the farmers say, and it is expected that a bumper crop will be harvested.

SOME PECULIARITIES OF FREE METHODISM

Free Methodists Have Not Departed From Methods of John Wesley—Camp Meeting to be Held Here Commencing June 11th—Extensive Preparations Being Made for it.

In connection with the camp meeting of the Free Methodist Church of the Toronto district, which will be held for ten days, commencing Thursday, June 11th, at the exhibition grounds, it is interesting to note some peculiarities of their religion. Their discipline only differs from ordinary Methodism in two respects. Free Methodism does not permit its members the use of tobacco, nor belonging to any secret society. Otherwise they claim that there is no difference in their belief than that of any Methodist, save that the Free Methodists have not departed from the teachings and practices of the Wesleyan doctrine. Their manner of preaching and going out into the fields to declare the gospel is exactly the same as in the days of Wesley. They believe in the most modest manner of dress, no grandness whatever. Jewellery or any costly array is not allowed in Free Methodism.

It is expected that there will be a large number of people come to Peterborough for the camp meetings. The Toronto district consists of five circuits Toronto, Armadale, Uxbridge, Belle Haven and Peterborough. The city mission was opened in this city about three years ago. There are only about twenty-five members here but under the pastorship of Rev. H. B. Luck, the congregation is steadily growing. An endeavor is being made to raise funds for the building of a new church.

Seven meetings are held daily, commencing at 6 o'clock in the morning. Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Tyrone, Penn., and Rev. John O'Regan, of Buffalo, N.Y., and others, with the ministers of the district, are expected to preach.

The visitors will live on the grounds. Great results are expected from the camp meeting.

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARD BAND CONCERT LAST NIGHT

The people fairly swarmed to Victoria Park last night to hear the opening concert this season of the the 57th Regimental band. The crowd that assembled was an unusually large one and the programme given was thoroughly appreciated. About thirty-five members of the band were out.

The park is at its best with neatly kept flower beds and well kept lawn and presents an attractive appearance. It will from every indication be as popular a resort on Friday evenings or even more popular than it has been in past seasons.

The offerings of the band last night were very pleasing and all the selections were executed with a correct understanding of the composers' idea. The numbers were for the most part of a popular or semi-popular character, and the kind that the public wants at an open concert on a summer's evening. Of the more whistleable ones, "Cherry" and "The Whistler and His Dog," were probably the most contagious, and the melodies were caught up at once and hummed or whistled by a large number in the audience.

The band gave a delightful rendition of the overture, "Zampa," and it afforded an excellent piece to show the ability in really exacting work of Bandmaster Gliddon's excellent body of musicians.

Bandsman Hughes played the cornet solo, "The Rosary," in a very sympathetic way, his tone being even and harmonious, and his technique excellent.

The programme given was;—

March—Flying Squadron.

Overture—Zampa.

Intermezzo—Cherry.

Paraphrase—My Old Kentucky Home.

Characteristic— Whistler and his dog.

Cornet Solo— The Rosary. —Bandsman Hughes.

Negro Oddity —Darkies' Revels

Descriptive —The Mill in the Black Forest.

Cakewalk— Creole Queen.

Descriptive —English Hunting Scene.

FOUR BOYS FINED $10 FOR STEALING GRAIN

Four boys, ranging in age from 11 to fifteen years, were each fined ten dollars to be paid in five days or two weeks in the county gaol, for stealing grain from cars along the G.T.R. siding. Mr. G. N. Gordon and Mr. F. D. Kerr appeared for the boys and in pleading for them asked for the leniency of the court on account of their youth. The offence had been committed, probably, unconsciously. They had yet a chance to prove themselves good citizens. To send them to gaol would likely make hardened criminals out of them and nothing would be gained.

His Worship in passing judgment, said that he was amazed at a boy of eleven being implicated in such a serious theft. These lads went to the car night after night carrying off grain, acting in a perfectly cool manner. Some of them had been in court on previous occasions for similar offences. The Magistrate did not wish to send the youths to gaol, but as the responsibility of their deeds largely rested upon the parents, he would impose a fine, giving the above judgment.

WENT WEST TOGETHER AND BOTH HAVE SUCCEEDED

Mr. R. V. Winch, of Vancouver, son of Mr. R. J. Winch, of this city, sailed from New York for London on Wednesday of this week. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter, and sailed on the steamship "Muritania."

Mr. Winch will spend two or three weeks in the Old Country on business and on his return will visit his parents here before proceeding to Vancouver. He is erecting a mammoth business block in Vancouver, where he has large interests. It is interesting to note that the architect, Mr. Winch has engaged for this building went west with him over twenty years ago. He was from Guelph and set out with Mr. Winch to seek their fortunes at the Pacific Coast. Both have been eminently successful.

ROPE BROKE AND TWO MEN DROPPED IN THE WATER

Two of the men employed painting the locks at the south end of the city had a rather exciting experience one day this week. They were sitting on a swinging scaffold above the water painting a section of the locks when the rope broke and they were precipitated into the canal. Paint cans and brushes accompanied them in their drop and the mix-up was a lively one. One of the men was able to swim ashore but the other one did not fare so well and had to be pulled out with a rope. The painters were not injured escaping with a cold bath.

CARUSO MUCH IMPRESSED WITH YOUNG ITALIAN GIRL'S VOICE

World's Greatest Tenor Heard Protege of Mr. John Ball, Formerly of This City, Sing in Buffalo—Will Have Her Study Under Italian Masters—Was Once a Street Singer

Miss Morgan a protege of Mr. John Ball of Buffalo and formerly of Peterborough, has come in for much distinction as a vocalist. She is a young Italian girl of about 15 or 16 years of age and has been given singing instruction by Mr. Ball for some time and has also appeared in public. She possesses a voice of unusual sweetness and compass and first came under Mr. Ball's notice when she was a street singer in Buffalo singing on the public thoroughfares for whatever she could make by passing around the tambourine.

When Caruso was in Buffalo a short time ago an Italian doctor who knew Mr. Ball and had heard the girl sing spoke of her to the great tenor. He sent for her that he might hear her sing and when he heard her, was much impressed with her voice and temperament.

He has made arrangements in collusion with some other gentlemen to have her sent to Italy in September to study under the masters of that country. Mr. Ball's numerous friends will tender him their congratulations on the success of his talented pupil, who might have still been an ordinary street singer had it not been for the fact that he realized the possibilities of his voice.

HAS MET THE AUTHOR OF "THE LION AND THE MOUSE"

Mr. George Ball Knew Charles Klein in New York Twenty Years Ago—How His Brother Alfred, Who Worked at Picton When a Boy, Made His Debut in the World of Amusement—Story is Interesting

In view of the appearance of "The Lion and the Mouse" here tonight, it might be of interest to note that at least one man in Peterboro has had the acquaintance of its author, Chas. Klein. That man is Mr. Geo. Ball, Peterboro's market clerk. It is a long while now — about twenty years —since Mr. Ball met Klein and it was in New York that he first knew him. Mr. Ball was a resident of New York at the time. Klein was a playwright but was pretty obscure and had not achieved any of the fame that "The Lion and the Mouse" and that celebrated piece "The Music Master," has brought him. Mr. Ball says he doesn't think Klein is a man who had great educational advantages when young, but he is naturally brilliant and has learned much by application and perseverance.

Mr. Ball's acquaintance with Chas. Klein was of a passing nature, however and he knew his brother Alfred much better. The latter is a comedian by profession and has been prominently associated with the widely-known laugh producer, De Wolf Hopper. There is some romance connected with his initiation into the amusement business.

The Kleins came out from England to Canada and were probably of Jewish stock originally.

Where the author of "The Lion and the Mouse" first located is not known to Mr. Ball, but his brother Alfred secured a position in Picton with a Methodist minister there. A circus came to town. All Methodist ministers do not look upon circuses in the most friendly way, but most boys do. The minister cautioned Alfred not to go to the circus but the elephants and acrobats proved too strong a magnet for the young fellow and the clergyman's ruling was given second place. But, after the circus was over Alfred was afraid to return home to face the minister's wrath and applied for a position with the show. He was taken on in a menial capacity, was later given a try-out as an entertainer and, making good, was put on as one of the performers in the concert after the "big show."

From the circus he drifted to the footlights and from then on followed a career on the stage. At one time he approached Mr. Ball's brother, who had a good business in New York, with a view of having the latter finance him from a managerial standpoint. But the latter thinking the show business was too uncertain, couldn't see it that way.

HADN'T BEEN IN THE CITY FOR TWENTY-FIVE YEARS

Although He Lived Only Twenty-Five Miles Away—Wanted to See the Lift Lock Before He Went Home Again

It is surprising the way some people stick to their native heath. Of course such a trait of character is very often commendable but in the case referred to below it is almost unique.

A Review representative was accosted by a man on Water St. yesterday who wanted to know how he could get to the lift lock. "It's the only thing of its kind in the world, I hear them say" he said. "and I want to have a look at it before I go home."

He was informed by the newspaper man that the lock at Peterboro was the largest of its kind in the world, although there were two or three others of similar construction on this mundane sphere.

The stranger said he was from Havelock and that he hadn't been in Peterboro for twenty-five years. He had heard a lot about the lift lock but had never been able to get up to Peterboro to see it.

"Say, I'd hardly know the place," he said. "There have been many changes since I was here last.

DEMAND FOR FARM HANDS EXCEEDS THE SUPPLY

"The demand for farm labourers far exceeds the supply," said Mr. G. H. Howson, the local immigrant agent to a Review representative to-day. This morning he had several applications for assistants, but only could fill four. There has not been such an influx of Englishmen to Canada this summer as last, accounting for the scarcity of labourers.

The wages being paid are excellent. The crops this season promise to be exceedingly bountiful, the present warm weather bringing them up wonderfully. It is expected that harvesting will be commenced early this year and then the demand for farm hands will be great.

LOCKED IN ROOM FOR TWO HOURS

Ex Ald. Duncan Locked Door of Room He Had Been Painting and His Son Could Not Get Out

Yesterday Mr. "Bob" Duncan, son of ex-Ald. George Duncan, was in an uncomfortable position for about two hours last night. He and his father were engaged in painting the Knights of Pythias rooms on Simcoe street, above the offices of the Canadian Dairyman. His father left at 6 o'clock locking the door and forgetting that his son was in the room. The latter was locked up from 6 to 8 o'clock, managing at that time to attract the attention of a man on the street below, who, luckily, had a key with him that opened the door. As it was six o'clock when the door was locked the staff of the Canadian Dairyman had gone.

BIG MEETING AT HAVELOCK

In the Interests of Mr. Thompson—Held Last Evening

A large and enthusiastic meeting in the interests of Mr. Thompson, the candidate for the Conservatives of East Peterborough was held last night in Havelock town hall. The building was crowded to the doors and much interest was manifested. The speakers were Messrs. J. W. Garvin and Thompson. Mr. R. F. McWilliams spoke in the Liberal interests.

MEETINGS FOR HARVEY FARMERS

Department of Agriculture Has Arranged for Two Towards End of Month

The Provincial Department of Agriculture has completed arrangements for holding special meetings for farmers and farmers' wives as follows—

Hall's Bridge school house, 2 p.m. and 7 p.m., on June 27th.

Lakehurst town hall, 2 and 7 p.m. on June 29th.

The speakers will be Dr. G. H. Reed, Georgetown, and Mrs. F. W. Watts, Clinton. Mrs. Watts will deal with subjects of particular interest to ladies.

At the early afternoon meetings live stock, either horses, cattle, sheep or pigs, will be used to demonstrate the lecture.

A separate session for ladies will be held at the first hour mentioned, at some place conveniently near the hall. At this special session, subjects will be taken up which are of interest not only to farmers' wives, but to all housekeepers, whether they live in the country or in the town. If so desired a Women's Institute will be formed for the purpose of giving those in the vicinity an opportunity to meet from month to month, or as often as may be thought best, to discuss topics which are of special interest to the home-makers.

Mr. Wm. Collins, secretary of the West Peterborough Farmers' Institute, has been active in securing these meetings for the farmers of Harvey.

Mr. Bradburn was the means of securing the Normal School for Peterborough. He is a good representative. What building did Mr. Stratton ever get for us?

Regina will have a new fire hall on Dewdney street.

Warsaw, June 5th.—The Warsaw football team went to Keene on May 25th and were defeated. On June 3rd the Keene team came to Warsaw and were defeated by the Warsaw kickers.

Mr. Clarke lectured in the Methodist church on "To and Fro in London." His lecture was well received and the public were well satisfied.

Mr. Alexander Kidd, of lot four, first concession of Douro, died on Thursday, June 4th, and was buried at Warsaw on Saturday. He leaves a wife and family.

Prospects were never better for a good harvest. Hay will likely be heavy and hay good.

Rain is now needed on high ground.

CHILDHOOD DANGERS

No symptom that indicates any of the ailments of childhood should be allowed to pass without prompt attention. The little ailment may soon become a serious one and perhaps a little life passes out. If Baby's Own Tablets are kept in the house minor troubles can be promptly cured and serious ailments thus averted. And the Tablets can be given with equal safety to the new born babe or the well grown child. Mrs. H. Gendron, Martinville, Que., says:—"I have used Baby's Own Tablets and have found them in every way satisfactory. I always feel safe when I have them at hand." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The claim of the Poirier family against the city of Montreal for "Fletcher's field," in Mount Royal park, has been dismissed.

WEAK MEN AND WOMEN

The Most Perfect Restorative Known and Invigorating Tonic Vitalizer —Greatest Health-Renewer

Nature's greatest cure for weak, pale men and women is Ferrozone. It is invaluable for run-down, overworked, delicate people, and will restore them to robust health more quickly, at smaller expense, than any other tonic you can select.

We quote the following cases to show what Ferrozone has done for others. In your case it will act just as efficiently:—

FOR BUSINESS MEN

The Experience of a Well-known Lawyer Proves Ferrozone an Ideal Tonic.

Mr. N. W. [illegible], a well known lawyer in [illegible], says:—"When I first took Ferrozone I was in a nervous run-down condition, almost sick enough to give up work. I lacked strength, and felt as if I could not get down to work. Ferrozone at once gave me a good appetite, and drove away the nervous, apprehensive feelings that formerly made my life miserable. As I continued the use of Ferrozone I grew stronger, and am glad to say it has brought me back to perfect health. I know that Ferrozone is an excellent tonic for business men and people inclined to a sedentary life. I can recommend it to such."

FOR NERVOUS WOMEN

Nothing Compares With the Nerve-Strengthening Power of Ferrozone.

Mrs. [illegible], of [illegible], says:—"I am glad to think that there is at least one honest remedy for nervous people. No one can imagine what I suffered with my nerves, and I sometimes wonder at the number of useless prescriptions and medicines I took. But Ferrozone acted differently from all the rest, it built up my system, and gradually the irritability left my nerves, and I got well. Ferrozone cured me by removing the cause of my trouble, and by giving me enough additional strength to overthrow the attack of nervousness. I can recommend Ferrozone strongly."

THOUSANDS ANNUALLY CURED BY FERROZONE

If you want to get well and keep well, by all means use Ferrozone. If you suffer from insomnia, nervousness, debility, loss of appetite, poor digestion, or any other symptom of disordered blood, nothing will tone up and vitalize your system like Ferrozone. Price 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50. Sold by all druggists, or sent safely by mail to any address if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

SPORTING NEWS

GREAT DISORGANIZATION IN PORT HOPE BALL TEAM

The Port Hope ball team is disorganized on a large scale. The nine that is playing the Athletics this afternoon is not the regular line-up. The casualties of the lake shore aggregation may be summed up as follows;—Bill O'Brien, the manager, has jumped the team and has gone to Massey, New Ontario; Jeffrey, the catcher, has returned to London, Ont.; Andrus, the other man on the receiving end of the battery, did not show up for the game to-day. He was wired at his home in Whitby to report there for the match to-day, but has not heeded the message, and as a result the team is without his services. O'Toole, the third baseman, is laid up in Toronto with blood poison, and the all-round depletion makes a great weakness in the ranks of the Hopers.

A general shake-up has been made to patch up the team, and this afternoon Wilson, the first baseman, is catching; Walters, the centre field, is playing first, and the other positions are being filled by Juniors.

The team will be strengthened, however, for the game with the Athletics in Port Hope next Saturday.

PETERBORO BOWLING TEAMS WINNERS OF BOTH GAMES

The Brookside Lawn was the scene of a very lively and exciting contest last evening, two rinks of Millbrook bankers playing two rinks of bankers from the local club, also one rink from the Millbrook Bowling Bowling Club playing a rink from the local Bowling Club. The scores are as follows;—

FORM III ARE THE CHAMPIONS OF THE INTER. FORM LEAGUE

The Collegiate Inter-Form League was brought to a close last night, when Form III defeated Form I. in the final game of the season. Since the Easter holidays baseball has been a favorite topic of the boys of the school, and much interest has been displayed by them in the 12 games which composed the schedule. Twice every week the grounds in the rear of the Collegiate presented a scene of wild enthusiasm as the boys of the different forms cheered their classmates on to victory. Mr. Kenner officiated as referee this year, and did so in his usual capable manner, showing that his baseball, as well as classical training, was not neglected in his youth.

Last night's game cinched the championship for Form III., who have not lost a game since the league opened. The feature of the game was the heavy hitting. Walker, of Form I. displaying his powers with the willow by tapping the ball through an open window on the 3rd story of the Central school and the old janitor was forced to (throw him out) at the plate. Both teams showed up well in the infield, but owing to the rather rough nature of the ground a few errors were credited to each side. Altogether the games were carried off with great success for the first year and if this league is kept up in the future it will do much towards making the boys lovers of good clean [illegible]

The teams lined up as follows;—

Form I.		Form III.
O'Brien	Pitcher	Lees
Crane	Catcher	Dobbin
Walker	1st base	Conroy
Hayes	2nd base	O'Brien
Leahy	3rd base	Wallace
Hetrick	Short-stop	Johnston
Hatton	Left Field	Ackerman
Bell	Centre Field	Anderson
Fessenden	Right Field	McGill

Strikes outs by O'Brien, 7; by Lees 8; bases on balls, by O'Brien, 5; by Lees, 8; 3 base hits, O'Brien; 2 base hits, Walker and Crane.

COBOURG LETS TURNER DRIFT

Has Released Pitcher and Signed Another From Rochester--First Baseman Also Goes

Cobourg has released Turner, the team's pitcher, and Whitstone, the first baseman, and has signed a crack pitcher from Rochester, and two other players from the Garden City.

They will have a strong line-up on to-day for the game with the Johnston nine and will make a mighty effort to land the laurels.

PETERBOROUGHS OFF ON A TOUR

The Peterboro baseball team left for Cobourg this morning and this afternoon meet the Cobourg nine in a Midland League Game. Monday the team plays at Belleville, at Frankford on Tuesday and at Wellington on Wednesday and will then return to Peterborough to rest up for Saturday's league game here against Cobourg. The following players left on the G. T. R. this morning: Burns, Clements, Edmunds, Lawson, Cheatham, O'Brien and Murphy. At Cobourg the team will be joined by Maddock, Thorne, and McDermott and the ten men will be carried during the tour. Maddock was called to Toronto on Thursday by the illness of his sister.

MATCH HAS BEEN DECLARED OFF

Bout Between Rogers and Hurtubise Arranged for June 10th Won't Take Place

The bout between Yankee Rogers and Gene Hurtubise has been declared off. Rogers was to throw Gene three times in an hour and the match was billed to take place at the Brock St. rink on June 10th.

As it is so soon since the last match took place and on account of the slackness in local industries it was thought the audience would not be as large a one as might be desired. And then there is the warm weather to take into consideration.

THE STAR PICKS FRED SIMPSON

Selected as Winner of the 25 Mile Marathon Event This Afternoon

The following is the selection made by the Toronto Star for the first ten men in the 25 mile Marathon this afternoon, Simpson being picked for first place.

Percy C. Sellen, I C A C, Toronto.

Gordon Wolfe, Dartmouth.

Alfred Sellers, West End YMCA, Toronto.

SIMPSON LEFT THIS MORNING

"Lion and the Mouse" "Grand" To-night.

BASEBALL

Wellingtons and Lakeviews, and Y. M.C.A. and Karnots meet this afternoon in City League games. The first game will be played at 2 and the second at 4.

In a church league game at the Central school grounds last night, St Andrew's defeated St. Luke's by a score of 6-2.

There should be a treat for local lovers of baseball when the fast Peterborough team clashes with the locals of this city on Monday afternoon next. The Belleville lads are in fair trim and expect to make a decent showing. They will be there with the goods when the league season opens on June 17.—Belleville Intelligencer.

MIDLAND LEAGUE

The standing of the teams in the Midland League is as follows;

	Won	Lost	Pc.
Peterboroughs	1	0	1000
Port Hope	1	1	.500
Cobourg	1	1	.500
Athletics	0	1	.000

PORT HOPE'S NEW MAN

Chateau Frontenac Scorched.

Quebec, June 6.—A fire was discovered in the Chateau Frontenac about 3 o'clock in the morning, in the wall of the second storey, supposed to be due to a defect in the electric wiring. The fire brigade were promptly on the spot, but owing to the solid structure of the building it took over an hour to reach the seat of the fire and extinguish it. Some of the guests were badly scared, and moved to other rooms, but there was no panic. The majority of the people in the house were not in danger.

The fire was at the head of the main stairway and the magnificent drawing rooms, the bedrooms and the offices are a wreck from the tons of water poured on. The damage by fire is nothing. The total damage is estimated at $10,000.

OCCASIONS WHEN ROYALTY HAS VISITED THE DOMINION

Approaching Visit of the Prince of Wales Has Aroused Much Interest—The Tour of 1901 is Recalled—Some Interesting Information

The approaching visit of the Prince of Wales to Quebec to participate in the celebration in honor of the tercentenary of the founding of that city and the nationalization of the Quebec battlefields, recalls the fact that visits to Canada of members of the royal family or their immediate relatives within the past hundred years or so, have not been so numerous as to reduce such events to the level of the commonplace.

At least two royalties who afterwards ascended the throne of Great Britain have been in Canada. King Edward as will be remembered by many Canadians, was in Montreal in 1860 while still the Prince of Wales. Over a century ago, Prince William afterwards King William IV visited Canada, when a naval lieutenant, at the time Captain —afterwards Lord Nelson of Trafalgar fame,— was out to this country as captain of the warships.

In May 1794, HRH. Prince Edward, afterwards Duke of Kent and father of Queen Victoria, arrived at Halifax, to take command of the forces in British North America. Previous to that he had been stationed at Quebec in command of a regiment and for some time lived at Montmorency, where Kent House still stands as a memorial to his residence there. During his command at Halifax a considerable portion of the famous citadel was constructed. On the shore of Bedford Basin portions of the building known as Prince's Lodge, still stand to mark the place where he lived.

NOTABLE DEMONSTRATION.

No doubt the arrival of royalty in Canada in those days was fittingly celebrated, but the demonstrations which are most indelibly fixed in the minds of the people living today are those which took place when the Prince of Wales came out in 1860, when the Princess Louise arrived with her husband, the Marquis of Lorne, in 1876, and more recently when the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, now the Prince and Princess of Wales, made the grand tour of Canada in 1901.

It has been no uncommon thing for the younger members of the royal families or close relatives, serving principally in the navy, to come out in warships of the North Atlantic squadron to Halifax, sometimes as midshipmen or as minor officers. The present Prince of Wales was sent out to Halifax as a midshipman and later sailed up the St. Lawrence as commander of the gunboat Thrush. He was given a royal welcome to the city at that time.

Prince Alfred, a brother of the present king, who was in the navy at the time the Marquis and Marchioness of Lorne came to Canada, was captain of H. M. S. Black Prince, which formed part of the naval escort and Prince Leopold, another brother of the King, who was in delicate health, came to Canada incog. to visit his sister the Princess Louise at Ottawa.

The Duke of Connaught is another brother of King Edward who has been in Canada several times. When Prince Arthur of Connaught he was a lieutenant in the first battalion rifle brigade under Lord Alexander Russell, and participated in the repulse of the Fenian Raid, 1870. In later years he visited Canada when Duke of Connaught and was accorded royal honors and more recently his son, Prince Arthur of Connaught, on his return from a royal mission to the Mikado of Japan, was accorded a warm reception in this city.

Prince Louis of Battenburg, an admiral of the British Navy and closely related to the Royal family, was among the more recent of the royal visitors and made himself popular with Canadians wherever he met them.

THE VISIT OF 1860.

In 1859 the Dominion Parliament invited Queen Victoria to Canada to lay the corner stone of the Parliament buildings at Ottawa, and officially open the Victoria bridge. She could not come, but the following year sent the Prince of Wales, then a young man in her stead. This was one of the greatest historical events as regards the participation of royalty in Canadian affairs that have ever taken place. £20,000 was appropriated by parliament for the entertainment of the Prince and his party. On the 21st of August he was received at Quebec by the Governor-General and both Houses of Parliament, headed by their speakers, Messrs. Narcisse F. Belleau and Henry Smith, both of whom were Knighted by His Royal Highness.

After two days' festivities at Quebec the royal party left for Montreal, arriving there on the 24th, but owing to a great rain storm the landing had to be postponed until the following morning. At nine o'clock he was received by all the local dignitaries and presented with addresses, after which a procession was formed, headed by a band of Caughnawaga Indians and escorted to the residence of Hon. John Rose, which had been fitted up for his temporary residence.

After opening the new industrial exhibition building the ceremony at the Victoria bridge took place and the future King not only laid a block of granite, but drove a silver spike at the central span of the bridge and was presented with a gold medal in commemoration of the event. A grand ball, a torchlight procession, and a grand military review on Logan's farm brought the festivities to a close. On September 1st he laid the corner stone of the Parliament buildings at Ottawa, which was attended by notable festivities and afterwards the prince visited different points in the country.

PRINCESS LOUISE

In 1878 Her Royal Highness Princess Louise Caroline Alberta, Duchess of Saxony, the fourth daughter of Queen Victoria, came to Canada with her husband, the Marquis of Lorne, now Duke of Argyle, when he was appointed Governor-General of the Dominion by Lord Beaconsfield's government. Many Canadians of middle life will remember the warmth of the reception given the princess and her husband by the people of Canada. They landed at Halifax in the summer of 1878 and there was a scene of great rejoicing. Prince Alfred, a brother of the present King, was at that time captain of the warship Black Prince, and accompanied the royal party across the Atlantic. He had previously visited Halifax as a midshipman, as many of the younger members of the Royal family had done previously and since. During her stay in Canada the princess endeared herself to the people and many were the regrets at her departure.

THE TOUR OF 1901.

The royal visit of recent years which will remain the most impressed on the public mind was the tour of the Prince and Princess of Wales, travelling as the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, in 1901. The original intention of the royal party was to visit Australia for the purpose of participating in the inauguration of the new commonwealth, as the federation of the various states of that country was called, but the idea of having the party return to England via Canada was enthusiastically taken up and a formal invitation having been extended, it was accepted.

Travelling in the stateship Ophir and accompanied by a flotilla of warships, the Duke and Duchess reached Quebec on September 16th, 1901, where they were received amidst evidences of great rejoicing by leading Canadians, military and civilian. After a couple of days' festivities there, the party came on to Montreal on the 18th, when the scenes were repeated even on a grander scale. In that city the royal couple visited a great many of the principal public institutions and received a great many loyal addresses.

After visiting Ottawa the journey across the continent to Victoria, BC, was commenced. During the long trip across country many novel and entertaining events were participated in, the Indian encampments furnishing no little interest to the occasion.

Victoria was reached on October 1, and the return trip was commenced after a short trip there, Vancouver being reached on the third. Toronto was reached on October 16th, Montreal on the 16th and Halifax on the 29th, from which port the party sailed for England, calling at St. John's, Newfoundland, on October 23rd

WILL BUILD SIDEWALKS BY GENERAL TAX

Havelock Council Rescinds Motion to Charge Frontage Tax—A Lengthy Session

A lengthy and interesting meeting of the village council was held in the council chamber on Monday evening of this week. Councillors Campney, Wood, Philips and Knox were present.

A motion put on the books in 1905 whereby cement sidewalks were to be built by frontage tax was rescinded and Havelock will now build its cement walk by general tax.

The following accounts were ordered to be paid.

Electric lights for may	$63 33
Municipal Works — postage	4 14
Jas. Catagack — work	75
K. McKay — suit for chief of police	30 00
Fred Hardy	3 00
Electric lights — April	63 33
Mrs. Plunkett — Payment on gravel pit	212 00
Mr. Gumphrits — tuning piano	2 00
Man, parcels—work	6 00
" "	2 00
School board—current expenses	300 00
Mr. Jas. Scott — assessor's salary	50 00
Mr. Scott — equalization of assessment	2 00
Jas. Brill — salary for May	40 00
Telegrams — per J. Knox	60

The equalization of assessment of S.S.M. 15 as awarded by Assessor J. Scott of Havelock, and Mann, of Belmont, providing that Havelock pay 95 and Belmont 5 per cent of school assessment was received by the council.

Mr. R. J. Graham addressed the council, asking that the cement walk on Ottawa St. be extended to his property, but the council decided to continue the work as before.

The school board requested the council to sell the debentures, so that they could get to work at the addition to the school, but their request was laid over until the meeting on June 15. An offer of $3,800 with accrued interest to date, amounting to $38[illegible]3, was received, but the council think they can get better terms than that.

The court of revision on the assessment roll of 1908 was also held, with Councillor Knox in the chair. The assessments of Messrs. Jno. Gibb, J. D. Foster and Wesley Stillman, who appealed, were all confirmed.

A number of names were added to the roll, others changed, etc., and the court adjourned until June 15, to give all those wishing to be on the voters' list a chance to put in their names.

HAVELOCK

(Special to the Review.)

Havelock.—A meeting in the interests of Mr. McNulty, Liberal candidate for the Provincial House for Provincial House for East Peterborough, was held in the town hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. George Young, of Havelock, occupied the chair. Besides Mr. McNulty there were two other speakers. After the chairman's speech, Mr. O'Connell, of Peterborough, addressed those that were there. He was followed by the candidate, Mr McNulty, who said that Mr. Thompson and he were good friends, and would likely always be so. He said it was between the two parties or leaders of parties that the electors should choose. He said he knew of good things Mr. Whitney and his party had done, for example, the arrangement where the Reeves and Deputy Reeves went to the County Council, but he thought there were some things that were not for the best. He closed by soliciting the vote of the electors. He was followed by Mr. J. R. Stratton, who spoke at some length on the grievance of the people during the Whitney Administration. He was glad to see so many ladies present, as he thought they should take an interest in election matters.

Nothing Did Good

Until She Tried "Fruit-a-tives"

Madame Rioux is the wife of M. Jos. Rioux, a wealthy manufacturer of lumber in St. Moise. Madame Rioux is greatly esteemed in her home town and her testimonial in favor of "Fruit-a-tives" carries conviction with it, as it is entirely unsolicited.

St. Moise, Quebec.

I have much pleasure in testifying to the marvelous good which I have received from the use of the famous tablets "Fruit-a-tives". I was a great sufferer for many years with serious liver disease and severe constipation. I had constant pain in the right side and in the back and these pains were severe and distressing. My digestion was very bad, with frequent headaches, and I became greatly run down in health. I took many kinds of liver pills and liver medicine without any benefit, and I was treated by several doctors but nothing did me any good, bloating continued. As soon as I began to take "Fruit-a-tives" I began to feel better, the dreadful pains in the right side and back were easier and when I had taken three boxes I was practically well. 150

PRICES LOWER AT TO-DAY'S MARKET

Today's market was largely attended, a great many vendors and buyers being present. The prices this morning were somewhat lower than have availed for some time. Butter sold at 24 and 25 cents per pound while eggs were 15 and 16 cents per dozen. Fowl was fairly plentiful. Turkeys ranged in price according to size from $1.35 to $2.50. Chickens were 90 cents to $1.20 per pair.

On the outside market potatoes sold at 85 cents per bag

PROVINCIAL ELECTIONS, 1908

To the Electors of the West Riding of the County of Peterborough:

GENTLEMEN,—As you are aware I have received the unanimous nomination in the Liberal interests to contest the Riding of West Peterborough for its representation in the Legislature of Ontario. I beg to respectfully solicit the votes and support of all those who desire good economical and efficient administration of our affairs. I am not bound down by any straight and fast lines, but will, if chosen as your representative, take the course which, in my best judgment will best promote the interests of West Peterborough, irrespective of party considerations, and of the Province generally.

The test of good representation, either by a Government or member, is good work and, in this respect, both the late member for West Peterborough and the Government he supports have fallen short of a faithful discharge of their trust and regard for the pledges upon which was founded the policy upon which they appealed to the people. Both the Conservative leader and Mr. Bradburn appealed for a cessation of the extravagant expenditure, which they condemned in the late Government, The result has been an increase of expenditure in three or four short years of sixty per cent., not a productive expenditure for the benefit of the people, but in the mere work of administration.

In this address I cannot enter into details of the manner in which the present Government has failed to live up to the policy upon which it appealed for office, but there has been a general disregard of the principles which they claimed to be guided by. They have failed in their trust and they evidently feel that they have done so, for fearing to trust to their record, they have resorted to a "gerrymander" of the constituencies, inconsistent with fair redistribution and especial unfairness has been done in the city of Toronto by doubling its representation and giving each elector two votes, thus giving the city voter double the power in the government of the province accorded to electors in the country constituencies.

The interests of the farmers have been ignored to the extent that the expenditure for agriculture has been increased only some eight per cent, while the general increase to less worthy interests has been sixty per cent.

Disregard of the rights of labour was shown by the Government reviving the contract system of prison labour abolished by a Liberal Government, and farming out to contractors Central Prison labour at 3½ cents per hour to compete against free labour.

The introduction of the "spoils system" the failure to remove license administration from the sphere of political influence, the three-fifths handicap to local option, the invasion of the rights of rural trustees by depriving them of the right of saying how they shall spend their own money, the friendliness to corporation interests, the disregard of private rights and discouragement of private enterprise in the matter of mining claims, neglect of law reforms with a view of making our law courts available for securing justice within the means of a poor man, and the delay and inaction in the matter of dealing with the power problem are but items in a long list of matters in which the present Government have forfeited their claim to the support of the people.

If elected I shall devote my best efforts to the advancement of the interests of the city in every direction and shall not overlook its most important interests, the allied welfare of our workingmen and our manufacturing industries; and will also do all in my power to advance the great farming and dairying interests which are the foundation of our prosperity, giving fair play at the same time to every provincial interest and to political friend and political opponent alike.

Trusting that I may be favored with your support and influence and vote, I remain, Gentlemen,

Very sincerely yours,

G A. GILLESPIE

BUSINESS HAS CHANGED HANDS

Victoria B. C. Man Has Purchased Business of Tate Optical Company

The Tate Optical Company's business has been purchased by Mr. M H Taylor of Victoria, BC. who assumes charge today. At Victoria he was manager of what is probably the largest optical business in Canada, that of Challoner and Mitchell. He is a graduate of the Canadian Opthalmic College, Montreal, and also took a special course with Dr. Buller, the eminent specialist on the eye, and late of Montreal. In Mr. Taylor's hands the business will be well taken care of and his skill will be at the service of the public. The business will be continued at the old stand, No. 412 1-2 George strete.

The Ingredients of Zutoo

One ingredient is soda—just old-fashioned soda, that our grandmothers took to settle the stomach, and there is nothing better.

Among the other ingredients there is not one that did not come from old Mother Earth herself.

There is not one that is not approved by both the British and American Pharmacopœias,—the highest medical authorities in the world.

There is not one that your family physician, even if a personal friend, would not approve of and prescribe.

If you are using some other headache remedy, why do you not change and use Zutoo instead?

It will cure your headaches and colds just as quickly and safeguard you against the bad after effects which may some day come from using the ordinary remedies. Zutoo tablets

Are Harmless as Soda.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

THE POLL TAX

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Don't forget to let the boys know that they have not got to pay poll-tax or any other tax in order to be able to vote. Give it to him.

Yours, etc.,
LEX.

WHY DID HE DO IT?

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I am not in favor of politics in municipal affairs, but I hope W. J. Green will receive what's coming to him for that scurvy attempt to scare the registered vote. We have 1,300 to their 100 registered voters and they know it. It is a desperate attempt to coerce wholesale. No payment of any tax needed to permit of voting. Just go and vote boys. They can't hurt you.

Yours, etc.,
ELECTOR.

MR. GREEN'S STATEMENT

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—With regard to my letter of recent date, which appeared in the Examiner post card column in answer to correspondent, I must inform you and your readers that Mr. Stratton did not know of such a letter. Moreover I have never exchanged words with Mr. Stratton on the present election in any form and therefore you cannot connect him with my letter in any way.

Yours Respectfully,
W. J. GREEN,
City Tax Collector,

FROM A FRIEND

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I enclose a few corkers for the last day.

Ho! you Grit heelers of West Peterborough
Quoth the raven, never more;
What need to call conventions
When the work is done before.

The candidates are chosen
By our Rip Van Winkle friend.

WRONG AGAIN

Editor of the Review

Dear Sir,—The Examiner prints an interesting account of a dialogue that took place in the Immigration Office between a farmer philanthropist from Dummer and an English man. This account appeared on Wednesday evening, but as is usual with the Examiner, the truth is conspicuous by its absence. What took place is this:

Farmer to Immigrant Officer — I want a man.

I. O.—I have one here (calls up the Englishman.)

Farmer to Englishman—Have you a trade.

Ans.—No.

F.—Ever worked on a farm.

Ans.—No.

F.—Well, I'll give you seven dollars a month.

Englishman—No you won't, governor.

Immigration Officer to farmer — Why not give him $10 a month.

Farmer—I would not mind giving ten dollars to a man of experience, but it takes two years to learn to milk. I have not much work to be done, just a little raking. I really don't want a man till harvest time to help a little.

The Englishman smiled, lighted a cigarette and said, Negotiations are off.

The Examiner contends the Englishman lost a good job. Did he? I will leave you, Mr. Editor, and the public to judge.

Thanking you for your space, I remain,

Yours, etc.,
The Immigrant.

THAT C.G.E. AFFAIR

Editor of the Review

Sir,—I see by the local Grit sheet that J. R. Stratton still denies that he is responsible for the interference with the employees of the Canadian General Electric Company who are active in the interests of Mr. Bradburn, the Conservative candidate.

Now Sir, what did take place was that a letter was sent to the general manager of the C.G.E. Company at Toronto, presumably from the secretary of the Liberal Association in Peterborough in which certain Conservatives workers were charged with the crime of devoting the Company's time to politics and were canvassing and threatening the men under them with dismissal if they did not vote for the Conservative candidate. A greater lie was never uttered by any man than that contained in the said letter and I challenge Mr. Stratton or any of his hirelings to bring forward one man who can on his oath say that he was ever in anyway interfered with or that any man in a position of responsibility ever so far forgot himself as to even attempt such a thing, but I wish to say here that the gentlemen can find lots of the Grit heelers running around even now in the interests of his pet candidate and not a word said about it. The Hon. gentleman may deny that he ever wrote the letter but if he did not he certainly inspired the same as it is reported that the Liberal Association denies that they had anything to do with it and I cite G. M. Rogers as the authority for the statement.

ALIVE AND FROZEN TO DEAD WAS SHIPWRECKED SAILOR

Was Attached to Corpses of Shipmates—Two Weeks Imprisoned in Congealed Water—Nine of the Schooner's Crew Perished.

New York, June 8.—According to a report received here yesterday by Supt. Lyman Bundy of the maritime exchange from Victoria, B.C., "Steamboat Pete," a survivor of the schooner John F. Miller, which was wrecked in Alaskan waters, was found alive in the centre of an ice cake two weeks after the disaster. He was frozen to the bodies of two of his shipmates.

Pete is now at Northwestern Harbor and has recovered, but he will be a cripple all his life.

The original report was that Pete was found frozen to the dead men on the wreck, but it turns out that the survivor and the bodies were found ashore in a cake of ice.

When the rescuing party came across the piece of ice they cut it open with an axe out of curiosity, not suspecting what they would find.

The Miller, commanded by Captain Kelton, sailed from San Francisco with thirty-one men for the fishing station at Pirate Cove. While trying to assist the schooner Glen, which was ashore, the Miller was hit by a howling northeast and struck in Bear Harbor, Unimak Island, Alaska.

That was on Jan. 8. The temperature was 10 degrees below zero, and an hour after the vessel was cast ashore her hull was broke in two. The after section drifted ashore, and nineteen of twenty-one men on that part of the hulk reached land after a terrible experience. Two were drowned. The forward section of the vessel, holding eight men, drifted seaward, and with the exception of the man who was afterward found alive in the cake of ice, none of the men on it escaped. Neither was that portion of the hull seen again.

The codfishing schooner Ivy had put some men ashore on Unimak Island to get bait, when two members of her crew ran across the piece of ice, containing the living and the dead. Steamboat Pete was frozen face to face to another sailor, while a dead negro sailor was frozen to the back of "Steamboat Pete."

One of the sailors of the Ivy poured the contents of a flask of whisky down Pete's throat and the two got him aboard the Ivy as quickly as possible.

EVIDENCE OF FOUL MURDER

Body of Young Printer Found With Neck Broken.

London, June 8.—J. H. Roberts, a young Montreal printer, was found dead in a field east of the city yesterday.

His feet were found entangled in a barb wire fence and his neck broken.

His pockets were turned inside out, and the police are inclined to suspect murder with robbery as the motive.

A handkerchief was resting over the face, as though placed there by some one.

Roberts came to the city from Palmerston last week looking for work at his trade. He was not a union man and was unable to get employment.

An uncle with whom he was stopping advanced him money and he got a union card, and he was to go to work to-day.

Coroner Ferguson will order an inquest.

Douma Cuts Naval Budget.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Douma rejected the estimates for the construction of four battleships.

It was voted, however, to grant $36,500,000 for the purpose instead of the $43,500,000 asked for in the budget.

Wanted on Serious Charge.

Macleod, Alta., June 8.—J. Phillips, a rancher near here, is wanted for causing the death of Fannie Clifton, a 17-year-old girl, whom he was intimate with.

Despondent's Wife Dead.

London, June 8.—Mrs. William Stanton of Hamilton road entered McCallum's drug store on Saturday evening and purchased 10 cents worth of laudanum. She placed the bottle to her lips, but before she could swallow more than a few drops the clerk knocked the phial from her hands. Prompt work at the hospital saved her life.

The woman had been down town with her husband on Saturday and left him on the street, telling him to wait for her. He says his wife has been despondent for some time.

Drowning at Mitchell.

Mitchell, June 8.—Thomas Hall, 20 years of age, was drowned yesterday in the pond while in bathing. He had gone across the pond and was swimming back when taken with cramps. A large number of men and boys worked hard all afternoon, but it was seven o'clock before the body was found. The water was about nine or ten feet deep. The young man came to Mitchell from Bright a few months ago.

Body of Wealthy Miller.

Ogdensburg, June 8.—A body found in the St. Lawrence river, 30 miles below Ogdensburg Saturday, was identified yesterday as that of Henry Rodee, a wealthy flour miller of Ogdensburg, who mysteriously disappeared in March, 1903. Rodee is thought to have committed suicide because of ill-health.

Suddenly Disappeared.

Winnipeg, June 8.—Edward Messeire of St. Boniface was drowned in the Seine river on Saturday. With two other companions he was in bathing and disappeared suddenly.

Not a Romantic Mystery.

Paris, June 8.—Chief of Detectives Hamard yesterday voiced his protests against the attempts of the Paris press to make a romantic mystery out of the murder last Sunday by persons unknown of Artist Steinheil and his mother-in-law, Madame Japy.

He is particularly vehement against what he calls the odious insinuation that the widow of the dead artist could have the slightest interest in the horrible crime.

Boys Fined For Theft.

Peterboro, June 8.—Four boys who pleaded guilty to stealing a quantity of wheat from the Grand Trunk Railway, appeared before Magistrate Dumble at the Police Court Saturday for sentence, and were fined $10, to be paid in five days or in default of payment 14 days in jail.

PLUMBING TRADE IS ALSO SLACK

Mr. Murray Miller Returns to the City From Toronto--Is Conducting Bycycle Shop

Mr. Murray Miller has returned to the city after an absence of two years coming here from Toronto. Mr. Miller, is a plumber by trade, but says there is very little doing in that line in Toronto, the plumbing trade having suffered in common with the general industrial profession.

He has taken charge of the bicycle repair and sales shop at Queen and Hunter streets, the business there being formerly carried on by Mr. T. J. Parker.

CHARGE WAS NOT PROVEN

Local Hotel Man Charged With Selling Liquor to Indians This Morning

A local hotel keeper appeared in the police court this morning charged with selling liquor to two Rice Lake Indians. He pleaded not guilty and after the evidence of the several witnesses had been heard, His Worship P. M. Dumble, held that the case had not been proved and the accused was discharged.

Mr. Jas. Haverson, K. C., Toronto, appeared for the defence and Chief Rougel prosecuted.

CHEF COOLEY PLANS DEATH

Buys Black Suit, Provides for Funeral Expenses

San Francisco, June 8—After spending several days making preparations for death which he decided should occur on June 8 when he would commit suicide, Martin J. Radovich, a chef, was found dead in bed Saturday with a rubber tube attached to the gas jet gripped firmly between his teeth.

Radovich had bought a new black suit, a white shirt and a collar and tie to be buried in and these were found carefully laid upon a trunk in his room. He coolly penned directions for his funeral and left them where they could not be overlooked. In an envelope he left $135 to defray the expense of his funeral, and in another he enclosed a note, telling the coroner he was too old to live longer. In his notebook this note was found;

"When a man is 54 years old and has to hustle for a job, life is not worth living."

A second note requested that his body be interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery and that three of the persons who lived in the house at Roudel Place, where he took his life, attend his funeral.

TAILING LOOSE LOGS IN LAKE

Several of the men employed by by the Cavendish Lumber Company are tailing the loose logs of the company in Little Lake. Mr. Loomis, of Toronto, who is interested in the company, was in the city on Saturday transacting business concerning the disposal of the logs.

MARRIED

TOO POPULAR IS THIS GENERAL

And it is a Difficult Task to Punish Him.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—The Rossia, the organ of Premier Stolypin, publishes an article directed against Col. Dumbadze, commandant of the garrison at Yalta, whose treatment of the Liberal population has made him the idol of the reactionary organizations.

Col. Dumbadze has in the course of his administration in Yalta imposed many picturesque but wholly illegal punishments. The central authorities desire to punish him, but they find the greatest difficulty on account of his popularity and his independent position.

The colonel's action will form the basis of an interpellation in the Douma.

TORNADO KILLS TWENTY SEVERAL TOWNS DAMAGED

Worst in Many Years—School and Thirty Houses Wrecked—Two Churches Destroyed—Loss at Fairfield Exceeds $100,000.

Omaha, Neb., June 8.—The tornado which passed over Southern Nebraska and portions of Northern Kansas on Friday evening was the most destructive and covered the most territory of any similar storm which has visited that region in many years. At least twenty-one persons were killed, several were fatally injured and others were hurt. In addition, reports say that several persons were killed at Byron, Neb., and Phillipsburg and Courtland, Kas., which towns have been cut off from communication.

The storm was general throughout Fillmore, Webster, Franklin and Thayer counties, Nebraka, and reached over into Kansas, where reports are coming in slowly of great destruction.

The towns of Carleton, Fairfield, Desplaer, Shickley, Geneva, Franklin, Byron and Riverton, Neb., are among those visited by the storm.

At Carleton five residences and two churches were destroyed, while a new school building and thirty houses were partly wrecked.

At Geneva the storm wrought great destruction, and in the adjacent county claimed several victims, dead or injured.

At Fairfield more than forty buildings were partly wrecked or demolished. The loss there will exceed $100,000.

Trains in all directions are abandoned because of wash-outs and destroyed roadbeds.

The storm has covered such a wide area and been so destructive that hundreds of farmers drove into the towns seeking shelter, many of them being homeless. Telephone communications was established with Chester. The postmaster reported ten deaths near Byron, but he could give little definite information.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

A Vancouver despatch says work will shortly start up in the Britannia Mines.

Mackenzie King will visit Chinatown at Vancouver before returning to Ottawa. He will make enquiries of the opium traffic.

Fire destroyed the residence of Joseph Tebworth on St. Charles street, near Albert College, Belleville, yesterday. Loss $1,000.

Henry Healey fell 30 feet off a scaffold at Kingston Locomotive Works and received terrible injuries. He is a son of Conductor Tom Healey.

John Anderson, the bigamist, whose wife and children live in Toronto, and who was arrested and pleaded guilty before Police Magistrate Eady last week, was sentenced at Renfrew on Saturday to seven years in Kingston penitentiary.

Admirals at Loggerheads.

London, June 8.—It is not generally known that there has been a sequel to the incident between Admiral Lord Charles Beresford and Sir Percy Scott when the former asked the Admiralty to haul down Sir Percy's flag, which would mean ruin to the latter's career.

The Admiralty declined to accede to Lord Charles' request, whereupon the admiral ordered Sir Percy to communicate with him in future in writing only.

It is stated now that it is a question in regard to the efficiency of the fleet under Lord Charles Beresford's command as to how much longer this state of affairs will be allowed to continue.

Anarchy in Persia.

St. Petersburg, June 8.—Despatches from Teheran say that as soon as the news of the Shah's flight became known the bazaars and shops were closed and the streets were deserted. The palace guard, joined by many fanatics, fired on the inhabitants, crying, "Death to the Nationalist!"

Several persons were maltreated. A state of anarchy prevails at Tabriz, which next to Teheran is the largest city in Persia. The governor is powerless as the troops deserted en masse.

Hitchcock Stays in Tombs.

New York, June 8.—Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, who was committed to the Tombs prison without bail at the adjournment Friday of his trial on the charge of attempted assault on a 17-year-old girl, will probably have to remain in prison during his trial. Counsel for Hitchcock made an effort Saturday to secure the consent of the district attorney to have the comedian released on bail, without avail.

Steamer on the Rocks.

Dalhousie, N.B., June 8.—The interprovincial steamer Lady Eileen, running between this port and Gaspe, Quebec, became a total wreck on Saturday night when she struck Newport Island, at the entrance to Newport, and sank.

The crew and passengers were saved. The wind was blowing a gale and as the vessel was trying to make harbor she blew against the rocks and great holes were torn in the bottom and sides, which caused her to fill immediately.

She had a full cargo of freight for Gaspe merchants. The Lady Eileen cost $160,000.

BIG LOSS OF LUMBER IN B.C.

Flood Sets 9,000,000 Feet of Timber on the Rampage.

Nelson, B.C., June 8.—Word has reached the city that, owing to the bursting of the boom of the Patrick Lumber Co., on the Slocan river, some 9,000,000 feet of timber went out and down the river. The loss is said to be about $60,000. The dam remained intact, and is in as good shape as ever.

The boom was situated about four miles from the junction of the Slocan and Kootenay rivers, and about 12 miles from the Columbia river.

There are several mills on the Columbia river, and it is hoped that their booms will catch most of the logs as they go down towards the ocean. High water at the flood stage caused the trouble.

WERE KILLED BY DETECTIVES

Two Men Shot in Revolver Battle Between Police and Bandits.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 8.—Two men shot, one fatally, three under arrest and two escaped, are the results of a desperate battle fought by detectives and a band of alleged bandits who were surrounded in a farm house at Battle Bridge, about 20 miles east of here, Saturday.

Thomas Manning, 23 years old, a member of the band, was shot four times by Detective Englert, and will die. Manning shot Englert twice, seriously but not fatally injuring him. The men under arrest are Joseph Patterson and his two sons, John and Wilmer. The two men who escaped are unknown.

All the men are alleged to be implicated in the robbery of the Monongahela Consolidated Coal & Coke Co.'s general store at Boston, a mining town, last Thursday morning. It is also alleged they were implicated in the hold-up and robbery of a street car several weeks ago, when eleven passengers and the crew were robbed at the point of a revolver.

Seized With Cramps.

Windsor, June 8.—Chas. Fisher, 22 years old, was drowned at Sandwich Saturday. He went in bathing with two companions, and the latter must have been only a few feet away when Fisher sank. If he made an outcry it was not heard, and the presumption is that he was seized with cramps. The deceased was an English immigrant, who came out here about a year ago.

Was Determined to Die.

St. John, N. B., June 8.—Thomas Edwards, an inmate of the provincial asylum, jumped 70 feet over a cliff at the rear of the institution into the whirling pools ten yards below the reversible falls of the St. John river late Saturday night.

He was rescued by fishermen. Edwards was terribly injured and may die. He has been insane six months, and has tried suicide three times.

Creek's Awful Sweep.

Enid, Okla., June 8.—Following six hours' rainfall, Boggy Creek, running through the city, widened from 20 feet to 2,000 feet, flooding almost the whole of Enid, carrying away fifty houses, flooding stores and endangering lives.

Water is 12 feet deep in the main stream, covering ten blocks of the business centre.

Unrest in India Grows.

Boston, June 8.—Reports of unrest in India brought by returning missionaries were augmented yesterday by information that quantities of bombs were found in Punjab, India, just before the departure for this country of Rev. S. R. Vinton, a missionary of the American Baptist Missionary Union, who arrived here yesterday.

The Punjab country, said Mr. Vinton, is flooded with anarchistic literature and there is general dissatisfaction with existing conditions.

Farmer Killed by Road Roller.

Brampton, June 8.—Abraham Snyder, a farmer, was killed by being run over by a land roller Saturday afternoon. He was 78 years of age.

WILL SETTLE AT THE CAPITAL

Increase of Cent an Hour---Union Not Re-organized.

Ottawa, June 8.—The Board of Conciliation dealing with matters in dispute between employes of the Ottawa Electric Railway and the company, on Saturday effected a settlement satisfactory to all concerned.

The company gives an increase of one cent an hour all round and makes certain concessions as to uniform. The men demanded a raise of 4 1-2 cents an hour, and other things, but at the outset the board regarded this as somewhat extravagant. The company undertakes to meet and treat with a committee of its employes on grievances or disputes which may arise, but in the new agreement there is no mention of the union or of its being recognized.

The text of the new agreement and the schedule of wages in effect June 1, is as follows: First year's service 18 1-2 cents per hour, for week days, 20 1-2 cents per hour for Sundays; second year's service 19 1-2 cents per hour for week days, 21 1-2 cents per hour for Sundays; third year's service 20 1-2 cents per hour for week days, 22 1-2 cents per hour for Sundays. Ten hours constitute a day's work.

DIDN'T GET TAG FOR HIS DOG

Ben LeBar Fined $2 With Costs or $4.60 Altogether---Said Dog Wasn't Really His

Ben LeBar pleaded guilty to having neglected to secure a tag for his dog. He said the dog was really not his, but had been staying around his place. He was fined $2 and costs $4.60, altogether.

"You've had lots of time to get a tag," said his Worship in imposing the fine.

WEDDING BELLS

KAMPF—WARAM

The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Waram, 267 Sherbrook st., was the scene of a very quiet wedding at eleven o'clock this morning, when their only daughter, Mabel Jory, was married to Dr. Ernest John Kampf, son of John Kampf, Esq., of Fort Wayne, Indiana. Only the immediate friends of the family were present and there were no attendants. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Thos. Dodds, of Oil Springs, Pa., who is supplying at St. Andrew's church in the absence of Rev. J. G. Potter. After the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Kampf left by G.T.R. for Buffalo, down the Hudson to New York, Cleveland and Fort Wayne, where they will be the guests of the groom's family before going to Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Kampf was formerly a resident of this city for a short time and has many friends here who will extend all good wishes to him and his bride. He is now practising at Kansas City, Missouri.

CYCLING TO BE REVIVED AT THE COAST

Racing End of the Game is to be Brought Back to Life---Amatuerism to Prevail

Vancouver, June 6th, — Bicycle racing, after lying dormant for nearly half a decade, is to be revived again. Not only is the racing end of the game to be brought back to life, fostered under proper control, and kept strictly amateur, but the touring as well as the social side of the game that once amounted to a popular craze, is to be looked after in an energetic manner. All this is in accordance to plans which have been quietly formulated for some time by well known cycling enthusiasts who have never allowed their interest in the sport to die out entirely.

A meeting of local wheelmen and and all interested in the sport has been called for next Friday evening in the lesser O'Brien hall, when the question of forming a bicycle club will be discussed, and also the chances of holding a meet in connection with the Dominion Day celebration will be debated. As the matter has been pretty well canvassed among all the former cycling enthusiasts and several small meetings of the leaders in the movement have already been held a large attendance is looked for on Friday evening.

Among the promoters of the new club it is intended that it shall control all bicycle racing in British Co. The time is considered ripe for the revival of cycling and cycle riding again, as in the east as well as far west as Salt Lake City, the wheel has suddenly jumped into popularity again, and while not perhaps such a craze as in 1895-6-7, still there are more riders and the sport bids fair to acquire a permanent basis.

Local bicycle dealers, too, are naturally heartily in favor of the movement to establish bicycling as a popular sport again and it is understood that while they will not figure in the actual contest, they will give it hearty financial support until the game gets on a firm footing.

BALLOTS FOR $2 EACH ARE SAID TO HAVE BEEN OFFERED

Poll Clerk "Coaxes" Them and Tries to Make Bargain—Alleged Attempt to Discredit Conservative Party in Hamilton—Both Officials Dismissed.

Hamilton, June 8.—What looks to the Conservative executive like a big conspiracy and a well-planned attempt to throw discredit on Hon. John Hendrie and the Conservative party, was unearthed last evening.

The moment the matter was reported to Col. Hendrie, who is the Conservative candidate in West Hamilton, he immediately sat down and requested the returning officer, Col. A. H. Moore, to lay an information against everybody implicated.

The men implicated by Col. Moore are W. Lawson, 129 North Hughson street, a deputy returning officer; Harry Dillabaugh, a poll clerk, 27 Gore street, and William McLaughlin, Liberal chairman of ward five.

Saturday night he was informed by the police that William McLaughlin, Liberal chairman of ward five, had reported to him that Dillabaugh, one of the poll clerks, had shown him a package containing 50 ballots, and offered to sell them to him for $100. McLaughlin made arrangements to meet Dillabaugh yesterday morning at 11 o'clock in a North James street store, pretending as his story runs, that he wished to close the deal.

Col. Moore, with Detective Coulter, went to the place of meeting, but Dillabaugh did not turn up. The colonel and the detective then called at Dillabaugh's house.

After some conversation, Dillabaugh admitted to the colonel that he had shown a package of 50 ballots to McLaughlin, his explanation being [illegible] wished "to bluff the enemy."

He insisted that he had no intention of selling the ballots, and pointed out that they would be useless to anyone since they were not initialed by the deputy returning officer.

The colonel and detective then called upon Lawson, who admitted to them that he had given Dillabaugh a package of ballots.

Asked for a reason, he said that Dillabaugh had coaxed him for them, saying that he wished "to have some fun with the Grits."

Col. Moore dismissed both officials and reported the occurrence to Crown Attorney Washington at once.

When seen last evening Col. Moore declared that he had promptly taken steps to see that all the ballots were returned. He satisfied himself that every ballot given out was carefully locked up in the deputy returning officer's boxes.

That Lawson should be mixed up in anything of the kind is a surprise to all who know him. He was regarded as a most careful and competent man, having served for years in the municipal elections.

The whole affair is looked on as a conspiracy to try and throw discredit upon the party and Col. Hendrie did not lose a moment in asking that the law be set in motion against all concerned.

Last evening Col. Moore laid, in writing, all the details before the crown attorney. If action is not taken by him at once, the officers of the Conservative executive say they will lay information the first thing to-day.

PLUMES ON THE SUMMER HATS

Will Blend With the Quaint, Softly-Posied Old World Muslins

The fashions this year from every point of view, are more than usually dainty and delightful. The quaint, old-world muslins, printed with trail-garlands of flowers in gay coloring on an ivory-white ground, made up over palest pink or green soft satin, and bound at the waist with a sash of floral shine ribbon, make many a pretty picture, more especially when they are seen in the company of flower-laden Leghorn hats, with wide, shady brims, garlanded with roses to match in tint the flowers which are patterned on the muslin, or possibly a big bow of black lace silk placed under the brim at the back, and finished with sash ends drooping over the shoulders.

Certain other chapeaux show very flat crowns and downward bending brims, also lavishly trimmed with flowers of various kinds and in mixed colorings, long trails of shaded convolvuli in palest tones of pink, mauve and blue being among the blossoms most favored by Dame Fashion at the moment. Very dainty, too, for summer wear, and delightfully cool into the bargain, are the picture hats with wide brims in crinoline or paille de riz, and large soft crowns of net or lace, supported by a light framework of wire, not visible to the naked eye. These Lamballe crowns, as they are called, are sometimes finished next the brim with a wreath of roses and forget-me-nots, and sometimes quite simply tied around with a soft silk ribbon in some bright color, or a drapery of gold or silver galon, finished with a smart little bow in front.

Long and lovely ostrich plumes still lead the way as the favorite form of decoration for hats which are destined to be worn on smart occasions and there are rumors already of many exquisite chapeaux, which are being specially prepared for occasions covered almost entirely with these beautiful feathers.

And, after all, there are few, if any, backgrounds more becoming to a pretty face than a mass of ostrich plumes cleverly contrived, as, for instance, in the case of a lovely hat where one of those magnificent feathers known as an "Amazon," plume was used.

In the case of this particular chapeau, the scheme of dainty coloring adds not a little to its special charm. The hat itself is of fine rice straw of two different tints. On the outer side the color is a delicate tone of pale ecru, while under the brim it takes the burnt straw shade. Two large La France roses are placed in front of the crown, and then in charming contrast with their soft shade of pink we have the lovely colorings of the long ostrich feather which is chosen in that exquisite shade of sea-holly blue, with which Madame La Mode seems to be very justifiably infatuated at the moment.

SEA HOLLY BLUE.

One may well hope, too, that the infatuation may continue, at all events, all through the summer, since this beautiful shade, which is something softer than forget-me-nots and yet more pronounced than the gray-blue of the paler kind of hyacinth, is a color which seems entirely in accord with the present enthusiasm for picturesque modes. It is a shade, moreover, which is not only becoming in itself and a delight to the eye, but which also blends most amiably with the pale tapestry tones of vieux rose, leaf-green, and delicate heliotrope.

Next in favor after the long ostrich feathers come the always lovely birds of Paradise, either in their natural shades or pale cream, deep orange and tawny yellow, or more probably dyed in all the colors of the rainbow, not on one and the same hat, needless to say, but sometimes in one color and sometimes in another, carefully chosen to match the dominant note in the rest of the toilette.

WOMAN JUMPS FROM A BRIDGE

Tragic Death of a Widow at Galt Saturday.

Galt, June 8.—Mrs. Salem Armstrong, widow, aged about 48 years, eldest daughter of Thomas Patterson, ex-assessor and collector for the town, committed suicide Saturday by jumping from the Canadian Pacific Railway bridge into the Grand river, a distance of about 70 or 80 feet, at a point in the river where the water is about 20 feet deep.

She was noticed acting strangely in the vicinity of the bridge, and shortly afterwards walked deliberately out on it and jumped off. Efforts were made at rescue by men in canoes, but were unavailing. The body was recovered about 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Armstrong, who has lived with her father on Lansdowne avenue since the death of her husband, the late Salem Armstrong of Tillsonburg, and leaves a son and daughter, aged, respectively, 16 and 14 years.

No reason for her suicide is known.

Still Remember Sir John.

Kingston, June 8.—Saturday afternoon a memorial service was held at Cataraqui cemetery in memory of the seventeenth anniversary of the death of the late Conservative leader, Sir John A. Macdonald.

A great many beautiful floral tokens were placed on the grave, including a wreath from the local Conservative Association. A large number of prominent citizens attended, speeches being given by W. F. Nickle, K.C.; Mayor Ross, Donald McIntyre, K.C.; J. H. Metcalfe, Francis King, George Smythe, Dr. Edwards and Ald Angrove.

Machine Shops Burnt Out.

Victoria, B.C., June 8.—The three machine shops of the Victoria Machinery Depot Co., Limited, were totally destroyed Saturday evening by a fire which broke out at 8 o'clock, doing $180,000 damage and throwing 150 men out of work. The insurance amounted to $30,000.

The fire was caused, it was thought, by the flare from the moulding-room. Usually it is the custom to send men out to watch the sparks from this source, but when the last cast was made the precaution was omitted.

Manchester, the Really Good.

London, June 8.—(C.A.P.)—A sensation has been caused by the Manchester watch committee refusing to allow Maud Allan to dance in Manchester.

Manchesterians are reported to be indignant, as Maud danced before the King and Queen and many notabilities, and dined with Premier Asquith.

Will Carry Live Salmon.

London, June 8.—(C. A. P.)—The steamer Cornelia, fitted to transport live salmon from Canada to Britain, has sailed on her maiden voyage.

Jumped After His Money.

Bancroft, June 8.—James Moore of this village met with a big loss while up fishing at Lake St. Peter a few days ago. Moore had received a small sum of money from a party that morning, and while out alone in a boat it occurred to him to place this money in a wallet which he carried in his coat pocket and which contained $576. He placed the wallet on the seat of the boat, and a moment later a gust of wind blew it overboard. Jim cannot swim a stroke, but this fact did not deter him from jumping overboard after the wallet. His obituary would likely have been written up by this time had not a son of M. [illegible] noticed his predicament and come to his rescue. All efforts to locate the wallet have so far failed.

A FORECAST

What will be Mr. Whitney's majority in the next House? About the same as at present. What will Mr. Bradburn's majority in West Peterborough be? Let us see. In 1905 his majority was increased by "divisions" in the Liberal party to the extent of probably six hundred. That means that six hundred must come off his majority of 1174. This would leave it at 574. Then again, we must remember that there is a pity amounting to fear felt for the Opposition. The Opposition, as one man expressed it, is no opposition at all. It is virtually necessary to our system of government that we should have a good one. Mr. Whitney is a strong advocate of it himself. This fact will turn many a vote that has that most complete confidence in the present government into a supporter of Mr. Gillespie. Further, many electors say "what's the good of bothering? Whitney can't be beaten." We knock off 100 for these reasons, leaving the majority at 474. Then bad crops last year and a hope of good ones this year and the necessary work respecting them will keep a hundred more of Mr. Bradburn's majority at home. They, too, rely upon the candidate's success without them. The majority is now 374. Old partymen falling back into line will bring it down by 50 more, to 324. Then, many Liberals, realize that Laurier is done if Ontario goes strong for Whitney. That will influence 50 more. The normal condition of the riding of old would point also to a Conservative majority of not more than 150. It is and always has been a close riding. We have lost Lakefield and South Monaghan. But on the other hand, Mr. Stratton and the West Riding Reform Association executive committee have with the C. G. E. coercion scheme and the poll tax threat turned at least 250 electors towards Bradburn. We, therefore prophesy 400 majority for Bradburn. What is your guess?

EDITORIAL NOTES

The glory of the leafy month of June is upon us. "What is as rare as a day in June."

The mosquitoes are now taking their summer outing. If they would only go where other people don't go they would be ever so much more thought of.

Irrigation Edit

A vast deal of irrigating is being done in the west. Altogether in Canada some eleven millions of acres are under water. The U. S. has 17,000,000 of irrigated lands. When a farm is irrigated it increases its value from $5 an acre to on average $40 an acre, the increase being more than the mere cost of water. In a warm arid climate farming under such conditions is a pleasure. It is the ideal existence of which so much has been said and sung by Horace and others of the Roman poets. Australia in order to enjoy equal conditions of existence will have to store her supply of water at in many cases enormous expense, but Australians are a capable people and can overcome most obstacles. When they have succeeded in doing this the island continent, notwithstanding the extreme heat, will become a great country.

Cheese Markets.

CORNWALL, June 7.—(Special.)—At the Cornwall Cheese Board on Saturday, 1468 boxes of cheese were boarded, 1060 white and 408 colored. As there were no buyers present, it was decided unanimously to send the cheese to cold storage in Montreal, where it will be sold on Wednesday by two representatives of the board—J. W. McLeod and S. J. McDonell. The salesmen, some of whom have to drive in twenty miles, refuse to break the middle of the week by holding the board earlier. They claim also that a great deal of the cheese of this section is shipped by boat, and is in Montreal as soon as cheese sold on other boards earlier in the week. The exporters are keeping their buyers away to force the changing of the day of the board meeting.

BELLEVILLE, June 6.—At the regular meeting of the cheese board to-day there were offered 2353 white and 227 colored; 1130 white sold for 11½c and 1688 white and 227 colored at 11 1-16c.

LONDON, Ont., June 6.—Eleven factories offered 308 white, 365 colored and 35 twin cheese at to-day's market. Sales were as follows: 35 colored at 11c, 150 colored at 11 1-16c, 165 white at 11½c. [illegible]

Bred In the Bone.

By James Norton.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Ezra Billings and Martha Scott had married rather late in life. Each was known to have "opinions," but it was generally agreed that they would live happily. So they did, but their ways were not exactly understood by their friends. Before they had been married two weeks Martha called Ezra the biggest fool in Saginaw county, and Ezra called her an old cat. Neither was the least bit angry. It was just their way, and they understood each other.

They did not dissemble and play the hypocrite when a third party was present. Ezra had courted Martha for four years before marrying her, and she was the only woman he had ever loved, but this did not stand in the way of his saying to her in the presence of old Aunt Jackson, "Martha, if we had a chicken on the farm with less brains than you've got I'd wring its neck."

And then Martha felt in duty bound to good naturedly reply, "Ezra Billings, if I didn't lead you around by a string you'd be sitting down on the hot stove half the time."

In time it got to be known that the couple wrangled like a dog and a cat, and fifty families became more or less interested. In time also they passed to stronger terms and epithets. Between themselves they didn't mean anything by it. It was just a little harmless way of his when Ezra said to Martha in front of a tin peddler: "Say, woman, don't smile at me and ask my opinion about dishpans. If I hadn't been watching you like a hawk this morning, you'd have put paris green in my coffee."

"That ain't the way to kill off born fools," replied Martha. "You've got to hit 'em with an ax as they are lying asleep in bed."

Of course the peddler passed it along, and of course the lightning rod and the windmill man passed along what they heard, and at last the neighbors woke up each morning expecting to find that foul murder had been done during the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Billings were members of one of the churches down in the village, and their pastor was finally appealed to. Being a conservative as well as a good man, he thought the matter over for a time and then preached a sermon to fit the subject. It was a hit at both, and they were there to hear, and yet when they left the church Ezra was heard to say, "Martha, if the preacher had walloped me as he did you I'd keep my head shut for the next fourteen years."

"Wallop me!" she replied. "Ezra Billings, every single word of that sermon was meant for you, and if you keep on wrangling with me the people will turn out and give you a coat of tar and feathers."

Then the preacher decided that it was his duty to call at the farmhouse and make a more direct appeal. Martha was glad to see him. She said she was glad. She said she was in need of advice and was just thinking of coming to see him. She said it was about that fool husband of hers.

He had taken it into his head that the world was round, when everybody else knew better, and had threatened to brain her with the crowbar if she didn't believe as he did. He wouldn't do it, of course. Ezra was one of the best men in the world, whether it was round or flat, and he couldn't be brought to kill a fly, but she thought he ought to be wrestled with for talking that way.

"But, Sister Billings, you have been heard to threaten to poison your husband," protested the good man.

"Oh, but that's just our way!"

"And to pour hot lead in his ear as he slept."

"Yes, but Ezra knows I wouldn't do such a thing. If he was afraid of that he wouldn't sleep and snore the way he does."

"You have threatened to throw him over the curb into the well."

"But if I did he would climb right out and kiss me."

"You have said that you wished a tree would fall on him and that he would be brought home dead."

"Yes, but I giggled when I said it, and when I giggle I don't mean what I say. As I said, I should like your advice. Do you think the flies ought to have the same chance to live as the cows?"

"Yes, but that dratted fool of a husband of mine, who ought to have been in an idiot asylum years ago, has got the idea in his noodlepate that they have, and he's gone and tied up all the cows' tails so they can no longer switch.

"I was telling the lop shouldered slab sided nincompoop only an hour ago to untie them tails or I'd break his neck with the first fence rail I could get my hands on."

"You—you talked that way to your husband?"

"I had to. No one knows Ezra as I do. You've got to talk right out at him if you want him to bump himself. He doesn't mind it, however. Ezra never loved a human being until I came into his life, and if I should die he'd wilt away like a weed."

The good man sighed heavily and went down to the cornfield to have a little talk with Ezra. He was greeted with the greatest pleasure, but as soon as they had shaken hands the farmer began:

"Did Martha tell you that I threatened to choke her to death last night?"

"I hope you didn't make use of any such language."

"But I did, though of course it was all in fun. What do you think that empty headed idiot did yesterday afternoon? Because a bee stung her she went at it and kicked over a whole hive, and the old horse was stung in thirty-seven different places.

"I s'pose I could push her into the goose pond in such a way that people would call it a case of suicide, but I shan't do it. We love each other and don't mean nothing by our talk. You have probably heard a great lot, but you mustn't pay any attention to it."

The good man went away puzzled and unsatisfied, but resolved to let the case alone. He told Deacons Harrow and Swift so when they dropped in to talk matters over, but they went away to do a little plotting and planning on their own account. They agreed that it was a scandalous case and called for heroic treatment.

A week passed away, and then one forenoon Deacon Swift dropped in to inquire where Ezra was. He knew well enough that he was down in the woods chopping and that Deacon Harrow was taking care of that end of the line.

"Ezra!" queried Martha in reply. "Why, the blamed skunk is down in the woods chopping! I told him this morning that he wasn't worth the powder to blow him to Goshen. I don't see why he don't die and let me marry a sensible man."

"Mrs. Billings, what if you should hear that Ezra was dead?" asked the deacon in a solemn voice.

"Oh, quit your fooling!"

"What if his dead body, mangled out of shape by a falling tree, should be borne into this house within the next ten minutes?"

"Is—is anything the matter with Ezra?"

"You have called him names. You have wished him dead. You have tempted and defied Providence. Oh, woman"—

She didn't wait to hear anything further; but, hatless and with skirts flying, she took across the fields for the woods. Deacon Harrow, who had Ezra to handle, had indulged in a few casual observations and then asked if Martha was well.

"She was all right when I left the house," was the reply, "but there's no telling what an idiot of a woman may do. She may have gone into the well head first for all I know."

"Ezra Billings, you have been heard to threaten to brain your wife."

"That's just my way."

"You have been heard to wish that she was dead."

"That was just a joke, deacon."

"Joke! Man, if Martha is found dead in the house with her head all battered in, don't you know"—

But Ezra had dropped his ax and started for the house on a run. Husband and wife met halfway, with a deacon behind either to point the moral. There was no moral to point.

"You lop shouldered, knockkneed old camel, but what do you mean?" demanded the wife as she saw her husband was all right.

"And what do you mean?" demanded the husband as he looked her over. "Say, Martha, you don't know 'nuff to lift them big feet of yours when wading through a mudhole."

"Ezra, you are a gosh hanged liar!"

"Martha, you deserve killing!"

And as they turned their backs on each other and walked away the two deacons locked arms and headed for the road. Not a word was said until they had climbed the fence, and then Deacon Swift observed, "Would you call it a failure, deacon—a failure on our part?"

"I certainly should, deacon, and I should further say that we hadn't better say anything about it."

Compulsory Pluck.

The colonel of a crack cavalry regiment was impressed with the efficiency of a certain volunteer infantry division during some recent maneuvers and in order to test their courage suggested to their leader that they should face a charge made by his men.

The officer in command consented and drew his men up in the required position to face the ordeal.

Hitherto the courage of the foot regiment had remained unquestioned, but when they saw the cavalry thundering down upon them and almost on top of them they turned and fled in a most disorderly manner, save one man, who remained steadfast on bended knee and with fixed bayonet.

By a dexterous movement the cavalry charge was brought to a termination within a foot or so of the hero, and their commander, approaching the valiant one, said:

"Bravo! You are the bravest man in the regiment and worth all the rest of them put together. But tell me—why didn't you fly with the others?"

"So I should have done," said the hero, "but my foot got stuck in a hole."—London Answers.

Ideals That Are Possible.

As we advance into life out of large experience of the world and of ourselves are unfolded the ideals of what will be possible to us if we make the best use of the world and of ourselves, taken as we are. Let these be as high as they may, they will always be lower than those others which are perhaps the veiled intimations of our immortality. These will always be imperfect, but life is not a failure because they are so. It is these that are to burn for us, not like lighthouses in the distance, but like candles in our hands.—James Lane Allen, "The Choir Invisible."

The claim of the Poirier family against the city of Montreal for "Fletcher's field," in Mount Royal park, has been dismissed.

FOUND ITS SOUL.

The Story of a Violin That Was Wrecked In a Fire.

After the Lucky Baldwin theater and hotel fire in San Francisco years ago there were nine feet of water in the basement, where the instruments of the orchestra were stored. When a little of it had been pumped out, August Hinrichs, leader of the orchestra, hired a man to swim in and get out his famous Amati violin.

It was wrecked—water soaked, warped, twisted and broken up into sixty-eight pieces. The hot water had soaked out all the old glue, and every piece had fallen away from its neighbor, besides a good many patches of wood put in when repairs had been done. To all appearance the thing was smashed beyond recall.

Nevertheless Herman Muller, a local violin repairer, who knew and loved the old fiddle, took it in hand. Twice he carefully joined the time darkened pieces of wood. Twice he decided that the Amati would not do.

So once more he soaked the sixty-eight bits of wood apart. Then he carefully modeled out of clay an arch such as he remembered that of the old Amati to have had and for nine weeks kept the bits of wood bound to it until they had gained the proper shape.

Once more he put the bits of wood together. Then for five weeks more he patiently varnished and polished the more than 200 year old fiddle until it shone. Then Hinrichs once more drew his bow across the vibrating strings, and the violin spoke. It sank, wept, bubbled with life and joy.

The Amati had found its soul.

A Train Belated

By TROY ALLISON.

Copyright, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

John Dilwood, junior partner of the Erskine & Dilwood law firm, wandered aimlessly around the new Union station trying to kill time waiting for the train. He had promised his partner that, as he would be in Washington that week, he would make a special point of meeting Mrs. Erskine's train and transferring her safely to the southbound train. He had started to the station an hour earlier than necessary in order that he might have time to look at the new station which every Washingtonian was loudly proclaiming the biggest in the world. But here he found that an hour was more time than a railway station could satisfactorily fill, even though it lived up to its reputation.

He looked at his watch and found to his satisfaction that it lacked only six minutes until the Pittsburg train was due. He hurried through the gates and reached it just as a leisurely official marked the train an hour late. The official seemed, from Mr. Dilwood's point of view, to take a fiendish delight in writing it slowly and carefully, as if there was plenty of time for everything.

"WHAT'S A HALF HOUR!" DECLARED MR. DILWOOD.

"Uh—m," said Mr. Dilwood in an eloquent half voice.

The girl in front of him, who had been anxiously eying the same bulletin, grasped the arm of the small boy with her.

"Oh, dear," she wailed, "I never was so dead tired of waiting in my life. If I only knew he would be sure to come it wouldn't seem so bad. It will be half past 6 before the train gets in now, Bobbie. Let's go in the cafe and get some hot chocolate. I'm going to drink mine a spoonful at a time and count ten between each sip to help make that hour pass, for I've read every magazine on the stand."

The hot chocolate evidently appealed to Bobbie. Dilwood saw him lead the way toward the cafe with an absolute indifference to the failure of time schedules.

When Dilwood stopped at the cashier's desk later to pay for a cigar the girl came to settle for the chocolate that had fallen decidedly short of occupying an entire hour.

Dilwood, lighting his cigar at the lighter, spoke to the cashier, "That western train has had time for a full sized wreck."

The girl's eyes dilated, and she turned suddenly, utterly oblivious of his being an unintroduced man. "Did you say the western train had been wrecked?" she asked breathlessly.

"No, no! Don't be frightened. I was merely joking about the long wait," he hastened to assure her. She gave the cashier a thirty cent check and a bill and in her excitement rushed off without the change to see with her own eyes the latest bulletin. Dilwood smiled at the cashier.

"Oh, these women!" he said whimsically. "If you will lay that change aside, I will tell her to come for it before she leaves."

"I'm sorry I gave you such a fright," he said when he found her peering through the bars down the track.

"I'm always expecting a wreck—it's one of my horrors." The casual friendliness of her tone showed a childish indifference to his being a stranger.

"Perhaps you haven't lived in a city long," he hazarded, an indefinite something causing him to imagine that city ways were strange to her.

"Oh, yes—ages—two years." Her eyes were still focused on a distant point on the track.

Dilwood found himself possessed of an amount of curiosity foreign to him. The piquancy of her face, vibrating with the joy of living, yet frank to a childish degree, fascinated him.

"I you don't mind my talking to you and—Bobbie," he suggested, smiling into the friendly face of the boy, who had been taking stock of him admiringly. Dilwood knew he had a good tailor and was gratified to see that he had at least made a good impression on Bobbie.

The boy's smile broadened.

"You won't find talking to my sister a hard job. She does it all herself," he winked sociably.

"Now, Bobbie Tisdale, you are always pretending that I talk too much and that I can begin in the year one and bring history up to date in an hour's conversation."

Dilwood patted Bobbie on the back with an affection not generally elicited by small boys, but he no longer looked upon Bobbie as a small boy. He was a method of procedure. "I hope, then, you will consider that you have known me at least fifteen minutes and will skip the creation, the fall of Rome, the civil war and a few other items and bring history far enough down to date to tell me more—friendly things."

"In the beginning I accepted a position under the civil service and moved to Washington and put Bobbie in the public schools, where he played football the first part of the term and failed in Latin the second part thereof," she laughed.

"There—I told you she could tell everything she knew in a few minutes," declared Bobbie disgustedly. "But she's promised not to tell John about the Latin. He's coming on this train we're waiting for. She perfectly daffy about John."

An unreasoning dislike to the name of John sprang, full grown, to the heart of Mr. Dilwood. "Is it permitted to ask who John may be?" he asked gloomily.

"Oh, he may be president some day or most anything in that line," declared the boy airily, "but just at present he's our big brother coming to spend his two weeks' vacation with us. He's been in Chicago six months learning to be a lawyer. He's a clerk in Erskine & Dilwood's office."

Dilwood made a hasty search for his cardcase.

"I happen to be Dilwood," and his entire satisfaction with his lot in life beamed from his eyes. "He is a remarkably promising boy, Miss Tisdale." He was in the meantime trying fervently to remember just which of the twenty employees was Tisdale. He himself traveled for the firm and spent very little time in the office.

"Oh, Mr. Dilwood, do you really think so?" she questioned eagerly, her face flushed with pleasure.

"He has the making of a first class lawyer," he vouched stoutly for the capabilities of the youth of twenty that he was in mortal terror he would fail to recognize when the train arrived. "Isn't it a queer coincidence that we should meet?" he asked eagerly. "I have to see Tisdale tomorrow about some special instructions, and to think he happens to be your brother!" Mr. Dilwood's hypocrisy was so thickly laid on that he feared even the frank, unsuspecting eyes of the girl could see that he would have to manufacture those special instructions before the next day.

"Oh, they have marked it another half hour late," she nodded toward the bulletin.

"What's a half hour!" declared Mr. Dilwood. "I always found it rather interesting hanging around a railway station."

Hook's Lordly Tip.

It required such a man as Theodore Hook to cope successfully with the rapacity of the gentlemen of the hall, in contradistinction to the road, and on one occasion, at all events, he proved himself equal to the task. It is related that once when dining out he, before the entertainment came off, provided himself with several bright farthings from the mint and that when proceeding after the festivities to his carriage he discovered several servants, including the cook, awaiting him in the hall. he forthwith slipped a coin into the hand of the latter. The man glanced at it, noticed the size and bowed low in thanks, under the impression that he was a sovereign richer, while Theodore, dispensing largess of a like nature to the other servants, went on his way rejoicing, nor did he cease doing so when, as he stepped into his carriage, one of the footmen, who had discovered the real value of the pourboire, ran out, saying, "Sir, I think you have made a mistake!"

"Not at all, my good man," replied the humorist, with a gracious wave of the hand. "I never give less. Coachman, drive on."

Calgary council proposes to install a garbage destructor in Mewata park, and protests are strong.

SPRUNG FROM KINGS

Very Many Ordinary Folk Had Monarchs For Ancestors.

LOOK UP YOUR FAMILY TREE.

You May Be Related to Royalty and a Very Important Personage Without Knowing It—The Godwins and the Last of England's Saxon Kings.

A Duke of Norfolk once, inspired by a generous fit, announced his intention of entertaining at dinner all the Howards in existence who were related to him, the duke of course being the head of the Howard family. He set agents to work to seek out his relations, but had to abandon his proposed "little party" when he was assured that something like 20,000 people would have a right to come to it.

In the same way an astonishing number of people might be able to claim kinship not with mere dukes, but with royalty, if they only knew all about themselves. The heirs of monarchs who have died on their thrones are comparatively easy to trace and are, roughly speaking, fairly well known.

In this way, for instance, it was no secret that the late Sir William Harcourt was descended from the Plantagenet kings, and several gentlemen who bear no other legal designation than plain Mr. are known to have royal blood in their veins.

This does not apply to kings who have lost their thrones. King Harold, the last Saxon sovereign of England, was the son of Earl Godwin. When he was slain at the battle of Hastings he undoubtedly left children behind him. Some of them fled abroad to escape from William the Conqueror, but others remained in the country, where they sank into poverty and obscurity, but they married and had children. There is at least a chance, therefore, that every one named Godwin or Goodwin is related to a royal family.

King Richard III., whom we all know so well as the wicked Duke of Gloucester, is popularly believed to have been childless when he fell at Bosworth, but some historians hold that there is plausible evidence that he left a son. This son, to escape the death or captivity to which he would have been doomed by the victorious Henry VII had he been captured, is said to have taken a common name and retired into Somersetshire, where he died as a petty farmer.

The whole story may be a myth, but there is nothing impossible about it, and the descendants of King Richard's nameless son may be numbered among ordinary working folk.

All the Clarkes have a right, if they like, to think that they may be connected with royalty—albeit, royalty of a somewhat dubious sort. When Dr. Samuel Johnson was doing so much to make Fleet street famous there was alive in Europe an adventurer who called himself the Baron Theodore Stephen de Neuhoff. He found his way to Corsica and assisted the Corsicans to get free from the republic of Genoa, which was ruling the island in a tyrannical manner. In return they proclaimed him king under the title of Theodore I.

His royalty was brief, however. He had frequent quarrels with the Corsicans and finally quitted the island. Ultimately he drifted to London, where he kept up a sort of shabby genteel regal style. But at last he was arrested for debt and remained in prison for sixteen years. When released he was broken down and old and died in the house of a poor tailor.

The king of Corsica had a granddaughter who married an official in the custom house named Clarke. The family became very poor, and all genuine traces of them have been lost. But it is open to any Clarke who pleases to imagine that he is a descendant of the dashing, unlucky Theodore.

A lot of people have claims to belong to a much more distinguished family. Kindly folk still in the land of the living have employed a meek old charwoman who called herself Miss Paley and was glad to earn a shilling in odd ways. Nothing concerning her ancestry could be definitely proved, but there was reason for believing that she was a descendant of Constantine Palaeologus, the last Greek emperor of Constantinople.

Constantine was killed when the Turks captured his capital in 1453, and his family and relatives had to flee for their lives. Some of them came to England, and there are living thousands of his descendants.

There is a general impression that the old royal family of Stuart is extinct. This, however, is a mistake. Stuarts and Stewarts scattered all over Britain can claim kinship with the old royal family.

In ancient days there used to be about a dozen kings reigning in Ireland at once—the king of Derry, of Munster, of Connaught, and so on. They are all gone now, but so many of their descendants are alive that practically every Irishman has a right to fancy himself related to royalty if he wants to.

Not to Be Taken.

A Peruvian Jew at Johannesburg was so ill that a trained nurse had to be sent for. When she came on duty, her first remark was, "Now I'll take your temperature." To which the Jew replied, "You can't; everything is in my wife's name."—Sporting Times.

Fisherman's Luck.

The fact he caught no fish at all
Does not distress him much.
Upon bad luck of such a kind
He is not apt to touch.
The fisherman will raise his voice,
Lamenting all the day,
And tell of how, despite his pains,
The big one got away.

Although to catch necessities
We some of us may fail,
We pass such things in silence by
Nor stop to tell the tale.
Thus in the bigger sea of life
We find that it is so.
The whoppers that we never got Comprise our tale of woe.
—New York Sun.

Fully Domesticated.

At the first meal they found innumerable flies buzzing about the table. The small boy regarded them closely for a minute or two and then piped out, much to the discomfort of the landlady and the amusement of the boarders, "Mamma, how tame these flies are!"—Woman's Home Companion.

An Ornithological Suggestion.

There is a song I've lately heard
Which runs, "I would I were a bird,
A singing thrush or cooing dove!"
(The last put into rhyme with "love.")
But, disregarding things erotic,
I think, don't you, it's idiotic?
The thought to me has just occurred
That if I were to be a bird
I fancy I would be an owl,
For that's the wisest kind of fowl,
With nothing in this world to do
Except to hoot, "Tu-whit, tu-whoo!"
This thought has somewhat of pretense
To be considered common sense
And more conviction ought to bring
In places where they're wont to sing!
—La Touche Hancock in New York Press.

No Market.

Alert and sweet,
They look as neat
As tiny butter pats.

The cheery little dandelions,
So blithe and wide awake,
They star the plain,
They gem the lane,
And, oh, what greens they make!
—Woman's Home Companion.

Profitable Exchange.

"Some folks do say that time is money," remarked the village storekeeper, "but I don't take much stock in it."

"You don't, eh?" queried the loafer.

"No, I don't," replied the storekeeper, "and I wish you'd spend a leetle more money here and a leetle less time."—Chicago News.

The Coming Question.

When they ask you if you favor
The suffrage right for all
Be careful with your answer—
Say nothing to retail.
Just tell them that you're ready
To give your views and then
Claim that you hope it's coming—
But do not tell them when.
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

BOATS WILL START TO RUN ON 9TH

Date Changed From June 15 on Account of Cottagers Already Going to Park

The lake boats running to Chemong will commence their trips, it is said, on good authority, on the 9th of the present month, instead of on the 15th as previously arranged.

The change was made in the date because the weather is becoming very warm and cottagers are beginning to go to the park already. This means the starting of the auto bus service on the 9th. The bus will be run four trips daily.

ELECTION RETURNS

To-night the Review will give excellent free election returns to the public. The Review has a reputation for promptness in bulletin service and an endeavor will be made to sustain this reputation to-night.

First of all there will be the returns of Peterborough city and county. The results will be posted on a large bulletin board as soon as they come in and the public can watch the progress of the fight and at the end have all the detailed information. The Review has made preparations for the prompt collection of the returns.

As soon as the Ontario provincial returns come in they will be bulletined by constituencies. As soon as it is dark the Review's lantern will be brought into action and the returns from the province will be flashed on the canvas.

In the intervals between returns the Review will show photos of prominent provincial politicians, candidates, views of various places, etc. Moving pictures will also be shown and altogether the display will be most attractive. Come one, come all. Everybody welcome.

REV. CANON DAVIDSON HAS HAD ROUGH PASSAGE OVER

Mrs. J. C. Davidson this morning received a letter from her husband, Rev. Canon Davidson, stating that he had arrived safely in England on Wednesday, May 27th, after a rough passage across the Atlantic. The voyage, Canon Davidson states, was an unusually rough one, and the passengers were all thankful when they reached England's shores.

The letter was written from London, from where Canon Davidson was going to visit friends in the country.

ROBERT LOCKIE HAD HIS LEG BROKEN ON FOOTBALL FIELD

Robert Lockie the fourteen year old son of Mr. Robert Lockie, a Springville stonemason, had his leg broken on Saturday evening on the field on which the young men of Springville hold their practices. He came onto the field while the practice was going on and getting between two of the players was thrown to the ground and had his leg fractured at the ankle.

The injured boy was removed to the residence of Mr. Matthew Clark, just south of Springville. Two physicians were summoned from Peterborough and advised the removal of the lad to Peterborough for treatment. He was brought here yesterday afternoon.

BAY OF QUINTE CONFERENCE CLOSES SESSION TO-MORROW

Special to the Review

Lindsay, June 7—The 21st session of the Bay of Quinte Conference which has been in session here since Wednesday last, will conclude its business tomorrow morning, after one of the most successful session in its history.

While no very radical measures have been passed the conference has put itself on record as opposed to the three-fifths clause, in favor of an anti-cigarette law and opposed to the sale and manufacture also of opium in the Dominion.

A great deal of routine business has been put through, while the financial condition of the conference as a whole has been found to be excellent. Altogether some $345,000 has been controlled during the year, an increase over last. Everything points to another year of even greater success, according to the views expressed by those in charge of affairs.

Saturday night the stationing committee brought in its report of the final draft of stations which provides for the following additional changes.

Rev. W. H. Buckler, of Bethel goes to Mayside.

Rev. R. Duke, ex-president of the conference, who, on account of his health is superannuated for one year, goes from Newbury to Picton to reside.

Rev. Joseph Wood, B.D., of Manilla, goes to Baltimore.

Rev. R. L. Edwards, of Baltimore, goes to Roseneath.

Rev. J. G. Brown, BA of Lakefield, who was ordained today, goes to Beaverton.

Rev A. B. Frederick, just ordained, goes to Dalrymple.

Rev. Samuel T. Tucker, of Beaverton, goes to Greenwood.

Rev. Dr. Marvin, of Cavan, goes to Warsaw.

Rev. Dr. Metzler, of Bridgenorth, goes to Cavan.

THE RACES WILL BE ONE OF THE FEATURES OF CIRCUS DAY

Exciting Events in Connection With Cole Bros. Shows—Are Conducted Honestly and Are True Tests of the Speed of the Horses and Other Animals Competing

All large shows, and the Cole Brothers' show which will be here on Wed. June 17, are no exception, include in their program a series of races. So absurd has this part of the programme been subjected to that many have lost interest in it. This is due entirely to the manner in which the races have been given. In fact they have become so much of a farce that they could not be called races. They were merely circles being made of the hippodrome track.

Cole Bros. give races that are bona fide tests of speed, and to make them such there is always a substantial reward for the successful one. Good races are always interesting and exciting, and when well conducted, exhilrating. Not a race is run but is on its merits, and even the liberty horse in his race against time enters into it with an enjoyable zeal that is wonderful and shows a truly remarkable display of sagacity.

To make it exciting with many shows in the chariot race between man and woman it is fixed for the woman to win. She does not always win, with Cole Bros.' shows, and when she does, it is simply because she has succeeded in getting more speed out of her team than the man did out of his, and was more successful in piloting them around the wide and lengthy hippodrome track. There is no favoritism shown in any of the races. It is for the best one to win and the best one does win.

The superb stable of horses owned by this show gives ample opportunity for racing of more than ordinary merit. Many of the contestants are those who have figured in contests of speed of more importance, involving thousands of dollars, and witnessed by tens of thousands of people. In the stables, which are always open to visitors, can be seen the records and runnings of these fleet-footed horse, while horse racing is among the many events on the racing program, it is not all. Elephants race, and it is surprising the amount of speed these ponderous beasts can develop. The same with the rocking camels, who seem to move as rapidly sideways and backward as they do forward. The ostrich, that brainless, long-legged bird, has more speed in him than the speediest horse, but he will not always show it. He is just as liable to half way circle the track and double back, much to the consternation of his rider, as to go straight ahead. The very uncertainty of his actions makes his race not only interesting but ludicrous. The monkey races, donkey races, clown races, and mule races are so sandwiched in as to prevent the usual monotony of straight races. The race between man and horse, the dog races, chariot races, Roman standing races, hurdle races, tandem races, and liberty horse races are all interesting and made doubly so by the fact that they are all in the square. The race between boys who volunteer from the audience, the sack races and obstacle races not only excite, but create unlimited laughter as the pranks played by the contestants the pranks played by the contestants are always spasmodic and original.

The races with the Cole Brothers' shows, like everything else with it, are honestly conducted, and are carried out to the smallest detail with the same exactness as is the most stupendous feature.

YOUNG CONSERVATIVE CLUB RALLY ON SATURDAY NIGHT

The rally on Saturday night in the Central Committee rooms of Mr. Bradburn's workers was the last and the best of all the committee's rallies in this campaign. Mr. Kendry, who occupied the chair, roused the large audience to enthusiasm by his telling reference to the campaign as conducted by Mr. Bradburn's opponents. He characterized the C.G.E. exception and the poll-tax threat as two of the meanest weapons he had yet seen used in any contest. It is understood that the tax-collector issued his notice to the registered vote in spite of the Finance Committee of the City Council's instructions. There will likely be something doing in regard to this incident. Rousing speeches were made by Messrs. Bradburn, W. H. Moore, K.C.; J. H. Burnham, R. N. Scott, Ald. Whelan, J. W. Garvin, L. M. Hayes, J. Jones, and a number of others. An employee of a south city establishment made a stinging reply to the Liberal claim of having done so much for labour. "Neither here nor in the Old Country have the advances made by labour been due to the Liberals. Who was it gave us employment, yes, and bread, when in 1878 we were reducing to begging? It was the Conservatives who by their wise, patriotic and constructive policy set the workingmen of this country on their feet again. It took nearly a generation to cure the Liberals of their selfishness and stupidity."

References to the C.G.E. affair and tax threat were many and strong, but none too many or too strong for the audience, who cheered each scathing comment to the echo. The workingmen of Peterborough have been roused to a high pitch of indignation by recent events. Every confidence was expressed in success everywhere. Ringing cheers for the King and candidate closed a splendid meeting.

THEATRICAL

THE LION AND THE MOUSE

For the second time Peterborough was favored with that play which has won such a strong place in the hearts of the theatregoing public when "The Lion and the Mouse" was given at the Grand by an excellent company. The production, which was Henry B. Harris' who also presented the piece here last season, was well staged, good taste being shown in the matter of effects. The story of "The Lion and the Mouse," is rather too generally known to need any lengthy description as both the play and the book have been before the public for some time and have had great popularity.

The dominant note is the struggle and final victory of Shirley Rossmore in the fight for the vindication of her father's honor and retention of his position on the bench after it has been practically decided by the large financial interests of which John Burkett Ryder is the head that he shall be removed on account of his just but unfavorable rulings towards those interests. A love story of much strength runs through the play.

Walter Edwards was splendid in his assumption of the character of John Burket —"Ready money" —Ryder. As a Napoleon of the financial world with more than a usual share of strength and magnetism he portrayed the part in a virile manner. Edith Barker showed great talent and versatality in the role of Shirley Rossmore and captivated the audience by her winning presence. The part of Jefferson Ryder was most capably taken by Charles D. Pitt. Clifford Leigh was finished and amusing as Hon. Fitroy Bagley a young Englishman, who acted as secretary to "Ready Money" Ryder and Charles R. Burbridge was natural and interesting as United States Senator Roberts. H. Rees Davies both in appearance and acting was excellent as Judge Rossmore. The remainder of the cast did highly satisfactory work.

GREAT SHOWS AT CONEY ISLAND

Excellent Performers There This Year—No Work for Them on the Stage

Mr. George Ball, who recently returned from a two weeks' visit to New York, says that the talent at Coney Island this year is unusually good and states that fine entertainments are being provided at the shows at this famous pleasure resort.

A large number of first-class stage people have found it impossible to secure work that they have been accustomed to on account of the bad theatrical season and many first-class performers have been engaged by the management of New York's great amusement centre.

HARD TO GET THE VOTE OUT; BOTH SIDES WORKING HARD

Organizations Have Difficulty in Getting Voters to the Polls—Conservatives Confident of Victory

"It is hard work getting out the vote."

This was the statement made today by the organizations of both parties. Up to noon the election was very quiet one of the quietest in the history of Peterborough in fact, but it has been livelier since the noon hour. The organizations behind the two candidates report that it has been difficult to get the vote out.

The general impression is that Mr. Bradburn will be elected by a substantial majority although some maintain that if he has a hundred votes to spare he will be doing well.

LAYING OF CORNER STONE WILL MARK AUSPICIOUS OCCASION

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor Will Officiate at Important Function in Connection With Roman Catholic Church at South End—Choir of 500 Children to Sing—Sermon by Father Roache of St. Michael's

At the several masses at St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday the order of ceremony in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new Catholic church at the south end of the city was announced. It is as follows;—A procession of the men of St. Peter's parish will be formed at St. Peter's school at 3 o'clock next Sunday afternoon, and will proceed in a body to site of the new church at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets. At 3.30 the ceremonies in connection with the function will begin. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will officiate and will be assisted by the local and visiting clergy from the surrounding community.

Rev. Father Rouch, president of St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, will preach the sermon.

A feature of the occasion will be the singing of the psalms in Latin, by St. Peter's choir, which will number from 50 to 75 choristers. The hymns in English will be sung by a choir of 500 children.

INTERESTING CHAT WITH AN ACTRESS WHO IS POPULAR HERE

Roselle Knott, the popular Canadian favorite, and an actress who has always been given splendid receptions here, gave the following interview in the Toronto Star;

If ever there was a mother who was wholly wrapped up in her daughter, that mother is Roselle Knot, the clever Canadian actress who is presenting "Alice-sit-by-the-fire" at the Princess this week.

The Star man had a chat with the charming actress at the Queen's Hotel, and in the course of over an hour's conversation, no matter what other topic he sought to introduce, somehow or other the talk always drifted back to "my daughter Viola"

And for this Miss Knott (off the stage she is Mrs. Ernest Shipman) is not to be blamed. Her daughter is blossoming rapidly into a beautiful young woman and she gives promise of becoming an actress of real worth. Viola is only 18 years old.

"I want to let the public know something, and the Star might as well tell them for me that I am making this tour for one purpose — that of bringing my daughter before the public. I think she has the native talent — the genius to make good. I have not taught her in the art of acting, except to give her an idea of the general principles of it.

"As for myself, I don't care that for applause," and she snapped her fingers. "I am a natural actress," (this was not said egotistically) "and I go on the stage, act my part as I believe I would live it, and am satisfied. That's all."

Then she told the Star how it happened that Viola took to the stage.

"She was a mere school girl then just sixteen—and was traveling with me, bringing her books along. We were playing "When Knighthood was in Flower," and suddenly one night, the girl who played the role of Anne Boleyn happened with a serious accident and could not go on. The stage manager was desperate. We had no substitute. What was to be done? I thought of Viola and asked her if she remembered any of the lines – she had seen the play five or six times. 'Yes, mother, I think I can remember them all' she replied and calmly and confidently she took the role that night, and went through without a hitch. The papers next day gave her good notices, and that was in the City of Quebec — remember— above all cities, Quebec! She was pleased. 'I guess I might be a real actress some day mother,' she said to me after reading the press notices.

"I like 'Alice-sit-by-the-Fire' because it gives her a good role, and doesn't she do it well!"

It is the dream of Miss Knott's heart to have her clever daughter step into her place on the Canadian stage, and she is confident Viola will make her dream come true. Viola is a modest, retiring young girl, who hates publicity, and though just out of short skirts, thinks already of life's serious problems. Both mother and daughter are not at all like the typical actress, and they scorn to use certain methods of advertising.

"Do you think the stage is one of the best professions for girls?" asked the Star. "One of the safest?"

Miss Knott is enthusiastic over the prospects for next season.

"I am going to tour Australia" she announced with glee. "I will present 'When Knighthood was in Flower,' for the first time in the Island Continent, and I will play 'Quo Vadis' and Mrs. Fiske's play, 'Mary of Magdala,' presented by her five years ago. I am taking Tyrone Power, one of the finest American actors, over to the the role of 'Judas Iscariot.'

"And oh, I forgot to tell you — Robt. W. Service, the poet of the Yukon, is writing a play for me. He is working on it now, and although I don't know the plot in it, I believe it is to be a romance of the Yukon country. It should give me scope for some good emotional acting.

"You remember, my husband wired Mr. Service to write a play for me and the young bank teller, replied that he would be delighted. I am anxiously waiting for it now, and I think the Canadian public will be glad to see a Canadian drama done by a Canadian company."

Miss Knott is duly proud of having been chosen to play two weeks at Quebec during the great Tercentenary celebration in July. Of course, she would appear before the Prince and Princess of Wales.

"I have been asked to put on 'When Knighthood was in Flower' for one week and to put on 'Cousin Kate' 'Alice-sit-by-the-Fire, and 'A Modern Magdalen' for the second week. I want to do it but my health has not been good and my husband will not let me go unless the doctor says I am strong enough to stand it. I will have a good rest, though before then, and I want to accept the offer.

Miss Knott has nothing but praise for her company. "We are just like a big family," she told the Star, "and we get along so happily together, it's a pleasure to play under such conditions.

HORSE EXECUTES CIRCUS STUNT

A horse did a rather sensational stunt on George street in front of the Commercial hotel on Saturday evening about 6.30 o'clock. It became frightened at a north bound street car and jumped up on the pavement, pulling the buggy and driver with it.

The horse had to go between electric light and street railway poles to get on the pavement which is elevated from the ground at this point about 14 inches or more. The horse cut across the corner of the pavement and went on the road again at Brock street. No harm befell the driver, horse or vehicle.

Owing to this being election night, the moving pictures at Jackson Park will be postponed until Tuesday evening.

RETURNED FROM NORTH COUNTRY

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Long Arrived Home on Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Long, Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham, returned home from Worthington in the Algoma district on Saturday at noon. Mr. Long is under the doctor's care and will be confined to his home for a few weeks yet. His feet are in a bad condition as a result of days of wandering in the woods during the fortnight that he was lost. It will be remembered that his boots became worn out and he was forced to cut up his shirt and trousers to wrap about his feet. Mr. Long had a terrible experience and one which he hopes he will never have to pass through again. It is expected that under the care of the doctor he will recover rapidly.

W. H. HILL, Esq., Manager Central Ontario, Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:

In connection with policy No. 18253, taken out by me twenty years ago for $2000, on the 20 year endowment plan, I would like to say to you that I am well pleased with the results. I paid $91.40 a year for twenty years and had my insurance for $2,000, and the cheque you have handed me to day is for $2653.10 which is $123.15 in excess of what I would have received had I deposited the same amount in the Bank during the last twenty years at current rates. In one case I had my insurance carried and in the other case I would have had none. I can only say that I have never made an investment that has given me greater satisfaction. I believe if I had not taken out the insurance I would not have been worth one dollar more to-day and now I find myself in possession of $2653.10, which will enable me to make a profitable investment. I am now pretty well up in years but if I had my life to live over again I would ensure for as large an amount as I could possibly pay for. During the twenty years, I found it difficult on many occasions to meet the payments, but I met them in every case by practising a little economy in other directions, and I can assure you that I feel I have been well repaid for the pains I took in providing for the money to pay the premium. You have paid me more considerably than I expected to receive and for this I am grateful.

Respectfully yours,

NELSON SAGE

ATHLETICS WIN THE FIRST OF HOME LEAGUE GAMES

Defeated Port Hope on Saturday by 9 Runs to 3—Quinlan Was in Fine Form and Kept the Visitors Hitless Till the Last Innings

At the end of the eighth innings in Saturday's game at Riverside Park between the Peterborough Athletics and Port Hope, the score was 9-0 in favor of the homesters. Up to that time the lakesiders had failed to hit Quinlan safely and it looked like a shut-out. The Port Hopers came to life in their last period at bat and pounded out four singles which brought in three runs. Rowden was first up and hit safely, Walters flew out to Shea and O'Hearn was given a charity. Wilson then came up and swung on a bender for another single. This filled the bases and would have been a serious affair if it had happened earlier in the game. Brown also struck a hitting gait and pounded out another safety and Rowden and O'Hearn scored. Another single by Billy Wilson scored his brother. McMahon flew out to shortstop and a fly from Hawson was caught by Graham. This retired the side and the game was over. The Athletics had three runs in the initial innings, two in the fifth, one in the sixth, another in the seventh and two in the eighth.

Manager Lynch's team were in fine form and played good ball for the 9 innings. They hit Surplis opportunely and few errors were chalked up against them. Quinlan had a fine assortment of curves and had the visitors guessing until the last innings. His control was good and the Port Hopers fanned the air repeatedly. Rattray did the receiving well and both the infield and outfield were all to the [illegible] to carry.

The visitors, while not as strong as when they appeared here on Victoria Day, were no cinch. Poor throws and muffs by Jimmy O'Hearn and bad stopping by Walters on the first sack were responsible for considerably of the scoring by the Athletics. Failure to hit the ball was responsible to a great extent for their defeat. At the end of the seventh Surplis retired from the mound in favor of Wilson and went to first base, Walters going to second. The change did not result in much benefit as the locals crossed the plate twice in the eighth. Hawson, a mere kid, played a good game in centre for the Hopers and McMahon, the other youngster also did well. Both however, were weak with the willow. W. Wilson caught a good game, considering he was new to the position and did everything expected of him except in the first innings.

The day was ideal for baseball and the crowd should have been larger. The game was an interesting one from a spectator's viewpoint and the victory for the Athletics was very popular. They have shown great improvement in form since their game against the Petes three weeks ago, and will have to be reckoned with in the race for the pennant.

The umpire was O. A. Gambay, of Orono, and any bouquets that came his way were mostly of the lemon variety. His decisions were disputed by both teams and it does not look as if umpiring wasn't exactly in his line. He left at the end of the seventh to catch his train and no one cried himself to sleep over his departure.

Art Onion, of Port Hope, took the job of umpiring when Gamsby retired and gave satisfaction.

The Athletics took three runs in the first. Connors singled and Graham followed suit. Shea got to first on fielders choice and Connors' scored. Rattray fouled to the catcher and was out, Callaghan went out; O'Hearn to Walters and Graham scored. Pilling safe on Brown's error and Shea scored. Landry went out second to first. The locals got another in the sixth, one in the seventh and two in the eighth.

RUNNING

The Olympic finals are over and the men who go to represent Canada at the London games have by their merits selected themselves after a fair trial and the keenest kind of competition. Harry Lawson, of Toronto secured premier honors in the 25-mile Marathon, with Woods of Brantford, Goldsboro of Toronto, Simpson of Peterborough, Lister of Toronto and Noseworthy of Montreal making up the six men to go for the long-distance event. Tom Longboat will go over, but he was not in fit condition to run in the long race Saturday, although he easily cleaned up the three mile race he started in. — Toronto World.

LOCAL BOYS FOR C.A.A.U. EVENTS

Peter Wallace and Harry Munro to Start in C. A. A. U. Junior Mile and 100 Yard Races

Peter Wallace and Harry Munro of the Y. M. C. A. leave for Toronto on Saturday to take part in the C. A. A. U. boys' championship events. Wallace will run in the mile race and Munro will start in the hundred yards dash. Both boys have done excellent work in their try-outs. Wallace won the junior Examiner three-mile event, and steps a mile in fast time. He should have a good chance of winning his race on Saturday.

Mr. A. E. Frowde, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. will accompany the boys.

LOCAL BOY GOES TO MONTREAL

Mr. Percy Gilbert Accepts Position With Canada Oil Company—Star Rugby Player

Mr. Percy Gilbert has gone to Montreal, where he has taken a position there with the Canada Oil Company, "Perc," as he is familiarly known known among his associated, will be much missed here.

He was well liked in all circles and took much interest in athletics. He was one of the best outside wings the Peterborough Rugby team ever had, and played that position for the local twelve when they won the intermediate championship three years ago. He did not turn out to practice at all last season.

THE LAKEVIEWS WON BY 12 TO 3

Victors in City League Game on Saturday Against the Wellingtons

Lakeviews 12.
Wellingtons 3.

That's how the first game of the City League matches on Nicholls Oval on Saturday resulted. The winners played considerably the better ball, making 10 hits to their opponents' 4. The errors were a little more common than they should have been. Both teams have several mistakes chalked up against them, the winners making 8 and the losers 12.

The game had no features of a spectacular character, with the exception of a pretty double play of Dickie to Henderson. Mr. Ross Kendry gave satisfaction as umpire.

The teams;—

Lakeviews.		Wellingtons.
Dusty	Pitcher	Fallen
Pentland	3rd base	Dickey
Menzies	Catcher	Billington
Campbell	2nd base	Henderson
Simmons	Left Field	S. O'Toole
Clancy	Short-stop	Johnston
Hillier	Centre Field	J. O'Toole
Conner	Right Field	Russell
King	1st base	Kennedy

Summary—Struck—by Dusty (10); by Dick (6); double play, Dickey to Henderson. Umpire, Kendry.

Owing to this being election night, the moving pictures at Jackson Park will be postponed until Tuesday evening

Karnots Winners of City League Game Saturday by 9-8---Hits Came in Bunches

The YMCA nine made a strong finish in their game against the Karnots on Saturday but their rally was too late and they lost by 9-8. Karnots went to bat first and touched up Patterson's curves for four tallies. In the next two innings Patterson struck out four of the six men who came to bat.

Quinlan did nice work on the rubber for the Karnots in the earlier part of the game and the Y's could not get to him for anything of account but they commenced hitting in the fifth and connected to advantage getting four runs in this innings. They got two more in the sixth and three in the eighth.

FRED SIMPSON FINISHED FOURTH IN 25 MILE EVENT

Was Going Strong at End of Long Marathon Grind on Saturday—Held Back by the Heat and Dust.

Fred Simpson finished fourth in the 25 mile Marathon event at Toronto on Saturday, and was running strong at the conclusion of the race. As a result he will be on the Canadian Olympic team in England. He was capable of going much further, and was in the best of shape for the race. Lawson, who won, made a great race and set a fast pace all through. About 30 started, and the first seven to finish were;

W H Wood, of Brantford, second, 2 40.50

Goldsboro, Central Y M.C.A., 3rd, 2 52.58 4-5.

Fred Simpson, Peterborough, "Y," 4th, 2.56 11 3-5.

Lister, Central, Y M.C.A., 5th, 2.58.44.

Charlie Patch, 7th, 3 03 7 3-5.

O Simpson went to Hiawatha yesterday morning.

Concerning the race, his trainer, Dick Baker, said;—

"The cause of Simpson's defeat was the excessive heat and the dust, which literally choked him. When the start was made he was off with the bunch and before many miles had been run he made sure of his position on the team, always being well up with the leaders. At the turn he was seventh, being behind Lawson, Coley, Wood, Patch, Goldsboro and Homer. Coley ran well until about the fourteenth mile when he began to show signs of distress, and just after Simpson passed him at the fifteenth mile he rolled over to the ditch exhausted. The course was the worst one that I have ever been over. In several places the roads were so bad that I had great difficulty in keeping on my wheel. Then again the running were forced to climb many man-killing hills, which was too much for the most of them. The dust was so bad that every time a motor car would pass a cloud of dust would raise up and envelope the runners, making it difficult for their attendants to see them. Simpson, I feel sure, will do better in the big race across the water. Over there the course they have marked out is one of the greatest I was ever over. There is only a couple of hills in the whole 27 miles, and the roads are ideal for long distance running. Yes, I undoubtedly think he will be better than fourth in the Marathon. Why, on Saturday, he finished very strong after going over that killing journey, and then after a couple of hours' rest he appeared none the worse for his run. He was up bright and early this morning and walked to Hiawatha to visit his wife and children."

BATTER UP! PLAY BALL!

The baseball season is now on in full swing. There is every indication the game will boom in Peterborough this year. The Review has always looked after player and fan, and rapped out many a bit of encouragement to those who follow the sport. All managers, captains, secretaries and players are requested to send in details of any games played or news of any games to come, all of which will find space in our baseball column. There is a supply of score cards at this office suitable for recording a game by innings, which are at the disposal of any team manager in the city. These cards should be filled in properly at the conclusion of the game and left at this office as soon as possible so as to insure publication in the Review without delay. Properly authenticated box scores will also be glady received and published.

A GOOD BASEBALL STORY FROM NEW ONTARIO LEAGUE

A good baseball story comes from the New Ontario League in which O'Brien and O'Hearn, of Port Hope, Hickey and Downey of Toronto, and other players well known in Peterborough have been playing. A few days ago Sudbury played at Webbwood and lost the game. Incidentally the backers of the Sudbury team had bet their heads off and dropped about $1500. The return game was played in Sudbury a few days later and the backers of the home team prepared for a big killing. The team was strengthened in all departments and Webbwood was to be done up brown. The Webbwooders, however, were canny, and would not bet a cent. The Sudbury team won but their backers were unable to get back the $1500 which had been dropped.

NAT RAY WON STEEPLECHASE

Galloped Home Ahead on Spencer Reiff---Was an Easy Winner

Nat Ray won the Midland Steeplechase at the Woodbine on Friday at the races. His mount was Spencer Reiff. The event was for a purse of $400 and for four-year-olds and up.

The News says:

Nat Ray and Spencer Reiff under him is a splendid combination, for again yesterday the clever jockey piloted his mount home an easy winner, with Essex and Mixup second and third.

THE LAKEFIELD TEAM VICTORIOUS

Defeated Junior Cricketers of Trinity School on Saturday

The junior cricket team of Trinity College, Port Hope, visited Lakefield on Saturday and played the Grove school team. The homesters won out by an innings and fifteen runs. The batting of Nelles and the bowling of Renfrew of the Lakefield team were features of the game.

CLOSING DAY AT WOODBINE.

Ellicott Defeats Inferno in Coveted Waterloo Handicap.

Toronto, June 8.—Splendid weather and brilliant racing drew an enormous crowd to the Woodbine track on Saturday for closing day.

Mr. Seagram's splendid horse Inferno suffered an unexpected defeat in the Waterloo handicap, being beaten by Ellicott, owned by John Madigan. The former after forcing a fast pace all the way, tired badly in the final drive.

The William Hendrie Memorial handicap, named in honor of the nestor of the Canadian turf, went to Hon. Adam Beck's consistent horse Photographer, with Glimmer in second position and Caper Sauce third.

Following were the placed horses in the day's races:

Norway purse, 3-year-olds and up, 5 1-2 furlongs—1, J. W. May's Please; 2, Herman Johnson; 3, Royal Onyx.

Tyro stakes, 2-year-olds, 5 furlongs—1, J. H. Madigan's Simcoe; 2, Balbeck; 3, Tony W.

Waterloo handicap, 3-year-olds and up, 1-1-8 miles—1, J. H. Madigan's Ellicott; 2, Inferno; 3, Clell Turney.

Street Railway steeplechase, 4-year-olds and up, 2 1-2 miles—1, G. C. Smithson's Round Brook; 2, Touchwood; 3, John Dillon.

Consolation purse, 3-year-olds and up, 1 1-16 miles—1, A. Turney's Martin Doyle; 2, Light Wool; 3, The Shaughran.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

In such cases the one sure remedy which speedily removes the cause, and restores the feminine organism to a healthy, normal condition is

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. J. A. Laliberte, of 34 Artillerie Street, Quebec, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For six years I have been doctoring for female weakness, heart and nerves, liver and kidney trouble, but in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I can safely say I have found a cure.

"I was continually bothered with the most distressing backaches, headaches, and bearing down pains, and I kept growing more and more nervous.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of all these distressing symptoms and made me a well woman. I would advise all suffering women, young or old, to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

JUNE DAYS

No other days are like the days in June;
They stand upon the summit of the year,
Filled with the sweet remembrance of the tune,
That wooed the fresh spring fields; they have a tear
For violets dead; they will engird full noon,
The sweet, full breaths of summer drawing near,
Each matchless morning marches from the east,
In tints inimitable and divine;
Each perfect noon sustains the endless feast
In which the wedded charms of life combine;
Sweet evening waits till golden day, released,
Shall lead her, blushing, down the world's decline.

ACTOR HITCHCOCK SENT TO TOMBS

New York, June 6. — Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, was committed to the Tombs prison without bail yesterday afternoon when his trial on charges preferred by three little girls, which began to-day, was suddenly adjourned until next Monday.

The adjournment came when Hitchcock's counsel conferred privately with Justice Goff immediately after the first juror had been selected. At the conclusion of the conference Justice Goff announced that in view of what the attorney had told him he would adjourn the case until next Monday and that in the meantime Hitchcock would be remanded to the Tombs prison without bail.

The first report of the stationing committee of the Bay of Quinte Methodist conference has been made.

THE BLUE MONDAY.

It Comes So Often and Is a Terrible Visitation.

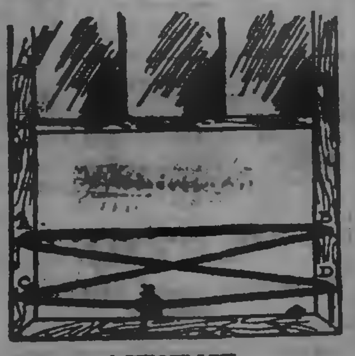
Monday is a great trial. It comes so often and is so very terrible when it comes. It almost spoils Sunday, or, even if it does not quite ruin it, it affects the flavor of Sunday. There is a slight Monday taint to it, no matter what one does. It is just there, on the other side, only a night away, and the thought is very saddening. If we could have a day between Sunday and Monday, a half day even, when we could smile back at Sunday and brace ourselves for Monday, it would be such a satisfactory arrangement. On Saturday you begin to relax, sort of run down, as it were, letting your wheels go slower and slower until on Sunday morning you are in a state of blissful inanition. You smile impudently at duties, wink scornfully at energy; you overeat, you overread and oversleep. You simply let your daily principles go to the dogs. You make bad jokes, and no one minds. They even laugh, every one being so particularly nice on Sunday.

Up to dinner time, and even a little after, you ignore Monday. Of course there is a horrid undercurrent of it, but you do not allow it to rise to the surface until about 9 o'clock; then all the happy wind leaves your sails, and you collapse with Monday straight ahead of you. There is no use in trying to avoid it. Experience has taught you that. You'll wake up just as surely and find it there. There's no hope, no hope, and you go to sleep Sunday night doomed, furious, inwardly fighting. On Monday morning you rise injured and sullen. You feel that you were not given a fair chance to escape. You have been tricked into this, and with wonderful moral force you take yourself by the scruff of the neck and set yourself to work. All the wheels tighten horribly; you hear them squeak into place. All those little irritants which you blithely dismissed on Saturday come trotting up and demand to be noticed. The little beasts! You are in a humor to cope with the worst of them. You growl and marvel at their calling Monday blue Monday. It is red, scarlet, crimson, and if you did not know that next Sunday would come along some time it is a question whether or not you could live through Monday.

WINDOW PULLEY LINE.

A Safety Device That Has Been Satisfactorily Installed.

Every little while we read of a housewife being killed or maimed through overbalancing herself while manipulating a pulley line. Some women, more careful than others, have a piece of lath or board across the window as a life saver, but this is a bother when not in use and if left in permanently is unsightly and dangerous, as it is likely to break if a real strain comes upon it.



A PULLEY LINE.

Take four screw eyes, one-quarter or three-eighth inch. Screw two in the casing, one on each side of the window, at such a height that a line between will come up well toward the armpits when the woman is working on the line, and screw in the other two about eight inches below these. Get a piece of flexible cotton clothesline, put in an eyelet, or what sailors call a "thimble," at one end and secure the other against raveling either in sailor fashion or by whipping with a piece of twine. Then pass this latter end through the lower left screw eye, cross the line diagonally to the top screw eye on the right, over horizontally to the one on the left side, carrying it down diagonally to the lower screw eye on the right side. Pass the end through the thimble on the other end, haul the line taut and secure by a half hitch and simple running loop that can be easily opened, and the life preserver is in place and ready for work. It is strong and yields enough to the weight not to interfere with work, and it makes it impossible for a woman to fall through the window.

Renovating Straw Hats.

As many of last season's straw hats could be used by economical women if they were not spotted or sunburned, it is well to know a simple way of cleaning them. Split straw or white milan should be scrubbed with a weak solution of oxalic acid and water, using a small stiff brush. Rinse with clear water, using as little as possible, so as not to wet the straw any more than necessary. Sprinkle the damp hat with precipitate of sulphur and leave it in the sun. When dry, brush the hat and it will be found evenly white.

Colored straws that have become soiled should be rubbed with a piece of velvet dipped in gasoline. For black braid or straw alcohol is sometimes effective. On black chip even liquid shoe polish has been tried, and for light colored hats which have faded some girls have been known to use paints, tinting with the ordinary small paint brush and water colors.

The bodies of two unknown men were taken from the Lachine canal yesterday.

Woman's World

MISS OLGA NETHERSOLE.

"A higher standard of health"—that is what the English actress, Olga Nethersole, has set apart for the absorption of all the time she can spare from a very busy life, and she makes her appeal for it on the ground of economy. She wants the money that is poured into prisons, asylums and hospitals by the government to be turned into a better path, that which makes for the health and comfort of the people, when crime and disease will be banished in a measure. A glorious ambition is Miss Nethersole's and one which is receiving the support of thinking persons all over the world. She points out the fact that in all her research she has found but one country that is working along similar lines, and that is Germany, which imposes a tax upon workers of both sexes which is turned into medical care and support for the family of workers when sickness stops the wages and annuities for invalidism and old age. In that country sick men and women are not allowed to work even if they desire to, and whatever benefits they receive from the government entails no humiliation or loss of standing in the community, because they are rights purchased by the tax paid each week. We must see in such system an end to pauperism and an increase in health. Great harm is done by sick people straining every nerve to perform duties for which they have no strength, by the incessant anxiety concerning money, the little sum necessary to support life. More than seven-eighths of the suicide cases can be directly traced to money worries, and old age is chiefly dreaded for the same reason. We are not a thrifty nation, despite the existence of all kinds of insurance. A good profit is made from unpaid policies, and the percentage of insurance is none too high at the best. The most that humble workers achieve in that line is the surety of a sum sufficient for burial expenses.

MISS OLGA NETHERSOLE.

How to Pack Furs Away.

With expensive furs it is unquestionably worth while to send them to some cold storage house where a guarantee of their safety can be secured or the money refunded to whatever amount the coat, muff or boa has been valued. The smaller and less costly furs can, however, with perfect safety be locked up in a box or trunk in the storeroom provided a few simple rules are complied with.

Either turpentine or camphor balls must be plentifully sprinkled in the box in which the furs are laid away, and the paper wrapping should be well saturated with one of the preventives against moths, camphor being generally preferred, having a less obnoxious odor. The furs should, however, be first wrapped in tissue paper, as the acid of the camphor may injure the delicate skin. Neither sable nor chinchilla, however, can ever be laid away protected by camphor balls, for the camphor will turn to a hideous yellow the rich brown of the sable and take away the soft tone from the lighter shades of chinchilla, imparting also a yellowish tinge that is distressingly ugly.

A large cedar chest makes an excellent receptacle for all kinds of furs, and, although for some inexplicable reason it seems to have been out of vogue for some little time past, cedar chests of all shapes and sizes are once again decidedly in favor. If it has been ascertained that the lid fits closely to the box so that even the most infinitesimal moth could not possibly enter in and that the lock is in perfect working order and incapable of being pried open, then a cedar chest is an excellent safeguard for furs during the summer months, as for some reason the delicate odor is apparently not delectable to the superfine sensibility of the moth.

A Hint For Hemstitching.

Now that hemstitching is so very popular a form of decoration the following useful hint will be appreciated by workers: A good deal of trouble when hemstitching handkerchiefs, tray cloths or working drawn thread insertion is often caused by gauging the requisite number of threads which are to be caught up.

An excellent method of dividing these evenly and at the required distances is that of first drawing the threads, folding over and basting down the hem and then working the needle of the sewing machine along the line of pulled threads.

The needle should not, of course, be threaded, and the "stitch" should be so adjusted that the indentation caused by the needle occurs at the right intervals for the hemstitching—namely, at every third or fourth stitch. If this is done evenly the act of picking up the threads when working will be an easy matter, and no counting or close study of the threads will be necessary unless, of course, the worker prefers to do so. In hemming linen articles such as table napkins and doilies it is necessary both to cut the linen and mark the position of the hem by a pulled thread; otherwise, although the hem may appear perfectly straight before it is sent to the wash, when the "size" still remains in the material, the ironing process will completely change the set of the linen. In mending table linen a fine crewel or darning needle should be used, while it is far better to employ the unraveled threads of a piece of the linen than ordinary mending cotton. Before repairing open holes and very thin places a piece of fine net should be tacked over them and the darning carried on through this.

Washing Woolen Garments.

The very best way to wash sweaters, babies' sacks, leggings and afghans—in fact, all garments knitted or crocheted of wool—is to sew the article in a bag of cheesecloth or mosquito netting. Then wash the bag, with its contents, in soft water with a good white soap. The water must not be cold; neither must it be very hot, and of course the soap must never be rubbed into the bag, the water being soaped beforehand.

After rinsing in several waters, which must be of the same temperature as the soapy water, rip the garment from the bag, but do not hang it on a line to dry. Lay it flat on a table without stretching. Place in the air to dry. If colored, avoid the sunlight, as it will fade it.

Some ammonia in the water helps to keep wool garments soft. The disastrous experience that many people have had in washing sweaters is due to the fact that they wring and stretch them, which should never be done. Simply crush the bag to squeeze out the water, but do not wring.

Delmonico Pudding.

Put one quart of milk in a double boiler and let come almost to the boiling point. Beat yolks of five eggs light, add six tablespoonfuls sugar and beat again until exceedingly light. Mix three tablespoonfuls cornstarch with a little cold milk. Add to the eggs and sugar and stir into the hot milk just as it is about to boil.

Add a saltspoonful salt, then stir until well thickened. Pour into a dish that can be sent to the table and stand in the oven for ten or fifteen minutes until firm. Remove and spread over the pudding a layer of canned apricots or other fruit. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, allowing one tablespoonful pulverized sugar to each egg. Spread lightly over the top and put into a cool oven to color a golden brown.

Delicious Custard.

The recipe for this delicate dessert has been handed down in my family for many generations, says a contributor to the Delineator. Into each individual custard cup put the yolk of one egg, add a heaping teaspoonful of sugar, two gratings of nutmeg and five tablespoonfuls of sweet milk. Incorporate thoroughly and set the cups in a pan of hot water. Bake in a moderate oven until firm. When cool cover with meringue, using the whites of the eggs for this purpose, and allow a tablespoonful of powdered sugar to the white of each egg. Through the very tiptop of each snowy mound drop a teaspoonful of orange marmalade.

Ovens With Glass Doors.

Up to date housewives are going in for ovens with glass doors now. In the big cities no woman of moderate means dreams of keeping house without a glass door to her oven.

"I can't think how I could ever have cooked without it," remarked one of them the other day. "How on earth can you ever bake a cake if you have to open the oven door every few minutes to look at it?"

Plate glass of a good thickness is used and is of course a rather expensive item. But those who use it maintain that its convenience repays them fully for its cost.

For Tarnished Brass.

Pumice soap and ammonia will cure the worst cases of tarnished brass. Just moisten a cloth with ammonia, rub it briskly over the pumice soap and then apply to the article to be cleaned. The operation is a simple and easy one, and the results are immediate and most satisfactory.

Unkind.

Mrs. A.—Mrs. Baker says she'd give a good deal to know where you get your clothes.

Mrs. B. (smiling)—She likes them, then, doesn't she?

Mrs. A.—No. She thinks they wear wonderfully.

Soap and powdered chalk mixed and rubbed on mildew spots will remove them. To expedite matters let the spotted article lie in the sun for a few hours, damping it again as it dries.

New bread may be cut quite evenly if the knife is very slightly heated.

JOHN AND HIS IDOLS.

The Chinaman Is Utterly Devoid of Reverence In His Religion.

How the Chinaman regards his idol is told by the Rev. John MacGowan: "The Chinese is a person utterly devoid of reverence, sentiment or devotion in his religion. With him it is a matter either of fear or of business, but mainly the latter. A house is plagued with sickness, which is put down not to bad sanitation or other natural causes, but to the presence of evil spirits. This leads to a visit to the nearest temple to get the idol to drive them away. A new business is going to be commenced, but before doing so it is deemed essential to get the support of the idols. If one idol says it will not succeed another is appealed to for its opinion, and if it is favorable it is at once accepted as the correct one.

"Should the venture turn out a failure no reproach of any kind is uttered against the god whose prediction has been falsified. The man takes the blame upon himself. His character has not been pure, he says, or he was born under an evil star, or he was naturally unlucky and so was bound to fail in anything that he undertook.

"Men never dream of thinking about their idols as we do about God. No affection is shown for them. It is most amusing to watch the faces of the Chinese when you ask them if the idols love them. The eyes gleam, the face broadens into a wide grin, and soon hearty laughter is heard at this most facetious and side splitting joke."

A Remarkable Church.

At Stivichall, near Coventry, England, there is a unique place of worship. In 1810 John Green, a stonemason of a strongly religious turn of mind, laid the first stone of the edifice, and seven years later he completed the building. In all that time he had assistance from no one, doing all the work with his own hands until the church was ready for its interior fittings. Wooden and even brick buildings erected by one or two men are not uncommon, but this is the only structure in England and probably in the world of which every stone was laid by one man. The building accommodates quite a large congregation, and the church derives a considerable revenue from the contributions of sightseers who are drawn to the place through curiosity.

Antidote For a Tired Mind.

"The best antidote for a tired and weary mind that I know of is work," said a well known downtown lawyer. "Sounds somewhat paradoxical, I know, but I will explain. When I have worked over a problem until my brain is numb I find the best way to clear my head is to plunge into a totally different problem. Now, my hobby is photography, and there are a great many puzzling things about photography which I plunge into. The result is after an hour or so of this sort of relaxation I go back to my original proposition much refreshed in mind, and I usually manage to solve it too. That is why I maintain a dark room at my office and keep all sorts of chemicals on hand. I used to try to clear my head by sleep, but it didn't work—not with me, at any rate. No, if I attempt to sleep directly after puzzling over a case I will lie and think of my problem instead of sleeping. For this reason I have formed the theory that changing the entire thought of the mind just before retiring will knock out insomnia."—Philadelphia Record.

Then He Was Mad.

A Scotch university professor, irritated to find that his students had got into the habit of placing their hats and canes on his desk instead of in the cloakroom, announced that the next article of the kind placed there would be destroyed. Some days later the professor was called for a moment from the class room. A student slipped into his private room and emerged with the professor's hat, which he placed conspicuously on the desk, while his fellows grinned and trembled. The professor, on returning, saw the hat, thought some rashly obstinate student had been delivered into his hands, and, taking out his knife, he cut the offending article to pieces, while vainly attempting to conceal the smile of triumph that played about his countenance. He was in a very bad temper the next day.

The Power of a Song.

Mme. Marchesi, speaking of the power of song, said: "I was singing at Edinburgh, where I have very good friends in the head master of a big public school and his wife, and it was arranged that I should have supper with them after the concert. One of my songs was Landon Ronald's 'Peace and Rest,' the idea of which is two lovers not separated by death, but lying together in the same tomb. When I came to supper with my friends my host said to me: 'Ah, Mme. Marchesi, that song you sang, "Peace and Rest," had a great effect upon me. I never thought before of my wife and I being separated by death'—I did not wonder at this, for he is a most happy man, full of joy of life—'but since I heard you sing that song I have been thinking hard, and tomorrow I am going to buy a family vault.' I scarcely knew whether to laugh or to cry, but in the end we all laughed. And surely this would be hard to beat for an example of 'what a song can do.'"

A Fine Pair.

"What do you think of the two candidates?" asked one elector of another during a recent contest.

"What do I think of them?" was the reply. "Well, when I look at them I'm thankful only one of them can get in."—London Telegraph.

ATTENDED SERVICE AT ALL SAINTS'

Annual Church Parade of Sherwood Lodge Woodmen of the World Last Evening

The Woodmen of the World, Sherwood Forest Camp No. 50, attended divine service at All Saints' church last evening when an eloquent and forcible address was delivered by Rev. Wm. Major. The service was a bright one, the singing and responses being joined in heartily by all present. Special music was rendered by the choir, an anthem during the offertory, the solo part being taken by Mr. W. Edwards.

Speaking from the words of the 14th verse of the 37th chapter of the book of Genesis, "And he said to him, go I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren," the rector delivered a practical discourse. Preceding his remarks he extended a hearty welcome to the visiting brethren. He was glad to have them present for two reasons, one being because they were publicly demonstrating the Christian unity and it gives those who are not members of the Anglican church an opportunity to see that the members of the Church of England were endeavoring to live out the life and death of Jesus Christ. The Woodmen of the World in their benevolent work were carrying out the commands of Christ.

The words of the text were addressed by Jacob to Joseph. The speaker thought that men might well apply the lesson of Joseph and Jacob to their everyday life. There was a spirit of enmity between Joseph and his brethren on account of partiality of Jacob to Joseph. This rankled in their hearts and they hated their brother. "This enmity exists between people at the present time," said the reverend speaker. "It shows how prejudice will belittle a man's character. We are narrow in our conception of men's characters."

The speaker next referred to the selling of Joseph to the Ishmaelites. "Being brethren, is it not remarkable that not one attempted to save him?" asked the reverend gentleman. They wanted to make money out of their brother and their eyes were blinded to everything but the few silver coins. They stripped him of his possessions.

"In these days when people talk of the brotherhood of man," said the speaker, "they are called upon to help their fellowmen they refuse to do so."

"Speaking of influence, the rector said that during the past week no doubt every man had been asked for his influence. He urged his hearers to exercise the greatest care when voting and to think whether that influence was for an individual or for the welfare of the community.

In conclusion the preacher said that the Woodmen were actuated by love, which is the essence of Christianity. He urged them to be loyal to the principles of Woodcraft and to continue in the good work they were at present carrying out.

When the members returned to their hall the usual vote of thanks was passed.

ORDINATION OF ELDERS AT ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Took Place Yesterday Morning—Special Sermon by Rev. Robt. Pogue on "Duties of the Eldership"

At the ordination of elders at St. Paul's yesterday morning, Rev. Robt. Pogue, the pastor, preached the special sermon to the elders who were ordained. His topic was, "Duties of the Eldership," and his remarks were forcible and impressive. The elders ordained were Messrs. D. H. Moore, Jas. Finnie, H. O. Fisk, Thos. Young, and A. Mahood.

The ceremony took place at the close of the morning service. There are now 21 elders at St. Paul's. A large congregation was in attendance.

COMMUNION AT SPRINGVILLE

Sacrament Dispensed There Yesterday—Large Increase in Congregation

The Sacrament of Holy Communion was dispensed at the Presbyterian church, Springville, yesterday morning. An address was delivered at the preparatory services on Friday by Rev. H. J. Keith, pastor of Knox Church, Peterborough.

There were a large number who received Holy Communion yesterday. The congregation of the Springville church has increased nearly 200 per cent. since Dr. Marsh assumed the pastorate a year and a half ago.

WHITSUNDAY AT ST. JOHN'S

Large Congregations at the Services Yesterday

The congregation of St. John's marked the Whitsun Day festival by this festival since 1895, when there the Holy Communion, in large numbers, the largest attendance at this festival since 1895, when there were three celebrations.

The Ven. Archdeacon Dr. Batty, of Nashville, Tenn., officiated at all the services and met numbers of the congregation after the services, in addition to pleasantly making the acquaintance of teachers and scholars in the Sunday school.

Dr. Batty received a warm welcome here and his two months' sojourn bids fair to be a pleasant one.

The choir was fully represented and led the festival services heartily. The anthem at Evensong was Gounod's "Send out Thy Light," which was splendidly rendered.

HOW AN ENGLISH PAPER SEES IT

The London Chronicle summarizes the Johnson-Burns situation in the following words under the heading; "Black and White Artists."

"The Burns-Johnson contest is settled at last. With a few masterly sweeps of the pen, the manager of the colored man has brushed Burns aside and scored a magnificent victory for his man. The battle was a long and trying one, Burns getting in some particularly telling strokes with his facile fountain pen—which I believe was chosen by the French-Canadian and kept in a sealed box under the care of the manager of the National Sporting Club for a month prior to the contest—but all his finessing was futile against the masterly cross-counter which took the following form—From this date I claim the championship for Jack Johnston, who, I may add, is ready to defend it at all times and against all comers, giving Burns the first chance.

"All Burns' ability, agility, facility and everything else were useless against this clever knock-out blow, and when one takes a retrospective mind over this match one cannot help thinking that the verdict has gone the right way, for anyone who cares to refer to his shorthand notes of the contest will find that Burns has been defeated by about twenty letters to editors and ten inspired articles to something like half the number of points. Whatever may be said of Burns' victory over Marvin Hart, who beat Johnson, counts for nothing against the wonderful deliberation of such a sentence as "I claim the championship"—on paper. It was a black-and-white contest in more senses than one."

THE MEETING WAS MOST INTERESTING

Large Attendance of Men at the Y.M.C.A. Yesterday

"Christ, the Miracle Worker," was the subject of the address given by Mr. S. C. Moore, of the T. Kinnear Co., at the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon at 4 p.m. The speaker took up the different miracles of Christ while here on earth, and showed how wonderful they were and the marvelous power of Christ, the Son of God. He also spoke of the miracles being wrought to-day through Christ, how men's lives was changed completely through the wonderful power of Christ. The meeting was very interesting.

SPORTING

THE PETES WON COBOURG GAME

Home Team Retired in Ninth With Three Men on Bases

The Peterborough baseball team defeated Cobourg in a league game at the lakeside town on Saturday 9-6. They now head the league with two wins and no losses. Cobourg had a Rochester battery for the game but the Petes drove the twirler out of the box and McKinnon took his place. The Petes were in trouble several times but managed to pull themselves out. When the home team was retired in the ninth innings they had the bases full and a hit would have won the game, or tied the score at least. Clemens pitched great ball and retired the side without any further scoring.

SIMPSON STRONG SAYS GLOBE

The first business was to line up the Marathon athletes and get them off. Lawson allowed Caffery to lead him round in the one-mile grand stand parade but he seemed determined to cut out the pace in the open country from first to last. He finished the freshest of all but the Indian, and on Saturday's showing he would certainly have extended Longboat at his best. It would have been a great race that Wood of Brantford and Goldsboro had been dreaming of the finishing tape for miles, but Simpson, the Peterborough Indian would have gone many more metres. If he had had a hot man to bring him along at the outgoing he would have cut minutes off his time.—Globe.

IN PRAISE OF FRED SIMPSON

A Great Worker in the Matter of Training

Fred Simpson is certainly to be congratulated on his great showing in the Marathon 25 mile run on Saturday. To come fourth in a big field of starters representing the cream of Canadian distance men is an athletic accomplishment of note.

He finished fresh and felt well, and his superb condition must be attributed in no small degree to his trainer, Dick Baker.

Simpson is a faithful worker and has gotten into great shape by the intelligent and persistent course of training he has pursued. He goes about his training quietly but nevertheless gets the work in and deserves much commendation for his regular habits and the splendid care he takes of himself.

LACROSSE

The Y.M.C.A. men had a good practice at Riverside Park Saturday evening. There was a good turnout and an hour's hard work was put in. The team will practice at Nicholls Oval tonight.

WEST PETERBOROUGH LOYAL TO WHITNEY

T. E. Bradburn Returned by Substantial Majority Over G. A. Gillespie —City Rolled up Majority For Conservative Candidate.

Mr. Gillespie Made a Good Run in the Country and His Friends are Pleased With His Showing—Jubilation Among Conservatives Over the Splendid Victory Achieved.

DEMONSTRATION AT SUCCESS OF CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE

Two Bands and Regimental Buglers Aided in Celebration of the Victory and Big Crowd Cheered for the Re-elected Representative of West Peterborough—Jubilant Procession From Committee Rooms

It has been said that the election has been the quietest of any ever held in Peterborough, and to quite an extent this statement is true, but the Conservatives have been working quietly and persistently, and anyway the majority of the voters were convinced of the worth of the local representative to the Provincial House and the progressiveness and honesty of the Whitney Administration as was shown by the outcome of the election. All through the campaign the Conservative party had been confident of victory, and it was no surprise when the result of the election was known. Nevertheless it was not accepted in a quiet way, and much enthusiasm towards Mr. Bradburn was shown by his supporters.

It was a very highly delighted crowd that heard the returns announced from the Review office. At first they assumed an air of quiet satisfaction rather than loud rejoicing, and the demeanor of the gathering was that of a body of supporters pleased that everything had come out as they had anticipated. However, as the evening grew later so did the enthusiasm increase, and much cheering was heard as the sweeping triumph of the Conservative party throughout the Province became known.

Two bands were employed by the glad electors, the Peterborough band and the 57th. The former came early in the evening and played in front of the Review office as the election results were thrown on the canvas.

Between 8.30 and 9 o'clock the 57th band played in front of the Conservative committee rooms, which have been the scene recently of so many rallies in Mr. Bradburn's interests, and then marched over towards the Review office, followed by a large body of the Conservative candidate's loyal friends. At the head of the procession were carried aloft the Union Jack and a large likeness of the Premier of Ontario and the successful candidate. The crowds immediately gathered round in greater numbers and cheered heartily for Mr. Bradburn and this able leader. With two bands playing alternately the returns coming in rapidly and moving pictures and slides interspersed there was plenty to enliven and entertain the big gathering. The 57th bugle band also turned out and joined in the general celebration.

The occasion was a festive one in a political sense. When the band and the procession proceeded from the committee rooms, skyrockets, Roman candles and other fireworks were much in evidence, and the surroundings were given in an almost constant illumination during its course. And this also continued after the triumphal march had ceased at the point where the returns were being shown on the sheet. Conservative victories came in with a regularity that became almost monotonous. There was never the least doubt in the minds of the supporters that Ontario's Prime Minister would be returned to power, and yet it was, to say the least, most comforting to see the hopes confirmed of those who voted for a continuance of that clean administration that has done so much for the upbuilding and general welfare of Ontario.

At about five o'clock in the afternoon, when it was time that the returns should be coming in from different polling booths in the city, the citizens began to come to the Review office to see how the candidates had been supported in the several sections of the city. The bulletin service given them was most satisfactory, and at six o'clock it was known that Mr. Bradburn had been elected in Peterborough by a majority of over 500. At this hour there were two or three polling subdivisions to hear from, and the return from the city were received in full at about seven o'clock, giving the Conservative candidate a majority of 571.

As was expected from the fact that Mr. Gillespie was so well-known on account of business relations and had such a wide personal acquaintance among the voters in the agricultural districts of West Peterborough, the county went largely for him. However, Mr. Bradburn's local majority was much too large for the result of the election to be effected by the support given his opponent in the farming community.

One of the outstanding features of the evening was the addresses given in the balcony from a second story window on the west side of the Oriental Hotel. All the speakers were listened to with great attention, and their remarks were frequently interrupted by cheering and applause, Mr. Bradburn being given a particularly cordial reception. The balcony was an excellent place to deliver their remarks from and they were distinctly heard by the large audience assembled below.

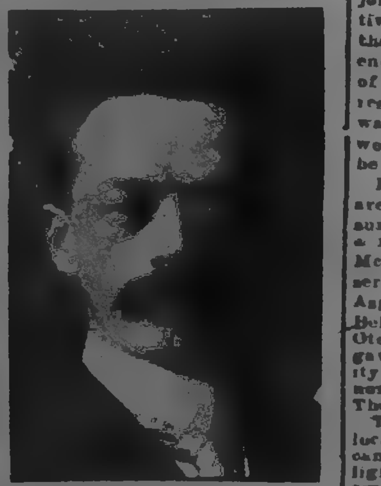
Those who spoke were Mr. James Kendry, ex-M.P., chairman; Mr. Bradburn, M.P.P.; Mr. J. H. Burnham, Conservative nominee for the Dominion House; Ald. Phelan and Mr. C. L. Owen, M.P., of Campbellford.

THOMPSON HAS OVERHELMING MAJORITY IN EAST RIDING

Conservative Candidate Will Have Majority of About 800 Over Ex-Warden McNulty—Great Turnover in Favor of Good Government.

Special to the Review.

Havelock, June 9.—East Peterborough has elected Warden Thompson, the Conservative candidate, by a majority of about 800. The Conservatives have redeemed the riding and the electors have given an emphatic endorsation of the progressive policy of the Whitney Government. The result was a surprise, for while it was expected that Mr. Thompson would carry the riding no one thought he would have a majority of 800.



WARDEN J. THOMPSON
Conservative Candidate Elected in East Peterborough.

Full returns for the whole riding are not yet available, but it is assured that Mr. Thompson will have a majority of at least 800 over Mr. McNulty. Dummer gave the Conservative candidate a majority of 156, Asphodel 10, Norwood 5, Havelock 156, Belmont 300, and Lakefield 117. Otonabee broke about even, Douro gave Mr. McNulty a small majority and it is expected that the far north will do the same for Mr. Thompson.

There was great rejoicing in Havelock last night when the result became known. There was a torchlight procession, fireworks and general jubilation. Mr. Thompson's victory was exceedingly popular and Havelock let itself loose in honor of the event.

The people of Ontario know a good thing when they see it. Although a desperate effort had been made by the Liberal press and Liberal politicians to discredit the Whitney Government, the electors were not to be deceived. The campaign of misrepresentation was detected as much by the people of the province and a crushing blow has been administered to that kind of politics. The electors have shown by the battle of the ballots that they want Hon. J. P. Whitney at the head of affairs of Ontario and another period of the honest, careful and progressive administration that has prevailed for the past three and a half years.

In West Peterborough the fight was a clean one, with one or two minor exceptions, and the two candidates, Mr. Bradburn and Mr. Gillespie can meet to-day, shake hands and be the best of friends. The winner deserves credit for the splendid victory achieved. Mr. Gillespie need not be ashamed of the showing he has made. He had an uphill fight all the way, but stayed with it gamely and made a most creditable showing. He was espousing a poor cause and it was generally conceded from the opening of the campaign that his chances of election were very small.

Mr. Bradburn can feel that the policy of his leader is endorsed by the electorate of West Peterborough and that they appreciate what he has done.

Warden Thompson Carried East Peterborough by About 800 Majority Over Ex-Warden McNulty —Conservative Gain in East Riding

Whitney Swept the Province and Will Have Big Majority in the Legislature—The Electors Endorse the Progressive Policy of the Conservative Party—How Peterborough Celebrated.

MR. BRADBURN EXPRESSED THANKS TO THE ELECTORS

Interesting Addresses Last Evening—Mr. Jas. Kendry Chairman—Mr. C. L. Owen, M. P., of Campbellford, Mr. J. H. Burnham and Others Spoke—Mr. Bradburn Greeted With Cheers

In introducing the candidate elect Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., Mr. Kendrey expressed his gratitude to the electors of Peterborough for the magnificent way they had supported the Conservative candidate and returned the Whitney government to power. The Conservatives had worked faithfully for their candidate and they had achieved a grand victory. Mr. Kendrey also thanked the Liberals who had been liberal enough to support the best man.

MR. BRADBURN, M.P.P.

On coming forward to speak, Mr. Bradburn was greeted with cheer after cheer and the crowd was most enthusiastic in manifesting their satisfaction at the result of the election. Mr. Bradburn was the people's man and they certainly were loud in their manifestation that he was, last night. In speaking, Mr. Bradburn said that the people had amply shown that there was no government equal to that of Premier Whitney. Four years ago he said that he had been elected by a large majority and this time he was returned to Parliament with a handsome, although not as large a vote.

"But it was a straight Conservative vote," shouted an enthusiast from among the crowd.

Mr. Bradburn thanked the people for the confidence they had placed in him and assured them that he would do all in his power to further the interests of the riding he represented. He also heartily thanked those who had so ardently worked on his behalf. Much time had been spent in strenuous labor during the campaign and he desired to express his sincere appreciation of the services they had rendered.

Mr. Bradburn was again loudly cheered and when his picture was thrown on the canvass the crowd was unceasing in their praise for the member of West Peterborough.

MR. J. H. BURNHAM.

The chairman introduced Mr. Burnham as the member who would represent West Peterborough in the House of Commons at the next Dominion election. This remark was greeted with applause. Mr. Burnham hoped that Mr. Borden would receive in his election such a magnificent vote as had Mr. Whitney.

The Conservatives had stood together well and had worked hard. Mr. Whitney had done his level best and the people yesterday had shown that they were satisfied with his government. MacKay had said that the people trusted him and his party but the large majority accorded the Conservatives yesterday was an evidence of the confidence they placed in him.

ALD. PHELAN.

Ald. Phelan said that he was delighted with the result of the day, and felt proud of the glorious victory the Conservatives had achieved. Peterborough would be well represented in Parliament and her interests would be well looked after.

MR. C. L. OWEN, M.P.

The chairman took great pleasure in introducing Mr. C. L. Owen, M.P., of Campbellford, member in the Dominion House for East Northumberland who delivered a brief but pointed address.

He was glad to be present to extend congratulations from Northumberland to Mr. Bradburn and the Conservatives of Peterborough. "Peterborough can send two representatives to the Legislature," said the speaker, "and it proves that the sentiment is strongly Conservative." Mr. Owen said that down in Ottawa the Liberals thought that the Opposition had no rights but the Conservatives were going to prove to them that they had.—Applause. The Conservative party had a grand leader in Mr. R. L. Borden.—Applause—and he hoped that at the next election he would be made Prime Minister.—Cheers. He was sure under his leadership the people would have an honest government and would have their rights.

MR. J. G. M. WILSON.

Mr. Wilson was the last speaker. He said that the Conservative party trusted the people and the people trusted them. Mr. Wilson spoke in enthusiastic praise of the Whitney administration and the good work of Mr. Bradburn.

Mr. Kendrey in bringing the meeting to a close proposed three cheers for the King, Premier Whitney and Mr. Bradburn. Three cheers for the chairman was also given by the gentlemen in the balcony.

SOME NOTES OF THE FRAY; ECHOES OF THE BIG VICTORY

Mr. Bradburn's Workers Deserve Great Credit—Celebration Was Most Orderly—Joy Reigned Among the Conservatives.

Well!

Well! Well!

Well! Well! Well!

It was a great victory.

There was jubilation last night.

But it was all in the Conservative camp.

The "last awful week" cry did not have much effect on the electors.

The two Peterboroughs did their duty nobly and their representatives will be on the right side of the House.

Last night's victory was celebrated most orderly. No one was hurt and no damage was done.

Of course some damage was done to the Grits' feelings, but they will get over that in time.

"How will Laurier like this?" someone shouted when Mr. Owen, M.P., of Campbellford, was speaking last night.

There was a beautiful display of fireworks. But they didn't soar higher than the spirits of the Conservatives.

The kindness of the management of the Oriental Hotel in providing a

THE ELECTION

We are not believers in triumphing over fallen foes, especially when those "foes" are our own countrymen and fellow-citizens. There is in our opinion as a rule a disposition to do a little too much of it. Nevertheless it is pardonable in those who have worked hard and fairly, to look back with a certain degree of satisfaction on "the state of the poll." First of all let us state that Mr. Gillespie proved a good candidate in every sense of the word. He suffered a little from his friends, although Messrs. R. R. Hall, MP, who went with him through the north country holding meetings and canvassing, Hon J. R. Stratton who worked might and main on paper and "in the pulpit" for him at this end, R. F. McWilliams Ex-Mayor G. M. Roger, F D. Kerr and other well-known speakers—all these gentlemen worked their hardest and did their level best night and day. In a word it may be said that the full strength of the Liberal organization was beaten by the full strength of the Conservative organization. It was the first pitched battle on even terms with a secret ballot and it proved a signal victory for the Conservatives. As we ventured to prophesy in making up our forecast the C.G.E. and Tax-threat proved serious handicaps to the Liberal side. Without them we should have won by probably 200 over all, which it must be admitted is a big majority in this riding under perfectly fair conditions. The province has gone heavily for the Power Policy and successful finance. Mr. Whitney's majority is so large as to make the House practically unanimous. To Mr. McNulty we on behalf of Mr. Thompson, and all Conservatives extend our hand: He is a perfectly fair fighter and a clever man but he fought under "adverse conditions."

The local Conservative organisation was a tower of strength in fact we may say two towers of strength. The Liberal organisation suffered from over confidence—on their own part. To all and sundry we say "Canadians all, good luck!"

THE OTTAWA STRUGGLE

The public justly desires a plain statement concerning the struggle at Ottawa over the Aylesworth Election Bill.

In the fourth month of the session, Mr. Aylesworth introduced his Bill to amend the Election Act, during the bill promised at the opening of three successive sessions, and after the Conservative bill for election reform has been introduced by Mr. Alcorn. The Conservative Bill is directed against fraud and corruption, and does not touch Provincial control of the franchise or voters' lists in any province.

The Aylesworth Bill contains two features on which the whole contest turns. One is that it takes from certain selected provinces the control of their election lists and gives it to partisan appointees of the Dominion Government to be exercised when the campaign is in progress. The other destroys the secrecy of the vote by providing that ballots numbered or marked by returning officers shall be counted.

"The last mentioned feature does not need discussion, but it will be condemned on its face. It simply authorises and encourages such election frauds as were exposed in the London conspiracy case.

The other feature is set forth in Clause One providing that in portion of Ontario and Quebec not municipally organised, and in the whole of Manitoba and British Columbia British Columbia "Voters' lists shall be prepared immediately after the issue of any writ for an election—or at any time when the Governor-in-Council so directs; and for the purpose of preparing and giving effect to such voters' lists the Governor-in-Council may appoint all necessary officers and confer upon all them all necessary powers." It also declares that no person whose name is not included in the voters' list so prepared and revised shall be entitled to vote."

As to Quebec and Ontario the obvious purpose is to gather in the vote of transient labourers on the Transcontinental and to authorise "bush polls." British Columbia and Manitoba especially the latter are sentenced to discrimination and loss of political rights because they have driven the Liberal machine from power. The authors of this tyrannical measure are a group of Manitoba political adventurers the inventors of the "red line" crime of 1904 expelled from authority at home, and now conspiring at Ottawa against the liberties of their own province. Knowing that the indignant people of Manitoba, if left to their own choice, would remove them from the House of Commons, they have devised this scheme to obtain by manipulation of the voters' lists an election otherwise impossible.

By this Bill absolute authority to say who shall vote is handed over on the eve of election to partisan appointees, chosen at Campaign time by the Government candidates and not required by the measure to have the slightest legal, educational or moral qualification. This is decreed by a party and a Government, solemnly pledged to maintain provincial control of franchise and election lists. The province primarily selected for this invasion is the one with the most advanced, most complete and most judicial system of electoral revision in Canada, having annual revisions performed by judges and giving all possible guarantees of fairness. It is a system so exact and just, that large rewards have been offered in vain for the name of a single person improperly omitted from registration while similar challenges made in Parliament to advocates of the Aylesworth Bill have failed to bring out a single modern instance of injustice.

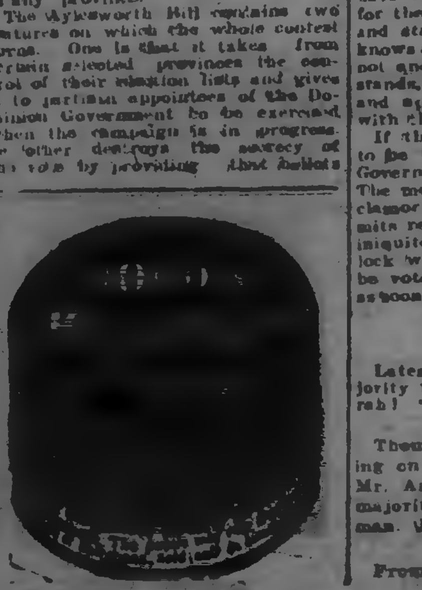
It is not to be expected that the people of Manitoba would tamely submit to have their carefully and judicially prepared voters' lists thrown aside, and to go to the polls with lists made in the heat of election strife by a gang of campaign heelers, such as were employed in the fraudulent manipulations of 1904. Had the Opposition at Ottawa allowed this despotic scheme to be carried through, they would have been traitors to the provinces attacked and also to their own which might be the next assailed. They would also have been responsible for the serious consequences which would certainly have followed the attempt to apply so obnoxious a measure.

Sir Wilfrid's friends plead that he has promised to amend this clause. But the simple fact is that the Premier has offered no amendment and given no statement to show what he means to do. The bill stands as it stood when introduced in March, and when explained in May by the Minister of Justice. Throughout the whole of May Sir Wilfrid Laurier has hesitated and evaded the issue. Driven one way by Mr. Sifton and his following of discredited land and timber-grabbing adventurers and on the other by the influence of consistent Liberals and the dictates of honesty and decency, he has, so far, left the bill as it originally stood.

The Premier now knows that his Western advisers deceived him in 1903 for the bill which they then secretly prepared and printed at the Government Bureau was exhibited in the House after Sir Wilfrid had repeatedly denied its existence, while its authors sat round and allowed him to mislead Parliament. He knows now that his former Minister of Justice, the present Chief Justice of Canada, kicked out in 1903 the same measure which Mr. Sifton and his friends have found Mr. Aylesworth ready to take up. The Prime Minister is sick and ashamed of the whole miserable business, but has not yet found the nerve to bring it to an end. While he has been beating about the bush business of Parliament has been delayed. If there is any obstruction the obstructors are Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his colleagues.

Meanwhile Mr Borden and the Opposition members have tried their best to get a positive statement of what the Government intends to do. They declared at the beginning that they were willing to agree to any provision made necessary by the "overlapping" of constituencies and they have waited in vain week after week for the Premier to make up his mind and state his intention. Sir Wilfrid knows and admits that the Bill cannot and should not go through as it stands, but has offered no amendment and appears to be helpless to deal with the emergency.

If the business of the country is to be done it is high time that this Government obstruction should cease. The moment Sir Wilfrid, despite the clamor of his Western supporters, submits reasonable amendments to the iniquitous Aylesworth Bill, the deadlock will be broken,—estimates will be voted and the session will close as soon as possible.



EDITORIAL NOTES

Thompson by 800! What was going on over there anyhow? The late Mr. Anderson, M.P.P., had 174 of a majority. Mr. McNulty was a good man. But Thompson by 800! Gee!

From reports coming in there may have to be a few prosecutions, just to teach some people that the law is not as it used to be. This should not be neglected. It is to the interest of both parties.

There was a good joke when a vote was taken, owing to the fact that the motion required a three-fifth vote—a thing which, in regard to local option, the conference was trying to abolish.—Daily Warder.

The above is clipped from the Warder's report of the proceedings of the Methodist Conference which is now in session in Lindsay.

There was a crowd of not less than five thousand people in front of the Review Office last night hearing speeches and returns. The enthusiasm was tremendous. Mr. Owens, M. P., made a good speech. How it was that no one was hurt was a mystery. Carriages, women, children, bands, rockets, etc., were all mixed up and going strong. The street was packed. The Review did itself proud.

Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., did better with this end of the campaign in the north country than Mr. Stratton in this end, apparently. Mr. Bradburn should have had a majority "up north." He has done well by that part of the country, if not by some of the electors who used to get more than the roads did.

People like a fair fight and that C.G.E. Coercion Act followed up by the tax-notice was a little too much. Poor strategy!

The elector who considers it a venial offence to sell his vote as the Examiner once remarked, got very little for it yesterday. A number of "the free and independent" wanted to sell but apparently did not find buyers. The law is too strict and easily put in motion now-a-days.

London. June 6—Rev. Father Vaughan, a brother of the late cardinal and pastor of a fashionable church here, watched Tommy Burns, the Canadian pugilist, knock Jack O'Keefe about the ring last night. The fight took place in Whitechapel, and ran two exhibition rounds for the benefit of the Catholic society. After the bout Father Vaughan jumped into the ring, patted Burns on the shoulder and then stood for a photograph alongside the pugilist. In a speech later the priest declared that Burns is a great moral lesson as well as a lesson in physique. He eulogized boxing as a healthful sport. — Exchange.

Ottawa—The existing depression is making itself felt in the revenue of the country. The customs returns for May show the very large decrease of $1,764,582.07 when compared with the same month last year. The figures are:

1907-08	5,333,253 63
1908-09	7,018,638.80
Decrease	2,783,086.80

—Trade Review

The decline of trade and the rise of our railway and other liabilities should have precluded the useless extravagances to which the Laurier government has committed itself. It looks as if some of the members of the cabinet and other officials were putting the country to no end of cost in order that they may gather in the titular decorations handed out on such occasions as the Quebec celebration.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 8.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards West End Market the receipts of live stock for the week ending June 6 were 2613 cattle, 1050 sheep and lambs, 4148 hogs and 446 calves. The offerings for the local trade this morning consisted of 800 cattle, 500 sheep and lambs, 2200 hogs and 100 calves.

There has been no further change in the condition of the market for sheep and yearling lambs, prices having ruled about steady at the reduction noted a week ago. Supplies have been coming forward more freely, for which there is a fairly good local demand, and trade was more active this morning than it has been in this line for some weeks past. Sales of sheep were made at 4½c to 5c, and yearling lambs at 6c to 6½c per lb. Spring lambs were more plentiful and met with a good sale at prices ranging from $3 to $5 each. The demand for calves continues good, of which the offerings are decreasing, and prices are firmer, but show no actual advance, sales being made at from $6 to $8 for good to choice, and at $1.50 to $5 each for lower grades.

The market for live hogs was weaker, and prices declined 15c to 25c per 100 lbs., owing to heavy supplies. The sales of selected lots were at $6.50 per 100 lbs., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. Allow no one to deceive you in this. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but Experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

THE QUEBEC ELECTIONS THE CONSERVATIVES GAIN

Three More Contests—Mr. Bourassa Defeats Premier Gouin—Hon. P. E. Leblanc Also Out in Laval—Nationalists Get Three Seats—Severe BloW for the Supporters of the Ministry

Montreal, June 9.—Although the Government came back numerically strong at the general elections, which took place yesterday in the Province of Quebec, some very severe blows were rained down on the Ministerial supporters, the worst of which being the defeat of Prime Minister Gouin in the St. James' division.

No one felt that any other result could happen if the vote could be got out, and a thousand votes must have been switched for the Premier at the very last moment, as the current is overwhelmingly strong for Mr. Bourassa, who was also probably returned for the County of St. Hyacinthe by a very narrow majority. In fact it is so narrow that the Liberals are claiming the seat. There is no doubt, however, about St. James, and a more crestfallen lot of politicians would be hard to meet than the members of the Ministerial party last evening. Of course it is a tremendous personal triumph for the M.P.P. for St. James, as the Liberal party went systematically to work to kill Bourassa and Lavergne politically for all time to come.

Kaw River Amuck.

Topeka, Kas., June 9.—Yesterday afternoon there was a break in the Kaw river bank, 500 yards wide at the Big Bend of the river a mile and a half west of North Topeka. This water appeared to be about four feet in depth and swept down into North Topeka flowing across Gordon street. Soon many houses had been flooded to the depth of four feet.

According to the weather bureau here there are great probabilities of a repetition of the floods of 1904, when much damage was done in this vicinity. It s positively stated, however, that the great flood of a year previous, that of 1903, when millions of dollars damage was done, will not be approached.

Prominent Man Suicides.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 9.—The body of Conge W. Arndt, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Mines, was found yesterday in a room in the Hotel Rosslyn, where Arndt evidently had shot himself during the night.

The dead man was formerly prominent in New York insurance circles. Ill-health is assigned as the probable cause.

WHITNEY SWEPT PROVINCE; LIBERALS BADLY BEATEN

Whitney Government Again Returned With Increased Majority—Liberals Badly Beaten—Only Eighteen Representatives in the New Legislature—People Stand Firm for Power Policy—Hon. Nelson Monteith Goes Down—What the Premier Says

Toronto, June 9.—Nothing like Premier Whitney's triumph was ever conceived of in Ontario before. Hon. Oliver Mowat's biggest majority was 32. Hon. J. Sandfield Macdonald was satisfied with 16. Premier Whitney is sustained by a majority which at the time of writing, looks like 71.

"I haven't much to say to-night," said the Premier about 10 o'clock, when nearly all the returns were in, "except that the result is beyond my expectations. I had hoped, with good reason as I thought, to have our old majority. The result shows considerably more than that, and I am very thankful to the people for their endorsation."

It is not difficult to account for the victory. In the first place the most popular plank in any platform was placed before the electorate and the banner of cheap Niagara power was kept in the forefront of the Conservative ranks.

But beyond this the Whitney Government had been absolutely honest. For the one or two matters in which they metw ith criticism no qeustion was ever raised as to the intention of the Government to act in the best interests of the province in a business and administrative capacity.

Consider how incessant is the use to which the eyes are put and how exact the adjustment demanded for sight always equal and adapted to every change in position and distance.

The nerve compels the eye to these instant adjustments, but with destroying over effect if there by defects in the refractive media or muscular system.

Thus the simple act of seeing, when done despite such defects, requires an expenditure of nervous force which, though unrecognized, is unremittingly and abnormally great. Don't procrastinate if you have these symptons, but come to the

CHINESE HELP HARD TO GET

Resturaunt Keepers and Laundry Men Find it Difficult to Secure Employees

There is not such a great influx of Chinamen into Canada at present as there was about three or four years ago and Chinese laundries and restaurants are finding it difficult to secure sufficient help particularly in the hot weather.

Many of the parties of young men going out camping employ Chinese cooks and this to a great extent accounts for the scarcity of men for the restaurants and laundries. The situation applies here as well as in other places and the difficulty referred to prevails locally at the present moment. The men who do take employment demand big wages.

ARRIVED TOO LATE TO VOTE

Mr. Armstrong of the Cavendish Co. Drove Many Miles But Did Not Get to Polling Division in Time

Mr. Armstrong of North Monaghan was a disappointed man last evening when he found that he was not going to be able to vote. Mr. Armstrong was working back in Anstruther with the Cavendish Lumber Company. He left in time as he thought to reach his polling division in North Monaghan but was unable to make the grade. He only reached Lakefield about the time the polls closed and on seeing that he would be unable to vote he remained over night in Lakefield and came into the city this morning. Mr. Armstrong is a staunch Conservative and deeply regretted he was unable to cast his vote for Mr. Bradburn. However he was glad to hear of his victory.

Toronto wants its engineering department reorganized and next week a committee, appointed by the city council will take up the matter.

REVIEW BULLETINS SHOWED PROGRESS OF THE FIGHT

Returns From the Two Peterboroughs and the Whole Province Were Given With Great Promptness—Hundreds Took Advantage of the Excellent Service Furnished—Much Praise for C. P. R. Telegraph Co.

The Review bulletin service last night was voted the best ever by the hundreds of people who took advantake of it. The returns for Peterborough city were practically completed at a quarter to six o'clock and a Review extra was on the street at half-past five with the returns up to that time and were in great demand. They were issued every few minutes afterwards till seven o'clock being revised as the results from the different polling sub-divisions came in. The returns were also placed on a large bulletin board in front of the office and hundreds gathered to watch the progress of the fight. It was apparent from the first that Mr. Bradburn was the victor and as the returns kept coming in his majority continued to roll up.

The Review also gave an excellent bulletin service for the province. It was enabled to do so by the placing of a special wire in the office by the C.P.R. Telegraph Company and as usual, when the C.P.R. Telegraph Company is in charge of the service, it was prompt, accurate and satisfactory in every respect. Mr. Bert Turnbull was in charge at the ticker and did his work well.

The returns for the province started to come in about 5.30 and up to about 8.30 were bulletined in front of the office. The lantern service could not be brought into use till late in the evening, as it was too light outside. When it was brought into use the returns were thrown on a large canvas across the street and cheers filled the air as it was announced repeatedly that the Conservatives were carrying seat after seat. When there were no returns to bulletin, pictures of the candidates, Hon. Mr. Whitney and other prominent politicians were thrown on the canvas as well as a number of moving pictures that made a great hit with the big crowd. The motion pictures were a new feature in connection with the election bulletins here and were greatly appreciated. The crowd remained in front of the office until after ten o'clock and increased in numbers till Hunter street was literally jammed. With two bands playing in front of the office, fireworks illuminating the sky and the elated Conservatives cheering themselves hoarse, it was a sight long to be remembered.

It is interesting to note that the first return to come in was from polling sub-division No. 5, at J. J. Turner & Son's establishment. The figures were bulletined at the Review Office before fifteen minutes after five. The second to be bulletined was polling sub-division No. 18, Hamiltons' shop in Ward Five.

WHAT THE CANDIDATES SAY

Mr. Bradburn Contributes His Victory to Splendid Organization and the Good Cause.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., the successful Conservative candidate, is naturally highly pleased with the result of the election. He feels deeply grateful to the electors for the magnificent majority given him yesterday. He contributes his victory to the splendid organization of the Conservative Association, every member of which worked hard and faithfully for their representative. Nothing was left undone to obtain a glorious victory and Mr. Bradburn is deeply grateful to all those who worked on his behalf.

"I consider the victory even a greater one than that of the last election. We were up against a hard proposition and the Grits put up a determined fight to capture West Peterborough. We were well organized, however, and were espousing a good cause, hence the splendid achievement."

Mr. Gillespie Takes His Defeat With Good Grace and Considers He Did Well

"Taking into consideration that I had to fight against the party in power and that this campaign was the first time I had ever appeared on a public platform, I consider that I made a very good showing," said Mr. Gillespie, the Liberal candidate, this morning to the Review. "I had a big majority to reduce and it certainly was brought down considerably."

Mr. Gillespie said that he thought if he had another week to canvass the electors of the city there would have been a different story. He said that the Liberals were poorly organized and in some of the polling booths men were working who had not any experience and were at a loss to know what to do.

"I am highly satisfied with the result," said Mr. Gillespie in conclusion.

THE REPLY EFFECTIVE WHAT WAS SAID IN WARD ONE

The reply of the C.G.E. employees to the "request" that certain of their men should be called off was three hundred and nine majority for Bradburn in that division. It must strike the most casual mind as peculiar that "these men" were not only called off during work hours but during the outside hours as well, generally known as strictly "their own time." Why were they not liberated from the ban during off hours. Moreover not a single complaint materialized. The whole thing was made out of whole cloth and not one particle of evidence was advanced against the accused men. However "309" will teach somebody a lesson. It comes high but they had to have it—and they will get more. The text threat was very juvenile. It was hardly worth recording but it counted all the same.

BOARD OF HEALTH HAD LIGHT SESSION THIS MORNING

The session of the Board of Health this morning was a short one and no measures of a complicated character came up for consideration.

Those present were Dr. Burnham, Chairman; Dr. Young, Dr. McNulty, Mr. Jas. Edgar, and Mayor Rush.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted.

A letter was read from Mr. Tovey in reference to the Matthews factory; also from Messrs. Thompson and Fife in reference to the Dublin St. sewer.

It was moved by Dr. Young, seconded by Mr. Edgar, that sewer connection on Dublin St. corner of Water be ordered on sanitary grounds.—Carried.

On motion of Drs. Young and McNulty, it was decided to permit the Children's Aid Society to build a cesspool under the supervision of the medical health officer until it was found possible to establish sewer connection.

The complaint of Ald. Tovey was referred to the sanitary inspector and city engineer. The latter promised to remedy the complaint.

The medical health officer reported the city free from infectious diseases.

The board decided that the owners of terraces on both sides of McDonel streets, between Bethune St. and Stewart St., and the owners of the terrace on the south side of Sherbrooke street, between Rubidge and Park Sts., be notified to connect their buildings with the sewer.

The meeting then adjourned.

SOME NOTES OF THE FRAY

place for the speakers was greatly appreciated.

The members of the Peterborough Club received the returns at the club rooms, where the C.P.R. operated a special wire.

Mr. Gillespie polled a good vote in Ashburnham, where he resides. But even there Mr. Bradburn had a majority at one poll.

Great interest was taken in the provincial returns. Apparently there are former residents of every county in Ontario in Peterborough.

Many stalwart Conservatives from all over the county drove into Peterborough to hear the returns. And the result was very pleasing to them.

"Has MacKay, the Liberal leader, been defeated?" was a question repeatedly asked during the night. Apparently, however, there were a good many people who wanted to see him beaten.

The result was almost too one-sided to be interesting. There was no doubt as to what was going to happen once a dozen or so returns had come in.

Too bad such a good man as Mr. Gillespie had to be sacrificed. But the people were determined to have another period of good government.

The result in East Peterborough was received with great enthusiasm. Mr. Thompson has put up a splendid fight, and his victory was deservedly popular.

The music of the bands aroused the excitement to a high pitch. It was the liveliest time Peterborough has had in years.

Ald. Buller, Ald. Phelan, R. M. Waddell, "Billy" Gaddes and other Conservative workers, who did such yeoman service for Mr. Bradburn, were highly elated with the victory, and no wonder.

FRIGHTENED BY FIREWORKS

Horse Ran onto the Sidewalk and Caused a Panic Among the Women and Children

A serious accident was narrowly averted last evening on George St. Fireworks were being let off fast and furious. A horse going down the street became frightened and ran on to the sidewalk causing a panic among the women and children. They screamed loudly and from the noise they made one would have thought they were all being murdered. Fortunately they all escaped unhurt.

The delicious flavor of "Salada" Tea is largely due to the care used in the cultivation and preparation and to the fact that it is packed in sealed lead packages, which prevents its coming in contact with articles that would affect its flavor.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Special to the Review.

Mount Pleasant, June 8. — Miss Yates, of Warrickshire, England, and Miss Bates, of Indiana, gave addresses to the local branch of the Women's Institute on Friday. The subjects were, "Household Economics," "Demonstrations of Cooking," "Pantry" and "Short Steps in the Kitchen," all of which were creditably handled before appreciative audiences. The evening meeting included men and was enlivened by a programme which included, besides the addresses from Miss Yates and Mrs. Bates, songs by the Public school children, a recitation by Mr. Hubert Gardner, a reading by T. W. McLean, and speeches by Mr. W. S. Graham and Mr. J. A. Vance, President of the East Durham Farmers' Institute. After the presentation of a vote of thanks to all the evening's entertainers, the national anthem concluded the meeting. The success of which is in a large measure, due to Mrs. C. H. Shield, president of the local branch.

Mr. Harry Bland, as delegate of our local branch of Foresters, is attending the meeting of the High Court at Niagara Falls, Ontario.

The Durham Old Boys' excursion is announced for July 8th to Niagara Falls via Gorge route.

The work of draining the Long Swamp is progressing steadily.

SIX MONTHS FOR "ANDY" FAWCETT

Just Released From Gaol This Morning—Asked to be Sent Back

Andy Fawcett, an inmate of the county gaol, was released this morning after a six months' term. He immediately came down to the police station and asked to be sent back for another term of six months. He is an old man over seventy years of age without home or money. His Worship filled out the necessary papers and Fawcett went back to the gaol.

OBITUARY

MRS. TIMOTHY CROWLEY.

The funeral of the late Margaret Brennan, wife of Mr. Timothy Crowley, who died on Thursday, 4th, inst., at the age of 73 years, took place on Sunday last from the family residence and St. Luke's church, Downeyville, and thence to the cemetery for burial.

The funeral which was largely attended, included the following mourners: Mrs. Jno. Twomey, Ennismore, Mrs. Turcotte, daughter, Peterboro, Mrs. Thomas and Miss Jane at home.

The pall bearers were Messrs. T. Purdue, R. Purdue, P. Hurlcebe, Wm. Hurlcbe, Jas. Leary, Wm. Gillman.

The burial service was conducted by Rev. Father McGuyer who made some very touching remarks to the friends and relatives of the deceased.

The deceased leaves behind to mourn her loss her husband, four daughters and one son.

INTERESTING DEBATE HELD

Resolved that Leap Year Proposals should be Prohibited, was the subject of a debate at Knox church last night.

The affirmative was taken by Mr. Enos Mabie,
Mr. Fred Reid and
Mr. Arthur Davenport.
Negative by
Mr. Harry Wilkie
Mr. Donald McLean
Mr. Kenneth Denoon.

The audience was composed largely of ladies and it was decided by ballot that the negative had won.

The mandolin club rendered several selections; a recitation and a humorous song were given by Mr. Donald McLean, and a piano solo by Mrs. W. Patton.

The last meeting of the season will be held next Monday evening. The election of officers for the ensuing season will take place.

ONLY ONE CRIMINAL CASE IN JUNE SESSIONS OF COUNTY

County Court Opened To-day Before His Honor Judge Weller—The Address to the Grand Jury—Non-Jury Cases.

The June sessions of the County Court opened to-day at one o'clock, before His Honor Judge Weller. The members of the bar present were County Crown Attorney R. E. Wood, D. O'Connell, G. N. Gordon, and A. P. Poussette.

The following gentlemen represented the Grand Jury;—Messrs. P. F. McNulty, foreman; Jas. H. Connal, Alex. Elliott, Jas. Foster, A. B. Greenbank, Thos. Murray, John Caney; Harry Fitzgerald, Jas. P. Gillespie, Thomas Miles, W. R. G. Higgins, Jacob Snelgrove, M. S. Crough and W. E. Chamberlain.

ADDRESS TO JURY.

His Honor in addressing the jury was pleased to state that there was no one in gaol awaiting trial, although there was a man out on bail on a serious charge. At the present time there are five vagrants in the gaol.

At the building of the House of Refuge a large number of vagrants were sent there, but they only take men of the county outside the city. The city and county should get together and come to some arrangement whereby the city might send its poor to the House of Refuge. At the present time the vagrants must go to gaol.

His Honor then referred to the one jury case, that of a charge against a local resident for receiving a quantity of wheat knowing it to be stolen. The boys who committed the theft had already been convicted by the Magistrate. The judge said that not everyone who receives stolen goods is guilty. His Honor drew the attention of the jurors to the fact that to prove his guilt it would be necessary to find out whether he knew the goods to be stolen when he received them.

The jury were instructed to visit the gaol, and, if they desired to do so, also the Hospitals and the Protestant Home.

The jurors then retired.

CASE WAS SETTLED.

The case of the Port Hope Brewing & Malting Company against Geo. Armstrong, of Belleville, was settled. O'Connell & Gordon, solicitors for the defendant.

NON-JURY CASES.

The non-jury cases to come up are A. Low vs. Bremner & Co. and G. H. Howson vs. Peterborough Saska-

FRED SIMPSON MUST HAVE $250 BY TO-MORROW NIGHT

This Amount Necessary to Cover Expenses in Connection With Trip to Old Country for Marathon Run There —Subscription List at Review—A Commendable Cause.

An effort is being made to raise the sum of $250 to pay the training and other expenses in connection with the trip of Fred Simpson to England to take part in the long distance Marathon Olympic race there, the course of which will be over 26 miles, in length. The sum of two hundred and fifty dollars is absolutely necessary towards the defraying of the expenses and the figure mentioned is the lowest that could possibly cover them. This will include the amount that will be involved by Simpson taking his trainer, Dick Baker, with him.

No difficulty whatever should be experienced in getting the required sum. Fred Simpson is certainly a credit to the province and is deserving of the most generous support of the citizens of Peterborough. In spite of the fact that the great athletic organization, the Irish-Canadian Athletic Club, has been after him to join its ranks he has been loyal to Peterborough and has always run under the colors of the local YMCA, under those same colors he will start, in England.

He will be Peterborough's sole representative in the old country and the residents of this city are under a decided obligation to him. They should make it their duty to see that the $250 is raised to finance the trip of the crack Indian distance man.

Fred Simpson is a credit to the community in more ways than one. Besides his great ability as a runner, he is a splendid fellow—clean living and eminently respectable. In fact, in every way he is a fit representative of this city to the big world's event in which he will take part.

Subscription blanks have been prepared and one has been left at the Review office. Anyone wishing to subscribe anything may call at this office and do so. The Review gives the cause its heartiest approbation and would be pleased to receive contributions for the fund.

It should be borne in mind that as Simpson sails with the other athletes on Friday on the SS. Tunisian the amount asked will have to be fully subscribed by Wednesday evening as he leaves the city Thursday morning.

BATTER UP! PLAY BALL!

The baseball season is now on in full swing. There is every indication the game will boom in Peterborough this year. The Review has always looked after player and fan, and rapped out many a bit of encouragement to those who follow the sport. All managers, captains, secretaries and players are requested to send in details of any games played or news of any games to come, all of which will find space in our baseball column. There is a supply of score cards at this office suitable for recording a game by innings which are at the disposal of any team manager in the city. These cards should be filled in properly at the conclusion of the game and left at this office as soon as possible so as to insure publication in the Review without delay. Properly authenticated box scores will also be gladly received and published.

THE QUAKERS AND NORWOOD

ATHLETICS PLAY T.A.S. TO-NIGHT

Practice Game at 6.30 at Riverside Park---Full Turnout of Both Teams Requested

The following members of the T. A. S. team are requested to be at Riverside Park to-night at 6.30 for the practice game with the Athletics:

McFadden, catcher
Hayes, pitcher
Doris, 1st base.
Donahue 2nd base.
Cahill, short stop
Doherty, 3rd base
Fielders, Lecombe, C. Giroux, L. Giroux, J. Devlin, V. Corkery, and H. Quinlan.

All the Athletics are requested to be on hand as they need all the practice they possibly can get for their next league game in Port Hope on Saturday.

BASEBALL

The YMCA baseball club will practice tonight at Bunwall's field at 7 o'clock. All the men are requested to be out.

HARD ON COBOURG.

Manager Johnston's Peterborough nine defeated Cobourg on Saturday, by a score of 7 to 6. Welsburg of Rochester held down second for Cobourg but put up a very punky game. Farnum, of Charlotte, occupied the box but had to be taken out in the fourth, Peterboro having tallied six runs. McKinnon finished the game and did good work.—Port Hope Guide.

SEVERAL ENTRIES FOR THE TROPHY

The following entries are already in for the Howden trophy. Edwin Daly, L. Dobson, E Wilson, Chas Tharpe P Wallace, N Darling, M Watt, J Drysdale, J Sanderson, E Bruce, C. Walsh. Remember this contest is open to the town for all men of amateur standing.

TRENT VALLEY IS EXPANDING

Lindsay Wants to Enter---Intention to Divide League Into Two Sections

Millbrook, June 8.—The Trent Valley Lacrosse League, which started the season in an unassuming way, is branching out into a more ambitious enterprise. Lindsay club has applied for admission and Trenton has entered a team.

The intention is to divide the league into two sections. No. 1 will consist of Trenton, Belleville and Port Hope; No. 2, of Lindsay, Millbrook and the T.A.S., Y.M.C.A. and married men of Peterborough. A meeting to draw up a schedule will shortly be held.

FOOTBALL

The YMCA. football club will practice tonight at the Driving Park. The following men must be out to practice: Doris, McFadden, Lent, Evans DeForge, Scrimshaw, Archibald, McCarroll, Donaldson, Barrie, Baker, Turner, Laing, Brodie, Hagley, Huston, Crough, Cantiff, Roe, Underhill, Coleman, Thorp, Millburn.

LACROSSE

The YMCA. lacrosse club will practice tomorrow night at the Riverside park. The following men are asked to be out; R Best, R Glover, McKone H Long, Slight, Robertson, Knapp, Morgan, Dusty, J Ellis, Morris, Daly, Emmerson, Wallace, Rae, Kelly, C. Prowde, Wade, Weart, Bart, Galley.

SPORTING COMMENT

It should be the easiest matter possible to raise the $250 necessary to cover the expenses in connection with the trip to England. Subscription lists have been prepared and should be readily signed.

Chas. Lees of the Hamilton Whip Co., and who was drowned, left an estate of $100,000 and $40,000 life insurance.

STAR DOESN'T FANCY BURN

Says it Was Lucky for Him That He Didn't Run in 25 Mile Marathon—But He Shouldn't be Judged by His Time

The Toronto Star apparently hasn't any confidence in the ability of Art Burn the ex-Peterborough professional runner as compared with the other entries in the 25 mile and says "It is a lucky thing for Mr. Art Burn, of Calgary, that he wasn't in the race." There are a great many persons around here who have no confidence in Burns not in the matter of running, but from the fact that he is more or less a confidence man himself.

But the Star should not get its line on Burn's ability because his time has not been fast. Burn simply travels fast enough to rake in the shekels—at least he did around here—and he proved a very crooked athlete handing out the double cross to some of his easy mark admirers but nevertheless was a good financier from his own standpoint and made a comfortable living by his running ability during his residence in Peterborough.

MARATHON NOTES

Obstinacy in wearing new shoes cost Hans Homer, the Halifax boy, a place in the first six. His feet blistered from toe to heel.

Charlie Petch made an unexpectedly good showing. He can run, but a fly blister between his shoulders might make him do better.

Jack Caffery's day has passed.

If Tom Longboat had the head of Fred Simpson, the Hiawatha Indian, Canada would not worry about the Marathon.

None of them fight their way along to the finish like Big Chief.

The hill beyond the Halfway House killed lots of them.

Claude Pearce's ankles gave out at the 12-mile mark.

Tom Coley, says he won't go over, even if the Olympic Committee selects him.

Cotter of Burlington has been training since Xmas Day.

"What's the matter," Chandler, the B.C. champion, was asked coming in "Road was too long," was the reply.

Not more than four of the runners had ever covered a 25-mile course before.—Toronto Star.

RUNNING

Simpson, the Indian, commenced slowly, and ran a well-judged race all the way. He never tried to win, but was content with fourth place. He was never in distress and finished like a cyclone-wise Indian.—Toronto Star.

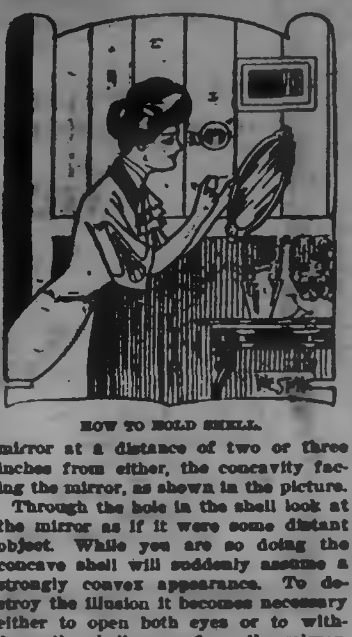
AN OPTICAL ILLUSION.

Amusing Experiment With an Eggshell and a Mirror.

An interesting experiment may be made by taking an eggshell and trimming it with the scissors so as to reduce it to a half shell. In the hollow bottom roughly draw with your pencil a cross with pointed ends. Bore a hole about the size of a pea in the center of the cross. Place yourself so as to face a window, the light falling upon your face, not upon the mirror which you hold in one hand. Close one eye. Place the shell between the other eye and the mirror at a distance of two or three inches from either, the concavity facing the mirror, as shown in the picture.



HOW TO HOLD SHELL.

Through the hole in the shell look at the mirror as if it were some distant object. While you are so doing the concave shell will suddenly assume a strongly convex appearance. To destroy the illusion it becomes necessary either to open both eyes or to withdraw the shell away from the mirror. The nearer the shell to the mirror and the farther the eye from the shell the more readily comes the illusion.—Scientific American.

THE FOOLISH KING.

Three Questions He Propounded and How They Were Answered.

Once upon a time there lived a king who was very foolish. He thought he was better than any one in his kingdom. He thought he was wiser, and he wanted to be richer. Now, there lived in his land a very rich man, who was known far and wide for his fine dinners, and when the news of this man's entertainments was made known to the king the foolish king sent for him in great wrath.

"How dare you outshine me?" thundered his majesty. "For this you shall die."

"Please, my king, let me live, and I'll do your every wish," cried the rich man.

"On one condition will I grant you your life," said the king, "and that is if you answer me three questions within the next three days. If your answers are absolutely correct and true, I will make you my prime minister; if not, off goes your head. First, tell me to the very day how long shall I live? Secondly, how long will it take me to ride around the world? Thirdly, of what am I thinking?"

The rich man went to his home and consulted his books, and on the third day he again came before the king.

"I am ready to answer your three questions.

"First.—You shall live until you breathe your last.

"Secondly.—If you rise with the sun and travel with the sun in its course, it will take you just twenty-four hours to travel around the earth.

"Thirdly.—You think I'm not such a fool as I look."

The king embraced the man and complimented him on his wisdom.

"I see," he said, "it would be a pity to cut off a head so full of learning. Rise and be my prime minister and share your wealth with me."

Greatest of Fleets.

The squadron of United States battleships now in the Pacific is unquestionably the "most magnificent and formidable" squadron ever put upon the seas. No other battle fleet mentioned in history is worthy of being compared with it in the capacity for destruction.

Conundrums.

Why is a jailer like a musician? Because he fingers the keys.

What is that which never asks a question, yet requires many answers? A doorbell.

Gifts of the Winds.

Now tell us truly, winds of spring,
What joys to childhood do you bring?
With varied arts I strive to please—
I bring warm suns and April showers,
I bring fresh buds for naked trees
And scatter growing grass with flowers.

And you, sweet summer's gentle breeze,
What gifts of yours do children please?
The joyous holiday time I bring,
The many pleasures of field and shore,
Long, sunny days at their feet I fling.
These are my gifts. Can you ask for more?

Oh, howling winds of autumn drear,
What are your joys for children dear?
I bring down nuts from brilliant trees,
And ripe fruits drop beneath my spell.
I brighten their hearts with gifts like these.
No other wind they love so well.

And now, sharp wind of winter cold,
What joys are yours? Can they be told?
I sweep with a wail over barren fields,
Best loved of all the winds that blow.
No other wind such pleasure yields
To boys and girls, for I bring snow.

WARSHIP WITHOUT GUNS.

What the Future of Battleships Will Be—Tests Awaited.

Naval designers who are looking into the future are having visions of a battleship which shall be larger than anything of the class afloat; of greater speed than existing vessels, and capable of waging battle at a distance of four miles; and this without the turreted, breech-loading rifles with their complicated mechanism of training and loading. This is as yet only a dream; but it is based on that development in the facilities of attack and the mechanism of destruction which, with the means of defence and protection, have furnished a species of warfare in themselves.

Hitherto the rivalry has been largely between the gun and the armor. On one side has been the aim to increase the power of the monster rifle so that it will hurl its huge missile of steel through the wedge of armor plate into the vitals of the ship of the enemy. On the other side there has been an almost frantic effort to thicken the shield on the hull of the ship or so compose it of elements that will lessen its weight while repelling the shell.

No one knows just how the case stands at present, and will not know until there can be some test of the gun in its attack on armor under those conditions which resemble in some degree the situation of actual warfare. The tests are now carried on at either the army or navy proving grounds, with guns at no great distance from the armor, and the armor presenting a fixed and certain target which may be attacked under the most favorable conditions.

All this is now changed by the increase in endurance of the torpedo, the most deadly of all weapons when it can be fired with accuracy, and when it lasts long enough to reach the enemy. The torpedo used to be something of a toy, except within limited range; but lately to it has been given a propulsion which will carry it two miles, with every prospect that this distance will soon be doubled. Battleships armed with torpedo tubes, which are the means of firing torpedoes, will some day be able to keep a foe at a respectable distance, and a battleship having a four-mile torpedo in its ordnance equipment will be a veritable floating terror of the sea.

The battleship which is to be designed along the lines dictated by the triumph of the torpedo will be a vessel which may easily scorn the ten and twelve-inch guns which are now carried in heavy turrets, and which shall offer no discouragement to a vessel which may fire a torpedo four miles and blow up the opposing vessel, no matter how it is freighted with turreted armament or laden with "invulnerable" armor.

The saving which may be effected by taking off the heavy guns and abandoning the turrets may be used in giving greater weight to the machinery, and so drive the ship through the water at a faster rate than is possible with battleships to-day. Some of this saving in weight may also be used to give thicker armor plates along the water line and below—wherever the torpedo is likely to strike.

Such a departure from the existing conditions furnishes many problems with which the naval designer must cope. They include such details as the storage of the torpedoes, and their rapid handling by special mechanical devices from the magazines below deck to the breech or mouth of the tubes above. Those questions will not be settled without the controversies which seem to be inseparable from naval design, construction and equipment; but for the present it will be sufficient merely to mention this interesting possibility of a gunless war vessel.

Death of Dublin's Champion Joker.

Stephen Cunningham, for many years the proprietor of the famous Ship Hotel at Dublin, was recently found hanging from the banisters of the stairs at his residence. He had suffered from insomnia, and had declared himself haunted by the dread of ending his days in an asylum. In the stormy days of the Land League Stephen, as he was popularly known, took great delight in playing tricks on English journalists who went over to study the "wild Irish." When the intended victim was introduced the conversation turned on murder plots and all kinds of unspeakable atrocities. Suddenly it was discovered that he was an interloper, and he was not allowed to make his escape till, with blood-curdling ceremonial, he was sworn to dead secrecy, and enrolled as a member of a secret society. Once a Scotch reporter escaped from Stephen's clutches, hastened home to Glasgow, and wrote for his paper a vivid account, four solid columns in length, of his experiences amongst desperadoes of Dublin.

London's Water Supply.

In the array of staggering figures given in the annual report of the Metropolitan Water Board the most impressive are those which express London's yearly consumption of water. In the twelve months this amounted to the stupendous total of 82,125,249,347 gallons, representing a daily average supply per head of little under 33 gallons (nearly three hundredweights of water), or considerably over 50 gallons a year for every man, woman, and child living on the entire earth to-day. It is impossible for the unaided mind to realize what the year's supply of 82,125 million gallons really means. It helps us a little to say that this quantity of water would fill a reservoir a mile square to a depth so great that, if St. Paul's Cathedral were dropped into it, the top of the cross would be more than 100 feet below the surface of the reservoir. The area of this metropolitan lake would be little less than that of the City of London itself.

Love In One Octave.

Sunday, Madge, you seemed so fair
Love, the rascal, came to bind me.
Monday morn I feared your stare.
Tuesday you thought fit to mind me.
Wednesday—well, perhaps you'd care.
Thursday saw you lips resigned me.
Friday came the solitaire,
Saturday the vows that bind me!

FLOODS IN FAR WEST.

Bridges Carried Away by Mountain Streams—Buildings In Danger.

MacLeod, June 9.—As hours pass floods from the mountain streams are growing more serious. Old Man river is now a raging, resistless torrent. At an early hour it carried away the approach of the C. & E. Railway. The Lethbridge train for this point was stalled on the Blood Reserve owing to the approach to the Big Belly river bridge ahead being washed away, and the company is drawing a supply from the town. Steps are being taken to remove several small buildings. The annex to the town hall is cracking, and the foundation settling owing to the undermining of the water, and the hospital is considered in danger.

The town is now without direct railway communication, and unless weather conditions abate the telegraph service will follow. Many buildings and the entire new city park are under water.

THE SUMMER GARDEN.

Study Color Effects When Laying Out Flower Beds.

The amateur who wishes to obtain the greatest possible pleasure from the flowers he can grow should study the characteristics of each kind he chooses and see that each serves a purpose. Should he love fragrance he will find Nicotiana affinis, with its abundant star shaped white flowers, delightful in its perfume on a summer's evening. It is an excellent plant for a border planted in front of taller growing shrubs.

He should study color effects in laying out his flower beds. For a bed where a mass of yellow is desired golden California poppy is useful. It must be sown where it is to bloom, as it does not transplant well. For side and back fences clumps of single and double hollyhocks are good, planted in masses. A flower which grows almost as high as a hollyhock is Rudbeckia Golden Glow, which produces a wealth of golden flowers good for cutting.

In a back yard garden it is a good plan to devote the space in front of one fence to dahlias and cosmos, for these are sure to please the most fastidious flower lover. If there happens to be a sunny exposure in the garden, plant a few pompon chrysanthemums, which are hardy. They will give an effective display of tiny flowers in the autumn. The drummondi phloxes are exceedingly pretty low growing annuals, very showy in mass. They last but a few weeks in bloom in a warm and exposed situation.

Of the dahlias the cactus and decorative forms are becoming more and more popular every year. They should be planted, if possible, so their late blossoms in August, September and even later will help make the garden bright after many other flowers have ceased blooming.

MATRIMONIAL ADVICE.

How to Be Happy Though Married and A' That.

So many women find matrimony a little disappointing, and, though many confess the fact, they rarely see that they may themselves be to blame.

When a girl is engaged she is always careful to look her best that her lover may admire her. She often fails to do the same for her husband. This is a mistake. Men like always to admire their wives, and they will do so all the more when they see that other people admire them too. The untidy, dowdy woman may have solid virtues, but one has to remember the fact as an excuse for her appearance, and the man who is mentally apologizing for his wife's shortcomings is in danger of finding some one else more attractive than she is.

Then it is a mistake for young wives to drop their old friends and expect their husbands to do the same. The married lovers may for a short time be intensely happy in each other's society, but sooner or later outside interests will be missed, and if happiness is to continue they must both mix with their fellows and take their share in the pleasures and the work of the world. Wider interests will not make either less fond of the other, and the woman who wants to keep her husband's love will never do so by tying him to her apron strings and expecting him to spend all the time he can spare from his business within the four walls of home.

A wife should not merge her individuality in her husband. An echo may be sweet, but it is always monotonous, so she should have her own ideas and opinions. She need not argue—that's fatal—but a little tact prevents the necessity.

BLAMES OPPOSITION

But Supply Has Been Passed at Rate of Million a Day.

Mr. R. L. Borden's Reply to Sir Wilfrid Who Declared This Amount Was Not Enough—Statement In the House—Election Bill and Hudson Bay Railway Bill Must Stand Over Says the Premier.

Ottawa, June 9.—In the House yesterday morning, after G. W. Fowler, Haughton Lennox and R. L. Borden had complained of the Government's attitude in delaying supply and trying to create the impression that the Opposition was to blame, the Prime Minister made a statement.

The Government had been plainly informed in the House that no more supply would be granted and no other business passed until the Government had dropped the first and seventeenth clauses of the election bill.

Clause 17 of the election bill had been attacked by the Opposition on the ground that it was aimed at destroying the secrecy of the ballot. But the truth was that the clause was merely drawn to guard against honest electors being disfranchised by the acts of returning officers.

This was a matter which the Government was quite prepared to discuss with the House. But in the meantime the first duty of Parliament was to vote the supplies which are required for the conduct of the public services. The available supplies had been exhausted in the middle of May, yet the Opposition had refused another vote on account, and the Government's only recourse was to keep supply before the House, and let the election bill and the Hudson Bay Railway bill stand until supply had been granted.

Mr. Borden replied that the Opposition had been passing supply at the rate of a million a day. But Sir Wilfrid replied that this was not enough. Money should be provided for the several departments to pay their debts without any further delay, and the time of the House should not be wasted in endless repetition of questions. He left it to the good sense of the country to judge as to the merits of this issue.

Shortly before one o'clock the House passed into committee of supply and took up the vote of $390,000 for the salaries of the Dominion Lands Office.

Twenty Years For Manslaughter.

Black Cross Plot Frustrated.

Lisbon, June 9.—The police have discovered and frustrated a big plot, hatched by the society of the Black Cross, to blow up with bombs the members of the royal family at a religious fete, which was to be held on June 18.

NEW MURDER MYSTERY.

Paris, June 9.—With the mystery of the murder of Adolphe Steinheil and his mother-in-law, Madame Japy, yet unsolved, the police have been confronted by a new mystery in the discovery of Auguste Remy, a wealthy retired banker, 77 years of age, stabbed to death with a desert knife in his mansion in the Rue de la Pepiniere.

The murder occurred some time Sunday night, and money and jewels of great value are missing. The finding of a carafe of wine and three glasses that had been used suggested that the three persons supposed to have been implicated in the Steinheil murder might be responsible for this crime.

Lured Doctor to Death.

New York, June 9. Sarah Kolen, a young trained nurse, who lured Dr. Martin W. Auspitz to a house in Harlem Sunday night with a false sick call by telephone and shot him to death, declared yesterday that she had no regret for her act.

"I killed him because he had wronged me and then refused to help me. I tried to punish him in the courts, but found myself powerless. My father and mother are dead so I had to protect my honor myself," she says.

She had used an assumed name and telephoned to have the doctor call. For nine hours she waited in the vestibule until he arrived and then she shot him twice.

Victim of Practical Jokers.

Pittsburg, June 9.—A victim of practical jokers, Morris Caseberg, 22 years old, died yesterday at a hospital. He had been employed at the Duquesne Steel Works, and on May 30, it is alleged, fellow workmen inflicted his body by compressed air, causing peritonitis.

SAVE THE CHILDREN Insure Them Good Health.

Ninety per cent. of children, under twelve years of age, are being poisoned and parents don't realize it.

Irregular bowels are the chief cause. You parents know that your bowels should move every day. You know you must be as regular as clock-work, or the blood will become tainted.

Don't you realize that the children must be as orderly in getting rid of the waste matter of their system?

Then, if you find that any of the little ones go two or three days without action of the bowels, don't run to castor oil, senna tea, calomel, cascara or harsh "liver pills." Those simply purge the child—strain the bowels.

"Fruit-a-tives" are the ideal medicine for children. They are fruit juices and tonics in the form of a pleasant tasting tablet. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulate the liver, causing more bile to flow. It is the bile, given up by the liver, which moves the bowels. "Fruit-a-tives" regulate the liver and bowels, and thus completely cure constipation. They sweeten the stomach, and are the finest tonic in the world to build up the system and make children plump and rosy. 50c a box—six for $2.50. Sent on receipt of price if your dealer does not handle them. "Fruit-a-tives" Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Welcoming a Wife.

By Lulu Johnston.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Little Miss Merrington hurried from the postoffice clutching tightly the precious letter the clerk had just handed her. She had not needed to glance at the foreign stamp to tell that it was from Harvey Rial. The clear, bold handwriting of the address had told her that before the letter had been removed from the box in which it lay, together with the local paper.

There was a flush on the kindly little face not due to the spring breezes, but to the hope which had risen in her heart. Twenty years before she and Harvey Rial had been engaged to be married. A lovers' quarrel and pride too stubborn to confess fault had resulted in Rial's marriage to Margaret Bond.

Then Miss Merrington had settled herself uncomplainingly to a life of spinsterhood, rejoicing that her father's provision for her future did not make it necessary for her to marry in order to find a home and taking pleasure in the hundred little acts of kindness which had made "Little Miss Merrington" a village institution.

All too soon Rial had discovered his error. His new idol's feet had turned to clay. Margaret's tongue was as sharp as her face was fair, and, with stoic resignation, Harvey Rial had settled himself to lifelong penance for his error.

The thought gave him and Miss Merrington something in common, and, though neither ever alluded to the matter, there was a silent bond of companionship that was none the less sweet because it found no expression in act or word.

Now, then, two years had passed since Margaret had died, and Rial had taken his son to Europe in the hope that travel might benefit his health. Since then letters had come by every steamer—not the romantic epistles of youth, but entertaining stories of travel, infused with a tender sentiment that was implied rather than expressed. There was always the note of longing for home, with a hint that he wished Miss Merrington to share home with him.

The last letter had told that Ralph was well enough to return, and it was probable that the letter she now softly patted in her pocket would name his date of sailing.

"I've told you all there is to tell about London," wrote Rial. "This is just to say that I am sailing tomorrow. We are taking a ten day boat for the sake of the sea air, and this letter goes by one of the fliers. And now for the surprise I promised in my last. I am bringing home a bride. May I not ask you to see that the old house is opened and made fit to receive her? We should be in Fairlands five days after you receive this. That should give you plenty of time to prove yourself the model housekeeper. I leave all the arrangements to you, dear friend, and I know that nothing will be left undone to make welcome the new Mrs. Rial. I will tell you all about it when I arrive."

That was all, scarcely a page of the familiar handwriting, but the light died in Miss Merrington's eyes, and the beauty of the spring day faded.

For an hour or more she sat quietly in her chair, the letter in her lap untouched. She had felt sure that when the time came Harvey would speak the words that should make her the happiest little woman in all the world, and now he had married another, some foreign woman whose youth and beauty had proved a subtle attraction.

She could not altogether blame him. She was forty. No man would care to marry a woman past her prime. It was but natural that he should seek some younger woman.

And yet had Miss Merrington faced the tall pier glass standing between the front windows she would have found reflected there a face unmarked by lines of care, but lighted by the glow of earnest brown eyes.

She had scarcely lost her youth in the placid, helpful life she led. Her cheeks were still smooth and unwrinkled, tinted as softly as the petals of a blush rose. Her hair was soft and brown, with never a hint of gray. The sensitive, tender mouth with its constant smile was as appealing as a child's, a mouth surely made for kisses.

The tiny maid with her announcement of the noon dinner brought Miss Merrington back to earth. The letter she tucked in her pocket, and as she ate her simple meal she planned the work that must be done to make the big Rial house habitable and homelike in spite of its two untenanted years.

Once every week in all that time she had gone to see that all was well, but now that it was to be opened there was much to be done. In work she would find forgetfulness of her disappointment. At least she would not fail her old friend.

Five days later Rial came. Miss Merrington was at the station platform to greet him, and many curious, half pitying glances were turned upon her as Harvey tenderly assisted down the steps of the chair car the slender form of a woman younger even than his son. All the town knew of this old love affair.

"Ralph stopped in New York to look after a business matter," Rial explained when greetings were over and the three were comfortably disposed in the solitary village hack. "Maida was impatient to see her American home, so we pressed on."

"The house looks very well, if I do say it myself," said Miss Merrington complacently. "I'm sure that Mrs. Rial will like it here."

"It is a lovely town," said the girl impulsively. "I was so afraid that I should not like it."

"Maida imagined that we lived on a prairie and had buffalo and Indians running about," explained Rial. "She wanted to carry a revolver in her hand bag, but I talked her out of it."

Miss Merrington laughed at the conceit, but her heart gave a throb as Rial leaned across to playfully pat the girl's cheek. She was glad that the arrival at the house prevented further demonstration.

Maida was profuse in her praise of the place, and she would not rest content until she had explored every nook and cranny. Not until then was she ready to retire to her room and remove the signs of travel, leaving Miss Merrington free to see that the table was properly set for dinner.

She had slipped out into the garden for some early flowers and was arranging these in a vase when Rial came into the room and with a happy laugh tilted up her dimpled chin and planted a kiss upon her smiling lips.

"Is this the way you seek to repay me?" she cried, with flashing eyes. "A new wife in the house just half an hour, and you—you kissed me."

"I could not help it, sweetheart!" cried Rial. "It's so good to be back home after two years in hotels, and you are a part of that home. Will you forgive me, dear, and promise always to be a part of my home?"

Miss Merrington gazed at Rial with dumb anguish in her eyes. Then slowly she turned away to where the French windows gave upon the piazza. With a few quick steps Rial reached her.

"Forgive me, dear, for tormenting you!" he cried. "It was a mean thing to do, but I was only taking a leaf from your own book of the past and proving that jealousy sometimes leads to love. That was why I did not tell you that Maida is Mrs. Ralph Rial."

"Your daughter-in-law and not your wife?"

"I didn't say whose bride I was bringing home," he confessed. "I felt that if you cared you would show it. You do care, don't you, Dorothy?"

The use of the old name broke down Miss Merrington's last barrier of pride. Unresisting, she let him take her in his arms, and it was thus that Maida found them as she came running into the room.

"Now it's perfect!" cried the girl, with a quick appreciation of the situation. "The only thing the dear old house lacked was a mother to welcome the bride, and now"—

"And now the welcome is complete," finished Rial, with his vibrant laugh, as he bent to kiss the soft brown hair.

She Was a Joke.

"I have just had a peculiar experience," said a middle aged matron, "that it may be well for others to know. A week ago, while in the parlor of a department store, a refined looking woman came to me in agitation, announced that she had lost her purse and asked me to accommodate her with a little change, which she would return the next day. She carried several parcels. I gave her, I think, 54 cents—all the change I had—and we exchanged cards.

"Yesterday while downtown I was attracted to a crowd on the corner, in the center of which was a woman announcing excitedly that she had been robbed and asking for some small sum to get home. The coincidence impressed me, as I had not heard from my borrower. I handed this woman a dollar. She boarded a northbound Sixth avenue car. I followed. In the neighborhood of Bryant square she got off. So did I. She entered an ice cream parlor. A moment later I entered.

"The woman was there. So was the other woman of a week ago, and they were together and laughing over what appeared to be a good joke. Apparently I was the joke."—New York Globe.

Hard Enough.

"I contend," said the lawyer for the defense, "that a tomato, however well aimed, could not have caused a black eye."

"But it was in a tin, your honor."—London Telegraph.

Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:
In connection with policy No. 18253, taken out by me twenty years ago for $2000, on the 20 year endowment plan, I would like to say to you that I am well pleased with the results. I paid $91.40 a year for twenty years and had my insurance for $2,000, and the cheque you have handed me to day is for $2653.10 which is $123.15 in excess of what I would have received had I deposited the same amount in the Bank during the last twenty years at current rates. In one case I had my insurance carried and in the other case I would have had none. I can only say that I have never made an investment that has given me greater satisfaction. I believe if I had not taken out the insurance I would not have been worth one dollar more to-day and now I find myself in possession of $2653.10, which will enable me to make a profitable investment. I am now pretty well up in years but if I had my life to live over again I would ensure for as large an amount as I could possibly pay for. During the twenty years, I found it difficult on many occasions to meet the payments, but I met them in every case by practising a little economy in other directions, and I can assure you that I feel I have been well repaid for the pains I took in providing for the money to pay the premium. You have paid me more considerably than I expected to receive and for this I am grateful.

Respectfully yours,

OLD ELECTOR STRICKEN AT THE POLLING BOOTH

Sudden Death of John Adams of Harvey Township at Lakehurst Town Hall—Deceased Was Well Known Orangeman and Conservative in Politics.

Shockingly sudden was the death yesterday morning at the town hall, Lakehurst, Harvey, of Mr. John Adams, a pioneer of the county and one of the best known Orangemen in the community. The late Mr Adams would have been 89 years of age on the 21st of June.

He had walked from his home which was a little over a mile distant from the polling booth at the town hall and it is thought the heat and to some extent the excitement of the occasion proved too much for his powers of endurance which were necessarily rather feeble on account of his advanced age.

As he was standing in the hall at about twenty minutes to ten and preparatory to the opening of the polls he was suddenly stricken and Dr. McCamus of Bobcaygeon, who was camping about three miles distant on the shores of Buckhorn Lake was immediately sent for. The late Mr. Adams was placed on a cot which was obtained at a nearby store and everything possible was done to restore him. Those who were at the hall fanned him, bathed his forehead and resorted to other means of resuscitation but without avail. When Dr. McCamus had arrived the victim of the sudden illness had passed away. The body was removed to the late home by Mr A. G. Shearer, the Harvey stage driver. The gloom caused by the death under such distressing circumstances was evident at the polling booth all day.

The late Mr. Adams, who was highly respected was a very staunch advocate of the Orange cause and never missed a walk of the Order when he found it possible to attend. It had been his intention to be present at the celebration to be held in Peterborough on July 12th next.

He came originally from Fermanagh in the north of Ireland, and is survived by his wife who is 87 years of age and a nephew Willie, Adams, who lived with him. He also had an adopted daughter Mrs. Benjamin Begham of Peterborough. He was a member of the Church of England and a staunch and enthusiastic supporter of the Conservative cause.

The funeral will take place tomorrow to the Lakehurst cemetery.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—The recent action of the Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference held Lindsay, regarding the condemnation of the Whitney Government because of the "3-5th clause," gives food for reflection, when considering a subsequent action necessitating a 3-5th majority for the carrying of a church policy measure.

After having in most strong terms denounced the unjust 3-5th measure for the passing of local option, the Methodists proceeded to argue for the passing of a measure relating to their church, which was defeated because they did not get the 3-5ths of a majority.

Yours truly,
TEMPERANCE.

CAUSE FOR ALARM

Epidemic Influenza, Grippe, Catarrhal Troubles, Pneumonia Increasing

A marked increase in troubles of the breathing organs is noted in many localities. If you will only have Hyomei at hand to use with the first attack of cold in the head, pneumonia, colds, bronchitis, hoarseness, sore throat, croup, in fact any respiratory affection, the trouble will be quickly overcome.

If the attack is neglected and becomes severe, speedy relief will come in most cases and a persistent use of Hyomei will cure.

The directions for using it vary, but the principal is always the same that of destroying all the germs in the air passages with dry medication from the Pine and Eucalyptus forests.

Remember that liquids or moisture is barred from the bronchial tubes and lungs. It's the dry air of Hyomei that reaches the spot. W. Madill, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough, guarantees it complete outfit $1.

YOUR SOUL COLOR.

Find Out and Get a Mate Who Harmonizes With Your Scheme.

Mrs. F. F. Wieland is the most recent advocate of the theory that every human being has a soul color. So says Nixola Greeley-Smith. She maintains, moreover, that every woman's gown must from babyhood match her soul.

What are termed in the fashion journals "conservative dressers" will, however, incline to the preservation of the safer rule to match the costume to the eyes. Eyes are so much more easily found than souls, and they are less changeable.

The mere matter of preserving harmony between one's soul and one's dress seems the least interesting and least important feature of the subject. If there were really such a thing as a psychic color, there must result from it in the emotional world color affinities. A man with a green soul must naturally seek a damsel whose psychic shade was blush pink or daffodil yellow. A lavender girl would have to choose a white or pearl or amethyst mate. In divorce petitions the appealing husband or wife would merely have to state that he or she was deceived as to the soul color of the defendant. Experts would be called in to testify as to the actual psychic tints of the contestants, and a jury would have to pass upon the question as to whether or not the tints harmonized. This would pave the way to the establishment of feminine juries, for it is an acknowledged fact that more men are color blind than women. Persons summoned before the commissioner of jurors would have to pass a specially devised test as to whether or not they were qualified to decide the question of soul harmony.

"What is the fashionable shade in souls this year?" would be the query of anxious maidens desiring to lead the mode.

As yet Mrs. Wieland has not stated whether the mothers' custom of adorning boy babies with blue bags and girl babies with pink is consistent with her ideas of soul colors. If so, it would seem that all men have blue souls, all women pink ones.

NEW TABLE KINKS.

Rock Candy For Coffee Instead of Sugar—Volcanoes of Rum.

"Have you noticed that many hostesses are serving rock candy crystals instead of sugar with after dinner coffee?" inquired an observing woman. "I've tried it myself and have found that the prettiest effect is gained by buying an equal amount each of red and white rock candy and mixing the irregular shaped crystals in a low glass bonbon dish.

"These are served with a bonbon spoon. There's an especial advantage in this plan for those who want very little sugar, as the smallest quantity possible may be taken, less than an ordinary piece of cut sugar. This rock candy is absolutely pure, very cheap and gives a particularly delicious flavor to black coffee.

"Another new kink I noticed at a luncheon was the passing of two little glass dishes with the salad course. One dish held finely minced green peppers and the other tiny slices of little new onions. The guests took what they wanted and sprinkled it on the salad, which was a combination of lettuce, tomatoes and cucumbers.

"At the same luncheon a fancy omelet with burning rum was served instead of the usuel sweet course. Instead of the ordinary river of fire running placidly around the platter, the effect was quite spectacular and reminded one of miniature volcanoes. I found that this effect was the result of stacking lumps of sugar in heaps at intervals round the platter."

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

A small quantity of vinegar boiled on the range will counteract the odor of boiled cabbage or other vegetables.

Where white underslips are not used the pillowcase should be of linen, as the stripes of the ticking do not show through this as plainly as through cotton.

Nickel plating may be cleaned with water and whiting or with water and alcohol as easily as silver. Where there is a large amount of nickel to be cleaned gasoline will do the work well and quickly, but of course extra precautions must be taken.

In cleaning upholstered furniture do not beat directly upon the covering, as this helps to wear it out and scatters the dust in clouds, but lay towels or thick cloths on top and then do the beating. These cloths should be carefully gathered up and shaken out every little while.

If last year's linen suits look yellow they may be whitened by boiling in a lather made in the proportion of a pound of pure white soap to a gallon of milk. Rinse thoroughly in several waters and blue slightly. A double boiler should be used that the milk may not scorch.

An ingenious householder who wanted to have a cedar lined closet, but hesitated at the expense, tried a good grade of cedar shingles, put on overlapping, as on a roof, lining the whole closet, with most excellent results. The work can be done by any amateur carpenter.

COLE BROS. CIRCUS HERE ON JUNE 17TH

Mr. John D. Carey, Advance Agent, in the City To-day—A Good Show

Cole Brothers World Famed Circus and menagerie is coming to Peterborough on Wednesday, June 17. This is the only circus that will visit Canada this year but some consolation may be found in the fact that Cole Brothers possess one of the best circuses, both as to magnitude and merit ever organized. It is the oldest railroad show in the world and has established a reputation that has never been equalled. The show has been considerably enlarged in every department since its last tour of Canada and merit in its performance has kept well apace with its increased magnitude. It is not and old feature aggregation and every feature is one of refreshing newness. The Cole Brothers' circus is the only one deserving of recognition, not controlled by the circus trust and the one whose stand against the abolishing of the circus parade, has prevented their the circus parade, has prevented this enjoyable circus feature from being relegated Thin Glass and Thick.

Glass is a substance that we cannot figure the strength of as we can a great many other things with which we are familiar. It varies greatly in itself. The strongest glass, as a rule, breaks into the greatest number of fragments. Comparing the strength of thin glass with thick, the former is relatively the stronger. This is a thing very often lost sight of. Then, again, as to the difference between rough plate and polished plate, we find polished plate the stronger. This is perhaps to be attributed to the fact that all these very fine surface hair cracks are polished out. These only go into the glass to a certain depth, and when they are all or nearly all polished and ground off there is less chance for some of them to form the basis of a crack, and thereby the glass is increased in strength. Tests have been made, and some formulae have been arrived at. As was to be expected, they show very irregular results as to the strength of glass.

An Impediment to Plain Speaking.

"Down in Pike county," said an Arkansas statesman, "we had a trial I attended once where a man named Joinson was on the stand. Joinson was for the defense, and the way he was setting things straight was a caution.

"'Here,' said the attorney for the prosecution when he took Joinson in hand, 'I want you to stop prevaricating. Don't you know you are under oath?'

"'Stop what?' asked the witness.

"'Stop prevaricating.'

"The witness drew himself up with great dignity. 'Well,' he said, 'I'd like to know how a man can help prevaricatin' when he's lost two front teeth?'"

CARD OF THANKS

To the Electors of East Peterborough

GENTLEMEN, — I wish to express my gratitude and warmest thanks for the tremendous vote given to me as a supporter of the Whitney Government. We had a good, clean election and Mr. McNulty and I remained the best of friends throughout. To my friends who turned out and worked I wish to express my special thanks.

Yours very truly,

J. THOMPSON

TO THE ELECTORS

GENTLEMEN, — I wish to thank the electors of West Peterborough, both Conservative and Liberal, for their kindness in re-electing me as a supporter of the Whitney Government. As in the past, I shall in the future, do all I can to merit the trust reposed in me by you. We have had, I think, a clean election, and it is satisfactory to be able to look back upon it without regret. I wish also to express the kindest feelings towards my late opponent, Mr. Gillespie, who, so far as he was personally concerned, fought a hard but fair fight.

Again thanking you, I remain,

Yours truly,

T. E. BRADBURN

CARD OF THANKS

To the Electors of West Peterborough,

GENTLEMEN—I desire to thank all those who gave me their support and influence during the contest just closed.

To my committees throughout the Riding who worked so energetically in my behalf I offer my most cordial thanks.

In fact everyone of my supporters gave me such encouragement and confidence that the campaign was to me a most enjoyable one.

It is true I am not elected but the result is as I expected when I entered the contest, so that there is no disappointment to me.

From the fact of our doing so well under present conditions perhaps on another occasion we will be more successful, when better known.

In the meantime I desire to thank most heartily all those who in any way assisted me during the contest.

It is now closed and I have nothing to regret, except the result, and I regret that more for the cause which failed to succeed than for any lack of personal success.

Yours truly,

POLITICS IN THE YUKON DR. PRINGLE REPEATS CHARGES

Dr. Shearer Says There Has Been Improvement and Reads Letters From Premier on the Subject—Assembly Declare for Church Union.

Winnipeg, June 10.—Dr. Pringle, apostle of clean living in the Yukon, held the Presbyterian General Assembly enthralled for two hours yesterday while he scathingly denounced the scandals which he said had polluted public and private life in Dawson City. "I am in the open and I am going to stay there," he said; "neither church nor state will get me behind the fence again. I am going to stay right down in the rough and tumble, where Jesus of Nazareth stood.

"I have never believed in taking these matters into the pulpit, but I believe that the teaching of Christ should make itself felt in every branch of life. God giving me grace and courage I intend to keep right on, for the foundation of our national life must be laid in righteousness." Such was the trend of his summing up after he had exposed debauchery and vice, and electoral corruption which, according to his story, is unparalleled.

After outlining his fruitless efforts of the past six years to get the Federal Government to purge the Yukon, Dr. Pringle said the only way to deal with such political villainy and moral turpitude was to shake one's fist in its face. There was a point, he went on, where charity ended and righteous indignation began, and that point had been reached, and he ended by quoting the words of Christ: "Ye serpents, ye generation of vipers, how shall ye escape the damnation of hell?"

As he concluded, the great gathering applauded him as one man, while tears streamed down the cheeks of more than one aged minister. It was a remarkable scene.

It was just eight minutes to twelve, and the moderator, Dr. Duval, said little time was left to consider the order of business, moral and social reform, but arrangements were made whereby Dr. Shearer was permitted to follow Dr. Pringle, and it is understood that he will read a letter from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in which the commissioner of the Yukon announces a series of reforms already adopted.

After the whole afternoon and a greater part of the evening spent in earnest and at times heated discussion, the general assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada decided in favor of church union by the overwhelming majority of 156 to 32.

The adoption of the resolution of the union committee was moved in a powerful address by Principal Patrick, who, after Dr. Rose, is father of the movement in the church, and was ably seconded by Dr. Murray.

THE TWO MONARCHS MET VISIT OF KING TO CZAR

Reval, June 10.—The meeting between King Edward VII. and Emperor Nicholas occurred here yesterday, with due formality. It was the first time that an English monarch has ever made an official visit in Russian waters. The British squadron escorting the royal yacht Victoria and Albert, with the King of England on board, entered the Bay of Reval shortly after 10 o'clock in the morning. The customary salutes were fired, and after an exchange of formal visits, the King and the Emperor lunched on board the Russian yacht Polar Star, as the guests of the Dowager Empress.

The day was favored by brilliant and beautiful summer weather. Thousands of spectators gathered on the battlement summit of the Mont de la Cathedral, along the wooded shores of the bay and at other points of vantage.

The Imperial train bearing the Emperor of Russia and suite from Peterhof arrived at 8 o'clock in the morning. When the Imperial party alighted they were surprised to find the disembarking platform surrounded by a guard of the school children of Reval, instead of by a detachment of troops. The children cheered enthusiastically and this welcome evidently made a deep impression upon the Emperor and the Empress.

[illegible] outside the Russian vessels, which had formed in two lines, headed respectively by the Standart and the Polar Star, the Victoria and Albert and the two cruisers swept around in a great curve, coming close into shore, and dropped anchor between the Standart and the Polar Star. King Edward was on the bridge of the Victoria and Albert, and the Emperor occupied a similar position on board the Standart. Both monarchs could be plainly seen from the shore. King Edward wore the uniform of a British admiral.

The minute the visiting vessels dropped their anchors a launch bearing Emperor Nicholas left the side of the Standart and the Russian monarch boarded the Victoria and Albert, where he exchanged very hearty greetings with King Edward, whom he had not seen for seven years, and saluted Queen Alexandra and Princess Victoria. After a few minutes on board the Victoria and Albert Emperor Nicholas returned to the Standart. In the meantime King Edward had donned the uniform of a Russian admiral, and he at once returned the call of the Emperor. On board the Standart he was presented to Premier Stolypin, Foreign Minister Iswolsky, and Vice-Admiral Dikoff, Minister of Marine.

EXPRESS TRAIN LEFT THE RAILS

Several Injured in a Bad Accident Near Stevensville.

Welland, June 10.—At 5 o'clock yesterday morning No. 4, a Wabash through train en route from Chicago to New York, met with an accident near Stevensville, seven or eight miles from here, when four passenger coaches left the track while the train was running at a speed of a mile a minute. The cause was some defect in the tender, which first jumped the track.

The accidnt occurred just a mile west of Stevensville, and between two culverts, and it is marvelous that there were no fatalities. There were a large number of children on board.

A physician from Chicago, who was on board, rendered first aid to the injured, and was soon assisted by Dr. Buell of Stevensville and Dr. Mencke of Bridgeburg and a Buffalo surgeon.

A woman had two ribs broken, and there was a number of other injuries, while one man had his head badly injured and an ear nearly torn off.

In effecting a rescue of the passengers the ordinary methods could not be adopted, and axe and saw were freely used before the occupants of the coaches could be dragged out.

Chain Works Wrecked.

Sarnia, Ont., June 10.—Sarnia was visited Monday night by one of the severest thunder-wind storms ever witnessed by the town of Sarnia. The Standard Chain Works, a new industry here, was almost completely destroyed with a large loss, the roofs and sides of the building being swept down before the wind. Fortunately no one was hurt. Trees were torn up and a large plate glass window in J. Johnson's drug store was broken, and several other things carried away by the wind.

Took 26,000 Prisoners.

Seoul, June 10.—The Japanese army headquarters here reports that from June 3rd to 7th the Government troops had 26 engagements with the insurgents. In these engagements 113 insurgents were killed and 26,000 taken prisoners.

Fatal Hotel Fire.

Newport, R.I., June 10.—One life was lost and property valued at $70,000 was destroyed in a fire of unknown origin, which broke out in the new Cliff Hotel, one of the famous summer hotels in this city, yesterday.

FIRM HAND OF LORD MINTO

Two Emergency Measures Pass—Meet Situation in India.

Simla, June 10.—The vice-regal council, after strong speeches by Lord Minto, Viceroy of India, and other members of the council, emphasizing the urgency of dealing with seditious outbreaks, adopted two emergency measures.

The first is known as the explosives bill, which provides stern measures against bomb outrages and conspiracies; the second, the press bill, empowers the suspension and confiscation of newspapers inciting to criminal acts.

Lord Minto was careful to explain that both of these bills should be regarded as exceptional measures to meet an exceptional situation. He added that if they were found to be not strong enough, some measure more severe would be adopted.

Brantford Moulders Indicted.

Brantford, June 10.—The grand jury in the case of nearly a hundred moulders, charged with besetting the Buck Stove Works during the recent strike, returned a true bill. The defendants will be tried by a jury at the June Sessions of the Peace, which opened yesterday afternoon before Judge Hardy, who told the jurors to return a true bill if they believed the union men, in doing picket duty at the works, had practiced intimidation in any form.

Native Passengers Drowned.

Hong Kong, June 10.—The British passenger steamer Powan, running between Hong Kong, Canton and Macao, struck on a rock off Lantao Island and is a total wreck.

Eighty natives are missing. All the European passengers and officers of the steamer were rescued.

Peculiar Fatality.

North Bay, June 10.—Louis Denault, married, with six children, was instantly killed at Callandar yesterday afternoon. He was striking a log with an axe which caught in a pulley overhead, was whirled around the shafting and struck him with great force.

Died While Voting.

Peterboro, June 10.—Monday, John Adams, a Conservative, aged 80 years, who always takes the deepest interest in the elections, went to the polling booth at Lakehurst to vote, and while in the act of marking the ballot fell dead from heart disease.

TURKEY TAKES A SLICE OF PERSIA

Turkish Troops Occupy the District of Azesbinnan.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—Special despatches received here indicate a serious situation on the Turko-Persian frontier. Turkish troops, which hitherto have been massed on the Russian side, in the vicinity of Erzerum village, are in full movement towards Persia. Detachments already have invaded Persian territory. The Turkish occupation of the District of Azerbinnan, west of Urumiah Lake, has been carried out in a systematic manner, and the Mahod of Administration of this territory is similar to the administration in regularly annexed territory, which would seem to indicate that the Turks mean to remain permanently. Bodies of Turkish regulars, who have followed in the wake of the Turkish tribesmen, have commenced to collect revenues.

In spite of the proverbial Turkish slowness, a customs house has been established at Kehlur, some miles inland from Urumiah. The Turks have seized salt mines belonging to the Persian crown, and have expelled the Shah's officials.

There is every indication, says the despatches, that the Turks are taking full advantage of the disturbed conditions in Persia to seize a valuable strategical wedge of the country.

THIEVES BUSY ON PULLMANS

Passengers Robbed of Clothing and Cash—Loses $2,000.

North Bay, June 10.—During the past few days an organized band of crooks have been working the Pullman sleeping cars on the C.P.R. and G.T.R.

T. Harris of North Bay, divisional car foreman, returning from a trip of inspection on division Saturday night and while sleeping in his berth on the Winnipeg express, was robbed of his trousers containing $80. On the same train a man named McLeod lost three coats.

J. Canham, en route to Spragge, Manitoba, from Toronto, arrived at North Bay Sunday morning poorer by $2,000 negotiable paper besides ready cash, watch and tickets. Canham was obliged to wait a day in North Bay to secure funds to continue his journey. The robbery occurred between Allandale and North Bay.

Two men on No. 1 express Monday night lost their trousers between North Bay and Sudbury while sleeping, but cash loss was small. Three other passengers were relieved of their valuables Monday night west of North Bay.

The C.P.R. have taken steps to protect passengers from further trouble of like nature.

PRIESTS AVERTED A PANIC ATTEMPT TO BURN CHURCH

Berlin, June 10.—An attempt was made to burn down the old St. Paulus Catholic Church at Moabit, belonging to the Dominicans, which was crowded with people assembled to hear a sermon by the famous Dominican monk, Bonaventuri.

About 1,800 persons were present, including more than a thousand women and children, to hear the minister. While the congregation was kneeling in silent prayer, someone informed Father Bonaventuri that the church was afire.

Without alarming the congregation he coolly stepped over to the priest who was celebrating the mass, and requested him to close the service.

The priest left the altar and spoke to his six assistants, who walked down the aisles and whispered to the [illegible] that an insignificant blaze had broken out and that they had better leave the building as soon as possible.

At this time the entire roof of the church was a mass of flames and the fire department was hurrying to the burning building. Those in the church, not knowing the extent of the fire, fortunately did not realize their peril, and on the clergy's request made their exit rapidly and in an orderly manner.

The fire-fighters discovered that nearly a dozen fire brands soaked with petroleum had been distributed about various parts of the roof. The police suspect a gang of incendiaries, who, it is stated, set fire to the old Garrison Church, which was destroyed on April 14 last.

LATEST ELECTION RETURNS CHANGES ARE VERY FEW

Mr. Bowman Carries North Bruce—Conservatives Have Eighty-Six Seats—Stormont Still Doubtful.

There are very few changes to record in the list of members elected to the Legislature as it appeared yesterday. Late returns show that Mr. C. M. Bowman, Liberal Whip, has been re-elected in North Bruce by a big majority. Temiskaming, one of the other doubtfuls, is as emphatically Conservative.

There are but two doubtfuls now left—Lennox and Stormont. Both sides claim them. It will require a re-count in each case to determine who is elected. In Lennox Carscallen (Cons.) claims four of a majority, but Madole (Lib.) affirms that this is based on a mix-up of figures at Storm's Corners, which he expects the returning officer to straighten out on declaration day. In Stormont Milligan (Cons.) claims a majority of one, while McCart (Lib.) also claims the seat. If these seats go one to each party the totals in the House will be:

Liberals	19
Total	106

There are not many startling changes in the majorities as at first reported. Mr. Tudhope of East Simcoe has made a substantial advance from 32 yesterday, which was rather slim, to 180. In South Perth Mr. Valentine Stock's majority is 7 instead of 16 as reported. The seven Perth electors, however, seem to have made necessary the choosing of a new Minister of Agriculture. Mr. Monteith—never much of a politician—is said to be thoroughly out of love with office, and at the Parliament buildings it is generally believed that he will retire from the Government. The Premier, it is understood, will do all he can to get Mr. Monteith a seat if he decides to stay, but there are some very influential members of the House who are eager to "speed the parting guest." Mr. Carnegie (East Victoria) is considered the most likely aspirant for the portfolio of Agriculture. He is a Guelph College graduate.

MR. FOWLER NOW DISTRICT DEPUTY

Local Man Elected to an Important Position in the I.O.O.F.

At the meeting of the district committee of the Independent Order of Oddfellows, in the IOOF. hall on Monday night, Mr. A. A. Fowler of this city was elected to the position of District Deputy Master. Mr. Fowler has been secretary of the district for the past three or four years and an excellent choice has been made in his election as District Deputy.

MR. A. A. FOWLER.

Razor and Revolver.

London, June 10.—A. Douglas, a plumber from Buffalo, who Monday night terrorized diners at the Big Bell restaurant, where he was boarding, by flourishing a razor, brandished a revolver, when he was invited to leave, and chased four men to the street. He was arrested. The heat had affected him.

Smallpox Epidemic in N. B.

St. John, N.B., June 10.—A Moncton despatch says that forty houses are quarantined at Granddigue and vicinity, five miles from Shediac, on account of smallpox, and the church there has been closed. There are a large number of cases of a mild type. No fatalities have yet been recorded.

Crushing Opium Traffic.

Canton, China, June 10.—The authorities here are actively suppressing the opium traffic. Two neighboring market towns were visited recently by the police, under orders of a magistrate, and more than 200 opium pipes and apparatus seized. The keepers of the places were arrested and severely punished.

A Mockery on Religion.

St. Petersburg, June 10.—The Douma voted the suspension for 15 sittings of M. Tchekreidze, a Social Democratic deputy from the Caucasus, for a speech that he made that the Douma regarded as a mockery at religion.

ACTOR HITCHCOCK IS CONFIDENT

Believes Jury Will Acquit—Girl Again on the Stand.

New York, June 10.—When the trial of Raymond Hitchcock, accused of attacking Helen Von Hagen when she was 16 years old, was resumed in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court yesterday, Hitchcock was in a cheerful frame of mind. He expressed himself as well satisfied with the result of the trial as far as it has gone, and said developments would go far towards convincing the jury of his innocence.

The principal witness against the actor was Helen Von Hagen. In her direct examination she repeated the story told by her at the previous trial. Hitchcock had spoken to her while she was wheelig a baby carriage on a street near the Garden Theatre. He asked her to go for a ride in his automobile. She went down to his home on Great Neck and had dinner there, and Elsie Voecks, a girl younger than herself, was with her.

Subsequently, she said, she went to Hitchcock's room in the "house of the green shutters," West Twenty-first street. Flora Whiston was with her.

On another occasion, it is alleged, Hitchcock tried to attack Elsie Voecks.

In the first trial Flora Whiston, upon whom Assistant District Attorney Gavan relied to corroborate the story of Helen Von Hagen, repudiated the statements made by her before the grand jury. She is now under indictment on a charge of perjury.

On cross-examination, the Von Hagen girl became much confused. In many essential particulars her story differed from that told by her when she appeared on the witness-stand for the first time. She said this time that "William Chanler" came to Hitchcock's Long Island home while she was at dinner there. She did not tell this when on the stand previously.

When Garvan asked her directly if her charge that the actor had committed the most serious of the three offences charged against him was true she hung her head for ten minutes and declined to answer. The state finally withdrew the question.

Immigration Returns.

Ottawa, June 10.—The immigration figures for April show total arrivals of 29,755, as compared to 44,051 for April of last year, a decrease of 32 per cent. For the first four months of this year the immigration decreased 46 per cent. via ocean ports, and increased 6 1-2 per cent. from the United States.

McGill Appointments.

Montreal, June 10.—Prof Frank D. Adams was appointed dean of the faculty of applied science at McGill yesterday, with Prof. C. H. McLeod as vice-dean. The vacancy caused by the retirement of Dr. T. G. Roddick was filled by Dr. F. J. Sheppard. Both are graduates of McGill.

Great Clapper Fell.

Cologne, June 10.—The clapper of the famous Emperor's bell, in the Cologne Cathedral, weighing several hundred pounds, crashed down on the floor of the edifice, doing considerable damage.

The accident occurred while the bell was tolling an announcement of the Whitsun festivities.

To Receive the Prince.

Quebec, June 10.—The six British vessels which will form the saluting fleet to receive the Prince of Wales on his arrival in Quebec will be composed of two battleships and four cruisers, the latter of 14,000 tons each. The fleet will carry the flags of two admirals. The vessels will be the battleships Exmouth, flying the flag of Admiral Sir A. Gore Curzon-Howe, commander of the North Atlantic fleet, and the Albemarle, carrying the flag of Rear-Admiral Sir John Jellicoe. The cruisers are the Russell, Duncan, Arrogant and Venus.

A cable has been received from the Earl of Crewe containing the information that these vessels, which it was intended at first should arrive here on the 21st of July, the day before His Royal Highness' arrival, will instead, be in the harbor on the 16th, in order that they may be coaled and put in readiness for the prince's reception.

British Judge Will Try Him.

Seoul, June 10.—The trial of a British editor, E. T. Bethel, charged under an order of the British council with spreading sedition in a newspaper published in Korea, comes on June 14 before an English judge sent to Shanghai, whence also a king's counsel has been sent to act for the prosecution.

To Force Dissolution.

Ottawa, June 10.—At a Conservative caucus yesterday it was decided to continue the present tactics in the Commons, with a view to finally forcing the Government either to drop the election bill or appeal to the country.

The Ontario Conservative members have come back from the provincial campaign in a very jubilant frame of mind, and hope by compelling a dissolution and appeal to the country at once to ride into power in the wake of Premier Whitney's victorious ship.

Wreck on Italian Railway.

Novara, Italy, June 10.—There was a fatal railway accident in Novara Province Monday, which resulted in the death of nine persons and the wounding of 65 more. The passengers on the wrecked train were mostly Italian pilgrims.

The passenger steamer Lady Eileen of Dalhousie, N.B., was wrecked off Newport Island, but no lives lost.

MANITOBA MAKES APPEAL A PROCLAMATION ISSUED

Opposition Will Facilitate Passing of Supplies—But Will Strenuously Oppose Ballot Clause in the Election Bill—In Committee of Supply.

Ottawa, June 10.—In pursuance of arrangements between the two Federal leaders, a proclamation was issued yesterday by the Manitoba Government authorizing the judges of the court of revision of voters' lists to postpone court from day to day until all appeals have been disposed of.

This, it is expected, will bring about a solution of the difficulty. It is claimed, however, that the proclamation is only making clear what the law provides for now, but as this was one of the strongest demands of the Federal Premier, Mr. Roblin was willing to concede a point.

There appears to be no serious difficulties in regard to Quebec and British Columbia, and now practically the serious thing that stands between the parties and peace is the charges of Government supporters regarding the lists in the unorganized districts of New Ontario.

The Opposition is said to be disposed to grant every facility to the Government to enable the salaries of the civil servants to be paid. The caucus yesterday morning left everything in the hands of Mr. Borden, but the course that will be followed by the Opposition will not recede from its position in respect to the election bill. Clause 17, respecting the ballot, will be a subject of further debate.

Most of the Ontario members got back yesterday, and a few from Quebec, but the excessively hot weather kept the majority out of the House. Conservatives expect that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will now be in a mood to bring the negotiations with regard to the Aylesworth election bill to a conclusion. Hon. Clifford Sifton came into the House last night almost unnoticed, though the last time he returned from a tour he made a dramatic entrance.

The threatened protest of the election to the Legislature of Mayor Carrick of Port Arthur seems to give some strength to the Prime Minister's claim that the Federal lists should be made in New Ontario, but in the meantime Conservatives are hoping that they will be able to show that the northern lists are fair.

At the Conservative caucus yesterday morning E. B. Osler presided. The majority were strongly disposed to hold the Government up till it is forced to go to the country. Some of the Ontario men brought reports that feeling is running strongly in their favor.

The House got into committee of supply in the morning after George Taylor "called" Hon. L. P. Brodeur for the raising of the race cry in Quebec.

Mr. Graham's Intercolonial estimates of $4,327,250 on capital account, an increase of $1,900,000 over 1907, were discussed.

The House adjourned at 11.20 last night, after passing an item of $9,435 for the wages of the employes of the Government railways.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS FROM MANY POINTS OF THE WORLD

Roy Wood, son of W. Wood of London, was drowned at Fort William.

A man named Dick, at Winnipeg, allowed his wife to die of childbirth.

Seven drownings are reported to the north of Helena, Montana, as a result of the floods.

The Niagara, St. Catharines & Toronto Railway bill was read a third time in the Senate yesterday.

The London City Council yesterday passed the power bylaw by a vote of [illegible] to 2, S. Beaty and Ferguson voting against it.

Two persons were killed and seven injured by the collapse of an apartment house in course of construction at Washington, D.C.

The second annual convention of the St. Joseph's Union, Ottawa district, is in session at Cornwall, with ninety delegates in attendance.

The floods in Alberta have not damaged the crops, but several railway bridges will require repairs and the waterworks and electric light plant at Lethbridge is damaged.

IN CONVENTION AT BOWMANVILLE

Woman's Missionary Society Meeting There—Peterboro' Represented

Bowmanville, June 9.—The fifteenth annual meeting of the Bay of Quinte branch of the Woman's Missionary Society opened in the Methodist church this afternoon. The President, Mrs. Platt, of Picton, took the chair. The following ladies were appointed a courtesy committee;—Mrs. O. S. Hicks, Belleville; Mrs. H. Fulford, Port Hope; Mrs. Balfour, Havelock; Mrs. Edmison, Brighton; Mrs. J. D. Walker, Welcome, and Mrs. Kilgour, Peterborough. Mrs. Edmison and Mrs. Denyes, Newburgh, were appointed press reporters, and Mrs. Hammond, Campbellford, (Assistant Secretary; Mrs. Grange, Corresponding Secretary, read resolutions and memorials and also an announcement from Miss Ogden, Secretary of the Literature Committee, of a new textbook edited by Mrs. Pratt on the twenty-five years of the work of the society. Reports from the organizers were given.

The evening session was public and largely attended. Rev. T. W. Jolliffe presided. Greetings were presented from sister societies and responded to by Mrs. G. W. Hammond, Campbellford. Reports were given by Mrs. W. H. Yeomans, Belleville, Secretary, showing total receipts of [illegible], being a deficit of $5.35. Mrs. W. H. Ashton, Campbellford, Mission Band Secretary, reported a decrease in the bands. Mrs. A. W. Grange, Secretary, Napanee, and Mrs. Platt, President, delivered excellent addresses. An appeal was made for increased giving in all auxiliaries as thirteen cents more per member would have shown an increase. The convention will continue in session three days.

BREWERS DREAD LOCAL OPTION

Milwaukee, Wis., June 8.—Brewers from all parts of the country, whose business investments represent a total capital estimated at a billion dollars, are in Milwaukee to attend the annual convention which opens in Milwaukee to-morrow. Between 600 and 700 delegates arrived to-day, and several hundred more are expected before to-morrow. Julius Liebmann, of New York, at the head of a delegation of about 100 brewers, arrived from New York during the day on a special. President Liebmann in an interview to-day said:

"The most important question before the convention of the United States Brewers' Association is not prohibition, but local option laws. These laws will make it necessary for brewers in self-protection to get into politics. The brewers are engaged in a legitimate business, and local option laws afford a constant means for intermeddling."

National Secretary Hugh Fox, of the association, says that the greatest undertaking which the brewers will have to confront in fighting the prohibition wave will be to clean up the disreputable saloons.

HAVE JEWELS BEEN RETURNED

It is Said They Have Been Returned to Dublin Castle

New York, June 9.—A London cable to the American says:—Though Scotland Yard disclaims any knowledge of the transaction and though Chief Secretary Birrell has diplomatically denied it in Parliament, it can be stated as a fact that the stolen regalia jewels are back in Dublin Castle.

The jewels, whose theft from the office of the Ulster King-at-Arms in Dublin Castle was discovered in July, 1907, have been released from a pawnshop in London for over $90,000—their value has been set down at $300,000—and have been taken to Ireland by the senior member of the firm of pawnbrokers.

It is understood that the money for the release of the regalia was put up by a newly created nobleman who has been given a household berth for the accommodation.

It was hoped that this transaction would definitely close the unhappy and mysterious affair. To the contrary, it seems to have given it new life, and now an Irish barrister, a kinsman of Sir Arthur Vicars, has applied to a magistrate for the arraignment of the viceroy and chief secretary of Ireland on a charge of compounding a felony. Of course the magistrate refuses to give the barrister a hearing, and the English papers do not even give his name.

JURORS ONLY RECEIVED $2.00 PER DAY HERE

In Toronto and Ottawa Salaries Have Been Raised to $2.50

Ottawa, June 8.—Jurors will be paid $2.50 a day instead of $2 as formerly. The amendment to the act respecting jurors has made this change and it will take effect at the county court, of which the June session is now in progress. There has been great objection in the past over men having to attend the court as jurors for $2 a day, being considerably less than many received at their usual occupation, and in the case of the business men the loss is often much greater. The $2.50 a day wage will obviate to a certain degree the trouble.

On inquiring at the Sheriff's office, the Review learned that the wages of the jurors in Peterborough had not been changed, they only receiving the $2 per day.

SIXTEEN NEW LETTER BOXES

Mr. Alf. [illegible] who has the contract for the placing of sixteen government letter boxes in the city will have them all in position by Monday next, June [illegible]. They [illegible] be ready for the use of [illegible] on that date.

A RETROSPECT

It has long been a matter of doubt as to who struck Billy Patterson. His friends say that he never was struck, notwithstanding the scars borne by him, which, however, he declared were given him by his wife. Anyhow, it matters very little. Some one struck him. A majority of 309 at the poll in the south ward, at which the C.G.E. employees most do congregate, goes a long way to provide the explanation. Does anyone suppose that the out-of-town manager of the C.G.E. bearing a certain degree of ill-will to the Whitney Government secured the co-operation of the West Riding Reform Association for the purpose of shutting down on C.G.E. employees so that neither in or out of their own time were they to be allowed to speak, think or act politically? If there is any such a one let him speak out. The 309 evidently did not think so. It does not do to fool with the buzz-saw. But some people never learn. Then the tax threat. Oh! what a skilful thrust was there, our countrymen! And how it worked.

WHAT BOURASSA WANTS

The Bourassa-Lavergne wing of the Liberal party in the Province of Quebec has entered upon a campaign demanding the preservation of the French language. These two politicians are holding meetings in the city of Montreal and other points in the Province for the purpose of rousing their compatriots to make some extraordinary demands upon the Federal Government.

They are stirring the French-Canadians to a high pitch of excitement because the great corporations of the Dominion of Canada refuse to follow the example of the Dominion Government and print all their literature in the two languages. They have a grievance against the two great railroad systems. They want the time-tables and the official notices posted up throughout the Dominion in both French and English. They want the tickets for the passenger traffic, the schedules for freight traffic, in fact all the literature and all the documents of all the railroads to be duplicated in French. They want to double the printing bills of the two big railroads upon the grounds that the language should have equal recognition with English everywhere in Canada. But this will not suffice. They want the inscriptions on coins printed in French. They want our postage stamps printed in that language. They would make all the banks print their paper money in the two languages. In fact there is no limit to their demands for the use of the French language.

They are not satisfied to exclude English in the Province of Quebec, as they do in all official documents. They would like to exclude the English everywhere. The first step in that direction is to put the French upon equality in all the minutest details of trade and commerce in the Dominion. Those who do not fall in with their views are denounced as enemies.

They regard it as a grievance that the sou is not stamped on the coppers of Canada and that a French inscription is not placed upon the postage stamps. But what about the grievance which the English-speaking people of the Province of Quebec labor under when the Orders-in-Council that are issued by the Quebec Government, authorize the municipal councils to dispense with the English language entirely? If an English speaking citizen of Quebec is interested in a legal action he is notified by a document printed in French. The decision of the judge on the bench is rendered in French though both parties may be ignorant of the language. This is the kind of treatment that the English speaking people of Quebec receive at the hands of French Canadians. Discrimination as rank as it can be is practised against them.

This is a British colony, it is part of the British Empire. The English language is the language of that Empire. It is reasonable for English speaking people who reside here to demand that in every hole and corner of the country the English language should be used for official purposes. Our friends in the Province of Quebec deny that privilege to the English speaking people and at the same time start an agitation for the use of their own language, which is not the language of the Empire, which is designed to bring in all the details of public affairs. We will watch with much interest the course of this agitation. It seems to have been designed for the purpose of rousing the national sentiment to advance the interests of those members of Parliament. There is reason to fear, however, that its effects will be serious. This is just one additional incident to support the view of those who hold that ultimately there must be another conflict between the races of Canada.—Exchange.

It is unquestionable that additions and alterations in the direction indicated in the article will meet with opposition. We trust however, that our "exchange" has put this matter in too glaring a light. Bourassa, however, is inflaming his compatriots and is a dangerous man. He is thought to be at least equal to Sir Wilfrid by the French-Canadians who assemble thirty thousand at a time to hear him.

TIMBER BERTHS

To the writer facts are more interesting than party recriminations, and accordingly he deems it best to put foremost the several specific instances which the Conservatives advanced to prove the Government blameworthy in its timber policy.

Bear in mind that Mr. Ames described three transactions in which speculators got hold of timber limits ahead of the sawmill owners. These were the berths on Cedar Lakes, Moose Lake, and Cormorant Lake. Other members, Mr. Perley, Mr McCarthy and Mr. Herron added examples to the list.

No 4. Near the Pas Mission Mr. Perley gave this.

North of the Pas Mission on the Saskatchewan is a cluster of three large lakes named Goose, Amisk and Namew. They drain into the Saskatchewan by Cumberland Lake and the timber which grows on their shores can be floated down to the Pas. When the Canadian Northern line is completed these limits will be in easy touch of the market. Before it was completed they were over 100 miles away and entirely inaccessible.

In 1903 the Department of the Interior leased 425 square miles on this cluster of lakes. The limit was leased in the dead of winter; the order was dated January 22; and the bids had to be in by March 7; the time allowed thus was 36 days; the limits could not be reached within the time at that time of year. The railway had not yet been built.

The Saskatchewan Lumber Company got the limit for $16,125. It is understood to have offered its limit for sale at $3 000 a mile or $375,000.

5. The Prince Albert Reserve limits. Again Mr. Perley's story.

Northwest of Prince Albert 500 square miles have been leased, long in advance of the needs of the lumbermen. This area is comprised in two berths, No 1048 and No 1049. They were leased in 1903, in the dead of winter; the dates were the same as in the case of the Pas Mission lakes. An area of 175 townships —from 6000 to 7000 square miles—was set aside. Berth 1048 was to consist of 250 miles square, in 25 blocks of 10 square miles to be selected in this area; i.e., it was first choice out of 6000 or 7000 square miles. Berth 1049 was 250 square miles, to be selected after the selection of berth No 1048; i.e., it was second choice.

This area is a long distance from the railway; the farthest edge of the district is about 175 miles from the railway at Prince Albert. To explore it would take months. The decision to lease it was made known on January 29th, and tenders had to be in by March 7th; or 38 days to examine this enormous area. And the advertisement stated that "No tender by telegraph will be considered."

Berth No. 1048 or the first choice, was taken by the Big River Lumber Company for $5400; there was one other tender.

Berth No 1049, or second choice, was won by J. R. Munson, a Winnipeg lawyer, on behalf of an unknown client. Nothing can be learned of the Big River Lumber Company, which has no domicile that can be ascertained. A commercial agency report stated that its timber berth was valued at $500,000. The selection has just been completed, having taken four and a half years.

Nine-tenths of this area is stated to lie beyond the watershed of the Saskatchewan— that is must be regarded as inaccessible for a long time to come.

First, Mr. McCarthy gave several instances of berths in the Athabasca region falling into speculative hands.

The most interesting of these is the berth known as No. 1122. This consists of 110 square miles; it is divided into seven tracts distributed in a most singular manner. They are 20, 30, even 50 miles apart. All these tracts were issued on December 15th, 1903. The tenders had to be in Ottawa on January 27th, 1904. Thus 42 days were allowed in the dead of winter. In the time allowed exploration and examination were simply impossible.

The Imperial Pulp Company owns this. Our old friend Mr. Fraser bid $11,000 and got the limit. He bid neatly over a rival, K. A. McLeod who put in a tender for $10,625. There were two smaller tenders, one of $4000 the other of $1220.

The applicant in this case was A. McLean, who is said to be a timber cruiser for Mr. Burrows. He did not tender.

On the headwaters of the Saskatchewan River are seven limits, all held by the Imperial Pulp Company; they amount on the whole to 3031-4 square miles. The timber can be floated down to Edmonton; in time the Edmonton mills must try to buy these limits.

Berth No 118, 100 square miles was put up for sale in the winter of 1903 and 1904 deducting the time occupied in transmission through the mails, 27 days were allowed for exploration and examination. Mr. Nolan got this for $500. Mr. Burrows bid $400.

Berth No 119, 20 square miles, for $600 again bid by Mr Nolan; Mr Burrows bid $500. This was sold in the same winter of 1903-04 with the same time, 27 days, allowed for exploration.

Berths Nos. 1118 and 1119 lie on Sheep Creek in the foot hills of the Rocky Mountains.

These are some of the facts brought out. The course of debate may be more briefly noticed. Mr. Perley, who is a practical lumberman, made a series of suggestions and of comparisons. The Government, he urged, 1, should put in a reserved bid, as is the practice of the Ontario Government in disposing of its timber; 2, it should explore the territory and know what it was selling; 3, it should sell only when there was a real demand on the part of the public; 4, it should sell in definite areas with exact boundaries given; 5, it should advertise more widely and allow more time. He compared with the cases he had described a sale made in Ontario in the same year. In this case four months were allowed though the berths were situated in Ontario and could be reached from Toronto in two or three days. The sale was by auction. A reserve bid, kept secret until after the auctioning was over, was put into the auctioneer's hands and if the highest bid obtained by the auctioneer was below this the limit was withdrawn. The advertisement was very wide. There were 88 parcels, ranging from three to fifty-six miles, only six were over eleven square miles in area.

Dr. McIntyre scored very neatly upon Mr. Perley. The member for Argenteuil had confessed that "in the days of his youth" he had about 1883 got a berth of fifty square miles for nothing; but he had found that there was no money in it. Dr. McIntyre followed, and showed that this limit which Mr. Perley had got and abandoned was the very Cedar Lake limit which A. W. Fraser had got in 1903 for $500. Thus he was able to establish the following situation;

In 1883 Mr Perley got this limit for nothing—he paid one year's ground rent, or $250—he had abandoned it—it was worthless.

In 1903 Mr. Fraser gets the same limit for $500—and the Opposition swears it is worth $500,000.

The House was a good deal amused at this—News.

What happened to the Fire Brigade? is it to be allowed to go on as formerly or is it to be "rooted out." From where we sit it looks as if it would be better to go on quietly as before. We never could quite get at the bottom of this business. Do we go into Class "A"? If not, why not? Is it cheaper to remain as we are? If so, why incur further expense? However, as we do not understand the question, like many another citizen, we shall drop it.

Constable Hill, of Hamilton, was reprimanded by the magistrate for an unfair remark in court.

KINGLY CORRESPONDENCE.

How the Sovereign Addresses Other Crowned Heads.

When the King writes to a crowned head he begins the letter "My dear Brother," in accordance with the fiction that all real crowned heads are brothers. This includes the Emperor of China, the Shah of Persia, the King of Siam, and the Emperor of Abyssinia; but would not include the Khedive, who is nominally subject to the Sultan. When writing to elected Presidents the King compromises on "My dear Friend," and this expedient cost a world of thought to Ministers in the reign of Queen Victoria, when it became necessary for her to reply personally to the President of the United States—that being the first occasion when a Sovereign of Britain had personally written to the head of the republic.

It may be added that when the King writes to the Emperor of China the address is so altered in the translation, in accordance with the ridiculous custom of the Chinese Court, as to make it appear as if the King had addressed the Emperor in terms of the most abject and slavish submission and flattery. In the reply, the Chinese Emperor addresses his correspondent rather from the point of view of some powerful demigod on earth who is signifying his pleasure to some petty and abject chief of a small section of an unimportant nation known generally as "foreign devils," for that is the Chinese official view of the European Powers generally. This document is not, however, allowed to leave the palace. It is carefully bowdlerized by the Imperial Secretary into a more orthodox shape, so that it may be translated into the foreign language without giving offence, and the Chinese "original" accompanies the European version.

BURNING ITCHING ECZEMA CAUSED MANY SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

MISS MABEL KNAPP

Miss Mabel Knapp, of 247 Wolfe Street., Peterboro', Ont., says: "Eight months ago small white blotches and pimples broke out on my hands. To keep from rubbing and scratching was impossible as the the itching was intense. This caused the pimples to break forming mattered sores between my fingers and spreading to the joints of my fingers. My hands were actually in a raw state. I suffered cruelly lying awake night after night with the burning, itching sensation and pains which followed. For months I could not bear my hands in water and did very very little work about the house. Various remedies were tried still the disease was not checked and I was now almost discouraged when a statement in the newspaper made by some person who had been cured of a similar disease by using Zam Buk caught my attention. I obtained a box of Zam Buk and began using it. Each application brought great relief. It checked almost instantly the burning and itching and soothed the pain, and soon banished all inflammation and swelling and in about three weeks from commencing with Zam-Buk, I was cured of this dread disease."

HEALING, SOOTHING AND ANTISEPTIC

Zam-Buk cures cuts, burns, scalds, ulcers, ringworm, itch, barber's rash, pimples and eruptions, blood poison, bad leg, salt rheum, abrasions, abscesses and all skin diseases. As an embrocation it is good for rheumatism, sciatica and all nerve pains when well rubbed in. Of all stores and druggists, 50 cents box or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, postpaid for price.

The Standard Syndicate.

By Annie Hinrichsen.

Copyrighted, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

"Mr. Harringford wears a broad brimmed felt hat and a white lawn tie and dresses almost as well as if he had a good tailor. He wears his hair a la Samson before he met Delilah. Without it he couldn't make a speech. In solemn pauses he sweeps it off his noble brow. In frenzied moments he clutches it wildly, and fiery eloquence results. The distinguished young southern congressman has struck a happy medium between a sophomore and a Fourth of July orator. He has the profundity, the all wise, know it all of the college student and the cheap wit, stale stories, I-work-to-please-the-public manner of the Independence day speaker."

Mr. Harringford read the article several times. He was accustomed to reading about himself, but in this sketch was a personal ridicule which at once amused and stung him. It had been cut from a provincial paper by a clipping bureau. It was not signed, but under the heading "News From Washington" were the words "Copyright by the Standard Syndicate."

That night Mr. Harringford visited a barber and was properly shorn. A facetious young man intimated that Samson had met Delilah, and a battle followed. The facetious young man was badly beaten and the hot tempered congressman somewhat disfigured.

The bureau sent another clipping from the Standard syndicate's news. Washington.

"Mr. Harringford refuses to discuss his black eye, but a story is being told concerning the cause of it. There are several aspirants for Mr. Harringford's seat in congress, and he is making strenuous efforts to strengthen himself with the leaders of his party in his district, many of whom are old Confederate soldiers. At the Army and Navy club a few days ago Mr. Harringford confided to an ex-Confederate colonel his intention of introducing a bill pensioning the soldiers who fought under Jefferson Davis. The ex-Confederate colonel resented Mr. Harringford's proposed legislation as an insult to the south and proceeded to avenge the honor of his lost cause. Mr. Harringford's friends regret that in his eagerness to make a grand stand play he has shown so little political shrewdness."

The congressman swore picturesquely and called his secretary.

"Smith," he thundered, "wire the editor of that paper for the address of the Standard Syndicate and the name of the person who writes the 'News From Washington!'"

The editor's reply came: "Standard Syndicate, Washington, D. C., H. W. Carleton, president. Don't know who writes 'News From Washington.'"

The city directory did not contain the name of the Standard syndicate nor of H. W. Carleton, and at the postoffice the clerks did not know the address. The mail for the syndicate was placed in a lock box. The clerks did not know who called for it.

One morning the congressman read in the "News From Washington:" "Mr. Harringford is a most chivalrous gentleman. It is said that he has promised his fair constituents to introduce and secure the passage of a bill providing for the free distribution of hairpins and violet perfume. Will such a measure tend to curtail our supply of free government seeds? If so, we should give the matter serious consideration. A new issue may confront us and result in the formation of two new parties—the hairpin-perfume party and the seed party. We call the attention of statesmen and thinkers to this proposed bill of Mr. Harringford's."

As the wrathful congressman finished the article his secretary entered the room.

"I've found the Standard syndicate," he announced triumphantly. "Tracked them down at last."

Mr. Harringford picked up a riding whip.

"Where are they?"

"In the Cairo."

"Who are they?"

"I don't know. A girl—a stunner—came out of the postoffice as I was passing and walked up the street ahead of me. She had a handful of letters, and one of them dropped, address up, on the sidewalk. I picked it up, and the address was 'The Standard Syndicate.'

"I followed her, and she went to the Cairo. The elevator boy told me her name was Carleton and gave me the number of her suit. She's probably the daughter or sister of H. W. Carleton. The elevator boy didn't know anything about him."

Mr. Harringford went to the Cairo. From the elevator he walked rapidly down the corridor to the door of the Carleton suit. He pressed the electric button and took a tighter grip on his riding whip.

The door opened, and a girl in street dress stood before him.

"Miss Carleton?"

"Yes."

"Is Mr. Carleton in?"

She looked puzzled.

"Mr. Carleton?" she asked.

"Mr. H. W. Carleton, president of the Standard syndicate."

"No; he's not in."

"Where is he?"

"I don't know."

"Is he out of the city?"

"Yes."

"Who manages the Standard syndicate in his absence?"

She shook her head.

"Can you tell me anything about the company?"

"There is nothing to tell."

"Who is their Washington correspondent?"

She looked at the whip in his hand and laughed.

"If you will come when Mr. Carleton is in," she said, "he will tell you all you wish to know."

The friendliness in her voice dispelled his irritation.

"When will he be here?" he asked.

She hesitated a moment. "His habits are irregular. He may be here any time. He is never gone long."

"I wish very much indeed to see him." He was thinking he had never seen a more charming face. "I shall call again in a few days."

A week later Mr. Harringford called—without his whip—to see Mr. Carleton. The president was not in. Miss Carleton did not know when he would be, and Mr. Harringford, although his call was a long one, made few inquiries about the syndicate.

When next he called Mr. Carleton had left the city the day before. The next time he was expected home in a day or two. Then Mr. Harringford forgot to ask for him.

One afternoon Mr. Harringford rang several times at Miss Carleton's suit. There was no answer, and he opened the door and went in. He sat down and waited a few minutes. Then he walked restlessly about the room, looking at pictures and bric-a-brac.

In his wanderings he came to a table. On it were several long, bulky envelopes and a mimeograph. Each envelope bore in Miss Carleton's writing the address of a newspaper.

Beside the mimeograph lay the article from which the copies had been made. He read the heading: "News From Washington. Copyright by the Standard Syndicate."

There was a soft rustle behind him, but he did not turn.

"Mr. Harringford!" She walked around the table and stood opposite him. "Mr. Harringford!" Her voice trembled.

"You wrote this?" he asked coldly.

She nodded.

"You are the Washington correspondent of the Standard syndicate?"

"Yes."

"Are you H. W. Carleton?"

"Yes, and—and I'm worse than that. I'm the whole Standard syndicate."

The congressman stared at her.

"The whole Standard syndicate?" he repeated.

"The whole thing," she said miserably. "I'm the Washington correspondent, the president— I'm—I'm even the printers."

"Why did you not tell me?" he asked.

"Oh, I couldn't. At first it was great fun to deceive you and to keep you hunting H. W. Carleton. And when I knew you better I couldn't tell you I was the person who had written those contemptible things about you."

"How have you done this a girl like you?"

"I came here as correspondent for a western paper, but the pay was small. I wrote to a number of provincial papers and asked them if they could use a series of weekly letters from Washington. I signed myself 'The Standard Syndicate, H. W. Carleton, President.' Several papers subscribed for the letters. Every week I wrote the 'News From Washington,' made the copies on the mimeograph and sent them to my papers. All the correspondents were puffing you, and I thought you were becoming a little spectacular and very conceited. After I knew you I was sorry and bitterly ashamed. I wanted to ask your forgiveness, but I was afraid you wouldn't"—

"Do you think I care for what you wrote about me?" he asked indignantly. "Is my vanity as great as that?"

"But I care—dreadfully. I have not written any more nasty things about you. I've praised you as much as the others have. But I couldn't tell you." Her voice broke, and her eyes were full of tears. "Don't be angry with me. Can't you forgive me?"

"I can—on conditions."

"What are they?"

"The Standard syndicate goes out of business and H. W. Carleton devotes her time to criticising me—but not on paper."

Miss Carleton gathered up her envelopes and dropped them into the open fire and laid the mimeograph on them. Then she turned to Harringford and held out her hands.

"The Standard syndicate has gone out of business," she said.

The Earliest Hospitals.

Since the earliest times there have been some sort of places which were designed for hospital work, although at first they were little more than shelters or cheaply built almshouses. In the Roman camps there was a medical staff to look after the wounded.

Among the earliest hospitals on record is that said to have been founded by Valens in Caesarea 370-80 A. D. and the one built in Rome by Fabiola, a Roman lady, although, like most others of that and even later times, both institutions probably were almshouses as well.

The origin of our present hospitals is traced to the monastic arrangements for the care of the sick and indigent. Every monastery once housed the sick and convalescent.

Almost the earliest record of the building of a hospital in England is in the life of Laufranc, archbishop of Canterbury, who in 1080 founded two, one for leprosy and one for ordinary diseases. In the eighteenth century London, between 1719 and 1747, established five public and five special hospitals. In Ireland, between 1726 and 1774, there were five public and three special ones established in Dublin, one in Cork, one in Limerick, and in 1797 one in Belfast.—Washington Post.

AIDS TO BEAUTY.

The indolent woman regains her lost energy when she learns how to breathe correctly. The sallow girl, with the dark circles under her eyes, discovers that with correct breathing the congested veins will yield to the stimulated circulation, the dark rings disappear, and the luster reappears in her eyes.

Nutmegs have medicinal qualities, which make them most useful in the treatment of various illnesses. In case of colic and dysentery, for instance, a little nutmeg very finely powdered and mixed with a little milk often has a most beneficial effect. Sleeplessness is often relieved in the same manner, for nutmegs have very soothing qualities.

Tears have their use, apart from the crying aspect, inasmuch as they refresh and wash the eyes. The eye requires to be kept clear and clean, and tears perform this duty. A striking example of this is shown when the eye is hurt. It at once commences to water, and often this natural method of cleansing relieves the pain and removes the cause of the discomfort.

Hip circling can be done with good results in the way of decreasing size if the principle of resistance is employed. Taking a standing position, with hands on hips, rotate the hips, bending the knee and keeping chest and shoulders immovable. Contract all the muscles used in this exercise and resist. For a variant bring the knee up to the chest, remaining as nearly erect as possible. Practice in alternate motion.

A Pretty Custom.

A hostess whose hospitality is almost a byword has introduced a charming custom for the benefit of her guests. She manages to find out their favorite flower, and by means of large flat sachets she delights her guests with sheets redolent of rose, lily, carnation or whatever may be the flower named. Perfumed beds are indeed a luxury, and yet they cannot be called a new development when we recall the delicious lavender scented sheets of our grandmothers' days.

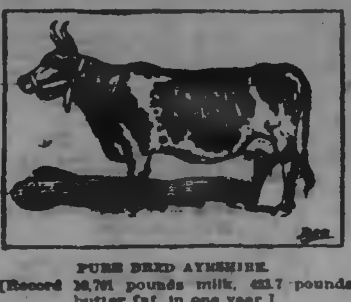
Not Advisable.

In the House of Commons Premier Asquith stated he did not think it was advisable to order the hoisting of Union Jacks on Government buildings on Empire Day.

A VERMONT AYRSHIRE HERD.

This herd was established by the purchase of a bull and six heifers and an occasional purchase afterward of a noted cow or well bred heifer with a view of improving the herd. The bulls used have been the best that could be found, from cows of noted dairy quality and long teats. The best heifer calves from the best cows have been annually kept to take the place of the old cows or such as could not reach the herd standard. The milk from each cow is weighed at each milking.

In summer the cows are driven about one and one-quarter miles to pasture, with a small night pasture near the barn. They are milked in the stable and are fed from one-half to two pounds of spring wheat bran at each milking. During the fall they have the run of the meadows. In winter they are fed all the low meadow hay they will eat clean and from one pound to four pounds of bran, the fresh cows having two pounds of mixed feed in addition. This mixture is ground barley, cottonseed meal, linseed oil meal, gluten meal, equal parts by weight. The grain is fed once a day on about one-third bushel ensilage. The cows are turned out to drink at a tub of running water twice each day, and on pleasant days they remain out an hour or two in the middle of the day.



PURE BRED AYRSHIRE.

In breeding and selecting cows for this herd careful attention has been paid to the dairy ability of each cow, and unless a cow in her prime could give 6,000 pounds of milk or 300 pounds of butter she was disposed of, regardless of other good qualities, and a cow's standing in the stable was not secure unless she could give in her prime, under favorable conditions, 7,000 pounds of milk or 350 pounds of butter in a year. The herd is made as uniform in size, color and style as possible, that they may present a fine appearance either when standing in the stable or moving along the road to pasture. The following is the general makeup required:

Size.—About 1,000 pounds at maturity, this size having been found to give the best results in this locality and being of sufficient size to please buyers either for breeding or to sell in Brighton as milk cows.

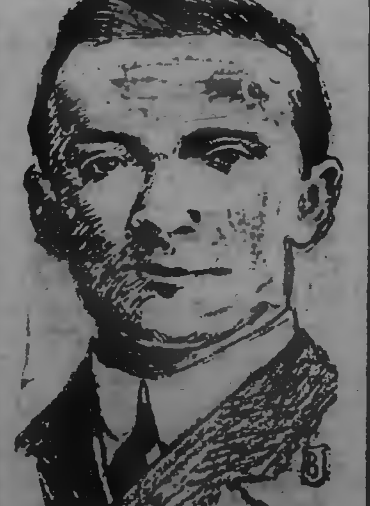
Color.—Dark red with clear white patches, about one-fourth to one-third white being preferred. This gives a wonderfully attractive and lively look to a herd of cows grouped or moving. Then, too, I have thought cows of this color were tougher and gave yellower milk and butter.

Style.—Small head and horns, slim neck, straight back, sharp shoulders, wide on the loin; large, shapely hind quarters; long, slim tail; udder extending well forward and back, well up under belly; teats long, of equal length, well spread; large milk veins.

Disposition.—Quiet and pleasant.

Prominent Canadian Breeder.

Country Gentleman gives the portrait of the president of one of the most important cattle breeders' societies on this continent, R. R. Ness, and says: "He has the largest Ayrshire herd in the Dominion, has won more prizes than any other Canadian breeder and has imported nearly 200 head during the past four years. He is also a good farmer, as he lately won the gold medal for having the best worked farm in twenty-two counties in Quebec."



R. R. NESS.
[President of Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' society.]

The exchange quoted also notes that the regulations for the Ayrshire home dairy test for 1908 are printed and may be had on application to the secretary, Charles M. Winslow, Brandon, Vt.

Unappreciated Feeds.

According to Messrs. Marshall and Burns of Texas, Kaffir corn and milo maize are not properly appreciated in the feed trade.

The Milk River Bridge of the C. P. R. in southern Alberta is washed out.

MULE RAISING.

The Feed Box and Good Blood Go Hand In Hand.

By GEORGE M. ROMMEL.

In breeding mules the first point is to see that the mule's sire is a large jack, recorded in the American jack stock stud book. He should stand 15.2 hands or even 16 hands high and should weigh up to 1,100 or 1,200 pounds. He should have a large, strong body and heavy bone. Weight and bone are cardinal points in a jack. If mares sired by light stallions—standard breds, coachers, etc.—are bred to such a jack, mules of good quality and fair weight may be expected. If the mares are by good standard bred saddle or thoroughbred stallions, the mules will be very active and will possess much quality and finish. If these mares have good weight, say 1,100 or 1,200 pounds, this mating will produce the finest sugar mules. If somewhat smaller, good cotton mules will result. If draft bred mares are used, the mules will of course be heavier. Such mules are the draft mules of the market and are in strong demand for city use. They have more weight than sugar mules, but not quite so much quality.

For small, indifferent 800 pound mares without breeding nothing better can be expected than the production of inferior cotton mules or pit and pack mules. It is useless to try to breed good mules from poor mares. There will probably always be more demand in the south for mules than for work horses which can be supplied by locally raised animals, but it is necessary first to have a supply of good, useful farm brood mares. It is doubtful if any jack is good enough to sire a good mule from a small, coarse, plug mare.

In conclusion let it be said most emphatically that it is a waste of time and money to try to breed horses, mules or any other kind of live stock without feed. It is all right to let animals rustle and find their feed, but they must find something worth rustling for when they do rustle or the rustling will do far more harm than good.

CHOICE DRAFT MULE.
[Height 15.2 hands, weight 1,500 pounds. Note his smoothness of form, combined with quality and finish for a mule of such unusual size. Many good judges have pronounced him unequaled.]

Exercise is splendid for the development of bone, muscle and constitution but it must be supplemented with plenty to eat. A farm animal (horses and mules are no exception) makes its greatest growth when it is young, and it makes it at the least cost.

It is a straight business proposition to feed young animals well, and it even pays to begin on the mother before the youngsters come into the world. Let the colts learn to eat a little grain before they are weaned, and keep this up when pasturage is poor. Let them run in the fields through the winter—the exercise is good for them—and bring them up at night and give them a feed. Do not think that because a colt eats cotton stalks and dried cornstalks he enjoys it. He may eat them because he has to.

Nothing responds to feed like a colt, and, conversely, nothing responds more quickly to its absence. Stunt the colt after weaning, refuse to feed him, and you have a stunted horse or mule, underaized at maturity. The feed box and good blood go hand in hand, the one supplementing the other. It is a hopeless, cheerless, profitless proposition to separate them.

Pasture For Foals.

There is far more in arranging about pastorage than is often supposed. A pasture may be good for calves and cows and poor for foals and horses. In respect to the pasture deemed best for foals a Kentucky exchange advises as follows:

It is not required to have for such a purpose what is known as rich land. Very rich land produces rank grass, and this is not the sort to make fine, strong bones and muscles of the firm and enduring sort. Foals raised on such material will be pretty sure to be lacking in spirit, being slow of movement and deficient in wind, so that when placed in harness to be required to go at a moderately fast pace—something not likely to be done except by a frequent application of the whip—they breathe heavily, sweat much and soon tire.

The best soil for foals is one that is dry. Sometimes this is secured by natural and at other times by artificial causes. If the soil abounds in rocks scattered about and that are a foot or more in diameter, they are not objectionable, but small stones are faulty, because the foals in running are liable to strike them and so injure their hoofs. The grass on the lands needed for foals should be sweet and tender. Thus every part of the animal grows as it should.

Butter Coloring.

"The natural color of June butter is a sufficiently high color, and when only enough vegetable color is added to produce this shade there will be no danger of using so much as to impart a butter color flavor to the butter," says Messrs. Farrington and Miles of the Minnesota experiment station.

Hamilton Methodist Conference contributed $16,750 for missions last year.

MISSION BAND MET YESTERDAY

Address at St. Andrew's Church by Mrs. Dodds

A largely attended meeting of the Mission Band of St. Andrew's church was held last evening. The members gathered for tea at six o'clock. After luncheon Miss Dolly Langford took the chair and opened the meeting. An instrumental solo was given by Miss Mary Potter. An address on "the Slums of London" was given by Mrs Dodds, wife of Rev. Mr Dodds of Oil Springs, PA, who is supplying for Mr. Potter during his absence.

THE THURSDAY HALF HOLIDAY

Merchants Decide to Have it Through July and August

The merchants of Peterborough have decided to have the Thursday afternoon holidays during the months of July and August. At first it was thought advisable to close the stores each day at five o'clock instead of half a day on Thursday. However this arrangement was not approved of and the stores will close on Thursdays commencing the second Thursday in July.

COLE BROS. REFUSED TO JOIN THE MAMMOTH CIRCUS TRUST

Were Approached Several Times and Asked to Affiliate But Would Not Entertain the Proposition—Parade in the Morning Has Been Retained.

The Cole Brothers have a reputation of over a quarter of a century's standing. Their name is a household one, and for honesty, fair dealing and squareness the show's name is too clean to be affiliated with any other. I would not be doing my friends and patrons the treatment due them if I entered into any agreement with the circus trust. As for abolishing the street parade, never as long as I am in the show business. There are the little children who look for the parade with equal delight as they do the coming of Santa Claus, and the poorer class of people who never see the performance but to whom the parade is the event of the year, what would they do without the parade. Deprive them of it. Not as long as the Cole Brothers are in the show business. On the contrary, I will please them more by adding to our parade and giving them a grand free exhibition on the show grounds when the parade returns."

It is needless to say that a show that will give battle to a powerful trust, using only its reputation as a weapon, is a show with a reputation that is unequalled. While the circus trust has done and will do everything possible to place obstacles in the way of the Cole Brothers' Shows, it has not been able to place any obstacle this aggregation could not overcome. Before the opening of the present season the syndicated shows again tried to enter into an agreement with the Cole Brothers' Shows, for a division of territory, so as their interests would not conflict. Again they were unsuccessful. Cole Brothers refused to make even this concession. The show's itinerancy was made out, and it will be adhered to, even if they have to show the same city, day and date, with the circuses in the trust.

The Cole Brothers' World Famed Shows in all their merit and magnitude will be in Peterborough on Wednesday, June 17th, and when it comes it will be made evident that they acted wisely in refusing to link its merit and identity with any circus clique that has long since become recognized for its devices to gain by sacrificing the interests of its patrons

LANDLORD PUT FURNITURE AND FAMILY OUT ON STREET

To turn his tenant out on the street without a place to go was the treatment of a landlord in Ashburnham yesterday. The people were going to move to another house next Monday and their rent was not due until then. What ever prompted the owner to be so hard and exacting can not be understood. It is said that he waited till the man of the house went away in the morning and then went and moved out the furniture and ordered the woman and children to leave the place. Last night the neighbors gave the family shelter. It is said that proceedings against the landlord will be instituted in the court.

FIRST GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF CHURCH OF HUMANITY

Great Bend, Kan., June 8—To spread the glad tidings of atheism throughout the civilized world is the object of the founders of the Church of Humanity who will begin their first general assembly here on Sunday, June 7th. Delegates from various parts of the country arrived today and while the convention will be small in numbers, every part of the States from New York to California will have representation. A permanent organization will be effected and plans made for propaganda which is expected eventually to extend throughout the world.

That all deities and devils, Christian and pagan, are myths, immortality a fable and death the end of conscious life is the basic creed of the new church. Neither do the founders present these statements as theories but declare that they are proven facts, capable of scientific demonstration. While there have been national organizations of freethinkers in this country this is the first attempt to found a national society along purely atheistic lines, as all previous organizations have been composed largely of agnostics, deists, pantheists and spiritualists. Voltaire, Paine and Ingersoll, the patron saints of all former freethinking societies have been discarded as false leaders and hopelessly behind the times through their lack of the knowledge now revealed that 'God is a myth like Santa Claus."

W. H. Kerr, a wealthy retired farmer of this city, is the principal spirit.

REGIMENT WILL GO IF INVITATION IS RECEIVED

At the weekly drill of the 57th Regiment last night the officer commanding, Col. Stevenson, announced that the regiment would go to the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec if they were invited. The regiment has volunteered to go and it is expected that an invitation will be received at an early date. If an invitation is not received the regiment will take a trip of its own as in past years. If this is done the trip will be taken on Labour Day. A large percentage of the members of the corps will also make up the composite regiment which will likely go into camp at Barriefield in September, or whatever date the camp is held there.

CITY SHOULD MAKE PROPER PROVISION FOR ITS POOR

Grand Jury of County Court Sessions Make Presentment—Aged People Should be Sent to Gaol—35 Inmates in County House of Refuge

The Grand Jury of the June Sessions of the County Court made their presentment to His Honor Judge Weller shortly before dinner today. It is very encouraging and is as follows:

Court House, June 10th,

To His Honor Judge Weller—

We, the Grand Jury at the general sessions of the county court of the County of Peterborough, beg leave to address you and submit the following report:

We are pleased and voice the sentiments of all, to refer to the absence of crime and congratulate the County upon the same. As a result our duties in court have been light.

In our visit to the gaol we find the same conditions, the inmates having been committed for minor offences.

We found everything satisfactory, and clean and orderly.

We are pained to state that some of the inmates of the gaol are committed for no offence at all, but simply due to incapability to maintain themselves as a result in most cases of old age. We would respectfully urge upon the city the necessity of making proper provision suitable to the unfortunate circumstances of such cases.

We visited the County House of Refuge and found everything in a satisfactory condition. There are at present thirty-five inmates, all apparently happy and everything in connection therewith gives evidence to the fact that the institution is being carried on in a satisfactory manner consistent with the spirit of the law in establishing such institutes.

We are pleased to note the measure of good health your Honor enjoys and trust that you may be long spared to perform the duties in the fair and just manner so characteristic of all your dealings in the exalted position you occupy.

Respectfully yours,
P. F. McNULTY,
Foreman

SECRETARY OF Y. M. C. A. HANDS IN RESIGNATION

Mr. H. C. Wright Decides to Enter McMaster University for Special Course—Will Leave Here on August 10th

Mr. H. C. Wright, secretary of the local Y. M. C. A., placed his resignation before the Board of Directors last evening to take effect on August 10th. Mr. Wright's resignation was received with great regret. He came here last November from Baltimore, Maryland, as successor to Mr. G. H. Williamson. During his stay in Peterboro he has made many friends, not only in connection with his work at the Y. M. C. A., but throughout the city.

Mr. Wright will enter McMaster University in the fall to take a special course. His numerous acquaintances in Peterboro, while learning with regret of his departure, join in extending their best wishes for his future success.

The Board is in communication with the Provincial Committee, and a good man will be procured to succeed Mr. Wright.

C.P.R.'S NEW WINNIPEG FLYER

Toronto to Winnipeg in 36 Hours, Via Muskoka Route

Commencing next Sunday, June 14th, the new train for the west will leave Toronto at 9 30 p.m., and daily thereafter, will make the run to Winnipeg in thirty-six hours, saving nearly eight hours on the present time between Toronto and the west. It will be the first train over the Canadian Pacific's new line to Sudbury, through the heart of Muskoka and Georgian Bay, which is appropriately named, "The Muskoka Route." Palace and Tourist sleeping cars will be carried, in addition to a handsome diner and first and second-class coaches, everything of usual high C.P.R. standard.

HO FOR RICE LAKE!

The steamer Otonabee will run regular half day trips to Rice Lake on Thursdays and Saturdays during June, July and August, leaving Wolfe St. wharf at 1.30 o'clock, calling at Street Railway wharf at 2 o'clock, returning at 9 p.m. Return tickets 50c. Children half fare.

MOONLIGHT TRIP ON THE OTONABEE

Held Last Evening—Under Auspices of Intermediate Boys' Bible Class

The moonlight excursion on the steamer Otonabee last evening under the auspices of the Intermediate Boys' Bible Class of the Y.M.C.A. was largely attended. The evening although a little cool, was an ideal one and a most enjoyable time was spent. The steamer was beautifully illuminated with over two hundred electric lights. The event passed off very successful. Good music was provided which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

YOUNG LAD HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Fell while Attempting to Board a Street Car Last Night

The practice of boys jumping on moving street cars ought to be prohibited. Last night on McDonnel street near the railroad track, a youth had a narrow escape from being the victim of a serious accident. Boys ranging in age from eleven to fourteen years are always jumping on and off the cars and the conductors are kept busy chasing them away. Last night a boy in attempting to board an open car slipped and fell and was dragged along the road for some distance. Fortunately the young lad escaped serious injury save a few bruises and some torn clothes.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Madill desires to announce to the readers of the Review that they have secured the agency for Parisian Sage, the marvelous dandruff cure and delightful hair dressing.

Mr. Madill is glad to state that Parisian Sage is a rigidly guaranteed hair restorer.

It cures dandruff in two weeks by killing the dandruff microbes; it stops falling hair; it cures all scalp diseases, or money back.

It is a most pleasant hair dressing, especially for ladies, as it makes the hair soft and lustrous. The price is only 50 cents a large bottle at W. Madill's Drug Store, George street, Peterborough, or by express, all charges prepaid, from Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

The Drug Stores during July and August will close each evening at Seven o'clock with the exception of Saturdays and days preceeding holidays. One store will remain open each evening for the convenience of the public. d2

THE PEANUT VENDORS

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir, — The peanuts are not the only thing that should be roasted at Jackson Park. The boys who go around selling them when the band is playing should be driven off. When one goes to the park to enjoy a band concert he or she does not like to have half a score of youths with shrill voices crying "Fresh roasted salted peanuts," breaking in upon the melody of the band. Is there any excuse for the peanut vendors shouting so? Their voices are not tuned properly and put the band concert much on the rough. Can't something be done?

Yours, truly,

ANTI-PEANUT.

PRIZE LIST OF TORONTO FAIR

Has Been Thoroughly Revised and Announces Many Special Features

The prize list of the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ont, Aug 29 to September 14 has come to hand. It has been thoroughly revised from beginning to end and in some respects presents a neater and more convenient appearance than formerly. Several important additions have been made, including an offer of $1100.00 divided into six prizes, for the best floral design to cover not more than 500 square feet of floor space. The Dominion Shorthorn Association give $2000 and the Clydesdale Association $5000 to the premiums offered for Shorthorns and Clydesdales. Several classes for horses and outfits used in business have been incorporated. Upwards of $7000 has been added to the amount given in prizes in the agricultural section. Altogether including medals and cups, the amount given in premiums reaches upwards of $50,000 by far the greater portion of which is devoted to live stock and agricultural products. A more than usually extensive art loan collection is promised by old-world masters; by special permission of H.M. the King, the Band of the Royal Artillery, Woolwich, England, will play and take a leading part in a grand international military tattoo and spectacle representing "the Siege of Sebastopol." The usual cheap rates and excursions have been arranged for by all lines of travel. On application to J. O. Orr, Exhibition offices, City Hall, Toronto, prize lists, entry blanks and any information desired, will be forwarded.

The Montreal cotton strike is at an end, and the men are at work on the terms offered.

SPORTING NEWS

GREAT BALL GAME ASSURED AT RIVERSIDE PARK SATURDAY

Peterboro baseball fans will see the game of the season on Saturday when the Peterborough and Cobourg swatsmiths meet at Riverside Park. The game will be for blood all the way through, as Cobourg has to win the game to have a decent standing in the league. On the other hand, the locals intend keeping up their unbroken record of victories and intend showing the Lake Ontario artists that last Saturday's win in Cobourg was not a fluke by any means.

Reports from the Cobourg camp are to the effect that baseball magnates there intend springing a big surprise on the Petes. They will have another new twirler but who he is has not been given out. Cobourg has signed and released two flingers already and it is a certainty that this time they will get a man who won't be driven from the mound.

The Petes will have on their regular team with Clements pitching and Edmunds behind the bat.

The grand stand will be in tip-top shape for the game and a record crowd is assured. The Petes are playing great ball, the niftiest ever seen here in fact, and the Cobourgers are also travelling some.

Rosseneath, of Port Hope, will likely hold the indicator.

HISTORY OF JOE GANS, WORLD'S GREATEST LIGHTWEIGHT

When the history of light weight fighters comes to be written some day in the dim future the name of Joe Gans will be found at the top. There are other great fight weights who have flourished in the ring but but the ebon-hued Baltimorean is king of them all. Jack McAuliffe was a great artist in his day and and so was Kid Lavigne, but neither of these bright stars of the fistic firmament ranks in the class with Gans. Joe combines the qualities of a fighter better than any other artist in the ring. He is master of all the scientific points of the game and carries in either hand a blow that induces sleep to the luckless individual who receives it. He is not only the light weight champion but could also lay claim to the welter weight championship if he so desired. When Mike Sullivan held this championship title two years ago Joe gave him an awful drubbing and a few weeks afterward repeated the trick because Mike still thought he could whip the colored boy. Then Joe went back into the light weight class where he has since remained and where he has since reigned supreme.

Joe is a native of Baltimore and is now in his 34th year. His real name was Gamp, but the sports changed it to Gans, which Joe likes much better. He started life as an oyster opener in Baltimore. Of his early life he says:

"When I wasn't opening oysters I was escorting fish around the neighborhood. That's where I got my first idea of foot work, but I never did any sidestepping when there was work to do. I could run faster than most of the kids in the neighborhood and when someone told me I had a good reach I began boxing. I must have been a promising lad, because the boss got interested and we all chipped in and bought a set of gloves. None of the boys could stand in front of me for more than a few minutes at a time. The double job was the groundwork of the defence which I have since built up.

I was 16 when I fought my first finish fight with a rival oyster opener. I drew $7.40 for my bit and I haven't drawn down a purse since that looked half as big. I think I had some of that money in my clothes for over a year. I was getting $5 a week in the market and when I won the extra money I wouldn't have swapped positions with Rockfeller. My next battle brought me $8 and then my mother demanded an explanation. When I told her I had won it by fighting for it, she insisted that I drop the scrapping game and stick to stabbing oysters. I did quit for a short time, but every time I saw a set of gloves my hands just naturally went into them. I was still a kid when I sent Walter Edgerton the Kentucky Rosebud, to the repair shop with a couple of splintered slats. Walter had just slipped a knockout to George Dixon and that helped me into the sporting pages.

Asked as to the toughest man he ever fought, Gans awarded the palm not to Nelson, but to Willie Fitzgerald. "Fitzgerald kept me jumping around like a Mexican bean to avoid a knockout during a fight several years ago," says Joe. "Willie carries a cure for insomnia on either side of him and the man who stops one of his swings needn't worry about things for a few hours. He was more dangerous then than he is now, but he will always be a bad man to take a chance with. Erne was clever, Nelson has courage, but Fitzgerald had everything the night I fought him. I had to give him a terrible beating to win, and I celebrated the victory by living on soup for a few days. My jaws were too sore to chew anything.

"I've stopped announcing my farewell appearances," continued the champion. "Honestly, I've tried again and again to go into retirement but it's no use. I'm like an oldfire horse; the minute I hear the gong ringing I want to go to it. It will not be very long nowbefore some husky youngster presents me with a sleeping powder. I realize that I've gone further than most champions and that eventually youth must be served."

Gans has met and defeated about all of the best light weights of recent years. There are some black marks on his record but for the past three years his battles have been above board and he has enjoyed public favor to an unusual degree. He is called the old master and he is certainly deserving of the title. The greatest battle of Gans' career was fought on Labor Day 1906, at Goldfield, Nev., when he had Battling Nelson as an opponent. Gans won in the 42nd round on a foul. He gave Nelson a hard beating, but the Dane showed wonderful powers of endurance and was game to the last. The two will meet again on the fourth of July at San Francisco and another great fight is looked for. Gans expects to put the Dane away long before the 40th round. Will he be able to do it? That Nelson is not as good a man as he was is evident while Gans appears to be as good as ever. The battle will attract the deep attention of all the lovers of the boxing sport.

THE NINETEEN CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVES NAMED

Ottawa, June 9.—The Olympic Central Committee last night named the nineteen official representatives of Canada to the great Olympic meet in London. Of course there will be eleven from Toronto, three from Montreal, and one each from Peterborough, Hamilton, New Glasgow, Brantford and Edmonton.

Tom Longboat, the great Indian distance runner, was turned down, but he, with Parkes, Toronto, Coley of Hamilton, and Burn, Calgary, may go at the expense of their own clubs, which will be reimbursed if the showing of the men at London warrant it. The official list follows:

Harry Lawson, Toronto; W. H. Woods, Brantford; W. H. Goldsboro, Toronto; Fred. Simpson, Peterborough; W. R. Galbraith, Toronto; J. Fitzgerald, Edmonton; Geo. Goulding, Toronto; K. B. Archibald, Toronto; Bobby Kerr, Hamilton; Frank Lukeman, Montreal; Dan Buddoe, Montreal; Lou Sebert, Toronto; Jack Tait, Toronto; L. McDonald, New Glasgow, N.S.; T. Savage, Montreal; G. Barber, Toronto; C. Bricker, Toronto; Allen Keith, Toronto; Orval Elliott, Toronto.

LIST OF EVENTS.

The men are entered as follows:

Marathon—Lawson, Goldsboro, Toronto; Wood, Brantford; Simpson, Peterborough.

Five and two and half-mile—Galbraith, Toronto; Fitzgerald, Edmonton.

Walking events, two and a quarter and ten-mile—Goulding, Toronto.

Pole vault—Archibald, Toronto.

Four hundred metres — Buddoe, Montreal; Sebert Toronto.

Eight hundred metres — Buddoe, Montreal; and Sebert, Toronto.

One thousand five hundred metres—Tait, Toronto.

Jumps and hurdles — MacDonald, New Glasgow; Savage, Montreal; Barber and Bricker, Toronto.

Longboat, Coley and Burn will compete in the Marathon and possibly the five-mile, while Irving Parkes will be entered in the middle distance events. Allen and Keith, the Toronto Varsity men, will take part in all gymnastic competitions.

There was a long discussion about the cases of Tom Longboat and Tom Coley, and it was explained that, owing to illness, neither had been able to do himself justice in the finals or semi-finals. It was explained that Longboat was the victim of boils and carbuncles, while Coley had collapsed in the trial Marathon owing to being over-trained. The committee also considered the case of Art Burn and Irving Parkes, and it was decided to let them travel with the team and to pay all their expenses should they succeed in getting prizes. Word to this effect was immediately wired to Hamilton and Toronto, and as a result Coley, Longboat and Parkes will go. Burn's case was decided last week.

SAIL ON FRIDAY.

The Canadian team will sail via the Tunisian on Friday at 9 a.m., leaving Montreal. They will go direct to London, and train there in preparation for the events. It will cost about $10,000 to send the team over and back, and, of course, the expenses will be higher if Longboat, Coley, Parkes, and Burn make good. Col. Hanbury Williams, Mr. Ross and Dr. MacDonald were also satisfied with the selection. The Canadian athletes will be accompanied by Mr. Crocker and Will Sherring, who is to be assistant manager.

OTHERS MAY GO.

The following resolution was also passed at yesterday's meeting of the Central Olympic Committee:

Any athlete in Canada of certified amateur standing who desires to compete at the Olympic games, other than those athletes who qualified at the time meets, will have his entry accepted and sent forward by the C.O.C. on the basis that he pays his own expenses, but if any competitor should go on this footing and succeed in making a better showing in the Olympic contests than any of the regular entries of the Canadian Committee, the committee will pay the expenses of the competitor."

ABOUT SIMPSON

Fred. Simpson, the Hiawatha Indian, who completed the Marathon team, is an enigma. He has none of Tom Longboat's erratic obstinacy, and adds to his tractibility a whole lot of good horse sense. He says he feels sorry that Longboat lost away his great chance. "This is my opportunity, and I'll make the best of it," said Simpson quietly before Saturday's race.

Simpson can run a great deal faster than he did in either trial Marathons. Instance his great showing in the Hamilton Herald race, where he came from behind in the last six miles and ate up Lawson, Cotter and the rest of the bunch.

In the trial Marathons Simpson ran second in the first part of the race until he was sure he was in the first six, and then "mooched" along some, contented to get the place without killing himself. That he had plenty of reserve steam was shown by his 440 sprint at the finish of each trial. Simpson is no Longboat, but he is a runner of sense and ability. He is long-legged, deep-chested, and carries no surplus weight. He has a flat-footed gait that is tireless. He has his bad periods, but fights gamely by the sore spot. He is good-natured and easily handled.—Toronto Star.

MUCH INTEREST AT BELLEVILLE

Walking Match There on Saturday Between Jim Harrison and Jack Cooper

The Review has received a copy of the poster advertising the matched walking race at the Belleville arena on Saturday of this week, between Jim Harrison, of Peterboro, and Jack Cooper, of Belleville, late of Buffalo, N. Y. The match is for a bet of $100 a side and is for four hours from 7 to 11 p. m. The contest has aroused great interest in Belleville and a big attendance of spectators is assured. The referee will be Mr. W. Stuart, contractor, of the Belleville armoury, and father of the late Hod Stuart of hockey fame.

From Belleville, Harrison will go direct to St. Catharines to take part in the big walking match there.

LAST DAY OF THE SUBSCRIPTION

Fred Simpson Must Have the $250 He Requires by To-night—Sails To-morrow Morning

It is to be hoped that Simpson will get the required $250 required to meet the expenses of his trip to England. He is certainly deserving of every support.

The money must be raised by to-night as he leaves the city to-morrow morning and will sail on Friday. It is a good opportunity for the city to really do something for the runner who has upheld its credit so well.

T.A.S. PLAYED A NICE GAME

Against Athletics Last Night at Riverside Park—Score 5-5

The T. A. S. nine made a splendid showing against the Athletics in an eight inning game last night, the score being 5-5. A feature was the clever work of Hayes, the T.A.S. pitcher, who has a puzzling out, and who uses good judgment in delivery. The team has braced up till round since its defeat by the Strathconas on Wednesday night, and from now on should play much better ball than it has been doing.

Dubie Shea was on his star behavior for the Athletics at short. He found plenty to do and did it well.

The teams are booked to play again to-night at 6.30.

The following was the line-up of the teams for last night's game:

ATHLETICS

Rattray — catcher.
Pilling, — pitcher.
Graham—1st base.
Heasilp—2nd base.
Shea—short stop.
Landry — 3rd base.
Connors — left field.
Callihan — centre field.
Quinlan — right field.

T. A. S.

McFadden, — catcher.
Hayes — pitcher.
Doris — first base
Derocher—second base.
Cahill—short stop.
Doherty — third base.
Corkery — right field.
H. Quinlan — centre field.
L. Giroux — left field.

CITY LEAGUE GAME TO-NIGHT

The Wellingtons and West Ends will meet in a City League game at Nicholls Oval to-night. The players are requested to be on hand sharp at seven o'clock or earlier, in order that the game may be started in good time. Mr. Clarence Wilson will likely umpire.

A VERY MODEST DESCRIPTION

Belleville Paper Has Not Much to Say About Baseball Match There

The Belleville papers don't go in very strong for baseball. The following modest paragraph regarding the Peterborough-Belleville game appears in the Belleville Intelligencer:

An interesting game of baseball was played here yesterday afternoon at the Driving park, which was well attended, considering that elections were being conducted. The game resulted in a victory for the visiting team who secured 14 runs to Belleville's 8. Mr. James Erskine was umpire and his decisions gave universal satisfaction.

CHOOSING THE AMERICAN TEAM

New York, June 9. — The American Olympic games team of athletes will be selected to-day at a meeting of the committee. The task of selecting the team is gigantic, because of the wonderful amount of talent shown in the trials.

It is predicted that Rector of Virginia will be selected for the 100-metre event, Cartwell of Pennsylvania and Robertson of the Irish American A. A., being other leading candidates.

The men for the 110-metre hurdle will probably be Shaw, Dartmouth, Smithson, California, and Garrels, Michigan.

Sheppard of the Irish-American is practically a cinch for the 800-metre with other leading candidates in Sheehan, Parsons, Jones, Lightbody, Glassner and Bromilow. The steeple chase is a hard race, the candidates lacking class. The 200-metre race will bring out the same men as the 100-metre event. For the 400-metre hurdle Harry Hillman and Chas. Bacon are leading candidates. Halstead, Cornell, is leading man for the 1,500 metre race with Lightbody, Coe and Rowe competitors.

The 400-metre men will come from Taylor, the colored champion, Carpenter, Cornell, and Alles, Princetown.

For the field events the leading candidates are Platt, Adams, javelin; Gilbert, Dray, Nelson, of Yale, and Cooke, Cornell, Pole vault; Coe and Rose, shot put; Porter, high jump; Dearborn, Sheridan and Harry Horr, discus, Cooke, jumps, Flanagan and Talbot, and McGrath, hammer, and Adams, hop, skip and jump.

WRESTLING

This is the day on which the Yankee Rogers-Hurtubise bout was to have been held.

WALKING

A bill announcing the Harrison—Cooper four hour walk in Belleville on Saturday has been received by the Review.

SHRUBB RETURNS

Alfred Shrubb, world's professional champion long distance runner, who sailed from New York on January 25, has returned to that city from England. Shrubb brought his wife and child. A week before he sailed from Liverpool Shrubb ran a 13 mile relay against four men at Ibrox Park, Glasgow, where in 1904 he made his ten mile record of 50 minutes and 40 seconds. He has also run a three and a four mile race at Newcastle-on-Tyne.

REGATTA FOR LITTLE LAKE

It Has Been Suggested That One be Held There—Successful Regatta Could be Arranged,

It has been suggested that a regatta be held on Little Lake this year. There are quite a number of canoeists and motor boat enthusiasts in Peterborough and it would seem as though a successful regatta could be arranged.

It is up to those interested to have a meeting and see what can be done in the matter. An energetic committee should be able to carry the matter through to a successful issue,

LACROSSE

The YMCA lacrosse club will practice tonight at the Riverside park. A full attendance is requested.

SWIMMING AND LIFE SAVING

The Swimming class will meet on Thursday nights at eight o'clock, instead of Friday. All the members are asked to bear in mind this change.

HOWDEN TROPHY

Mr. Percy McFadden is the latest man to enter for the Howden trophy. Entries can be made at the office of the YMCA or by telephone. Remember the date, June 18th.

SPORTING COMMENT

The Canadian Olympic Committee is sending a javelin thrower to the London games and letting Thomas Longboat stay at home or pay his own way. Get the hook.

Peterborough won't have any hammer throwers at the Marathon events in England, but considering the numerous knockers in the local realm of sport it would be an easy matter to secure a prize man if there were an anvil knocking competition on the list.

Told Stanley All About It.

During Stanley's last stay in London he was present one evening at a very swell affair, and the attention paid to him was so annoying that he was delighted when he had an opportunity of slipping away unnoticed. He found a quiet corner in the smoking room and was enjoying a cigar when a spruce young fellow, who, it turned out, was a lieutenant in the navy, came up.

To Stanley's surprise, the lieutenant began to tell him all about Africa, and it soon became evident that he did not know he was talking to the great explorer.

Other listeners strolled in, and pretty soon there was quite a crowd listening to the young man telling the most astonishing things about the dark continent, the Kongo, the shire district, the native races, and so on.

At first Stanley endeavored to correct his mistakes, but the lieutenant knew better, and so be permitted him to talk on. Finally this extraordinary and laughable scene was brought to a conclusion by one of the guests saying:

"But, Mr. Stanley, you told us"—

"Stanley!" cried the lieutenant. "Is this Stanley, the African explorer?"

"Certainly," was the reply. The lieutenant gave one look around, tried to speak, flushed scarlet and then dashed out of the room, followed by a roar of laughter, in which even Stanley joined.

DRUNKEN WOMAN WANDERED THE STREETS IN BARE FEET

Was Fined Five Dollars in Court To-day—Many Disorderly Cases—Man Allowed Hens to Run at Large

There have been cases of allowing cows and horses to roam at large in police court but today was the first time that a man has appeared for letting his hens go where they please.

A Euclid avenue resident was the one accused of the offence. He pleaded not guilty.

Mr. George Adamson, the next door neighbor, was the complainant. He said that the chickens were continually tearing up his garden. No matter how often he spoke to the owner of them it was just the same. It seemed that they were allowed to run for spite.

The defendant's wife and another witness swore that the hens had not been out of the barn since May 18th

His Worship allowed the case to stand for a week.

DRUNK AND DISORDERLY

Patrick Corsey was fined five dollars to be paid forthwith or ten days in gaol for being drunk and disorderly last evening. He pleaded not guilty.

P. C. McHarry stated that last night about 9.30 o'clock there was a crowd at the corner of Sherbrooke and George streets. They were drinking beer in large quantities. Corsey had an axe and was going to murder some fellows on the opposite side of the road.

About 12.30 o'clock the officer found Corsey lying in the yard at the rear of the house, quite drunk, with Mrs. Crouter.

Ann McCarthy, presented a woeful appearance as she stood before the Magistrate. She pleaded not guilty to being drunk and disorderly but the evidence was against her. She was fined five dollars to be paid forthwith or ten days in gaol.

P. C. McHarry found the woman wandering about the streets in a drunken condition and very scantily clad. She was in bare feet, barehead and there was a deep cut in her nose, the blood streaming down her face. Her eyes were blackened and her face was terribly mutilated.

Wm. Worthington was also fined two dollars for being drunk and disorderly.

MRS CROUTER REMANDED

Sarah Crouter pleaded not guilty to keeping a disorderly house at the corner of George and Sherbrooke Sts. She was remanded for one week.

THE STRENUOUS LIFE

Pulls so Hard on the Stomach it Must Have Help

The stress and strain of the strenuous life in both city and country makes stomach trouble. Five people suffer to-day where one did ten years ago, with sick headache, dizziness, flatulence, distress after eating, specks before the eyes, bloating, nervousness, sleeplessness, and the many other symptoms of indigestion.

All who are suffering with stomach troubles, and that means at least two out of every three in Peterborough and other towns, should use Mi-o-na stomach tablets. Nothing else is as safe, yet as effective; nothing else can be so thoroughly relied upon to relieve all trouble from indigestion as Mi-o-na.

So reliable is Mi-o-na that M. McDill, druggist, corner George and Hunter Sts., Peterborough, with every 50 cent box he sells, gives a guarantee to refund the money unless the remedy cures.

A BISON AT BAY.

Fight to the Death Between a Bison and a Pair of Tigers.

On a hunting trip in India C. de Crespigny witnessed a remarkable fight to the death between a mighty bison and a pair of Bengal tigers, of which he tells in Outing. With two trained Indian trackers he had been stalking the bison for days, for his huge tracks left no doubt that he was a prize well worth the trouble. A fortnight passed before the fresh appearance of the tracks indicated that they were not far from the huge animal, when one of the trackers discovered they were not the only hunters on this quest. The tracks of a couple of tigers followed those of the bison. There was the more interest in the search as the huge animal was not alone, everywhere the tracks had made evident that he was accompanied by his mate and her two calves. It was well towards the close of the day when from the vantage ground of a slight rise the human hunters at last saw their prey about a hundred yards off.

Before I could make up my mind whether I should interfere or not, the fight had begun and I gazed, spell-bound. One, the tigress, as I subsequently found out, had stealthily wormed her way round behind the bull, while the tiger remained facing him. Suddenly a yellow streak flashed through the air from behind, and the tigress landed fair and square on the bull's neck, and her claws tearing cruel slashes along his sides. As the bull, taken entirely by surprise, involuntarily threw back his head, the tiger facing him sprang for his throat, and seemed to get home despite the quickly lowered horns, for his fore paws were round the bull's neck, his fangs apparently in his throat, whilst his hind claws were tearing his chest to ribbons. The attack, ably conceived and skillfully carried out, appeared to be entirely successful. In vain the poor brute rushed through the undergrowth shaking himself, and toiled here and there trying to dislodge the monstrous clinging cats; all his efforts seemed unavailing, and the blood was soon pouring down his lacerated chest and sides.

My rifle was again at my shoulder, for I could not let my old friend be butchered in this cold-blooded way, and the end seemed imminent. The indignant snorts had turned to labored breaths and then to moans, twice he was down on his knees, and twice he struggled again to his feet. Round and round he blundered, pushing up against the trees and doing all he knew, but the tigers' deadly grip never relaxed.

Suddenly the huge brute was down on his knees for the third time. Surely it was all over now and this was the end! No! it was his last card and he played it well. With a quick, convulsive movement he threw himself on his side and rolled over; there was a sickening thud, and when he was up again, the tigress's yellow form lay motionless on the ground, whilst the tiger had relaxed his hold of the throat. In an instant the tide of battle had turned, for the tiger did not seem anxious to renew the attack by himself—on the contrary he seemed to be trying to get off quietly; perhaps he too had been damaged in the fall, for the fight seemed knocked out of him. But the enraged bull, with the lust of victory in his eye and mindful of the cruel treatment he had received, was not going to let him off so easily and was pressing him hard. And so they stood facing each other, the tiger snarling and showing his fangs, and the bull threatening him with lowered head. Again and again the bull charged, but the tiger managed to evade him, giving ground toward us. Finally, in desperation, finding he could not get away, he sprang once more for the bull's throat; but he met the lowered horns and was flung with a heavy thud over the bull's back. The bull ran in, butting and tossing the inanimate form, until at length satisfied he stood victorious; but it was a sore-wounded and exhausted victor with lolling tongue and heavy, blood-stained sides.

Slowly and timidly the cow and calves joined him, the calves pressing up close against their mother's flanks as if they had been glued there; and it was a touching sight to see her licking his wounds. And so, within thirty yards of me stood the family, to meet which I had spent so many hours and toiled so many weary miles.

"Maro, maro, Sahib," whispered Ram Dass hoarsely, pointing to the bull. But no, I simply could not shoot, my rifle declined absolutely to come up to my shoulder. It would have been sheer murder to have killed that helpless and exhausted brute, who had fought so gallantly for his mate and offspring. And so as the sun sank behind the hill and the short Indian twilight came on apace, I watched my old friend walking slowly, but I am glad to say firmly, away into the depths of the jungle with his mate and calves nestling close up to his wounded sides; and figuratively I took off my hat to him for the brave old sportsman that he was. He left behind him as my share of the perquisites two tigers, with their skins rather the worse for wear it is true, but still two royal Bengal tigers. And though he was taking away forever from my ken those splendid horns, which I had coveted so anxiously and worked so hard to get, I did not have it in my heart to wish it otherwise.

Wooden Bread.

It is commonly known that bread when very stale becomes practically as hard as wood, but a German paper devoted to the wood industry has conceived the idea of making bread of wood. In fact, in order to exploit the idea a "bakehouse" has been constructed in Berlin in which the "loaves" are made. It is prepared by first of all submitting the wood in the form of sawdust to various chemical processes, then mixing it with a certain proportion of rye flour, after which it is worked into a paste and put in the oven like ordinary bread. It is necessary to add, however, says The London Globe, that the "bread" is only made for horses.

THE HOME MARKET

The Montreal Trade Bulletin, commenting on the falling off in exports to Great Britain in several lines of Canadian Agricultural products, says:

"It has been stated that the increase in our home consumption has accounted for the falling off in the above exports. That may be partly true, but the main reason is we are being undersold, which should not be.

The Trade Bulletin surely does not think that Canadians will ship produce abroad when it can be sold to greater profit at home or expect us to sell regardless of profit or loss. In this connection we note in the 1907 report of the Professor of Dairy Husbandry at Guelph that in 1906 and 1907 the financial returns from butter shipped to London, Eng., were not equal to those obtained for similar butter sold on local markets and Siberian and other butter has actually been imported from England for consumption in Canada. Canada, or, at least, older Canada, is relatively less of a farming country than it once was. Manufacturing and other industries now bulk proportionately larger in the scale, and of course an industrial population requires to be fed. A considerable share of our agricultural produce now goes to support an artisan and laboring army at home instead of abroad. Canadian agriculture is doing very well though there is certainly room for vast extension yet. When the country's educational systems are remodelled and the intelligent youth of Canada is educated for rather than from the farm and agriculture rises to its proper place in popular favor our exports of agricultural products may again increase. Canada can hold her own in economy of production but so long as home markets absorb our products at tempting prices, we shall have small concern about exports.—Farmer's Advocate.

Queer Diet of Old Soldier.

One of the most unique characters in the southwest is Thomas Carrl, who has lived the life of a hermit in a cave dug out of the bank of the Colorado river, two miles west of Austin, Texas, for the last ten years. He says he was born in Ireland 80 years ago and that he came to the United States just before the civil war and was a Federal soldier during the whole of that strife. He reaches the cave by means of a rope which hangs down from the bank above and receives a pension of $15 per month from the Federal Government, which is sufficient to supply his few wants.

One of the chief articles of diet of the old man is snakes. He says that when he first moved into the cave the snakes bothered him considerably, but he waged a warfare upon them and killed them out, so that he is not troubled by them now. He claims that he eats all the snakes he kills and that their flesh is very palatable when fried. He never talks of his early history nor tells why he chose the life of a hermit. He is well read and is an entertaining talker on many subjects.

NORWOOD

Special to the Review.

Norwood, June 9th. — There passed away on Friday evening last, after a prolonged illness, Walter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Wildman, Asphodel. Deceased was a young man only 22 years and 7 months old, and up to the time of his illness was the picture of health and strength. His father and mother, together with three brothers and two sisters are left to mourn his loss. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to the bereaved family as was evidenced by the largely attended funeral on Sunday afternoon at 2.30. Rev. James Dixson, Baptist minister of Norwood, conducted the funeral service.

The Conservatives of Norwood were jubilant over their signal victory of yesterday, when that popular candidate, Mr. James Thompson, of Havelock, was returned to the Legislature by the handsome majority which he succeeded in rolling up, by his popularity and faithful work as a canvasser. East Peterboro may feel proud of having a young man of Mr. Thompson's parts to represent them in the legislative halls at Toronto, and we bespeak for him a distinguished career.

The contractors who have the building of additional cement walks in hand this season are pushing the work along at a fine pace. Already since last Thursday, a four and one-half foot walk has been completed from the Methodist church east on Peterboro and Belmont streets east to the limit of the corporation. The work is apparently satisfactory in every respect to the men who have the contract in hand.

Mr. Herb Beavis left this morning for Toronto where he has secured a good position. He expects to move his family and household effects in a short time.

The regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held tomorrow, (Wednesday, evening, on account of the elections being on Monday.

The band gave its first open air concert last Friday evening on the band stand in front of the new town hall. The music was appreciated by a large number of citizens.

Constable Johnson appeared in a nice smart suit with brass buttons and cap with badge band a short time ago.

Messrs. Laing and Hendren are showing a nice line of organs and pianos, also cream separators and six different styles of first class sewing machines in their up-town show rooms. Any person interested in the above lines should call and inspect their stock.

Messrs. J. L. Squire and J. F. Elliott returned on Saturday night from attending the Bay of Quinte Conference in Lindsay.

Mrs. Dancey, of Picton, is visiting at Mrs. J. MacLachlan's, Queen street.

Mrs. E. J. Laing and daughter, Miss Elsie, are visiting friends in Peterborough.

Miss M. Drain spent last week in Hastings.

Mr. Parke, of Hamilton, is visiting his friend, Mr. Duncan Anderson, Queen street.

Mr. Robertson, of Tweed, formerly of Norwood, was in town on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howson, of Peterboro, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Buck, town.

Mrs. Fred Lennox spent Sunday in Havelock.

Miss Ella Morrow spent Sunday in Peterboro.

One day last week Vera Finlay broke a bone in her ankle while jumping off a play house. She is confined to the house, but is progressing favourably.

The toll of the curfew which now rings at eight o'clock, warns all children under fifteen years of age to flee to their homes.

Mr. Fred Stewart who, some time had several of his toes amputated, at the box factory, is getting along as well as can be expected.

Miss Bessie Campbell is visiting friends in Havelock.

There died in Norwood on Friday night last one of Norwood's most highly respected citizens in the person of Mrs. R. W. Waters. Mrs. Waters was only subject to a very short illness and her sudden death came as a great shock to her beloved family and friends. Mrs. Waters, whose maiden name was Catharine Fleming, of Percy, was in her 69th year, and was married 51 years ago to her now bereaved husband. A family of four children was the outcome of their wedded life, viz., Mr. C. W. Waters, of the firm of Messrs. R. W. Waters and Son, of Norwood, Miss Edith Waters of the public school staff here, Mrs. Richard Lees, of Peterboro, and Mrs. Norman Pickard of Port Arthur.

The funeral on Sunday afternoon was largely attended. Rev. G. O. MacLellan, of the Presbyerian church, conducted the obsequies. The Jas. Finlay, M.P., Mr. John Knowles bearers were Mr. J. B. Pearce, Mr. J. L. Squire, Mr. Wm. Spence, Mrs. and Mr. Richard Nichol.

The sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. Waters and his family in their bereavement.

Wm. Quimby, scalded by a bursted steam pipe in a saw mill at Rainy River, is dead.

THE BEST FRIENDS OF PE-RU-NA ARE THE MOTHERS AND CHILDREN

MR. F. BROCKMAN WIFE AND CHILD
MRS. J. C. STERLING'S CHILDREN
G. H. FARMER and SON

Pe-ru-na Should Be Kept In Every Household

Where There Are Little Children.

Peruna should be kept in the house all the time. Don't wait until the child is sick, then send to a drug store. But, have Peruna on hand—accept no substitute.

Children are especially liable to acute catarrh. Indeed, most of the affections of childhood are catarrh.

All forms of sore throat, quinsy, croup, hoarseness, laryngitis, etc., are but different phases of catarrh.

Pe-ru-na Contains No Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna, if taken according to printed directions, is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. It does not produce temporary results, but it is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh.

Mrs. F. Brockman, 818 Meade street, Appleton, Wis., writes:

"I have never had a return of the catarrh, which had made me so miserable and unhappy before I began taking Peruna.

"I would not be without it in the house, now.

"I have a baby boy, two years old, to whom I give Peruna for a cold, and my husband also takes Peruna.

"I thank you and wish you well."—Mrs. F. Brockman.

No Doctor Required.

Mr. Edward Otto, 927 De Soto street, St. Paul, Minn., writes:

"I cannot say enough for Peruna. It has done great work in my family, especially for my oldest boy. We had doctored with three or four different doctors and they did not seem to do him any good.

"We gave up hopes of cure, and so did they, but we pulled him through on Peruna.

"We had several doctors and they said they could do no more for him, so we tried Peruna as a last resort, and that did the work. Since then we keep it in the house all the time, and no doctor is required."—Edward Otto.

There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years.

Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any narcotics.

The Benefit Which the Children of the United States Have Received From Pe-ru-na Can Never Be Put Into Words.

The chronic ailments it has prevented, the suffering it has mitigated, will never be fully recorded.

But at least this much can be said that the coming generation owes a great debt to Peruna, for it is in the tender years of youth that slight ailments are liable to develop into lasting disease, thus blasting the whole career of the individual.

The mothers who are bringing up their children to-day to believe in Peruna are speaking from their experience.

These children brought up to believe in Peruna from the start, will, when they become heads of families themselves, use Peruna with unquestioning faith.

A Child's Life Saved.

Mr. G. H. Farmer, New Martinsville, W. Va., writes:

"Our little son, Harry, is well and healthy now and we think if we do as you directed us, he will keep his health and grow strong.

"We know that our little son's life was saved by your wonderful medicine, Peruna, and we shall always praise Peruna and use it in our family when needed.

"Should we have any more catarrhal trouble in our family, we shall always write to you for treatment."

Mr. W. F. Doring, Mt. Vernon, Mo., writes:

"I have used Peruna to my entire satisfaction and am exceedingly well pleased with the results, having suffered greatly with catarrh of the stomach."

Mrs. J. C. Sterling, 128 Brown Avenue, Norfolk, Va., writes:

"My little boy, Meredith, suffered with indigestion so badly he could not eat anything without it making him very sick, so I thought (as many others have) that I would try Peruna, and it worked like a charm.

"Now he eats anything he wishes, and I would not be without it for anything.

"My other little boy, Alfred, two and a half years old, has taken it and received as much benefit from Peruna as his brother.

"I hope my testimonial may be of some benefit to others, as I feel as though I cannot praise it enough."
—Mrs. J. C. Sterling.

Mr. Howard Andrew Sterner, 424 Canal street, Reading, Pa., writes:

"I have Peruna in my house all the time and won't be without it. It is good for children when they take a cold or croup. It cured my baby boy of croup.

"I have introduced Peruna into six families since I received your last letter, and four have seen relief already."
—Howard Andrew Sterner.

Pe-ru-na Protects the Entire Household.

As soon as the value of Peruna is appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and remedy, many lives may be saved and thousands of chronic lingering cases of catarrh may be prevented.

When Sickness Comes to the Little Ones

It Is the Mother Who Chiefly Suffers.

She suffers even more than the child who happens to be sick.

Her sympathy is deeper than that of any other member of the family.

The mother looks forward with dread to the torrid heat of summer, thinking of her children and the many liabilities to disease that are before them.

Spring and summer are sure to bring ailments, especially among the little folks.

It does not take a mother very long to discover that Peruna is the best friend she has in time of illness among the children.

A Multitude of Mothers

Have discovered that Peruna is their stand-by, and that in many of the ailments of spring and summer to which the children are subjected, Peruna is the remedy that will generally quickly relieve.

Whether it is spring fever or stomach derangement, whether it is indigestion or bowel disease, a catarrhal congestion of the mucous surfaces is the cause.

Peruna quickly relieves this condition of the mucous membranes. Its operation is prompt, the children do not dislike to take the medicine, it has no deleterious effects in any part of the body.

It simply removes the cause of the disagreeable symptoms and restores the health.

Peruna is a household remedy for all catarrhal ailments of winter and summer, acute or chronic.

The mothers all over the United States are the best friends that Peruna has.

Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, Ohio, writes: "My daughter Allie, after taking three bottles of your Peruna is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years standing. We have used Peruna as a general tonic as well as for catarrh and are well pleased with it and recommend it to anybody who has catarrh."

The Mothers Hold Pe-ru-na in High Esteem,

Not only because it has cured them of their various ailments, but because it promptly rescues the children from the throes and grasp of catarrhal diseases.

We have in our files many testimonials from mothers whose children have been cured by Peruna. However, the large majority of mothers who use Peruna, we never hear from.

But we do hear from a great number of mothers who are so overjoyed at some special good they have received from Peruna that they cannot restrain their enthusiasm. They are anxious to share these benefits with other mothers.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION

Special to the Review

New York, June 9.—Although stock market values have now had a considerable advance notwithstanding easy money, good crop reports and improved business prospects are a combination which retard any great downward reaction of any importance for the present at least. An important influence in the situation is the monetary outlook. In spite of large gold exports and heavy withdrawals of Government deposits, there is a big surplus of loanable funds in the banks that is likely to await employment until the fall crop demands assert themselves and general business becomes more active. Even then there is no prospect of stringency, as is shown by the low rates for six months' time money. Such ease, of course, reflects post-panic conditions, and is the consequence of a lessened volume of business and lower prices Our banks, however, are in an exceedingly strong position, and the financial situation shows steady improvement each week. The most important financial event of the week was the passage of the currency bill by Congress. While it is not satisfactory as a permanent measure, and can only be regarded as a temporary expedient, it will, nevertheless, have a steadying influence in financial affairs. The generally recognized fact that in an emergency $500,000,000 of new money is obtainable by the banks and can be put into circulation at once, will prevent widespread and serious panics occuring hereafter. If, therefore, such panics are prevented the emergency currency law may serve its purpose without the money it authorizes being called into use. It being fully understood that $500,000,000 can be obtained when absolutely necessary, the probability is that it will be seldom, if ever, wanted. When I originally suggested the fundamental part of this measure I had that idea in view as I have felt that it was a burning disgrace to the nation that money could be 3 per cent. in Wall street one day and 150 per cent. the next. This was working most disastrously to permanent business confidence with our merchants and financial institutions and the general prosperity of the country. The new bill certainly will serve the purpose of bridging over until a better plan can be secured. I have favored this emergency measure because I was convinced it was the only thing this Congress could possibly be influenced to pass during this session, its simplicity being its chief recommendation.

Considerable encouragement can be derived from crop conditions. Thus far the season has been exceedingly favorable, the injury from excessive rains having been inconsiderable. The latest reports show that cotton is about 10 points better in condition than a year ago, and that there has been no reduction in acreage in spite of agitation to the contrary. As to winter wheat the prospects are excellent, conditions being better than a year ago, and acreage larger. Kansas which last year raised 64,000,000 bushels, reports conditions much higher than a year ago. Spring wheat is also doing finely; and in Minnesota and the Dakotas, which raise the bulk of this crop, prospects are high enough to promise a bumper yield, if future injury does not prevent. Corn is backward, owing to excessive rains, but the latter have left the soil in a good condition, and corn is a crop which makes time rapidly when hot weather arrives. Nearly all other crops are doing well, especially the hay crop, and our farmers are as sure of an ample harvest and good profits as they can be at this stage of the season. Moreover, the danger of damage from drouth has been largely eliminated by recent abundant precipitation and the general high condition of crops.

General business shows signs of improvement. The volume of transactions is still far below normal, but buyers are taking hold and mills are resuming in a manner that is encouraging, and proves that the recovery is actual and not imaginary. Some very liberal orders for both cotton and woollen goods have been placed this week; and the iron trade is being stimulated by lower prices in spite of recent official announcement that quotations would be maintained. It would be idle, however, to expect too sudden or pronounced a revival. A period of midsummer quiet is at hand, and it will be some time before business is resumed on the former scale, and then it will be only upon a lower level of values and costs. Our railroad situation is still unsatisfactory, earnings showing heavy losses owing to diminished volume of traffic. No very great improvement in this respect can be expected before the crop movement begins. In the second week of May 44 roads reported a decrease of nearly 22 per cent. in earnings, and in the third week of May 41 roads reported a decrease of nearly 21 per cent. More recent reports show even larger declines on some roads. Net returns are also disappointing, although the losses in this respect have been somewhat compensated for by extensive curtailments in expenses. Now that the roads are better able to finance their new loans, at least a partial resumption of improvements and new construction is to be expected. This has been delayed somewhat by the high prices demanded for iron and other construction materials; but recent concessions in this respect will no doubt aid in restarting the wheels of industry. Business failures in May were nearly $27,000,000, or almost double those of the same month last year. During the first months of 1908 total failures were $160,000,000, as against $59,000,000 for the same period in 1907. Of late failures have been diminishing in number and in amount of liabilities, but these figures are emphatic testimony as to the severity of the panic, and leave but one conclusion—that recovery after so severe a blow cannot be instantaneous, not even under the most persistent application of the "faith cure" treatment.

The stock market is likely to be somewhat uncertain until the Republican Presidential nomination is made. The undertone is unmistakably quite strong and no serious setback is expected. Prices, however, are on quite a high level, and should the market lose the conspicuous support of big operators who are now under it prices would naturally sag. Two factors contribute towards a decline in the latter part of the week; the approach of the Republican convention at Chicago and the placing of the Union Pacific loan. The market no doubt had been manipulated to assist the latter operation, and its consummation was accompanied by considerable realization on part of the operators who have been active in these shares. There is still some uncertainty as to who will be the next Presidential candidate, and the captains of industry and financial leaders, who have felt the Government's strong arm during the last two years, are naturally sensitive as to the outcome. Mr. Taft's nomination would, however, be satisfactory to financial interests; inasmuch as it is fully believed he would continue present policies with as little irritation as possible. The market may easily go lower, but no serious decline seems probable.

OPENING CONCERT OF THE S. A. BAND

Gave Excellent Programme at Victoria Park Last Night—Band Played Splendidly

The programme given by the Salvation Army band at its concert in Victoria park last night was a fine one and the wide range of numbers gave the band an excellent opportunity to show its ability as a first-class musical organization.

The concert opened with a stirring march, "Under the Colors," followed by "Tell Me the Old, Old Story," the beautiful hymn being an expressive rendition.

Bandsman Richardson's solo on the monster bass, which was introduced during the playing of the Grand Redemption was one of the features of the programme.

Of the other numbers on the programme one of the most entertaining was Bandsman Meadows' snare drum solo. Drummer Meadows showed himself a master of technique with the drum sticks and his imitations of a shunting and approaching train, the firing of guns on the battlefield, the troops leaving the field and the grand march, were most original.

The complete programe as given was:

March, "Under the Colors," Band.
Selection, "The Old Old Story," Band
Selection, "Grand Redemption," Band, introducing monster bass solo by J. Richardson.
March, "Plymouth," Band. a charming new march.
Side drum solo, representing a shunting and approaching train, also a battlefield, with the firing of guns, and the troops leaving the field, with the grand march past, etc., by Bandsmaster Meadows.
Selection, "Songs of Scotland," introducing many old Scotch airs, band.
March, "The Vesper Hymn," Band.
Selection, "Songs of Freedom," Band.
March, "The Flag," Band.
God Save the King.

MOVING PICTURES WERE EXCELLENT

Some Splendid Films Used—Mr. Stanley Coon of the Crystal Staff Was Operator

The moving pictures shown at Jackson Park last night were something like pictures. Some excellent films from the houses of the leading manufacturers were used.

The crowd found much entertainment in them and the band also helped to keep the spectators in good mood.

Credit is due Mr. Stanley Coon, of the Crystal staff, who operated the picture machine, and succeeded in getting reproductions on the canvas that were steady and restful.

Fire damaged James Hulbert's residence at London on Sunday.

MINISTER OF MILITIA GIVES PARTICULARS IN THE HOUSE

Troops to Take Part in Coming Quebec Celebrations—Twelve Thousand Men Will Go—All Canadian Regiments to be Represented.

Ottawa, June 11.—Twelve thousand troops will go to Quebec to take part in the tercentenary celebration in July.

Sir Frederick Borden, Minister of Militia, gave the House some information on the subject yesterday when an item for a million dollars for militia camps was considered and passed.

The Queen's Own and 48th Highlanders will go in full strength, the Minister informed W. F. Maclean, but he was not able to say as to the other Toronto regiments. However, all the Canadian regiments will be represented either in full strength or in composite companies.

The 12,000 troops will be composed of:

60 R. M. C. cadets.

800 to 1,000 horsemen in cavalry and horse artillery.

1,400 from permanent corps (about half their strength).

10,000 men of the active militia.

Sir Frederick said 30,000 rural militia will drill in camps, and 15,000 urban militia will drill in cities. The Quebec celebration will be counted as drill for rural corps, but not for city regiments.

The 12,000 troops to take part in the tercentenary festivities will include one composite company from each rural battalion, all the cavalry troops in rural districts and a proportion of artillery.

W. F. Maclean enquired what officers of the general staff would have charge of transportation, and was told that Col. MacDonald, quartermaster-general, had the matter in hand. Mr. Maclean said what he wanted to get at was whether the Department was satisfied with the ability of the railways to handle such a large body of troops. He thought that the evidence was rather disappointing, and that the capacity and efficiency of transportation companies were not what they should be.

From a national point of view, it would be worth while finding out the ability of the railways to mobilise a large body of troops.

Sir Frederick said this feature had not escaped attention, but it was only fair to the railways to say that if it was necessary to mobilise a very considerable force at Quebec under stress of war, there wouldn't be much difficulty. But to undertake to move a large body of men and horses while 100,000 visitors are also to be taken to Quebec was an entirely different thing. If it became necessary, the Department could take charge of all the railways.

Each rural battalion would be represented, or offered a chance, and it would be left to Gen. Otter to decide how selections would be made.

Dr. Sproule thought the rural militia ought to be given their full share of representation, and Col. Sam Hughes also gave first place to the rural militia. At the reception to the Prince of Wales they had made the best showing.

Sir Frederick reminded Col. Hughes that the Department was restricted by the Battlefields Commission to 12,000 men.

"Is the commission superior to Parliament?" asked Col. Hughes. "It was created by Parliament."

"I know, but we can't arrange transportation," replied the Minister. Cavalry and artillery would be taken, of course, from points nearest Quebec.

TRAMP COMMITS TERRIBLE CRIME

Woman Outraged and Murdered Near Blaine, British Columbia

Vancouver, June 11.—Sixty men joined the posse yesterday which spent all night in the district near Blaine, at the international boundary line, searching for the murderer of Mrs. Eliza Morrison.

Mrs. Morrison was walking with her little daughter when met by a tramp, a young white man, who set on her and outraged the woman. The little girl ran for help, but the woman was found dead with her throat cut.

Czar Treats the Children.

Reval, June 11.—King Edward and Emperor Nicholas spent yesterday morning in receiving delegations from the local nobility, the municipality and the peasants of the districts on board their respective yachts. Yesterday afternoon the Emperor paid informal visits to the British cruiser Minotaur and the royal yacht Alexandra.

Emperor Nicholas sent ashore 6,000 boxes of candy and a large number of photographs of himself for the school children, who welcomed him on his arrival here.

Strict secrecy is being observed regarding the political significance of the meeting of the two rulers.

Honor Russian Heroes.

Port Arthur, June 11.—A monument to the Russian dead at Port Arthur was unveiled here yesterday. The memorial has been erected by Japan. It stands at Antsashan, in the midst of graves of more than 14,000 Russians who lost their lives in the defence of the fortress.

Detachments of Japanese and Russian troops took part in the dedication ceremonies. The Russian detachment came down from Harbin at the invitation of the Japanese military authorities. The Emperor of Russia was represented by Gen. Gerngros.

Falsified Bank's Assets.

Montreal, June 11.—There have been grave irregularities in the Banque St. Jean, and criminal action is about to be taken.

Worthless promissory notes have been classed as outstanding assets in the Government returns, and when the liquidator found this out he reported it to the Department at Ottawa, and the Department is to take action right away on the ground of deliberate falsification of the bank's assets.

Had Corruption Fund.

Baton Rouge, La., June 11—Charges that a $50,000 corruption fund exists for use in saving race track gambling in Louisiana from adverse legislation were on Tuesday night ordered investigated by Governor Sanders. To this end he ordered a concurrent resolution introduced in the Chambers of the Assembly yesterday for the creation of a special investigating committee. He also ordered a special session of the grand jury to investigate the matter. The charges were made by a newspaper.

Hitchcock Case Ends.

New York, June 11.—Contrary to early expectations the trial of Raymond Hitchcock, the comedian, was concluded late yesterday in the supplementary court, the case being given to the jury at 7.30 p.m., following a brief charge by Justice Goff.

Prosecutor Garvan, in his summing up, asked for conviction to show the world that there were citizens "standing ready to protect the laws of the land and its young girls."

BELGIUM HAS A NATIONAL CRISIS

King Leopold Has Refused Further Concessions to Congo.

Brussels, June 11.—On the eve of the opening of the special session of Parliament for the purpose of concluding the discussion and taking a vote on the question of the annexation of the Congo Free State the darkest views prevail in political circles. The measure is regarded practically as doomed, as King Leopold is reported to have refused all further concessions. The defeat of the bill is likely to be followed by the resignation of the Ministry and the dissolution of the Chamber, involving a grave national crisis.

Horse Thieves Busy.

Galt, June 11.—Horse thieves are at work in adjoining counties, and no less than five valuable animals have recently disappeared from the fields of the owners in Ancaster, and shortly afterwards a farmer living within a few miles of Ancaster lost a valuable animal. The latest to suffer is J. M. Irwin, the local banker, who had a horse stolen this week from his farm near Branchton.

Double Murder Suspected.

Glace Bay, June 11.—The bodies of two men were discovered in the harbor within the last 24 hours. One was that of David Morrison of this town, and the other Clifford Murphy of Halifax. Both had been missing since last February. The autopsy upon Morrison leads to a suspicion of foul play, as his neck was broken. It is thought that Murphy was also a victim of violence.

Was Also a Forger.

Kingston, June 11.—Besides being a bigamist, J. E. Anderson, now serving a seven-year term in the penitentiary, is a forger.

He secured the appointment of inspector of schools at Brockville on forged certificates of the university standing of G. Y. Chown. He had made 50 copies of the certificates.

Poisoned 300 Banqueters.

Paris, June 11.—Three hundred persons, including the Marquis De Dion, president of the Automobile Club, were poisoned by ptomaine Tuesday night at a banquet of the Automobile Club. The ptomaine poisoning is attributed to a dish of duck that was served.

One person is dead and many others are in a serious condition.

Present to the Dean.

Ottawa, June 11.—The Parliamentary press gallery last night presented William MacKenzie, recently appointed secretary for imperial and foreign correspondence, with a cabinet of solid silver.

Burglar Kidnaps Children.

Hornell, N.Y., June 11.—The home of Antonio Gemiarretto, a well-to-do Italian, was entered Tuesday night and his two children, a boy, aged 8 years, and a baby girl of 16 months, together with $80 in cash, silverware and other valuables are missing.

Empress Falls From Horse.

Potsdam, June 11.—Empress Augusta Victoria, while out riding with the Emperor yesterday, fell from her horse. Her Majesty suffered no injury and returned to the new palace in a cab.

Thirteen Offenders Executed.

St. Petersburg, June 11.—Thirteen persons charged with political offences were executed in various cities of Russia.

CURIOUS ACCOUNT BOOK WAS THIS

Peculiar Features in Evidence Before Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, June 11.—The public accounts committee yesterday investigated the use of Government drydock at Prescott by the yacht owned by Dr. Reid, M. P. (Con.).

Ship Carpenter Offspring could not remember Dr. Reid telling him he did not want Government employes to work on his boats. Dr. Reid had asked Offspring to hire a man for him and he would pay him.

About four weeks ago the private secretary of the Minister of Marine had questioned him about work done on the Reid boats. A. Boyle, formerly bookkeeper for the Government at Prescott, also admitted that when in Ottawa recently he was asked by the Minister to get information as to charges against the unpaid boats. It came out that witness found an error of $6 in the Reid account of $61.54. Certain figures in the account book had been changed; witness couldn't tell why. Neither could he find, in several cases, when men's time was charged against Dr. Reid, that the men had been paid by the Government. This account book was the only one of its kind at the works, and had been dug up the other day by the Minister's orders, from among some old papers.

He was not aware that an account had ever been presented to Dr. Reid. In all cases of charges in this account book figures appeared as originally entered, but when it came to Dr. Reid's account, nearly every figure had been altered. Another curious feature of the book was that the accounts were not in chronological order.

ARCHBISHOP ASSASSINATED

Shot to Death by Revolutionists on Steps of Church.

Tiflis, June 11.—Archbishop Nikon, Archbishop of Georgia, was assassinated in Tiflis yesterday morning on the steps of the Synodal building.

His assailants were revolutionists.

A monk who was in attendance upon the archbishop was severely wounded.

The assassins made sure of their work. They emptied their revolvers into the body of the archbishop and then fled.

They have not been captured.

25,000 Acres Submerged.

New Orleans, June 11.—A special from Grand Cane, La., says that news reached there yesterday that the Red river had broken through the level near Westdale, submerging 25,000 acres of growing crops and drowning much stock.

Westdale is in Red River Parish, about 40 miles southeast of Shreveport.

Lightning Struck the Family.

Utica, N.Y., June 11.—Duane Blakesly of Camden was struck by lightning and instantly killed during a severe thunderstorm here. His wife also received a shock and fell into a tub of water, from which she was rescued by a little son who had also been stunned, but who recovered in time to save his mother.

Hon. Adam Beck to Be Judge.

London, June 11.—Hon. Adam Beck left the city yesterday en route for England, where he will act as judge at the international horse show at London. He will return to Canada in July.

THE WARSHIP IRRESISTIBLE HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Flooding Valves Refused to Close—Vessel Began to Fill Very Rapidly—Divers and Pumps at Work—Evidence at the Gladiator Court-Martial.

London, June 11.—The battleship Irresistible had a narrow escape from sinking in Portland harbor Tuesday. The crew were engaged in testing the Kingston flooding valves, which finally refused to close. The vessel began to fill rapidly, listing heavily to starboard, and it was necessary to call for the assistance of tugs. The guns were quickly trained to the port side in order to restore the balance of the warship. Divers and pumps were set to work as speedily as possible, under the superintendency of Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, and finally the leakage was stopped by collision mats. The vessel still has a heavy list, but the danger of her sinking has been avoided.

Portsmouth, June 11.—The court-martial into the loss of the British cruiser Gladiator, as a result of her collision last April with the American liner St. Paul, opened here yesterday under the presidency of Rear-Admiral Lowry. Lieut. Mainguy, of the Gladiator, testified that in his opinion, the St. Paul, at the time of the accident, was not on the proper side of the channel. The siren of the Gladiator had been going on continually for two hours. The snow was so heavy that only one minute elapsed between the sighting of the liner and the collision.

"A HULLUCINATION, DELUSION, AN INTOXICATING MIRAGE"

Chinese Lecturer and Editor Gives the Above Description of Love—Says it is a Sympton of a Disordered Brain—No Sentiment About Chinese Marriages

Taking "Domestic Life of the Orient as compared with domestic life of the west" Ng Poon Chew, Chinese editor and lecturer, gave Americans something to ponder over, in a recent lecture.

"As we Chinamen understand it, love is a hallucination, a delusion, intoxication mirage in the desert of passion, a perverted product of a deranded brain, and a most deadly contagious one, a kind of dementia Americana. It is a symptom of a disordered brain, as a nightmare is a sign of a disordered stomach.

We Orientals have no use for love emotion or tender passion in marriage affairs or any other affairs. We are not sickly, sentimental creatures but cold, philosophical, fatalistic beings. We do not know, we do not recognise any love, strict or free.

In these matrimonial affairs you Americans go at it blindly. In all other things, even at the most inconsequential ones, you follow reason; but in the most important of all life's affairs, marriage, you follow the blind impulse of the reason-defying motion of passion.

You throw deliberation, logical conclusion, reasoning, all the products of the mature brain to the winds, and, rushing along under the influence and stimulation of one of the by-products of passion, which for want of a better term, you name love, you come to grief on the shoals of matrimony. To the Oriental mind such a course leads only to disaster.

We admire the American people for their intellectual attainments, their material progress; yet we cannot but marvel at you, wise as you seem to be, permitting yourselves to be led and guided by the mischievous kid you call cupid, in the most serious affairs of life. Now, since marriage is arranged in such a haphazard manner, it is no wonder you call it a lottery, and so many draw blanks.

In China marriage is regarded as the means, while in this country it is regarded as the end. It sometimes ends in a surprisingly short time. Now, since marriage is the means for the conservation of the human race, it follows that it is not for the convenience of the man and woman concerned. Individual concerns, pleasure, convenience and happiness are merely incidentals and not the sum total of the purpose of marriage. The parties assuming the marriage state are merely performing the necessary functions of life. Once assumed it is final, and there is no way out of it but death.

To the Oriental marriage is absolute and not a trial. We marry because we must; you marry because you will. We marry because we hold it an obligation to our ancestors and a duty to our posterity; you marry because you fancy you have found your affinity.

In China no life career is considered a success unless a marriage state is entered into finally and truly. A man is no man until he marries. Though a Chinaman be born a bachelor, he invariably dies a married man, provided he lives to a marriageable age.

To the slow-thinking Chinese marriage will not last for a day or a year, but for all time. It will last for better or for worse, in truth. It sticks closer than a brother through all the span of life. Divorce is unknown and trial marriage much less.

You regard marriage as an affair of the heart, and by logical conclusion you are bound to follow the whim and fancy of ever-changing emotions in choosing so-called life partners. We pay more attention to its negotiation than you exert in the search into the title of farm or lot with a view to purchase.

In this deliberation we do not for a moment take into consideration the wishes or desires of the young people immediately involved; consequently our young people have absolutely nothing to do in their marriage arrangements.

In a Chinese marriage absolute impartiality is extended to all parties concerned: either party can take the initiative in negotiating for marriage, while in America a square deal is denied the girl. The young man has the initiative and the chance to choose, while the young girl has no chance at all.

Your method is unequal, partial and unjust, for you deny the woman privileges that are her right. In our marriage ceremony we are also far ahead of you, for we do not enjoin the woman to obey her husband, neither do we ask her to love him; for, to a civilized being the one is just as irksome as the other.—Vancouver World.

MISSING WITNESS HAS BEEN FOUND

Marie Hall Says Bowin Confessed to Having Killed Mrs. Welch

Detroit, Mich., June 11.—Mrs. Marie Hall, the woman who was said to be principally responsible for the downfall of Percy Bowin, acquitted of the murder of "Mother Welch," was arrested Tuesday at midnight on a charge of being intoxicated.

Mrs. Hall left Detroit before the murder was discovered, and the police were unable to locate her.

She alleges that Bowin told her on the way to Buffalo that he killed Mrs. Welch.

Who Stole the Note?

St. Catharines, June 11.—Judgment was reserved in the case of Norris Stevens, tried in sessions by Judge Carman without a jury yesterday. John Derusha claimed that Stevens had stolen a note for $25, signed by him, from his trunk. Fry and Wills gave evidence that the note had been paid and returned to Derusha, but Stevens claimed he had bought it for $23 from Fry. Fry stoutly denied Stevens' evidence.

James Morgan, convicted of resisting arrest, owing to the jury's plea for mercy, got a sentence of but four months.

Arthur Slater, convicted of forgery, was allowed out on suspended sentence.

Captured Jewel Thief.

Owen Sound, June 11.—A man well known to the Toronto police, Charles McCrae, who has a long police record, was arrested by P. C. Shute at 4 a.m. after a chase in which two shots were fired.

McCrae is alleged to have entered Roddick's jewelry store at Port Elgin last week, when $400 was taken. Tuesday McCrae sold some jewelry to an Assyrian shopkeeper, who reported it to the police.

Shute noticed McCrae and a companion who ran at his approach. The constable's bullet nearly hit Rennie Matheson, who was extinguishing lights in the park, but who joined in the chase and downed McCrae.

Robbed and May Die.

Boston, June 11.—John H. Lane, proprietor of the Brunswick Hotel and a prominent horse breeder of Richmond, Que., was held up and robbed of $6,000 and nearly killed here yesterday.

He was found on the street about 3 o'clock and hurried to a hospital. He revived long enough to tell what had happened and sank back into unconsciousness. He may die.

Spain's New Loan.

Madrid, June 11.—The Chamber of Deputies on Tuesday adopted the bill introduced by Senor Bustillo, Minister of Finance, for an international loan of $32,000,000 at 4 per cent.; redeemable in fifty years. The purpose of the loan is for the redemption of Treasury bonds and bonds of the floating debt.

Will Travel Free.

Melbourne, June 11.—The Victorian Cabinet has adopted a program for the state's entertainment of the U. S. fleet. The Americans will have free transport on all the railroads during their visit.

Girl Crushed In Elevator.

London, June 11.—A young Polish girl, Hannah Pollock, was so seriously injured by being crushed by the elevator at McNee's cigar factory yesterday that she will not recover.

Thirty Houses Burned.

New Orleans, June 11.—Fire destroyed about 30 buildings in the uptown residence section at Magazine, Berlin and Milan streets Tuesday night. Loss $150,000.

Likely to Lose Her Mind.

New York, June 11.—Sarah Koten, who is held in the Tombs prison for having shot Dr. Martin Auspliz last Sunday evening, is in grave danger of losing her mind and Dr. McGuire, the prison physician pronounced her condition as one bordering on insanity. The efforts of her friends to bring about a speedy trial to relieve her mind of the terrible strain under which she suffers and to get her the official vindication of a court, which she appears to crave, have been frustrated by her condition. The coroner's inquest into Dr. Auspliz's death, which was expected to take place yesterday, was postponed until Tuesday next.

Forged Telegram to Self.

Chatham, June 11.—N. H. Smith, jeweler, of Tilbury, was yesterday arraigned in the Police Court on a charge of perjury, as a result of swearing he was not the author of a telegram sent from Detroit to himself, purporting to be signed by a man to whom he owed $200.

The telegram was produced in a high court action. Smith had to write the missive in court, when Judge Bell arose and demanded that he be arrested for perjury.

Physically Unfit Comes From Towns.

Ottawa, June 11.—The greatest number of physically defective people come from the factory towns of Great Britain, said Dr. P. H. Bryce, while addressing the agricultural committee of the House of Commons yesterday on the system of examination of immigrants at the ports of arrival.

Dr. Bryce suggested that if the steamship companies would provide a physician for each ship he might be paid something in addition to act for the Government.

Dr. Bryce maintains that there are not so many people in Canada suffering from trachoma as is generally supposed. He had made inquiries of doctors throughout the Dominion, and could locate but a few cases.

EARLY ELECTION TALKED OF BOTH PARTIES ORGANIZING

Laurier Makes Statement in Regard to Hudson Bay Railway—Port for All-Red Line—Cabinet Changes in the Air—Wants Translator Dismissed.

Ottawa, June 11.—It is not certain that the political situation is clearing; indeed hostilities may be renewed at any moment, and obstruction again be the policy of the Opposition.

An appeal to the country this fall or earlier is foreshadowed in the announcement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in the House yesterday that legislation will be introduced this session to aid in the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway and of other railway lines. It is believed that D. D. Mann and Z. Lash, solicitor, and one of the vice-presidents of the Canadian Northern concluded an agreement with the Government last week for the construction of a line from the present tracks of the Canadian Northern right up to Port Churchill on Hudson Bay. One report is that the Government is to give $6,400 a mile aid to this line and to guarantee the bonds for the balance of the cost of construction.

It is also stated that one of the conditions of the agreement is that the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Canadian Pacific and Jim Hill's Canadian western railway will all have running rights to Port Churchill if they wish to exercise them.

There are others who say that there will be a great deal more of Government ownership in the Hudson Bay Railway project than outlined above. It is also said that the Georgian Bay ship canal via the Ottawa river will also be aided this session.

Sir Wilfrid intimated again that the main duty of the Government at this moment is to get supplies through rather than to go on with other Government measures. It is believed that Mr. Borden is inclined to let another one-eighth of the supplies go through en block, and thus allow the Government to make some headway, but any moment may see a change in this policy and open hostilities again in order. For Mr. Sifton is back in town.

What outside of the gossip of the corridors, there is a great deal of more secret speculation going on in more influential quarters in regard to the political future of one ex-Minister, now long out of politics, but who is in touch with things, believes that surprising changes are in sight, or rather, are being canvassed among a dozen men or so who are really influential, and who know the currents and cross-currents of Canadian politics. He thinks that both the two great political parties are in a state of rapid disintegration, and that new combinations are near at hand.

Or, as he puts it, things cannot go on as they are much longer. The question with him is which of the two old parties will be the one to re-adjust itself to these new conditions.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he believes, is thinking seriously of a wide reconstruction of his Government, and of its policy before the general election comes on, even going so far as making very marked changes in the Ontario end of the Cabinet as well as in other provinces.

He believes there is also a decided movement among western Conservatives for a re-arrangement of the Conservative organization. If neither party responds in these directions, then there may be some kind of a new movement independent of the two parties as now constituted.

Bourassa is certainly an element in the situation and he will cause lines of disruption to appear in Quebec as soon as the Legislature gets in session. Every day will see him more a force in Quebec, unless he makes a break, and this is not likely to happen.

The prospects to-day are that of a short truce, then hostilities, then perhaps the beginning of far-reaching developments.

The appointment of Edward Charlier as translator occupied the attention of the House of Commons yesterday morning.

F. D. Monk, who raised the issue, objected that the report of the debates committee making the appointment was irregular, and also that Mr. Charlier was a ticket-of-leave man on a libel charge and under accusation of blackmail.

Honore Gervais, chairman of the debates committee, strongly defended the appointment. Mr. Charlier was a bachelor of letters of science of the University of France, school of Besancon, he said.

Mr. Gervais admitted that Mr. Charlier had been committed for libel, but remarked that five members of the House or Senate had been in jail for either libel or contempt of court. Further, Charlier had chosen to go to jail rather than divulge the name of the writer of the defamatory articles. In the blackmail case, he said, a nolle prosequi had been intended.

The Premier on the strength of the explanation made by Mr. Gervais and on the additional understanding that Mr. Charlier had been in the employment of the House for five years, declared himself ready to approve the appointment.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier stated that it was not the intention of the Government either to oppose or to suggest any proposed route or port for the all-red line. The only condition to be imposed was that service must be between the United Kingdom and Canada. He was not aware that the High Commissioner in London had stated that this Government was opposed to the Irish route.

Youth Eloped With Four.

Portage la Prairie, Man., June 11.—W. Baskerville, 19 years of age, of Neepawa, eloped with Mrs. Addie Williams, 40 years of age. Baskerville took his father's team and wagon and three children belonging to the woman were also taken along.

THE CANADIAN FIELD MAY BE ABANDONED BY THEATRICAL COMPANIES

New York, June 11th.—The authority acquired by the new national association of theatre producing managers which now includes practically all the prominent managers in all branches of the business is exemplified by the passage of a series of resolutions which will mean the abandonment of the entire Dominion of Canada as a field for American theatrical enterprises unless certain concessions are made before May, 1909.

The resolutions recite a long list of drawbacks to the profitable exploitation of American theatrical enterprises in Canada, though that country is mainly dependent for theatrical entertainment on the managers and producers of the United States.

The chief drawback is that a play copyrighted here and in Great Britain remains public property in Canada, unless specifically copyrighted there. Moreover, the copyright of Canada covers all sorts of work specifically without mentioning dramatic productions. The laxity of the law results in innumerable piracies. The resolutions provide for the complete abandonment of all Canadian towns unless the copyright laws are amended by May 1, 1909.

"Many American theatre managers are not conversant with the Canadian copyright laws, and this fact has led to their decision to abandon Canada," said a local theatrical man today. "A drama or musical play may be copyrighted in Canada by having the work printed in Canada from the manuscript and then having the Canadian edition registered at the Copyright office here. Most of the managers of American companies are ignorant of this fact. No change is necessary in the Canadian copyright law, for as the situation now stands, they can protect themselves from pirates. The English copyright law gives no exclusive right to produce the play in Canada. An instance of this was seen three years instance of this was seen three years ago, when an English troupe, the Bandman company, wished to produce the same play there three weeks weeks after the date which the Bandman copany wished to set. The Schuberts went to the Canadian copyright office and made the necessary arrangements and the Bandman Co. agreed not to play at the Capital. I thing when the American managers understand the situation there will be no danger of them abandoning Canada."

To Beat Anti-Gambling Bill.

Albany, N.Y., June 11.—The Assembly yesterday afternoon passed both of the so-called anti-racetrack gambling bills. They are expected to come up in the Senate to-day, and, before the day closes, to have met a decisive vote. In spite of surface indications in their favor, dependent always upon the presence and affirmative vote of Senator Foelker of Kings, there was a strong undercurrent of rumor yesterday afternoon that the opposition had in store a surprise in the shape of the capture of one or two votes from the 26 cast for the bills at the regular session, or, at least, the absence of one from the chamber at the critical moment. The situation is, if possible, more uncertain than ever, with the opposition offering bets, with no takers, that the bills will not be passed.

ENGINES PASS THROUGH CITY

Powerful Looking Ones for the T. H. & B. Railway

Three new engines passed through Peterboro, attached to a C. P. R. freight train early this morning. They were for the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway and were manufactured at the works of the Canadian Locomotive Co., Montreal. Two of them were freight engines and the other was of the type used for yard work.

H.M.S. "Irresistible" had a narrow escape from sinking yesterday during the testing of the new Kingston flooding valves which suddenly refused to close.

A POLITICAL DISTURBER

More by accident than otherwise we have become apprised of recent attempts to wreck the good feeling which has of late years grown up between Catholics and Protestants in the East Riding of Peterborough. It has taken years of careful tending to establish there this good feeling for each other which all men everywhere should at all times entertain. At intervals designing men have endeavored to wreck this amiable condition of the public mind by inflammatory incidents touched off by the latest devices. Mr. Thompson, M.P.P., has done well to expose one of these "plots," as he did at his meeting at Havelock during the week preceding the election. He took a firm and patriotic stand. It will do much to forestall similar attempts in the future. The history of nations, as of thought, proves that the line of cleavage in opinions is solely that between opinions, not men. Good opinions and a kindly mind are not the monopoly of any one people or persuasion. They are found everywhere. It is just the same, with those of an opposite kind. They are found in all quarters, amongst all parties and persuasions, and on all sides. Therefore let us be tolerant. It cannot be too strongly emphasized that those actuated by a proper spirit should combine, not divide, against these disturbing forces in order that the life of the State and the life of the individual may both be worked out as they alone can be worked out, viz.; in a just and kindly way. A political firebrand of no standing in either party or community can do immense damage. We should all be on guard against such people. There are those who do not hesitate to profit by anarchy, political or otherwise. Such men must be suppressed if we are to continue to thrive and develop in a sane, legitimate and enduring way. More perhaps than ever before men are now learning to trust each other. It is a true sign of of the times. Let us beware of the dark lantern. Let us be brothers all. If we are to think differently and to hold different opinions let us respect each other, the more, not the less for it. It is tyranny to do otherwise. In fact there is no other way possible. Were it not that these darksome leanings of devious minds must be referred to as in duty and necessity bound, we should leave to the prevailing good sense of men of all persuasions the quiet settling-up of all unhappy questions. No man can set back the clock of time.

RAILWAY REGULATION

In every reform movement is involved the peril that it will be carried to excess and itself becomes as much a menace as the very abuses which it was started to remove.

Take, for instance, the movement across the border for government regulation of the railroads. This was started to get rid of real and serious abuses in railroad management. No one now questions the fact, says the Wall Street Journal, that the abuses existed and they they were dangerous to the country. The abuse of the pass, the abuse of the rebate, the abuse of speculative management, the abuse of discriminating rates by which favorite shippers were enabled to obtain the advantage of monopoly at the expense of competitors—these were the main evils which caused the people to turn to the Government at Washington to provide an adequate sovereign for financial power having no direct public responsibility. Then investors became indignant because of the withholding in many cases of due information in regard to the financial condition and earnings of the properties of which they were in reality the proprietors. The demand for larger publicity augmented the movement for Government regulation.

Some of the railroad men of the country, some of the members of the so-called financial oligarchy, unwisely antagonized this movement for the wiping out of evils by the exercise of the only power available for such purposes, namely, the power of the Federal Government. Their antagonism only made the demand for Government regulation the more insistent and the public attitude toward the corporations the more belligerent and uncompromising.

Yet the first results of the exercise of Government regulation were, as a matter of fact, of benefit to the railroad business. The doing away with the pass increased the revenues from passenger business. The abolition of the rebate freed the railroads from the domination of powerful shippers. The traffic manager, to use the expressive language of an eminent railroad man, at last could feel that he was "restored to the ranks of gentlemen," by being no longer compelled to do things which would not look well in the light of day. The widening of the scope of corporation publicity served only to increase the confidence of investors in corporation securities.—Trade Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The vote in Galway is unofficially said to be at Silver Lake Bradburn 4, Gillespie 2; at Swamp Lake, Gillespie 33, Bradburn 8; at Mrs. Magee's, Gillespie 38, Bradburn 21, making a majority of 45 for Gillespie in Galway.

In looking over the recent fyles of the Examiner we cannot help sympathizing with ou contemporary in its guessing misfortunes. Its estimates of the local and provincial results were "unfortunate." It no doubt fancied that R. R. Hall, M.P., and Hon. J. R. Stratton aided and abetted by the Examiner and sundry other allies were an irrestible combination. Why! they were easy. As Uncle Remus would say, "They were just as easy as nuthin'."

"BUT NO WORD, LETTER OR MARK WRITTEN OR MADE, OR OMITTED TO BE WRITTEN OR MADE BY THE DEPUTY RETURNING OFFICER ON A BALLOT PAPER SHALL VOID THE SAME OR WARRANT ITS REJECTION."

The Whitney Government adopted this provision, which Mr. Matheson voted for as a good thing, when pushed by a Conservative Government, but which he denounces as an evil thing when proposed by a Liberal Government."—The Examiner.

Isn't the Examiner a little "mixed" here? The absence of a number on the ballot as it goes into the box makes the difference which our contemporary professes to be unable to see. A mark on an unnumbered ballot rests for its purpose of identification on the word of the perpetrator of the fraud. Therefore it fails of its purpose and should not be allowed to void the ballot. Where a number is on the ballot as it goes in the box the number referred to serves as an official mark of identification and, therefore corrects or confirms the wrong-doer's act which in such a case serves a purpose and therefore should not be permitted at all.

ONCE MORE WELL

"FRUIT-A-TIVES" ALONE CURED HIM

Clarence J. Placey is a farmer of Ulverton, Que., known as a man of integrity and good judgment. He writes in no uncertain terms of the great benefit he derived from taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a long standing kidney trouble.

Ulverton, Que.

I suffered for many years with kidney trouble, with bad pain in the back and all symptoms of disease of the kidneys. I took every known kidney remedy and kidney pill but nothing gave me relief and I was getting discouraged. I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives" and I did so—and this medicine cured me when every other remedy failed. I used altogether fifteen boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" and from the outset they give me relief and I am now practically well again, no pain in the back, no distress, and all the symptoms of severe kidney disease have entirely left me. I am very thankful to be once more well and I freely make this statement for the sake of others who may suffer as I suffered and to them I say "Try "Fruit-a-tives." 151

"Fruit-a-tives" — or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at 50c a box —6 for $2.50—or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

CLOVER

Some sing of the lily, and daisy and rose,
And the pansies and pinks that the
 Summer time throws
In the green grassy lap of the med-der that lays Blinkin' up at the skies through the sunshiney days:
But what is the lily and all the rest
Of the flowers, to a man with a hart
 in his brest,
That has dipped brimmin' full of the honey and dew
Of the sweet clo er blo soms his baby-hood knew?

I never set eyes on a clover field now
Er fool round a stable er climb
 in the mow,
But my childhood comes back jest as clear and es plane,
As the smell of the clover I'm sniffin'
 again,
An' I wander away in a barefooted dream
Where I tangle my toes in the blossoms that gleam
With the dew of the dawning of the morning of love
Ere it wept o'er the graves that I'm weeping above.

And so I love clover—it seems like a part
Of the sacredest sorrows and joys of my hart;
And wharever it blossoms oh, thare
 let me bow
And bank the good God, as I'm thanking Him now.
And I pray to Him still for the strength when I die
To go out in the clover and tell it good-bye;
And lovingly nestle my face it its loom,
While my soul slips away on a breth of perfume.

—James Whitcomb Riley.

Told Stanley All About It.

During Stanley's last stay in London he was present one evening at a very swell affair, and the attention paid to him was so annoying that he was delighted when he had an opportunity of slipping away unnoticed. He found a quiet corner in the smoking room and was enjoying a cigar when a spruce young fellow, who, it turned out, was a lieutenant in the navy, came up.

To Stanley's surprise, the lieutenant began to tell him all about Africa, and it soon became evident that he did not know he was talking to the great explorer.

Other listeners strolled in, and pretty soon there was quite a crowd listening to the young man telling the most astonishing things about the dark continent, the Kongo, the shire district, the native races, and so on.

At first Stanley endeavored to correct his mistakes, but the lieutenant knew better, and so he permitted him to talk on. Finally this extraordinary and laughable scene was brought to a conclusion by one of the guests saying:

"But, Mr. Stanley, you told us"—

"Stanley!" cried the lieutenant. "Is this Stanley, the African explorer?"

"Certainly," was the reply. The lieutenant gave one look around, tried to speak, flushed scarlet and then dashed out of the room, followed by a roar of laughter, in which even Stanley joined.

DEVONSHIRE'S TREASURES.

Pictures and Drawings at the Duke's Castle at Chatsworth.

The recent death of the Duke of Devonshire draws attention to his magnificent collection of pictures and drawings. The finest examples have been frequently exhibited, and more than one attribution has been questioned, the most important being the "Consecration of Thomas a Becket," ascribed to Jan Van Eyck, which is said to have been given to Henry V (it should be Henry VI.) by his uncle, John, Duke of Bedford, Regent of France. This story is incorrect, for the Duke of Bedford died in 1435, and there is distinct proof that the picture in its present state was not painted before that date. The importance of the work was supposed to lie in the signature, which reads thus: "Johes De Eyck Fecit and MCCCC. 21, 30 Octobris." This inscription led certain writers astray, among them Crowe and Cavalcaselle and Mr. Weale. But Mr. Alfred Marks has proved to the satisfaction of Mr. Weale and others that the signature is a forgery, and thinks that the fraud was perpetrated with the object of foisting a picture on the Earl of Arundel, the greatest collector of his day, to whom it once belonged. Mr. Marks also declares that there is no reason to suppose that the Chatsworth painting represents the enthronement of Thomas a Becket. The picture is now generally supposed to be from the brush of Jan Gossart, who was born about 1470.

One of the treasures of Chatsworth is the famous triptych of Sir John Donne, 1468, by Hans Memling. The collection likewise contains a magnificent portrait of "Richard Boyle, first Earl of Burlington," by Vandyck, and the two hundred drawings in bistre touched with white of the "Liber Veritatis," made by Claude as a record, perhaps incomplete, of his pictures and their destination. This valuable volume was bequeathed by the great artist to an adopted daughter, "Mia Zitella," for life, it afterwards to remain in his family as an heirloom. Cardinal d'Estrees tried to induce the painter's grandsons to part with it, but they would not sell it at any price. Their successors, however, less scrupulous, sold it for 200 crowns to a jeweler, who disposed of it in Holland, and since about 1770 this precious book has been the property of the Dukes of Devonshire.

It was the published plates of this work on which Turner founded his "Liber Studiorum." In 1806 Mr. W. F. Wells suggested to the artist that he should produce such a volume. After long and continued persuasion, says Miss Wells, Turner at last gave way, and one day, when he was staying with the family in Kent, he said: "Well, Gaffer, I see there will be no peace till I comply, so give me a piece of paper. There, now! Rule the size for me and tell me what I am to do." Mr. Wells replied: "Divide your subjects into classes—say, Pastoral, Marine, Elegant, and so forth." The "Liber" was published in parts containing five plates, proofs at 25 shillings and prints at 10 shillings. The complete series of seventy-one realized at auction as much as £892 10s. in the Turner sale of 1873, when no fewer than thirty-three sets reached nearly £9,000.

THE MAHRATTA METHOD.

Queer Devices by Which Some Debts Are Collected In India.

Many queer stories are told of the persistence and clever devices of the collectors of bad debts, but even a professional humorist would find it hard to invent anything more absurd than the method actually in use among the Mahrattas—at least if travelers' tales are to be trusted.

In that country, so they say, when a creditor cannot get his money and begins to regard the debt as desperate he proceeds to sit "dhurna" upon his debtor—that is, he squats down at the door of his victim's tent and thereby in some mysterious way becomes master of the situation. No one can go in or out except by his sanction. He neither himself eats nor allows his debtor to eat, and this extraordinary starvation contest is kept up until either the debt is paid or the creditor gives up the siege, and in the latter case the debt is held to be canceled.

However strange it may appear to Europeans, this method of enforcing a demand is an established and almost universal usage among the Mahrattas and seems to them a mere matter of course. Even their "scindiah," or chieftain, is not exempt from it.

The laws by which the "dhurna" is regulated are as well defined as those of any other custom whatever. When it is meant to be very strict the claimant takes with him a number of his followers, who surround the tent and sometimes even the bed of his adversary to make sure that he obtains no morsel of food. The code, however, prescribes the same abstinence for the man who imposes the ordeal, and of course the strngest stomach wins the day.

A similar custom was once so prevalent in the province of Benares that Brahmans were sometimes systematically put through a course of training to enable them to endure a long time without food. They were then sent to the door of some rich person, where they publicly made a vow to remain fasting until a certain sum of money was paid or until they perished from starvation. To cause the death of a Brahman was considered so heinous an offence that the cash was generally forthcoming, but never without a resolute struggle to determine whether the man was likely to prove stanch, for the average oriental will almost as soon give up his life as his money.

Old Temple Building.

The decision of the Benchers of the Middle Temple that 1 Brick Court must be pulled down, by reason of its having become unsafe, removes an interesting building. Erected in the early years of the reign of Elizabeth, the block was originally known as Brick Buildings, being the first structure of this material in the Temple. Many famous lawyers have had chambers in 1 Brick Court, the most notable being Thesiger, Coleridge and Bowen.

The "Mauretania" is reported to work so much better without her lost fourth propeller that it will not be replaced.

Polly's Joke.

By PHILIP KEAN.

Copyright, 1908, by Associated Literary Press.

Having packed everything into a suit case that could be crowded therein, Mrs. Merriman said, "I am ready," with the air of one being led to the stake.

Her husband, watching her gloomily from the top of a trunk, said politely, "At least you will wait until the shower is over?"

"No," said his wife, with decision; "I wish to go at once."

"But"— began the gentleman on the trunk.

"At once," Mrs. Merriman reiterated, and her husband's gloom relaxed suddenly into a smile.

"Oh, Polly," he said, "you look so funny when you try to be stately."

She gasped.

"Will you kindly order my cab?"

Merriman slid down from the trunk. "I'll do anything," he said miserably, "if you will only tell me why you are going."

But Mrs. Merriman had picked up the suit case, the weight of which made her sag dreadfully to one side.

"Let me carry that," her husband insisted. "It's too heavy for you."

But she clung to it desperately.

"I might as well begin to bear my burdens alone," she said, "for I shall have to do it hereafter."

"Oh, piffle," said Merriman and then begged pardon, like a gentleman. "I know how you hate slang, Polly," he said. "I should not forget."

"It is rather late," his wife reminded him, "to be considerate of my feelings."

"Oh, pif"— her husband began, and then he stopped. "I'll telephone for the cab at once."

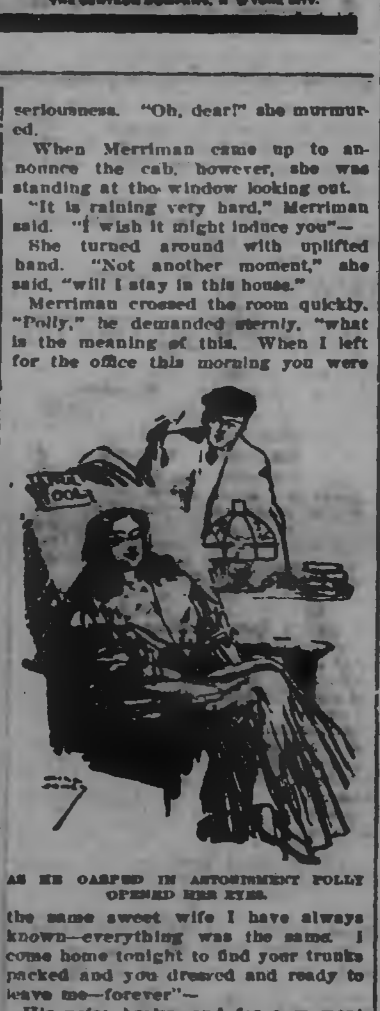
When he had gone Mrs. Merriman sat down on the suit case and sighed. The severity died out of her countenance and was succeeded by a sweet seriousness. "Oh, dear!" she murmured.

When Merriman came up to announce the cab, however, she was standing at the window looking out.

"It is raining very hard," Merriman said. "I wish it might induce you"—

She turned around with uplifted hand. "Not another moment," she said, "will I stay in this house."

Merriman crossed the room quickly. "Polly," he demanded sternly, "what is the meaning of this. When I left for the office this morning you were the same sweet wife I have always known—everything was the same. I come home tonight to find your trunks packed and you dressed and ready to leave me—forever"—



AS HE GASPED IN ASTONISHMENT POLLY OPENED HER EYES.

His voice broke, and for a moment Mrs. Merriman seemed to waver; then she again picked up the suit case with determination.

"I'll write," she said, "from mother's."

And so he was forced to let her go.

He stood for some time on the front steps in the rain, watching the cab as it was swallowed up by the grayness, and then he went into the empty house.

Everything seemed to speak to him of Polly, of their two happy years of married life. There was the mission furniture in the library, the fascinating bookcases with leaded glass, the books that they had read together, the motto over the fireplace on which they had looked night after night when the lamp was out and only the flames lighted the dimness of the big room. There was— But he left the library behind him and went upstairs, only to be reminded again and again of Polly as he tripped over her Turkish gold embroidered slippers on the threshold of her pink and white room and noted her frilly dressing gown flung across a chair, her cut glass bottles on the chiffonier, her ivory brushes on the dressing table.

She had been elaborately locking the big trunk when he came in that afternoon. "I'll send for it later," she had informed him and had crushed the remaining articles into her suit case.

Why hadn't she taken her brushes? Why hadn't she taken her dressing gown? Why were the slippers left?

As a dawning thought came to him his face brightened. He went over to the trunk and lifted it. It was so light that he moved it easily. Then he sat down on the floor deliberately and picked the lock and opened it. It was empty.

Still smiling, he went over to the closet and threw the door wide open. It was full of Polly's clothes.

Evidently Polly was coming back.

With a mind at ease, he returned to the library and prepared to wait for her. With a book and a cigar and the comfort of his easy chair the time would pass quickly. But it did not pass quickly. He missed Polly awfully, and he grew very serious as he thought what it might mean if she should never come back. And in the terror of that thought he went to the telephone and called up Polly's mother.

Polly's mother, answering sleepily, said that Polly was not there, had not been there, and it was midnight. Why was he asking her? What had happened to Polly—what?

Merriman quieted her fears. Polly was out and was late getting home. But, of course, nothing had happened. And then he hung up the receiver.

But he could not quiet his own fears. Polly had never been so late. Perhaps the cabman wasn't trustworthy. Perhaps—oh, there were so many dreadful possibilities.

He stumbled upstairs to get his street coat. He would go out into the night and look for her; he would hunt up that cabman; he—and then he stopped dead still on the threshold of the pink and white room, for there in the big chair, with her shining hair falling all about her, with the gold embroidered slippers peeping from beneath the folds of the frilly dressing gown, was Polly, fast asleep!

And pinned to the top of her chair was a placard on which in big letters was written:

"April Fool!"

As he gasped in astonishment Polly opened her eyes.

"April fool," she smiled sleepily.

"How did you get in?" he demanded as he came and stood over her.

"I had the cabman drive me for four blocks, and then he drove me back, and I slipped through the dining room window. I left it open on purpose. I had expected to run right in and confess that I was fooling, but when I came up and found the trunk open I thought I'd stay here and let you wonder a bit. And then I went to sleep, and that's all," said pretty Polly.

"Oh, Polly," her husband reproached her, "how could you—how could you joke on such a serious subject?"

"I wanted to see how you would act," Polly told him, "if you thought I was going to leave you."

"But"— His voice was very stern.

"I wanted to get even." Polly sat up and talked fast. "You remember last year, Bob. You came home and told me the bank had failed and that you had lost your money. You wanted to see if I could love you if you were poor, and then you told me it was an April fool."

Merriman looked crestfallen. "I forgot that," he said, "but"—

"And what is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander," said his wife serenely.

"Yes, it is," Merriman admitted manfully as he drew his wife into his arms, "but I think we'd better let such jokes alone in future, sweetheart. It hurts too much, you know."

Polly put up her lips to be kissed. "Yes; it does," she whispered. "I came near giving in when you looked so miserable."

"Oh, Polly, how could you?" He was holding her close. And Polly, repentant and beautiful, confessed in his ear:

"It was because I was a little April fool, Bob. We are both a pair of April fools."

An Anchor to Windward.

The solemn faced man who drove the stage between Willowby and Greenfield never lost an opportunity to display his knowledge to a new passenger, nor had he ever been known to suppress his opinion on any subject, no matter what it might be. "They tell me you're the man that wrote the story that's running now in one o' the big magazines. I forget which 'tis," he said one day to a cheery passenger who had been endeavoring to ask a few questions himself.

"I believe I am," admitted the gentleman.

"I've never turned my hand to writing," said the stage driver, flicking his horses in meditative mood. "No, sir, I've been too much took up with other things, but I read everything most. I was having a little talk with Bill Sears about you yesterday. We'd both been reading your last book before this new one. Now, do you rely entirely on what you write for a living?"

"Not entirely," said the author, with due humility.

"That's what I thought when I finished the book," and the stage driver looked kindly at the man of letters. "I'm real glad for ye that you've other means," he said benevolently. "Got 'em well invested, I expect, too. I told Bill Sears that was most likely the case."—Youth's Companion.

Only a Certain Kind.

There is a story told among the peasantry of Sleswick, the former Danish province annexed after the war in 1864, of how Prince Bismarck was confounded by the tongue of a shepherd lad. Shortly after the close of the war Prince Bismarck went on an inspection tour through the provinces, as he desired to study the feelings and sentiments among the people. He talked with the peasants, getting valuable though not always agreeable information. For days he was annoyed by constantly hearing dogs called "Bismarck." Desiring to know what it meant, he called out in a gruff voice to a shepherd boy who had uttered the dreaded chancellor's name in connection with his dog:

"Are all dogs in this country named Bismarck?"

"Ach nein, mein herr," the urchin replied as he doffed his cap; "es ist bloss die schweinhunde" ("Oh, no, sir; it is only the pig dogs").

Two Little Girls Drowned.

Michel, B.C., June 11.—Two little girls, aged 2 and 4 years, children of John Latroo, miner, were drowned in the Michel river, near here. They were playing near the water when the younger one fell into the raging torrent. The elder one attempted to save her.

This woman says that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured her after everything else had failed.

Mrs. W. Barrett, 602 Moreau St., Montreal, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For years I was a great sufferer from female weakness, and despite every remedy given me by doctors for this trouble, I grew worse instead of better. I was fast failing in health, and I was completely discouraged.

"One day a friend advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and am thankful to say that it cured the female weakness, making me strong and well.

"Every woman who suffers from female troubles should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Exports to-day, 2500 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, 5874, active and 25c higher; common to choice veals, $5 to $8.50; a few lots, $7.60 to $7.75; culls, $4.50 to $5; buttermilks, $4.50 to $5.25; dressed calves higher; country dressed veals, 8c to 10½c.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4975; sheep steady, lambs 10c higher; sheep, $2.50 to $5; lambs, $7 to $7.75.

Hogs—Receipts, 3300; steady; New York State and Pennsylvania hogs, $5.85 to $6.10.

Chicago Live Stock.

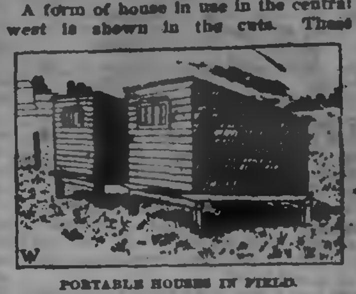
CHICAGO, June 10.—Cattle—Receipts estimated at about 10,000, market 10c lower; steers, $5.00 to $7.25; cows, $4 to $6; heifers, $4 to $6.65; bulls, $3.75 to $5.50; calves, $2.50 to $6.75; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $5.40.

Hogs—Receipts, 35,000; market easy; choice heavy shipping, $5.70 to $5.65; butchers, $5.45 to $5.55; light mixed, $5.30 to $5.40; choice light, $5.40 to $5.50, packing, $5 to $5.45, pigs, $4.25 to $5, bulk of sales, $5.35 to $5.50.

COLONY HOG HOUSES.

At farrowing time the sow needs to have a warm, comfortable and well lighted house by herself. This house needs to have a railing on the inside about nine inches from the floor and extending out from the sides about twelve inches for the protection of the young pigs. This railing is best made of two 2 by 4's with two inch space between them and also the wall. It is desirable to have small yards connected with the houses to give the sows before farrowing and the sow and pigs after farrowing moderate exercise.

A form of house in use in the central west is shown in the cuts. These houses are 6 by 8 feet, 6 feet high in front and 4 feet in the rear. They are inclosed with drop siding and covered with grooved roof boards and ogee battens. The floor is made of two inch planks. These houses are placed on runners.



PORTABLE HOUSES IN FIELD.

As seen in the first cut, the houses are located in an alfalfa pasture and are raised sufficiently to allow the hogs to run under them for shade. In this case the houses proper are used for the storage of feed. Being on runners, they are easily handled by a team and can be placed on any part of the farm. When desired, they make excellent chicken houses. In cold weather they can be placed under an open shed or in a protected place and be very warm.

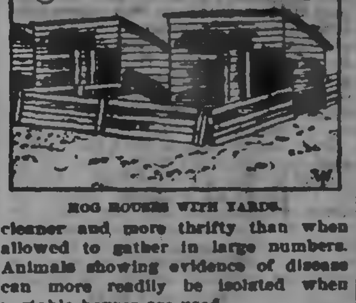
The yards are best made in movable sections. The lumber required is nine pieces 1 by 4 inches by 12 feet (see second cut).

These houses have proved their merit, especially for early spring and late fall pigs. They soon pay for themselves by the increased number of pigs saved through their use.

Advantages of Portable House.

The advantages of the portable hog house may be enumerated as follows: It is easily and economically constructed; it is readily moved to any desired location; it is useful alike to the general farmer and the breeder of fine stock; it is the most natural and sanitary of all methods of housing swine. Only the simplest workmanship is required to construct it, and much odd lumber may be utilized. The renter who finds it impossible to provide expensive quarters for his hogs can well afford to build portable houses, as they can be retained as personal property.

Where separate paddocks are given to swine of various ages and sex portable houses are practically a necessity. By using a house which can be moved to a fresh piece of ground insanitary conditions are avoided. From four to six mature animals or from ten to twenty shoats are accommodated by each house. The swine are thus kept cleaner and more thrifty than when allowed to gather in large numbers. Animals showing evidence of disease can more readily be isolated when portable houses are used.



HOG HOUSES WITH YARDS.

Insanitary Milk Depots.

Reporting upon the conditions of the milk depots (places where milk is retailed) in a large city of the central west, J. M. Trueman of the Illinois experiment station says:

"It was an exception to find a milk depot that was clean and sanitary. A great many of these markets are located in dark, dirty and ill ventilated basements where the sunlight never enters. They are never scrubbed out, and many of them could not be scrubbed clean because the floors are of rotten wood or only of earth, and so they are kept foul with sour and decaying milk. These depots would be bad enough if they received only bottled milk and sold it without opening the bottle, but commonly the milk is stored in large cans, dipped into open vessels when sold and often carried through dusty streets for several blocks. Such conditions are deplorable. Occasionally, but rarely, one of these small depots is found scrupulously clean."

Ideas of a Sheep Enthusiast.

Sheep are healthy and hardy and unlike all other animals. If decently managed, a good sheep never dies in the debt of a man. If it dies at birth, it has consumed nothing. If it dies the first winter, its wool pays for what it has consumed up to that period. If it lives to be sheared once, it brings its owner into debt for it. If the ordinary course of wool and lamb production goes on, that indebtedness will increase until the day of its death. If the horse or steer dies at three or four years of age or the cow before breeding, the loss is almost a total one. The shepherd must not expect all sunshine, however, for the damage done to our flocks yearly by worthless dogs is enormous.—Pennsylvanian.

THROUGH GREAT SLAVE LAKE IN PETERBOROUGH CANOES

Edmonton, Alta. June 10—Inspector Pelletier, RNWMP., left Monday on a trip through the north to Hudson's Bay. He took three men as relief for the force at Churchill and will be the first northern patrol to make a trip. They will reach Churchill by October.

Pelletier will return to Regina via Winnipeg, reaching there about the end of the year. He will make a full report on the conditions of the people Indians and Esquimax, and will enforce the game laws.

The relief force is composed of one sergeant, Joyce, Fort Saskatchewan; Constable Walker, Fort Saskatchewan and Constable Conway, Calgary, all experienced men.

The party go to Athabasca Landing down the Athabasca in the Hudson's Bay boat to Fort McMurray and then in Peterborough canoes through the Great Slave Lake, Fort Relaince, Artillery Lake, Hanbury River, Thelon River, Baker Lake, Chesterfield Lake stop at police post at Cape Fullerton then down the coast to Churchill.

They take three months' provisions, 1200 pounds in each canoe, besides other things. There are several portages, and they pass through the barren lands, where there is no wood, and they must take a spirit lamp to make a fire. The trip around is 3000 miles.

Inspector Pelletier has been all over the country west of Hudson Bay and east of Lake Winnipeg. He was stationed at Norway House the last one and a half years. He was in charge there when the Indian murder case was on last year. The party leaves the landing June 5th.

JURY RETURNED VERDICT OF GUILTY IN GRAIN CASE

After being out nearly three hours the jury yesterday afternoon at the county court sessions brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Daniel Moher. Moher was charged with receiving stolen grain. Considerable evidence was taken in the case and it was carefully reviewed by His Honor before the jury retired.

His Honor on hearing the verdict imposed a fine of $50 which was paid forthwith. Mr. G. N. Gordon appeared for the defendant and Crown Attorney R. E. Wood conducted the case.

A REVIEW OF THE DAYS WHEN ROWING WAS THE FOREMOST SPORT HERE

Some Interesting Information About the Palmy Days of the Peterborough Rowing and Boating Club—Proposition to Revive the Sport Should be Encouraged

The proposition to form a rowing club in the city revives again an ancient sport. Many of our citizens who are now portly and stout and inclined to take their ease will remember the doings of the old Peterborough Rowing and Boating Club, when in its palmy days and when it was the foremost athletic organization in town. For many long years it was a factor and feature in athletics, but the coming in of other sports drew away attention, and the alterations along the river front destroyed the access to the boat houses and property, and eventually the club was disbanded.

During the many years of its usefulness it acquired a considerable interest, both in property and equipment. It also acquired much renown, and gained honors at the principal Canadian regattas held at Toronto, Lachine, Barrie, Hamilton, Orillia and other points, where it was represented by a crack four-oar crew and by paddlers in the single and double canoe races. Rowing is a healthy, manly sport, deserving of every encouragement, and it is hoped that the proposition to establish an organization will meet with success.

When the club disbanded the boat house was disposed of to Mr. J. Z. Rogers of the Peterborough Canoe Co. The funds realized from the sale were sufficient to pay back to the original stock holders their stock in full and accrued interest for ten years a very respectable example in financing, and one worthy of emulation in these strenuous days.

The equipment of working boats—four-oared—single scull boats and a pair-oared shell were sold to Mr. Alex. Elliott, who took them to Chemong, where he and some others had built a boat club house. Communication with the lake was not easy, and the object of the promoters to have there a good rowing club was not realised. The boats gradually became old and infirm and were either broken up or disposed of. Mr. W. J. Hopwood, who now owns the boat house at Chemong, and which forms his summer residence, fell heir to a whole collection of oars, oarlocks, out-riggers and all the fixings.

Of the equipment the only boat remaining is the four-oared shell which the senior crew of the club used in their races. It is English built, of Spanish cedar, and was turned out of the shops of the famous builders of rowing shells, Swaddle & Windship, at Newcastle-on-the-Tyne, England. The boat was brought out from England by the English crew that came across the Atlantic to row at St. John's, N.B., the famous "Paris" crew, of which Ross, the New Brunswick oarsman, was the principal member. After the series of races the shell was disposed of rather than the expense of taking it back to England be incurred. The Loudons, of Toronto, famous in their day, bought the shell and afterwards the Peterborough Club became the owners, having raised sufficient funds to purchase it. It is beautifully constructed, and for many years has been stored by Col. Jas. Rogers, who has an affection for the craft, in which he and others have pulled many a mile.

It is proposed by the new club to take over the famous old shell, refit it and go in for speed. A week's work would get it ready for the water, and it would interest many of the old members, such as Mr. R. E. Wood, Mr. George Hatton, Mr. R. H. D. Hall and many others to see the boat afloat and under power. There is material in the city to form a good crew and one that would hold a good place in any race.

CAMP MEETING OPENS AT DRIVING PARK TO-NIGHT

The Free Methodists' camp meeting opens to-night at 7.30 o'clock at the exhibition grounds where a preaching service will be held. The tents are up and everything is ready. About 20 persons from outside points have arrived and are camped on the grounds. A number came yesterday and they are arriving on every train to-day. The meetings promise to be very successful and productive of much good. The district elder, Mr. R. Burnham, of Uxbridge, arrived in the city to-day at noon and will be in charge of the meetings. Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Tyrone, Mass., also got here to-day and will be one of the special preachers. Rev. J. O'Regan, of Buffalo, N. Y., is expected here on Saturday.

EXCLUSIVE SUMMER COSTUMES

WHEN we say "Exclusive" we mean that they are not only exclusive to ourselves for Peterborough, but that the styles are of that distinguished creation that reflects the greatest fashion artists of the day and marks them as the uncommon variety, giving them a distinctiveness among the usual run of modes seen in the smaller cities. We are noted for carrying an unusually fine stock of Women's Ready-to-wears, and this season we have surpassed any previous year in securing a finely assorted range of the latest New York and Paris styles.

Exclusive Linen Costumes—From the plain tailored long coat style to the most elaborate Swiss Embroidered Prince Chap Suit, long fitted coat, nattily tailored with plain or pleated skirt, an entirely new lot just arrived showing a strikingly new feature in the season's styles.

Colored Muslin Dresses—Our showing includes a number of new touches direct from one of the most noted Canadian makers who secure their styles direct from New York and Paris. Beautiful sheer Muslins in white ground with dainty color effects in floral, spot and stripe, pink, pale blue, brown, etc. make in the Shirt Waist or Princess styles. The trimmings are of Valenciennes Lace Insertion, combination pin and large tucks with full pleated skirt a prominent feature.

White Lingerie Dresses—Modish Lingerie Dresses, very decided yet dainty in effect. The largest showing in fine sheer Mulls, Persian Lawns and Muslins, [plain woven or Swiss embroidered]. We also show the newest style in Lingerie Blouses in an immense variety of the season's newest ideas.

Summer Coats—Effective and stylish coats in linen and wool fabrics, The popular coat this season is the new white Linen with embroidery or colored linen trimmings, a full back loose fitting coat with stole collar effect or large lapel. We also show a range of loose woven wool coats in cream, fancy weave or stripe, some trimmed with black velvet collar and cuff and cream braid; other lines with Dresden silk trimmed lapel, cuff and caput. Our prices are far below what you'll expect to pay when you see the goods.

BRIDGE BEING PAINTED

The Hunter St. bridge is receiving a new coat of paint this week and when finished will look decidedly improved. New planks have been placed in the floor of the bridge and repairs generally made to it. Messrs. Duncan & Doupe have the contract for painting it.

THE CASE HAS BEEN APPEALED

P. C. Newhall has Entered an Appeal Against Judgement of County Magistrate.

P. C. Newhall has appealed against the judgment given against him by County Magistrate Edmison by whom he was fined $10 and costs on the charge of assaulting Mr. Dave Johnston, Fishery Inspector.

The appeal will be heard before his Honor Judge Weller. The date will be decided upon by him.

DANCED TILL SHE DROPPED TO DEATH

Paris, June.—A passion for dancing has led to the death of a girl named Valentine Travel, belonging to a wealthy family in Southern France. She began to dance at the age of four. Dancing was her chief interest in life, and she grew to translate her every sentiment for rhythmical movements of the body. For years her parents attached no particular importance to her passion, but at length it became such an obsession that a doctor was consulted. He prescribed a rest from dancing and a long holiday in a quiet country place. The girl was taken away for two months and came back no better. She was found waltzing one night in her bedroom, and was taken to a specialist, who gave her sedatives, but could not affect a cure. The other night the girl arose, and going to an attic, began waltzing and continued to dance for hours. Towards 2 in the morning the servants were aroused by a loud noise the attic. The girl was found dead on the floor, having literally danced herself to death, syncope following her tremendous exertions.

BETHANY TABERNACLE

Evangelist H T. Stephens of Toronto, superintendent of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, arrived in the city this morning from the East, where he has been conducting special evangelistic services. Mr. Stephens will give a special address on foreign missions at Bethany Tabernacle tonight and will bring some interesting curios from foreign countries. Mr. Stephens is well known to Peterborough people through former visits and will no doubt receive a hearty welcome. The public generally is cordially invited.

ST. MARK'S OTONABEE

St. Mark's Otonabee

On Sunday last the Canadian Order of Foresters attended divine service at St. Mark's church. The church was crowded to the doors. Rev. Dr. Langfeldt preached an instructive sermon on "Citizenship." Mr. G. Chandler sang a solo, and Miss Maude Dixon presided at the organ.

Rev. Dr. Langfeldt will administer the Holy Communion at St. Mark's next Sunday. The revival services to be conducted by Rev. J. Bennett Anderson, of Brooklyn, will commence on Monday, June 22nd, and will be held every evening at eight o'clock.

The Belgian Parliament is to open in special session to-morrow to vote on the annexation of the Congo Free State. As King Leopold has refused all further concessions a negative vote is looked for to be followed by a resignation of the ministry.

BOYS WERE FINED $1 WITH COSTS

County Police Magistrate Edmison yesterday imposed a fine of $1 and costs upon three young boys who went swimming in the canal without bathing suits. The boys are from Smith township, where the offence was committed.

The costs of the case amounted altogether to $7.10, making the total amount contributed by the trio, $10.10.

Northern Persia is reported to be planning for secession and independence.

JAPANESE BRIDES AWAIT GROOMS

Bevy of Pretty Maids Were Married to Husbands by Photographs

Seattle, June 1.—With a dusky bevy of forty-seven Japanese picture brides to find husbands for, the immigration office at South Cove has enough work cut out for it to engage the time of a special enquiry board until the Toss Maru or other passenger ship from the Orient next month brings a fresh batch of aliens to be examined for admission or deportation. The collection of Japanese women now at the detention station is one of the largest to arrive here for some months and illustrates the manner in which the work of the local immigration office is increasing.

The women are according to the customs of old Nippon, married to Japanese citizens of this country, although they have never seen the faces of their husbands, except in the photograph which acted as the groom's proxy when the wedding ceremony took place in the Orient. Bringing the picture of their husbands with them, the brides have journeyed across the Pacific, and if the groom turns up, is identified by means of the picture and establishes his right and ability to support the bride, the happy couple will finally be united at the immigration office and leave on their honeymoon, following a supplementary marriage service here.

JOHN ADAMS

The funeral of the late John Adams of Harvey, took place from his late residence, Lakehurst, on Wednesday, at 10 am. to the Lakehurst cemetery. A large number of friends and acquaintances including many from a distance assembled to pay a last token of respect to one who in life was well known and highly respected Rev. Mr. Farney, curate of Buckhorn, officiated. The pallbearers were,—Messrs. W. E. Elliott, A. W. Elliott, Wm. Adams, George Baird, Ben Bigham and Sam Johnston, all nephews of the deceased. The late Mr. Adams was an Anglican in religion and in politics a staunch Conservative. His widow alone survives him. Amongst those from a distance who attended the funeral were Messrs. Eastwood, Baird, Bradburn, MPP. and J. H. Burnham.

FRANCIS K. CONNELLY.

The death occurred last night of Francis Katharine Connelly, wife of Mr. John A. Doris 91 London street. The deceased had been confined to St. Joseph's Hospital for some months. She was 23 years of age and was born in Campbellford, she being the daughter of Mr. John Connelly, of that place. She was married five years ago to her now surviving husband, who, with three children, are left to morn her loss. The children are Emmett, Francis and Mary. Her parents, four brothers and two sisters are also left to mourn her loss. The brothers are John, Dennis and Joseph, of Campbellford, and James, of Geneva, N.Y. The sisters are Misses Mary, of Vernon, B.C., and Leona, at home.

The funeral will take place on Saturday morning at nine o'clock, from the family residence, 91 London street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

LATEST NEWS FROM FOWLER'S CORNERS

Banana Festival Held at Bethel, Emily Last Week

Bethel, June 9th.—(Special) On Thursday evening, May 28th, a bananna festival was held in this place under the auspices of the Epworth League. The evening was gloomy but, however, a large number was present, not a few being from a distance.

Refreshments were served in the basement of the church, after which an excellent programme was rendered, Rev. F. Buckler in the chair.

The programme was as follows:

Opening Hymn.
Prayer by Rev. Mr. Peckover, of Omemee.
Solo, Mr. Clayton Telford, of Bridgenorth.
Reading, Mr. Frederick Reeds.
Solo, Miss Lila Parsons, of Omemee.
Trio, Mrs. Purdy, Olive Switzer and Ira Switzer.
Address, Rev. Mr. Peckover, of Omemee.
Solo and Encore, Mr. Clayton Telford of Bridgenorth.
Trio, Messrs Ruth, Eugene Switzer, and F. McBain.
Solo, Miss Lila Parsons, of Omemee.
Closing prayer.

The proceeds were not large, but much greater than expected, owing to the unfavorable evening.

Miss Bertha Brown left on Tuesday for her home in Orillia, accompanied by her aunt Mrs. R. Guthrie.

Miss Olive Switzer is visiting friends in Peterboro this week.

A number of our young people attended service in Peterboro last Sunday evening.

There was no service at Bethel on Sunday owing to the union services at Lakeside and Omemee, conducted by the Rev. Mr. Hazard, of Toronto.

FAIR DIRECTORS MEET TO-NIGHT

Active Work for This Year's Exhibition to be Commenced

A meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Industrial Fair will be held in the City Council Chamber to-night at eight o'clock. All the members are requested to be present, as important business will be transacted. The directors intend making the Fair a big success this year and will work hard until the event comes off. The result last year was very encouraging and there is no deficit to hamper the directors this year.

FLOOR IS NOW BEING PUT DOWN

Good Progress Being Made on New Catholic Church

Preparations for the laying of the corner stone on Sunday next, are being rushed at the new Roman Catholic church at the corner of Aylmer and Romaine streets. The foundation has been completed, the joists put in and the floor is now being laid. Contractor Sheehy has seven or eight carpenters at work and they are making excellent progress.

C.P.R.'S NEW WINNIPEG FLYER

Toronto to Winnipeg in 36 Hours, Via Muskoka Route

Commencing next Sunday, June 14th, the new train for the west will leave Toronto at 9.30 p.m., and daily thereafter, will make the run to Winnipeg in thirty-six hours, saving nearly eight hours on the present time between Toronto and the west. It will be the first train over the Canadian Pacific's new line to Sudbury, through the heart of Muskoka and Georgian Bay, which is appropriately named, "The Muskoka Route." Palace and Tourist sleeping cars will be carried, in addition to a handsome diner and first and second-class coaches, everything of usual high C. P.R. standard.

HO FOR RICE LAKE!
The steamer Otonabee will run regular half day trips to Rice Lake on Thurdays and Saturdays during June, July and August, leaving Wolfe St. wharf at 1.30 o'clock, calling at Street Railway wharf at 2 o'clock, returning at 9 p.m Return tickets 50c. Children half fare.

TO STUDY TEN COMMANDMENTS

They Will be Dealt With at Meeting at Gospel Hall

At the public Bible study in the Gospel Hall to-morrow night the ten commandments will be taken up.

First — What were they given for?
Second—Are they still in force?
Third — What part do they take in the means of salvation?

Mr. H. F. McKeown will open the subject dealing with "The Law, its Purpose and Effect," after which a free discussion will take place in which all may join. An interesting time is looked for. All will be made to feel at home, and any questions will be cheerfully answered according to scripture.

SOME RECENT WARSAW NEWS

What is Happening at the Capital of Dummer

Special to the Review,

Warsaw, June 10.—Mr. Robert Tedford and family, of Douro, have moved to the farm lately occupied by John R. Payne.

Miss Pamelia Davis, of Toronto, spent Sunday with her mother.

Miss Ethel Sanderson and Mr. Leonard, of Lakefield, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Munro, recently.

Miss Julia Choate, of Peterborough, spent Sunday with her parents.

Miss Belle Selkirk has gone to Lakefield for a few weeks' visit.

We regret to learn of Miss McIlvena's serious illness and hope for her speedy recovery.

Mr. C. H. Bowen, our popular baker, is doing a flourishing business. He offers a first-class article for which he gets ready sale. He also runs an ice cream parlor orderly and in good style, which is fully appreciated by the crowds in attendance.

HE VOTED IN RECORD TIME

Conductor Dan McMillan of the G. T. R. Got Back to His Train in Three Minutes

Mr. Dan McMillan, the popular conductor of the G. T. R. noon train, cast his vote in Peterboro, and did so in record time. The train arrived two minutes ahead of time, and Mr. McMillan, after booking, was hurried away to the polling booth. By the actual count of the watch he was absent just three minutes, which means that there was certainly no time lost in getting back to the train, which left on time.

CANADIAN ORDER OF FORESTERS

Will Attend Divine Service at St. Paul's Church on Sunday

The members of the Canadian Order of Foresters will attend divine service at St. Paul's church on Sunday evening next. Rev. Robt. A. Pogue will deliver the special sermon. The members are all requested to turn out, meeting at their hall, Simcoe st., at half-past six and parading to the church.

FORESTERS HAD MOONLIGHT TRIP

Enjoyable Time Down the Otonabee Last Evening

It was an ideal night last evening for a moonlight excursion. Although a little cool, the evening was very bright and clear and everything was conducive to an enjoyable time on the water. The steamer Otonabee carried over two hundred passengers, the occasion being the moonlight excursion under the auspices of Court Chemong, IOOF. The boat went down the river about eight miles, returning at eleven o'clock. Excellent music was provided and altogether a very pleasant time was spent.

THREW STONES OPERATOR'S BOX

Disorderly Conduct of Some Over Anxious Fellows at Jackson Park Last Night

Some over anxious young fellows at Jackson Park last night became somewhat disorderly in their eagerness to see the moving pictures and threw sticks and stones at the operator's box.

This took place about 8.30 o'clock and the riotous actions were altogether uncalled for. Should such a happening occur again prosecution will take place.

Band To-night at Jackson Park.

PROGRAMME A BRIGHT ONE

Some Tuneful Selections Will be Given at Band Concert Tomorrow Night at Victoria Park

By kind permission of Lt.-Col. Stevenson and officers of the band of the 57th Regiment, under direction of Bandmaster Giddon, will give its second concert this year at Victoria Park to-morrow night.

The programme will be a particularly bright one and among the lighter numbres several very catchy selections will be played, notably, a new cake walk, King of Rags, the latest Remick's Hits and the two marches, Regimental Pride and On Dress Parade. Remick's Hit, which is a band arrangement of popular song successes from the publishing house of Jerome H. Remick & Co., will include the music of the latest song hits of the year, "Neath the Old Cherry Tree Sweet Marie," "I'm Afraid to Come Home in the Dark," etc. The two marches, "Regimental Pride" and "On Dress Parade," will be given by the band for the first time.

The Scottish Patrol, "The Wee MacGregor," is a splendid number and was heard to great advantage when played here by the band of the Coldstream Guards. A treat in the classical will be the rendition of Suppe's beautiful overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna."

The programme will be as follows:

March, Regimental Pride.
Overture, Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna.
Cake Walk, King of Rags.
Euphonium solo, by Bandmaster Cronk—Variations on a Southern Song.
Patrol, The Wee MacGregor.
Melody, Remick's Hits.
Cake Walk, Georgia Sunset.
Comic Opera Selection, Ermine.
Idyll (by request), The Mill in the Forest.
March, On Dress Parade.
God Save the King.

SPORTING NEWS

REYNOLDS STARTED ON LONG TRIP THIS MORNING

Port Hope, June 10.—As the town clock announces six to-morrow morning James Reynolds will leave the Queen's Hotel on his long journey to Toronto and return. This will be Jimmy's third attempt to accomplish this undertaking, so he should be pretty familiar with the road. He has not been working at the barber chair this week and so has become thoroughly rested. He says he is feeling in tip top shape and when asked this morning as to his chances he remarked: "Well, I am not crazy enough to put up $300 if I thought I couldn't win."

Reynolds will be accompanied by two trainers, J. Henderson and R. Woodcock and Nelson Reynolds and Harry Wood will go along to see that everything is on the square.

Jimmy expects to reach Toronto in 15 hours and will only remain long enough to sign the register.

To win the wager Reynolds has to be at the Queen's Hotel, Port Hope by three o'clock Friday afternoon.

THE QUAKERS SHUT OUT THE HAVELOCK ELEVEN BY 2-0

Both Goals Scored by Brodie in the First Fifteen Minntes —Local Forwards Had Their Checks Beaten —A Good Start

The Y.M.C.A. Quakers had a comparatively easy victory over Norwood last night in the Midland League game at the Driving Park, winning the match by 2—0.

Both tallies were secured in the first half and Brodie was the man who notched the points. The first came in 7 minutes and the next in 8. About one hundred spectators were in attendance and the game was an interesting one to watch. Mr. Percy Fitzgerald made a satisfactory referee. The play was in Norwood's goal territory most of the evening and McFadden who was between the posts for the locals, didn't have a single shot to stop during the match. The exhibition was not a rough one although pretty strenuous at times.

Evans put up a star game for the Quakers and others conspicuous for their good work were Ray Best, Archibald and Brodie, the latter being an excellent kick. F. Doherty was probably the pick of the visiting team, and the backs, Cummings and Tucker, also did effective work.

In combination and kicking the Y outfit easily had it on their opponents and outclassed them in every way on the forward line.

The Quakers play their next game with Havelock next Saturday. The match will take place in the railroad town.

Quakers		Norwood.
	Goal
Evans		T. Cummings
	Backs
McFadden		G. Rogers
Baylis		I. Tucker
	Half backs
Caniff		F. Doherty
Shrimshaw		Puffer
Archibald		Reynolds
	Centre
Huston		T. Doherty
	Forwards
Baker		N. Rogers
Hagley		O. Johnston
R. Best		G. Graham
Brodie		E. Scott

Referee—Percy Fitzgerald

MISS LUNDY MADE RECORD DRIVE

In the driving competition at Hamilton, yesterday morning, in the third day of the Ontario ladies' championship series, Miss Elmslie, Toronto, won, with 490 yards in three drives; Miss Florence Harvey, Hamilton, was second, with 475 yards; Miss Lundy, Peterboro, had the longest single drive of the day with 148 yards.

CUFFE WON'T GO TO BELLEVILLE

Match Could Not be Arranged in the Quiet Town the Local Boy Walker.

Harold Cuffe, the boy who walked so well at the YMCA. walk won't go to Belleville with Harrison to walk there. It was being endeavored to arrange a match there between a boy walker or walkers, of that town but they apparently have no juvenile pedestrians in that town so the arrangements were not made.

Cuffe, who is 11 years old, made a splendid showing at the YMCA walk.

HOWDEN TROPHY

Two more entries were handed in at the YMCA. last night for the Howden trophy contest that of Stanley Caniff and Ray Best. Remember that it is open to them own to any man of amateur standing.

THE WEST ENDS TAKE ANOTHER

Defeated Wellingtons in City League Game Last Night by Score of 11-2

The West Ends added another victory to their growing list last night when they put it over the Wellingtons to the tune of 11 to 2.

The losing team played very loose ball throughout and errors were by no means rare. The West Ends, on the other hand, showed great form and if they can keep up the pace they are setting, the Strathconas will have to get down to real hard work to carry off the pennant this year. Richardson, the centre fielder, plays his position to perfection and is probably one of the best fielders in the league. Butcher, the slab artist for the West Ends, has speed to burn and a various assortment of curves which were too much for the losers who succeeded in hitting him only four times.

Hawkins who twirled for the losers had 8 strike-outs and if he had had better support, the score would have been closer. The West Ends showed up well at the bat. Lose and Long getting three-baggers each, while Halpin rapped out a long one for 2 sacks.

The line up of the teams was as follows:

WEST ENDS.

Butcher — pitcher
McNein — catcher
Vinette — first base.
Halpin — second base
Long — Third base
Lose — short stop
Rose — right field.
Richardson — centre field

WELLINGTONS

Hawkins — pitcher
Billington — catcher
Fallin — first base
Patterson — second base
J. Primeau — second base
Henderson — short stop
J. O'Toole, — left fielder
Russel — right field
S. O'Toole — centre field

The West Ends and Strathconas clash on Saturday afternoon and this should prove to be the fastest game in the league.

JIM HARRISON FOR BELLEVILLE

Leaves for There Tomorrow—In the Best of Shape for His Match With Cooper

Jim Harrison leaves for Belleville tomorrow and will start against Cooper there on Saturday in a four hours' walking match for a purse of $100. He is feeling in great trim and has been training daily at the Brock street rink.

His local supporters think he should win. Harrison has every respect for Cooper's ability however and has spared no pains to get into condition for the race.

SPORTING COMMENT

At last night's session of the Legislature Governor Hughes, of New York, in a new message recommended passage of the bills prohibiting gambling on race tracks.

The Lindsay Warder has a column on its sporting page, headed "The Live Wire." Some one must have been stringing the writer of it when he had the nerve to give his dope the above title. Apparently the wire has been grounded somewhere. In Monday's issue the Warder remarks in its "Live Wire" stuff, "that Fred Simpson like many other things that had come out of Peterborough, hadn't lived up to his advance notices" or something like that. From a live sporting town like Omemee the above would be all right, but from Lindsay it is pure gall. Did anything ever come out of Lindsay that was heard of beyond the bush lands of Ops or Mariposa? It is the old story of sour grapes. Lindsay could not get a man on the cargo-ball team for the Olympiad. If a mud slinging contest were put on instead of the javelin throwing competition, Mudville-on-the-Scugog might stand a chance of having a representative chosen. "The Live Wire" should be undergrounded.

GAME AT PORT HOPE.

On Monday evening the Millbrook lacrosse club will cross sticks with the Ontarios on the town park. The game will commence at 6.30 sharp and should be witnessed by a large crowd.—Port Hope Guide.

Ottawa, June 10—"Honest" Allen, arrived in Ottawa yesterday from St. Paul, Minn., and will play with the Capitals against the Nationals next Saturday. He played with St. Paul against the Mohawks of that city last Sunday and had his front teeth knocked out.

The YMCA lacrosse team held an excellent practice at the Riverside grounds last night. The men are working out together in great shape and will be in good form for the league games.

Intermediate C. L. A. series, yesterday's results:

At Orangeville, 10; Fergus 4.
At Bradford, 9; Newmarket, 1.
At Shelburne, 2; Elora, 3.

WILL PLAY THE WARSAW KICKERS

A football match is being arranged between the LAC. team of Peterborough and the Warsaw eleven. The game will take place at Warsaw and the local kickers hope to make a good showing.

CANADIAN TEAM ON WAY TO OLYMPIAD

Passed Through Peterborough at Noon To-day—Simpson and Baker Got Aboard Here

The Canadian Olympic team, including Fred Simpson and Dick Baker, are on their way to England. The local men joined the contingent at C. P.R. station here, the others having boarded the train at Toronto. The team travelled in a special car and as soon as the train pulled up at Peterborough the boys all got out and gave Simpson and his trainer a cordial reception. The local men were quickly made acquainted with those in the party whom they did not know, and everybody was as happy as a lark. The team is in charge of Mr. J. H. Crocker, of Toronto, the well known physical director, and a striking feature in connection with the men Canada is sending to uphold her prowess on the athletic field is their youth. They are all young, surprisingly so, but they have proved their mettle and will without doubt, bring honor to their home land.

One of the members of the team is Fitzgerald, of Edmonton, the five-miler. He was much interested in Peterborough as he knew it was the home of Fred Whitcroft, who was his trainer at Edmonton. He asked a number of people at the station about "Whitty" and said he wished he had him along with him. Fitzgerald is a native of Ireland, and is said to have plenty of speed and endurance. Others in the party were Jack Tait and Bredin Galbraith, who are well known here. Harry Lawson attracted considerable attention, as also did Archibald, the pole vaulter, who is at least six feet tall.

The team were given a great send-off at Toronto and many friends were present at the local station to say good-bye to Simpson and Baker.

WILL ROLL SOME IF HE MEETS FRANK GOTCH

Dr. Roller Seattle Mat Artist Looks Good to Himself--Wrestling at Dreamland

Seattle, June 11—If any wrestler on earth steps onto the mat at Dreamland rink on the night of June 15th and keeps Dr. Roller from throwing him for fifteen minutes will be presented with $100. On that occasion the Seattle athlete will make his last appearance in public before he takes on Gotch two week later for the championship of the world. Roller knows he could not throw Gotch, Beell, Burns, Westergaard and perhaps several others in that time but he also knows that none of them will be in this part of the world at that time and his challenge is not hurled at them. He aims it at the sports who are quite sure that he is not as good as he is cracked up to be, and who have been expressing themselves as anxious to take a fall out of him.

The affair on the night of June 15 will be a big wrestling and boxing tournament under the auspices of the Seattle Press Club. Dr. Roller will then be in the midst of his training for the event of his life, when he meets Champion Gotch two weeks later and is anxious to take on as many ambitious wrestlers as will appear before him. He will have at least four opponents, for there are that number of good men in Seattle who will give exhibitions with him. All those who want $100 will be accommodated, and there will be as many hundreds as there are men who will stay the stipulated quarter of an hour. Some rattling good bouts will also be arranged.

Dr. Roller is now at his old home in Newman, Ill. This morning the following telegram was received from him in answer to one asking him if he would go on for the Press Club.

"Will be glad to help you with any programme you arrange. Give me any way you want. Hundred dollars to any man who stays fifteen minutes. Arrive in Seattle June 14. Feeling fine. B. F. Roller."

On the morning following the Press club benefit Roller will leave for the hills and will stay there until the day of his match with Gotch.

HOW YOUNGSTOWN GOT BURRIDGE

Chance Remark of Traveller in Barber Shop Led to Harry Crossing the Border

The following interesting item is from the Youngstown Vindicator. It sound afunny over here those reference to the Canadian bushes and the wilds:—

"Manager Sam Wright will never rival a brass band or a steam whistle in making a loud noise. His specialty is to look and listen instead of talking. Sam uses his ears and eyes far more than his mouth. He has little to say to his ball players, especially on the field of action. But the way Manager Wright got a line on one or two young ball tossers who have shown promise with the champs this season is an able illustration of his methods.

A travelling man's careless remark in a barber shop resulted in catcher Harry Burridge coming to Youngstown. The drummer and Manager Wright were sitting side by side, undergoing the tonsorial operation one morning last winter. The talk turned to the national game and the traveller remarked that he had been a young catcher up in the Canadian bushes who was a sure comer. Something about the speaker convinced Wright that he knew a ball player and the manager took a chance at writing to the wilds and luring the husky little back-stop to this city."

NOT A GAME LOST DURING THE TRIP

Peterborough Ball Team Defeated Four Teams During Lakeside Tour

The Peterborough baseball team completed their tour of the lakeside towns yesterday afternoon when they defeated the Wellington nine, 9-4. The team did not lose a game during the trip, defeating Cobourg, Belleville, Frankford and Wellington. They scored 43 runs to their opponents 19 and made a great hit in the towns where they played. The boys arrived home today and will rest up for Saturday's big game here against Cobourg. The team had an excellent trip and every man enjoyed it immensely.

GOLF CLUB TO PLAY LINDSAY

Game Will Take Place on Local Links Next Thursday—Will Play Port Hope Shortly

The Peterborough Golf Club will play Lindsay on the Peterborough links next Thursday. It is expected that the visitors will bring about fifteen players with them.

The local golfers will probably play Port Hope next week and other games will be arranged at dates convenient to outside clubs.

CAN THE PETES KEEP UP RECORD?

The new grandstand at Riverside Park will be thrown open to the public on Saturday afternoon when the Peterborough and Cobourg teams will do battle for Midland League honors. Fresh from their triumphs over four teams in as many days, the Petes will endeavor to keep it up and bump the lakesiders hard. Cobourg is bringing up the strongest team they can get together as a loss to them would be the obscuring of their visions of the pennant. The visitors will have a crack battery and will bring along a big crowd of supporters. The Petes have not lost a game this year and will try hard to keep up the good work. Fred Clements and Jerry Edmunds will be the battery and the regular team will be played.

The Athletics play Port Hope at Port Hope on Saturday and will endeavor to duplicate last Saturday's performance.

The new grandstand is the best in this part of the province and will provide splendid accommodation.

SEVERAL FROM LOCAL Y.M.C.A.

The Peterborough Boys' Department of the YMCA. will be well represented on Saturday at the Toronto boys' championship meet. Another entry has been accepted, that of Frank Hahmuy who will enter in the 1000 yards, a special event for boys 15 years and under.

This will make the third entry from Peterborough.

COLE BROS. REFUSED TO JOIN THE MAMMOTH CIRCUS TRUST

Were Approached Several Times and Asked to Affiliate But Would Not Entertain the Proposition—Parade in the Morning Has Been Retained.

The octopus-like trust that has made itself felt in every line of business where something was produced for which there was a demand by the common, did not even overlook the circus. One of the most gigantic affiliations of interests in the amusement world was consummated when four of the largest shows in America were affiliated and and then the three largest of them absorbed the fourth smallest one to themselves and wiped the one absorbed entirely from the face of the amusement world. This is the same trust that during its formation made overtures to the Cole Brothers' World Famed Shows, and tried to influence them to join in their ranks to make the strongest show trust ever conceived. It can readily be seen that with the five largest shows in the world consolidated, the smaller ones could and would be crushed out of existence, the price of admission raised, inferior performances extremely probable, and the absolution of the street parade.

Cole Brothers, with becoming American independence, absolutely refused to entertain any proposition that the trust wanted to make, and even told the promoters that they did not care to listen to their overtures. M. J. Cole said:—

The Cole Brothers have a reputation of over a quarter of a century's standing. Their name is a household one, and for honesty, fair dealing and squareness the show's name is too clean to be affiliated with any other. I would not be doing my friends and patrons the treatment due them if I entered into any agreement with the circus trust. As for abolishing the street parade, never as long as I am in the show business. There are the little children who look for the parade with equal delight as they do the coming of Santa Claus, and the poorer class of people who never see the performance but to whom the parade is the event of the year, what would they do without the parade. Deprive them of it. Not as long as the Cole Brothers are in the show business. On the contrary, I will please them more by adding to our parade and giving them a grand free exhibition on the show grounds when the parade returns."

It is needless to say that a show that will give battle to a powerful trust, using only its reputation as a weapon, is a show with a reputation that is unequalled. While the circus trust has done and will do everything possible to place obstacles in the way of the Cole Brothers' Shows, it has not been able to place any obstacle this aggregation could not overcome. Before the opening of the present season the syndicated shows again tried to enter into an agreement with the Cole Brothers' Shows, for a division of territory, so as their interests would not conflict. Again they were unsuccessful. Cole Brothers refused to make even this concession. The show's itinerancy was made out, and it will be adhered to, even if they have to show the same city, day and date, with the circuses in the trust.

The Cole Brothers' World Famed Shows in all their merit and magnitude will be in Peterborough on Wednesday, June 17th, and when it comes it will be made evident that they acted wisely in refusing to link its merit and identity with any circus clique that has long since become recognized for its devices to gain by sacrificing the interests of its patrons

REV JOHN PRINGLE TELLS OF THE VICE IN THE YUKON

Speaker Refers to the Official Indifference—Resolution in Favor of Church Union Carried by a Large Majority—Mr. Oliver Scored rev john pringle

Winnipeg, June 10— Likening the moral atmosphere existing under Federal control in the Yukon to the "offensive stench of a heap of garbage dumped in front of one's door," Rev. Dr. John Pringle occupied nearly the whole of yesterday morning's session of the General Assembly with a fiery and fearless arraignment of Government officials for malfeasance in office and immortality.

His address was occasioned by the presentation of the report on Social and Moral Reform.

He reiterated every charge he had ever made and reaffirmed his readiness to go before any court or tribunal to prove his charges to the hilt. The conditions of corruption and immorality he declared, were revolting in the extreme and a blot on Canadian national life.

The Peterborough representatives at the Assembly are Rev. J. G. Potter, and Messrs. Richard Lees and J. C. Shook.

THREE SALOONS A MILE

In twelve miles of a trail there were 36 saloons kept for immoral purposes, three for every mile and the stage coach stopped at every one. In two dance halls were ninety women of the lowest class.

"I have no party axe to grind," he declared. "I am seeking an advantage for no party. I am in the fight for loyalty and right."

But the Dominion Government would not raise its finger to remedy the terrible condition of affairs. On the contrary orders were sent from Ottawa to officials to keep their hands off.

Instead of a remedy he himself had been vilified in the public press and by anonymous sheets scattered throughout the country.

For six years he had fought single-handed against mal-administration, open and flagrant vice, bribery, corruption, intimidation and subornation of witnesses.

EXPERT WOMEN THIEVES

Dance halls, it was true, had been moved from licensed places but were allowed to run in unlicensed places across the street. Here large sums of money were being lost day after day. Here there, gathered women who were expert thieves and whose very arrival in Dawson City was publicly advertised but nothing was done.

In 1902 he had written to the Department of the Interior but there was no result. In the face of this, in the same year, he had remonstrated with Mr. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, and given him an instance where a party of Government officials had been publicly embraced on a wharf by a party of women. He had written to fifteen Ministers and to the Governor-General threatening to appeal to the country, but there had been no result.

Dr. Pringle scored Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, for refusing to give the investigating commissioner power to examine witnesses under oath.

DEFENDS GOVERNMENT

The Government's course found a defender in Rev. Dr. Shearer, secretary of the social and moral reform committee who quoted letters from Sir Wilfrid Laurier, dated May 22 and and May 23, in which he declared that strict orders had been given for the suppression of vice. The commissioner, the Premier promised, would at once pass on all applications for prosecution.

Dr. Shearer maintained that it was difficult to enforce the law under the conditions existing there. He also deprecated the "unfair use that the party papers are making of Dr. Pringle's information."

The report was then adopted.

IN FAVOR OF CHURCH UNION

The Assembly showed itself to be preponderatingly favorable to Church union. All the afternoon and evening were devoted to this subject and in the end the amendment of Dr. Campbell, of Montreal, to suspend negotiations for organic union was defeated by 156 to 32.

In presenting the report of the committee Dr Patrick contended that the plan of union was quite feasible, although the union of the Anglican and Baptist churches with the other three was hardly practicable.

Principal McKay, formerly of Montreal, now of Westminster Hall, Vancouver, who seconded the amendment, declared, "the resolution introduced by Principal Patrick would divide the church if persisted in."

Among those who took part in the discussion at the evening session, were Principal McLaren, Rev. Dr. Milligan, Prof. Bryce, Rev R E Knowles, Galt, Dr. Milligan declared the time was not ripe for organic union.

The report of the committee declaring that union was practicable was adopted on the same discussion. A copy will be sent to each congregation requesting it to send suggestions, and corrections to the committee before its meeting in December next.

CHINESE LOVE AND MARRIAGE

Oriental Ideas of the Divine Passion Seem Strange to the Western Mind

New York, June 9—Fifteen New York veterinarians made the discovery yesterday that the dose of anaesthetic required to put a rhinoceros to sleep is a pound and three-quarters of chloroform and half a pound of ether.

This accession to veterinarian science was made during an operation to remove cataracts on the eyes of Mogul, the Indian rhinoceros in the Bronx Zoo. Mogul after succumbing to more than half a gallon of anaesthetic remained under its influence for half an hour, and at the end of that time began to munch hay as though nothing had happened.

Through a blow on the head in his native jungle Mogul nearly lost the sight of both eyes, and the operation was agreed upon after careful examination.

The big problem was to tell how much anaesthetic it was safe to give. The hide of the pachyderm was so thick that no pulse was obtainable, and the stethoscope was useless. By means of a derrick and harness Mogul was thrown. A roll of cotton batting stuffed in a cone of brown paper, was used to administer the anaesthetic. Before the rhinoceros was put to sleep the fumes nearly overcame the doctors and keepers. The operation consumed half an hour. It will take a month to tell whether it is successful.

MI-O-NA MEANS STOMACH COMFORT

Its of Special Value to Many Here in Peterborough

A notable discovery and one that appeals especially to many people in Peterborough, is the combination of stomach help in the Mi-o-na treatment. This preparation works wonders in case of indigestion or weak stomach.

It acts directly upon the walls of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten without distress or suffering.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Mi-o-na that the remedy is sold by W. Madill, druggist, corner George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails to cure. A 50 cent box of Mi-o-na will do the good the stomach needs, which is simply to make it do its own good work.

EVOKED LAW TO GET BALM FOR HEART

At the Cobourg Assizes Miss Ada Rose Riordan of Port Hope sued Duncan J. Galbraith a wealthy farmer of Clarke Tp., for $1,500 for breach of promise of marriage and secured a verdict for $1250 and costs.

She had been a school teacher and had dropped the profession at his wish after her engagement to him but he kept postponing the marriage until she was thirty-six years of age and then took to other girls.

HAD TO BE HERO OR COULDN'T WED

Chicago Girl Made Lover Give up Position in Grocery Store and Join Police Force

Chicago, June 10—An unusual application for a furlough was submitted today by Chief Shippy by an ambitious young policeman. The document was so novel that he sent it to Mayor Busse who ordered the granting of the fifteen day furlough at once.

The application was as follows:

"George M. Shippy, Chief of Police—I hereby make application for a furlough of fifteen days. I am on advice of my physician have decided to embark on the sea of matrimony and perpetuate plentifully the proud Teutonic name of Stadfield.

C. M. STADFIELD,
Stockyards Station.

The girl who is to accept the proud Teutonic name of Stadfield, now rejoices in the characteristically Celtic one of Lillian Flynn. She is a resident of Kenwood. The wedding is set for June 17.

Stadfield lives at 1439 Garfield Boulevard. His wedding, according to the other policemen at his station is the culmination of a singular romance. His suit for years was frowned on by Miss Flynn and she told him that she would never marry any one except a hero. Seeing limited opportunity of heroic deeds in the grocery business, in which he was formerly engaged, he went on the police force. Three weeks ago his opportunity came and he carried an aged woman and two children from a burning building.

Although naturally modest, Stadfield immediately obtained a certified copy of the report of his exploit and hurried to Miss Flynn's home. After reading the report she blushingly told him to get the license.

HOW ROYALTY ENTERTAINS.

An Invitation From the King and What It Involves.

The King will take no denial when he sends you a "dine-and-sleep" invitation, or one for a lengthier visit. His invitations rank as commands.

Their Majesties entertain their subjects for the most part at Windsor Castle and Sandringham, and their guests are bidden, as a rule, from Saturday to Monday, or from Tuesday to Friday—the latter for shooting parties.

It is correct to arrive in plenty of time to dress for dinner, but visitors must not expect to be met by their royal host and hostess, for, although when he was Prince of Wales His Majesty was on the doorstep of his abode ready with a hearty welcome, now it is not until dinner is served that the sovereign and his consort meet their visitors.

Neither at breakfast nor at lunch—unless it be partaken of at the shoot—will Their Majesties appear; therefore the great occasion of dinner is all the more auspicious, though tea is also graced by the royal presence.

At Windsor Castle dinner is served in the oak room, after a most impressive entrance has been made by Their Majesties into the reception room, where the guests are assembled, bowing and curtseying low, all splendid in their full-dress attire, and a perfect coruscation of glorious jewels.

The King is a great connoisseur upon dress, and though he does not, as monarch, stoop to take the personal notice of it that he did on one occasion—when, as Prince of Wales, an unlucky guest appeared in a black tie instead of a white, whereupon a white one was served up to him by a flunkey upon a silver salver—his order that knee-breeches and silk stockings are to be worn with evening dress by all men when ladies are present is so well known that it is followed in society invariably by many well-garbed men.

The dinner will not be a long one, but it will be perfectly cooked and served, and the table will be set out with absolute good taste, and always with great variety, owing to the enormous range of gold and silver ornaments at the command of the dresser. Two special silver services appertain to the oak room at Windsor, one called the "Lion" and the other the "Crown," and there are special service dishes for special viands.

At Sandringham—where by the way, it is the royal pleasure that all clocks be kept half an hour fast, an order carefully explained to those guests not already aware of it upon their arrival—dinner is served on a flower-decked table in an oak room, the predominant color of which is blue, and it, too, is heavy with tapestries and portraits of royalties.

No one sits down in the white drawing room at Windsor, nor in the suite of apartments that serve as drawing rooms at Sandringham until the Queen has seated herself. But Her Majesty is kindly thought personified, and never keeps her guests standing long.

Music and conversation are the order of the evening, and bridge for those who like it; and there are always quantities of curios and exquisite pictures, many of them with the personal touch afforded by their being the production of royalty's own hands, to be shown and examined.

The King and Queen leave their guests for their private apartments at the end of the evening, which does not mean, however, that special invitations may not be given by Her Majesty to great friends for a chat in her own private sitting room, or by the King to some favored individual for a smoke and talk before bedtime comes.

POSTAGE STAMP CHEATS.

Foolish Persons Who Run the Risk of Going to Prison.

"You would be surprised," said a postoffice clerk, "at the efforts people make to avoid the payment of postage. And quite often it is not the work of children either. The most common trick is to take the stamp that has been canceled by hand and the impression just touches the edge of the stamp. After pricking the marked edge with a pin or cutting it with a pair of shears to resemble the punctured edge of the stamp or tearing away that part the stamp is put on an envelope for another voyage. All these are placed in the hands of postal inspectors for investigation.

"Others try to give the impression that a stamp had been put on an envelope and become loose and lost in transit by sticking a stamp on the envelope and then pulling it with part of the envelope sticking to it off again. These as well as underpaid letters, unless they have a foreign destination, where postage is then collected, are marked 'Returned for postage' and sent back to the sender. Second class matter, as a roll of newspapers, is often sealed against inspection by having the stamps overlap the cover. Whether foreign or not it is returned for postage. When it again shows up, the mistake rectified, upon inspection it is usually found to contain written letters, photographs (unmounted), jewelry, merchandise of all kinds, making the package underpaid; hence it is again returned.

"But the limit of foolishness comes when a person tries to efface the indelible ink from the stamp and with half the features of the stamp missing or rubbed away and some of the ink still remaining affixes it to an envelope, with the address of the sender upon the back to facilitate investigation.

"This, though, is stretching it a little too much: A postcard that had been put through a canceling machine and delivered to the addressee had the canceling impression and the address scratched off with the aid of a sharp knife and a new address substituted and a written message pasted on the reverse side."

AN OLD GORMANDIZER.

One Man Who Lived That He Might Simply Eat and Drink.

In a little yellowed English magazine, dated April, 1804, I came across the following amusing scrap:

If the Duke of Q. does not extend his life to a still longer period, it will not be for want of culinary comforts and those other succulent arts by which longevity is best promoted. His grace's sustenance is thus daily administered:

"At 7 in the morning he regales in a warm milk bath perfumed with almond powder, where he takes his coffee and a buttered muffin, and afterward retires to bed. He rises about 9 and breakfasts on cafe au lait, with new laid eggs just parboiled; at 11 he is presented with two warm jellies and rusques; at 1 he takes a veal cutlet a la Maintenon; at 3 jellies and eggs repeat; at 5 a cup of chocolate and rusques; at 7:30 he takes a hearty dinner from high seasoned dishes and makes suitable libations of claret and madeira; at 10 tea, coffee and muffins; at 12 sups off a roast poulet, with a plentiful potation of lime punch; at 1 in the morning he retires to bed in high spirits and sleeps till 3, when his man cook, to the moment, waits upon him in person with a hot and savory veal cutlet, which, with a potation of wine and water, prepares him for further repose that continues generally uninterrupted till the morning summons to his lacteal bath.

"In this routine of living comforts are the four and twenty hours invariably divided, so that if his grace does not know, with Sir Toby Belch, 'that our life is composed of four elements' he knows at least, with Sir Ague Cheek, 'that it consists in eating and drinking.'"

A Reason For Thanks.

The impecunious author's wife was trying on a new dress and endeavoring to observe the hang of it by means of a round mirror on top of a high chiffonier. Every woman will appreciate what that means.

"Oh, dear," she exclaimed as she thought with some pathos, "I haven't seen the bottom of my skirt since I was married."

Her husband looked up, brute that he was, and remarked:

"Well, you can thank your lucky stars for that."

Had Left For Parts Unknown.

In a murder trial in Texas some years ago the counsel for the defense was examining a venireman regarding his qualifications to serve. The candidate admitted that he had once been a member of a jury which tried a negro for murder. It is not permissible in such cases to ask the result of the trial, so the counsel said:

"Where is that negro now?"

"I don't know," was the reply. "The sheriff hanged him at the appointed time."

No Idle Boast.

Bilkins—Smythe tries to make people believe that he belongs to the "upper crust." Wilkins—Well, I should think he did belong to the "upper crust." Bilkins—In what way does he show it? Wilkins—Always short and easily broke.

Imposing.

"The Swelltons seem to keep up an imposing establishment," remarked the canned goods drummer.

"You bet they do," replied the grocer man, with a sigh long drawn out, "and I'm one of the fellows they impose on."

W. H. HILL, Esq., Manager Central Ontario, Sun Life Assurance Co. of Canada, Peterborough, Ont.

DEAR SIR:

In connection with policy No. 18253, taken out by me twenty years ago for $2000, on the 20 year endowment plan, I would like to say to you that I am well pleased with the results. I paid $91.40 a year for twenty years and had my insurance for $2,000, and the cheque you have handed me to day is for $2653.10 which is $128.15 in excess of what I would have received had I deposited the same amount in the Bank during the last twenty years at current rates. In one case I had my insurance carried and in the other case I would have had none. I can only say that I have never made an investment that has given me greater satisfaction. I believe if I had not taken out the insurance I would not have been worth one dollar more to-day and now I find myself in possession of $2653.10, which will enable me to make a profitable investment. I am now pretty well up in years but if I had my life to live over again I would ensure for as large an amount as I could possibly pay for. During the twenty years, I found it difficult on many occasions to meet the payments, but I met them in every case by practising a little economy in other directions, and I can assure you that I feel I have been well repaid for the pains I took in providing for the money to pay the premium. You have paid me more considerably than I expected to receive and for this I am grateful.

Respectfully yours,
NELSON SAGE

AN INVENTION OF MUCH MERIT

The Collier Cunningham Co. Have Patented New Dry Mounting Machine Superior Process

The Collier, Cunningham Co. Hunter St., have invented a dry mounting machine which promises to become widely used among photographers.

Although it has not yet been placed on the market, it has been patented in Canada and the United States and is being used by Mr. R.M. Roy, the local photographer. He considers it a vast improvement on the other drying machines in use.

Some slight modifications will be made to the machine before it is placed on the market.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF PURSE

Two Boys Locked up This Afternoon by P. C. McGinty

Two of the boys who were fined the other day for stealing wheat from a car on the G.T.R. siding were arrested by M. C. McGinty this afternoon. It is alleged that these two lads stole from the office of the Peterboro Cereal Co., a purse containing a sum of money. However, both boys deny having had anything to do in the matter. The case will be tried to-morrow morning by Magistrate Dumble.

Sir, — Let all the people know that R.R. Hall and J.R. Stratton got what was coming to them on June 8th, and don't you forget it, Mr. Editor. The two men and all their belongings worked early and late for Gillespie and for themselves at the next election. Will they try it now? I think J. THE POLITICAL DISTURBER AT WORK IN EAST PETERBORO'

Mr. Thompson, M. P. P., at Havelock, Spoke Strongly Against Attempts to Inflame the Public Mind—Disowns Campaign Material Supposed to be Circulated in His Interest—Asks Elecotrs to Weigh Questions Calmly—No Room for the Fire-Eater in These Enlightened Times—"Let Us Agree to Disagree"

Reports are being circulated to the effect that the Liberal candidate in the East Riding, Mr. P. J. McNulty, owes his severe defeat to the religious fanaticism of some of his opponents, who revived ancient heart-burnings for the purpose of making political capital. As usual, those charged on one side, charge those on the other side with a similar offence. However, at his last meeting at Havelock, before election day, Mr. Thompson, now the M.P.P., for the East Riding, expressed his unreserved disapproval of such actions and in the strongest terms denied the complicity of himself or any of his friends in the printing, publishing or circulation in any way of any sectarian material or of any pamphlets, etc., containing other than purely political information. He denied also in the strongest terms any desire on his part to revive unhappy incidents of a nature that may inflame or irritate men of different religious opinions. The day of The Green Eye-Opener Facts for Irish electors, etc., is done and differences of opinion are now capable of being solved in a decidedly more sane and satisfactory way. Mr. J. A. Sexsmith is the Review's authority for the above statement.

C. P. R. ENTERTAINED MEMBERS OF THE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

Doctors Guests of the Company at Caledonia Springs, the Well Know Health Resort Near Ottawa

Special to the Review.

Ottawa, June 10. — The members of the Canadian Medical Association and their friends to the number of about three hundred, were the guests of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company this afternoon and were taken in special train to Caledonia Springs, the well known health resort near Ottawa, where they were entertained at a luncheon in the Company's hotel there, and shown innumerable courtesies. The medical men who visited the hospital spoke in glowing terms of the kindness shown them and are loud in their praises of the institution as a health resort. During luncheon Sir. James Grant and Dr. F. Montizambert, president of the Medical Association, expressed appreciation of the action of the Canadian Pacific in giving the members an opportunity of visiting a place of such interest and beauty as Caledonia Springs, and bespoke the concern of the profession in its development. The train that carried the doctors on the excursion reached its destination at 1.30 p.m. The visitors were then escorted to the hotel recently erected by the Company and were shown many of the features of interest in the immense area that is the rarest of beauty spots. The hotel, a building of palatial dimensions, and great external beauty was the object of deep admiration, with its outlook over a region of varied scenery, its surrounding of sweeping lawn, tennis court, croquet ground, spacious verandas, magnificently furnished reception room, dining hall, and its general completeness of appointment is an ideal place of summer residence at the disposal of guests. Every convenience has been placed and what man has not done, nature has. The hotel accommodates 200 persons and is set in the heart of a park of general dells and sloping grassy mounds, and level fields — scenery that is restful in its effect upon the mind.

Adjacent to the hotel are the famous Caledonia Sulphur Springs and the visitor who summers there may, without the slightest difficulty obtain a most healthful beverage. Of the medicinal value of the water with its saline sulphrous qualities, the highest opinion is expressed. The baths, too, are of inestimable importance. The water is healthful and everything for its use has been devised. The visitors showed deepest interest in the baths and the spring water and numerous expressions of confidence in their value were heard.

The luncheon constituted a most delightful affair. No pains had been spared by the company to meet the wishes of their guests. The menu would have done credit to the most elaborate antique feast and all details were attended to as only the Canadian Pacific Railway can.

In replying to the thanks of the Medical Association for the kindness of the Company, Mr. Langune, assistant manager of the hotel department, welcomed the doctors to the springs and mentioned the work of development that is proceeding to make it a perfect resort.

A most interesting feature of the afternoon's outing was a visit to the bottling works where Magi Caledonia Water is prepared for distribution. Many comments were made by the doctors on the work the Company is doing.

Caledonia Springs is a most desirable health resort. In connection with the hotel a farm of 200 acres is cultivated.

The excursion returned to Ottawa at 6 p.m., and the members of the Medical Association bow to the courtesy and unbounded kindness of the Canadian Pacific.

DECIDED THAT 12,500 TROOPS WILL BE SENT TO QUEBEC

Some City Corps Will Go Full Strength, and Every Corps Throughout Canada Will be Represented by a Unit of 43 Men and 5 Officers—A Final Decision at Last

Special to the Review

Ottawa, Ont, June 10— A Militia general order will be issued today or tomorrow containing an outline of the proposed concentration of Canadian troops to the number of 12,500 in the city of Quebec next month for the tercentenary celebration. The city corps of Quebec will participate in the celebration full strength. The department will select also other city corps, full strength to the total number of about 6000 to take part therein, as well as detachments from other city corps throughout Canada. Permanent corps to the number of about 1200 will be assembled representative of all branches of Canada's little standing army.

ALL TO BE REPRESENTED

In addition to the above there will be units from all the cavalry regiments in Quebec, and one company of five officers and 43 men from each rural infantry regiment from Nova Scotia to the Pacific coast.

TO GET PAY AND ALLOWANCES.

All those taking part in the celebration will receive pay and allowances on their arrival in Quebec. The city corps to take part full strength will be chosen by the Militia Department.

The detachment to be sent from other units throughout the Dominion will be chosen by the regimental commanders.

The permanent corps will go into camp on the 8th of July. The other troops between 20th and the 22nd of that month.

In the selection of a company to represent their corps the regimental commanders will be free to select the best men in the whole regiment. It has been arranged that the rural corps sending a company will also go into their accustomed training training camps, but only at 65 per cent of their full strength.

TO COST $100,000.

It is expected that the proposed concentration of troops in Quebec will involve an outlay of about $100,000.

THE YORK LOAN OUTLOOK HAS BECOME BRIGHTER

Toronto, June 10.—The latest estimates, based on the upward tendency of real estate in sections where the York County Loan has its holdings, are that the dividend to shareholders when liquidation is complete will be at least forty cents on the dollar, and the figure may even reach 50 cents.

The land has been selling readily at increased prices. The district is one exactly suitable for the erection of houses that rent at from $25 a month up, and builders have not been slow to buy and build. Land that was selling at $15 a foot a year ago cannot be touched now at $20.

As there are between thirty-five and forty thousand feet still to be sold, it is evident that every rise of a dollar a foot adds about $40,000 to be divided among the shareholders.

The dividend will also be increased by cutting from the list of those entitled to share a number of worthless claims. It was evident after the sifting process which took place before the official referee that the claims of four millions will total no more than $3,000,000.

CITY OFFICIAL IN POLICE COURT

Case Against Him Was Dismissed —Jos. Whitehead, Discharged

A city official was charged with using abusive language to a south end resident at the Police Court this morning. He pleaded not guilty. It appears that the complainant went to the city official's house and applied to him for work. He accused the defendant of saying certain things which were injurious to him. This aroused the ire of both parties and some uncomplimentary words were used. His Worship thought that there was fault on both sides and dismissed the case.

Jos. Whitehead, who was remanded on a charge of removing sods from the city streets was allowed to go this morning, he having replaced the sods.

TILSONBURG BLACKSMITH IS SUSPECTED OF FIRING HOTEL

Revenge is Believed to be the Motive—Case Looks Black Against the Prisoner—Alleged to Have Uttered Threats—Witnesses May Prove Alibi.

Tillsonburg, Ont., June 12.—Detective John Miller of the Attorney-General's Department, made an arrest yesterday in connection with the burning of the Queen's Hotel May 20, in which three lives were lost, and three ladies are still in dangerous condition.

Chester Buckborough, a local blacksmith, is the accused and revenge is believed to be the motive. The arrest was made at 3 p.m. in Beckers' livery stable, where the suspect is regularly employed.

The prisoner is a man of between thirty and thirty-five years of age and has been married, though his wife left him because of his impulsive and cruel nature.

For many months he has been on the Indian list so far as obtaining liquor in this town is concerned, the prohibitive papers having been taken out against him by his own elder brother. This is believed to have led to the crime for which he is charged.

The prisoner is said to have made a threat as late as May 19, the night before the fire. On Wednesday morning, May 20, the holocaust occurred, and it is a strange coincidence that the prisoner was the first person Proprietor Mero encountered when he was rushing out of the rear entrance of the blazing building to send in the alarm.

The back door of the hotel was always open, and it is thought that the accused man, who had been refused a drink in the house the night before, entered by this way and fired a bundle of toilet paper, which was kept beneath the main stair.

While the building was in flames Buckborough was conspicuous among the lookers on and is said to have declared exultantly, "I've got even with him."

Chief of Police John Chillon made the arrest on the instance of Detective Miller, and at 7 p.m. the prisoner was remanded to the Woodstock jail for a week by Magistrates Ferro and Stenson.

Chester Buckborough has many friends here who declare it is impossible for him to have committed such a deed. The strong points in the case against him are:

1. That he declared he'd get even.
2. That after the fire he said he had got even.
3. At the time of the fire before anyone else appeared on the scene the proprietor ran into him on the very premises from which he was morally excluded.

A stable man, also employed at Becker's livery, declares that Buckborough went to bed the night before the fire at 10.30 p. m., yet another man urges the prisoner's innocence on the grounds that he and the accused had been out for a drive the night before the fire and returned at 12 o'clock.

About six witnesses will testify at the preliminary trial here next Thursday. The penalty for arson is life imprisonment, and as manslaughter is the same it is likely the charge will be arson.

SHOOTS WIFE AND THEN HIMSELF

Quarrel With Jealous Husband Ends in Murder.

New Liskeard, June 12.—At Earlton Wednesday afternoon a jealous husband, Charles E. Marshall, shot his wife through the heart and then put a bullet through his own brain.

The woman was living with her aged father, Absalom Gray, a respectable resident.

The murderer had just returned from Niagara Falls. The pair had quarreled a week previously, and the wife told her husband to leave her.

Wednesday Gray noticed Marshall skulking through the bush on his way to the house. The old man followed and was within but a few feet of the house when four shots were fired.

"He has killed me, father," said the dying young woman. "Kiss me, I'm dying." Then she sank to the floor, as the men from the neighboring mill hurried into the house.

In Marshall's pocket was found a letter to a brother-in-law, one of Gray's sons, expressing his sorrow at being obliged to commit the deed. He thought a great deal of his wife, and could not live separated from her, he said. They were married at Lewiston, N.Y., a year ago.

GENDARMES TO BE PUNISHED

Exceeded Buthority in Recent Riot---Scene in Chamber

Paris, June 12.—The Government was fiercely attacked by the Socialists in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday during a debate that followed an interpellation upon the action of the police and gendarmes during the recent fatal rioting at Vigneux.

Premier Clemenceau expressed the regret of the Government for the two fatalities, and said that an investigation had shown that some of the gendarmes had exceeded their authority. They would be tried before a court of enquiry.

A resolution expressing regret over the shooting and supporting the Government's intention to punish the guilty parties was adopted by 420 votes to 63.

Roumanian Absconder Arrested.

Montreal, June 12.—Rean Cortochescu, alias Draguson, formerly cashier of the Roumanish Government Railway, Bucharest, signed a note for $12,000 on a bank and decamped with the money to New York, from whence he could not be extradited. He came to Montreal and was arrested on a charge of bringing stolen money into this country, which is a penal offence.

During Robbery in Quebec.

Montreal, June 12.—J. B. Belisle, a resident of St. Agatha, has reported to the provincial police that on Monday night, while he was sitting in his garden, two masked robbers entered his house and secured $3,500, which he had on hand to put through a business deal the next day. Mrs. Belisle was in the house, but was threatened with death if she raised an outcry.

Prison and the Lashes.

Belleville, June 12.—Philip Ketcheson of Tweed pleaded guilty to indecent assault on three little girls, and was sentenced to two years less one day in the Central prison, and twelve lashes. He is a middle aged merchant.

Money Gone—No Arrest.

Kansas City, June 12.—No arrests have been made in connection with the disappearance of a United States mail pouch alleged to have contained at least $50,000 in currency.

BALLOT SCANDAL IN HAMILTON

Lawson and Dillabaugh Both Caught by the Police.

Hamilton, June 12.—Wm. Lawson, 127 North Hughson street, and Henry Dillabaugh, 27 Gore street, the deputy returning officer and poll clerk wanted in connection with the West Hamilton ballot case, were arrested yesterday. The police got a tip that Dillabaugh had returned to the city and Detective Coulter gathered a posse and surrounded his home. While the other officers blocked all the exits the detective searched the house from cellar to garret, and finally located Dillabaugh hidden under the floor of an enclosed verandah. Dillabaugh took his arrest coolly. On him was found an offer of a first-class position in New York.

The police next went to Lawson's house. The front door was locked, so they forced their way in through the back door and found the missing returning officer asleep in his bed in his clothes. When the detective woke him up he laughed and took it as a joke. The prisoners have never been very far from the city. The police got a tip Wednesday that they were at Bayview, but when the officers reached that place they found that the pair had escaped in a steam launch, which appeared to be at their disposal, and in which it is supposed by the police that they have been spending most of their time.

Lawson is charged with supplying Dillabaugh with election ballots and Dillabaugh with trying to dispose of them. The penalty provided for offences of this kind is three years' imprisonment. Dillabaugh promptly secured bail and was given his freedom.

The authorities say that they will be ready Friday morning to proceed with the case.

Must Right a Wrong or Go to Jail.

Woodstock, June 12.—Judge Finkle gave the chance of repairing a wrong or going to prison to Thomas Anderson, a Tillsonburg young man, who, with three others, according to the crown, conspired to rob John Birks, a farmer near Tillsonburg, on the way home from that town.

In addressing the jury W. C. Brown of Tillsonbrug most emphatically told of Anderson's old mother waiting down on the farm for his return, and of his wife, who also was waiting, just about to become a mother. This was a surprise, as previously Anderson had said he was a single man.

Judge Finkle questioned the chief of police and found that the girl is not the man's wife.

He was given ten days to marry the girl. If at the end of that time the ceremony has not been performed he will be sentenced.

Shot By His Comrade.

Vancouver, B. C., June 12.—R. Drummitt and B. F. Blakeslee, hand loggers at Butte Inlet, went hunting last Sunday morning. They separated and later Blakeslee saw something moving in the bushes and fired. Drummitt was shot through the arm.

It took two days, with 60 miles of rowing, in a small boat, to get Drummitt to Rock Bay Hospital. He died soon after his arrival from shock and loss of blood.

Medical Officers.

Ottawa, June 12.—The Canadian Medical Association yesterday elected Dr. R. J. Blanchard of Winnipeg president, Dr. Elliott of Ottawa secretary and Dr. H. P. Small of Ottawa treasurer. Next year's convention will be held in Winnipeg.

Amending Scott Act.

Ottawa, June 12.—The Senate yesterday reported a bill to amend the Scott Act by prohibiting the shipping of liquor from one county to another in which the act is in force.

MORE ABUSES ARE EXPOSED; EMPLOYMENT FOR THE CLERKS

Employed to Send Out Campaign Literature—Wholesale Abuse of Franking Privileges in Liberal Interest—Mr. R. L. Borden Makes Direct Charge—The Minister of Railways Admits Such Conduct is Improper.

Ottawa, June 12.—That campaign literature for the Liberal party is being sent out by tons by clerks paid for by the country was shown yesterday by the Opposition.

During discussion of the Minister of Railway's estimates, Mr. Armstrong condemned the practice. He had been informed that this was being done. Literature had been printed in Mr. Graham's printing office at Brockville, franked to Ottawa and mailed out to do service in North York by Mr. Graham's clerks, under franking privileges.

Mr. Graham said it was clear that speeches made in Parliament might properly be sent out under franking privileges. As to the budget statement of the Finance Minister, he thought it would be quite right to employ clerks in the Department to address and mail it. If campaign literature contained matter not a part of the proceedings of Parliament, it would not be proper.

He admitted that clerks in his Department had been so engaged, but he was not sure whether it was done during working hours or not.

Mr. Lennox asked if the work was done after hours, were the clerks recompensed, and Mr. Graham answered that he paid them nothing.

Then, said Mr. Lennox, this was very dangerous practice.

M. Y. McLean surprised the House by saying he had paid for distributing the Finance Minister's speech in South Huron.

George Taylor produced a campaign document entitled "Party Government in Canada—a Western Liberal's View," sent out by clerks of the Railway Department.

Mr. Bergeron also brought forth a booklet in French, a translation of an article written by a Jesuit priest. This was entitled "Sir Wilfrid Laurier" and sent out by the Justice Department at the expense of the country. The article was full of historical inaccuracies, he said.

R. L. Borden said he could produce literature bearing franks of members of the Government and sent out when the House was not in session.

Mr. Fielding attempted to show that the Opposition were also guilty of abusing the franking privilege. A few sessions ago, he said, the corridors of the House were barricaded with literature brought from Montreal and sent out under franks of members of Parliament. But while this was done by both sides, he would not defend the practice of using the time of clerks of the Departments to fold and mail campaign literature.

R. L. Borden made it plain that the distribution he complained of was done when the House was not sitting. He declared that only official communications could be franked by Departments, while members of Parliament were not restricted.

Dr. Sproule naturally plunged into a discussion of the booklet written by the Jesuit father and distributed in Quebec. He said Mr. Aylesworth had deprecated his motion to secure the return of religious convictions of certain employes of the Government because it would arouse racial feeling. Yet the Laurier pamphlet sent out by Mr. Aylesworth was intended to arouse the prejudices of the Catholics of Quebec.

Col. Talbot of Bellechasse joined in, but 6 o'clock shut off the talk when it began to look as if a conflagration would be lighted.

When the Welland Canal came up for discussion in the House yesterday, Mr. Graham made an important statement. Unquestionably, he said, the Welland route must be brought to a depth of 25 feet to enable it to compete with the new Erie Canal and American route generally. Discussing methods, he stated that he was assured by eminent engineers that it would be better, instead of deepening the present 14-foot canal, to make a new one altogether. Such a new 25-foot canal would be cheaper and shorter and would have 75 per cent. less lockage. The cost, he agreed, would be heavy; he would not like to do it under $25,000,000 or $30,000,000.

On the opening of the House Mr. Borden brought up the matter of the letter addressed to Rev. Mr. Shearer by Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the subject of the Pringle charges. The Prime Minister said that he would lay the correspondence on the table.

The House adjourned at 11.30 after passing estimates for the Railway Department, totaling $1,319,452; for the Justice Department for salaries and contingencies, $61,500; Department of Agriculture, $261,000.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS SHOW BRADBURN'S MAJORITY 428

Figures Given Out This Morning by Sheriff Hall Returning Officer for West Peterborough—Total Vote for Bradburn 2561, and for Gillespie 2133

The official returns for the recent elections in West Peterborough for the Provincial House were given out this morning at 11 o'clock by Sheriff Hall, returning officer for West Peterborough. They show that 2561 votes were polled for Mr. Bradburn and 2133 for Mr. Gillespie, giving the former a majority of 428. The returns are as follows:

EX-SPEAKER IS ARRESTED SEQUEL TO A BANK WRECK

General Manager and Assistant Also Held—Charged With Making Fraudulent Returns—Securities Said to be Worthless and Prescribed.

Montreal, June 12.—The arrest took place yesterday at St. Johns, Quebec, of the Hon. P. H. Roy, ex-Speaker of the Legislative Assembly and president of the defunct bank of St. Johns, and also of P. L. Hereux and P. Beaudoin, general manager and assistant general manager respectively, charged with making fraudulent returns to the Finance Department at Ottawa.

It had been known for some weeks that the affairs of the bank had been found to be in a very serious condition and after the Canadian Bankers' Association, the liquidator, general Manager Bienvenue, of the provincial bank, and officers of the Finance Department had compared notes it was found that criminal proceedings would have to be taken without delay.

The chief charge is the return of alleged collateral which has been found to have been worthless and prescribed, together with other irregularities of a very grave nature.

Things came to a climax yesterday morning when T. Lawson of the Finance Department arrived here from Ottawa, followed by the departure for St. John of John Knight of the Bankers' Association, Mr. Bienvenue and others. On their arrival there, warrants were at once issued. The accused were not taken to jail, but will be held under surveillance and brought before the court this morning, when it is most likely they will be remanded and perhaps given a chance to furnish bail.

The chief accused was at one time held to be worth a great deal of money, but it has evidently been swallowed up with a great deal more. He ran for the mayorality of Montreal a few months ago, was Speaker of the Legislature for three years and occupied a very high place in the financial and social world.

He has been ill since the bank went under, and at one time his life was despaired of.

Murdoch McDonald was drowned near Warren's Landing, Man.

The correct majority of Pearce (Con.) in North Hastings is 1,042.

Patrick O'Leary, C. P. R. section foreman, was killed by a train at London.

At Hammond, Ill., an elevator was burned with 250,000 bushels of corn; loss $200,000.

Col. Hendrick, U. S. consul at Belleville, has been transferred to Moncton, N.B.

James Harrington, aged 25, was killed in the hoist of the Trethewey mine at Cobalt.

Geo. Connolly, while crossing the river at Indiantown, N. Y., jumped overboard and was drowned.

Andrew Clarkson, aged 10, was accidentally shot by Mike Gege while out hunting gophers. He may die.

The British tank steamer Caribbee, from Mantanzas for New York, foundered at sea on June 8. One sailor was drowned.

Destroyed by mistake is the conclusion of the Parliamentary committee investigating the disappearance of the Stanstead, Que., election papers.

HITCHCOCK IS "NOT GUILTY"

Prisoners in Tombs Cheer Him When Verdict is Announced.

New York, June 12.—Raymond Hitchcock, who early yesterday was acquitted by a jury after eight hours on one of four indictments growing out of charges made against him by several young girls, was released from the Tombs' prison on bail.

The bond for $7,500 was furnished by Martin Engle, who had given bail for the actor previous to the beginning of his trial. Hitchcock had been in the Tombs since his trial began nearly a week ago.

When Hitchcock reached the Tombs' prison after his acquittal he was the centre of a remarkable demonstration. The hundreds of prisoners who were aware that the jury in his case was out, had remained awake all night to hear the verdict. When the actor announced that he had been freed a small cheer started in the cells nearest to the entrance, which grew in volume when its import became known to those locked in the top tiers until the building re-echoed with the din. As Hitchcock passed to his cell the shouts continued and every prisoner he passed on his way reached out through the bars to shake his hand.

ANTI-GAMBLING BILLS ARE PASSED

Senator Folkner Came From Sick Bed to Save the Day.

Albany, June 12.—The anti-gambling bills, passed by the Assembly Wednesday, were handed down yesterday, with every member of the Senate in his seat when, at 10.25, the first of the bills was taken up, with the exception of Senator Foelkner. The Senator, who was reported by his doctor as very weak, and as having had a poor night, reached the capitol a few minutes before the stroke of noon, and at 12.03 voted "No" on a motion to amend. The first bill was then put upon its final passage, and passed 26 to 25, Senator Foelkner's vote having saved the day.

Killed by a Bull.

Brockville, June 12.—James Bullis, an old and well-to-do farmer residing in St. Lawrence County, across the river from here, was gored to death by a bull when entering the barnyard where his dairy herd were. The first knowledge of the affair was when his son came into the yard some time later and found the body of his father horribly mutilated.

Rev. H. Pedley Chairman.

Montreal, June 12.—At yesterday morning's session of the Congregational Union of Canada, Rev. Hugh Pedley, Montreal, was elected chairman for the ensuing year.

An Elopement Wind-Up.

Brandon, Man., June 12.—George Baskerville, the young man who eloped from Neepawa with Mrs. Williams and her three children, was arrested in Brandon yesterday while trying to dispose of the team he had stolen from his father. Baskerville was sent back to Neepawa, and Mrs. Williams says she is willing to return to her husband.

WITH MAILED FIST SAYS EMPEROR

How William of Germany Meets Threatened New Triple Alliance.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—It was learned here yesterday from a competent source that the recent meeting between King Edward and Empror Nicholas at Reval and the rapprochement between Great Britain, Russia and France has been made the subject of grave representations on the part of Germany, who has met the threatened birth of a new "triple alliance" with a display of the "mailed fist."

On Murderer's Track.

Vancouver, June 12.—The first clue to the hunt for the murderer of Mrs. Mary Morrison developed yesterday, when the police gained information which leads them to believe that if they arrest James Anderson, an octoroon, charged with several crimes in the district south of Vancouver, they will have the murderer of Tuesday. A warrant has been out for Anderson for a week. He lived nearby and beat his little daughter black and blue so often that the neighbors complained.

His identification and description of the murderer, as given by Mrs. Morrison's daughter, absolutely tallies with the appearance of Anderson. Early yesterday morning a dark-skinned man, absolutely naked, was seen washing his clothes in a creek near Port Kells. Two hours later the tramp came upon some men sitting alongside the path. He begged a knife from one, saying that he had lost his own. With the borrowed knife he fashioned a wooden knife sharp enough to cut food.

At noon a farmer's house at Kells was robbed of 50 pounds of groceries.

CAR WRECKED BY DYNAMITE

Dastardly Outrage Perpetrated at Cleveland---Passengers Injured.

Cleveland, O., June 12.—Seven passengers and the motorman and conductor were injured shortly after midnight, when a Cedar avenue street car, bound east for Euclid Heights, was wrecked on Murray Hill by what is supposed to have been a charge of dynamite. The police of Euclid Heights are bending every effort to run down the miscreants who placed the explosive on the street car track.

The car was running slowly when the front wheels struck the explosive. The explosion that followed was heard for over a mile. Windows were shattered and seats twisted. The floor of the car was lifted upward, throwing the passengers in a panic-stricken heap on the floor.

Only the slow speed of the car saved it from going over the steep embankment lining the road. The explosion lifted it clear to within a foot of the curb.

The explosive tore off the flanges of the wheels, and the motor fell between the rails. Two sticks of dynamite were found on the rails, where they had been placed with the [illegible] tion of blowing up cars bound [illegible] opposite directions.

A NEW MINISTER

It is now generally admitted that a new Minister of Agriculture will be required at Toronto. Mr. Monteith, it is said, will not seek re-election. If we are not intruding we should like to suggest the name of Mr. Hilliard Carnegie. He would fill the bill in every particular. His knowledge of the requirements of agriculture is complete, and his seat is a safe one. Moreover, he is straight and yet popular.

THE AMERICAN IMMIGRANT

"The United States farmer has made up his mind as to the wheat-growing possibilities of of Canada," announces the Canadian Courier (Toronto), "and nothing can stop his moving now, so long as he is able to sell his old farm at $100 to $200 an acre, and buy good land in the Last Great West at $15 to $25 an acre." The 'marvel' of the continued emigration of our Western farmers into Canada is thus explained. According to the Courier the average yield per acre in the province of Saskatchewan amounts to almost twenty bushels. When this is compared with the average for the whole United States, of 13.5 bushels per acre, it throws further light on the northward migration of our wheat-farmers. The following figures, says the Courier, explain why the decreased yield of Canadian wheat last year did not check this northward movement;—

	Averale yield in 1907.
Saskatchewan	15.17 bushels.
Kansas	6.8 bushels
Minnesota	13.0 bushels
North Dakota	10.0 bushels
South Dakota	11.2 bushels
Nebraska	12.0 bushels
Iowa	12.8 bushels

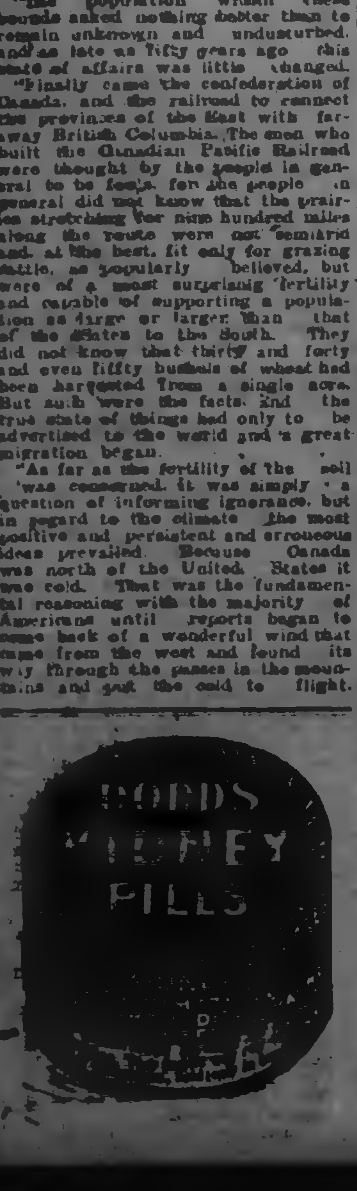
"A new country has arisen," says Herbert Vanderhoof, who writes on the Canadian wheat country in the Metropolitan Magazine (May) "a new member, bearing lavish gifts, a land that is worth more than the unmined gold-fields of the Yukon." In discussing further the development of Northwestern Canada, Mr. Vanderhoof says;—

"The population within these bounds asked nothing better than to remain unknown and undisturbed, and as late as fifty years ago this state of affairs was little changed.

"Finally came the confederation of Canada, and the railroad to connect the provinces of the East with faraway British Columbia. The men who built the Canadian Pacific Railroad were thought by the people in general to be fools, for the people in general did not know that the prairies stretching for nine hundred miles along the route were not semiarid and, at the best, fit only for grazing cattle, as popularly believed, but were of a most surprising fertility and capable of supporting a population as large or larger than that of the States to the South. They did not know that thirty and forty and even fifty bushels of wheat had been harvested from a single acre. But such were the facts. And the true state of things had only to be advertised to the world and a great migration began.

"As far as the fertility of the soil was concerned, it was simply a question of informing ignorance, but in regard to the climate the most positive and persistent and erroneous ideas prevailed. Because Canada was north of the United States it was cold. That was the fundamental reasoning with the majority of Americans until reports began to come back of a wonderful wind that came from the west and found its way through the passes in the mountains and put the cold to flight. and of days eighteen hours long and every hour full of the most glorious sunshine, and of an air so packed with ozone and so free from damp that one had to look at the thermometer to realize that it was winter."

The total wheat crop for the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, in 1907, the writer continues, was 75,000,000 bushels, netting the Canadian farmers a round sum of $50,000,000, to which was added $48,000,000 revenue from barley, oats and other grain.—Literary Digest.



EDITORIAL NOTES

At the moment one cannot determine what the effect of the gerrymander has been. — Kingston Whig. The poor old Whig means that it has has not had time to collect its imagination.

We would respectfully call Mr. Gillespie's attention to the fact that in his published card of thanks he has refrained from thanking the Examiner for doing for him—all it could.

Hereafter let it be understood that employees of the various establishments in Peterborough may in their own time, mind their own business and the same shall apply also with emphasis to certain politicians.

Oh Where, Oh where is the whole business gone,
Oh! Where Oh! where can it be!
With MacKay and Robert and
James and John,
With McGinty down in the sea.—
Examiner.

Our Liberal contemporary, so-called because of its liberal way of handing out abuse, is in a frame of mind best described as a mourning frame, viz., a black border set off by more black, with a hearse rampant in the foreground.

The C. G. E. coercion act and the tax threat will go down to history or further, as the "last awful" efforts of madmen, certainly not of political strategists or statesmen. The "people won't stand it."

The Examiner snaps at the Temperance people for lack of courage in expressing their opinion by the ballot. It presumes, we suppose, that temperance people are eager for Mr. MacKay and a return of the old administration of the license law. Funny ideas some people have!

Ottawa, June 11—Special — That campaign literature for the Liberal party is being sent out by tons by clerks paid for by the country was shown today by the opposition.

The date of the election is admittedly some time in the early autumn.

According to the Kingston Whig, the city of Kingston did not profit by its candidates' spectacular signing of a bond. Everybody was bought —because Mr. Pense did not win, forsooth! We hope that some, at least, of the threats of prosecution will materialize. We have no desire to shield the guilty.

The "latest" of the Militia Department orders at Ottawa calls for a unit of 43 men and 5 officers, as the contribution from each rural corps to the Terrible Centenary Exhibition at Quebec. The units will be chosen by the "ordeal," those remaining after the fight being, of course, the "best". There will be no consolation prize as none will be needed.

We have received the following appeal which speaks for itself.

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir—What mighty bullet-head was it that mapped out the local campaign for the Grits? Who but a tyro or a madman would have ordered the Conservatives at the CGE. to go away back and sit down in their own or their employer's time. Who thought of that immortal notice to the registered vote to call before "election day and save trouble and costs." What has the collector got to do with "election day." It was that that gave the whole thing dead away. But wait, Mr. Editor, Just wait till October next.

Yours,
ELECTOR.

In a previous article we gave the readers of the Guardian a general description of our work in Labrador; in this article we give them some idea at least of the kind of people and nature of work. In a following article we hope to give a short account of the work so far accomplished. We have assumed that the people outside, are not well acquainted with our work in Labrador. This, we think, is the case, not as a result of indifference on the part of the people, but of carelessness on the part of the missionary, who has failed to write up the work. Dillon Wallace has said, that "Labrador will be in future to Canada what Alaska is at the present time to the States." The truth of this statement I am not prophet enough to affirm. But this much we know, that Labrador has given her millions of wealth, in fish and fur, to the world, and only recently have several gold claims been taken up in the very place over which our missionary travels every year. Why, then, should such a wealthy and promising country be so neglected.— Arminius Young, in the Guardian.

WARNED BY DESERTS

What These Sandy Wastes Mean to Mother Earth.

A DEATH GRIP ON THE WORLD

They Indicate the Beginning of the End of Our Beautiful Planet, Which Is Doomed to Roll Through Space a Parched and Lifeless Orb.

Deserts already exist on the earth, and the nameless horror that attaches to the word in the thoughts of all who have had experience of them or are gifted with imagination to conceive is in truth greater than we commonly suppose, for the cosmic circumstance about them which is most terrible is not that deserts are, but that deserts have begun to be. Not as local evitable evils are they only to be pictured, but as the general inescapable death grip on our world, for it is the beginning of the end. What depauperates the forests to grass lands and thence to wastes must in turn attack the sea bottoms when they shall have parted with their seas.

Last of the fertile spots upon the planet because of the salts the streams have for ages washed down and of the remnant of moisture that would still drain into them, eventually they must share the fortune of their predecessors and the planet roll a parched orb through space. The picture is forbidding, but the fact seems one to which we are constructively pledged and into which we are in some sort already adventured.

Girdling the earth with what it takes but little personification to liken to the life extinguishing serpent's coils run two desert belts of country. The one follows, roughly speaking, the tropic of Cancer, extending northward from it; the other, the tropic of Capricorn. Arizona is in the northern band, as are the Sahara, Arabia and the deserts of central Asia.

Now, these desert belts are growing. In the great desert of northern Arizona the traveler, threading his way across a sagebrush and cacti plain shut in by abrupt sided shelves of land rising here and there some hundreds of feet higher, suddenly comes upon a petrified forest.

Trunks of trees in all stages of fracture strew the ground over a space some miles in extent. So perfect are their forms he is almost minded to think the usual wasteful woodchopper has been by and left the scattered products of his art in littered confusion upon the scene of his exploit. Only their beautiful color conveys a sense of strangeness to the eye, and, leaning down and touching them, he finds that they are—stone; chalcedony, not carbon! Form has outlived substance and kept the resemblance, while the particles of the original matter have all been spirited away. Yet so perfect is the presentment one can hardly believe the fact, and where one fallen giant spans a little canyon one almost thinks to hear the sound of water rushing down the creek.

But it is some millions of years and more since this catastrophe befell, and the torrent, uprooting it, left it prone, with limbs outstretched in futile grasp upon the other side. A conifer it was, cousin only to such as grow today, and flourished probably in the cretaceous era, for the land has not been under water here since the advent of tertiary times.

Nowhere near it, except for the rare cottonwoods along the bank of the Little Colorado, grows anything today. The land which once supported these forests is incompetent to do so now. Yet nothing has changed there since except the decreasing water supply. During tertiary and quaternary time the rainfall has been growing less and less. Proof of this is offered by the great pine oasis that caps the plateau of which these petrified forests form a part and is kernelled by the San Francisco peaks. The height above sea level of the spot where the chalcedony trunks are strewn is about 4,500 feet. The lower present limit of the pine in its full development is 6,500 feet. Two thousand feet upward the verdure line has retreated since the former forests were. And this is no local alteration, for upon the other side of the plateau petrified remains of trees are similarly found.

The line of perpetual green has risen because in desert regions the moisture is found most plentiful nearest to the clouds from which it falls upon a parching earth. Streams, instead of gathering volume as they go, are largest near their source and grow less and less with each fresh mile of flow. The brooks descending from the Anti-Lebanon, in Syria, water the gardens of Damascus and, thence issuing upon the plain, lose themselves just beyond the threshold of its gates. So in the Arizona desert, though in a less degree, and those who live there know it but too well.—From Percival Lowell's "Mars and the Future of the Earth" in Century.

Breaking Wire.

Anybody who has tried to break a piece of wire without the aid of a pair of pinchers will probably agree that the operation is both a difficult and painful one. There is a method, however, by which it may be easily accomplished. By bending the wire into a loop and pulling both ends as tight as possible an injury will be caused to the wire, which on being straightened will immediately break. By this means wire up to No. 12 gauge may be successfully dealt with.

Fire and sword are but slow engines of destruction in comparison with the babbler.—Steele.

The "Mauretania" is reported to work so much better without her lost fourth propeller that it will not be replaced.

Counterfeits.

Read what one of the GREATEST NEWSPAPERS IN AMERICA has to say on this subject:

"The manufacturers of Castoria have been compelled to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars to familiarize the public with the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. This has been necessitated by reason of pirates counterfeiting the Castoria trade-mark. This counterfeiting is a crime not only against the proprietors of Castoria, but against the growing generation. All persons should be careful to see that Castoria bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, if they would guard the health of their children. Parents, and mothers in particular, ought to carefully examine the Castoria advertisements which have been appearing in this paper, and to remember that the wrapper of every bottle of genuine Castoria bears the fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher, under whose supervision it has been manufactured continuously for over thirty years.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Conger Bros. of St. Paul, Minn., say: "Fletcher's Castoria is certainly full of merit and worthy of recommendation."

C. G. A. Loder, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "For 20 years we have sold Fletcher's Castoria and are pleased to state that it has given universal satisfaction."

The Scholtz Drug Co., of Denver, Colo., says: "Fletcher's Castoria has surely become a household word. Seemingly every family where there are children uses it."

Hoagland & Mansfield, of Boston, Mass., say: "We have nothing but good to say about your Castoria and we do not hesitate to give it our unqualified endorsement."

Riker's Drug Stores, of New York City, say: "Fletcher's Castoria is one of the oldest and most popular preparations in our stores. We have nothing but good to say about it."

Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., of St. Louis, Mo., says: "Of the thousands of patent medicines for which we have demand there are a very few of them that we can conscientiously recommend and your Castoria is included in this few."

D. R. Dyche & Co., of Chicago, Ills., say: "The increasing demand for your Castoria shows that a discriminating public is not slow to seek out a remedy of merit and once convinced that it does all and even more than claimed they do not hesitate to recommend it to their friends."

The Owl Drug Co., of San Francisco, Cal., says: "We have always been a believer in the 'original man protection' and have been particular never to sell anything but the genuine and original Castoria (Fletcher's). We have many calls every day for this article from people who say they would not be without it in their homes."

GARDEN NOVELTIES.

Beans, Tomato and Squash — New Types of Improved Quality.

As the result of various experiments made in breeding operations with such vegetables as snap beans, summer squash and the tomato, the following points, among others, are given by the New Jersey experiment station.

The novelty named as Station Snap Bean No. 1 is a cross from Jones' Stringless upon Golden Eye, both of the wax type of snap beans.

The Jones' Stringless is a medium sized bush plant with white flowers, bearing early its medium long, round, curved, brittle, stringless wax pods, which produce at maturity seeds of medium size. The mother of the cross, Golden Eye, is a medium sized bush, with long, flat pods, slightly curved and somewhat stringy, bearing white seeds, excepting a golden colored irregular belt around the eye, from which the variety takes its name. From the cross of these types secured in 1904 it was found that the selected white seeds grown during 1906 and the larger area for 1907 gave both years uniform bush plants of medium size and earliness and always with white flowers and seeds. The pods were straight or slightly curved and medium flat, with superior brittleness and but a small amount of stringiness.

The Jersey green summer squash has been obtained from a cross of "scallop" with cream colored surface upon a yellow "crookneck." The wartiness of the "crookneck" has been eliminated by selection, with the exception of an occasional swelling upon the "neck" of the fruit. The effect of the two parents is well shown in the shape, which is neither "scallop" ("pattypan") nor "crookneck," and yet there is a short "neck," and usually it bends to one side. The general shape is agreeable and the size acceptable, while in color it is a nearly solid dark green. It remains to be seen whether this will strike the fancy of the consumer. It is, however, only "skin" deep and disappears in large part as the fruit matures.

[Showing some details of pod and seed in a second crop plant, wax pod.]

A desirable early tomato has been obtained. This cross, which is a double one, the Arcadia being bred upon the cross of Arcadia-Earliana, proved so prolific of early red fruits, smooth and abundant, that the seeds were saved very generally from all of the best plants. The vines are small, of the low type of the Earliana, but the fruits are not so inclined to crack at the shoulder. It is considered a superior early cross that will yield its crop before the large type of midseason plants are in full bearing.

Grain Food For Chicks.

Oatmeal is probably the best grain food for chicks. Oats cannot be suitably prepared, however, in a common feed mill. The hulled oats are what is wanted. They can be purchased as the common rolled oats or sometimes as cut or pinhead oatmeal. The latter form would be preferred, but either of these is an excellent chick feed. Oats in these forms are expensive and should be purchased in bulk, not in packages. If too expensive oats should be used only for a few days, when they may be replaced by cheaper grains. Cracked corn is one of the best and cheapest chicken foods. Flaxseed meal could be used in small quantities. Kaffir corn, wheat, cowpeas—in fact, any wholesome grain—may be used to advantage. Farmers possessing feed mills have no excuse for feeding chicks exclusively on one kind of grain. If there is no way of grinding grain on the farm, oatmeal, millet seed and corn chop can be purchased. At about one week of age whole Kaffir corn and a little later whole wheat can be used to replace the more expensive feeds.—Oscar Erf, Kansas.

Not a Sure Mixer.

Poultry manure is very rich in all the fertilizing elements, but especially so in nitrogen, owing to the fact that the urinary secretions, which contain large amounts of nitrogen as well as potash in readily available form, are voided with the solid excrement. It quickly loses nitrogen, however, by fermentation if not properly mixed with absorbents or preservatives. In no case should alkaline substances like lime, wood ashes, etc., be mixed with poultry manure.

Objected to the Cradle.

The German emperor is said to have protested against the expenditure of $1,200 on a cradle for the baby heir to the duchy of Saxe-Coburg, the cradle being profusely trimmed with real lace.

"Had it been for a princess it would have mattered less," remarked his majesty, "but how can a warrior fit to be a German prince come out of such a cradle, decorated at the cost of a year's salary of an official or professional man?"

The Favorites In Japan.

Our referendum among the leading personalities of this country on the question, "What is your opinion of the great men of Europe and America?" has resulted as follows: Washington and Napoleon are the greatest favorites, after whom come Hannibal, Caesar and Charles XII. of Sweden. Among the most disliked are Brutus, Cromwell and Darwin.—Nihonoyaki Nihonjin, Tokyo.

If you don't like the tone of this paper, tell us in a letter containing a dollar bill, the price of a year's subscription. Otherwise keep still, as it's none of your darned business.—Spring Hill (Kan.) New Era.

HE WANTED TO KNOW.

The Politician Tells the Man From Mars a Few Things.

"How do you manage your railroads in this country?" inquired the man from Mars. "In those countries of the old world which I have visited they are owned and managed by the government."

"Inasmuch as I have never been abroad," replied the politician, "I must of course conclude that their methods are purely theoretical. We in this country pride ourselves on being practical."

"May I ask you to explain?" said the man from Mars.

"Certainly," replied the politician. "Our practice proceeds on the theory that the government is too poor and too inefficient to own and manage our railways. Accordingly the work is turned over to private individuals."

"And are the individuals trustworthy?"

"By no means," said the politician. "We have to appoint railroad commissions to watch them."

"The commissions, then, are to be depended upon?"

"Not at all. They are watched by the legislatures."

"And the legislatures?"

"They in turn are watched by the magazines."

"Oh, I see; the magazines are the final arbiters. That is very interesting."

"No; you are mistaken. The magazines are watched by the people."

"Of course. It finally gets back to the people. They act upon the information provided by the magazines. Surely the people do not need watching."

"Wrong again. That's where we come in," said the politician, proudly sticking his thumbs in the armholes of his waistcoat. "We have to watch the people to keep them from watching us."

"And how does it all work?" inquired the man from Mars.

"We are living very easy, thank you," answered the politician.—Success Magazine.

The Wake Was Fine.

Dennis and Patrick were leaning over the rail of the big liner. Off to the starboard was a dingy coal barge, the hull of a once graceful clipper ship.

"What kind of a boat is thot, Pat?" queried Dennis as he shaded his eyes with his hand.

"Thot is what yes call a dead ship," replied Patrick.

Dennis watched the bubbles churning under her stern for a long while.

"Pat!"

"Well, Dinny?"

"'Tis a dead ship, eh?"

"Yis, Dinny."

"Well, bedad, Oi b'lave ut. Look ut the big wake she has."—Detroit Tribune.

A Subtle Difference.

Mrs. Blank, wife of a prominent minister near Boston, had in her employ a recently engaged colored cook as black as the proverbial ace of spades. One day Mrs. Blank said to her:

"Matilda, I wish that you would have oatmeal quite often for breakfast. My husband is very fond of it. He is Scotch, and you know that the Scotch eat a great deal of oatmeal."

"Oh, he's Scotch, is he?" said Matilda. "Well, now, do you know I was thinkin' all along dat he wasn't des like us."—Woman's Home Companion.

Helping the Collection.

"That little Miss Peckham is quite a benefactor in her way."

"A benefactor—that horribly curious old maid! How is she a benefactor?"

"Why, she always stands up in her pew to see how much that miserly Mr. Pincher puts on the plate. That's why he doesn't dare to give less than a quarter."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Appearances.

"You can't judge by appearances," said the serious youth.

"No," answered the frivolous person; "it's impossible to realize how absurd the clothes that are fashionable this season may look a few years from now."—Washington Star.

Isn't It?

"It is sort of sad," he murmured.

"What is?" she asked.

"That the young man's fancy should turn to thoughts of sitting closer just when spring onions are most delicious."—Kansas City Times.

One thousand delegates are expected from New York Saturday to the Republican State convention in Chicago.

Pygmy Camels.

The western part of Persia is inhabited by a species of camels which are the pygmies of their kind. They are snow white and are on that account almost worshiped by the people.

The Simplon Pass.

The road constructed by Napoleon over the Simplon pass has 264 bridges and rises to a height of 6,560 feet.

The Kingbird.

The kingbird owes his name to the fact that he is the one small bird who ventures to attack the marauding crow and that he always comes off victorious. Rising above his foe, he drops upon his back, attacking him with beak and claws until the unlucky intruder makes off in ludicrous consternation.

Iron and Oxygen.

Pure iron in the presence of pure oxygen does not rust.

Densely Populated.

The population of the world could be contained in Delaware if it was as congested as the people in eleven New York city blocks, at the rate of 1,200 per acre.

Austria's Iron Mountain.

The Erzberg, Austria's iron mountain, will furnish ore for 1,000 more years.

Cochin China.

The area of Cochin China is about 21,000 square miles—virtually a great level rice field—one-fifth of which is under cultivation. The draft animals are bullocks and carabaos.

The Australian Dingo.

The only beast of prey found in Australia is the dingo, or wild dog.

Love.

"A species of cerebral commotion and a stirring of some hitherto dormant association centers by an appropriate affinitive impression" is the diagnosis of love—to be exact, first love—as recently given by a famous English physician and man of science. Yet the disease does not always seem so serious as that.

The First Clocks.

Originally clocks had only the hour hand, but the minute hand was added later, as it became fashionable to make the dials as decorative as possible.

Gold.

Gold in its pure state is only a trifle harder than lead and very much softer than copper, silver, platinum, zinc or iron. As a consequence of this it is alloyed with copper or silver, and both these metals are often used. Without the alloy gold would be practically useless for the purposes to which it is generally applied.

Feline Fishers.

The ancient Egyptians used to fish with cats on the Nile. The animals were trained to enter the water and seize the fish, which were then taken away by the fishermen.

Banana Skin Soap.

Banana skins are utilized in soapmaking on the west coast of Africa. The skins are rich in alkali, so they are burned to an ash, and this mixed with water and palm oil goes to make a cleanser which is in demand among the whites as well as the natives.

The Mirror and Death.

Covering the mirror when there is death in the family originated in the superstition that goblins, sprites, elves or other uncanny creatures would crowd to the glass to look on.

The Lion's Face.

"No one can look into the face of the king of beasts," says an animal trainer, "without receiving a more or less conscious uplift. His face is the absolute embodiment of strength, determination, power and fearlessness. He is the only king on earth that looks the part. There are lines of majesty and of power in repose in his countenance not found elsewhere except in the sphinx and in the somewhat idealized portraits of Washington."

An Oily Nose.

A red, oily nose should be bathed with borax water and afterward anointed with camphor water.

Chicago to Hongkong.

From Chicago the distance to Hongkong is, via New York and Suez, 13,522 miles; via San Francisco, 8,365 miles; via New Orleans and Panama, 11,742 miles, and via Tehuantepec, 10,620 miles.

Water.

So penetrating is water at high pressure that only special qualities of cast iron will withstand it.

Anaesthetics.

Anaesthetics were known in the days of Homer, and the Chinese 2,000 years ago had a preparation of hemp known as "ma yo" to deaden pain, something similar to our modern cocaine.

Freckles.

Freckles may be hereditary. Cases of freckles all over the body are mentioned. Food is not supposed to cause them. Sun and wind make some faces freckle.

The Low Right Shoulder.

According to authorities, from 85 to 95 per cent of the men in civilized lands are right handed and have developed the low right shoulder. This, however, is no new phenomenon, for even the ancient Greek sculptors had noticed it and posed their subjects so as to make them appear more symmetrical.

INSPECTION OF REGIMENT NEXT WEEK

Col. Gordon and Col. Young Will be Here---The Dates Likely to be Aproved

The annual inspection of the 57th Regiment will likely take place next week. The inspection will take place on the dates given below if they are approved at headquarters at Kingston:

Left half battalion in company drill on Wednesday evening, June 17th.

Friday evening, June 19th, the whole regiment in regimental drill and muster parade.

Col. Young, Kingston D.A.A.G., will likely be the company inspecting officer and Col. W. D. Gordon, D. O.C., the regimental inspection officer. Captain Conger, District Paymaster, will likely be here for muster roll call.

Orders to the above effect will in all likelihood be issued in a day or so. The regiment is in good shape to pass before the inspecting officers.

The steamer Water Lily will run a special trip to Stony Lake, leaving Wolfe St. wharf at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. All persons having baggage for Stony Lake points will please take note.

EXCURSION TO SOUTH BEACH

The Bridgenorth Methodist Sunday School will run an excursion from the village to South Beach, Clear Lake, on Friday, June 26th. The steamer Empress has been chartered for the occasion. A competent committee is in charge and a most enjoyable time is assured.

WE HOPE SO.

The Peterboro Review says that a resident of Havelock was in that city last week for the first time in 25 years and was greatly surprised at the changes in that time. In another 25 years the individual in question won't have to go out of Havelock to look for a city.—Havelock Standard.

KICKED BY COLT

Mr. Wm. Cook, V.S., of this place, was called to see a colt belonging a party in Belmont, east of Havelock, on Thursday last, and while stooping down to adjust the straps on the animal's hind legs, preparatory to treating it, it kicked striking him in the ankle and also in the chest, inflicting injuries which required surgical attention. Mr. Cook proceeded to Havelock, where Dr. Holdcroft gave him the necessary attention, and on Friday he underwent an operation. He is getting on nicely, but will be laid up for a few days.—Norwood Register.

HAMILTON MAN IS MENTIONED

Is Said to Have Good Chance of Becoming Chief of Peterboro' Fire Brigade

A Hamilton despatch says:—"Thomas Heath, one of the Central station firemen, has a good chance to land the position of chief of the Peterborough fire department."

FORMER LOCAL MAN DIED IN EL PASO, TEX.

Death of Mr. J. B. Taylor on Tuesday Last

The death occurred in El Paso, Texas, on Tuesday last of Mr. Joseph B. Taylor, a former resident of Peterborough. The late Mr. Taylor left here about eighteen years ago for Denver, Colorado, where he resided until four years ago, when he removed to El Paso, Texas. He had been in declining health for some time. He was 42 years of age, and was born in Otonabee. He was home to Peterborough two years ago. His many friends here will be grieved to learn of his death.

He leaves to mourn his loss a wife and two sons. They are Harold and Kenneth, of El Paso. Four sisters and three brothers also survive him. The sisters are Mrs. Rawlings and Mrs. Palmer, of this city; Mrs. McCrea, of Vancouver, B. C., and Miss Annie Taylor, of Toronto. The brothers are Messrs. Wm. and John, of Peterborough, and James, of Port Hope.

The funeral took place in El Paso yesterday.

The German Roman Catholic societies of Wisconsin in state convention at Madison, elected officers and declared against prohibition and the system of saloon treating.

C.P.R.'S NEW WINNIPEG FLYER

Toronto to Winnipeg in 36 Hours, Via Muskoka Route

Commencing next Sunday, June 14th, the new train for the west will leave Toronto at 9.30 p.m., and daily thereafter, will make the run to Winnipeg in thirty-six hours, saving nearly eight hours on the present time between Toronto and the west. It will be the first train over the Canadian Pacific's new line to Sudbury, through the heart of Muskoka and Georgian Bay, which is appropriately named, "The Muskoka Route." Palace and Tourist sleeping cars will be carried, in addition to a handsome diner and first and second-class coaches, everything of usual high C.P.R. standard.

OBITUARY

MRS. THOS. GUERIN.

The death occurred early this morning of Josephine McKenzie, wife of Mr. Thos. Guerin, after a short illness of about five days' duration. The deceased was 22 years of age and was born in Port Arthur. She was only married ten months ago to her now sorrowing husband.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from the family residence, at three o'clock, 28 Lafayette avenue, to St. Peter's cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

EDWIN A. McKEE.

Mr. D. H. Moore this morning received a telegram from Molesworth, telling of the death yesterday of his brother-in-law, Mr. Edwin A. McKee, who was a farmer residing near Molesworth, was a brother of Mrs. D. H. Moore, and a son of the late W. McKee of Smith. He was a former resident of Peterborough, having left this city a few years ago, and was married to a daughter of Mr. Roseborough, Smith street. He has other relatives in the city.

Arrangements have not yet been made for the funeral, but the remains will be sent here for interment in the Little Lake cemetery.

TO BAR "MERRY WIDOW WALTZ"

Is Not Approved by Association of Dancing Masters

Chicago, June 9. — Roller skating, the "Merry Widow" Waltz, cake walks and other forms of diversion in the pavilion and the ball room must be shelved if the United States is to keep abreast of other countries in the terpsichorean art. This was the keynote sounded yesterday at the twenty-fifth annual convention of the American National Association of Masters of Dancing, which met in this city.

The waltz and the two-step will be retained. The new dances to be introduced and accepted have not been decided upon definitely. The typical American dance, the barn dance was officially recognized by the convention.

BUSINESS MEN ON OLYMPIC TRIP

About 65 Took in the Annual Outing to Stony Lake Yesterday

The annual Olympic excursion was held yesterday to Stony Lake when about sixty-five business men took in the outing. They boarded the steamer "Stony Lake" at Lakefield, and a delightful day was spent on the water. Going up, a stop was made at McCracken's Landing and then on to Mount Julian where Mr. Thompson, proprietor of the hotel there had prepared an excellent dinner. After dinner a trip was made to Burleigh Falls and round the lakes. Tea was partaken of at Mount Julian also, the party leaving there for the homeward trip. The evening was an ideal one for a boat trip, the beautiful moonlight adding much to the pleasure of the outing. The party returned home at 10 o'clock.

Bro. Lawrence, ninety-nine years of age, said to be the oldest member of the Augustinian Order in the United States, died at Lawrence, Mass.

A MILLION FOR MILITIA CAMPS

Amount Will Cover the Cost of the Quebec Mobilization

Ottawa, June 11. — The House yesterday afternoon voted $1,000,000 for the annual training camps, out of which will be paid the expenses incident to mobilizing the forces of twelve thousand men at Quebec. It is expected that the Queen's Own and the 48th Highlanders will be sent from Toronto. The Opposition pleaded that at least 50 per cent of the entire forces be mobilized at Quebec and urged a larger representation from the rural corps, but they received no encouragement from Sir Frederick Borden. The minister announced that the cost of mobilizing the force will be about $185,000. One company would be sent from each rural battalion and a larger proportion from the city regiments.

Col. Hughes urged that 25,000 men instead of 12,000 be mobilized at Quebec. He warned the Government that none of the rural militia would turn out for the training camps this summer unless there was a change in the minister's present policy.

Sir Frederick Borden insisted that the department was limited to 12,000 men.

Col. Hughes—Why?

Sir Frederick Borden—The commission onl want 12,000 and we cannot sion only want 12,000 and we cannot

Mr. Sinclair (Lib. N.S.) objected to taking too many men to Quebec, on the score of economy. The taxpayers should be considered, he said.

The $1,000,000 about to be voted would take the entire force to Quebec if the training camps were dispensed with this summer.

WEDDING BELLS

SMITH—FLETCHER

The marriage of Miss Marie Fletcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher, to Rev. L. C. Smith, of Rochester, N.Y., was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Bensfort, at four o'clock Wednesday, 10th June. The ceremony was performed in the presence of numerous guests by Rev. J. W. Weatherill, assisted by Rev. Robert Emberson of Shidzuoka, Japan, and Miss Wood played the wedding music. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked charming in a wedding dress of French mull, trimmed with medica lace, with veil and bridal buds, and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. Her travelling suit of pongee linen trimmed with panne velvet, and French embroidery was equally becoming.

Mrs. P. Dodds, of Brandon, Man., sister of the bride, daintily attired in a dress of blue silk, and carrying an exquisite bouquet of American beauties, performed the duties of matron of honor. Miss Thelma Darling, of Peterboro, acted as ring bearer, wearing a pretty dress of white embroidery and carrying a basket of pink carnations.

After the ceremony the guests partook of the wedding dejeuner, the caterer for the occasion being Mr. T. Hooper, Peterboro.

Later in the evening Rev. and Mrs. Smith left for Peterboro, where they took the train for an extensive trip through Rochester, New York, Kansas and California. Mr. Smith, who has completed his course in the Baptist Theological seminary, in Rochester, will take charge of the First Baptist church, Bakersfield, Cal. The numerous friends of the newly-wedded couple unite in extending to them congratulations and well wishes.

Ottawa Priests to Make Journey in Fashion of Early French Missionaries

Ottawa, June 11.—Two parties of Ottawa priests will journey in canoes to Quebec to attend the Tercentenary celebration.

At the head of one party will be the Rev. Father Lajeunesse, and the other will be led by the Rev. Father Legault.

Two Chestnut canoes have been purchased from Ketchum & Company, Limited. They resemble in shape the craft used by the early French missionaries and voyageurs, who had no other means of travel through their extensive parishes. The reverend priests will journey to Quebec in like fashion.

The parties leave Ottawa about a week before the celebration opens. Like their home-coming brethren of two hundred years ago, they will be welcomed at Quebec with great eclat.

WHITNEY FOR OTTAWA

Special to the Review

Ottawa, June 11—The latest rumor in political circles is that Premier Whitney will be urged to retire from provincial politics and throw in his lot with the federal Conservatives.

The action of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in 1896 in calling on some of the provincial premiers to join his prospective cabinet is cited as an excellent precedent for Mr. Borden to follow, and the names of Premier McBride, Roblin and Hazen are also mentioned in connection with the reconstruction of the opposition forces for the impending struggle.

NEW ANTI-GAMBLING LAW BEING STRONGLY OPPOSED

Special to the Review

Buffalo, June 12—Sportsmen generally, about town are taking the passage of the Agnew Hart bill pretty much to heart. Unless some opening develops whereby betting may be continued "unobtrusively" as one man put it this morning there is little likelihood that there will be either a meeting of the runners at Kenilworth Park this summer, or trotters.

New York, NY., June 12—Determined to fight the new Agnew Hart anti-gambling law to the last ditch the jockey club today will seek to have a bookmaker arrested and then taken before a magistrate. It will then go before a justice of the Supreme Court and ask an injunction preventing action under the law until it constitutionally can be determined "We calculate" said a prominent racing man "that this will nullify the law until the close of the racing season we will fight the law to the highest court." Under the new law the men who receives a bet is liable to imprisonment but the man who lays a bet is not included.

PETERBOROUGH CEREAL CO. WILL REBUILD AT ONCE

Men at Work Cleaning up the Debris Preparatory to Starting Operations

Men are at work to-day clearing up the debris at the Peterborough Cereal plant preparatory to rebuilding. It has been decided to commence rebuilding at once on a somewhat larger scale than the mill that was destroyed. Definite plans have not yet been formulated but will be in the course of a few days. It is probable that the new mill will be a storey higher than the old one and will extend west along Simcoe St. a short distance farther.

The directors of the Canada Flakes Co. have not yet decided whether they will rebuild or not. They will come to a decision in a few days however.

The announcement that the Peterborough Cereal Co. will rebuild is good news to the citizens of Peterborough and especially to those who were employed at the mill.

THE PETES HOME FROM GREAT TRIP TO THE LAKESIDE TOWNS

Leaders of the Midland League Had Most Enjoyable Time and Played Fine Ball Too—Won Every Game and Were Treated Most Hospitably.

The Peterborough baseball team arrived home last night after a most successful trip down to the lakeside towns. They won all their games and were much elated when they stepped off the train. The team left here last Saturday morning and went to Cobourg and beat that town in a Midland League game by the close score of 7-6. It was the fastest team the locals have been up against this year and they had to work hard to earn their victory. With the bases full in the ninth inning and only one out, the team certainly deserve credit for the way they pulled out the game. under the conditions they were up against with that great hitter King at the bat, but the best he could do was to foul out to Edmunds, and the next man, Turpin, knocked an easy grounder to Clement which ended the heart breaking innings as far as the Petes were concerned. The team as a whole certainly played great ball and when Cobourg comes here tomorrow the fans will witness a game worth going miles to see. Cobourg intend to win this game at all costs, as a loss will just about put them out of the running. They will bring a team composed of all Rochester players for the occasion. The Peterborough team stayed in Cobourg till Monday morning and took the train for Belleville.

They defeated Belleville by the score of 16-6. The battery for this game were Cheatham and Edmunds. The boys stayed in Belleville until Tuesday morning when they took the 'bus and drove to Frankford, a distance of twenty miles. They defeated Frankford by the score of 11-2. The battery was Burns and Edmunds.

After supper in Frankford the team took the 'bus again and drove to Trenton, a distance of 12 miles. When the team arrived there they had difficulty in finding hotel accommodation, there being a convention there that night and the hotels were all filled up. After an hour's hunt around the town about eleven o'clock at night they managed to squeeze in the Royal hotel and were treated very courteously by the proprietor. After spending the night there they walked about two miles to the Central Ontario railway station and boarded the train for Wellington, one of the finest summer resort towns in Ontario. The team stopped at the Wellman House, right on the lake shore and the boys all say they gained a few pounds there on account of the fine fresh breeze off the water. At any rate the people there gave the Petes a fine time and the only regret the inhabitants of the town had against the boys was the way they beat them. But to finish up the trip the team won by the score of 9-4, the battery being Clements and Edmunds. In the evening at Wellington the quartette of the Peterborough team gave a few selections on the verandah of the hotel which was very much appreciated by the large crowd that had gathered together to give the boys a good time during their brief stay in their town. The team left Wellington at nine o'clock Thursday morning and quite a number of the baseball fans were at the station to bid them good-bye and all expressed their opinion that the boys from Peterborough were the finest ever. They want them to come back again this summer when the season down there gets going a little faster.

SEVEN MORE FOR THE OLYMPIC

Jack Caffrey and Coley Among Those Who are Entered

Ottawa, Ont., June 11th,—Secretary Pereira of the Canadian Olympic Committee, announced to-day that seven additional entries had been received for the British Olympic contests. They are those of Alex Quinn, Ottawa, quarter-mile runner, standing broad jumper and running hush jumper.

Tom Longboat, Marathon race and five-mile run.

Tom Coley, Marathon and 5-mile,

Jack Caffrey, Hamilton, Marathon

Fred Meadows, Toronto, 5 miles.

Irving Parkes, Toronto, half-mile

Eddie Cotter, Burlington, Marathon.

The entries of Longboat and Coley had been expected, but those of Parkes, Caffrey, Meadows and Cotter came as surprises. They were included in the list of Canadian athletic entries, and were sent to England to-day The Canadian Committee is willing to endorse all those and the men who do well will be given, all their expenses on their return.

Art Burns' entry is also in and that of Fred Nosworthy, of Montreal is understood to be on its way, so the Canadian team will probably consist of about 30 men, bicyclists and gymnasts included.

The attendance at the Olympic trials and finals in Canada was below expectations, and the committee which expected to realize several thousand at least on the games, will not receive much over $300 when all the prizes and incidentals are settled.

CONNIE MURPHY WADED AFTER IT

Went into the Lake to Get Ball That Was Batted There by King of Cobourg

By doing a water dog stunt. Murphy, the alert left fielder of the Peterborough Baseball Club. saved the day for the local nine in their game against Cobourg in the lakeside town last Saturday. King, who is the long hitter of the Cobourg outfit, smashed a ball into the lake, and Murphy paddled in and fished it out. By his getting the ball King could make no further than third, although the hit looked good for a home run. Two men who were on bases at the time crossed the plate on the drive, but Mr. King had to be content to remain on third sack, while the side was retired.

WALKING

Monday will see the start of one of the fastest walking matches ever held in Canada, as all the fast walkers in Canada are entered. Stacey, the fast amateur walker, who walked second to Heiner is here and practising on the track, This will be his first professional walk. He will no doubt, make a good showing, along with Hartley, who holds the record from Toronto to Port Hope, his time being 36 hours 21 minutes. Other walkers who will arrive to-day, are Cooper, of Toronto, who has done a mile in 7 minutes 40 seconds, Chas. Stevens, the boy wonder from Peterboro, Harrison, champion short distance walker of Canada; Spencely, and Stenner. As the entries do not close until Saturday, there will be a big field. The rink will be open every night this week for the walkers to train. — St. Catharines Star Journal.

THE RING

London, June 11—There is the greatest interest manifested in the Burns-Squires fight in Paris on Saturday. Both men are training hard. Burns is confident of repeating his former victory.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 11— Jack O'Brien last night defeated Jack Blackburn, colored, in a six-round bout before the National Athletic club O'Brien knocked Blackburn down in the opening round, and in the final round had the colored man hanging on to avoid punishment. The bout was one of the fastest ever seen in this city.

Port Arthur, June 11—Billy Rhodes United States middleweight, with a long record including a 20 round draw with Joe Walcott and brought here to stop Vernon Austin, the local boy, who has been cleaning up all comers, met the first knockout of his career last night, going down before the local middleweight in 1 minute and 30 seconds, of the first round. He was knocked down twice before taking the count. Austin was altogether too clever even to allow Rhodes to land.

Austin will now go the the States centres aspiring to reach the top of middleweight honors.

London, June 11.—Sam Fitzpatrick, manager for Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, says to-day that he is ready to accept on behalf of Johnson the challenge made by Marvin Hart, of Louisville. Fitzpatrick is willing to have the contest take place here is a suitable offer is made. If a better offer comes from America, however, Johnson will return to prepare for the battle.

GAME FOR THE T.A.S. PICNIC

A valuable trophy will be put up for the ball game at T.A.S. Point on July 1st, the day of the T.A.S. picnic. Arrangements will probably be made to have one of the regular city league games in which the T.A.S. nine is scheduled to play, played off at the picnic.

The diamond at the picnic grounds is a good one one and considerable work is being done on it to get it into shape.

GREAT GAME TO-MORROW; COBOURG COMING WITH ALL-STAR AGGREGATION

The baseball event of the season is scheduled for to-morrow, when the Peterboroughs meet the Cobourg nine at Riverside Park in a Midland League game. With two of the fastest teams in this part of the province playing, the new grandstand completed, the diamond in great shape, and ideal baseball weather likely to prevail, the attendance should be the largest in years.

After their defeat last Saturday in Cobourg, the management of the home team told the boys of this place that they would come up to Peterborough this Saturday with a team composed of all professional players from over the line. And to back up their promise they will bet their heads off that they will beat Peterborough on their own grounds in the return game. The Peterboroughs will certainly have on their strongest team, to keep up their proud record of ten straight wins and no losses. They will have on their regular nine, with the exception of "Fritz" O'Brien, who will be out of the game with a sprained ankle, which he received at Cobourg. His place will be taken by Walter Thorne, the fast fielder of the Park Nine, of Toronto, and with this addition to the team and the fine condition the boys are in after their trip down east, they will show the fans that they can hold their own with the American aggregation. The weather man promises fine weather for to-morrow and a record crowd will turn out for the game, which starts at 3.30 o'clock. Peterborough will line up as follows: — Edmunds, catcher; Clements, pitcher; Lawson, 1st base; McDermot, 2nd base; Cheetham, 3rd base; Maddock, short stop; Murphy, left field; Burns, centre field; Thorne, right field.

The finishing touches are being put on the grandstand to-day and it will provide splendid accommodation. It is built well up from the ground and thus affords an excellent view of the diamond.

NOTES FROM THE ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT OF Y. M. C. A.

Another entry came in last night for the Howden Trophy, that of Wm. J. Todd. This makes 15 entries.

JIMMY REYNOLDS COLLAPSED WITH 15 MILES TO COVER

The Port Hope Barber Pedestrian Couldn't Stand the Strain and Went Under at 12.15—Was Behind Time His Showing Previous to Collapse

Toronto, June 12. — With the rather unpleasant prospect of having to walk the 60 miles between this city and Port Hope in the same time it took him to walk in—16 1-2 hours—and make up the rest of forty minutes taken at the King Edward Hotel here, Jimmie Reynolds, the walking barber, of Port Hope, left on the return journey at 11.10 last night. If he gets to his home town by three o'clock this afternoon he will win a wager of $300, placed with Nelson, who is no relation of the pedestrian. He is to make the round trip in 33 hours.

Jimmie was expected at the King Edward about 9 o'clock and a room had been reserved for him, and a big crowd was waiting patiently for him.

The walker, without hat or coat and wearing only a light jersey and trousers and a pair of heavy walking boots, appeared to be in pretty good shape and put his signature on the hotel register without displaying nervousness, remarking that all he wanted was an iced drink. His trainers hurried him off to his room to make the most of his short stay. He left looking in good condition, and his trainers report his feet to be in good order,

There are a couple of walkers acting as pacemakers for him, and when Billy Sanderson, grocer, of Bowmanville, with beads of sweat on his bald head and wearing a light woollen jacket, came stalking along at about 10.25, the crowd in the hotel thought it was "Jimmie" and he got the glad hand.

"I'm not Jimmie, I'm only Billy Sanderson, of Bowmanville, he explained and wandered in to the bar.

"'Fat' Jones, Jimmie and I came along from Bowmanville and we've brought him along, and we're going to take him back, too, right to Port Hope," he added. "Henderson and that other chap who came out from Port Hope, went back in buggies; they couldn't stand the grind. but we'll finish all right."

N. Reynolds and H. Woods accompany the plucky pedestrian as referees and Jack Henderson and Richard Woodcock are looking after his physical requirements. Reynolds passed through Norway at 12.15 this morning.

Jimmy Reynolds collapsed at 12.15 to-day, a mile east of Newcastle and fifteen miles from his destination, Port Hope. A phone message to this effect was received by Mr. Chris Graham at the Oriental, the communication being sent by Mr. Louis Bennett, of Queen's Hotel, Port Hope. Reynolds had two hours and forty-five minutes in which to make the fifteen miles and was as is shown by his time, when he collapsed, walking behind time. He was taken back to Newcastle in a buggy.

Reynolds in failing to make the 133 miles in the scheduled time of 33 hours, loses his bet of $300 to $600. It was the general opinion when he started that the Port Hope barber could not accomplish the feat he had undertaken. He made a fine walk, however, and while he could hardly have done the remaining fifteen miles in the two hours and three-quarters left for him to make it in, would have clipped a lot off his former mark of 36 hours for the distance, had he been able to stand the strain.

LONGBOAT ON COLOR AGAIN

Ran Fifteen Miles Yesterday in 1 Hour 24 Minutes and 8 Seconds

Montreal, June 11.—A big crowd turned out this afternoon to witness Tom Longboat run an exhibition 15 mile race against a relay team of five picked Montreal runners. The race was over the same course that Longboat made in his last race here. viz. from the Windsor around the mountain and back. At intervals of three miles fresh runners took up the race but Longboat easily maintained his lead from the start and covered the distance in one hour, 24 minutes and 8 seconds or 2 minutes and 47 seconds better than his previous time. Longboat will sail for England in the morning.

The western members of the Olympic team, who arrived to-day, were entertained to-night at the M.A.A.A. and were escorted by a big crowd to the Tunisian, on which they will sail in the morning.

The Daily Review
FRIDAY, JUNE 12, 1908

THE GIRL GRADUATE

Arrayed in ribbons, mull and lace,
Myrtylla Jackson Angelface
Stepped in the spotlight's welcome glare
To speak to those assembled there;
Her essay—thing of prose and rhymes
Was on "Decadence Of The Times."

She chose with care each adjective,
And riddled Practice like a sieve,
Till she had shown such changes as we
How we should run Society;
But, this we add for Mertie's sake,
She DID know how to bake a cake!

THE CIRCUS HORSE

It was a fiery circus horse
That stamped and stamped and neighed
Till every creature in its course
Fled frightened and dismayed
The chickens on the roadway edge
Arose and flopped their wings,
And making for the sheltering hedge
Flew off like crazy things.

Nor iron gates nor fences barred
That mettled steed's career.
It galloped right across our yard
And filled us all with fear;
And when it tossed its head and ran
Straight through the pantry door,
Cook almost dropped her frying-pan
Upon the kitchen floor!

It neighed and pranced and wheeled about
And scampered off, but then
We scarcely saw the creature out
When it was in again.
And so throughout the livelong day,
Through house and yard and street,
That charger held its fearsome way
And only stopped to eat.

And when at dusk, a little lame,
It slowly climbed the stairs,
Behold! a gentle lady came
And made it say its prayers.
Now what a wondrous change you see!
Sh! Come and take a peep—
He lies as tame as tame can be,
A little boy asleep!

DON'T LIKE EARL GREY AT RACES

Rev. Dr. Sowten Says so at Meeting of Toronto Baptist Association

Resolutions recommending energetic action by the churches in combating the evils of race-track betting, and expressing alarm and regret at the patronage of race tracks by representative people in high place, have been passed by the Toronto Baptist Association.

During the discussion Rev. Dr. Sowerby of College street church says: "I would like to call the attention of this association to an item in the press where it says Earl Grey and suite left in a private car for Montreal to attend the spring meeting at Blue Bonnets track. I can only deplore such a thing as that and Earl Grey's many visits to the Woodbine while in Toronto."

ROD AND GUN'S BIRTHDAY NUMBER

Popular Magazine Has Entered Upon its Tenth Year—The June Issue

With the issue for June "Rod and Gun and Motor Sports in Canada," published by W. J. Taylor, at Woodstock, Ont., enters upon its tenth year, and produces as a birthday number one that has not been surpassed by any of the fine issues that have preceded it. Every one of the many articles appeals to sportsmen and lovers of outdoor life and may be read with interest. The record-breaking moose hunt of Dr. W. L. Munro, in New Brunswick, through which, for the first time in the history of the province, the record is held by an outsider is rightly given a prominent position. Fishermen have their interests well looked after. In addition to a paper on Live Bate; How to Procure and Preserve the Same, a story of Herring Fishing in the Rideau, and one descriptive of a One Hundred Mile Canoe Trip in a Search After Bass, by C. H. Hooper, must secure attention from those who find their most enjoyable recreation in fishing. Judge Fralock reminds us of old times in a delightfully reminiscent article on the Wayside Tavern and the Shooting Match. The scarcity of partridges, a subject of so much comment amongst sportsmen, is discussed, the conclusion arrived at being that in all probability the birds have been killed off by a disease which has been general in its character and results. Variety is given in an exploration paper entitled Fresh Fields in the Rockies; in a Boy's Camp in Temagami and others. My Experience in Shotguns and a Review of Guns and Gunning, raise many questions connected with firearms which cannot fail to interest all shooters. The departments are one and all up-to-date and the number testifies to the leading position attained by the magazine and the strength with which it commences its tenth year of vigorous life.

57TH BAND TO PLAY AT TORONTO FAIR AGAIN

One of the Few Canadian Bands Selected by Committee---Will Go on Sept. 8th

The 57th Regt. band will go to Toronto on the 8th of September to play at the exhibition there on that date and will probably play on the day following also. The 57th is one of the half dozen or so Canadian bands that have been honored by the directors of the exhibition and are to be congratulated on the annually recurring distinction. The exhibition committee met yesterday and made the selection.

AN IMPORTANT APPOINTMENT

Reported That Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P. Will be Made Lieut. Gov. of British Columbia

A report is current in Peterboro that the Ottawa Government is thinking of appointing Mr. R. R. Hall, M. P., Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia. What truth there is in the report is not known but it seems to be regarded as trustworthy in certain quarters.

HOODLUMISM

While the act that joins a man and woman in matrimony is one of the most solemn of life, there is no place at which joy and brightness should be given a larger place than at a marriage ceremony. Nevertheless joy seems to be in danger of being supplanted by nonsense and brightness by vulgarity. With the playfulness of our forbears and some of their quaint customs in this connection we must have some patience. What shall we say of the buffoonery that now tricks out a carriage with tin cans and old shoes or the coarseness that plasters baggage with disgusting hand bills or suggestive mottoes. One has only to visit a railway station during the month of June to realise the discredit this horseplay puts upon an act that means so much to the world as well as the individuals more immediately concerned. Let not any of the joys or even merriment of the occasion be abated, but away with this stupid and vulgar hoodlumism. —Port Hope Times.

THIS TOWN HAS A DOG CURFEW

Owner Must Pay $5 for the first Bark—Two Bites Means Death

Montclair, June 10—A measure has been introduced for passage by the town council requiring that when the town bell rings at nine o'clock at night all dogs must cease their barking and remain as quiet as a Democratic Vice-Presidential candidate until six o'clock the next morning. The new ordinance does not stipulate this in the above language. It is couched in legal terms and entitled "An ordinance to control barking and biting dogs in the town of Montclair."

It is directed at the owners of the barking dogs more than at the animals themselves, for it provides that the punishment shall be visited upon the former. The ordinance, which was presented by Alderman Charles B. Hartshorne, a lawyer, provides in case any resident of Montclair allows his dog to bark between nine pm. and six am. he may be fined $5 and $10 for subsequent barks. Another section of the ordinance reads that "no one shall allow his dog to attack or bite any one on the public streets," and imposes a penalty of five dollars for the first offence. The second offence will be bad for the dog, for the ordinance stipulates that when a dog bites a person the second time it must be destroyed and the owner is liable to a fine of $10.

Opinion is divided as to whether the act will be passed.

NAVAGATION NOTES

The steamer Rainbow arrived in port this morning shortly after nine o'clock from Rice Lake. She brought up a scow load of lumber for the Peterborough Canoe Company. She returned again this afternoon to Harwood to be ready tomorrow for her regular Saturday market trip.

BIRTH

FISKE. — On June 12th, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fiske.

Frank Frerer, bank president and coal mine owner, died in Lincoln, Ill., from the effects of an assault in March last, by highway robbers, who took $5,000 from him.

In Chicago a colored storekeeper brought suit for $500 damages because he was refused admission to the main floor of the Auditorium Theatre.

PUZZLES ARE VERY POPULAR

Are Prescribed for the Nerves—Puzzle Exchanges are Kept Busy

The wise man or woman is laying in a stock of puzzles before going away on his or her vacation this season, says a New York despatch. Puzzles are the latest specific for the nerves, and half a dozen consigners at the Women's Exchange, No. 334 Madison avenue are rushing to keep up with the demand.

It is not from the frivolous that the call comes, not by any means. Learned professors, grave judges and dignified public officials seem to feel the fascination most strongly and are buying puzzles by the dozen. A public official who suffers from insomnia has bought several score of them and has recently ordered three dozen more. When he wakes at 2 or 3 o'clock, am. he gets up and works a puzzle, after which, he says, he sleeps as peacefully as an infant. One consigner is supplying two physicians with puzzles for their patients. A Columbia professor is so delighted with the results of the puzzle diet in his own case that he is sending puzzles to other professors all over the country.

Early and late people come to the exchange in search of puzzles. Yesterday morning before it was open a tall, robust and distinguished looking man rang the bell and solemnly inquired of the maid who answered it:

"Where do you keep the 'Where-am-I' puzzles."

The other evening after the place had been closed, a member of the staff, returning from a walk, found a refined, elderly woman gazing wistfully at the locked door. Her distress was great when she learned that business was over for the day.

"What shall I do," she asked, helplessly. "I am going to Atlantic City tomorrow morning, and I must have a puzzle to take with me."

She was consoled by the promise that a maid would take a puzzle to her house before she left at nine o'clock the next morning.

The puzzles are the cut up kind, the pieces running from fifty to about three hundred. They are made by pasting a picture on a sheet of wood about a quarter of an inch thick, and then sawing it into fantastic pieces with a jig saw. When such puzzles are made for children a duplicate of the pictures accompanies them, but "grown-ups" receive no such guide, and the picture grows under their hands in the most fascinating way as the different pieces are fitted together. The games take the place of solitaire, the exchange attendants say, and are much more interesting.

THESE SPRINGS WERE TOO STRONG

And Six Year Old Boy Was Bounced to His Death

New York, June 10— Bouncing upon a sofa that was beside an open window, Willie Wilsick, four years old, living with his parents, at No 803 East 106th street, jumped once too hard yesterday, and the strong springs tossed him up in the air and out through the window.

He fell five stories to instant death landing within a few feet of where his two brothers, David aged eight, and Frederick, aged six, were playing

GRAFTED NEW LEG ON A DOG

Chicago, June 10. — Transplanting of segments of veins, arteries and organs and even successfully grafting on a limb in placing of a missing member, were described by Dr. Alexis Carrell, of New York, at a meeting of the section of surgery and anatomy of the annual convention of the American Medical Association at Orchestra Hall to-day. Dr. Carrell described a successful operation, in which the thigh of a fresh cadaver of one dog had been substituted for the corresponding member of another. Within a few weeks the dog was frisking about as lively as ever on its adopted limb.

PIMPLES AND BOILS
HEALED BY ZAM-BUK.
Mr. Joseph Arsenault resides at Cascumpec, PEI, and says—"About five months ago sores broke out on my body. They came in the form of small pimples which discharged. These sores would grow until they got as large as a nickel. I used Carbolic Salves without effect I saw Zam-Buk advertised in the papers and secured some, and daily applications of this healing balm for one week effected a permanent cure. Since then I have recommended Zam-Buk to my brother for boils on his knee, and also used it again myself for a poisoned finger in both cases with marvellous results. I cannot recommend Zam-Buk too highly."
Zam-Buk, the great skin healer, can be obtained at any drug or general store for 50 cents a box, or postpaid from the Zam-Buk Co. Toronto.

NO SPECIAL TRAIN FOR THE LAKES

There Will Not be Any Morning Steamer Leaving Lakefield Either

There will be no special train leave the G.T.R. station for Lakefield at 5.45 p.m., as announced last evening.

Neither will there be any evening steamer leaving Lakefield for the Lakes, of which the Review was advised by Capt. Young, of the Stony Lake Navigation Company this morning. Hopes had been entertained that arrangements could be made for this service, but it has been found impossible.

WHAT ST. KITTS. PAPERS SAY OF THE WALK

Next Monday, June 15th, will see the start of one of the biggest walking matches ever held in Canada. The walkers have started to arrive so they can get used to the track. Stacey, the fast Toronto walker, arrived yesterday and was seen on the track last night. He looks as though he can walk some.

Joseph Guerin came in last night, and will start to train at once.

Cooper from Toronto, is expected today

The Peterborough walkers will arrive tonight —they are Stevens, Hartley, and Harrison.

Spencely and the Lakefield walkers will arrive tomorrow and by the end of the week there will be a large number of walkers here. The rink will be open every night this week to give the walkers a chance to train It is expected that the leaders at the end of the first night's walk will do twenty miles or better; as they will all do their best to get the lead. The track is laid at the rink, fourteen laps to the mile, and is pronounced to be fast. The rink band will be in attendance. The names of all the walkers will appear in the papers in a day or two, and a prize will be given to the lady naming the first three winners Monday night. Have as many guesses as you like. Ballots will be printed in papers; the names must come in rotation as the walkers finish. Prizes will be tickets good for two admissions for the whole week The walk will start sharp Monday night at eight o'clock, as the judge will not delay the walk if any one of the walkers are not there.—St. Catharines Standard.

SPORTING COMMENT

Wonder will Cobourg have an Eastern League battery tomorrow. Remember what happened last year.

Athletics and Port Hope hook up tomorrow on the latter's grounds. It should be a great game. Port Hope will have a strong nine but the visitors will keep them stepping.

The Ottawa newspapers are knocking the Canadian Olympic team. Probably because no Ottawa man was selected. If a wood-chopping contest was on the Olympic programme some of the Capital's hockey and lacrosse players might have caught a place.

Lacrosse is coming to its own in Peterborough again. The organization of a junior team at the YMCA. is a hopeful sign.

For its size, Wellington, a village near Picton, is the best town in Ontario. They have a good team and the townspeople give generous support.

The Peterborough ball team will stay away from Frankford when they go on their next trip. The fans there are about as numerous as a live spot in Lindsay.

Rowing as a sport is likely to be revived in Peterborough again. It had its palmy days once and may come to the front again.

The city league games are becoming more interesting all the time. There will be doings when the Straths and West Ends hook up tomorrow. "Bill" Metheral should be here to enjoy it.

It's a good guess that Peter Wallace will make a clean up of the mile at the CAAU Boys' Championship meet at Toronto tomorrow.

BASEBALL

Junior Parknines played the Junior Aylmer Streets. The score was 28-13 in favor of the Parknines. The game was played in the Central Park. The line-up was:

WOMAN MEETS TERRIBLE DEATH

Torn to Death by Being Caught Between Train and Post at Lockport

Special to the Review.

Greenburg, Pa., June 12.—Caught between a fast moving Pennsylvania passenger train and a safety fence last evening at Lockport last evening, one woman was torn to pieces, dying instantly, and another was so crushed that she died an hour later.

COLLISION ON GEORGE STREET

Bicyclist Ran in into Buggy Last Evening

A young lad riding a bicycle had a close call last evening at George and Hunter streets. He was riding south when he collided with a buggy in which was driving Mr. Dave Conroy. Mr. Conroy was going west. The youth fell between the horse and the front wheels but by the merest chance escaped uninjured. He quickly crawled out between the two hind wheels and got on his feet. The wheel was a little damaged, the buggy having run over it.

THE E. R. DISTURBER

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—I have read with much approval your remarks upon the distribution of inflamatory literature in East Peterborough during the recent contest.

It is impossible to condemn too highly the conduct of the persons who took this action, and I am sure the very great majority of the people of the riding will agree with me in this statement.

We have had too much of this sort of thing in the past. We pride ourselves upon our religious freedom, but do not carry this out in a true spirit when we allow ourselves to be affected by the religious views of a candidate for public office.

The issues of the late campaign were very clearly stated by the leaders and the newspapers of each party, and it was upon the views formed by the elector upon the matters so stated that it was his duty to cast his ballot. Any attempt to stir up religious feeling ought to be discountenanced, and I sincerely trust we will never in the near future hear of any such appeal to prejudice.

Yours truly,
E. A. PECK.

DEAR SIR,—
We beg to acknowledge the receipt of cheque for $2,500 in settlement of fire loss, policy No. 8,845,879 Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.
We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1 per cent. of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.
We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges, places this company in a most favorable position.
We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.
Yours very truly,

MISS McCABE'S PUPILS GAVE RECITAL LAST EVENING

The pupils of Miss McCabe assisted by Miss Hallihan soprano and Mr. Koen tenor, gave a vocal and instrumental recital at the piano rooms over Turner's last evening. A large number of friends and invited guests were present. The recital was in every way a complete success and must have been very gratifying to Miss McCabe and to the friends of those taking part. As a rule nervousness and youth render it necessary to allow an ample margin to pupils at "Exhibition" time. In this case however, there was hardly a flaw in the performance from the beginning to the end of a long programme. The pupils not only played but interpreted and with an ease, musical quality and finish that left very little to be desired. The Review has much pleasure in congratulating Miss McCabe on the very successful ending of the term. Miss Hallihan sang Geibel's waltz song, in beautiful voice, and young Mr. Mercier pleased the audience greatly with "Little Blue Flower." Miss McCabe played the accompaniments with excellent judgment.

Following was the programme:

Opening march, duett—3 pianos.

Narcissus, 3 pianos—Nevin. Alice Neil, Nora Mollott, Nettie Rutherford.

Meditation—3 pianos, Morrison; Ruby Cunningham, Angela Davlin, Joe Mercier.

Vocal solo—"Little Blue Flower"; Trotiere; Joe Mercier.

Irish airs, 3 pianos; arranged by M. McCabe; Georgie Davidson, Hazel Moffatt, Loretta Bennett.

Norwegian Bridal Procession, Grelz, Geraldine Byers.

Scotch airs, 3 pianos, Dape; Janet Quinn, Lizzie Smith, Harold Brown.

Vocal duet—"Is there a lone and dreary hour," Wiegand; Miss Hallihan, Mr. Koen.

Shepherds all and Maidens Fair," in 'G' flat; Nevin; Harold Brown.

Rustle of Spring—Sinding, Lizzie Smith.

Waltz song: "A bunch of Wild Roses for thee," Geibel; Miss Hallihan.

Spinning song — Litoff; Janet Quinn.

God Save the King.

DRINK JOHNS' TEA

DANCERS, CARD PLAYERS AND THEATRE GOERS ARE CONDEMNED BY PREACHER

First Meeting of Free Methodist Camp at Exhibition Grounds Last Night—Two Sermons Delivered—An Old Fashioned Revival—A Large Attendance.

With all the enthusiasm and fervor that history says characterized the open air meetings of John and Charles Wesley, the first meeting of the ten day camp of the Free Methodists of the Toronto district was conducted. In a large tent erected on the exhibition grounds these people will hold services for the next ten days. Many pilgrims are here from outside points, and are living under canvass at the grounds.

The attendance at last night's meeting was not large, but it was none the less earnest or enthusiastic on account of this fact. Many citizens of other denominations were present, apparently more for curiosity than for the good it might have done them. Two strong sermons were delivered, the first one by Rev. Mr. Slingerland, of Belle Haven, and the second one by Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Tyrone, Pa.

The meetings are of the most primitive character, their belief being that they are the only Methodists following the methods of preaching of the Wesleys. Their dress is very quiet, no gaudy colors, nor costly array being worn. Even the ground underneath the tent in which meetings are held is spread with plenty of straw. The seats are unfinished planks. A platform is erected where the speakers sit, and a piece of board supported by two poles, is the reading desk.

The preachers spoke out boldly and with such a ready flow of language that quite an impression was made. The meeting was a good old-fashioned revival, and the outspoken manner in which the Free Methodists speak, is an evidence that they have the courage of their convictions, and that their whole lives are wrapped up in the one thing, that of the conversion of souls. Their meetings are attractive, the bright and hearty singing bringing out many who have never before been inside a church. The whole heartedness of their prayers is also worthy of commendation. Great liberty of speech is given this religious sect, and during the sermons and prayers such exclamations as 'Amen,' 'Praise the Lord,' 'That's True,' and 'Halleluia' are heard shouted out by people in the congregation.

REV. SLINGERLAND.

Speaking from the words found in the fifth verse of the the second chapter of St. John's Gospel, "Whatsoever He saith unto you, do it." It was an inspiring address, and no doubt was productive of much good. In part the speaker said that God had marked out certain work for everyone to do, and urged his hearers to let God assist them to carry them out. "When I look out on the world and see the talents that are being wasted on worldly pursuits, I think how much wasted on worldly pursuits. I think how much better they could be used in the service of God," said the preacher. "Have you ever stopped to consider that there is a possibility of you being on the wrong side on Judgment Day?" he asked. He spoke of the stinging remorse of sin, which, if repentance was not sought, would be intensified by the awful doom of hell fire. The speaker strongly condemned the ball room, card playing and the theatre. It was a delusion to think that one could get into Heaven being wrapped up in the world and its pleasures. A man can live a pure life in this world, and in such a life is only found true happiness.

REV. J. C. DAVIDSON.

Rev. J. C. Davidson, of Tyrone, Pa., dealt with the subject of disobedience. He said that many professed Christians were living in disobedience. In the mind of the speaker there was nothing so awful as disobedience. There were many backsliders, many who had failed to walk in the light of God. He particularly urged the unsaved and the backsliders to forsake their evil ways and come to the cross of Christ. Mr. Davidson referred to his own conversion, which took place about nine years ago. He was a backslider for eleven months, but was glad to come back again and be blessed of God.

He thought that the Methodists, many of them, were receding from their old customs. They didn't want the class meeting or revival service, and were even not going to hear the sermon. The Christian did not wait for the applause of men but was fearless in his stand for Christ.

TESTIMONY MEETING.

The sermons were followed by the singing of several hymns and the stories of conversions by several of those present. One young girl in tears told her life's experience, while another young lady was very jubilant. She was saved five years ago. She was in Peterborough a year ago and was glad to see so many people here saved. Others also told of their salvation, after which the meeting was brought to a close by the district Elder, Mr. R. Burnham, of Uxbridge.

STRAWBERRIES WILL BE PLENTIFUL HERE THIS SEASON

A glut in the strawberry market is the prediction of fruit dealers in nearly all sections of the country. Reports from the growers of berries indicate that the coming crop will be better than for many seasons and show that a larger acreage has been devoted to the fruit. It is predicted that lovers of this succulent fruit in many northern cities will be able to eat all the berries they want at moderate prices.

A local fruit man stated to the Review to-day that the dealers here are preparing to handle a big supply. It is expected that prices will be lower than for several years, which will be joyful news to the householders of the city. All danger of frost is past unless an unusually severe cold spell comes along.

TWO BOYS CONVICTED LAST WEEK AGAIN FOUND GUILTY

Appeared in Court To-day on Charge of Stealing a Purse—One of Them Will be Put Out on a Farm—Other Allowed to Go

Willie Conroy and Harold Reid were arraigned before Magistrate Dumble in the police court this morning, charged with stealing a purse from the pockets of Wm. Smithson, of the Peterborough Cereal Co. They pleaded not guilty.

Mr. W. H. Moore, KC., defended Reid and Mr G. N. Gordon appeared on behalf of Conroy. Mr. E. L. Goodwill was present on behalf of the Children's Aid Society.

His Worship said that in his mind, said that there was no doubt that they had committed the theft. These boys had been fined only last week for stealing grain. If the boys were put out on a farm he would let them go. They would either have to turn over a new leaf or go to gaol.

Mr. Moore, in speaking for Reid, said that his father had abandoned him, his mother it will be remembered, having been drowned in the St. Clair river two years ago. Reid is fourteen years of age and is a bright intelligent boy.

It was decided to place Reid in charge of the Children's Shelter and he will be put out on a farm.

His Worship administered some good advice to Conroy who promised not to appear before him again.

THE EVIDENCE.

Mr. H. Smithson from whose trousers the purse was taken said that he left the mill at one o'clock and returned shortly after two. He usually changes clothes at work. In his trouser's pockets which were left in the store room, was a purse containing 35 cents and a house key. He went outside and the two boys were sitting on a log hammering at an old piece of copper boiler. He said to them that he had lost a purse but they said that they hadn't it.

George Armstrong who works in the gas works noticed the boys go in, one was standing at the door, while the other stayed in the storeroom. He went across and told the other men in the mill.

Patrick Fitzpatrick identified the two boys arrested but the third one he could not say whether he was there or not. He saw Reid drop the purse.

P. C. McGintey, who placed the youths under arrest, said that he went down to the mill on receiving a telephone message. The two boys were sitting on a log. When they saw him coming, they came towards him asking him to search them. Conroy said "we have just got out of trouble and are in it again."

P. C. McGinty went over to where the lads had been standing and picked up th purse. He then brought them to the police station.

Another young boy said that he was with Reid and Conroy yesterday. They walked up the spur line to the mill. They were going to steal a bag to go gathering junk.

He watched at the door while the other two went through the pockets.

Reid and Conroy both admitted being in the mill but denied having touched the pockets in the store room.

MI-O-NA MEANS STOMACH COMFORT

Its of Special Value to Many Here in Peterborough

A notable discovery and one that appeals especially to many people in Peterborough, is the combination of stomach help in the Mi-o-na treatment. This preparation works wonders in case of indigestion or weak stomach.

It acts directly upon the walls of the stomach and bowels, strengthening and stimulating them so that they readily take care of the food that is eaten without distress or suffering.

So positive are the good effects following the use of Mi-o-na that the remedy is sold by W. Madill, druggist, corner George and Hunter streets, Peterborough, under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails to cure. A 50 cent box of Mi-o-na will do the good the stomach needs, which is simply to make it do its own good work.

MUST SUFFER DEATH SENTENCE

Springfield, Ill., June 10.—Governor Deneen, on the recommendation of the State Board of Pardons decided not to interfere in the case of Herman Billik, under death sentence in Chicago for murder. The execution accordingly is expected to take place on June 12.

Billik is a Bohemian fortune teller, whose conviction was declared from the pulpit of St. Mary's church by Rev. P. J. O'Callaghan of the Paulist Fathers of Chicago, to be the results of perjured testimony due to suggestion and intimidation on the part of the prosecuting attorneys and police.

The accusation against Billik was that through the agency of a Mrs. Vzral, who afterwards committed suicide, he murdered in Chicago, the woman's husband and four of the Vzral children. The alleged motive was to get life insurance money.

MR. FITZGERALD IS A DIRECTOR

Appointed on Board at Ontario Coal Dealers Convention at Hamilton

Special to the Review

Hamilton, June 11—Today closes the Ontario Coal Dealers' convention in Hamilton, the members having held their final general meeting last evening and are devoting today to seeing Hamilton and the surrounding country.

At the meeting last evening a surprise was in store for the retiring president, J. B. Hay, the members of the association presenting to him a splendid cabinet of silver in recognition of his services to the association during the past three years.

Mr. Hay responded feelingly to the address of presentation being entirely taken by surprise.

The election of officers took place last evening and resulted as follows:

Wm Heaman—Pres.

J. M. Peregrine, vice-pres.

E. M. Trowern —Secretary and treasurer.

A board of directors was also elected, as follows;

E. Blair, Woodstock; J. K. McLaughlin, Owen Sound; J. E. A. Fitzgerald, Peterborough; D. B. Jacques, Toronto, and E. Brown, Port Hope.

EXCURSION TO CITY OF GUELPH

Over Four Hundred Took in Annual Event of Farmers' Institute Yesterday

About four hundred took in the annual excursion of the Farmers' Institute to Guelph yesterday and a most enjoyable and profitable day was spent. It was a huge success although the attendance was not as large as in previous years. The excursionists arrived at Guelph about 1.20 o'clock and after luncheon, a visit was made to the Ontario Agricultural college. The hours at the college were well spent, many coming away with better ideas of farming than they had before. The McDonald Institute was the main attraction for the ladies. The excursionists arrived home shortly after one this morning.

CREATE ORDER OF DEACONESS

Recommendation of Special Committee of General Assembly—Ministers are Needed

Winnipeg, June 11.—Following the strenuous debates of Tuesday, the General Assembly yesterday morning was comparatively quiet and devoted to non-contentious business.

Considerable progress was effected, and an effort is being made to get sufficiently advanced to enable the majority of the commissioners to leave for their homes this evening or Friday if they desire.

"Not much startling or new—the same fidelity to duty on the part of the men on the augmented list, and the same sad story of underpay of those on the fighting line and enduring hardness for Christ and for Canada," was the report of the Augmentation Committee, Western section, presented by Rev. S. Lyle, D.D., Hamilton, convenor. It was able to pay the minimum of $800, but, owing to business depression, partial crop failures in some districts, and lack of interest in some quarters, was unable to raise it to $900, as aimed at by last assembly."

The receipts for the year were $39,102.60, and the expenditure $37,340.02. For this year $46,000 will be required.

The eastern section had a notable increase in receipts to report, an advance in the minimum stipend, and a large number of congregations becoming self-supporting. Regret was expressed, however, that the expenditure of $8,410 was smaller than it should have been owing to "the horrible menace of all weak fields—a vacancy in the pastorate." Not money so much as consecrated men to take up the work was needed. The total receipts were $10,978.77.

The institution of an Order of Deaconesses was recommended by this special committee. It was urged that the Ewart Training Home be an institution for the training of women for the missionary and deaconess work of the church, that the Assembly appoint provisionally a board consisting of four ministers, four elders and seven representatives of the Women's Missionary Societies of the church, to take the oversight and management of the home, and that the Assembly commend the home to the support of congregations, associations and individuals; that a diploma be granted on a two-years' course, that candidates for training be not less than twenty-two nor more than thirty-five years of age, and various other regulations.

The Hymnal Committee reported that the sales during the year had amounted to $64,467. A new contract had been awarded on a basis of 15 per cent. royalty.

The church and manse building fund was reported to be in a precarious condition. During the year $32,109 had been loaned or granted, while only $20,734 had been received. The committee asked that vigorous steps be taken to collect as much as possible of the $80,000 now due from congregations.

The afternoon and evening were devoted to a debate on Queen's relation to the Church.

MUSIC IN THE HOME

The Piano is the visable sign of culture. In every genteel household a fine instrument bespeaks eloquently the musical feeling, the artistic appreciation of the family, and lends a certain distinction to its environments. The sustained popularity enjoyed by

BETRAYED HIS COUNTRY FRENCH TRAITOR DEGRADED

Sold Naval Secrets of His Country—His Sword Broken and Uniform Stripped Off—Multitude Jeered and Hooted—Sentenced to Life Imprisonment

Toulon, June 13.—A pitiable spectacle, the degradation of the traitor Charles B. Ullmo, formerly a naval officer, occurred at Stroch Square here yesterday in the presence of an enormous crowd. Ensign Ullmo was arrested at Toulon last October charged with being a spy. An examination of his effects showed him to be in possession of many valuable documents. Last February he was found guilty by a court-martial of attempting to sell naval secrets to a foreign power, and sentenced to life imprisonment in a fortress and to be degraded in rank.

Train excursions were run from Paris, and thousands of people from the surrounding country came to witness the ceremony. They packed the sidewalks and covered the adjacent roofs, walls and ramparts. The pressure of the crowds was so great that it threatened to sweep away the lines of soldiers and sailors drawn up around the square after the troops had been reinforced with two regiments, a battery of artillery, and two squadrons of cavalry. Ullmo, wearing his uniform and sword was led into the rectangle where the commandant read the order that Ullmo had betrayed his country, and was not worthy to wear its uniform. Two subalterns then took off his sword and stripped him of his chevrons and buttons. One of the subalterns broke the sword across his knee and threw the broken blade at Ullmo's feet. In this plight Ullmo was compelled to march at the head of a squad of soldiers around the rectangle amid the hoots and jeers of the crowd. He walked with his bare head sunk upon his breast and his eyes staring straight in front of him. Tears were streaming down his face.

Several thousand recruits, who witnessed Ullmo's degradation, were greatly impressed by the ceremony. Ullmo will be deported to French Guinea.

THE GLADIATOR COURT-MARTIAL

Capt. Lumsden is Blamed for the Disaster and Dismissed.

Portsmouth, England, June 13.—After lengthy consideration yesterday the naval court martial into the loss of the British cruiser Gladiator, as a result of her collision with the American liner St. Paul last April, found Captain Lumsden had hazarded his ship by a default, but not a neglect, and adjudges him to be reprimanded and dismissed from his ship.

The Gladiator was rammed by the American liner St. Paul during a snow storm. Over a score of British sailors were drowned. The St. Paul was slightly damaged.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT KANSAS CITY

Packing Plant Burns and Two Men Are Killed.

Kansas City, Mo., June 13.—Two laborers lost their lives, two others were seriously injured and property loss estimated at between a quarter million [illegible],000, was caused by two explosions followed by a fire in the packing house of Morris & Co. at the river side in Kansas City, Kansas, yesterday. The explosion ruined the cold storage building, and the fire that followed destroyed the smoke house and contents.

The Morris plant is located near the channel of the Kaw river, and being in the centre of the flooded district is in a swift current of water from 6 to 8 feet deep. Fire apparatus was transported to the scene after much delay by flat cars.

Cardinal Welcomed Home.

Queenstown, June 13.—Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, was given a great welcome on his arrival here yesterday from New York. The Lord Mayor, members of the corporation, representatives of the clergy and of many societies, chartered a special steamer and went to meet the liner.

Absconders In Demand.

Kingston, June 13.—There is a scarcity of clerks at the penitentiary in Dorchester, N.B., and as the penitentiary here is overrun with book managers and absconders, some will be transferred.

Big Bail Bonds.

Montreal, June 13.—President P. H. Roy of the defunct Banque St. Jean, with the other officials arrested, charged with making false returns to the Government, were arraigned in court yesterday and remanded until the 17th inst., all being granted bail. Mr. Roy in $140,000 and the others $10,000 each.

Roy Re-Arrested.

St. Johns, Que., June 13.—Col. Hibbard, crown prosecutor, and Mr. Lawson of Ottawa, came out from Montreal last night and caused the re-arrest of Hon. P. H. Roy, on a charge of conspiracy and fraud. Fifty thousand dollars bail is required in the present instance.

Corralling Murder Suspects.

Vancouver, B.C., June 13.—A despatch from Blaine, Wash., says: "Four additional arrests have been made in this county in connection with the Morrison murder case, all the suspects answering in a general way the description of the murderer."

October Elections?

Ottawa, June 13.—It was said last night that the Federal elections have been fixed for the last week of October.

Charged With Murder.

Ottawa, June 13.—Malcolm McMillan was arrested yesterday on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Pierre Bonnenfant, a hackman, who was found dead on the box of his rig, with a fractured skull at midnight Thursday night. McMillan was the fare for whom Bonnenfant went on the trip that ended in his death. McMillan, who spent the night in a "roadhouse" outside the town, says that after he was driven in from the place, Bonnenfant left him at a hotel in Hull. He claims to know nothing of later events.

THEY MISTOOK FRENCH TROOPS

Chinese Teought They Were Escaping Revolutionaries.

New York, June 13.—A despatch to The Herald from Shanghai, says: The Chinese charged with having killed a French officer and six soldiers allege they mistook the French troops on the frontier for escaping revolutionaries.

German influence in Pekin is thrown on China's side to encourage her to resist the French demands as ridiculously exceeding the crime, especially the demand for the dismissal of the viceroy.

A French officer and six soldiers were killed by regular Chinese troops several days ago on the frontier of Tonkin and Yunnan provinces, at the extreme north of the French sphere of influence. The French Government immediately made a demand for the dismissal of the Viceroy of Yunnan, the punishment of the guilty soldiers and the payment of an indemnity for the soldiers slain.

Sentence Suspended.

Guelph, June 13.—William Slimmon appeared before Judge Chadwick on two charges, one of forging an order on the Traders' Bank for $25 and the other of temporarily depriving Mrs. Crozier, from whom he held powers of attorney of her passbook and eight shares in the Traders' Bank stock. The first charge could not be sustained, but on the second charge he was found guilty, but allowed suspended sentence.

Three Years For Burglar.

Walkerton, Ont., June 13.—Charles McCrae, one of the trio of burglars who went through a jewelry store in Port Elgin on the 4th, was brought here from Owen Sound. Part of the jewelry was found deposited in a heap of stones in a field near Chesley. McCrae pleaded guilty and was given three years at Kingston.

Vancouver Indemnity.

Vancouver, June 13.—MacKenzie King has estimated the losses sustained by the Chinese in the September riots at $25,990, to which is added $1,000 for legal expenses. The Government at Ottawa has already approved the award.

Laundry Scorched.

Owen Sound, June 13.—The C. P. R. steamship laundry building was damaged to the extent of $800 yesterday afternoon by fire.

MEAT PRICES IN GREAT BRITAIN

Question of Prices Raised in the House of Commons.

London, June 13.—The retail trade organizations have been notified of a further general rise in the price of meat, the advance being attributed to the shortage of cattle here and the scarcity in America.

In the House of Commons Thursday night, several members protested against the Board of Agriculture's refusal to withdraw the prohibition against the importation of cattle for immediate slaughter from disease-free countries, alleging that this refusal was playing into the hands of the American meat combination.

Sir Edward Strachey, a representative of the Board of Agriculture in the House, on behalf of the board, denied that the operations of the so-called meat trust tended to raise the prices. On the contrary, he said, the policy of the trust in bringing dead meat into the country in preference to live cattle was an economical method, tending to lower the prices.

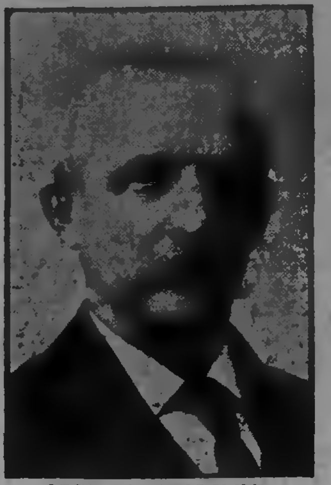
Revolt In Persia.

New York, June 13.—The Herald has received the following despatch from Teheran: The provinces, hearing of the Shah's attitude, are up in arms. The Governor of Tabriz has been deposed and the people are in possession of all the Government departments. Twelve thousand rifles belonging to the Government have been seized by the populace at Enseli. Numerous telegrams from the provinces continually reaching here threaten the Shah, the senders declaring that they will refuse to recognise the sovereign, he having several times broken his oath of allegiance to the constitution.

PETERBORO COUNTY HOUSE OF REFUGE A MODEL INSTITUTION

A Great Work is Being Done in Looking After the Aged Poor and Indigent of the County.

Building is Ideally Situated and There is a Splendid Hundred Acre Farm in Connection With it—The Inmates are Contented With Their Home—Some Interesting Information About the Institution.



REEVE SCOTT, OF SMITH.
Chairman of the Board of Management of the House of Refuge.

The House of Refuge for the county of Peterborough, which is located about a mile from the village of Lakefield is a model institution in every respect. Perhaps it would be a little two much to say that it is the best institution of its kind in the province of Ontario, but it is a safe assertion that it is the equal of any in the province. There are thirty-five inmates at the present time, twenty-one men, twelve women and two babies. The presence of the latter in a House of Refuge may cause some surprise but this is quickly dispelled when it is stated that they are very young babies and that their mothers are inmates of the county institution. The county's proteges are well looked after, they have an ideal home, plenty of wholesome food, good beds to sleep in and are happy and contented, with perhaps one or two exceptions. But then it is impossible to please everybody.

A visit to the House of Refuge proves exceedingly interesting. Representatives of the Peterborough newspapers had the pleasure of inspecting the institution one day this week and the visit was of absorbing interest. The newspaper men were accompanied by Reeve R. N. Scott of Smith, chairman of the Board of Management of the House of Refuge, and at Lakefield Reeve Moore, of that thriving village, was picked up and accompanied the party to the county institution. Every courtesy was shown the press representatives by Mr. Scott, and Mr. and Mrs. Beavis, who are in charge of the home for the aged.

THE PETERBOROUGH COUNTY HOUSE OF REFUGE.
One of the best Institutions of its kind in the Province of Ontario

Before proceeding to describe the building, it may be noted that it was formally opened on January 21st, 1907. The farm upon which it is situated consists of 100 acres of excellent land, all cleared, and was purchased by the county from Mr. Wm. Preston. The farm is one of the best in that part of the county and the location could not be better. It is high and from it a splendid view of the country for miles around is obtainable. The House of Refuge is situated upon an elevation and the surroundings are ideal in every respect.

The building, including the bulk of the furnishings cost over $20,000. Numerous improvements have been made since the home was opened, so that at the present time it is a model institution. It is constructed of red brick and is three storeys high, that is above the ground. The basement extends under the whole of the building and is completely furnished. One-half of the building is for the male inmates and the other half for the women. The two dining rooms, one for the women and the other for the men are located in the basement. They are large, light, and airy, scrupulously clean and adequately furnished. There are also a large kitchen and pantry. The cooking is done on a large range of the type used in the large hotels. It is over eight feet long and of the most modern design. The laundry is also situated in the basement and is well equipped. There is hot and cold water and is fitted with the most modern equipment.

On the first floor proper are the reception room, which is nicely furnished, an organ being among the furniture, the superintendent's private rooms, store rooms for clothing, bedding, etc. several sleeping rooms, sitting rooms, etc. There is one sitting room for the men and another for the women. In the second storey there are some more sleeping rooms and also the hospital ward or wards. There is one ward for female patients and another for male patients and also a medicine room, where are kept drugs, medicines, etc. A sewing room for the women is also located on the second floor. A sewing machine is part of the equipment of the latter department.

A GOOD ARRANGEMENT.

The clothing of the inmates is well looked after. There are two rooms set aside for keeping it, one for the women's and one for the men's garments. The rooms are fitted with small, open closets which are numbered. Each inmate has a closet for his or her clothing where garments not in use are kept.

The third storey has not yet been finished but if more room is required it can be made ready in a short time.

Two cells are located in the basement to be used if any of the inmates become unruly. They are not used very often, however, as the old folk are well behaved as a rule and agree well among themselves.

ROOM FOR MANY.

There is accommodation for over forty persons at the present time and there will be room for seventy-five when the third storey is completed.

There are eight lavatories in the building, two on each floor and one in connection with the hospital wards. They are equipped in the most modern manner.

The sleeping rooms are worthy of special note. They are large, light and airy. The windows are set in low, greatly improving the light and airiness. There are four to five single cots in each room and perfect cleanliness is everywhere in evidence.

The building is lighted by electricity which is brought from Lakefield, and has an excellent sewage system. The ventilation is thorough and satisfactory in every way. Steam is employed for heating purposes, a large boiler being situated in the basement. The water supply is secured from a never failing well situated a short distance from the institution. The water is pumped by a windmill, piped to the building and then forced to a large tank on the third storey by means of a hot air pump located in the basement. The tank is divided into two compartments, one for hard and the other for soft water.

The building is fitted with fire escapes and is thoroughly equipped in every respect.

The outbuildings include an ideal house, coal shed, barn, stables, etc. The farm is well equipped with farming implements and the live stock at the present time include three fine horses, sixteen pigs, seven cows, a number of yearling calves, and thirty-five hens, twenty-seven young turkeys and some other fowl.

The House of Refuge Team is one of the best in the country winning second prize at the Peterborough fair last fall.

ORCHARD PLANTED

An orchard has been set out on the farm. Currant bushes, apple trees, etc., have been set out and are doing splendidly.

GOOD OFFICIALS.

The superintendent of the House of Refuge farm is Mr. Wm. Beavis and Mrs. Beavis is the matron. The positions could not be better filled. Mr. Beavis is a splendid superintendent and Mrs. Beavis has all the qualities necessary to fill the position of matron. Incidentally they are both exceedingly hospitable and extend every courtesy to visitors. The matron has two maids to assist her and Mr. Beavis is assisted in his duties by those of the men who are able to work. Mr. Beavis does not rush them, but sees to it that there is work for all who want to employ themselves. Some of the inmates are so aged and infirm that they are unable to do anything.

PICTURES TAKEN.

The newspaper men were accompanied on their visit to the House of Refuge by Mr. Fred Roy, who took several pictures of the building and the inmates. The ladies were photographed first, sitting upon the front steps, and then the male inmates were taken in the same place. The babies were also photographed. They are about six months old, one a boy and the other a girl. They are unusually pretty and are great pets at the institution. Some of the old men seemed pleased to have their pictures taken and joked among themselves about it.

"We've got our physiogs taken anyway," one of them remarked as the photographer told them the posing was over.

Great credit is due Reeve Scott and the other members of the Board of Management for the good work they have done. They have devoted much time to their work and the results are apparent.

The visitors from Peterborough after being shown over the building and farm were treated to an excellent repast over which Mrs. Beavis presided.

Improvements are constantly being made to the buildings and farm and in a short time it will be even more beautiful than at the present time. A new wire fence is being erected along the public highway at the front and a handsome gate is lettered as follows:

"PETERBOROUGH COUNTY HOUSE OF REFUGE."

BABE SLEPT IN CRADLE WHILE MOTHER WAS SHOT TO DEATH

Remarkable Experience in the Babyhood of an Inmate of the County House of Refuge at the Present Time—Other Inmates Have Interesting Careers

Some particulars concerning the inmates of the institution will prove of interest. The life history of some of them would no doubt equal many tales of fiction and romance. A few instances will show this. Perhaps the most interesting of the female inmates is Eliza Payne, aged thirty-seven years, and a former resident of Dummer township. When she was six months of age she slept peacefully in her cradle while her mother and a little boy were murdered in the same room—truly a remarkable experience. The atrocious murder of Mrs. Jeremiah Payne and a ten year old boy named Doughty is recalled by the incident, also the hanging of Prenton, alias Fox, at Peterborough. Older residents of the city and county will remember the brutal crime as it shocked Peterborough county at the time. Jeremiah Payne and his wife and little daughter lived in Dummer township. They had a hired man named Brenton, who had been tramping about the country and finally secured employment at the Payne homestead. One day when Mr Payne was away from home, Brenton came into the house with a shotgun and shot Mrs. Payne and a little boy named Doughty who happened to be there for the day. Eliza Ann, the six months old baby was sleeping in her cradle in the same room where the murder occurred but apparently the murderer had a spark of manhood left and he spared the little child. When Mr. Payne returned home he was greeted by gruesome sight of his wife and the little boy lying dead in the kitchen of his home. The murder had been carefully planned and it was afterwards found out that Brenton had also intended that Payne should have been one of the victims. He had a loaded shotgun concealed alongside the lane leading from the house and intended shooting his employer when he passed but Mr. Payne did not go that way and escaped a violent death.

Brenton was captured shortly afterwards tried at Peterborough, sentenced to death, and hanged, being

AN EXPLOSION KILLS NINE TERRIBLE ACCIDENT ON G.T.P.

Premature Blast Cause—Victims Were Crushed by Shower of Rocks When Dynamite Went Off—Foreman Had Narrow Escape.

Kenora, Ont., June 13.—A terrible accident occurred on the Grand Trunk Pacific construction west of the Winnipeg river on Thursday, in which nine men lost their lives.

No details are to hand at present, but the accident was due to an explosion of dynamite, in which a number were injured in addition to the nine who were killed. An investigation will follow, and complaint has already been made about the number of accidents on this western part of the construction.

Winnipeg, June 13.—Further particulars of the terrible dynamite accident which occurred Thursday afternoon at Chambers, McQuigge & McCaffrey's camp on the Grand Trunk Pacific construction at the crossing of the Winnipeg river have been received. Foreman Simons and another man were charging two fresh holes, when suddenly, without apparent cause, they exploded, killing nine men and injuring several others. Two of the men killed were Englishmen, the others foreigners. The calamity points to some new explosive element contained in mineralized rocks, as men in charge were experienced. Foreman Simons had gone for another box of dynamite at the time of the accident and thus escaped with his life. A sad feature of the accident is that the wives of the two Englishmen killed are on the ocean en route to Canada to join their husbands.

The names of the killed are: Burgess, Bradley and Grey, English; Roberts, Trimbull and Birilbi, Italians; Murser, Wagetinv and Jehomami, Galicians.

The seriously injured are McDonald and Shorter.

CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT SCORED GRAVE ABUSES REFERRED TO Prosecutions Alleged to Have Been Hushed Up—Systematic Igfringements of the Law—Materials for Tunnels at Detroit Admitted Free of Duty.

Ottawa, June 13.—Most of yesterday in the House was taken up with a discussion precipitated by Mr. Clements (Kent), who made the charge that all materials for the railway tunnel under the Detroit river were being allowed to come in free of duty, and that Canadians were not given an opportunity to tender.

The debate gradually widened to include alleged defalcations of customs officials, and the hushing up of prosecutions against friends of the Government.

Mr. Cockshutt (Brantford), who followed Mr. Clements, referred to the report of the civil service commission, which said that the chief positions in the outside customs service were political appointments. The Minister of Customs was so strongly partisan that he could see no wrong in his supporters. In British Columbia a collector had defaulted, and after refunding $4,200 boasted that he was still thousands of dollars ahead of the Government, and an investigation had ascertained that he was right.

Mr. Cockshutt commented on the number of customs seizures, and suggested that where there were systematic infractions of the law, offenders should be severely punished and have their names published. The system lent itself to private settlement between the inspector and the man who made the seizure, or the informant and the offending firm.

Mr. Cockshutt showed that goods to the value of $150,000 were seized last year, for which fines of $21,037 were paid to those giving information. Between salaries and fines paid over to them, he thought there were customs officers drawing more from the treasury than the Prime Minister. The system was open to grave abuses. He had been informed there were cases before the Customs Department at Montreal which were being hushed up because the offenders happened to be political friends, while other offenders were prosecuted to the limit.

Hon. Mr. Paterson asked if Mr. Cockshutt would endorse the statement that the Customs Department was influenced in its decisions by political considerations, and Mr. Cockshutt said the system was open to influences of that kind. He objected to customs officers getting fines for seizures.

Mr. Cockshutt protested against the materials used by United States contractors on the Detroit River tunnel being admitted free of duty, and said the Minister was not carrying out the law requiring that these materials should be so admitted under regulations, when similar concessions were not granted by the United States.

The Minister of Customs said a big fuss was being made about the importation of materials for the Detroit tunnel. The law was being carried out.

Mr. Cockshutt insisted that the arrangement was one-sided.

Mr. Paterson continued that the chief complaint was in reference to American cement. The contractors had written to Canadian manufacturers asking for 50,000 barrels, and only one Canadian company would give quotations on so large an order, while prices were considerably higher than American.

Mr. Clements put in that Canadian contractors had been turned down.

Mr. Paterson asked for source of information that officials in the Department had hushed up charges against political friends. This Mr. Cockshutt could not give, but he read a letter which was to the effect that a firm in Montreal had been bribed to make a false statement, which was usually done.

"That is a vile charge," replied Mr. Paterson.

Yesterday morning in response to a question by Mr. R. L. Borden, Sir Wilfrid Laurier promised an explicit statement of proposed legislation for this session on Monday. Sir Wilfrid Laurier laid on the table his correspondence with Rev. J. G. Shearer in regard to the matter of vice in the Yukon. In reply to a letter from Mr. Shearer in April, the Prime Minister quoted from a letter written by Commissioner Henderson in February avowing his desire to suppress vice in the Yukon, and stating that he had placed a secret service fund at the disposal of the police to aid in obtaining evidence. These instructions, the Premier added, had his hearty approval, and that of the Minister of Justice.

Writing on May 29, the Premier announced that it had been arranged that all applications for prosecutions under the Lord's Day Act shall be at once passed upon by Commissioner Henderson, who will immediately notify the Minister of Justice by wire of any in which he thinks proceedings advisable.

INDIANS IN THE TRANSVAAL

Say That Government Has no Intention of Repealing Act.

Johannesburg, June 13.—The fresh trouble with the British Indians is developing rapidly. Scores of them have written to the Registrar of Asiatics demanding the return of their registration papers, on the ground that the conditions under which they registered are not going to be carried out.

The British Indians declare that Mr. Smuts, the Colonial Secretary, gave a definite promise to repeal the Asiatic act, and now all that is intended is to legalise voluntary registration under that act. It seems that there is no written pledge of repeal, but the Indians state that there is ample evidence that Mr. Smuts gave a verbal promise to Mr. Gandhi, their leader. If the Government persist in not repealing the act, the Indians threaten to destroy their registration certificates and to recommence passive resistance.

The Indians assert that if the Asiatic act is maintained, then their registration has been obtained by a trick. Unless the Government give favorable assurances by to-day, it is probable that the Indians will issue a statement giving their version of the whole of the negotiations.

It is believed also that the Natal Indians will resist any new legislation in that colony by passive resistance. As the Natal Indians now number 127,000, such a movement would cause serious trouble to the Government of that colony.

FELL OFF RAFT AND DROWNED

Norwegian Named Carlsen Was Drowned in Saskatchewan

Edmonton, Alberta, June 13.—Word reached the city yesterday of the first drowning accident on the Saskatchewan as the result of floods on the river during the past week. The victim was a Norwegian named Carlsen, and his companion, James Martin, had a narrow escape from the same fate. The two men had crossed the river for the purpose of bringing over the camp cook, and were returning when the accident happened. The men after a hard struggle crossed in safety, but in their efforts to tie up to the shore lost their pike poles and slipped from the rolling raft.

Trade With New Zealand.

Ottawa, June 13.—The satisfactory growth of Canada's trade with the antipodes is shown in the reports received by the Department of Trade and Commerce. Trade Commissioner J. S. Larke of Sydney, who reports upon a visit to New Zealand, shows that despite the lack of direct transportation between Canada and the new dominion, Canada's sales to New Zealand increased from £82,374 in 1903 to £157,888 in 1906 and to £[illegible],536 in 1907, while purchases from New Zealand rose from £7,386 in 1903 to £29,815 in 1906 and to £76,[illegible] in 1907. This growth is ascribed [illegible] gether to the reciprocal agreement between the two dominions, and [illegible] ly to continue to [illegible]

Why Napoleon Shoe Vamp Is Crackless!

The vamp is the leather between the box toe seam and the instep seam.

This is why Napoleon (Foot-rite) Shoes have crackless vamps:

They're made of "Normal Calf," a leather almost as soft and supple as the live calf's skin. You never heard of a live calf's skin cracking.

The linen canvas linings are cut on patterns which fit the insides with watch-like accuracy. Poor linings cause permanent diagonal vamp wrinkles, which split the leather.

Normal Calf is almost waterproof, hence soaks up little water. The repeated drying of water-soaked boots eventually brings cracked vamps.

The toe-freedom box toe, being uncollapsible, holds the vamp leather arched and smooth, and prevents splitting at the vamp toe seam.

The wrinkleless vamp improvement keeps out vamp wrinkles which undermine and crack the vamp leather.

Being shaped over foot-sculptured lasts, Napoleon insides are precisely the same shape and size as the feet that inhabit them, which compels the leather to crease straight instead of diagonally across the vamp. Diagonal creases wear in cracks. Straight creases don't.

Anywhere in America, Canada or Great Britain, $5.00 and $6.00. Every pair Goodyear Welted—gives flexibility. Canadian Head Offices: Foot-rite Shoe Company, Montreal.

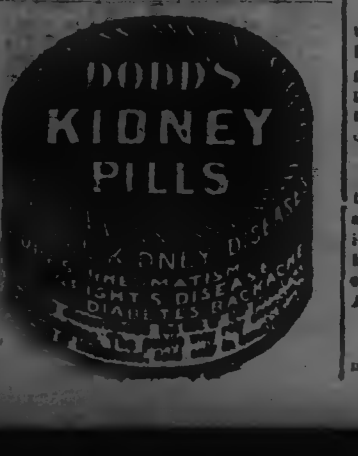
LONGER HOURS

Longer hours on election day are badly needed. Closing the polls at 5 p.m. is just as shortsighted as opening them at nine a.m. There is a general demand for from 8 to 8. The early hour gives the merchant a chance and the later hour gives the laborer a chance. It is true that the law provides an extra hour without loss of pay at noon but that cannot apply to those working on their own hook and to a very large number of toilers who know nothing of such a provision. Then again the distribution of polling places makes it easy for some electors to vote and a difficult business for others, especially in the rural parts. In fact, there is need of a complete revision of the election act in these respects. The small percentage of the electorate going to the poll is due not so much to apathy as to the very great inconvenience of voting. While in former times the length of time given to polling was too long at present it is decidedly too short.

A BAD LOSER

The Examiner is a bad loser, at least on this occasion. It is still grinding away as if the Whitney Government were still on trial and the people had not wiped a useless Opposition off the face of the earth. To quote newspapers as Conservative which are not Conservative such as the Farmer's Sun is unfair. The Farmer's Sun is a critic and an especially severe one of the Laurier Government. No reference is made by our contemporary to this fact. Then again while we gladly acknowledge the heroic effort made by the Examiner to upset Mr. Bradburn as prophesied and so ardently desired by those behind it we must admit that the weight of argument was not on the Liberal side anywhere in the province during this contest. Little things were magnified by the Liberal press many times, while big things such as the finances and the Power Policy were either ignored or wholly misrepresented. Had there not been an impending Dominion election we verily believe that there would now be no Opposition at all. Many Liberals who approved heartily of Mr. Whitney voted to keep "things in shape" for the coming contest. In any event to be a bad loser is worse than losing and we may venture to assert that our contemporary will do well to get used to the smash-up as soon as possible —for there is another one coming. Not only were the bye-elections conducted cleanly and fairly, in fact without a complaint but the general election has left no horrible record of stuffing and stealing behind it. Are these things not worthy of favorable comment. We hope that as cabinets come and cabinets go, there may be a change in one or two departments. It is the natural order of things political. There are several good men ready and the exchange may be made with profit when there are so many to choose from. Agriculture and education are worthy of our ablest men. In the meantime let us thank Heaven that the day of Pritchett, Dole and the "Minnie M" has passed away and forever. We forgive the Examiner for what it has done and the more especially for what it did not do. But it has enough to do to explain some of the things that have happened in the immediate neighborhood, without our adding to its journalistic troubles.



EDITORIAL NOTES

Mr. McNulty was beaten by 750 odd because he was deserted by his alleged friends. Four hundred was the natural endorsation by the riding of the Whitney policy. The rest was a throw-down.

The "dark lantern" dodger distributed at election times for the purpose of stampeding a section of the community is out of date. Let it remain so by all means.

Our evening contemporary remarked during the heat of the campaign, that Northern Ontario would show its disapproval of Whitney in a severely practical way. Now Northern Ontario went Conservative to a man. It had read the Examiner.

Mr. S. H. Blake, K.C., has written to Mr. Whitney, congratulating him. It is to be hoped hereafter that the people will be allowed to go to the poll without being given instructions how to vote. This business is being overdone.

An up-to-date monarch is our friend the Shah of Persia. He informed the anarchists, etc., the other day that if they didn't ease up by four o'clock he would blow the city to smithereens. This is "carrying the war into Africa" with a vengeance.

It will be noted that the men connected with the ballot selling in Hamilton have been run to earth and captured. Keep your eye on this case and see if it goes the way the Ross cases used to go.

Mr. Asquith has evidently a pretty wit. In reply to a sarcastic question as to whether a habitual drinker should be allowed to enjoy the Old Age pension fund, he replied that he knew of few who would contribute more to it.

The Toronto Star wittily remarks that Whitney owes his majority to the J. P.'s and the K. C.'s who all voted. These are not the same J. P.'s however, who, to the number of five thousand were allowed to issue whiskey permits under the Ross administration. That was a still more valuable asset.

It was currently reported that the entire Liberal army would get a move on and make things hum in East and West Peterborough in order to prepare for the Dominion election. It looked like Coxey's Army on the evening of June 8th. What happened to it? It's no good.

MANY STRIKES IN AUSTRALIA

Conditions in New South Wales Tend to Cripple Trade

New South Wales has been in almost a chronic state of strike for the last twelve months or more. Miners engaged in the coal areas and laborers at the wharf at Sydney never seem to be at rest. Just now a great strike carried on by both these classes is doing much to cripple trade in the capital of the mother state. To-day there are nearly forty steamers — mostly engaged in the coastal trade — tied up. And the question at issue between the shipowners and the wharf laborers borders on the ludicrous. The laborers working on ocean-going steamers say they are perfectly satisfied with their wages and other conditions of labor, but because some of the companies engaged in the coastal trade employ non-union labor they have struck work and hope that the owners or managers of the ocean steamers will coerce the owners of coastal steamers and induce them to dismiss their non-union employees. The position is made all the more ludicrous when it is known that the unionists will not admit the non-union men as members even if they are willing to join the unions. While the strikes are bound to fail, great inconvenience and much monetary loss have been inflicted on all engaged in the shipping business. With regard to the coal miners, it may be noticed that they are better paid than any similar body of men in the world.

This is a great deal to say but it is perfectly true. A number of boys (wheelers) have been responsible for most of the trouble in the pits and have so much unhinged the proceedings of the Arbitration Court which is sitting, that the judge has determined to throw up his commission unless the Federation of Miners' League takes decided action to assist the court. Both these cases and many others may be cited as illustrations of the utter failure of the Arbitration Act of New South Wales.

The usual thing always happens—that is to say, if the decision of the Court is against the men, they ignore it. It is, however, rather remarkable that in the case of the wharf laborers' strike, the men, although actually paid more than the court awarded, go on strike in the most illegal fashion. There may be peace when the Arbitration Act is superseded by the establishment of wages boards after the manner of those existing in Victoria. It is the intention of the New South Wales Government to bring in a bill with this object in view.

THEATRICAL

Roselle Knott was again taken ill last week with neuralgia of the heart, and finished her engagement at the Princess Theatre, Toronto, under the doctor's care. As Miss Knott's season is now over, her doctors have ordered her to her summer home on Long Island for a complete rest. She may, if the doctors give her permission, fill her engagement at Quebec on the occasion of the visit of the Prince of Wales. If forbidden, she will recuperate in preparation for her Australian tour.

Ernest Shipman has already sailed for the antipodes to make arrangements for Miss Knott's tour, and that of the Kilties' band he is managing. Miss Knott will be seen in a repertoire consisting of her most famous parts.

Recovered Stolen Jewelry.

Owen Sound, June 12.—The importance of the capture on Wednesday of Charles McCrea developed on the arrival of J. B. Roddick, a Port Elgin jeweler, whose premises were robbed on Thursday of last week of a large quantity of watches, rings and chains.

A valise was found on the west hill, where Mr. McCrea informed the police that he and an accomplice had hidden it, and its contents made up fully half of the goods stolen.

Yesterday morning the man was taken to Chesley by High Constable Bussell and will show where more of the stolen valuables may be found. McCrea says that his associate is a dangerous criminal, recently released from penitentiary, and that he has a large quantity of the stolen goods still with him. It is thought that he will have reached the New Ontario section by this time.

Escapes From Jail Twice.

Cornwall, June 12.—Frank Carter, a young man recently sentenced to six months in the Central prison for stealing a diamond ring, has escaped from custody for the second time in three weeks.

The first time he scaled the jail wall, but was recaptured at Newington and had four months tacked on to his sentence.

About 7.30 last night he dropped the hose with which he was sprinkling the court house lawn outside the jail walls, slipped through a neighboring yard under a fence, and made tracks for the tall timbers. He was soon missed, but is still at liberty.

Fatal Wreck In Belgium.

Tourna, Belgium, June 12.—A railroad wreck near here yesterday resulted in the killing of five persons and the wounding of several others.

Reprieve at Last Moment.

Chicago, June 13.—Herman Billikins, the Bavarian fortune teller, condemned to die yesterday for the murder of seven members of the Vrzal family, has been granted a stay of execution until he has been afforded an opportunity to appeal his case to the Supreme Court of the United States.

Wheel Burst—Man Killed.

Montreal, June 13.—Dennis Gallagher was instantly killed yesterday by the bursting of an emery wheel in the Montreal Rolling Mills. Gallagher was struck on the head by a piece of the wheel, which was hurled at him with great force, as the machinery was running at high speed.

Swallowed by the Earth.

New York, June 13.—A cable despatch to The Herald from Shanghai says: An extraordinary fissure has opened in the side of the mountain Machuanshan, near Ichang. The opening is several miles long, and hundreds of families and houses have been swallowed up.

The Milk River Bridge of the C. P. R. in southern Alberta is washed out.

To Enforce New Race Track Law.

Albany, June 13.—In a letter yesterday, addressed to the various sheriffs in the state, Governor Hughes calls upon these officials to see that the provisions of the Agnew-Hart anti-race track gambling laws are enforced. Copies of the letter were also sent to the district attorney of each county in the state and to the police commissioner of New York, all of whom are amenable to the governor. With the letter were inclosed copies of the new laws. It is known the governor means to use every means within his power to see that the laws are properly enforced. It was pointed out at the executive chamber that there is a provision in the penal code which makes a district attorney or sheriff liable to a fine of $500 upon conviction for each offence, who neglects to prosecute cases of violations of this kind. The governor, while refusing to talk for quotation, is confident that no attempt will be made to test the new laws in the court.

$100,000 For Two Arms.

Detroit, June 13.—One of the biggest claims for personal damage ever filed in the Circuit Court is that of Irving J. Forbes, formerly of Pontiac, who wants $100,000 from the Grand Trunk Railway for the loss of both arms. Forbes alleges that when only 19 years old he was invited by the conductor of a Grand Trunk freight train to act as brakeman from Pontiac to Jackson. At Pinckney the young man set the brakes on the caboose, which had been shunted down the siding, the ratchet holding the brake slipped, starting the car and throwing Forbes on the track, the wheels cutting off one arm at the wrist and the other at the elbow.

Two Indians Drowned.

Brockville, June 12.—On the night of May 29, three Indians upset in a skiff in the St. Lawrence, three miles above Brockville. Two were drowned and one saved by clinging to the boat, which later drifted on an island. A party of Indians searching for the bodies have been decidedly reticent, and for the first time the names were divulged yesterday by a brother of one of the victims. They were John King and Mitchell Cole, and the lucky one of the trio was Lewis Jacob, all of St. Regis. The drowned men are married and leave wives and families. While exchanging seats in an intoxicated condition their craft upset.

Foul play has been suspected, but Jacobs strongly denies an altercation of any kind, claiming that the drowning was purely accidental.

Charge of Enticing Girl.

St. Catharines, June 12.—John Bradt, a married man with several children, was yesterday committed for trial on a charge of enticing a child, 14 years old, away from her parents' possession on election night.

Detective Shot.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 13.—In making an arrest Detective-Sergeant Jeremiah W. Lynch was shot in the stomach about noon yesterday by Otto Susdorf, who has a long police record.

PEN AND INK PIRATES.

Literary Theft Is Not Stealing; It Is Called Genius.

All authors steal. The capacity for stealing with art and elegance is one of the most potent equipments of the literary man.

Shakespeare was a magnificent thief. He stole whatever he could lay his hands on in a literary way and never marred in the stealing. He stole "Measure For Measure" from a play called "Promos and Cassandra." He stole "Hamlet" from a play by George Kyd. "Romeo and Juliet" he stole from Italy.

Sir Walter Scott stole with a sublime talent. He stole from antiquarian records. He stole from Goethe. He stole from Sheridan.

Charles Reade claimed the right of the literary artist to set jewels, even though the gems are the property of another.

Alexandre Dumas, the author of "The Three Musketeers" and "Monte Cristo," was one of the most remarkable filchers in literature. In one single year his name was attached to no fewer than forty different books. Not only did he steal unblushingly from every author who came handy, but he employed numerous literary ghosts and passed off their work as his own.

Brought to book, he had a ready reply. "The man of genius does not steal," he said; "he only conquers."

Alexander Pope, who made thousands of pounds by his poetic translation of Homer's "Iliad," was an indifferent Greek scholar. In addition to stealing from previous translators, he employed others to help and then claimed the whole work as his own.

When he translated "The Odyssey" he kept the public in ignorance that only twelve books could be called his and that the rest were the work of men whom he paid badly.

The arguments in Pope's "Essay on Man" were furnished by Lord Bolingbroke, and his "Essay on Criticism" was a poetic version of the conversation of his intimates.

Richard Brinsley Sheridan, wit, dramatist and politician, stole his famous characters Charles Surface and Joseph Surface in "The School For Scandal" from Tom Jones and Blifil in Fielding's well known novel, and he abducted Tabitha Bramble and Sir Hubert Mackilligut and transformed them into those still more entertaining characters Mrs. Malaprop and Sir Lucius O'Trigger in "The Rivals."

Of modern authors who stole and are stealing still the present writer does not say a word. Only history can afford to be free spoken.—Exchange.

Word Painting.

Mrs. Bradley, when questioned by a fellow traveler in the Pullman car in regard to her home, launched forth into a rather long and detailed description of its charms. Her little girl, Grace, who had been reading when she began to speak, soon closed her book and listened with great interest.

"It must be very pleasant," remarked the chance acquaintance, somewhat perfunctorily, when Mrs. Bradley finished, and Grace, her eyes gleaming with enthusiasm, said: "Oh, it must be perfectly lovely! What place is it, mamma?"

"Why, our own home, of course," answered the mother, somewhat embarrassed.

"Oh, dear," said Grace, sighing, "how much better it sounds than it looks!"

Need and Needs.

Perhaps many persons have wondered why we are taught to say "He need not do that" instead of "He needs not do that," as the singular pronoun, he, requires under ordinary conditions the singular form of the verb. The reason is that in a sentence of that kind, a negative sentence, expressing requirement or obligation, "need" becomes an auxiliary and takes no change of termination in the third person singular. This exception is laid down in the grammars.

The Iron Crown.

The iron crown of Lombardy, so called from the narrow iron band within it supposed to have been beaten out of one of the nails used at the crucifixion, was probably first worn by Agilulph at his coronation in 591. The historic crown after gracing the brows of such sovereigns as Charlemagne, Henry of Luxemburg, Frederick IV., Charles V. and the great Napoleon was in 1866 given up to Victor Emmanuel and is now preserved with great care at Monza, near Milan.

Extravagance.

"This is your little sister, Tommy," said the father, showing him the baby. "You will love her dearly, will you not?"

"Yes, of course," replied Tommy, inspecting the latest arrival, "but it'll cost a great deal to keep her, won't it?"

"I presume so."

"Yes," said Tommy, with a long drawn breath, "and when I asked you the other day to buy me a white rabbit you said you couldn't afford it."

This Is a Fact.

"When a man loves a girl in a novel he raves about her through forty chapters. In real life he never mentions her name."

"What's the application?"

"Merely that realism in a love story is not possible."

Still Faithful.

Mlle. Suzanne—Is that young man still under the window? Maid—Well, mademoiselle, he's running around in the snow to keep himself warm, but he goes in the shape of a heart all the time.—Bon Vivant.

Going to law is losing a cow for the sake of a cat.—Chinese Proverb.

One thousand delegates are expected from New York Saturday to the Republican State convention in Chicago.

ORANGE JUICE AND HEALTH

For Stomach and Skin.

Few of us realize what an important part the skin plays in keeping us well or making us ill.

The millions of tiny glands, or pores, are intended to rid the system of waste matter, which the blood brings to the skin. It is a well-known medical fact that the healthy skin carries off more Urea or waste matter than the kidneys. Just think how much poison remains in the system when there is any skin trouble.

The skin and stomach are intimately associated. Find a person with a dry, harsh skin and you will find one who suffers with indigestion or constipation, and both, usually.

Both may be relieved by a judicious use of orange juice. Both can be cured by taking the juice of an orange every morning before breakfast, and taking "Fruit-a-tives" at night. "Fruit-a-tives" are fruit juices in tablet form. The fresh juices of oranges, apples, figs and prunes are separated from the pulp, and then combined in such a way that the medicinal action is intensified.

Orange juice alone will not cure Skin, Stomach or Bowel troubles. But when taken in connection with "Fruit-a-tives," a positive cure results. "Fruit-a-tives" may be obtained at all dealers or will be sent on receipt of price—50c a box—6 for $2.50. "Fruit-a-tives" Limited, Ottawa.

Overcome by Gas.

Stratford, June 13.—Overcome by the fumes of gasoline, Antonio Pasquale, an Italien workman, was suffocated in an underground tank late yesterday. With a companion he had gone to the tank for the purpose of getting gasoline, when he staggered and fell forward unconscious, and when taken out was quite dead. His companian was also overcome by the fumes, but revived.

William McCaffrey, farmer, of Ellice Township, fell from the top of a heavy wagon, loaded with lumber, last night and was run over. His back was badly injured, probably broken, his chest crushed and arms bruised.

Deciding Thaw's Fate.

New York, June 13.—Arguments on the question of whether Harry K. Thaw will be recommitted to the Matteawan Hospital for the Criminal Insane, or whether sent to a non-criminal insane institution, were argued here before Justice Morschaus of Poughkeepsie late yesterday.

District Attorney Jerome opposed the move to place Thaw elsewhere than in Matteawan. The attorneys for Thaw have tried to obtain Mr. Jerome's consent to Thaw's confinement in some private asylum, but without success. The grounds on which yesterday's application will be based are not known.

Leaps Five Stories.

Watertown, N.Y., June 13.—Chas. B. McCormick, aged 39, an attorney, and brother of Henry J. McCormick, the former New York Central Railway claim agent, now under arrest on charges of forgery involving alleged heavy embezzlements of railroad funds, committed suicide yesterday by jumping from the top of a five-storey office building to the pavement.

McCormick was arrested Thursday night on a warrant charging him with having participated with his brother in an alleged fraudulent settlement.

Whaling Steamer Lost.

San Francisco, June 13.—A private cable from Nome received in this city says that the whaling steamer Wm. Baylis has been lost in the ice pack in Anadyr Bay, Siberia. It is believed her crew was rescued by the whaler Bowhead, and are now on board the steam whaler Jeanette.

Assembly Concludes.

ROYAL TRIP TO RUSSIA IMPORTANT

King Edward Sails From Russia After Successful Visit

Reval, June 11.—The meeting between King Edward and Emperor Nicholas ended last night in accordance with the pre-arranged programme. In every way it has been a complete success. The King and Emperor lunched yesterday on the Russian imperial yacht Standart and dined together on the Royal yacht Victoria and Albert. No further speeches were made.

The King, who was appointed a Russian Admiral, had a conference with the Russian Foreign Minister, M. Iswolsky and the latter also had another long conference with Sir Charles Harding, Permanent Under-Secretary of the British Foreign Office, on the Macedonia, Persian and other important questions.

Last night dancing was kept up on both decks of the Victoria and Albert until nearly midnight, all the members of the Royal party remaining on deck. The Emperor pressed King Edward to delay his departure, but at two o'clock this morning the Albert and Victoria with the escorting fleet, sailed homeward. No salutes were fired.

At the dinner given by the Czar on board the imperial yacht Standart, the Czar, in welcoming King Edward, referred appreciatively to the satisfactory settlement of the Anglo-Russian questions. King Edward's reply was extremely cordial. Speaking with impressive energy of the Anglo-Russian convention, he said:

"I believe it will serve to knit more closely the bonds uniting the people of the two countries. I am certain that it will conduce to satisfy settlement in an amicable manner of some momentous questions in the future and that it will also help very greatly towards the maintenance of the general peace of the world. I hope this meeting may be followed before long by another opportunity for meeting your Majesties."

The last sentence is taken to confirm a report that the Czar and Czarina will visit England in the autumn.

POOR BLOOD BRINGS MISERY

Pale Faces and Pinched Cheeks Show That Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are Needed

Anaemia is written on the features of ninety women and girls out of every hundred. Unmistakable are the signs of "too little blood."

The weaker sex is assailed at all ages by the evils resulting from bloodlessness, from the girl who is weak and languid, with dull eyes, pale pinched cheeks, fitful appetite, and palpitating heart, to the woman who feels never well, with gnawing pains in the back, aching limbs and nervous headaches.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are specially valuable to women of all ages, for they possess the power of making in abundance the rich, red blood, without which no woman can have perfect health. They fill the starved veins with new blood so that enfeebled bodies are strengthened weak, nervous systems are fortified and robust health restored.

Miss Rose D'Argon, Waterloo, Que. follows the profession of teaching, which brings more than ordinary strain to all who follow this calling. Miss D'Argon says:—"It seemed as though I was gradually going into a decline, I lost all my strength, my appetite was very poor; I was pale and suffered from frequent headaches; I was often dizzy and the least exertion would leave me breathless. I doctored for a time, but with little or no benefit. One day I read in The Waterloo Journal the particulars of a case similar to mine cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and I determined to try them. In a few weeks there was a decided improvement in my condition and by the time I had taken seven or eight boxes I was again in the best of health, and able to enjoy myself as well as any of my young friends."

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WAS MURDERED IN THE STREET

New York Actor Was Attacked by Thugs.

New York, June 13.—While a dozen terrorized men and women looked on from the windows of surrounding houses in West 27th street, two daring highway men yesterday beat to death a man believed to be Albert Crosby of Boston, an actor, who had been playing in "The Road to Yesterday."

He was still breathing when witnesses of the tragedy ran up to him after the robbers had fled, but died in a hospital while the surgeans were preparing to trepine his shattered skull.

In a notebook found in the pockets of the victim was an entry reading,

"In case of accident notify my mother, 136 Morse street, Toronto, Canada."

DAVE HARTLEY INJURED IN A BAD FALL

Fell From Top of Hunter St. Bridge This Morning---Farmer Knocked the Ladder Down

David Hartley, the well known pedestrian, was the victim of a painful accident shortly before noon today. Mr. Hartley has been working during the past week with Duncan and Doupe, painting Hunter St. bridge. This morning he was working at the east end and was at the top of the ladder when a farmer who was driving into the city collided with the ladder, knocking it down. Mr. Hartley fell to the ground, a distance of about twenty feet. However he was able to get up and was driven to his home on Aylmer street where medical aid was summoned. His right ankle was badly sprained and he was considerably bruised.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, who was also working on the ladder, noticed that it was going to fall and grabbed the bridge, thus escaping injury.

MR. J. GIBSON HAS HORSE SHOE MADE BY FATHER 29 YEARS AGO

There is an interesting history in connection with the two horse shoes that were dug up in the Munro House yard the other day. The shoes were turned 29 years ago by Mr. W. A. Gibson, now a horse shoer of Vancouver, B.C., but who at the time the shoes were made carried on business at the corner of George and King streets occupying a portion of the site on which the building of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons is now located. The shoes were made for a racing mare owned by the late A. P. Morgan, proprietor of the Morgan House—now the Munro House. Mr. Gibson, who was widely known in Peterborough and vicinity, left the city for the West about twenty years ago.

Mr. Jack Gibson, veterinary student with Dr. Johnson, Chambers street, has one of the shoes in his possession, and will have it nickel plated and sent to his home in Vancouver to be kept as a souvenir. The shoe when weighed this morning, was found to tip the balance at 3 and a1-2 ounces, and would weigh four ounces when made.

BOARD OF WORKS HAD A BUSY SESSION LAST NIGHT

A meeting of the Board of Works was held last night when a large amount of business was transacted.

Those present were Ald. Phelan, chairman, Mayor Rush, Ald. Tovey, Morgan, Elliott, Bradburn and Buller.

Messrs. R. J. Kidd, J.B. Pentland, and R. Thompson Currie were present and addressed the Board, asking that Benson St. be widened.

The Government needed earth to fill up the Normal School grounds and they might assist in building a suitable sidewalk.

It was decided to ask Mr. T. E. Bradburn to interview the Government regarding the matter.

The request of the Board of Education to procure cement for walks at the Collegiate Institute was on the city's contract was left with the chairman.

A report was read from the city engineer regarding a stoppage in the sewer on Mark St.

It was decided to notify R. Sheehy to repair the sewer at once or to have the work done and charged to him if the repairs were not started in two days.

A report was read from the City Engineer suggesting that the owners of houses on Gilmour street and other streets to be graded and improved be notified to have all sewer, water and gas connections made before the work is started. His suggestion was acted upon.

Several applications for sidewalks in different parts of the city were received and also a number of communications in regard to other matters.

The board will meet again on Monday night at seven o'clock.

LETTER POSTING FACILITIES IN CITY ARE NOW COMPLETE

Eight parcel receptacles were placed in position to-day by the post office department. They are big boxes in which are to be posted only parcel papers, and are at the following locations;—Corner of Hunter and George streets. Smith and McDonnel, Rubidge and Hunter, Park and Charlotte, Aylmer and Charlotte, Perry and George, and on George street in front of the G.T.R. ticket office.

This makes 36 receptacles altogether for mails in the city—28 letter boxes and 8 parcel receptacles. The system is now complete and the first collection under the new contract will be made by Mr. Alf. Kingscote on Monday morning. There is not a single one of the old style letter boxes in the city now, all of them having been taken down and replaced by new ones. The old boxes have been shipped to the post office department, Toronto.

Assignee's Notice

TO CREDITORS

In the Matter of ANDREW GRAHAM of the City of Peterborough, in the County of Peterborough, Insolvent:

Notice is hereby given that the above-named insolvent has made an assignment to the undersigned assignee of all his estate and effects for the general benefit of his creditors, under R.S.O., 1897, chap. 147, and amending acts.

A meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of William Henry Moore over number 136 Hunter St., in the said city of Peterboro, on Thursday, the Eighteenth of June, 1908, at 2.30 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of receiving a statement of his affairs, appointing inspectors, fixing their remuneration, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally.

All persons claiming to rank upon the estate of the insolvent must file their claims, proved by affidavit, with the said Assignee, prior to the date of the said meeting, stating what securities they have and otherwise complying with the provisions of the said statute.

Notice is further given that after the Twenty-fifth day of June, 1908, the Assignee will distribute the assets amongst the parties entitled, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have received notice, and will not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons of whose claims he shall not then have had notice.

Dated 12th June, 1908.

MONEY LEFT TO BOWMANVILLE

A Bowmanville despatch says:—The Council have been notified from a solicitor at Washington, U.S., that the late James McGill, whose death was announced last week and left a large portion of his fortune to the town of Bowmanville, and asking that a solicitor be appointed to take charge of it. The Council held a special meeting on Saturday evening and appointed Mr. R. R. Loscombe, K.C. Just how much the sum will be is not known, but the Washington solicitor in his letter said that the town's interests were large.

Mrs. David Lindenborn, of New D'York, wife of a wealthy art dealer, let her husband to return to the stage as chorus girl.

MANY ATTENDED CAMP MEETING LAST EVENING

Large Number Camped on the Grounds—Sermon by Rev. J. C. Davidson Last Night

There was another large attendance at the second meeting of the Free Methodists at the Driving park last night. District Elder Burnham was in charge and an inspiring sermon was delivered by Rev J. C. Davidson of Tyrone, Pa., on the subject of Judas, selling the Lord for thirty pieces of silver. He referred to the sin of covetousness to which was largely due to dishonest acts committed.

Rev. A. Sims, of Toronto, is expected here tonight and will preach tomorrow. A large number of Free Methodists are coming to the city for over Sunday. A. H. Norrington, District Elder of the Eastern District is expected here for the following Sabbath.

Young Man Fined To-day for Refusing to Move on—Police Intend to Stop Standing on the Corners

For refusing to obey the command of P. C. Meagher to "move on" last evening, Joseph Sullivan was fined two dollars in the police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty.

He was standing at the corner of George and Hunter streets talking to a friend when P. C. Megher came along and ordered him to move on and he refused to do so, stating that he wouldn't move on for five minutes.

The practice of men standing on the street corners thus obstructing teh way of pedestrians has become altogether too common and it is the intention of the police to enforce the law in this matter.

His Worship said that he was particularly anxious to see this practice stopped. Ladies were continually complaining of the difficulty they experienced in passing the street corners.

CHARGE WAS NOT PROVEN

Butcher Not Guilty of Selling Meat in Less Quantities Than a Quarter

Henry Faux was charged with selling meat in less quantities than a quarter at the police court this morning. He pleaded not guilty and after hearing the evidence, His Worship dismissed the case.

Mr. George Ball, market clerk, said that on Thursday last, Mr. Faux was on the west side of the market. He went to collect the fee and pulling the cover off the meat he saw several roasts of beef.

Robert Howden said that he saw Mr. Faux stop at Mr. Fowler's door but couldn't say what he sold.

P. C. Adams swore that Mr. Faux had a shop but Mrs. Faux said yesterday that it had not been used for some time.

Mrs. Fowler said she had ordered meat from Faux and he delivered it.

DIDN'T WANT TO BUY RING

Two Strangers Tried to Sell at Low Price to Mr. Frank Wood of Smith Street

Mr. Frank Wood, a young Englishman residing on Smith street, reports that a couple of strangers tried to pass off a ring on him last night.

They said the ring was valued at twenty-five dollars, but stated they needed the money and would sell it for two dollars. Mr. Wood refused and they offered to reduce the price. He would not consider the proposition at all however. The men said they were going to Toronto but stated they had no ready money, outside some small change. They had tickets, however, and made toward the G. T. R. station for the purpose of taking the train for Toronto by way of Port Hope.

LOOKED LIKE SMALL FLEET AT THE WOLFE ST WHARF

The Wolfe street wharf was the scene of quite a congregation in navigation this morning and the sight of so many steamers reminded one of a big and busy shipping centre. There were no less than five boats and six scows there at one time.

The Beaver was at the wharf with a scow, the City of Peterborough was tied up in preparation for her Saturday trip down the river. The Majestic came down with a scow load of stone and was followed shortly after by the Dawn, which also had a scow loaded with stone. The Monarch came up and then the Beaver. Besides the the boats and scows mentioned there boats and scows mentioned there were other scows being unloaded.

Fifteen or twenty teams were at work all day hauling stone and lumber from the wharf. The overcrowding of the boats proves that the Wolfe street wharf is altogether too small.

A HANDSOME SUMMER HOME BEING BUILT

Mr. Rich. Hall Erecting Beautiful Summer Home at Stony Lake

Mr. Richard Hall returned from the lakes last evening, where he had been spending the past couple of days at his island. Mr. Hall is erecting a handsome new cottage, his former summer home, it will be remembered, having been burned on Dominion Day of last year. Mr. Jas. Graham, of this city, with six other men are busily engaged on the new structure, and it is expected that it will be ready for occupation by the first of July. The new cottage will be of Bungalow design. It will contain six large, airy rooms, and will be surrounded by a wide verandah. It is beautifully situated on the highest part of the island. When completed it will be one of the finest on the lakes.

MANY FARM HANDS ARE REQUIRED

AFTER TREATMENT

Peter E. Summers, of Kalamazoo, Mich., relates his experience:

"I was troubled with Nervous Debility for many years. I lay it to indiscretion and excesses in early youth. I became very despondent and didn't care whether I worked or not. I imagined everybody who looked at me guessed my secret. Imaginative dreams at night weakened me—my back ached, had pains in the back of my head, hands and feet were cold, tired in the morning, poor appetite, fingers were shaky, eyes blurred, hair loose, memory poor, etc. Numbness in the fingers set in and the doctor told me he feared paralysis. I took all kinds of medicines and tried many first-class physicians, wore an electric belt for three months, went to Mt. Clemens for baths, but received little benefit. While at Mt. Clemens I was induced to consult Drs. Kennedy & Kennedy, though I had lost all faith in doctors. Like a drowning man I commenced the New Method Treatment and it saved my life. The improvement was like magic—I could feel the vigor going through the nerves. I was cured mentally and physically. I have sent them many patients and will continue to do so."

SPORTING NEWS

HOW ABOUT MOHL-ROGERS BOUT PROPOSED TO TAKE PLACE HERE ON THE 17TH?

W. B. Naylor the manager of Yankee Rogers, has written to the sporting editor of the Review concerning the proposed match between Yankee Rogers and Fritz Mohl, the big German heavyweight.

It was proposed some time ago to have the bout pulled off here at the Brock street rink on June 17th, and a short time ago the Review had a line on the standing of the two men in the wrestling world.

Since then, however, no definite steps have been taken towards the consummation of an encounter between the two big mat artists.

On June 17th, the date proposed, Cole Bros. circus appears here and it seems as though that would be a most acceptable time on which to have the match take place. There are many people who would go to the circus in the afternoon and take in the match at night. A large number of visitors would be here from the surrounding small towns, to whom a wrestling bout between such world-renowned grapplers as Rogers and Mohl would prove a big magnet.

HOW MOHL AND ROGERS MET; A SURPRISE FOR YANKEE

In view of the bout suggested to take place here on the 17th of this month between Rogers and Mohl, it might be of interest to mention how the two happened to meet—for they have come together on the mat. A short time ago Yankee Rogers had a 12 weeks' engagement with a burlesque company, "The Champagne Girls," and offered to meet all comers, a purse being given to anyone who would stay with him for twenty-five minutes.

MOHL STAYED.

One night at the Theatre Royal in Montreal a big fellow stepped up from the audience to take up the challenge. When he had stripped and stepped on the mat it was seen that he was a man of splendid development and when he was in action it was also evident that he had a great knowledge of the mat game. He had no difficulty in staying with Rogers for the twenty-five minutes and the money was his. After the bout was over it was found out that Rogers' big and clever opponent was none other than Fritz Mohl, the celebrated German wrestler.

WHAT THE ANTI-BETTING MEANS TO RACING IN NEW YORK STATE

Will Affect Many Who Earn Their Livings in Various Ways on Race Tracks—Means Much to Horse Breeding—Arrests Already Made

That Anti-Betting law means more to the horse racing game in New York State than a mere surface review of affairs would suggest. It affects a good many interests in connection with racing in a good many ways.

First, take the bookies, it puts them out of business on the New York tracks altogether. Others affected are the owners, the jockeys, the trainers, the stablemen, the rubbers, the exercise boys and the cooks. It kills the sport for those who take only a spectator's interest. The breeding of blue-blooded horses will receive a big set back on the many stock farms for New York State is the racing state of the union.

Speaking of the financial disaster in the way of salaries it will cause a table of salaries of what the men who make their living on the big circuit tracks would be of interest.

It is given below—

Trainers, $150 to $200 and expenses.

Stablemen, $30 and board.

Exercise boys, $25 and board.

Of course the remuneration of the above often deviates, according to the worth of the employees, but what is given represents the average earnings of those who are employed in the capacities mentioned. Then there are dust, but by all means greatest, the jockey's themselves. The most expert monarchs of the pigskin receive princely salaries, Walter Miller, the celebrated rider, making $60,000 a year. Others good enough for the cosmopolitan courses and of course only the best have mounts there receive from $5,000 to $40,000, their annual stipend.

What the racing men most object to is the allowing of betting to be carried on in the poolrooms, and not on the tracks. It is said that other states of the union are likely to pass a similar bill and the follower of the racing game in conversation with the Review this morning prophesied that the law would eventually come into force in Canada.

The provisions of the Anti Betting Bill are being carried out, to the letter and several arrests were made yesterday for its infraction at Gravesend track, New York.

THE SENIOR WEST ENDS WINNERS

Defeated Invincibles in Boswell's Field Last Night by 14-12

A close game in which there was good hitting was played at Boswell's Field last night when the senior West Ends defeated the Invincibles by 14-12 in a five innings game.

G. Minorgan gave satisfaction to both teams as umpire.

The teams were as follows:

WEST ENDS—
Kane, pitcher.
H Callihan, 1st base.
Cronin, 2nd base.
O'Hearn, 3rd base.
O Callihan, ss.

HARRISON LEFT THIS MORNING

Has Gone to Belleville for His Four Hour Walk There With Cooper To-night

Jimmy Harrison left this morning for Belleville on the 8.30 G.T.R. train for his four hour walk against Cooper in the Belleville rink tonight. He was accompanied by his trainer Jack Murphy.

He is trained down to the minute and at present shows more speed than he ever has done. There is much uncertainty as to whether he or Cooper will win as the latter is a speedy strider, but Harrison will be able to go the whole four hours at a mighty fast clip.

THE GAME WAS A CLOSE ONE

Athletics With Connors in the Box Lost to Y Nine by 2-1

The most interesting practice game played here this season took place last night at Riverside Park, when the Y.M.C.A. nine defeated the Athletics in an exhibition game by 2—1. The Y's had on a splendid lineup and the Athletics had seven of their regular men and two others, who were taking on for the game.

The "Y" batters did excellent work Patterson twirling a stellar game and allowed only one hit to be secured off his delivery. He made the best showing he has this year.

Jack Connors pitched for the Athletics and handed out a nice assortment. He had great speed and the Y.M.C.A. batters got but three hits.

The Athletics made their run in the first innings and their opponents obtained their two tallies in the fourth. The Y.M.C.A. team was as follows:—Patterson, p; McDonald, c; Davidson, 1b; Porter, 2b; Pickard, 3b; Cressman, s.s.; Sanderson, r f.;

COBOURG PRESS ON GAME THERE

The Cobourg Sentinel-Star has the following account of last Saturday's game:

Cobourg lost their game here with Peterborough last Saturday by the score of 7-6. Peterborough got an early start in the game through erratic fielding, and Cobourg steadily pulled up, but with the bases full in the ninth, and two out, the best that Turpin could do was a grounder to the pitcher. Peterborough got three in the second. Edmunds got a hit. Lawson knocked one to left that King just touched. Edmunds going to third. Cheatham got a hit, Edmunds scoring, and Lawson going to third. In the fourth they added three more. Lawson got a hit, so did Cheatham; Lawson scored on Clement's hit, and Lawson scored on Burns' third hit. Burns stole second and third and scored on Murphy's out. In the sixth Burns scored on his hit and wild throwing on the bases. Cobourg's first run came in the fourth on King's two-bagger, and infields outs. In the sixth they got four more. McKinnon made a hit; King made a homer, into the lake, both coming in. Burge got in on Cheatham's error; Turpin sent him to third base, and Floyd brought him in on a long drive to right. They got another in the seventh on King's triple into the lake, and Bulger's hit. In the eighth and ninth they had men on second and third but the necessary hit was not forthcoming. Farnham a recruit from Rochester, started in to pitch for Cobourg, but he was taken out of the box in the fourth, after three hits and four runs had been scored off him. McKinnon went into the box and pitched the best ball that he ever pitched only one hit being made out of the infield. Cobourg's fielding behind Pitcher Farnham was very erratic however, but they seemed to steady down when McKinnon went in. Rosevear of Port Hope was the umpire, and he gave Peterborough two runs on rank decisions. To make matters worse he had to even up later. It was certainly the worst exhibition of umpiring Rosevear ever gave here.

TURF

It looks as if a good fast class could be got together of Hazel Bell, owned by Mr. McCarthy; William C. by Mr. McDowell; Prairie Oyster by A. Wake; Fox Pugh, by James Noble—in fact, there are a good lot of them that will be clipping off halves in around .08 and .09 and even better.—Toronto Sunday World.

SPORTING COMMENT

How is it that the Canadian Olympic Committee is not going to foot the bill in connection with the trip to the Olympic games of Con. Walsh, Canada's champion hammer thrower? He is going on his own responsibility. What's the reason please?

WALKING

P. G. Towns of Douro, who has recently done some pretty fast walking is looked upon to start in the six day walk at St. Catharines.

CRICKET PRACTICE LAST EVENING

Largest That Has Yet Been Held ---Scratch Game Being Played To-day

A largely attended cricket practice was held last evening at Nicholls Oval. In fact there were more out last night than on any previous occasion, seventeen being the total number out. The team is getting into fine shape for their game with Warkworth on Thursday, June 25th. This afternoon a scratch match is being played by two picked teams.

WILL WRESTLE IN THE FALL

Hurtubise Says He Needs a Man Somewhat Heavier Than Himself to Work Him Out

Gene Hurtubise will not wrestle again until next fall. He says the weather is too warm for that strenuous work. However, he will take up the game again when the cool autumn comes.

Gene says what he needs is a man about 20 pounds heavier than himself to work out with. He was never up against a bigger man than himself until he met Yankee Rogers, and a fast man who weighs more than himself would do him a world of good in his workouts.

WALKERS OFF FOR ST. CATHERINES

Stevens and Spencely of Peterboro' and Doidge of Lakefield Went Early This Morning

Charlie Stevens, his trainer, and Spencely, of Peterborough, and Doidge, of Lakefield, who tied Smaile for first place in the walk in the Cement Town, left for St. Catharines early this morning on the C.P.R. to take part in the six day walk which commences there on Monday, June 15th, at the Phelps street rink. All the men are in good shape. Harrison leaves for St. Kitt's immediately after his four hour match with Cooper in Belleville to-night.

The walk at St. Catharines on Monday will be for the championship of Canada.

P.C.I. NINE TRIM THE CHIEFTAINS

Runners up in the Church League Defeated This Morning by 15-8 Lees Struck Out 8 Men

The Chieftains met their first defeat to-day at the hands of the Collegiate Institute nine, who trimmed them to the tune of 15—8. Errors were numerous on account of the roughness of the school grounds, but otherwise the game was faster than the score would indicate. There were no long drives or sensational plays. The Chieftains were weakened by the absence of Munro, Turner and Hall but at their best they are not a match for the scholars.

The teams lined up as follows:—

Chieftains—Minorgan, p and 2nd b; Crane, c; Brown, lf; Kirns, 2b and p; Wade, 3b.; Smith, 1st; Burritt, ss; Wallis, cf; H. Lees, rf.

P.C.I.—Conroy, 1b; Gaele, ss; Dobbin, c; C. Lees, p; Gibson, cf; Richardson, 3rd b; M. O'Brien, 2b; J. O'Brien, lf.

Struck out, by Lees, 8; by Minorgan, 0; by Kirns, 3. Umpire, S. Wade.

A return game will be played next Saturday morning.

BASEBALL

The C.L.S. nine will play the Peterborough T.A.S. at T.A.S. Point, near Peterborough.—Lindsay Warder.

The Cobourg ball team registered at the Oriental to-day.

Mr. James Bernier, Kingston, is registered at the Oriental.

Mr. Wm. Dunn, of London, has signed a certificate with the local club and will be found on the lineup against the Athletics of Peterborough.—Port Hope Guide.

THE RING

Springfield, Ohio, June 12.—Joe Walcot of Boston, last night easily defeated Charles Kemp of this city in a bout scheduled to go ten rounds.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES

This afternoon two City League games are being played at Nicholls Oval. The first one between T.A.S. and Wellingtons, and in the second the West Ends meet the Strathconas

FRANCO-BRITISH EXHIBITION LONDON

The Franco-British Exhibition in London this year is the great attraction, not only for the residents of the United Kingdom, but for people the United Kingdom and France, but for the people of all countries, and it is estimated that the attendance will reach from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 during the life of the undertaking. Canada is well represented with the Dominion Government building and the railway buildings, and the country will no doubt receive more publicity in the old country than ever before. The Grand Trunk Railway System have erected a magnificent pavilion in the Court of Progress, one of the ideal sections of the Exhibition and where the building is surrounded by beautiful gardens laid out by a noted French landscape artist. The Grand Trunk had the distinction of having their exhibit completed for the opening day of the exhibition, in fact, they were the only exhibitor ready for that event.

Thousands of people have already visited this building and from the many encomiums that have been passed upon it, this exhibit is a great success and a credit to the Grand Trunk. The collection of natural fruits from Ontario, and the fish and game trophies, from the Canadian woods and waters, create great interest, while the grains and grasses of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are much admired. Two record moose heads, worth $1000 each, are objects of much interest.

The Electric lighting of the building inside and outside has been arranged on a lavish scale.

The lines of the building are carefully followed by small electric lamps fitted with gold stars about 500 of these being required for this purpose, while the allegorical group of figures over the entrance is well shewn up at night by concealed lights and over the group is suspended a beautiful cut glass brilliant star, representing Canada as the "Star of Empire."

The interior lighting is very effective, the whole space being flooded with orange light from the large flame lamps suspended from the lantern of the roof so that the service of light is from the same point either by day or night.

The private offices are lighted by electricity and also heated by this means.

The lettering of the exterior of the building is executed in French and English. The French flag as well as the Canadian flag and a series of banners on which are the names of principal cities in Canada float over the top of the structure.

A DISCOVERY

New York, June 9.—Fifteen New York veterinarians made the discovery yesterday that the dose of anaesthetic required to put a rhinoceros to sleep is a pound and three-quarters of chloroform and half a pound of ether.

This accession to veterinarian science was made during an operation to remove cataracts on the eyes of Mogul, the Indian rhinoceros in the Bronx Zoo. Mogul after succumbing to more than half a gallon of anaesthetic remained under its influence for half an hour, and at the end of that time began to munch hay as though nothing had happened.

Through a blow on the head in his native jungle Mogul nearly lost the sight of both eyes, and the operation was agreed upon after careful examination.

The big problem was to tell how much anaesthetic it was safe to give. The hide of the pachyderm was so thick that no pulse was obtainable, and the stethoscope was useless. By means of a derrick and harness Mogul was thrown. A roll of cotton batting, stuffed in a cone of brown paper, was used to administer the anaesthetic. Before the rhinoceros was put to sleep the fumes nearly overcame the doctors and keepers. The operation consumed half an hour. It will take a month to tell whether it is successful.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

THE EAST RIDING

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—I am a Conservative and worked hard for Thompson and would do it again but I want to say right here that Mr. McNulty did not deserve the cold throw out that he got. He is a good clean man and a good man and I want to say that I do not think he was used right. When we ran Dr. O'Sullivan we stuck to him and put him in by three hundred. Now the Liberals ran an equally as good man and put him out by seven or eight hundred. Now, Mr. Editor, the eye-opener which was got up was circulated by both parties to my knowledge but the men who did it don't represent the both parties and never did. Mr. Thompson told what he thought about it and he did right. We are all good friends in the East anyway and want to keep so. It is too late in the day for firebrands. The people have all got both Catholic and Protestant to know each other too well for that. A few hotheads will not be able to spoil our friendship over here. But I'm sorry for Mr. McNulty all the same. A hundred would have been enough, without giving him a slap in the face like that. I believe Thompson and Sexsmith are both my way of thinking.

Yours,
PROTESTANT

UNDENOMINATIONALISM

To the Editor of the Review.

Sir,—Many of your Anglican readers will be interested in the facts that I desire to lay before them respecting what I call church politics; and the general public also will be helped to a right understanding of matters that are constantly being discussed.

In state politics the aim of the Conservative party is to maintain and uphold the British constitution, the threefold rule of king, lords and commons; the historic line of monarchs from Egbert, first King of England, together with the traditional court ritual, by which the dignity and authority of the monarch is set forth and manifested, and the nation honored in him as its representative.

The Reform party is no doubt practically loyal, but there appears to be an arriere pensee, underlying all their undertakings looking forward to the annexation of Canada with the United States and the republican simplicity of the White House is more congenial to their tastes and feelings, than the state functions of the Royal Court. As a matter of fact this tendency to desire the severance of Canada from Britain has manifested itself in the Fenian Raid and the revolt in the Northwest under Louis Riel.

And it is to be observed that the word Reform, which is accepted as the proper designation of this party, implies a dissatisfaction with the present state of things issuing in constant efforts to bring about a change.

Now contrast this state of things with church politics. The constitution of the Anglican church is set forth in the Prayer Book and articles. At their ordination the clergy solemnly promise that they will "administer the doctrine and the sacrament and the discipline of the Church hath received the same," that is to say, that they will preach and minister the sacrament and conduct Divine service according to the doctrines and rules of the Prayer Book. There are certain doctrines taught in the Anglican Formularies, in the Church Catechism, in the Baptism, Communion and Ordination Services, known as Baptismal Regeneration, the Real Presence of Christ in the Lord's Supper and the Apostolic Succession. All the members of the Church, as well as the Clergy tacitly accept these doctrines, inasmuch as they have, as children learnt and repeated the Church Catechism, and continue to teach it to their children, and constantly take part in the services. Those, then who are faithful to their ordination vows and hold and teach all these doctrines, and conduct divine service according to the rules of the Prayer Book and the laity who are loyal to this standard are Conservative Churchmen.

But there are many who reject these doctrines and set at naught the rules and usages of the church, who are dissatisfied with the prayer book as it is, and are working for the revision of the Liturgy, to bring it into harmony with the teaching and methods of Nonconformists, so that the Anglican Church may then be annexed to the ecclesiastical republic of protestant sects. These constitute the Reform Party.

But now we have to notice a third party known by the name of undenominationalists. With the description of this party by a prominent evangelical of London, Eng., Rev. W. J. Somerville, Rector of St. George's SoYuthwark, I will conclude this letter: I am opposed root and branch to undenominationalism. From every point of view this craze now so fashionable is to be deplored. It is either virtually an extreme form of nonconformity, or it stands for a backboneless sort of believe which you like system. It is largely responsible for the wide-spread dislike of a definite form of belief now so prevalent, for the view that one the form of worship or belief or church is as good as another, that the differences that separate churches are supremely unimportant." For forms of faith let senseless bigots fight. While wishing Godspeed to all other religious bodies in their religious efforts, surely the time has come to remember that we are Churchmen and that the church at the present juncture needs all the help and support that can be given her. There is not the remotest chance of the Pope ever gaining supremacy in the English Church, but there is a very real danger of the vast masses of our people forgetting God altogether and putting Him completely out of their lives.

Yours truly,
E. SOWARD.

INDIAN RIVER NEWS

EVANS—SHEARER

Indian River, June 13. — On Wednesday, June 10, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at Maplehurst, the residence of Mr. Andrew Shearer, when his youngest daughter, Louisa, was married to Mr. Andrew Evans of Otonabee. Promptly at one o'clock to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. I. Breckenridge, sister of the bride, the wedding party proceeded to the lawn where, under a beautiful arch of evergreens, decorated with flowers and ferns, the ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Webb, pastor of Murray Street Baptist church, Peterboro., assisted by Mr. N. McNaughton, B.A., Toronto.

The bride, who was given away by her brother John, wore a dainty gown of silk point d'esprit over white silk, and bridal veil with wreath of lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Lillian Duff, who was bridesmaid, wore white silk and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was ably supported by his brother Mr. Harry Evans.

The groom's present to the bride was a beautiful gold necklace set with amethysts and pearls, and to the bridesmaid a handsome brooch, also set with pearls. To the groomsman was presented a watch fob.

After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where a most elaborate dinner was served. Several hours were spent in social intercourse and strolling about the grounds after which the party drove to the C.P.R. station to witness the departure of the bride and groom.

Amid showers of rice and good wishes the happy couple boarded the train for a trip to New Ontario and other points.

The bride's going away gown was of tan colored silk, trimmed with applique, with hat to match.

SUDDEN DEATH OF LOCKMASTER

Rosedale, June 12.—Mr. Wm. McIntosh, postmaster, lockmaster and bridge tender at Rosedale was found dead in his buggy about 10.30 yesterday morning opposite the residence of Mr. George Gale, about half a mile from his own home. His colt got out of pasture and he procured Mr Gale's horse and buggy to go back and look for the animal. His whip was found on the roadside about half a mile from Mr. Gale's which indicated about where Mr McIntosh had been overcome. The horse had apparently walked the rest of the way home without guidance.

A boy coming down to the well for water noticed the condition of affairs and called Mr. Gale in from the fields.

The deceased was a brother of Mrs. W. J. Doughty, Smith street, city.

BABEB SLEPT MOTHER SHOT

the only person who ever paid the death penalty in this county. It came out at the trial that he had a long criminal record, that he had the alias Fox, and was a desperate character. Jeremiah Payne died a few years ago and the daughter, who slept in her cradle when the murder was committed was placed in the House of Refuge about a year ago. She has always been a partial cripple, suffering from a deformity of the feet. She is happy in the county institution and talks interestingly to the visitors, the majority of whom are deeply interested in her when they have heard the remarkable incident of her babyhood.

Another interesting inmate is an old man of eighty years, who once was the possessor of a neat fortune. His condition at the present time is not due to drink or gambling or any of the other causes that frequently lead to the downfall of such who once had money. He was a lover of horses, not fast ones, but just good horses. He purchased nine stallions in the Old Country for $18,000, practically all the money he had. He was bringing them to Canada but the boat in which they were being brought across the Atlantic was wrecked and the horse were drowned. With all his money gone, the man gave up hope. he did not try to recuperate his loss, but kept getting in poorer and poorer circumstances until he wound up in the Peterborough House of Refuge. There he will likely spend the remainder of his days. If the worse had been the best," he might have been a wealthy and influential citizen.

Another of the male inmates is one whose lack of funds is due to his irability to resist the temptation to tarry long where the spirits flowed. His face and accent let alone his name shows that the Green Isle was the land of his birth. He was employed with the Hilliard Lumber Company as a foreman for forty years drawing $30 per month in the summer and $50 in the winter time. He is a bachelor and himself is authority for the statement that he could have a snug little fortune of $40,000 if he had saved his money. But he let it slip through his fingers and the state has to provide for him in his declining years.

Sewing is the favorite occupation among the old ladies and some of them are remarkably clever with the needle. On a cot in one of the women's wards was a pieced quilt that had been made by a lady eighty-four years of age, a Miss Metcalfe, formerly of Keene. She was a dressmaker in her younger days and is still exceedingly clever in the art of sewing. The quilt is one of much beauty and is greatly admired by visitors. The maker of it is very proud of her handiwork and is pleased to show everyone how it was done.

Incidents of an equally interesting nature could be related about many other inmates but those given above are sufficient to show that there are many interesting personages under the care of Mr. and Mrs. Beavis. A half day spent at the big institution is filled with many interesting and amusing incidents.

BABIES LINED BRIDAL PATH

Practical Joke on a Pittsburg Couple—Assortment of Tiny Youngsters

Pittsburg, June 11—Just about the meanest trick that blushing bride and groom ever had played on them, was handed out to Frederick Hoffman and his bride, who was Miss Alice Elizabeth Welch, as they left the German Evangelical Protestant church after their marriage Saturday evening. Twenty-six babies, some white, some black, some dirty, a few clean, some smiling, but mostly bawling at the top of their little voices, were lined up on either side of the walk that leads from the door of the church to the street. Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman came out of the church to the strains of a wedding march, and just behind them came their attendants, Ernest Thornton and Miss Lena Hoffman. The first sounds that caught their ears from the street were baby cries, and the first sight they witnessed was the two lines of babies — millions of them —it seemed. As quick as they could and without one glance behind the members of the bridal party got into carriages and hurried away, followed by the screams of the babies and the laughter of the friends who had put up the job. The babies had been gather up among the tenement houses along Strawberry alley. All kinds of vengeance are threatened by the bride and groom.

NEEDLE INTO A FAT WOMAN

Holy Ghoster Thought She Had a Devil—Row Broke up Meeting

Philadelphia June 12.—Two hundred and fifty pounds of "Sister" Smith and 2 1-2 inches of needle in close communion broke with a whoop and a yell at "Holy Ghoster" prayer meeting last night.

Everything was going along smoothly until Mrs. Bella Smith appeared. As she toiled down the narrow aisle seeking a well supported seat, she drew the gaze of the "Ghosters" toward herself. Some of the less devout noticed that her step not only lacked rapidity and elasticity, but that she limped.

"It's the devil!" shouted one of the converted.

'G'way chile, it's my rheumatis!' retorted the perspiring sister.

"Let us drive Satan out of this 'sister' was the cry."

"Now, look ahere," spoke up the possessed one, "doan ye-all think I dunno' waht alls me. Specs I ain't had rheumatiz long enough to know it from de ole devil."

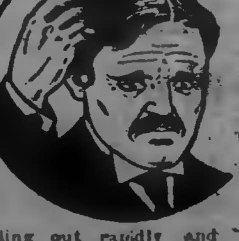
And then rheumatism, deviltry, prayer and everything else was lost in a lusty yell for Mrs. Smith. A policeman outside heard it and sent a "hurry waggon" call. Coma had given away to pandemonium, and the blue coat found Sister Smith rolling in agony among the devotees of faith healing.

"It's mah le—limb, man," she panted. "Some sonnah jabbed me while dey was prayin!"

Investigation revealed a long needle projecting from the rheumatic one's limb. It broke off in the struggle to withdraw it and about 2 1-2 inches remained beneath the surface. This fragment was removed at the hospital, but the meeting was irreparably broken up.

STOP THAT SCRATCHING

Just as long as you have dandruff your head will itch. It's the little microbes that are gnawing down into the hair roots. It may take a long time for these persistent pests to get down to the vital part but when they do they will destroy the life of the hair in a very short time.



"My hair was falling out rapidly and becoming grey when I heard of your guaranteed Hair Restorer, and, after using one bottle my hair stopped turning grey. The first application removed the itching, my hair stopped falling out and I now have a new and it is soft, glossy and pliable." Carrie Williams 844 Clinton Ave., South, Rochester, N. Y.

Parisian Sage, the delightful Hair Restorer, is guaranteed by W. Madill, Druggist, Peterborough, to stop falling hair, to cure dandruff and all diseases of the scalp or money back. It is the most refreshing hair dressing in the world. Ladies use it extensively, because it makes the hair beautiful, soft and luxuriant. 50 cents a bottle at W. Madill's, or by mail from Giroux Mfg. Co., Fort Erie, Ont.

INJURED WHILE SHEARING SHEEP

Young Man in Dummer Had Hand Severely Injured

Lakefield, June 12—While engaged in shearing sheep at his home in North Dummer, Mr. John Moore, son of Mr. Henry Moore, received a serious injury to his left hand. The shears accidentally slipped, running almost through the palm of his left hand and severing an artery. The wound bled profusely and Mr. Moore had to go to Warsaw where it was dressed by Dr. Munro.

WEDDING BELLS

HARRISON-NANCARROW

A wedding of special interest to the people of Campbellford was solemnized on Wednesday of last week, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nancarrow, Ranney street, when their second daughter, Edna, was married to Mr. W. S. Harrison, of Montreal, formerly G. T. R. agent here. The bright bright June weather added greatly to the enjoyment of the event. The bride wore an empire gown of white silk eolienne over taffeta with veil, and carried white roses, while the bridesmaid, Miss Lily McConnell, carried pink carnations and was beautifully gowned in pale blue silk dotted mull. The groom was assisted by Mr. Walter Tait, of town.

The groom's gift to the bride was a pendant of pearls and amethyst; to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch, and to the best man a moon-stone tie pin. Among the numerous gifts to the bride, all of which were exceptionally valuable and useful, was a handsome cabinet of silver from her brother, Walter, in Calgary. After the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. A. C. Reeves, the wedding breakfast was served. Telegrams of congratulations were received from friends in Calgary, Fernie, B.C., Detroit, Toronto, Montreal and other places.

The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Lowe and Miss Guelph, of Peterborough; Mrs. Chas. Groffa and Messrs. Chas. and Ted Harrison, Mimico; W. R. Morton, Hawkesbury; D. P. Macfarlane, Clairmont; Miss MacLaughlan, Norwood, and Mrs. Chas. McConnell, of Springbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison are well and favorably known here, and the best wishes of a host of friends for a happy wedded life follow them in which wish the Herald participates.

BIGAMIST WILL TEACH SCHOOL

Anderson Recently Sentenced at Renfrew Will be Employed in That Capacity in Penitentiary

Kingston Ont., June 12.—Anderson, the Renfrew bigamist, when he entered the penitentiary, became known as No. 501. He will likely be set to work to teach the penitentiary school, which occupies forty minutes during the dinner hour, and also a couple of hours in the evening. This school instruction is chiefly for the illiterate. During the day time he will be otherwise busy.

At present the penitentiary is overrun with excellent clerks, quite a number of this class having come recently to the prison. The penitentiary inmates have not totalled so high for some years. The prison population is at present fifty or sixty in excess of any time during the past two years.

HAS LORD KITCHENER BEEN SHELVED? PERSONA NON GRATA

New York, June 9.—A despatch from London to the Tribune says;—

"Lord Kitchener's term of office as commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, with a salary of $50,000 a year and allowances to the tune of half that amount, comes to an end two months hence, and he has absolutely declined to accept any extension thereof. In order that his good work of organization of the army in India may continue on the lines laid down by him, the Government has selected as his successor General Sir Beauchamp Duff, who, throughout his stay in India, has been his chief of staff, and his principal lieutenant.

"While Lord Kitchener is universally admitted by the British and foreign experts to have increased tenfold the military strength and efficiency of England, by his radical reorganization not only of the army itself, but of the entire system of defence, it is known that he is returning home with health impaired by his sojourn in India, and in a very disgruntled frame of mind. In fact, he is understood to consider himself badly used by the present Government. Only the other day, Lord Grenfell, his junior by several numbers on the list of generals, was appointed over his head to the dignity of field marshal. Another of his juniors, General Sir William Nicholson, has just been appointed chief of the General Staff of the entire British Army at home and abroad, an office analogous to that occupied by the great field marshal, Count Moltke, in connection with the German army at the time of his death. Still another junior, General Sir Neville Littleton, has just been assigned to the lucrative and important command of Ireland, which was considered to be of sufficient prestige to be awarded to Lord Roberts when he came home, after completing his term in India, covered with all the glories of the Afghan campaigns. Yet another junior, Sir John French, almost at the very foot of the list of generals, has lately been appointed inspector-general of the forces with a large salary.

"Thus, Lord Kitchener, after five years of brilliant work in India, is coming home to find that not only have all the most important offices which he had a right to look for on his return, have been newly filled with his juniors, but that the pledge of supreme command in the event of war has been given to one of them, notwithstanding the expectations that had been held out to him of that highest prized of a military career. His friends insist that when he first went out to India he was distinctly promised that his interests at home should not suffer, and that these promises had not been kept. Of course, the trouble is that Lord Kitchener is too imperious, and too intolerant of opposition and contradiction to be popular with the Ministers of the day and with those in authority. That is why he is returning home to find himself virtually shelved."

LAYING OF CORNER STONE OF THE NEW CATHOLIC CHURCH

Will Take Place To-morrow Afternoon at 3.30 O'clock—His Lordship Bishop O'Connor Will Perform the Ceremony.

The laying of the corner stone of the Catholic church being built in the south end of the city at Romaine and Aylmer streets will take place tomorrow afternoon. The ceremony will be an impressive one and will be performed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor.

There will be a very large attendance of the parishioners of St. Peter's and a great many persons of other denominations will also likely be present.

A procession of the men of St. Peter's parish will be formed at St. Peter's school at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will proceed in a body to the site of the new church at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer Sts. At 3.30 the ceremonies in connection with the function will begin. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor will be assisted by the local and visiting clergy from the surrounding community.

Rev. Father Roach, president of St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, will preach the sermon.

A feature of the occasion will be the singing of the psalms in Latin, by St. Peter's choir which will number from 50 to 75 choristers. The hymns in English will be sung by a choir of 600 children.

THE BAND TELLS THE TIME; NO CLOCK FOR CIRCUS PEOPLE

Every Performer Knows When He or She Has to Appear by the Music of the Band—Splendid System Necessary in a Big Show.

There is an invisible clock with the Cole Brothers Show that tells time with a never failing accuracy, that is understood only by the attaches of this colossal aggregation. This clock has neither hands nor dial, requires no winding up and a blind man could tell time by it but a deaf man could not. The clock is nothing more than the band that furnishes music for the performance. It may sound strange to talk about telling time by a band of music but it is a fact. The canvassman who patrols the outside of the tents to keep dishonest ones from sneaking in, the grooms in the horse tent, the performers in the dressing tent and the cooks and waiters in the dining tents all measure time by this great band.

When the first strains of the band are heard you will hear some one say, "the doors to the big show are open," and then until the music for the races is heard, which tells them better than any other clock they know. It would sound strange to a layman to hear one groom call out to another and ask what time it is, to see the one asked stop his work and listen for a second and then shout back, "Little Edna's in the ring." That would sound strange, but but it would sound stranger to hear the man who made the inquiry shout back "I'll have to hurry a little and I had no idea it was so late." Or to be around the dining tent and see the steward suddenly spring from a chair and call out, "Bread up, Mike Roney's on."

How do they know who is performing when they are so far away. Solely by the music. Every act has its own music and this music is never changed. The methods with Cole Brothers Shows are so perfect that the time of the acts do not vary a half minute during the entire season. The employees know what music is played for each act and the moment they hear the music they know what act is on and that is their knowledge of time. Should a stranger ask a circus attachee the time, he would listen until he heard the music and then would tell him the act. He knows whether this act comes on fourth, fifth or twentieth, and could fix the time according to the stranger's way of telling it to within a very few seconds. Time after the afternoon performance is guaged by the opening of the doors and the races and concert. From the concert it is guaged by the opening of the doors to the evening performance and from then to tearing down time. As all time around a big show such as the Cole Brothers will bring here is governed by the show's movements, a better clock could not have been invented. In unloading the show, erecting the tents, and tearing them down and loading them in cars, no one cares what time it is. All this work has to be done in the quickest possible way and time has nothing to do with it. The working system is so perfect that every minute is occupied and when there is work to do, the time of day never bothers the working man, for he is doing all he can, and whether on time or behind time, he could do no more. There is no such thing as being ahead of time with the Cole Brother's Shows, for they have no set time for anything outside of the parade and performances. They utilize every minute.

T.A.S. PICNIC ON DOMINION DAY WILL BE GREAT SUCCESS

Extensive preparations are now under way for the annual T.A.S. picnic to be held at T.A.S. point on the Otonabee River on Dominion Day. This year's event promises to be more successful than ever before. Mr. Arthur Sharpe has chage of the arrangements and Mr. W. S. Merrill is chairman of the Sports Committee. This part of the day's amusement is being made a special feature, and many entries in the different events are expected. The aquatic races are arousing much interest. There will be single canoe dem skiff races, upset canoe race and races for ladies and gentlemen, tan. a race for gasoline launches. The prize for the last event will be twenty gallons of gasoline.

The steamers Rainbow and Monarch have been chartered for the day and will make regular trips from the street car wharf to the point. A pavilion will be erected on the grounds for dancing. Everything is being done to make the day a most enjoyable one.

GREAT DEMONSTRATION BY WOMEN SUFFRAGISTS IN LONDON

Miss Fawcett, Sarah Grand, Beatrice Harraden, and Other Noted Women Take Part—Immense Meeting in Albert Hall—Place of Honor Goes to American Delegates

London, June 13—The suffragettes today held the most impressive demonstration they have yet attempted when ten thousand women from every part of the British Isles and from the colonies, the United States and several of the European countries, marched from the Thames embankment to Albert Hall where they held a meeting. Millicent Garrett Fawcett widow of Right Hon. Henry Fawcette, was to have led the procession, but as a compliment to her American co-workers she has resigned the place [illegible] honor to two delegates from the United States, Dr. Anna Shaw and Miss Lucy J. Anthony. Dr. Fawcette, Lady Frances Balfour Sarah Grand, Beatrice Harriden and Elizabeth Robin will march in the procession.

The steamer Water Lily will run a special trip to Stony Lake, leaving Wolfe St. wharf at nine o'clock Tuesday morning. All persons having baggage for Stony Lake points will please take note.

The conference will open on Tuesday next. Canon Davidson is a member of Section "F" who meet in the church House — Great Hall. The subject of Section "F" will be "The Anglican Communion." On Thursday morning "Possibilities of Intercommunion" will be dealt with and Canon Davidson is one of the speakers to speak on it. On Thursday afternoon the subject will be "Possibilities of Reunion."

SPECIAL SERVICE AT KNOX CHURCH

On Sunday Evening—Special Order of Service and Extra Seating Capacity Provided

The services at Knox Presbyterian church to-morrow evening promise to be of a very interesting nature. The pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith will deliver a special sermon to the members of the local Court of the Independent Order of Foresters, it being their annual church service. Mr. Keith has always made special occasions so very interesting at Knox Church that the people of Peterboro have the foregone assurance that his discourse and the order of service of this ocasion will equal if not surpass any of his former efforts and will not only be interesting to the Foresters, but also to the community of all denominations.

The hymns and order of service have been arranged by Mr. Keith and printed in appropriate leaflet form, and these will be distributed to the congregation. The seating capacity has been enlarged byy the managers procuring some hundred additional chairs, so that there will be ample accommodation for all. Knox church being practically new, there will doubtless be a large attendance not only of the Foresters but also of the general public, who will take advantage of the opportunity to have the pleasure of hearing Mr. Keith deal with a special subject. The choir, under the leadership of Mr. Common has prepared special music, including several anthems.

FIRE BROKE OUT IN CEREAL CO.

Brigade Again Called Out to the Burned Mill Last Evening

About ten o'clock last night the fire brigade was called out to the ruins of the Peterboro Cereal Co. mill. Fire had again broken out in a pile of lumber and it was thought that the blaze would spread to the storehouse. However, on the arrival of the brigade the conflagration was extinguished without much difficulty. A careful watch is being kept on the property for fear fire might break out in some fresh spot.

EVERYBODY WAS MUCH PLEASED

With Programme at Band Concert Last Night—Band Played Well

The large audience that assembled at Victoria Park last evening was immensely pleased with the concert given by the 57th Regimental band under Mr. Glidden's competent direction. The programme proved one that caught the fancy of the crowd. The best liked numbers were probably "King of Rags," and "Remick's Hits." Both were of pleasing melody. Other taking numbers were the marches "Regimental Pride" and "On Dress Parade," and the captivating selection from the comic opera "Ermine" and "Georgia Sunset," a catchy cake walk. Fine instrumentation and good balance of tone were shown in the playing of the overture, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna." The programme as a whole was one that met with general approval and bespoke excellent discrimination in the choosing of the selections.

The programme was as follows;—

March, Regimental pride.

Overture, Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna.

Cake walk, King of rags.

Euphonium solo, Bandsman Cronk; variations on a Souther Song.

Patrol, The Wee MacGregor.

Cake walk, Georgia Sunset.

Medley, Remick's Hits.

Comic Opera Selection, Ermine.

Idyll—by request —The Mill in the Forest.

March, On Dress Parade.

God Save the King.

MARKS FOUNDATION OF NEW ROMAN CATHOLIC PARISH

Corner Stone of Church of the Sacred Heart Laid Yesterday by the Right Rev. R. A. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough—Five Thousand Witness the Impressive Ceremony—Nearly Three Thousand From Parish of St. Peters Alone.

Eloquent Sermon by Rev. Father Roach, President of St. Michael's College Who Spoke of the Church of Rome as a Symbol of Divine Truth—Musical Portion of Service by Choir of St. Peter's and 500 Child Choristers—An Inspiring and Successful Function.

New Parish Will be Known by the Same Name as the Church, the Sacred Heart—Will be in Charge of a Parish Priest and Include That Part of City South of Dalhousie Street and Southern Part of Otonabee as Well.

"THE CORNER STONE OF THIS CHURCH DEDICATED TO THE SACRED HEARTT OF JESUS. WAS LAID ON THE 14TH DAY OF JUNE, 1908, BY THE RIGHT REV. R. A. O'CONNOR, BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH."

The above is the inscription translated from the Latin on the corner stone of Peterborough's new Catholic church at the corner of Romaine and Aylmer streets—The Church of the Sacred Heart. The ceremony in connection with the important occasion was performed yesterday afternoon by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, and the laying of the stone marks a new era in Roman Catholicism in this city.

An immense crowd gathered at the site of the church to witness the impressive function and the number in attendance is estimated at between four and five thousand. Visitors were there from Toronto, Port Hope, [illegible] and other outside places, [illegible] a large representation from the different parishes in Peterborough county. So splendid was the turnout of Catholics and those from other denominations that the preacher at the ceremony, Rev. Father Roach, remarked in the course of some words of congratulation at the conclusion of his very able sermon that it was the most magnificent demonstration that that he had ever seen on an occasion of its kind.

REV. DR. O'BRIEN

Who Assisted His Lordship Bishop O'Connor in the Laying of the Corner Stone at the Church of the Sacred Heart.

The parishioners of St. Peter's are to be greatly commended on the expression of their sympathy with the erection of the new church, and their loyalty to their religion. Their attendance gave much pleasure to His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, who was deeply gratified at seeing them present in such great numbers, and who also was highly pleased that the function as a whole was such a successful and encouraging one. Approximately there were 3000 from St. Peter's parish alone at the ceremony, this large number being composed of 1000 men, 1250 women and 750 children. It must have given the greatest satisfaction to the Catholics who were assembled to see the support that was being given to the construction of the edifice that stood for so much in the furtherance of their creed in Peterborough.

The weather conditions were excellent, although a somewhat strong wind was blowing, which made it somewhat difficult for Father Roach to speak. His tone of voice was loud and clear however, and what he said could be distinctly heard by the larger portion of the vast assembly. For awhile it looked as if it were going to rain, but fortunately no rain fell during the entire afternoon, and everything in connection with the ceremony passed off most successfully.

Some time before the hour fixed for the opening of the proceedings the people began to go to the church, and at three o'clock a crowd of surprising proportions had gathered. The church has been built up to the first floor which was boarded over, and on this platform the choir stood and a large number of spectators as well. On the property on which the building is being constructed were also a great many, while hundreds were standing on Romaine and Aylmer streets, and the field south of the church. Several in buggies were noticeable on the outside of the crowd.

THE SINGING.

A pleasing feature was the singing of the choirs. Rev. Father Galvin, of St. Peter's, had charge of this special department, and the excellent work of the choristers bespoke great praise for his training. The choir of St. Peter's sang the Latin psalms to great advantage, and a body of 500 juveniles who were trained for the occasion, sang the English hymns in a splendid manner. Miss Maggie Doherty, leader of the Cathedral choir, presided at the organ.

WHAT THE DOCUMENTS WERE.

It might be of interest to mention the various documents that were put in the tin box that was placed in the stone. They consisted of a parchment on which was written the names of the Pope, the King, the Governor-General, the Lieutenant Governor, the Mayor of the city, the Bishop of Peterborough and the clergy of St. Peter's; five, ten, twenty-five and fifty cent Canadian coins of the current year; copies of the last weekly edition of the local newspapers, and also Toronto, Montreal and New York papers.

PROCESSION OF 1,000.

At three o'clock about 1000 men of St. Peter's congregation gathered at St. Peter's school and formed a big procession that marched by way of Hunter to Aylmer streets to the new church. The marshalls of the Catholic Societies of Peterborough were in charge of the parade. They were Messrs. H. O'Rourke, W. J. Devlin, F. Shannon, H. Gainey, J. McManus, and F. Farren, and were assisted by Messrs. A. Lehane and J. Dwyer.

At 3.25 His Lordship Bishop O'Connor arrived, and in his carriage were also Father Roach and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, of Ennismore.

LAYING OF STONE

The Bishop first went to the basement and blessed the spot upon which the high altar will be built. He then went to the front of the church to the corner which is on the right side of the main entrance to the church. Psalm 83 was sung by the choir. It was followed by the prescribed prayers, the second of which was a particularly appropriate and beautiful. It was as follows:

"Oh, Lord Jesus Christ, son of the living God, who art the true God Almighty, splendor, and image of the eternal Father, and life eternal; who art the corner stone hewn from the mountain-side without the aid of men, who art the foundation unchangeable, give strength to this stone to be placed in thy name; and thou who art the beginning and the end, in which beginning God the Father created all things, we beseech Thee to be the beginning increase, and consummation of this work, which ought to be commenced for the honor and glory of thy name. Thou, who with the Father and the Holy Ghost livest and reignest God, world without end. Amen."

His Lordship blessed the stone and placed in the receptacle for that purpose the tin box containing the documents referred to above. The stone was then set in position. During the ceremony Bishop O'Connor was assisted by Rev. Dr. Father O'Brien, Rev. Father Roach and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick.

The altar boys of the cathedral in their capacity were also on the platform near the stone.

The litany of the saints followed the laying of the stone after which psalm 126 was sung by the choir. The ceremony completed, Rev. Father Roach, president of St. Michael's College, Toronto, preached the sermon.

His remarks were most forcible and eloquent. He spoke of the great advancement in the cause of truth that had been made in the establishment of the new church. He told of the continued existence of the Roman Catholic church since its foundation 2000 years ago by our Lord. The church, he said, had a direct divine source and was built according to God's own purpose.

THE SERMON

The preacher chose for his text, the 17th verse of the 18th chapter of St. John's gospel, "For this was I born and for this I came into the world, that I should give testimony to the truth."

In his strong and able discourse, he dealt with the subject of truth. In beginning he said that truth was what the church possessed. The continuance of church's existence was due to the truth of its religion. Had it been falsehood it would not have lasted. Had it not been divine it would like other things begotten of men, have been lost. The speaker said that people were searching for truth. The man of science the man of literature, and the theologian were looking for truths.

The reverend father referred to the life of Christ on earth. His thirty-three years of ignomy and His death upon the cross, asking why was all that spent if it were not that He might give testimony of the truth. Christ had to come from Heaven to bear this testimony. It was too important for an angelic agent and God sent forth His only Son.

CAN TRUTH CHANGE

"Can religious truth be one thing today and another tomorrow and can the truth of God differ," asked the speaker. He said that in science men will not accept truth and its contradictions. But in religion there is the truth and its contradiction. Looking out on the world the preacher said that one saw many different interpretations placed on the same thing which is true. Christ was divine. With Him there could be no change. He had strong coercive powers. 'God sees everything and knows all things' said the reverend father, "and therefore what Christ has done is right.

On a certain day at Cicero, Christ said "on this rock I build my church" and he did build one, of which you and I are the witnesses. Did it have its supreme head. Did He take and build it so it cannot fail." The eloquent speaker said that Christ alone had built the church. Man had nothing to do with it and everyone ought to be thankful to God for the gift of Jesus Christ. God had never depended on men. When Noah built the ark, God gave him instructions and Noah went into it satisfied. He did not consult Moses in framing the ten commandments and woe to the man who defied God by not keeping them. Thus in building His church God did not consult anyone.

FOUNDATION OF THE CHURCH

Just before the ascension of Christ the gift of the Holy Ghost, the spirit of truth descended upon His disciples. He gave that beautiful injunction 'Go into all parts and preach the gospel and lo, I am with you all days, even unto the consummation of the world.' The speaker said that that was the foundation of the church of truth and of Jesus Christ. It was lightened by God, the spirit of truth to keep it from all error. If the Holy Ghost is in the church, it cannot fail.

"If the church fails who will be responsible," asked the preacher. 'Will not the spirit of truth be to blame?" If it has failed God has also. But it has not failed because God has not." The spirit of truth was not given for a time but forever.

CAN'T BE REFORMED.

The speaker thought that the church could not be reformed. Men had not been asked in its design. It was the same today as it had been in the past, and would continue so until it had wrought salvation in the souls of men. "Did the church ever need reformation," asked the preacher. God had not sent any angel to reform it. "Where will the men come from to reform it." he asked, "and who had told the world that the church had failed." Jesus Christ had never said that it had. True religion came from God and not from men.

The church was indefectable because it was God's work. He made it to last for all time. Men could not find work for their instruments of reformation. The church of God had not changed. It had prevailed against the powers of the world and truth would outdo error.

DOCTRINE UNCHANGING

Jesus Christ had never allowed men to dispute the truth. The gates of hell would not prevail against His doctrine. It was the same as was two thousand years ago. "We claim the infallible tribunal," said the preacher, "and it is not likely that Christ would hand it over to men." Men might serve in politics and human things but not in the science of religion. Jesus Christ in His goodness would never leave His people to the mercy of man,

"It should be our glory," he continued, "that the church had not failed. The church was not built any more for one century than the other. We have not been changed by the shifting winds of doctrine but hold to the truth." He thought that high on the steeple of every church should be the cross of Jesus Christ, to keep it ever before men.

In conclusion, Rev. Father Roache said that the people ought to feel proud of the new church, in the new church, in the course of erection. He said that the demonstration yesterday was a magnificent one and spoke well for the good Catholicity of Peterborough. His Lordship, the Bishop he knew was proud of the new church, which would be an evidence of the advancement being made in the cause of truth.

REV. FATHER FITZPATRICK

Of Ennismore, Who Assited His Lordship at the Ceremony.

BISHOP O'CONNOR.

His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, expressed his thanks to the immense concourse of people for the way they had turned out to the laying of the corner stone of the new church. It would be another edifice dedicated to the cause of religion. Everyone needed more religion. As people became advanced in civilization, they required more religion. They must learn to obey and love God. The city was increasing in its population and a new church was a necessity. His Lordship asked the people to show their thanks to God for their material welfare by giving something towards the cost of the new church.

Plates, upon which the collection was taken were passed among the crowd, and many of those whose proximity to the corner stone permitted them to do so, laid their contributions on the stone. A splendid amount was realised in both ways, some bills of large denominations being contributed as well as several cheques for substantial amounts.

Two hymns were sung in English by the childrens' choir of five hundred voices followed by psalms 50 and 86 by the choir of St. Peter's. The Bishop encircled the church blessing the foundations and the entire ceremony, was concluded by His Lordship giving the Pontifical blessing.

A DISTINCT PARISH

After the new church is completed a distinct parish will be created and will be known by the same name as the church, the Parish of the Sacred Heart. It will include that portion of the city lying south of Dalhousie Street, and naturally the southern portion of Otonabee. No suggestions have been made as yet as to who will be the parish priest. The parish will, of course, be in the diocese of Peterborough. It will, however, not be connected with the parish of St. Peter's. The front of the church will face southward, that is toward Romaine St.

The diocesan architect of St. Peters, Mr. John Belcher, C. E., prepared the plans for the church, and under his direction it is being built. The contract for the entire building has been given to Messrs. Langford & Sheehey. The granite of which the church is being constructed is from Brodie's quarry, Stony Lake, and the limestone from Sheehey's quarry, Stony Lake. Favorable comment was heard on all sides yesterday concerning the quality of the building material being used. The corner stone is of special quality granite and was dressed and carved by the firm of Coughlin Bros., Hunter street.

All the superstructure above the first floor is yet to be built and this will include a fine steeple. The seating capacity of the church will be 1,000 and the basement besides being used as a place for the installation of heating apparatus, may also be employed if the occasion calls for it, for the holding of parochial meetings.

There will be three altars in the church and several large columns for support will be built in the interior. The architecture and decorations will be of the Romanesque style.

It is fifty years ago, in 1858, since the work of construction was commenced on St. Peter's the only Catholic church in Peterborough other than the one now being built. It was constructed at cost of $12000 and at that time Rev. Father Butler was parish priest.

Bishop O'Connor has been in charge of the diocese of Peterborough 19 years, the first of May last and during that time the greatest prosperity has marked the progress of the diocese. The congregation of St. Peter's alone numbers four thousand five hundred, from the city and five hundred from the country so when the church of the Sacred Heart is constructed in a year or so, it is estimated, it will be welcomed by the many Catholics within the new parish that will be opened on its completion.

BIG PARADE IN LONDON

Suffragettes on the March—A Great Army of Women.

London, June 15.—Marshaled in eight distinct columns on the Victoria embankment, a great army of from 12,000 to 15,000 women suffragists paraded the metropolis Saturday afternoon, and wound up with a meeting at Albert Hall, at which such well-known women as Dr. Anna Shaw, Lady Henry Somerset and Frances Balfour voiced the demand of women for an immediate extension of the franchise.

Suffrage societies in Austria, Australia, Canada, France, Russia and South Africa and the United States sent representatives to support the British women.

The great procession was swelled in Trafalgar square by several thousand barmaids, who had been demonstrating against the licensing bill.

All sorts of women whose conditions in life are as wide asunder as the poles, took part in the march and united in the common cause of woman suffrage.

Sarah Grand, Beatrice Harraden, Elizabeth Robins, Lady Anstow, Mrs. Alfred Lyttelton and Gertrude Kingston were among the more notable women that marched at the head of the different sections. Dr. Anna Shaw and Miss Lucy J. Anthony, delegates from the United States, led the procession in carriages.

The foreign delegates were much fewer than had been expected. They included Frenchmen, Hungarians and Russians. Two delegates, struggling with a huge banner, represented the League of Self-Supporting Women of New York.

The most picturesque section of the procession was composed of the girl graduates in academic caps and gowns in the colors of all the universities. They carried banners on which were the names of the world's most famous women, and had a great reception everywhere.

A merry lot represented the office stenographers. They were subjected to much good-humored ridicule, but never lost step. When the crowd spotted a solitary male among the processionists somebody began to sing: "Put Me Among the Girls." The bystanders sang the refrain in chorus vociferously. Even the suffragists smiled.

Mrs. Fawcett presided at Albert Hall, where there was a remarkable color scene. The hall was crowded and there was a profuse display of flowers. The first speaker, Lady Henry Somerset, provoked some hisses because she deprecated the tactics of the militant suffragettes.

A resolution demanding votes for all qualified women was carried by acclamation, with the utmost enthusiasm.

TWO LINEMEN MEET DEATH

Fatally Shocked on Electric Road Near Windsor.

Windsor, Ont., June 15.—J. Brown, a Bell Telephone lineman, was instantly killed and another lineman named Richard Sutherland had a narrow escape when a line they were repairing came in contact with a heavily charged wire on the Windsor, Essex & Lake Shore Electric Railway. The telephone men were pulling up the slack in one of their wires when it crossed the railway line. Brown was on the ground and received the full effect of high voltage. The body was slightly burned. Sutherland was on the top of a neighboring pole, holding a wire in his hand, and was rendered unconscious. Only his pole belt saved him from falling to probable death.

Deceased was in the employ of the Bell Company for two years. He was about 23 years of age and belonged to Tillsonburg. He was married only six months ago, and his wife was coming here next week.

Tried For Arson.

Belleville, Ont., June 15.—Mr. Jas. St. Charles of this city, while operating a joiner in his carriage factory, had two fingers of his left hand taken off.

In the case of Wm. H. Bradshaw, charged with arson in burning his uncle's barn in the Township of Tyendinaga, the jury disagreed. Bradshaw was admitted to bail.

MURDERED HER HUSBAND AND ALSO HER FIVE CHILDREN

Then Committed Suicide—Terrible Deed of Crazy Woman at Cadillac—Victims in Each Case Shot Through the Head—Had Been Confined in Asylum.

Cadillac, Mich., June 15.—Seven persons, all of the family of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cooper, with the exception of one son, were murdered some time Saturday night, probably by the wife and mother, who has been insane.

Fred Cooper, a son, aged 17 years, is the only one of the family now alive, and he is dying at Mercy Hospital, unable to give any account of the tragedy.

In every instance the victims were killed with a bullet through the head. The dead are: Daniel Cooper, 48 years old; Mrs. Cooper, 45 years old; Harry, 14 years old; Inez, 11 years old; Samuel, 10 years old; Georgina, five years old, and Florence, one and a half years old.

When Mrs. Cooper's mother and other neighbors entered the house on Chapin street yesterday morning, about which there was no sign of life, bodies of the victims were scattered all about. Some were in their beds and others on the floor. Mrs. Cooper lay across the body of the baby on a bed with an emptied revolver beside her.

It is believed Mrs. Cooper committed the murders and then killed herself. She was once confined in an insane asylum, and for some time had been brooding over the fact that Cooper was out of work. A few days ago she is reported to have said she would end it all.

ENGLISH LABOR PARTY IS NOT KEEN ON PENSIONS

Premier Asquith's Scheme is Opposed—Will Riddle the Bill With Amendments—King's Russian Trip Viewed With Coolness.

London, June 15.—Parliament is limp after the holidays. Mr. Asquith is the only occupant of the Treasury bench in good form. The Premiership is a novelty, and his enjoyment of it is evident. He takes a most cheerful view of every political issue, and is convinced that there could not be a happier, more contented family than the united Liberal party.

The pensions bill fails to excite enthusiasm in any quarter. The Labor party is proposing to riddle it with amendments, and the friendly societies are opposing it on the ground that it will discourage habits of thrift.

Mr. Asquith continues to present the case with plausibility, contending that the pensions must be relieved from the reproach of pauperism, asserting that the state aid contributors' plan can easily be ingrafted upon it and vaguely outlining a general scheme of poor law reform. There may be sufficient constructive ability at the front of the Government bench for the working of these reforms, but there is little evidence that the subject has been approached with the practical knowledge and scientific method which the German legislators have displayed. The badly-drawn bill will be carried to second reading early this week, and the committee stages pressed with all possible speed.

Mr. Asquith's chances for settling the education controversy by compromise are improving. The conference attended at Manchester by representatives of the various religious bodies, including Roman Catholics, has agreed upon a concordat which may be substituted for the Bishop of St. Asaph's scheme. Possibly a definite arrangement can be made before the close of the autumn session, and certainly the facility with which this round table session has been brought about by the militant Bishop of Manchester is a hopeful sign.

The Government has neither been helped nor damaged by the spectacular meeting of the sovereigns at Reval. It has been generally accepted as the King's own diplomatic stroke, and as he is trusted at home and abroad and never errs as a peacemaker there is no criticism. Yet the coldness with which the affair has been discussed in the British press is a warning that exchanges of royal hospitality and compliments must not be followed by projects for formal alliances.

The royal meeting is less important as an event of world politics than Viscount Morley's far-reaching schemes for Indian reforms, with an approach to native representations in councils. These are not unaccompanied by signs of a laxity in administration, for Viscount Morley has the courage required for drastic press laws, a suspension of the habeas corpus and the suppression of seditious movements. He is heartily supported by veterans of the Indian administration, who consider him the strongest and ablest secretary of recent times.

NEW RAILROAD IS OPENED; NEW BRANCH OF THE C.P.R.

Close of Gigantic Piece of Construction—Makes Short Cut to Winnipeg—Eight Hours Lopped off the Journey—Cost Eleven Million Dollars.

Toronto, June 15.—At 1 o'clock in the dark morning hours of Friday last there crawled out from the Union station, through the deserted railway yards, past North Parkdale, a strange train — an engine hauling a few freight cars, a caboose, a day coach, a sleeper, a dining car, and on the end an official business car. Nobody in particular saw the train go out or thought about it when it disappeared into the north. And it was gone two days. At three o'clock yesterday morning it crawled back again into the big, empty station. It was covered with white dust and drawn by a work-stained, sweating engine. As the releasing air-brakes whistled under the cars a handful of railway officials and newspapermen stumbled sleepily out on the platform and went home under the breaking dawn.

That was the return of the first Canadian Pacific train to travel through on the new Toronto to Sudbury line and back again. It signified the completion of the last 136 1-2 miles of the most difficult kind of railroad engineering work outside of mountain construction; the final link between Bala, on the Muskoka lakes, and Romford Junction, on the C.P.R. main line close to Sudbury, connecting Toronto direct with the latter station, providing a route 60 miles shorter than the North Bay route, and cutting in distance and connections eight hours from the time formerly required to reach main line points west of Sudbury. It signified, too, the completion of a task on which thousands of men have been toiling in the rocky wilderness of northern Ontario for three years; the completion of a road hewn through granite hills, carried over sink holes and bridged above mighty rivers. It stands for the accomplished end of an expenditure of time, patience, genius and lives, and eleven million dollars. At 12.01 o'clock, eastern time, yesterday morning the new line passed from the control of the construction department to that of the operating department of the C.P.R. and became part of the great system, and a direct line over C.P.R. rail from Toronto to Winnipeg. At 9.30 last night the first passenger train left Toronto for Winnipeg.

Revolution In Cuba?

City of Mexico, June 15.—The Mexican Herald says,

News has reached this capital from an unimpeachable source to the effect that the business interests of Cuba have subscribed to a fund for the purpose of financing a revolution as soon as the United States makes good its promise and withdraws its soldiers from that island.

Slays Children and Himself.

Peabody, Ky., June 15.—Frank Good, aged 27 years, cut the throats of his three children and his own throat with a pocket-knife on his father's farm Saturday night. All are dead.

He was insanely despondent over the death of his wife.

Jealous, Shoots Himself.

Jackson, June 15.—Edward Dempe, captain of the University of Minnesota football team, shot himself Saturday in a fit of jealousy, because a young woman refused to attend a dance with him and accepted the escort of a young barber. He may die.

DOUBLE DROWNING ON ST. LAWRENCE

Two English Lads Meet Their Death Near Cornwall.

Cornwall, Ont., June 15.—James Lilley, aged 13, and Albert Lilley, aged 12, first cousins, were drowned on Saturday in the St. Lawrence, near the foot of the Cornwall Canal. They went out fishing, and the current from the bywash at the lower locks caught their boat broadside and upset it about 100 feet from shore. The boys were natives of Elgin, England.

A young lad named Archambault swam out to their rescue, and might have saved the smaller boy had not James, who was clinging to the upturned boat, made an effort to reach him, and Archambault, fearing to be pulled under, turned back.

THE HEATHEN RAGE

Why do the heathen rage, and the Examiner imagine a vain thing, or in other words, why does our friend the Examiner keep lamenting over the falling away of the Temperance Party? It seems to have builded its hopes on the Temperance Party, but alas! the Temperance Party did not build its hopes on it. Now it slangs and slams, bumps and biffs the said party as if the Examiner was "the best temperance man that never was" It seems to be in earnest, too. Who would ever think of founding its hopes on the Examiner? Yet that paper in its journalistic anguish over the result of the election in West Peterborough cries for punishment. One good thing about the "trouble" in Kingston is that the penitentiary is near at hand. Get to work now and prosecute. The way is now easy, thanks to Mr. Whitney, and the duty is plain.

THE LATE ELECTION

The ease with which prosecutions may now be had under the Election Act is matched only by the inexpensiveness of the proceeding. Formerly "election offences" were treated as excusable for party reasons by the Liberal party. They were "ascertained" only at end by means of enormously expensive election trials, which put the question of prosecution wholly out of the reach of private parties. Party syndicates alone could undertake it.

By the Whitney Government this has all been changed. In the first place all pecuniary penalties attached to offences can be collected in the Division Courts just as any other bill for a few dollars may be collected. Nearly all branches of political crime, also, are triable before inferior courts of summary jurisdiction, such as the police court. In a word any man with a desire to open up wrong-doing in a political contest can do so "while you wait." This easy method of punishing the wrongdoer was a fitting complement to the secret ballot and other election precautions. It is useless, therefore, for the Examiner to cry "Corruption! Corruption! Bribery! Bribery!" If it believes what it cries it can show the whole affair up in less time than it consumes in bawling. But, of course, there is not as much political capital to be made out of it where the aforesaid Tory corruption (which we suppose is alone referred to) really did not exist. A certain margin must be allowed for the late failure. Liberals and Conservatives had a fair try-out of their respective strengths. The Conservatives won easily, our Liberal friends being "all in" at the finish. When the Conservative party scared the "machine" they quoted sworn evidence and the judges' charges. If there is any such to come forth in this campaign, let it come at once. We do not know of corruption anywhere or we should point to it. Why can't the Examiner put the law in motion, which, as we say, is so easily done under the new act, and cease crying like a child in the night—in want of a bottle.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Montreal, June 12. — Jos. Ranger, arrested on Monday for attempting to impersonate his brother, Cléophas Ranger, in St. James' Division, was condemned by Mr. Recorder Weir to three months in jail and a fine of $50 or three additional months.

This clipping from the Globe was headed sarcastically, "In Backward Quebec." Why isn't some such dose handed out here if there is cause for it?

Mechanical stoking is the latest. Instead of a small army of grimy, sweating, overworked men in a steamer's boiler-room, there will be, in the near future, machines to do the work. The idea some people have of life is to reduce everything to a mechanical level. In time there will be left for humans only the process of superintendence. That, too, will be supplanted by an automatic checking system. Some Rockefeller will be at last the sole survivor of a formerly commercial race. There will be nothing left for men and women but to play. Then they will make work out of that, and it, too, will disappear. What about eating and drinking?

Some person or persons have been circulating a report to the effect that a certain pamphlet lately passed round in the East Riding was printed or published at or from the Review office. The Review will pay ten dollars reward to anyone who will furnish information leading to the conviction of any person circulating any such statement. Not having seen the pamphlet we are not able farther to identify it but it is said to contain verses and an attack upon Roman Catholics.

New York, June 12.— A despatch to the World, from Washington, says:—

— The crops of 1908 will be nearly $8,000,000,000, according to figures prepared by the Department of Agriculture officials. Chief Statistician Clark said to-day.

"Indications are for great crops. For eight years the American farmer has enjoyed unprecedented prosperity, and now the ninth promising harvest is practically assured. Never have there been nine such years, years of big yields and high prices. —The Globe.

If agriculture and the kindred arts are the basis of existence and prosperity then the present fall-down in the U.S. must be due to something else. That something else is the medium of exchange. The next great discovery will be that of a medium of exchange which cannot be cornered, or made improper use of. It is absurd that an abounding food supply poured by the Royal Commission by union of trade, should result in bankruptcy and depression. It reminds one of the fairies who snatch utensils from housewives and weapons from warriors, leaving both powerless.

For itself, the Globe holds now and always has held to the principle represented in the contention of this Liberal leader as being a sound principle of responsible government. More than that, we contended, when the University Act was under discussion, that the Government should retain the veto power over the Board of Governors. That contention was opposed by the Royal Commission by whom the new University Act was drafted, and Premier Whitney, no matter what his personal views on the point may have been, accepted the Act as drawn by the commission and gave to the Board of Governors as large freedom of action as was at all consistent with real responsibility for the University on the part of the Government. Under the circumstances, and in view of the abnormal conditions then obtaining in the University, The Globe accepted the new Act as being perhaps as nearly perfect as could be secured and, despite all campaign controversies on both sides, we stand ready to give the new regime the fullest possible chance to meet the urgent and rapidly expanding needs of the Provincial University.—The Globe.

This is a fair statement of the case of the University of Toronto. It was made once before election day but only after Mr. Whitney had used violent, if not abusive language. It is so hard for some journals to be fair. When Mr. Whitney did succeed in drawing the Globe's approval he was attacked for very improper language.

A Neat Selection.

"That's a nice umbrella you have there."

"Ain't it? Reflects credit on my taste, doesn't it?"

"It certainly does. Where did you get it?"

"Picked it out of a bunch of seven that were standing in the boarding house hall this morning."

Contradictory.

"Is your husband voracious in his appetite, madam?"

"I can't say as he is, doctor. He'll eat anythink and everythink as long as there's anythink to eat."

Usually the Way.

"A man likes to hear hisse'f talk so well," said Uncle Eben, "dat mos' conversation looks jes' like two people impatiently waitin' dair turns to say sumpin."

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help your case. Such letters as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of to conquer all female diseases.

Mrs. Frank Emsley, Lindsay, Ontario, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"When I wrote to you some time ago, I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had inflammation of the feminine organs and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do.

"A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman.

"I most heartily recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all women who suffer with female troubles."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

BETTER THAN GOLD

Better than grandeur, better than gold,
Than rank and titles a thousand fold,
Is a healthy body, a mind at ease,
And simple pleasures that always please.
A heart that can feel for another's woe
When the true heart's crushed by a deadly blow,
With sympathies large enough to enfold
All men as brothers, is better than gold.

Better than gold is a conscience clear,
Though toiling for bread in a humble sphere,
Doubly blest with content and health
Untried by the lusts and cares of wealth,
Lowly living and lowly thought
Adorn and ennoble a poor man's cot!
For mind and morals in Nature's plan
Are the genuine test of a gentleman.

Better than gold is the sweet repose
Of the sons of toil when their labors close
Better than gold is the poor man's sleep,
And the balm that drops on his slumbers deep,
Bringing sleeping draughts to the downy bed
When luxury pillows its aching head;
The toiler simple opiate deems
A shorter route to the land of dreams.

Better than gold is a peaceful home,
Where all the fireside characters come,
The shrine of love, the heaven of life,
Hallowed by mother or sister or wife
However humble the home may be,
Or tried with sorrow by Heaven's decree;
The blessings that never were bought or sold,
And centre there, are better than gold.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surface. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co., Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

EXCURSION TO SOUTH BEACH

The Bridgenorth Methodist Sunday School will run an excursion from the village to South Beach, Clear Lake, on Friday, June 26th. The steamer Empress has been chartered for the occasion. A competent committee is in charge and a most enjoyable time is assured.

TESTED VEGETABLES.

Good Varieties of Sweet Corn, Lettuce and Other Truck.

Of sweet corn, the great real American palate tickler, there are innumerable varieties. Some hardly deserve the name of "sweet," but a few are as sugary as the glorious "pure food law" has again made maple sirup. There are two extremely early varieties, Peep o' Day and the excellent It. Golden Bantam is the earliest, smallest, ugliest, yellowest and by far the sweetest of all sweet corn. It is a dwarf, stood hard frost in 1907, which utterly discouraged Peep o' Day, and calmly produced great numbers of ears and nubbins galore, which were invariably selected when deliberately served among superb ears of Country Gentleman and Evergreen. The verdict is unanimously in favor of Golden Bantam against the field by all who have had it served to them. Adams is a misnamed field corn, sold freely, however, as early sweet corn. First of All and Cory are close seconds. Howling Mob some seem to find pleasing, and others enjoy Crosby. Cosmopolitan and Metropolitan are improvements on Early Crosby. Country Gentleman is sweet and a great favorite with many, but too gummy in consistency for our personal tastes. Evergreen is late, but sweet; big, but tender, and a fitting but overgrown companion for Golden Bantam. Between these two there are the Shoe Peg, Ne Plus Ultra and Black Mexican, the latter not pretty, but sweet and good.

Excellent Cucumbers.

For slicing there are practically but two varieties, both, however, excellent, English Long Green and White Spine, with but a trifle difference in flavor, though a marked difference in appearance.

Eggplant.

There is little to choose between New York Improved and Black Beauty. The latter is a trifle earlier and deeper in color.

Fine Lettuce.

Of twenty-three varieties of lettuce tested we found that, contrary to hearsay and statements, every variety headed splendidly. We further found that the big-well known sellers were not at all prominent in appearance, delicacy or flavor. There are two varieties that stand out without rivals. Golden Queen is early, golden green, tender and delicious, firm and crisp. An unnamed variety last year, now called Wayahead, is a mammoth fellow, growing with us nineteen and one-half inches in diameter and eight to ten inches through. The head is a peculiar crumpled leaf of rich green color, few waste leaves and most delicate and tender. Of curly heads Simpson is much the finest. Cos or Romaine, the English favorite, is thick and crisp. The variety to suit the average American palate is Express.—Hal B. Fullerton, Long Island, New York.

Woods For Implements.

In wheat and corn drills and similar implements ash, maple or oak is generally used for framework. Cottonwood, gum, poplar, Douglas fir, spruce and western pine are used for panel work. Ash, rock elm and oak are used for spokes and rims in combination with a metal hub. For implement poles long leaf pine and Douglas fir have given most satisfaction. Throughout the vehicle and implement industries there is a marked and increasing tendency to use western coniferous woods.

The White Pine In Vermont.

The best kind of tree for general forest planting in Vermont is the white pine. Other conifers worthy of trial are Scotch pine, red pine, Norway spruce, European larch. The locust is of promise as a grower of posts.

FAVORITE FRUITS.

Don't neglect the grapevines. Give them a good spraying with bordeaux mixture as soon as the first leaves have expanded. If there has been no preliminary treatment of the dormant wood, be careful to make this spraying thorough.

Two New Strawberries.

Elma is a good late strawberry, producing medium to large fruit of firm flesh and fine flavor. It is light crimson in color.

Virginia is another new berry of acceptable quality, with moderately firm pink or red flesh. The first fruits are unusually smooth and uniform and of medium or above medium size. This variety is astonishingly prolific.

Care of Currants.

Keep currant bushes free from grass and weeds. Apply the proper remedies for the currant worm at the first sign of its presence. Trim out a portion of the new canes if overabundant. Remember that currants, if well taken care of, always give a sure crop and satisfactory results generally, but are an eyesore and annoyance right along if neglected. The occasional use of tobacco dust or white hellebore thrown over the dew wet bushes will leave no chance for the worms.

The Gooseberry.

As soon as the leaves are well started on gooseberry bushes cut out all the nonstarting or sickly looking canes and burn them. In this way you may destroy many borers, to the benefit of your plantation. Gooseberries are especially subject to attacks of the currant worm. When branches are more than three years of age they should be removed to make way for younger wood. It is advisable to cut out all branches which touch the ground, as there will then be a better circulation of air, and the fruit will be kept off the ground. Gooseberries will often begin to bear the second year after planting.

Mrs. David Lindenborn, of New York, wife of a wealthy art dealer, left her husband to return to the stage as chorus girl.

THE LONE STAR RANGERS.

Courageous Men Who Are Loyal Guardians of the Law.

"When in Austin, Tex., a few weeks ago," said J. D. Rebey of Memphis, Tenn., "my attention was directed to a party of about a dozen men—big, husky fellows—most of them under thirty years, who were tramping along Congress avenue, not in a swaggering way, but with a kind of rolling, sailorlike gait that seemed to differentiate them from ordinary citizens.

"They had on broad brimmed sombreros, blue woolen shirts and high heeled boots, and I would have taken them for cowboys but for the big six shooters and cartridge belts that were strapped about their waists. This led me to surmise that they were members of the celebrated ranger force, and it turned out that they were. Their peculiar walk came from spending so much of their time on horseback.

"The Texas rangers are a pet institution, for they are a body of men who are ready to brave death at a minute's notice and who are the most loyal guardians of law and order any state or nation ever employed. Utterly fearless of peril, they will go after the cattle thieves of the western plains or the smuggler of the Rio Grande or sit in district court rooms with their hands on their Winchesters to preserve the peace at some murder trial, the hearing of which would bring on fresh tragedies even before judge and jury were it not for their presence.

"Occasionally a ranger gets killed in the performance of his duty, but it is far more frequently the case that it is the bad man or rustler who tries an argument with the mounted officer that gets his quietus from the muzzle of a death dealing gun. There is not a man in the force who is not a dead shot, and the ruffians they are after very rarely want to bring matters to that point where the deadliest aim gets the decision."—Baltimore American.

The Pneumatic Tube.

A novel experiment to demonstrate the practicability of a pneumatic parcel carrier was recently made in Chicago. The "parcel" shot through a short length of sample tube was a thirteen-year-old boy. He traveled at the rate of sixteen miles an hour and was in no way the worse for the journey. J. M. Masten, superintendent of the railway mail service, and Postmaster Campbell of Chicago witnessed the experiment as representatives of the postoffice department, which is looking into the device. The inventor declares that with a tube between New York and Chicago mail can be shot from one city to the other in seven hours.

One thousand delegates are expected from New York Saturday to the Republican State convention in Chicago.

Returns Stolen Money.

Washington, June 15.—Secretary Cortelyou has received in an envelope postmarked Jersey City a conscience contribution of $8,000, which has been turned into the conscience fund of the treasury.

In an unsigned letter the sender says that many years ago he and another man took a considerable sum of money belonging to the Government and that this $8,000 makes a total of $40,000 sent, which, he says, is fourfold the amount originally taken by himself. This sum, he says, has been returned to the treasury from time to time covering a period of several years.

An Unusual Bit of Wrecking.

Robert Reid, the artist, is about to attempt an unusual feat in the way of "wrecking" in the near future in the Fifth Avenue hotel. He is going to direct work of taking down from the ceiling of the great hall on the second floor of the dismantled hostelry two circular mural paintings that he did for the hotel about fifteen years ago. Decorations of this kind are first painted on canvas in the same manner as any ordinary oil painting and then are fastened to the wall surface by a "paste" of white lead. When this lead becomes hard, the canvas practically becomes a part of the wall, and that is where the difficulty of removing a decoration of this kind comes in. The "wrecker" who is to do the work for Mr. Reid is no more certain that he will be able to get the two panels off without damaging them than the artist is, but they are both hoping for the best. In spite of the number of years the decorations have been on the ceiling they still preserve their original brilliancy of coloring.—New York Press.

Rat Extermination Virus Wanted.

Consul Maxwell Blake, at Dunfermline, reports that a movement has just been inaugurated by the commercial and scientific associations of Great Britain for the extermination of rats, which are very destructive to property. The consul adds that it would appear that the United Kingdom offers to American exporting chemists an attractive market for the sale of some rat destroying virus, harmless to other creatures, but spreading contamination and death to its own kind. Owing to the spreading by rats of trichinosis among swine, the German imperial chancellor has issued a recipe for the extermination of the rat in any district where trichinosis occurs.

The Hat He Had.

"Mamma, if I had a hat before I had this one, it's all right to say that's the hat I had had, isn't it?"

"Certainly, Johnny."

"And if that hat once had a hole in it and I had it mended I could say it had had a hole in it, couldn't I?"

"Yes; there would be nothing incorrect in that."

"Then it would be good English to say that the hat I had had had had a hole in it, wouldn't it?"

Yes, Indeed.

"It takes a couple of sweethearts a deucedly long time to say goodby, even if they are parting for only a few hours."

"Much adieu about nothing, eh?"

Amiable.

"Daughter, is your husband amiable?"

"Well, ma, he's just exactly like pa. When he gets his own way about everything he's just perfectly lovely."—Pathfinder.

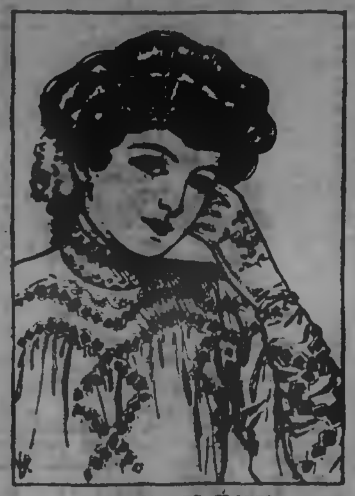
IN FASHION'S REALM

Common Sense Not the Season's Keynote In Millinery.

SELECTING THE RIGHT HAT.

How the Clever Girl Can Make Over a Last Year's Hat Into One of the Smart, New, Large and Becoming Shapes of the Season.

The woman who trembled in the face of last fall's millinery openings is destined to have nervous prostration before she has rounded up this season's offerings. While standing before a smart show window a few days since my attention was caught by despondent tones on my right. A comfortable, matronly person of about forty was clutching her companion's arm and studying the picturesque display behind the huge sheet of plate glass.



EMBROIDERED GLOVES.

"Mary," she murmured in the tone of one doomed to folly, "Mary, do you think you and I will really come to anything like that, those overturned wash bowls and quart measures and floral topknots? My goodness, there isn't one common sense hat in the lot."

She struck the keynote of the season's display. It is not common sense, but, oh, how lovely! And if just the right clerk got hold of that despondent shopper her hair was fluffed to just the right stage of youthfulness, and an overturned flowerpot or quart measure or butter bowl, with tip tilted flowers, would change the tired looking matron into a most bridelike person.

For the season is nothing if not youthful, and a clever milliner can fit one of those absurdly youthful models to a middle aged face with pleasing results. It is purely a matter of selecting the right colors and twisting a ribbon here, the brim there and tucking in a flower at the last point. It is a season of odd shapes and unlimited variety in materials. A clever girl can even take a last season's small straw shape and make it over into one of the new big shapes by alternating the straw with shirring or plaitings of net. You can dye old straw braid and be almost sure of striking a desirable color, for the more peculiar the coloring the more smart your hat is considered. The only quiet combination noted is black and white, and often these colors are so arranged as to be garish. Hardly any hats appear in two or three tones of the same color. Generally the colors are strongly contrasting.

If the frame of the hat is brown the facing may be a grayish blue that is almost but not quite an Alice blue, and the trimming will be violets and pink roses or huge American Beauty roses. The girl wearing the rajah silk Piccadilly suit has on a stunning outing hat of black straw simply trimmed with black ribbon and black pompons. The embroidered gloves seen in the other cut are the latest development in this line.

A New Mascot.

A new mascot ring has just been introduced. It is a bar of gold in which is set the tooth of a wolf or that of a badger, which when highly polished looks like a piece of ivory or white coral. It is a very old superstition that connects the wearing of an animal's tooth with immunity from bad luck, and the newly revived talisman will take its place among the various other mascots already worn with a historical reputation in its favor.

AN OLD TIME RECIPE.

Virginia Fried Chicken That "Mother Used to Make."

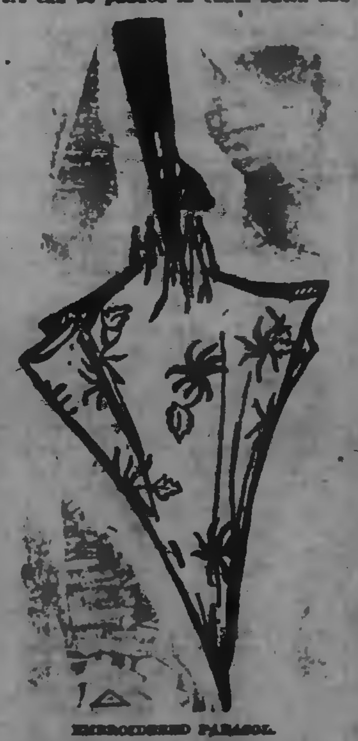
Fried chicken is, of course, my chief recollection of the poultry dishes "mother used to make," says Christine Terhune Herrick in the May Delineator. We had roast chicken besides and barbecued and smothered and boiled chicken and roast and boiled turkey and roast duck. But fried chicken was as regular an article on the Virginia bill of fare as beefsteak is in some northern homes—chicken, fried plain or with cream gravy, with bacon or without. Broiled chicken appeared pretty often—we always had it for breakfast Sunday—but it was not such a real Virginia dish as fried chicken. The southern cook of old time might fall on anything else in the culinary line, but I don't believe I ever heard of one who got her "han' out" in cooking poultry.

For this you must have young chickens, broiling size, and they must be cut apart as for fricassee, rinsed, wiped dry, peppered lightly and then rolled in flour, a piece at a time. Meanwhile half a pound of salt pork should have been sliced and cooked in a frying pan long enough to make the fat flow, but not enough to brown the pork. In this fat lay the pieces of chicken and fry to a good brown, turning the pieces as they cook. When all are done take out with a fork, so as to free from grease, and lay in a hot dish. Set this in the open oven and pour into the gravy left in the frying pan a cupful of rich milk—half cream is better—add a tablespoonful of flour, rubbed smooth, with a tablespoonful of butter, stir until the sauce has boiled smooth and thick, add a tablespoonful of minced parsley and pour over the chicken.

A SUMMER NOVELTY.

Hand Embroidered Parasols More Used Than Ever This Summer.

Hand embroidered parasols will be more than ever used this summer. The design shown is an especially handsome one for linen or pongee. It can be treated in several ways. The flowers can be padded in chain stitch and embroidered solidly in satin stitch, and the leaf can have one half solid and the other half corded and filled in with seeding, or the petals can be outlined and seeded and the leaf worked solidly to a central vein. Use a mercerized cotton of a rather fine number. For embroidering the pongees the work can be done in self tones or in white.



EMBROIDERED PARASOL.

New Hats.

It is very fashionable to use a band of gold braid as a trimming for the crown of a hat. The braid can be bought anywhere by the yard, and the hat needs no more than a band of it tightly stretched around the crown. At the front or at the side there can be placed a white lace butterfly, positively immense in its proportions.

Hats right from Paris show the very high crown, rather square in shape, and the narrow brim. These hats are almost like very high crowned sailors. The narrow brim rolls slightly upward, while the top is very high and very much trimmed with folds of silk and with small flowers, daisies, bluets or buttercups.

The mushroom shape, which proved to be so very becoming, will hold over this season. In its new forms it is rather wide in the brim, and it turns down all the way around, like a butter bowl inverted, and its top is heavily trimmed with flowers. The newer of the mushrooms are a little wider on one side than the other, and there are others that are a little narrower in the front than at the back.

Unruly Locks.

It is said that somebody has at last discovered a method by which a woman's unruly short locks may be made to stay in place. Just mix together a teaspoonful of glycerin and five teaspoonfuls of water, shake the lotion well and just before you go out apply it to the hair with a very soft brush. When the hair has been dressed as usual every lock will lie snugly in position, although there will be none of that sticky, oily look that is so often the result of stay in place mixtures. A few drops of one's favorite perfume may be added to the glycerin and water, but care should be taken that the odor be overstrong.

PASTOR HAS SENT IN HIS RESIGNATION

Rev. Mr. Steuernagle Asks to be Relieved of His Duties at Bethany Tabernacle on July 1st.

At the close of the morning session at Bethany Tabernacle yesterday, morning, pastor Steuernagel announced his resignation. He asked to be relieved of his duties on July 1st, and the matter will be considered by the managers of the church. The resignation causes considerable of a surprise to the congregation. Mr. Steuernagel has been pastor of Bethany Tabernacle for the past five years, and during that time the church has made much progress.

COURT CHEMONG HAD LARGE TURNOUT FOR CHURCH SERVICE

Over a Hundred Members Marched to Knox Church' Last Night—Rev. H. J. Keith Preached an Excellent Sermon.

The members of Court Chemong attended service at Knox church last night, when the pastor, Rev. H. J. Keith, preached a special sermon to them. Over a hundred members of the Court gathered at the Sons of England Hall on Hunter street, and marched in a body to the church. A section of the edifice had been reserved for them and most complete arrangements had been made. Bro. A. Allison, Senior Past sermon was of much excellence. His text was a portion of the 18th verse of the 4th chapter of Corinthians II; "For the things which are seen are Chief Ranger, acted as marshall for teh parade, and discharged his duties most efficiently. There was a large congregation and Mr. Keith's temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal." Mr. Keith said the question to be considered was whether it were possible to be a true citizen of this world and at the same time be sure of the citizenship of the world which was to come. We were citizens of two worlds. Could we be true citizens of both. There was one class of people who lived only for this world. Their selfishness was so great that their only desire was to obtain honor and pleasure in this world. They paid no attention to the life that was to come. There was another class who believed that to make sure of their citizenship in the world to come they could not partake in the life and activity of this world. They were like the monks of old, who withdrew from the world to pray and prepare for the life hereafter. Neither of the above classes had the right conception of life. It was possible, Mr. Keith said, to be a true citizen of both worlds. The man who knew the love of God, who had faith in Him as a personal God, and loved his fellow-man, was a true citizen of both worlds. It was not possible to be a true citizen of this world and the one to come unless one had known the love of God and knew Christ as a personal Saviour.

REV. H. J. KEITH

Who Preac'ed to the Independent Foresters at Knox Church Last Night.

Mr. Keith paid tribute to the Independent Order of Foresters and to the great work the Order was doing in alleviating distress, comforting the sorrowing and teaching the gospel of love to one's fellowmen, loving each other because God loved us. He wished them success in their noble work.

The choir rendered a number of special selections in excellent style, adding greatly to the service.

On the return to their hall, the Court passed votes of thanks to Rev. Mr. Keith, to the elders and managers of Knox church, and to Bro. Allison, for his efficient services as marshall.

CANADIAN FORESTERS IN ATTENDANCE AT ST. PAUL'S

Last evening was the occasion of the visit to St. Paul's church of members of Courts Langton, Littlejohn and Peterborough, Canadian Order of Foresters. A large number of brethren were present and the church contained a large congregation. Rev. Robt. Pogue delivered an eloquent sermon appropriate to the occasion on "Brotherhood" and in his preliminary remarks spoke of the necessity of conversion in order that a man may live the Christian life.

He chose for his subject the story of Saul of Tarsus who, with dire thoughts in his mind before he left on that memorable journey to Damascus, was afterwards miraculously converted to an ardent follower of Jesus Christ, and who, when he was met by Ananias was called "brother." The speaker pointed out that in this story there were three noticeable things—God working in the conversion of Saul, and in his sermon made these the chief foundations for his discourse.

The conversion of Saul, who was going to Damascus to work out dark threats against the Christian Church was a miraculous one because he was a most unlikely subject. He was a proud and haughty man and was one not given to much thought of God and the life hereafter. It was three fold supernatural that such a man should have been, with the swiftness of a flash of lightning, changed from such an immoral condition to a devout disciple of Jesus Christ—it was a miracle of Divine Grace. God had first to reveal Christ to him and the same must take place with every man if he would enter into the kingdom of Heaven.

Another important point, that the speaker advanced was that it was hard for man to resist God. When Saul was suddenly arrested in his journey by the divine voice and found that his mission to Damascus was known he yielded to the Almighty and asked. "What wilt Thou have me do?" It shows the surrender of will of Saul, the greatest theologian of his day to the Divine power. Men have been made great by the stand they have taken in never saying "No" to God. The answer given was to go on to Damascus and do his work not as he had intended but as a disciple of Him.

The spirit which Ananias showed when he went up to Saul and called him "brother" is the proper one. He had known that Saul had persecuted Christ and that his hands were steeped in the blood of martyrs yet he called him brother. John Bunyan, one of the greatest minds of the past, was taken from a wretched and immoral condition of a follower of Christ, because men held out their hands and called him their brother. The speaker admired such organizations as the Foresters, because they foster a spirit of brotherhood and he hoped that a more brotherly spirit would be given us. Service among our fellowmen and for our fellowmen was the service required.

Included in the musical service of the evening was a solo which Miss Helen Davies contributed beautifully and a quintette splendidly sung, Mr. W. McIlroy taking the solo part.

The Foresters attended about 300 strong and were marshalled by Bros. Jas. Metheral and A. Brown. On returning to the hall votes of thanks were passed to Rev. Mr. Pogue, the officers and choir of the church. Visitors from Court Zion, Otonabee and Court Bridgenorth were also present.

Assignee's Notice TO CREDITORS

IN THE MATTER OF ANDREW GRAHAM OF THE CITY OF PETERBOROUGH, IN THE COUNTY OF PETERBOROUGH, INSOLVENT:

Notice is hereby given that the above-named insolvent has made an assignment to the undersigned assignee of all his estate and effects for the general benefit of his creditors, under R.S.O., 1897, chap. 147, and amending acts.

A meeting of the creditors will be held at the office of William Henry Moore over number 136 Hunter St., in the said city of Peterboro, on Thursday, the Eighteenth of June, 1908, at 2.30 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of receiving a statement of his affairs, appointing inspectors, fixing their remuneration, and for the ordering of the affairs of the estate generally.

All persons claiming to rank upon the estate of the Insolvent must file their claims, proved by affidavit, with the said Assignee, prior to the date of the said meeting, stating what securities they have and otherwise complying with the provisions of the said statute.

Notice is further given that after the Twenty-fifth day of June, 1908, the Assignee will distribute the assets amongst the parties entitled, having regard only to the claims of which he shall then have received notice, and will not be liable for the assets or any part thereof so distributed to any person or persons or persons of whose claims he shall not then have had notice.

Dated 12th June, 1908.

OBITUARY

There passed away at Bright-look Hospital, St. Johnsbury, Vt., C. F. W. Shepherd, beloved son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shepherd, of this city. The deceased was admitted to the Hospital on May 4th suffering from rheumatism. On June 8th his condition became serious and at 2 p.m. on that date he passed away. The deceased young man was in his 18th year and had been employed as scale packer for the Fairbanks Company at St. Johnsbury, Vt. He was born in Montreal, Canada, in 1889. He was a member of IOF. Court, Moose River, also member of 1st National Guards, "D" Company. The Foresters and Guards paid the last tributes of respect to their comrade. Services were held in the armories, Rev. J. M. Frost officiating. The deceased was very popular among his associates, who mourn the loss of a dear companion. The relatives of the deceased are, besides his father and mother, Violet, Pearl, Gladys, Marion and Arthur, who were unable to attend the funeral services.

MRS. MARY A. ROBINSON.

The death occurred this morning of Mrs. Mary Ann Robinson, relict of the late Joseph Robinson, at her late residence, 434 Driscoll Terrace, Ashburnham. Her maiden name was Mary Ann Murphy. She had resided in Peterborough for thirty years. Previous to that she lived in Cavan. Her husband predeceased her about fourteen years ago.

She leaves to mourn her loss four daughters and one son. The daughters are Mrs. Robert Hewson of Midland; Mrs. D. Kelly, Mrs. Wm. Gilgour and Mrs. John Stinson, of Peterborough. The son is Mr. James Robinson, of Spokane, Wash.

The funeral will take place tomorrow at three o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

MARG. MAY DAVIE

The death occurred this morning of Margt. May Davie at her late residence just outside the city limits. She was 28 years of age and was born in Manvers.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday. Interment will take place at Bowmanville.

WAS REMOVED TO THE HOSPITAL

David Hartley, who was injured on Saturday by falling from the top of the Hunter street bridge, was removed to Nicholls Hospital in the Dan Spence ambulance on Saturday evening. Mr. Hartley's right foot was badly sprained and the muscles of his back were strained. However, his injuries are not of a serious nature, and it will be only the matter of a week or ten days before he will be able to be around again.

SHAFT BROKEN IN RUNAWAY

Mr. J. T. O'Connell's Horse Created Excitement To-day in Ashburnham

A runaway in Ashburnham shortly before noon to-day resulted in a shaft of Mr. T. T. O'Connell's buggy being badly smashed. Mr. O'Connell was in Weir & McIntyre's coal office telephoning and left his horse standing at the door in charge of a young lad. Unexpectedly the animal became frightened and started to run. It turned up Mark. St. around and out again on to Hunter St. The boy held to the reins, but the vehicle collided with a post breaking the shaft. Mr. O'Connell caught the horse before it ran very far.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVED HERE

Two Placed on Farms in Smith---Train Passed Through City

An immigrant train passed through the city this morning. The immigrant steamship arrived at Quebec Saturday evening. Two young Englishmen got off here and were sent out to farms in Smith. They looked like industrious young men and will no doubt make good citizens.

Mr. Howson immediately had places for them as the demand for farm hands is exceedingly great.

ARE HAVING A GREAT VOYAGE

According to Dick Baker, Simpson and he are having a splendid time on their trip to the old country. They boarded the steamer Tunisian at Montreal on Friday night at 7 o'clock reaching Quebec at four o'clock on Saturday morning. The course of training was commenced on Saturday morning at 6.0 o'clock and after the morning workout it was resumed again at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the hours mentioned being fixed for the daily training periods. Simpson is feeling in excellent trim and is well liked by all his friends on the boat, calling him "Big Chief."

EVENING TRAIN FOR LAKEFIELD

Will be Commenced on June 21st. ---Steamers Began Regular Trips To-day

The Stony Lake steamers began their regular trips to-day. A number of local people went up to their cottages this morning. The noon train for Lakefield leaves at 11.55 o'clock. The evening train has not yet been started. It will be put on commencing June 21st.

A SERVICE OF MUCH INTEREST

Children's Service at Murray St Church Yesterday --- Sunday School Much to the Fore

The children's service at Murray street church yesterday morning was of a most interesting nature. There was an exceedingly large attendance and the children took an important part in the service. The choir was composed of children, and one of the members of the Sunday school, Bessie Elcome played the pipe organ with much efficiency. Boys from the school acted as ushers. The superintendent, Principal Dunlop, was in charge of the service, and Mr. Elcome assisted materially. Rev. J. R. Webb preached a special sermon to the children, his subject being, "The Three Coats":

First—The coat of many made for Joseph.

Second—The coat made every year for Samuel by his mother.

Third—The seamless coat worn by Christ.

Mr. Webb dealt particularly with the children's three best friends, father, mother and Saviour.

At the close of the sermon Miss Olive Yelland recited Whittier's Crucifixion very acceptably. The hymns were appropriate for the occasion. Great credit is due Mr. F. W. Miller, who was in charge of the musical part of the service.

The extensive flour mills at Newcastle-under-Lyme were recently burned, the damage being estimated at $75,000.

MEMBERSHIP HAS BEEN INCREASED

Organizer Halyany Secures Many New Members for Canadian Order of Foresters

Court Peterboro No. 29 Canadian Order of Foresters have recently held two enthusiastic meetings at which 150 new members were initiated. Organizer Halpany has been in the city for a few weeks working in the interests of the Order and prospects seem bright for even greater success. The meetings were largely attended and representatives from surrounding Courts were present. The initiation team in their beautiful robes, put on their work in a very efficient manner and deserve great praise. Lunch was served, after which several speeches were made on the growth and excellent financial condition of the Order. By a little individual effort of the members of the City Courts, Organizer Halpany hopes to duplicate his former successes by greatly increasing the membership in the city. He is particularly anxious that all members will consider it their duty to take an active interest in their work and the success of his work will thus be assured.

SPORTING NEWS

NO BREAK IN STRING YET; PETES. HAVE ELEVEN WINS

Cobourg Went Down in Saturday's Game Here, 12-4—MacKinnon Was Hammered for Nineteen Hits—Locals Have Not Tasted Defeat This Season.

A half-dozen of Spalding's regulation baseballs had a hard time at Riverside Park on Saturday afternoon. The white-coated, inoffensive pellets were hammered all over the field, knocked into the drink and given a terrible beating generally. Five hundred people looked on and were pleased at and applauded the massacre and went home well satisfied with the afternoon's sport. The cause of it all was a Midland League game between the Peterborough and Cobourg teams. Incidentally it was a slugging bee from start to finish and the homesters won because they hit the hardest. The score was 12—4, which gave the locals a big enough margin to satisfy any sane fan if there is such a thing.

It was an ideal afternoon for baseball and a big crowd turned out. The new grand stand — and it's a peach — was well filled and a large number preferred leaning over the fence or sitting on the grass. The lakesiders brought up a strong team as they needed a win badly, but they were disappointed. It was a hit and run game with the fielders kept on the jump and a lot of snappy ball. True, the infield of the home team was a little bit ragged at the outset, but they tightened up as the game progressed, and the errors did not figure much in the scoring. One Donald MacKinnon was whisking the pellet over for the visitors but the variety of ball he was putting up was not as good as the name.

Scotch may be alright mixed with soda or clad in kilts, but in the pitcher's box it didn't fit much on the [illegible]. Donald's slants were pounded for nineteen safeties, two three-baggers and three doubles. They came singly and in bunches, principally the latter, especially in the seventh innings when the home team laid the wood on everything sent over and scored five runs. The other composites of the dozen, came in the first, second, fifth and eighth innings. Floyd caught a good game for Cobourg and had two nice singles and two runs to his credit. Burge also had two runs and two hits and Turpin one, a two-bagger. This made up the five hits registered off Freddy Clements' delivery. The Petes' twirler was in fine form and was getting better every innings. King and Weinberg, the two men on the Cobourg team, of whom much was expected could not connect safely. But, then, one can't hit safely all the time and they appear to be good ones, just the same. Burge played a good game for the visitors in centre field and Turpin did well around the first sack. Burns, Murphy and Thorne, the Peterboro outfield, played great ball, missing nothing. (Thorne replaced "Frisco" O'Brien in the centre position as the regular member of the Italian outfield is still suffering from the sprained ankle sustained in last Saturday's Cobourg game. Lawson played a great game at first and batted 1,000 per cent. He had four singles and a charity for five times at bat. Burns had three hits, two of them doubles, and Edmunds had the same number, two singles and one good for three sacks. Every man on the team hit the ball safely, Clements' three bagger being one of the features.

That it was a hitting game was evidenced by the fact that the Petes had nineteen hits off MacKinnon who only had two strike-outs during the game. He issued one charity. Clements fanned seven, gave one base on ball and struck two batters with the ball. Murphy's work on the coaching line greatly amused the fans who took keen delight in the game.

Seymour, of Port Hope umpired the game and was right on the job. A couple of the decisions caused some kicking but it was not justifiable.

The visitors were accompanied by about a score of supporters.

THE SCORING.

It was evident in the first innings that it was going to be a slugging bee. Weinberg headed the Cobourg batting list and was safe on Mickey McDermott muffing a grounder between second and first. Bulger flew out to Burns — a nice catch — and Bentley was retired in the same fashion. Floyd followed with a single and Weinberg, who had got around to third on Lawson letting the ball away when thrown to him by McDermott, crossed the plate. Turpin kept up the hammering and dropped the ball over Thorne's head for two sacks, scoring Floyd. King, the Guelph boy with the big reputation then came up and pounded the sphere down the third base line and Cheetham did not get it. MacKinnon went out, McDermott to Lawson. Two runs.

The Petes also kept up the hitting game. Burns fouled out to Floyd, but Murphy got on with a single. He pilfered second and scored on a lovely two-bagger by Maddock. Thorne went out, Weinberg to Turpin and McDermott was retired on a similar play.

Cobourg failed to do anything in their half of the second, only four men facing Clements, while the homesters had three counters, putting them two to the good. Edmunds made first on Bentley's error and Lawson had a nice single. Cheetham was out, King to Turpin, and Clements fanned. Burns doubled, scoring Edmunds and Lawson. Murphy was safe on fielder's choice, but Burns beat out the throw to the plate. Maddock went out, MacKinnon to Turpin. Three runs.

Cobourg made it even in the third. Bentley made first on another error on McDermott and got third on a bad throw of Thorne's. A single by Floyd brought him in. Turpin fanned and King's fly was copped by Murphy. MacKinnon got life on Clements' error and Floyd scored. Burge was out to Lawson. Two runs. That ended the scoring as far as Cobourg was concerned.

The Petes added two more to their string in the fifth. Thorne was out, King to Turpin. McDermott hit safely and Edmunds lived on Bentley's fumble. Lawson then got his second hit, scoring McDermott. Cheetham also singled but was caught at third on a close decision that produced a bit of parleying. Clements got down on fielder's choice but Edmunds managed to score. Burns hit to Bentley and Clements was out at second.

There was nothing doing in the sixth, but in the seventh it was one of those affairs sometimes described as a shame. Donald MacKinnon's slants looked like bunches of Scotch mist as they came up the groove and six hits, including two three-baggers and a double were made off his delivery before the agony was over. Five runs came in as a result of the feast. McDermott was out, pitcher to first, but Edmunds set the pace with a long drive that brought him to the brewery side of the diamond. Lawson scored him with his third single and Cheetham also boosted his percentage with a single. Clements kept up the merriment with a three bagger to the drink on the left side. It was almost good enough for a homer. Lawson and Cheetham scored. Burns then pounded out his second two bagger, scoring Clements. Murphy singled [illegible] Bulger being unable to handle [illegible] was so slow in his fielding that Murphy tried to take third but was thrown out by a hairbreadth. Burns had washed home. Maddock flew out to Bulger. Five runs.

To make it safe beyond a possibility the locals gathered in another in the eighth. Thorne singled and was advanced by a sacrifice by McDermott. Edmunds flew out to Burge and Thorne scored on Floyd's throw [illegible] the ball over Weinberg's head. Lawson got another single — his fourth during the afternoon — and stole second. Cheetham flew out to Weinberg and there was nothing more doing.

The Quakers will practice at Riverside Park to-night at 6.30 o'clock. All players please turn out in preparation for the game with Havelock on Friday.

REYNOLDS BACK

James Reynolds returned to town this morning not feeling much worse after his long tramp. The report that reached here that he had collapsed three miles east of Newcastle was not correct. Upon reaching this point he felt in first class condition and was travelling over four miles an hour, but realizing that he could not finish within the time he gave it up. He attributes his defeat to the illness on the journey to Toronto.

On the return trip Reynolds walked from Whitby to Oshawa, four miles, in forty minutes, and this shows that he was feeling pretty fine. —Port Hope Guide.

HARRISON WALKED COOPER OFF HIS FEET AND WON EASILY

Local Man was Awarded Race in Belleville on Saturday Night at the End of Three Hours—Made a Superb Showing—Covering Over Eighteen Miles.

Special to the Review.

Jimmy Harrison, Peterborough's star pedestrian, didn't have much difficulty in winning out from Jack Cooper, the fast short distance walker, at the skating rink here on Saturday night. The match was to have been for four hours and was for $100 a side.

It didn't last the scheduled time, being awarded to Harrison at the end of the third hour, when Cooper was hopelessly beaten by a mile and a quarter. Harrison got away at the start and bar his opponent beaten all the way.

GOOD TIME.

The Peterborough crack did the opening two miles in 17 minutes and covered 13 miles in the first two hours. In the three hours he did 18 miles without unduly exerting himself. His excellent walking won great applause from the audience and he has developed a pretty style and a lot more speed since the last time he walked, which was at the big six day grind at Peterborough in April last. The people of this city figure him out a hard man to beat in the six-day Canadian championship walk in St. Catharines, which commences to-day.

On Sunday afternoon Harrison and his trainer, Jack Murphy, who is thoroughly pleased with the excellent showing of his man, left on the 2.30 train for Toronto with the intention of leaving that city for St. Catharines at nine o'clock Sunday evening.

T. A. S. NINE WIN FAST GAME; STRATHS TRIM WEST ENDS

In spite of the interest that was shown in the game on Saturday between Cobourg and the Petes a good sized crowd saw the city league games on Nicholls Oval between the TAS. and Wellingtons and the Strathconas and the West Ends. Both exhibitions were interesting ones.

In the first game the TAS. nine showed the best form they have this season when they put it over the fast Wellingtons, by a score of 11-7. The contest was a fine one being full of good features. Both nines were on color in the matter of batting and fielding and excellent work was done in both departments. Hayes and Billington put up a pretty struggle for the pitching honors with the TAS. man to the good. The abstainers were the first to bat and started in to connect with the ball from the outset, the first two players up each getting a hit, and both crossed the pan for a tally. The winners did the rest of their run getting by making two in the third, three in the sixth, two in the seventh, and one in both the eighth and the ninth.

The Wellingtons runs came as follows: two in the second, two in the fourth, one in the fifth and two in the eighth.

The teams:

GOOD SHOWING OF LOCAL LADS AT BOY'S CHAMPIONSHIP MEET

The representatives of the local Y.M.C.A. did remarkably well at the first Boys Canadian Championship meeting held in Toronto on Saturday afternoon at the Varsity Athletic grounds. Peter Wallace finished third in the one mile for boys 16 and under. There were 13 entries for the event and Percy Sully, of West End Y.M.C.A. was first. The time was 4 minutes, 51 1-5 seconds.

In the hundred yard dash for boys 17 and under Harold Munro finished second in the first heat, first in the semi-finals, and in the finals was set back a yard for a false start, and finished fourth.

In the 100 yards and 220 yards for boys 16 and under, Frank Halpany finished third in the first heat of each event, but this did not entitle him to go in the finals.

Altogether there were 144 entries from the best athletic clubs in Canada, and the Peterborough boys feel that they did pretty well, considering what they were up against. The boys were under the care of Mr. A. Frowde, physical director of the Y.M.C.A.

QUAKERS WERE TWO MEN SHORT

Played in Havelock on Saturday With Only Nine Men on the Team Lost by 2-0

With a team of only nine men the Quakers lost to Havelock in Havelock on Saturday by a score of 2—0. Havelock had its regular lineup. A goal was scored in each half.

The Quakers found it impossible to get their full team together, and were naturally much handicapped but under the circumstances did wonderfully well the backs doing especially good work.

Mr. Fred Doherty, of Norwood, refereed satisfactorily.

The Quakers' line-up was:—
Goal—McFadden.
Backs—Fitzgerald, Sullivan.
Halves — Archibald, Scrimshaw, Hitchen.
Forwards — Laing, Milburn, Turner.

CHURCH LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

The championship of the Junior Church League will be decided on Thursday evening next, when St. Andrew's will play the George street team. The league is divided into two districts, St. Andrew's being the winners of district one, and George street being the winner of district two, and on Thursday night next they will play off for the championship. The game will be played at Riverside Park and it promises to be fast and interesting. It is expected that Mr. T. E. Bradburn, MPP. will pitch the first ball. Ladies will be admitted free but the small fee of ten cents will be charged the gentlemen.

GOLF

Miss Lundy of Peterborough has received the prize for the longest single drive in the Ontario Golf championship at Hamilton. She made the drive in Hamilton where the championships are being held, a couple of days ago.

SPORTING COMMENT

There is a mild stir in Lindsay athletic circles or at any rate in the sanctums of the sporting editors of the Lindsay papers. The Daily Warder goes after the Post with blood in its eye on the charge that it is "knocking" Lindsay. Of course the Post might be morally right if it did such a thing, but when in Rome one must do as the Romans do and when in Lindsay one must slow down and get on to the gait of the natives. The cause of the whole trouble is that the Post reprinted an item from The Peterborough Review in which the Warder was taken to task for belittling Fred Simpson. The Post did not credit the item to The Review and of course it was believed in Lindsay that it was the Post's own opinion. The Warder says in part:

"The same old story of sour grapes is hurled in our face. Well, now, when you really think about it, did Simpson live up to his advance notices? He was picked even by Lou Marsh and all Peterborough re-echoed the chorus to win the Olympic Marathon from such cracks as Lawson, and what did he do? Finish sixth. Can anybody make anything else out of that?

"Simpson has our respect and admiration and we sincerely hope he wins the Olympic Marathon, but will that hinder us from remarking that he did not do what he was touted to accomplish? Assuredly not."

The Warder man can't get anything right. Simpson finished fourth and not sixth. When a man cannot get his data correct he should stay quiet. And the Warder blames the Hiawatha boy because Lou Marsh and some in Peterborough picked him to win and he didn't. He made the Olympic team and deserves credit for his achievement. The Review makes the claim—and it is generally admitted—that Peterborough has as good a record as a sporting centre as any city in the province.

And if we wanted to engage in the pinheaded type of journalism prevalent in Lindsay we might say that an aggregation known as the Lindsay Midgets did not live up to their "advance notices," although they were good enough to trim Peterborough last winter.

Vancouver Indemnity.

Vancouver, June 13.—MacKenzie King has estimated the losses sustained by the Chinese in the September riots at $25,990, to which is added $1,000 for legal expenses. The Government at Ottawa has already approved the award.

Mr. MacPherson Is Asked to Explain.

Vancouver, June 15.—Vancouver Board of Trade has given R. C. MacPherson, M.P. for Vancouver, opportunity to explain his position on the coasting laws question. According to a report from Ottawa he made certain statements in the House of Commons on Thursday, as reported in the press, which are totally at variance with the facts.

Don't Want Fallieres to Go.

Paris, June 15.—The national committee of the United Socialist party adopted resolutions yesterday expressing indignation against the proposed visit of President Fallieres to the Emperor of Russia "at a time when hangings, shootings and exilings of our comrades are occurring daily."

Lyttelton Can't Come.

London, June 15.—Right Hon. Sir Alfred Lyttelton, former Colonial Secretary, who was to have accompanied Lord Milner to Canada next month, has for unavoidable reasons had to postpone, he trusts only for a short time, his visit to Canada.

Painter Drowns.

Collingwood, June 15.—Charles Bisley, while painting, fell between the dock and the steamer City of Toronto, and was drowned.

Canoe Ran Into Rapids.

Mattawa, June 15.—Last night a druggist named Colley, with a Mr. Taylor, jeweler, took two sisters named Perrier and a Miss Brown for a sail.

Both young men being inexperienced, they allowed the canoe to drift down near the Mattawa Rapids. The canoe struck a jam of logs. The two men, with one Miss Perrier and Miss Brown, clung to the logs, the oldest Perrier girl having jumped just before the jam was reached and was taken over the rapids and drowned.

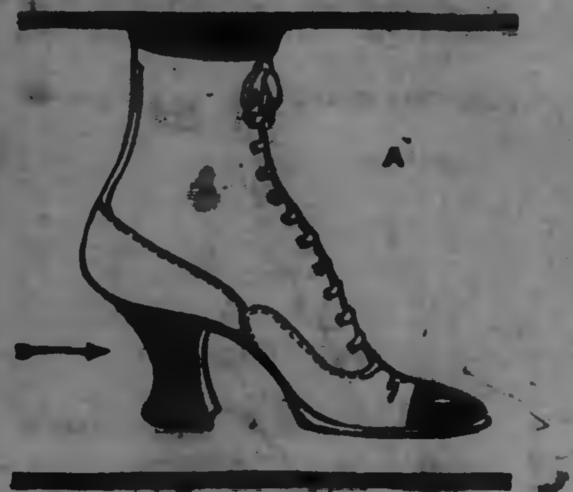
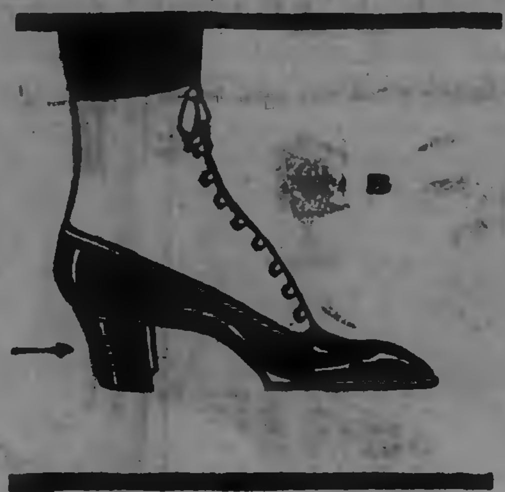
HARMLESS HIGH HEELS

"One of the 14"



THE HARMFUL HIGH HEEL



THE DOLLY VARDEN HARMLESS HIGH HEEL

Fig. A. illustrates the familiar French spiral high heel which is so frightfully injurious to the system. All Physicians fiercely condemn it, and rightly, too.

However, there is no sound reason why high heeled boots should be injurious or uncomfortable. There is no good reason why women cannot enjoy the smartness which a high heel imparts to the foot without bodily harm. It's all in the maker knowing how.

There are high heel lasts and low heel lasts. If the maker attaches a high heel to a low heel last the result is an uncomfortable, injurious and unsightly boot as illustrated in Fig. A. If he attaches a high heel to a high last the result is a smart, comfortable, harmless, high heeled boot as illustrated in Figure B., which is a typical "Harmless High Heel" Dolly Varden.

Besides, the Dolly Varden Dead Level Ball and Heel Balance prevents all injurious effects by throwing the body into vertical athletic erectness.

Dolly Varden high heels are sufficiently wide at the bottom to afford substantial foundation.

EARL OF DERBY DEAD.

Deceased Nobleman Was Once Governor-General of Canada.

London, June 15.—Frederick Arthur Stanley, Earl of Derby, died here yesterday.

Frederick Arthur Stanley, 16th Earl of Derby, K.C., G.C.B., was born Jan. 15, 1841. He was the second son of the 14th Earl (the Rupert of Parliamentary debate), and succeeded his elder brother in 1893. Educated at Eton, he entered the army in 1858, and was returned as Conservative member for Preston in 1865. From 1868 to 1885 he represented North Lancashire and the Blackpool Division of that county from 1885 to 1886, when he was created Lord Stanley of Preston. In 1888 he was appointed Governor-General of Canada. During his Parliamentary term the deceased earl was successively Lord of the Admiralty, Financial Secretary of War, Secretary for the Treasury, Secretary of State for War and the Colonies, and Premier of the Board. Although not a man of brilliant ability he was regarded as a safe and cautious administrator and filled the various important offices he held with credit. He is succeeded by his son, Lord Stanley, who was A.D.C. in Canada during 1889-91.

OCEAN LINER RUNS AMUCK.

Collides With Battleship Vengeance in Portsmouth Harbor.

Portsmouth, June 15.—The British steamer Bengora Head ran amuck in Portsmouth harbor and narrowly escaped spitting herself upon the ram of the battleship Revenge.

She then collided with the battleship Vengeance, carrying away the torpedo booms and damaging some of the gun ports of this warship. Finally she grounded in the mud, but later was floated. There is a big hole in her bows above the waterline.

The Bengora Head is from Montreal and Quebec, May 18, and May 24 respectively.

Commons Back to Business.

Ottawa, June 15.—The House of Commons will get down to business to-day, after a long struggle over estimates, which ended Friday night, when one-eighth of all expenditure was granted.

There will be another conference over the Aylesworth bill, when it is expected Sir Wilfrid Laurier will give Mr. Borden definite assurances the bill will be amended in a way to satisfy the Opposition. A dozen bills are to be taken up to-day, including Mr. Turriff's bill to amend the Railway Act by limiting the time for construction. W. F. Maclean's reciprocal demurrage bill, Claude Macdonell's bill to amend the Copyright Act, and Mr. Macdonell's bill to amend the Dominion Elections Act.

Car Strike Threatened.

Cincinnati, June 15.—Unrully crowds, indicating the beginning of a long-threatened strike of street car conductors and motormen, Saturday night gathered on Fountain square, and riot calls were turned in by the police.

It is said that officers of the Street Railway Employes' Union were informing passing street car men that a strike would be called. The police charged the crowds and made several arrests.

One hundred men were discharged recently for being members of the union, it is said, and the organizers of the union declare that unless the men are reinstated all the union men will strike.

Diver Plunged to Death.

New York, June 15.—While hundreds looked on and cheered him for what they believed was a part of his daring act, Joseph Jakobe, a professional diver, lost his life at Bergen Beach, when the rope which held his sliding seat on a descending wire broke and plunged him into Jamaica Bay, nearly 100 feet below.

Only the diver's wife and two children, who were watching the performance, knew that an accident had happened. Jakobe fell flat upon the water.

Throat Cut From Ear to Ear.

Vancouver, June 15.—A water front murder of most brutal type occurred early Saturday morning. The victim was an Irish fisherman, Pat O'Brien. His throat was cut from ear to ear. He had been dead probably ten hours when the police were notified. The dead man's Indian wife had her throat cut and gashed, and it will be almost a miracle if she recovers. A negro is suspected of the crime.

The killing followed a row in which liquor played a prominent part.

Charged With Smuggling.

Chatham, June 15.—Twenty young society ladies have been notified to pay the full duty on dresses smuggled from Detroit, or be prosecuted.

Jury Disagree in Murder Case.

Charlottetown, June 15.—The case of Alonzo Doherty, charged with the murder of Joseph D. McMillan at Miscouche, in his sweetheart's presence, the jury at 10.30 Saturday reported a disagreement.

Judge Fitzgerald sent the jury back, charging them strongly that the evidence had shown the prisoner was not insane.

The jury reported again at three o'clock Saturday afternoon that they could not agree and were then dismissed.

The new trial has been set down for to-day. It is said that the jury stood five for conviction and seven against.

Big Sentence For Motorist.

Seattle, Wash., June 15.—Guy C. Stratton, a prominent lumberman, who a jury convicted of manslaughter on the charge of having run over and killed 7-year-old Henrietta Johnson, while speeding his automobile, has been sentenced by Judge Frater, of the Supreme Court, to an intermediate term of from 1 to 20 years in the state penitentiary, and to pay a fine of $900.

This is the first conviction for manslaughter under the provision of the State Automobile Law. The defence gave notice of appeal.

Fatal Auto Accident.

Hamilton, June 15—Gladys Garreld, the 9-year-old daughter of William H. Garreld, 235 East Main street, died about midnight as the result of injuries she received from being run down by Thomas Crook's automobile Saturday afternoon. The accident happened near the corner of Ferguson avenue and King street. The little girl got off a westbound car and ran in front of the automobile, which knocked her down and fractured her skull. An inquest will be held.

Plot to Kill the Kaiser.

Vienna, June 15.—A Prague newspaper reports that a plot to take the life of the Kaiser was frustrated at Vienna during his recent jubilee visit to the Emperor Francis Joseph.

While he was driving to Schoenbrunn Castle two women were noticed to be attempting, as he approached, to take something from a bag they had with them. They were arrested, and the something found was a bomb.

Not Guilty.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 15.—After being out 22 hours, the jury in the case of the five men charged with conspiracy to defraud the state by rendering a false bill for metallic furniture for the new capitol, brought in a verdict of not guilty.

Theft of Rare Coins.

Cobourg, June 15.—Raymond and Ada Garfield are under arrest at Brighton for the theft of $5,000 worth of rare American coins. One coin, minted in George Washington's administration, is held for $850.

The Garfields got at John C. Lighthouse's collection of coins in February, while the man was ill in the hospital. They rented a room in the rear of his private secretary's residence.

More than one thousand coins were stolen and sold in Rochester and Buffalo for small sums. Some of the money has been recovered.

The police have been searching for the couple since March, and just located them on Saturday.

Celebrated in France.

London, June 15.—The tercentenary of the founding of Quebec was celebrated in Paris yesterday by French-Canadians. They assembled at Sorbonne. In the absence of the Minister of the Colonies, the deputy, Lierre Baudin, presided. M. Fabre represented Canada. Mayor Payette of Montreal and Jules Siegfried were present, and the latter said he expected much from commercial connection, which should give a great impetus to trade with the country where they had so many friends.

Mlle. Lapalme of the Opera Comique and Rudolphe Plamondon, both Canadians, contributed Canadian airs. Greetings were exchanged with the Mayor of Quebec.

Pickle Makers' Grievances.

Ottawa, June 15.—A deputation representing pickle manufacturing and allied interests waited on the Government Saturday and complained of the unfair competition to which they are subjected under the British preference.

They pointed out that pickles coming into Canada under the preferential tariff as being British products are generally made up of imported vegetables put up in bottles manufactured in Germany.

To Break the Beef Trust.

London, June 15.—(C.A.P.)—Meat prices are revealing the spread of opinion in favor of removing the embargo on Canadian cattle.

W. Hawkins, the largest wholesaler in Smithfield, demands the removal of the restriction, while The News and other papers point out there is every reason for the abolition of the regulations which render it impossible for us to obtain supplies of living cattle from areas beyond the control of the beef trust.

Jumped From Blazing Car.

New York, June 15.—One person was killed and 15 others injured in a wild struggle to escape from a runaway and blazing trolley car in East Orange, N.J. They leaped from the car while it was running along without control.

Roller Coaster Jumps Track.

Denver, Colo., June 15.—Four persons were killed at a suburban pleasure resort Saturday night, when a car on the roller coaster jumped the track, hurling its passengers to the ground below.

Arson Is Suspected.

Dundas, June 15.—The five barns and stables of John J. Lyons, who lives on the stone road leading from Hamilton to Ancaster, Ancaster Township, were totally destroyed by fire yesterday morning. All of the stock except one horse and cow was saved, but nearly everything else was lost. There are no facilities in the district for fighting fires.

This is the third fire within the past year in this district, and as all three have been of incendiary origin there is a feeling of unrest among the farmers and talk of appealing to the attorney-general's department for an investigation.

OBEYED ORDERS.

The Lady Knew Just What to Do When a Fire Started.

Mrs. Wilcox had boundless faith in the wisdom and general effectiveness of her husband's advice, and consequently he had primed her with instructions for any emergency that might arise when he was absent. Among other things, he had repeatedly warned her in case of fire to spread a rug on the blaze and then telephone for the engines.

So deeply was this advice impressed on her subconsciousness that her actions the day of the fire in her home were purely automatic.

She had bought a new hat, and, the room being rather poorly lighted, she used the gas jet over her bureau as an aid to studying the new millinery achievement. Suddenly as she was lifting the lace creation off her head it slipped and fell directly upon the blazing gas jet.

The expected happened. The hat was soon burning fiercely, still on the top of the gas pipe.

Mrs. Wilcox, mindful of Jack's advice, grabbed a valuable Persian rug on the floor and, spreading it carefully over the lighted gas jet and flaming hat, rushed out to the telephone.

At the doorway she collided with her maid, Estelle, who, hearing the rapid movements in the room, was coming to learn the cause.

Running over to the bureau, the girl turned out the gas and, throwing the rug on the floor, stamped out the flames, which had burned a hole through the valuable tapestry.

"Why, Mrs. Wilcox," she cried, "why didn't you turn out the gas?"

"Turn out the gas?" answered her mistress. "Well, aren't you bright! I never thought of that. Jack has always told me to put a rug on a fire."

A STORY OF NELSON.

The Presence of Mind of the Great English Admiral.

Captain Mahan relates the following anecdote concerning Lord Nelson's letter proposing a truce to the crown prince of Denmark, dispatched in the midst of hostilities:

The decks being cleared of all partitions fore and aft and all ordinary conveniences removed, Nelson wrote in full view of all on the deck where he was, at the casing of the rudder head, standing, and as he wrote an officer standing by took a copy. The original, in his own hand, was put into an envelope and sealed, with his arms. The officer was about to use a wafer, but Nelson said:

"No; send for sealing wax and candle."

Some delay followed owing to the man's having had his head taken off by a ball. "Send another messenger for the wax," said the admiral when informed of this, and when the wafers were again suggested he simply reiterated the order.

A large quantity of wax was used and extreme care taken that the impression of the seal should be perfect. Colonel Stewart asked:

"Why under so hot a fire and after so lamentable an accident have you attached so much importance to a circumstance apparently trifling?"

"Had I made use of a wafer," replied Nelson, "the wafer would have been still wet when the letter was presented to the crown prince. He would have inferred that the letter was sent off in a hurry and that we had some pressing reasons for being in a hurry. The wax told no tales."

He Didn't Like Pledges.

Judge Martin Grover of Troy, N. Y., was at one time approached by a young citizen who wished to be nominated to the state assembly. The shrewd old judge had certain doubts about him, which he expressed somewhat freely, and yet he was willing to afford him a trial. He therefore addressed the aspirant in this way:

"Young man, if you will give me your word that you won't steal when you get to Albany I'll see what kin be done about sendin' you there."

"Judge Grover," replied the young man, drawing himself up with great dignity, "I go to Albany unpledged or I don't go at all."

Small Tacks.

How is this for a stunt? The center of the tack industry used to be Bromsgrove, a town in Worcestershire, England, where all work was done by hand. It was a common feat for experts to forge 1,000 to 1,200 tacks so small as to fill the barrel of an ordinary goose quill, their weight being only about twenty grains.

A Glittering Bargain.

"Yes," said the prospective investor to the Billville real estate man, "your terms at $2 an acre are very reasonable. Is there any gold in the land?"

The agent looked around as if to assure himself that no one was listening; then he leaned over and whispered:

"It's mostly gold!"

Irresistible Attraction.

"What are you stopping for, John? If we don't hurry we'll miss our train!"

"You can go on if you want to, Maria. I'm going to see how they get that balky horse started."

Out of a Job.

Minister — Is your father working now, Johnny? Small Johnny—No, sir. Minister—Why, only last week he told me he had a job. Small Johnny—Yes, sir. But the man he was working died.

A NEGLECTED POINT.

The Essential Timely Variation in the Dairy Cow's Ration.

By HUGH G. VAN PELT, before Ohio Live Stock Breeders' association.

Not long since the successful feeder of the dairy herd was one who could extract from the cow the greatest amount of milk and butter fat in a certain short period of time, usually a seven day period. If by skill and ingenuity the cow could be induced to produce from twenty to forty pounds of butter in a week's time, the reputation of the feeder was assured.

Little thought was given to the amount and cost of food consumed to produce the required results, and little consideration was given to the future usefulness of the cow. Many a cow with a large record was forced to the limit of her productive capacity for a short period of time with a great amount of food, which she could stand for a short time only, and came out of the test much the worse for it and never able to return profit to her owner afterward. In other words, her future usefulness had been ruined for the sake of a record given without judgment.

At Different Periods of Milking.

The ration will be found to differ with different cows and the same cow at different periods of lactation. For instance, when the cow freshens, if her care and management have been of the proper sort, she will be in a fleshy and strong condition. The object of the feeder at this point should be to so formulate or balance the ration as to stimulate an increasing yield for the first thirty days at the expense of the fat laid up on and in the body, converting it into milk and butter fat. By so doing the cost of production is lessened and the working proclivities of the cow stimulated to the extent that the feeder gains control of the workings of the cow.

Now, as the feeder closely observes his charge from day to day, he will note that the fat is disappearing from the ribs and back of the cow; the beefy appearance is giving way to the true dairy type; the cow is working at her best. If the ration is not changed she will overtax herself, become poor and weak. Then persistency is sacrificed. But the careful feeder will not permit his charges to become so weakened.

When the climax of her production has been reached the ration will be balanced in accordance with the condition of the cow. Sufficient carbohydrates will be incorporated in the ration to retain a strong, vigorous constitution, and enough protein will be found in the ration to stimulate and retain the greatest production of milk and butter fat.

A Pronounced Example.

Thus we plainly see that upon the character of the ration from time to time depends the work of the cow in charge. The most pronounced example of this may be cited in Blossom of Florence, one of the cows that participated in the St. Louis cow demonstration and is now with all her powers intact and the better off for the work she did while at St. Louis. On the one hundred and eighty-seventh day after parturition she produced 2.89 pounds of butter, which was her greatest day's yield, and during the last week of the St. Louis test she produced seventeen pounds fourteen ounces of butter after being in milk over six months. Her ration was changed from time to time to answer the needs of her body, so that persistency was retained and heavy production stimulated.

THE VETERINARY.

All young horses are more or less subject to lampas, or lampers, which is nothing but inflammation of the gums. Bleed or scarify the gums. Never burn, for it adds to the disease of the teeth. After bleeding or scarifying rub the gums well with salt and feed bran mash, so as to keep the bowels loose for a time.—Russell.

Rubbed Mane.

Where a horse has rubbed out part of its mane a mixture of flowers of sulphur and raw linseed oil applied every three or four days will sometimes cause it to grow again. Keep the places clean by washing with water. The horse may be getting too much grain and too little exercise. A bran mash occasionally will be good.

Treatment For Founder.

If the foundered animal be shod, remove the shoes, soak the feet in hot water, then apply hot poultices. Keep the poultices hot by pouring on hot water every hour. Boiled turnips, bran or cornmeal and hot water make a good poultice. Give drench of a pint of raw linseed oil and give in drinking water one ounce of nitrate of potash every four hours as long as the fever is over 101 degrees and the pulse full and strong. Place the animal in a comfortable box stall with good bedding and induce him to lie down.—Dr. J. C. Roberts.

After Farrowing.

When the afterbirth is passed it should be removed at once and burned or buried. There is good reason to believe that the eating of the afterbirth is often the beginning of the habit of eating the pigs that is so troublesome with some sows.

Tuberculin Tests.

Dr. S. H. Gailliand some time ago stated in a paper read before the American Veterinary society that in a series of experiments with 658 cows none of the healthy animals showed any decrease in the amount of milk it gave on account of the test, and dairymen should not fear to have their cows tested, for only the affected cattle would produce less milk on account of the test.

PROMPT PAYMENT

Peterborough, Ont., June 12th, 1908

W. H. HILL, Esq., City Representative Liverpool and London, and Globe Fire Insurance Co'y.

DEAR SIR,—

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of cheque for $2,500 in settlement of fire loss, policy No. 8,845,879 Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1 per cent. of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges, places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

LOCAL MEN ARE AFTER POSITION OF FIRE CHIEF

The fire brigade question will be considered to-night at a meeting of the city council which begins at 9 o'clock. It is learned that several local men have applied for the position of chief, but who they are will not be given out till to-night's meeting. The special committee appointed to deal with the matter will have a report to make to-night but just where the matter stands not cannot be ascertained. There have been a number of new applications received both from the city and outside points.

ONE COMPANY FROM 57TH REGIMENT FOR QUEBEC TRIP

Ottawa, June 14.—The troops who are going to Quebec will be under the command of Brig.-Gen. Otter, C. B. The cadets of the R.M.C. and units of active militia, other than the permanent forces will be required to remain at Quebec for periods varying from five to eight days.

The detail is as follows:—R.M.C., three officers and 60 cadets; R.C.H.A., A. and B. Batteries; R.C., A. and B. Squadrons; R.C.G.A., Nos. 3 and 4 Companies, all to be in full strength; composite company of garrison artillery from Halifax, 100 of all ranks; Royal Canadian Regiment, three companies from Halifax, and G.H.I. and K. Companies; Army Service Corps, 75 all ranks; medical corps, 50 all ranks, pay corps, 15 all ranks; garrison artillery, 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 6th, 7th and Cobourg, varying numbers.

Infantry—G.G.F.G., 2nd, 3rd, 5th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 13th, 14th, 21st, 43rd, 48th, 62nd, 63rd, 65th, 66th, 91st, 300 to 400 of all ranks. The Q.O.R. is allowed 400, the Royal Grenadiers and 48th, 350 each. One full company each will be furnished by the 1st, 15th, 19th, 22nd, 24th, 25th, 38th, 41st, 53rd, 57th, 84th and 86th Regiments. These will be attached to the larger units above enumerated.

One company from the rural regiments will be taken.

It is hardly probable that the 57ht regiment will send one company. The matters will be considered at the weekly drill to-morrow night.

THE REIGNING STYLES.

Pictures of Kings and Nobles as Fashion Plates.

The tailor's office was littered with foreign illustrated weeklies, English, French, German, Russian, and so on.

"These," he said, "are more useful to me in my business than all the fashion plates going."

"Why so?" the patron inquired.

The tailor took up a French weekly and opened it at random.

"See here," he said, turning from one great photograph to another. "Here is the terrace at Monte Carlo, with the Duke of Westminster and Lord Willoughby d'Eresby in the foreground. This is the Nice race course, and the men talking to the girl in white are the Grand Duke Boris, young Iselin of New York, the Comte de Choiseul and Lord Crewe. Here we have the start at the Cresta run at St. Moritz, and the young men in knickers are the Prince of Reuss, Mr. Cornwallis-West, Lord Howard de Walden and the German crown prince."

The tailor, tossing the weekly aside, lighted a gold tipped cigarette.

"Catch on now?" he asked.

"Er—no," the patron hesitated.

"An ordinary fashion plate," explained the tailor, "is all right, but how do I know if the new fashions in it are being worn? Here in these weeklies, though, I get the new fashions just as clear and distinct, and I have further the assurance that they are going—that they are not mere lifeless freak things, but things which have been taken up by the leading dressers of the world.

"And so, sir, when I recommend you a new fashion you may rest assured it has backing and authority behind it. And if you say to me, 'Oh, that is not being worn, I'm sure,' I reply to you:

"'No, sir. It is not being worn in this town yet, I admit, but here, sir, is a picture of the young king of Spain in the same cut, and here is the Earl of Lonsdale, and here is the Prince of Wales, and here'—

"But by that time," said the tailor, "I guess you are ready enough to take my word for the new fashion's authority without further evidence."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

The Unearthing of Memphis.

Memphis, on the Nile, one of the greatest capitals of the ancient world, is buried beneath ground which is now under cultivation by the villagers of Mitrahineh, who will have to be transferred to other plots and compensated before the work of excavation can proceed very far. It is estimated that an expenditure of about $15,000 annually for fifteen years will be required to excavate the temple sites, apart from the city. The unearthing of Memphis, which contained the finest school of Egyptian art, will be by far the greatest archaeological work of recent times and must result in a vast addition to the world's knowledge of ancient Egyptian history and civilization. The work will soon be begun by Professor Petrie, head of the British School of Archaeology in Egypt.

A Japanese Wedding Ring.

Mrs. Post Wheeler has what perhaps no other woman in the United States has—a Japanese wedding ring. For Hallie Erminie Rives, as she is known to the literary world, was married in Japan to Post Wheeler, secretary of the American legation. Although the Episcopal ceremony was used, she chose the Japanese marriage symbol in preference to that of her own country. It is a little wider than the ordinary band and is beautifully carved in oriental design. Between the chased work are inserted Japanese characters that read, "My beloved is mine and I am his." This is the favorite sentiment for the oriental wedding. This sentiment is repeated several times around the band.—New York Sun.

French Family Statistics.

The number of French families—that is to say, households—with or without children is estimated at 11,315,000. Of this total 1,804,720 families have no children, 2,966,171 have one child, 2,661,978 have two children, 1,643,425 have three, 987,392 have four, 566,758 have five, 327,241 have six, 182,906 have seven, 94,729 have eight, 44,728 have nine, 20,639 have ten, 8,305 have eleven, 3,508 have twelve, 1,437 have thirteen, 554 have fourteen, 249 have fifteen, 79 have sixteen, 34 have seventeen, and finally 45 families have eighteen or more.—Republique Francaise, Paris.

The Rat in Paris.

Parisians have found a way of turning the rat into a profitable commodity. In that city there is a rat pound. It is a deep walled pit, in which some thousands of rats are kept. A dead horse is thrown into this pit at night, and rats strip the carcass of its flesh. Once a month there is a general slaying of rats by gas. The rats are sleek and plump and their hides are in excellent condition. Their skins are removed and treated and eventually are made into "kid" gloves.

The New China.

There is no longer any doubt, our Shanghai correspondent tells us, that the old order of thought which has guided the lives of countless millions in the Chinese empire through a long succession of centuries is passing away forever. The movement in favor of western education has become irresistible.—London Times.

A SHORTAGE OF CLOVER SEED

Ontario Supply This Year Will Not be as Large as Usual—Reason for the Shortage

As was predicted a year ago, there has been a decided shortage of clover seed this spring. A light crop in Europe, the United States, and Canada caused the stocks for this spring's trade to be abnormally low, and this resulted in unusually high prices for good seed.

At present the indications are that the foreign exporting countries will not produce more than an average crop of clover seed, and the Ontario supply is likely to be short. In some sections of Ontario the clover crop was seriously affected by draught last season and the amount available this year for seed production may be limited. Much the same conditions prevail over a considerable portion of the clover seed producing are of the States, so that unless the yield from the areas which were not seriously affected by the adverse weather conditions last season is exceptionally heavy a shortage of seed for next spring's trade is more than probable.

In view of the conditions cited, the advisability of utilizing every available clean field, or part of field, for clover seed purposes is urged.

In growing clover and grass seed for the market, it is important to bear in mind that the standard of purity demanded in the Canadian trade is higher than it was a few years ago.

The demand for seed of first quality has substantially increased. The result of this demand for seed of good quality has been that the seed grower finds impure seed an almost unmarketable commodity, while the production of good clean seed has grown to be a remunerative industry. Hence the necessity of taking every possible precaution against the presence of noxious weed seeds.

The first step in the precaution of good clover and grass seed is to procure the cleanest possible seed. If this is used on clean land and is followed by a thorough system of weeding in the field, the product will be clean. The field weeding is of prime importance, although it is often overlooked. When we remember that every growing weed, if allowed to mature, will produce from ten thousand to fifty thousand seeds it will be readily understood that the removal of these plants must make a great difference in the market value of the seed.

With red clover the best results are obtained by pasturing, or cutting the first crop early. This allows a stronger second growth for the seed crop and also lessens the danger of damage from the clover seed midge. If the clover is pastured, the stock should be turned off early in the season and the field mowed, in order to cut down the weeds and produce an even second growth.

Alsike and red clover may be harvested with a reaper or a mower, with or without a table attachment. If no table attachment is used and the clover is well ripened it should be cut and raked when the dew is on, in order to prevent shelling.

The clover huller is the best machine for threshing alsike and red clover, but the ordinary grain separator will do the work fairly well if properly regulated. The grain separator will not hull the seed as thoroughly, and in consequence there is more waste of good seed unless the straw be threshed a second time. But the fact that there is no clover huller available should not deter farmers from saving at least sufficient seed for their own use.

G. H. CLARK,
Seed Commissioner, Ottawa.

THE E. R. DISTURBER

To the editor of The Review

Sir, — Recently in a neighbouring riding some stupid creature revived and re-published an old set of verses calling on Orangemen to save the country. The attack upon Catholics contained in it I am told, is such as to produce hard feelings. A very prominent Orangeman told me yesterday that Orangemen were never more desirous of being on good terms with their Catholic fellow-citizens than now, and that the printing and circulation of this sheet is universally regretted by them.

IMPORTANT CHANGE MADE

In Rates and Service to the Canadian Northwest

The Passenger Department of the Grand Trunk Railway System have just made an important announcement that will be of great interest in connection with the movement of passengers from Eastern to Western Canada. While first class fares are the same at the present time via the Grand Trunk Railway's lines to Chicago and its connections beyond to points in the Canadian Northwest, the second class fares for many years via Chicago have been higher than by the route north of Lake Superior. Commencing June 14th the Agents of the Grand Trunk in Ontario and Quebec, and connecting lines will be able to issue second class tickets from Eastern to Western Canada at the lowest current fares by any route. Naturally a large proportion of the passenger traffic referred to is made up of settlers and others who prefer to use second class tickets, the saving between the price of the first and second class tickets being considerable and the accommodation for passengers with second class tickets having steadily improved.

As the Grand Trunk Railway have a double track to Chicago from Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Brantford, Woodstock, Ingersoll, London, and other principal stations in Quebec and Ontario, it is expected that many passengers will prefer to travel by way of Chicago. In addition to this advantage, the Grand Trunk will connect at Chicago and offer the choice of seven lines between Chicago, St. Paul and Minneapolis; north of St. Paul and Minneapolis, a choice of three lines will be available. Many Canadians have friends and relatives residing at Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis, and other large American cities passed through by the new routes, and doubtless the opportunity of a brief visit at the stations in such cities will be much appreciated by the patrons of the new route, and by their Canadian friends and relatives residing across the border.

All arrangements have been completed so that the baggage of passengers will be carried through the United States in bond without requiring any special attention on the part of passengers, and there will be no detention or inspection of such passengers at any point in the United States who hold through tickets to points in the Canadian Northwest.

While through cars will not at present be operated, it is believed that many passengers making so great a journey will much prefer the comfortable transfer at points like Chicago and St. Paul into freshly ventilated clean cars.

While through tickets will continue to be sold when requested via North Bay, the Grand Trunk Railway people believe that the new route, with the advantages outlined above will command a very large share of the growing traffic from Eastern to Western Canada. Already the Grand Trunk and its connections enjoy a liberal share of the business from the Canadian Northwest to Eastern Canada by way of St. Paul and Chicago, and now that the tariffs have been adjusted to permit of passengers travelling in both directions at the lowest fares, a large development of the traffic via Chicago is certain to follow.

The Southend Town Council, London, has decided to abolish half penny fares on the tramway system.

CHAOS RULES IN MACEDONIA SITUATION IS VERY BAD

Over Ten Thousand Murders in the Province During Last Four Years—Men, Women and Children Slaughtered Like Vermin.

London, June 16.—In an interview yesterday on the Macedonian situation W. A. Moore, secretary of the Balkan Commission, said: "Though the diplomatic situation was never so hopeful, the actual situation in Macedonia was never so terrible. The English blue book published last week is the worst that has appeared since the massacres of 1903. There have been over 10,000 murders in the last four years. Christian or Mohammedan, every man's hand is against every one else. Men, women and children are slaughtered like vermin and their dead bodies treated with less respect. It is amazing that such a bloody chaos should be tolerated within the bounds of Europe for a day longer.

"The statement that Germany now agrees with the whole civilized world and urgently calls for a remedy, is most welcome. But what remedy does Germany propose, and how does she reconcile her insistence on the maintenance of the status quo with this undoubted urgency? Germany, the baron says, agrees that something urgent must be done, but this something to be successful must have the firm support of all the powers, but Germany does not intend to support it, therefore it will not have the support of all the powers.

"The really hopeful point is that Baron Speck von Sternburg does not finally commit his country to this transparently obstructionist attitude. Germany, he assures us, has an open mind for all reform proposals. That is a wise statement. Germany will do well not to identify her diplomatic position with opposition to the English proposals for reform in Macedonia. Sir Edward Grey, with the whole of the British people behind him, is very deeply committed on the question. The Russian people will insist that the Russian Government shall not fall behind another in befriending the southern Slavs. The liberal sympathies of France and Italy are well known, as are those of the United States. The question is ripening rapidly."

AUTO PLUNGES INTO THE RIVER

Three Occupants Drown While Two Others Escape.

New York, June 16.—Two women and a child were drowned and two men narrowly escaped death when a taxicab automobile became uncontrollable on West 56th street last night and ran down the dock at the foot of the street and into the Hudson river.

The dead are: Miss Adeline Borden, aged 16; Mrs. Josie Coleman, aged 23, Virginia Knight, aged 8.

The driver of the taxicab, John Nolan, fell into the water with the machine. He was able to swim, however, and was rescued. Jos. Coleman, a chauffeur, husband of one of the victims, jumped from the automobile before it reached the end of the pier.

Robbed on a "High Seas" Ferry.

Detroit, June 16.—State Senator St. Huster of Boston, Mass., a delegate to the Republican National Convention in Chicago, was robbed of $300 and his return ticket to Boston on a Michigan Central train, as it was being transferred from Windsor to Detroit on a ferry Sunday afternoon.

If captured the thief would probably be charged with robbery on the high seas; punishable by life imprisonment. Joseph Kirwin is serving such a sentence in the Detroit House of Correction for robbing a woman on a steamer.

Hamilton Ballots Case.

Hamilton, June 16.—William Lawson, the deputy returning officer, and Harry Dillabaugh, the poll clerk, were yesterday sent up for trial on the charge of tampering with the ballots in the West Hamilton election. The interests of the accused were looked after by D. L. McCarthy, Toronto, the defence was reserved for the higher court. It is likely to be that it was simply a joke, and that Dillabaugh had no intention of selling the ballots, which would have been absolutely worthless to the purchaser.

Arrested in Chicago.

Brantford, June 16.—Word was received by the police that Harry Ward, alias Wardley, strike-breaker, wanted here on a charge of severely assaulting George Batty, a union moulder, during a riot some time ago, has been arrested in Chicago. Ward has waived extradition.

Breaks Thigh in Dodging Police.

London, June 16.—Frederick Harris, a young colored man, jumped from a three-storey attic window in Dynamite Hall while the police were conducting a raid and sustained a fracture to his right thigh and a number of bruises about the body.

Brakeman Sentenced.

North Bay, June 16.—A C. P. R. brakeman named Fleming, who broke into a bonded car and stole two cases of whisky, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

Pills Fatal For Child.

Whitby, June 16.—The three-year-old daughter of Frank Batty ate some strychnine pills and died before a doctor could afford relief.

PRETTY PROFITS ARE BEING MADE

Government Pays Heavily and Manufacturers Reap the Benefit

Ottawa, June 16.—An interesting sidelight thrown on the profits made on materials supplied to the Government was the chief outcome of yesterday's enquiry by Judge Cassels into the affairs of the Marine Department.

T. L. Willson, the carbide king, admitted that the profit on calcium carbide for the manufacture of acetylene gas was between 30 and 40 per cent.

F. S. Mearns, secretary-treasurer of the Canadian Signal Co., Toronto, the concern which supplies diaphones to the Department, said that they cost the company to manufacture about $400 to $500 each. They are sold to the Department at from $5,000 to $6,000 each, with equipment.

He claimed, however, that the company was losing money, although he declined to divulge its business affairs, lest the information should benefit rival concerns.

The Hodgins' Investigation.

Ottawa, June 16.—In the Hodgins' investigation yesterday, Engineer Doucet produced photographs of a cutting near LaTuque, to which Major Hodgins had been taken to inspect in order to be instructed in Quebec classification. Major Hodgins had said as to this cut that he saw loose earth and rock classified as 86 per cent. solid rock. Major Hodgins declined to point out the classification particulars from a photograph, but he knew from what he saw on the spot that it was largely loose earth, and 40 per cent. rock would be a liberal allowance.

Asked what he would say if told that the cut in question had really only been classified at 38 per cent. rock, Major Hodgins said that would be about right.

Major Hodgins admitted that under a vague ruling made by Chief Engineer Lumsden it might be possible to classify as solid rock what would ordinarily be classified as loose rock. He did not agree with this ruling and considered no engineer had the right to over-classify.

The investigation will be continued to-day.

Frost in the West.

Winnipeg, June 16.—Low temperatures were prevalent throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan Saturday, and Sunday night when in the former the mercury dipped just below freezing in Winnipeg, and tender garden stuffs were touched, four degrees of frost were reported at Carman and two at Cypress River.

No damage, however, was done to grain crops.

Struck, But Still Lives.

Malone, N.Y., June 16.—Ernest C. Gleason, a well-to-do farmer, who lives just outside of this town, with his two daughters, was sitting on the verandah during an electrical storm when a bolt of lightning crashed into the group. All three were thrown to the floor by the shock, but with the exception of Gleason none was seriously hurt.

FIRE BRIGADE WILL COME UNDER NEW CHIEF JULY 1ST

Mr. W. A. Howard, of Owen Sound, Has Been Appointed and Will Commence His Duties on Saturday, 20th.

Salary Will be $1,250 Per Year—Comes Well Recommended—Volunteer Brigade on Duty Till July 1st—Animated Discussion in the Council.

The City Council has at last appointed a chief for the fire brigade. W. A. Howard, who is at present chief of the Owen Sound brigade, is the man chosen, and he will commence his duties on Saturday of this week. The appointment was made at the meeting of the Council last night, but all was not peace and quietness. Ald. Morgan objected vigorously, and Ald. Elliott and Ald. McIntyre also objected, but the report of the special committee recommending the appointment of Mr. Howard, and that the brigade consist of a chief, assistant chief, six other permanent men and six call men was carried. The report was read by Ald. Neill and was as follows:

Gentlemen,—Your Special Committee appointed in regard to the fire department, beg leave to report as follows:

Enquiries were made from a number of municipalities bearing on the object for which this committee was appointed, and your committee is of opinion that with the combination hose and chemical waggon completed and ready for service and an efficient brigade with a head with a thorough knowledge of appliances and methods and a reasonable number of permanent men and call men, the city would have a department that would be well able to protect the property of the citizens and that would result in a decrease in the rates of insurance. The secretary of the Underwriters' Association was consulted as to the rates, and gave assurance that with this plan carried out a reduction would be given.

After making full enquiries regarding those who made applications for the position your committee recommends.

1. That W. A. Howard be appointed chief of the fire department at a salary of $1,250 a year, he to have full control of the personnel of the brigade, his duties to begin on June 20th, 1908.

2. That the brigade consist of a chief, an assistant chief and six other permanent men and six call men.

Your committee is of opinion that this brigade would cost for salaries about $6,120 a year, and the cost of uniforms for the members of the brigade which would be about $325 additional. The present cost of the brigade for salaries is $5,535, and with an increase of $50 a year the cost would be $6,385, and the difference we consider small in comparison with the advantages that would be secured.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Before the report was read letters were read from Thomas Rutherford, John Gibbs, jr., and Jas. R. Metherall, asking for the position of chief of the fire brigade. They are members of the volunteer brigade.

Ald. Neill moved, seconded by Ald. Turner, that the report of the Special Committee be adopted.

Ald. McIntyre moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Morgan, that clause one be struck out of the report.

Ald. Morgan said there were a number of deputations present and said they should be given an opportunity to speak. This was concurred in by by the other members.

THE CHIEF SPEAKS.

Chief Rutherford was the first one heard and he criticized the report which had just been read. He said he could assure the Council that the city could not be protected by any such a force as specified in the report. No twelve men alive could make an efficient brigade for a place the size of Peterborough. It would be impossible to get along without a force of eighteen or twenty-five men. It had been shown in many places that it was not practical to have paid men and call men working together. In his estimation the city could not be protected for an expenditure of less than $15,000 per year. As for himself he was willing to drop out, but thought that the brigade should have been at least consulted. He and the other members of the brigade would have been willing to give any advice in their power. The Council, Mr. Rutherford said, had acted very strangely regarding the matter. He would hate to say that the Fire, Water and Light Committee had acted like robbers, but that about pretty nearly described their conduct. The Special Committee was not giving the citizens a correct idea of the change in the brigade. It meant a matter of $8,000, not $600, as contained in the report. The fire brigade of the city of Brantford, which was not much larger than Peterborough, was costing about $17,650 per year. Peterborough could not be protected for less than $15,000 per year. The speaker did not know why the Council was in such a hurry about making the change. No great fault had been found with the brigade.

"What's the cause of it, what began it? Was it a matter of personal spite?" asked Mr. Rutherford. He couldn't understand it at all.

Great applause from the benches greeted Mr. Rutherford's remarks.

Mr. Jas. R. Metherall said he concurred in what Mr. Rutherfod had said. The report did not provide for enough men. He criticised the council for the way they had handled the fire brigade matter. They had gone about it in the wrong way and had affairs in a nice state. He thought the brigade should have been consulted before any change was made.

Then Ald. Morgan took up the question. He said he had been at the meeting at the fire hall when the committee from the council met the firemen and asked them to stay on duty a while longer. He understood that the firemen were promised that their services would be retained till the end of the year with the increase of salary asked for.

Mayor Rush corrected Ald. Morgan and said that the brigade was only asked to stay on duty till the committee had made other arrangements for fire protection.

Ald. Morgan attacked Ald. Neill, and when the latter tried to reply, refused to give him the floor.

"You can say all you want to say when I'm through," was the stand taken by the Ashburnham man.

ALD. NEILL'S STATEMENT

Ald. Neill said he was acting in what he considered the best interests of the city. The special committee appointed to deal with the matter had found the question in a certain condition. Taking it up at the stage in question they had tried to do what was in the best interests of the city. Perhaps they had made a mistake but their intentions were good. No personal or selfish motive had prompted them in what had been done. They believed that Mr. Howard was the best man for the position, as he had all the qualifications required. Ald. Neill gave credit to the volunteer brigade and to Chief Rutherford for what they had done. They had a splendid record as fire fighters. The speaker also pointed out that they had interview the secretary of the Underwriters' Association and prominent officials of the fire department in Toronto and were told that the number of men specified in the report would be a sufficient number to give Peterborough adequate fire protection.

Ald. Turner also spoke along the same lines as Ald. Neill, pointing out that the Committee had done what they thought was the best for the city.

Ald. McIntyre's amendment was then put, and was defeated, only Ald. McIntyre, Morgan and Elliott, voting for it.

The motion to adopt the report was then carried the three mentioned above voting against it.

Mr. Howard is therefore, the new fire chief and will commence his duties next Saturday.

There were a large number present, including the bulk of the firemen and the sympathy of those on the benches seemed to be with Chief Rutherford.

Among those who spoke during the discussion were Mr. Chas. Murty, and Mr. Alex Carveth. They supported the proposal to have a local man appointed chief. Ald. Johnston was the only absentee.

BILLS PASS IN COMMONS VARIETY OF MATTERS ON DECK

Yukon, Immigration and Patent Medicines Bills Discussed—Money Wasted on Big Fairs—Complaint Made Against Government Displays in the Old Land—Interim Report of the Militia Council—Defects are Pointed Out.

Ottawa, June 16.—Several Government bills were put through yesterday. When the House opened Sir Wilfrid announced that additional Government legislation will include bills to amend the Criminal Courts' Act; to amend the Judges' Act; an act respecting actions in the territories; an act to rectify certain errors in the revised statutes, and an act to amend the Railway Act.

Mr. Oliver's Yukon Act amendment was taken up in the afternoon. The object is to make the Yukon Council wholly elective and responsible for legislation, while the Federal Government will be responsible for administration. The bill was passed.

An amendment to the Chinese Immigration Act to define the term minor was next put through. Mr. Oliver explained that it had been found that Chinamen not entitled to it were securing exemption from head tax. The amendment also provides for punishment and deportation.

Mr. Templeton moved the second reading of his bill respecting proprietary and patent medicines. The bill is not so drastic as the legislation introduced last session. It provides for absolute suppression of cocaine and excessive use of alcohol; where a manufacturer puts on the label the formula, the medicine will not come under the act, while if certain noxious drugs are used they will have to be named on the label. The bill was referred to a committee composed of Hon. Mr. Templeman, Mr. McIntyre (Perth), Dr. Sproule, Dr. Beland and Dr. Chisholm (Huron).

Mr. Fisher's amendment to the Inspection and Sale Act showed reduced penalties for infraction of the Fruit Marks Act. For the first offence the penalty is not to exceed $25; for the second offence $50, and for the third offence $200. The bill passed.

In answering members, it was stated that Kenneth Falconer is entitled to $92,315 for re-organizing the bookkeeping of the Marine Department, an amendment to the Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway bill, requiring elucidation, the bill stands over.

The House went into supply, taking up an item of $200,000 for the Franco-British Exhibition at London, England, and the smaller exhibition at Edinburgh.

The total cost of the Canadian display at the former will be $300,000. A portion of the vote was taken from last year.

David Henderson criticized the spending of money on an exhibition remote from the centre of London, and advised building a permanent pavilion near Trafalgar square.

Then Mr. Henderson enquired what class of men it was hoped to attract to Canada. There was the Olympic show. He supposed Tom Longboat would be there, and that it was hoped to attract a lot of sporting men to Canada; that was not the class of men we wanted.

Joseph E. Armstrong failed to find in the trade returns any evidence that we had increased business with foreign countries as the result of making displays at foreign exhibitions.

F. D. Monk pointed out that Canada expended a great deal of money at Milan, but the Government failed to follow it up by attempting to secure trade concessions; in fact, the Prime Minister had actually turned down the representative of the King of Italy, who had attempted to open negotiations.

Mr. Monk asked what W. T. R. Preston had done to improve commercial relations with Japan.

Mr. Fielding asked what advantage the United States had in Japan that we did not have, and Mr. Monk replied they were getting the whole of the eastern trade and threatening the supremacy of Great Britain.

Mr. Fisher answered the statement of Mr. Monk that the French treaty makers had got the best of the Canadian plenipotentiaries by saying the French Chamber had not yet ratified the treaty.

Dr. Sproule quoted from the trade and navigation reports to show that there was no proof of an adequate return in trade for the expenditure on foreign exhibitions.

Mr. Lemieux argued that the Osaka Exhibition had made Canada and Canadian products widely known in the Orient.

Mr. Armstrong complained of the failure of the Government to conclude satisfactory trade arrangements, and Mr. Fielding replied that Canada was at a disadvantage in the German market because we declined to give Germany the same preference as the Mother Country. Mr. Bergeron pointed out that what the Conservative party was working for was a mutual preference.

An interim report of the Militia Council was tabled last night. It deals with practical lessons of the 1907 camps. The report says:

"The work feature of the militia force still remains — the deficiency in officers who are leaders of men. It is noticeable that the type of man in the ranks is, as a rule, high. He has much intelligence and aptitude for military work, but too often his officers and non-commissioner officers are not equally well qualified to lead him.

"In this respect, however, some improvement upon the conditions of last year were noticeable. It is largely upon the recognition by squadron and battery officers of the fact that they alone are responsible for the training of their commands that all true efficiency must rest.

"The training of the infantry is improving, but much remains still to be learned. The essential point of all infantry training is the development of the power of 'leading' in the officers and the discipline, self-reliance, and the intelligent use of the rifle on part of the men."

MURDERED BY WIZARDS

Cuban Superstition Leads to Committal of Gruesome Crime.

Havana, June 16.—In the town of Alacrandes, Province of Matanzas, Victor Nakarro, a negro lad arrested on the charge of complicity in the kidnapping of Luisa Vandes, a white child, who recently disappeared from her home, has confessed that the girl was the victim of a band of brujos, or negro wizards. He said that he and one of the wizards named Martin, who also has been arrested, entered the house and abducted the girl, who was murdered for the purpose of using the blood of her heart to cure an old negress of consumption. Members of the rural guard are scouring the country in pursuit of others of the band of brujos.

Insist on Fair Wage Clause.

Ottawa, June 16.—The City Council last evening, after hearing representations by labor unions, passed a resolution to have a fair wage clause inserted in the contract for the proposed G.T.R. hotel and station.

Sultan's Troops Revolt.

Tangier, June 16.—Four thousand of the troops of Abdu-El-Aziz the Sultan have revolted and taken prisoner a French commander and three other officers.

Boy Drowns.

Belleville, June 16.—C. F., the 10-year-old son of Dr. Newton of Deseronto, was drowned while bathing in the mill pond.

Praise For Quebec.

London, June 16.—(C.A.P.)—Speaking at the Church of England Temperance Society reception the Bishop of Montreal said if only Great Britain were as sober as Quebec it would be the greatest blessing to the Empire.

The French-Canadian peasantry were as respectable as any in the world.

His Excellency to Unveil.

Quebec, June 16.—His Excellency the Governor-General will officiate at the unveiling of the monument, erected to the memory of the late Rev. Mgr. Laval, the first bishop of Quebec and founder of Laval University. The ceremony takes place on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock sharp.

Fatal Fall.

Ottawa, June 16.—J. B. Emile Saucier; timekeeper on the Victoria Memorial Museum, under construction by the Dominion Government, fell from a wall a distance of about 75 feet and died in the hospital shortly after. He was 32 years of age.

Hanged by Accident.

Port Huron, Mich., June 16.—Frank Anderson, living on Fifteenth street, went to the rear door of his house for some purpose and either stumbled from the steps or was overcome by an attack of dizziness, and fell headlong to the ground. His breast struck the seat of a swing, which he had put up Saturday for his children, knocking the board off and twisting the rope about his neck in such a way that he was strangled. There were evidences of a struggle to release himself, but without avail.

Will Be Freed If He Pays Up.

St. Catharines, June 16.—William Vance was yesterday found guilty of endeavoring to defraud Miss Kingstone, an employe, of $40 wages, and of obtaining $50 under false pretences from Charles Peterson of Brantford, but was promised liberty if the amount is repaid in ten days. Vance asked for liberty to make up $90, but the judge held he could not let him go free.

Ingersoll to Sign For Power.

Ingersoll, June 16.—By a vote of six to three the council last night authorized the mayor and clerk to sign the contract of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for 500 horse-power of Niagara power.

Harry Lupton, an Englishman, 20 years of age, was drowned in Whitaker Lake, 10 miles west of here while bathing.

When Napoleon Got His.

Saragossa, June 16.—King Alfonso and M. Cruppi, the French Minister of Commerce, attended the commemorations yesterday of the hundredth anniversary of the defence of the city against Napoleon's armies.

The King was exceptionally enthusiastic at the reception which was accorded him by the multitudes.

Woman Struck by Lightning.

Lindsay, June 16.—During a severe thunderstorm, lightning struck the house of Mrs. Alex. McCarty, who had just opened the door to call her two children. She was rendered unconscious and a doctor worked over her for two hours before she recovered consciousness. Her hair was burned from her head.

Jessop's Majority.

St. Catharines, June 16.—The official count shows Dr. E. Jessop elected by a majority of 1,112, of which 747 were obtained in this city. Five more votes were polled than in the general election of 1905.

Suspect Arrested.

Vancouver, June 16.—J. Adair was arrested yesterday at White Rock, near the international boundary, as a suspect in the case of the murder of Mrs. Morrison. He was captured by Tom Bertrand and Frank Smith, who allege that they saw him before the day of the murder, carrying a knife, which later they found on the scene of the crime. Mrs. Morrison's daughter was taken to Blaine, but she could not identify him as her mother's assailant. Adair's shoes fit the footprints near the scene of the crime.

CANNIBALS IN QUEBEC

Police Are Investigating Gruesome Case in Backwoods of Abitibi.

Montreal, June 16.—On May 12 the body of a guide named Lemieux was found in the Abitibi district about 300 miles north of Lake St. John, chopped up, evidently with an axe.

The conditions pointed to cannibalism. The man was one of a party of three who went north to explore the district a year before. Two of the parties were Parisians. Three days ago the body of a man was found in a hut in the Cobalt district chopped up in the same way.

The Quebec Provincial Detective Department has sent officers to the district where the guide was found, to investigate, as it is thought that the man was murdered and portions of his body eaten by his comrades.

A detective has also been sent to Cobalt to investigate there, as it is thought the man found there was another of the party.

PAN-ANGLICAN CONVENTION

Lord Strathcona and Bishop of London Welcome Delegates.

London, June 16.—Presiding at the breakfast given by the Church of England Temperance Society to the bishops attending the Pan-Anglican Congress, the Bishop of London extended a hearty welcome to those who had come from the ends of the earth. He felt great pleasure, he said, because of the delightful work he had seen in Canada and the United States. He had had a good time in Canada, and hoped to do his best to return the hospitality.

Favored by splendid weather, Lord Strathcona yesterday entertained at Knebworth the members of the Congress and a number of Canadian visitors to England. It required fifteen special trains to convey the guests to Knebworth.

Two Accidents at Tillsonburg.

Tillsonburg, June 16.—Yesterday, George Lonsbary, a carpenter, fell from the roof of a building on which he was working and received serious injuries, but he is expected to recover. His home is near Courtland.

While George Barnsley was unloading stave bolts at the Tillson Co.'s mills yesterday the team attached to the wagon backed unexpectedly and Barnsley was squeezed between the wagon and a railway car. He is injured internally and is likely to die. Barnsley is an Englishman who came to Canada [illegible] 5 year ago.

Remarkable Volcanic Eruption.

Auckland, New Zealand, June 16.—For three nights, beginning May 10, there was a remarkable volcanic outburst on Savaii, the largest of the Samoan Islands.

The first eruption was followed by the greatest flow of lava in the history of the island, it being estimated at nearly three thousand tons per minute.

Soon there was almost a continuous sheet of lava, eight miles wide and from six inches to six feet deep, flowing down the mountain side.

Crazy Man Lets Loose.

Paris, June 16.—A man named Bellanger, while waiting to present a petition to Minister of War Picquart at the War Ministry yesterday, suddenly thrust his hand into his pocket and began firing shots from a revolver. Two of the bullets lodged in an upholstered chair, and another in the man's arm. Bellanger was arrested. He is believed to be demented.

Prohibition in Louisiana.

Baton Rouge, La., June 16.—Louisiana will not become a prohibition state during the term of the present Assembly.

This was declared last night by the House of Representatives when that body by a vote of 58 to 47 indefinitely postponed consideration of the Bousean Bill providing for a referendum on state-wide prohibition.

Garrison Rebel.

Washington, June 16.—The United States Minister at Tangier has reported to the Department of State that the garrison at Alcazar, a town 50 miles from Tangier, after having killed the commander, have declared for the Pretender.

The Minister states that the governor is said to have been sent to Fez as a prisoner.

No Bars in Alberta.

Lethbridge, Alta., June 16.—Rev. W. G. W. Fortune, field secretary of the Alberta Temperance and Moral Reform League predicted last night that there will be no barrooms in Alberta five years hence. He says hotel men have told the same thing.

Temperance people will ask the Legislature for a 7 o'clock closing.

Steamers on the Rocks.

Kingston, June 16.—Joseph Rousseau, R.C.H.A., lit a match on a gasoline launch. There was an explosion, and Rousseau suffered terrible burns about the face.

The steamer Chieftain of [illegible] vin Co. is [illegible] ing, and the [illegible] is on the rocks [illegible].

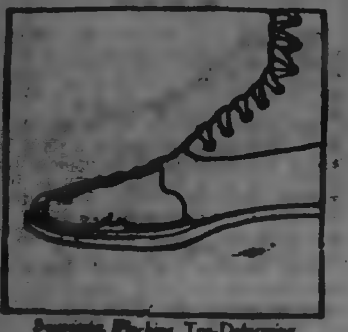
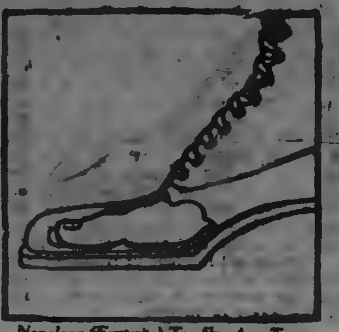
Port Arthur, June 16.—[illegible] key, an Englishman about [illegible] of age, was [illegible] bed, and will [illegible] he received [illegible] station on [illegible] Saturday [illegible].

The Napoleon (Foot-rite) Shoe

Gives Toe Freedom



Squeezing, Pinching, Toe-Deforming.



Napoleon (Foot-rite) Toe Freedom Toes.

"That's where the shoe pinches." Where? Everywhere in the ordinary shoe, which is merely a foot straitjacket, but principally in the toes.

The toes in nearly all shoes are not made wide enough, nor high enough, nor long enough, neither are they shaped like the toes. They're simply straight and stiff on the bottom, soft, collapsible and round on the top, and tapering V-shaped to the front point of the shoe.

Into this low, stubby, narrow, tapering, squeezing, pinching, toe-deforming shoe, man jams his toes. What happens to those toes? Corns, bunions, ingrown nails, twisted toes, and other pain-producers.

The Foot-rite Shoes are a radical reform in shoe toe construction. Their toes are built long, wide and high and are formed precisely like the shape of the foot's fore-part. The toes which inhabit them never touch the sides, nor the top, nor the end except by voluntary muscular action. They touch only the bottom on which they lie flat, and free to move at will in any direction. And the arched roof over them is not made of paste and cloth as in other shoes. It's a canopy of pliable sole leather which sustains its arched form stubbornly, relieving the toes from roof pressure and abrasion and maintaining the shoe's box toe handsomeness.

Ask to see Napoleon Foot-rite Toe Freedom Toes. You'll find a welcome as warm, whether you wish to buy or just to see.

Anywhere in America, Canada or Great Britain—$5.00 to $6.00. Every pair Goodyear Welted.

THE FIRE BRIGADE

The aldermen are gradually rounding into shape on the question of the re-organization of the Peterborough Fire Brigade. An application from the present members of the brigade for an increase of salary led to a proposal for the installing of a fully-paid brigade. A desire was manifested to bring about the change in a businesslike way, and without hurting the feelings of the members of a brigade, which partly paid and partly volunteer, had been always willing and efficient. It would seem from Chief Rutherford's statement at the Council meeting last evening that he is quite agreeable to the change, but thinks that when a change is being made it should attain the object desired, viz.: increased efficiency at least commensurate with the increased expense, or, in other words, that all things considered, there should be a balance in favour of the new proposition. To ascertain if there is to be this balance let us see what is contemplated. The present total cash cost of the Fire Brigade is $8,391.90, according to the auditors' report. The difference in cost of the new brigade is the difference in salaries, and that depends on the number of men. The saving in insurance by reason of improved rates resulting from the change will be dependent upon your getting into class A., which means, as the proper authority states, so fully-paid men, a steamer, and a chemical engine man. The total saving, therefore, with at least equal efficiency will be problematical. An inquiry should be held, if it has not already been held, into this phase of the contention, for it is unwise to introduce a radical and expensive change without full justification. If, however, the aldermen believe themselves to be in the right in making the change, then "twere well it were done quickly." In accordance with this idea Chief Howard [illegible] and the whole question advanced a stage. We have every confidence in our Mayor and aldermen and hope to find the affair reach a speedy and satisfactory conclusion.

In the old days of the hand pump when some of our most respectable citizens scarce paused for breath in their haste to send water back to the clouds, fighting fires was a serious matter, and if the fire happened to be in another quarter than their own some citizens could not hear the bell. This was superseded by a line of bells extending throughout the town so that if the connection in case of fire was once established, the air was filled with such a jangling that we have known ratepayers affirm that they would rather see the town in ashes than be deafened by the alarm. Be that as it may, in time we got a fine brigade, and now that it, too, is passing, let us bid it at least a grateful farewell.

THE APPROACHING CRISIS

The history of protection discloses two things of serious importance. One of these is the occasional weakness of spots in a nation's protective armour, and the other is the periodical revival of those who, seeking to profit by a lowering of the cost of production, loudly demand a weakening of the armor still further. New Protection is a means of securing a just balance of power. It prevents above all things, one class of a community, such as the capitalistic class from thriving at the expense of the actual producers, who are the mechanics, artisans and workingmen. It has forced itself at last upon Great Britain. The development of that nation had become absolutely one-sided. It was drifting to that condition of affairs where every other consideration of life is sacrificed to that of mechanical industry.

Combinations of capital have produced combinations of labour. The weakest part gives first, hence the struggle of the unskilled workingman. Protection extends to all of these. To modify it produces the ruin of the textile industry as we see in Canada to-day.

The impairment of the electrical industry from the same cause is following close at its heels. Are we to yield to the fatality of the Liberal theorist, or are we to take proper measures of protection, such as the Conservatives propose. Liberal theories remind us irresistibly of the story of the wife who, having been told by her husband to stifle a fire by throwing a blanket or a rug upon it, did so, and burned up a hundred dollar article, when what she should have done was —— to have turned off the gas.

The tremendous expansion of the U.S. has been so rapid as to produce a re-action, but this re-action has come about solely because the capitalistic or purely financial class has learned how to keep industry always well in hand. If the medium of exchange were more plastic there would be no limit to the energies of man, and why should there be? —Production and exchange are illimitable, practically speaking. Why, therefore, should they be limited? The answer is that the toll taken from industry is so greedily taken that it is like hastening to skim the cream before it rises. The greater the desire for expansion the more the work there ought to be. It should be impossible for it to produce a re-action. Protection is just what its name implies. It is the shield and bulwark of a nation. The next election will be fought on the Preference as the chief issue.

WILL IT DODGE THE ISSUE?

The Examiner asks us to print the details of Mr. Bradburn's meetings at Kinmount and Bobcaygeon, with the Galway and Harvey men regarding colonization roads. We may say that the interviews were for the purpose of laying out the year's work which could not be laid out earlier, even by the Examiner. Nothing of a doubtful or improper character took place and we hereby promise that if the Examiner will try to make its insinuation good we will not be the first to "lie down." When a man or a journal makes a distinct assertion or accusation as the Examiner has done in this case it is in duty bound to go on with it to the bitter end. Any material required which we can furnish (and we were on the spot) we will cheerfully furnish. The insinuation that Mr. Bradburn did anything improper, or, Mr. Bennett either, at the "conference" at the Simpson House or at the Hunter House, is false and we challenge the Examiner to make good its words.

Electrical machinery manufactured in Great Britain has already obtained a strong hold upon the Canadian market and continues to increase in popularity. Canadian representatives of English firms, who are in a position to supply goods on short notice are finding an ever enlarging demand for their articles.—Canadian Electrical News.

There is room for an "embargo" here. Either that or reduce the cost of production, including wages!

Dr. Macnamara, a member of the British Parliament, tells of a school teacher who was endeavoring to convey the idea of pity to the members of his class. He illustrated it by a little story: "Now, supposing," he said, "a man working on the river bank suddenly fell in. He could not swim and would be in danger of drowning. Picture the scene, boys and girls. The man's sudden fall, the cry for help. His wife, knowing his peril and hearing his screams, rushed immediately to the bank. Why does she rush to the bank?" After a pause a small voice piped forth: "Please, sir, to draw his insurance money."—Kansas City Star.

BEWARE OF OINTMENTS FOR CATARRH THAT CONTAIN MERCURY

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Sold by druggists. Price, 75c. per bottle.

As Good as a Porter.

It is curious how many people are in ignorance of simple little facts in connection with everyday life which would save them a large amount of unnecessary labor and fatigue. Take the case of carrying a heavy bag or portmanteau, for instance. We all know the annoying way in which it knocks against our legs and the almost intolerable ache in the arm that is supporting the burden. Few people are aware, however, that by folding a couple of newspapers and putting them under one's armpit a large amount of the strain and inconvenience is immediately removed. Try it next time you are hurrying to catch a train.

Suffered 20 Years

"Fruit-a-tives" Cured in 2 Months

St. Raphaels, Ont.

For over twenty years I suffered from Chronic Constipation of the bowels, and I could get no medicine to cure me. I tried doctors and every known purgative, or laxative, medicine known but I was no better. Sometimes, if I did not take medicine, I would go four or five days, without any action of the bowels. During all this time I was weak and suffered from Indigestion constantly.

About a year ago a friend advised me to try "Fruit-a-tives" as they had helped her. I began taking "Fruit-a-tives" and from the outset I began to feel better, and inside of a month the pains were almost gone and the Constipation relieved. In two months I was perfectly well again, no pains, no constipation and my complexion had lost all the sallow appearance.

(Sgd) MARY A. McDONELL.

"Fruit-a-tives"—or Fruit Liver Tablets—are the only remedy known to science that actually cure Constipation. They do this by making the liver healthy and active—thus causing more bile to flow into the bowels. 152

"Fruit-a-tives"—or "Fruit Liver Tablets" are sold by dealers at 50c a box—6 for $2.50—or will be sent on receipt of price. Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

FORETOLD HIS FUTURE.

The Message Carl Schurz Received From Spirit Land.

An extraordinary experience with a medium is given in the Carl Schurz memoirs in McClure's.

After receiving what purported to be a message from Schiller, General Schurz asked that the spirit of Lincoln be summoned to tell why President Johnson had called Schurz to Washington.

"The answer came, 'He wants you to make an important journey for him.' I asked where that journey would take me. Answer, 'He will tell you tomorrow.' I asked further whether I should undertake that journey. Answer, 'Yes; do not fail.' (I may add, by the way, that at that time I had not the slightest anticipation as to what President Johnson's intention with regard to me was.)

"Having disposed of this matter, I asked whether the spirit of Lincoln had anything more to say to me. The answer came, 'Yes; you will be a senator of the United States.' This struck me as so fanciful that I could hardly suppress a laugh, but I asked further, 'From what state?' Answer, 'From Missouri.' This was more provokingly mysterious still, but there the conversation ceased.

"Hardly anything could have been more improbable at that time than that I should be a senator of the United States from the state of Missouri. My domicile was in Wisconsin, and I was then thinking of returning there. I had never thought of removing from Wisconsin to Missouri, and there was not the slightest prospect of my ever doing so.

"But, to forestall my narrative, two years later I was surprised by an entirely unsought and unexpected business proposition which took me to St. Louis, and in January, 1869, the legislature of Missouri elected me a senator of the United States. I then remembered the prophecy made to me at the spirit seance in the house of my friend Tiedemann in Philadelphia."

CLEVER FISHERMEN.

Odd Methods of the Indians on the Sault Ste. Marie.

On the Sault Ste. Marie the Indians have a novel method of catching whitefish. Two Indians go with a canoe into the rapids. One occupies the bow and one the stern. The latter uses a paddle to keep the boat's head upstream. The former has a pole with which to steady the boat, standing upright in his place.

They take with them a dipnet four feet in diameter attached to a pole or handle fifteen feet long. This is placed ready to the hand of the Indian in the bow. The fishing is done at the foot of the rapids, where the water boils and tumbles furiously.

With his pole the Indian in the bow holds the canoe or lets it float steadily sidewise, now up a little perhaps and then down, but always under perfect control. The Indian gazes constantly into the water, which is often ten feet deep where they are fishing and the depths of which no white man was ever yet able to school his eye to penetrate.

Suddenly he seizes the net by the handle with one hand, still manipulating the boat with the other, and plunges the net into the water, perhaps ten feet away, thrusting it to the bottom. Then he gives it a peculiar twist, draws it up and turns out into the boat often as many as half a dozen whitefish weighing from three to five pounds.

These Indian fishermen are unerring in casting their nets, and it is not an uncommon thing for them to capture 800 whitefish in a day. How they are able to see the fish in the bottom of the rapids is a mystery no one has yet been able to fathom.

SPORTING IN AUSTRALIA

OPOSSUM HUNTING UNDER THE LIGHT OF THE MOON.

Found in All Parts of the Colony—There Are Many Varieties—Principal Food of the Natives — Other Game Animals—The Beautiful Flying Squirrel—A Fascinating Amusement—A Cure For the Blues.

The Australian bush has been richly endowed by nature with grand possibilities for every variety of sport, and, although opossum shooting may be classed as a rather mild form of amusement, it certainly presents some amount of fascination, especially on a Black Country station as yet not visited by the professional trappers, who play sad havoc among the pretty, chattering little creatures with their traps and snares.

Given a brilliant moonlight night, such as we of the Northern Hemisphere can hardly realize, a good gun and a fair amount of patience, and some exciting sport can be depended upon.

We got a mile or so away from the station buildings, among the giant gums and box trees, and soon became aware of the presence of numbers of 'possums—incessantly chattering and nibbling at the leaves and buds. As we approach and settle ourselves under a tree they cease their family discussions for awhile and suspiciously eye us from behind a big branch or limb. But, seeing that we do not seem inclined to disturb them, they gradually resume their conversations and feeding, thus enabling us to locate them exactly. Of course, we need our wits about us, for the little creatures, by this time quite alive to the presence of danger, take care to keep as far as possible concealed by the clusters of leaves, and unless we have a keen eye and some little practice we empty our barrels, only bringing down some branches of twigs which we have mistaken for 'possum, owing to the great height of the trees.

My little terrier Bob always accompanied me on these excursions and was a very enthusiastic companion. Going out with my gun in the daytime, he would follow me very leisurely and even, at times, sulkily, treating the bunnies with utter contempt. But at night it was a different matter, and Bob was fully on the alert, never failing to spot the little creatures up in the trees.

My favorite haunt was along a very thickly timbered creek, and I well remember one particular night when my experiences might have been anything but pleasant but for my leggings. Bob had just located a colony of 'possums, who, as soon as they heard his bark, were still and silent at once. Quieting him, I carefully scanned the branches, but for a long while could see nothing of them, until at last I noticed a falling leaf, and, stepping cautiously and noiselessly aside to look for the little nibbler, I felt a vicious beating at my leggings. Taking in the situation at once, I put my full weight (168 pounds) on to my heel with a sort of corkscrew movement, and with all the force I could command, and then jumped quickly aside. I had trodden on a large black snake (pseudechis), one of Australia's most venomous reptiles. Fortunately the brute could not strike above my leggings, and I soon put a stop to its manoeuvres, but, of course, it disturbed my sport for awhile. However, I eventually brought down three opossums off that tree, and then moving to another, a little distance away, I waited quietly while a family quarrel was going on. By and by, the two antagonists left the rest and chased each other along a large limb of the tree, and just as they reached the very end they both fell to my shot.

That same evening I also had the good fortune to bring down a couple of beautiful flying squirrels, which are rather scarce in those parts.

The opossums make their nests in hollow trees, where they camp during the day, and as at the Antipodes there is scarcely any twilight, they come out soon after sunset, disappearing again with the first sign of the dawn.

A large tree may contain quite a number of them, and on one occasion, on felling a big box tree, I found no less than sixteen of them in it.

They form one of the principal foods of the Aboriginals, who, discovering their tracks on the bark of the trees, climb up and hack them out of their hiding places with their tomahawks.

There are many varieties of these little animals, which are to be found in all parts of Australia. The most valuable kind are the black, found mostly in Western Australia and Tasmania. Next in value comes the silver-gray species, while the most common are those known as the rusty-gray ringtail variety. If caught young, they are easily tamed, and are often the favorite pets of the colonial children. When camping out in the bush, I have known these little creatures to become quite fearless in a few days, and if undisturbed they would come and eat the tea leaves and potato parings outside the camp.

The snaring trapping of opossums for their skins is a distinct industry in the Australian bush, the methods employed being either with the ordinary rabbit traps, or by snaring, which is carried out as follows: A tree is selected which shows traces of the ascent and descent of the 'possum. A stout piece of a branch is laid in a slanting position against the tree, with a brass wire snare attached to it, and plenty of flour is sprinkled on it, of which they are very fond. As they attempt to cross the branch to get at the flour, they are caught in the wire loop.

The flesh of a young opossum is equal, if not superior, to that of the rabbit, but is rarely eaten except by bushmen.

The ringtail species, when wounded, will often cling to a branch by their tail and, dying in that position, they remain attached to the bough long after death, and it is by no means an uncommon sight to see a skeleton hanging from the lofty boughs of a gum tree.

Not Disappointed.

"A young friend of mine," remarked a humorist, "got married last month. He said to me the other day:

"'When I married Mamie I thought she was an angel. But,' he added, 'I soon found out my mistake.'

"'Disappointed?' I asked.

"'Disappointed! Nit!' he cried. 'I found she was a good cook.'"

Doubly Exciting.

SENATE OF LILLIPUT.

The Way Dr. Johnson Outwitted the House of Commons.

Parliamentary bodies were long a great stronghold of resistance to the press. Reporters were strictly barred from them, and reports of their proceedings were sternly punished. It was among the triumphs for the right and for common sense which Franklin achieved that he caused the chamber of the provincial assembly of Pennsylvania to be thrown open to publicity. Nevertheless no reports were allowed of either the Continental congress or the constitutional convention.

Dr. Johnson's violation of the cherished privacy of the British house of commons is a classic story. He reported its debates without entering its sacred precincts, and in order to escape the severe penalties of the law he reported them without mentioning the body or any of its members by name. Setting up an imaginary "senate of Lilliput" and giving fictitious names to the leading members of parliament, he edified for years the readers of the journal which then boasted the "largest circulation" in England.

Receiving a few scanty notes of what was going on at Westminster, he elaborated them into a brilliant spread. He was, indeed, the illustrious founder of the immortal craft of rewriters. His discerning readers came to know not only that the senate of Lilliput was the house of commons, but that "Blefuscu" stood for France and "Mildendo" for London; that "sprugs" meant pounds, that "Nardac" was the Duke of Newcastle, and so on. What his notes lacked his imagination readily supplied.

Never was the eloquence of parliament more brilliant than in Johnson's reports of the debates, in which, he admitted, he took care that the Whig dogs got the worst of it, although Pitt himself must have felt mollified when he read the wonderful outburst attributed to him by Johnson on "the atrocious crime of being a young man." It is the best remembered of all Pitt's speeches, and it was written by Johnson "in a garret in Exeter street."

A SMART ENGLISHMAN.

The Story He Told of His Experience In "the States."

A tall, practical Englishman went over to "the States" the other day from London. He took lodgings at an inn in a small village, which shall be nameless. He had dinner, and among those who sat at the table with him was the waiting maid, whom he designated as "servant," but he received an indignant correction from the landlord.

"We call our servants, sir, 'helps.' They are not oppressed; they are not Russian serfs."

"All right," said the Britisher; "I shall remember."

And he did, for in the morning he awoke the whole house by calling out at the top of his voice, which was like the tearing of a strong rag:

"Help, help! Water, water!"

In an instant every person equal to the task rushed into his room with a pail of water.

"I am much obliged to you, I am sure," he said, "but I don't want so much water, you know. I only want enough to shave with."

"Shave with?" said the landlord. "What did you mean by calling: 'Help! Water?' We thought the house was afire."

"You told me to call the servant 'help,' and I did. Did you think I would cry 'Water!' when I meant fire?"

The explanation, it would seem, was satisfactory, and he can call the servants "servants" as much as he likes at that place now.—London Answers.

Epigrams of an Indian.

Chief Joseph of the Nez Perces was a truly remarkable Indian. He rarely spoke, but when he did his lips dropped wisdom. Here are a few of the sayings attributed to him:

"Look twice at a two faced man."

"Cursed be the hand that scalps the reputation of the dead."

"The eye tells what the tongue would hide."

"Fire water courage ends in trembling fear."

"Big name often stands on small legs."

"Finest fur may cover toughest meat."

"When you get the last word with an echo you may do so with a squaw."

Farm, Field and Garden

AT PLANTING TIME.

Comparison of Methods With Corn. Some Superior Sorts.

By A. M. TEN EYCK, Kansas experiment station.

In a comparison of methods of planting, as an average for four seasons, surface planted corn has yielded 6.65 bushels more corn and 409 pounds more stover per acre than the listed corn. The surface planting has given the best results in the wetter seasons, while the drier seasons favor the listing method of planting at the Kansas station.

In preparing the seed bed for corn, as an average for four years, the method of listing early in the spring and splitting the ridges at planting time has given an increased yield of 5.02 bushels per acre when compared with the land which received no early cultivation. The early listing has given better results than early disking, and the listing has also conserved more water in the soil than the disking.

SOME GOOD SEED EARS.

Corn planted in cold, wet soil in the bottom of listed furrows is placed at a disadvantage and often makes a slow, backward growth during the early part of the season, but it has the advantage of surface planted corn in the latter part of the season, especially if dry, hot weather prevails, since the roots of listed corn lie deeper in the soil and are protected with a thicker soil mulch than the roots of surface planted corn, which are often exposed above the surface of the ground and can only be covered by hilling the corn, which removes the soil from between the rows, leaving the deeper roots exposed and the ground furrowed and open, favoring evaporation of soil moisture. Listed corn is more easily cultivated and kept free from weeds than surface planted corn and also has the advantages which result from level culture, since the plan is to gradually fill the furrows during the season, leaving the ground level at the last cultivation.

By the use of the furrow opener attachment to the surface planter some of the advantages of listing corn may be secured with less of the disadvantages. One of these attachments, a disk furrow opener, has been tested during the past two years in comparison with surface planting corn. As an average for the three trials the corn planted with this attachment yielded 4.91 bushels more grain per acre than the listed corn and 1.3 bushels more grain than the surface planted corn.

In the lister versus planter trials the largest average yields of corn from both the surface planted and listed plots were secured by planting May 11.

As to the selection of seed, choose ears which are cylindrical in shape, nine to eleven inches in length and seven to nine inches in circumference, according to the variety. Do not use the long, slim ears, because this type of ear invariably has a relatively large cob and shallow kernels; select ears having straight rows of deep, medium rough, slightly wedge shaped kernels which are well filled at the butts and tips. The corn should be firm on the cob. Avoid ears with smooth kernels, which tend to become round or peg shaped near the tips of the ears. A smooth ear usually has a shallow kernel, while a deep kernel goes with a rough or medium rough indentation.

During four years 112 varieties of corn have been tested in the trials of varieties. A number of those which have proved superior in productiveness may be named as follows: Hildreth, Kansas Sunflower, McAuley, Forsythe Favorite, Golden Row, Hammett, Leaming, U. S. P. B. Selection No. 77, Hogue's Yellow Dent, Sander's Improved, White Salamander, Red Cob, White Dent, White Injun, Legal Tender, Warner, Mammoth Golden Yellow, Dyebe, Meinhardt and Hiawatha Yellow Dent.

Handling Rhubarb.

Some growers begin pulling rhubarb as soon as the stalks are six or eight inches long and ship in third bushel baskets. They claim to get more out of it in this way. It is a question whether in the long run this is better than to let the stalks get full length before beginning to pull.

Whatever plan is adopted, it is well to bear in mind that it does not pay to fill the packages with small, stringy stalks and top them out with nice large ones. Better make two grades and pack honestly.—Farm Journal.

Potato Scab.

Crop infection of potatoes on old land may come from the soil, from the seed or from both. On new land the source of scab is largely from undisinfected seed. Soil conditions, the application of lime, ashes, chip dirt, etc., may favor the development of scab, but are incapable of causing it.

Montreal Live Stock.

MONTREAL, June 15.—(Special.)—At the Montreal Stock Yards, West End Market, the receipts for the week ending June 13, were [illegible] cattle, 1763 sheep and lambs, and 2165 hogs, and 1657 calves, while the supply for local consumption to-day consisted of [illegible] cattle, [illegible] sheep and lambs, and [illegible] hogs and [illegible] calves. Owing to the continued small receipts and improved demand from exporters for good to choice grades, on account of the encouraging advices from European sources and the fact that the prices showed a further advance of ¼c since this week for Canadians, values for the above grades were fully ¼c per lb. higher than a week ago, the lower [illegible] were unchanged.

A weak feeling has prevailed in the market for yearling lambs during the past week and prices have declined 1c per lb. on account of the fact that supplies have been coming forward much more freely, and the prospects are that they will go still lower in the near future unless the export demand increases for them from local and American buyers. This morning's sales were made at [illegible] to [illegible] per pound. There was no change in sheep for which the demand was fair at [illegible] to [illegible] per pound. The demand for spring lambs was good and prices ruled steady at from $3 to $6 each. A fair trade was done in calves. The offerings were not large. Good to choice sold at $[illegible] to $[illegible], and lower grades at $[illegible] to $[illegible] each. Hogs—Prices as compared with a week ago show a decline of [illegible] per cwt., and indications are that they will reach a lower level, as the best bids for next week's delivery were $[illegible] to $[illegible] per cwt. This is the basis of the advance of [illegible] per cwt. in the price of Canadian bacon in the foreign markets in the last week, [illegible] indicate that the offerings of hogs of late have been in excess of requirements. Demand was fairly good this morning and sales of selected lots were made at $[illegible] to $[illegible] per cwt., weighed off cars.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., June 15.—Cattle, receipts—[illegible] head; steady, others slow and [illegible] to [illegible] lower; prime steers, $7.25 to $7.[illegible]; [illegible], $[illegible] to $7.25; butchers, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; heifers, $4 to $[illegible]; cows, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; bulls, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; stockers and feeders, $[illegible] to $5; stock heifers, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; fresh cows and springers, $[illegible] to $[illegible] lower.

Hogs—Receipts, [illegible] head; fairly active and steady; heavy and mixed, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; yorkers, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; pigs, $4 to $[illegible]; roughs, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; stags, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; dairies, $[illegible] to $[illegible].

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, [illegible] head; active and steady; spring lambs, $[illegible] to $7.50; yearlings, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; wethers, $[illegible] to $[illegible]; ewes, $4.50 to $4.[illegible]; sheep, mixed, $[illegible] to $4.[illegible].

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, June 15.—[illegible]

Man Arrested at Cobourg Claims This City as Place of Residence

On Saturday afternoon last a suit case full of clothes, the property of Rev. C. P. Clark, of Muberly, was stolen from the Grand Trunk station. Suspicion rested upon two hard looking persons, James Kelly and Edward Williams, and they were arrested by Chief Rose the same day. The suit case was found by the chief under the freight shed. Williams claims Peterborough as his home and Kelly says his home is in Toronto. The prisoners were brought before P. M. Holland on Monday and they were remanded to gaol until Monday.—Cobourg Star.

TO-MORROW IS CIRCUS DAY; COLE BROS. SHOWS COMING

Parade Will be One of the Features—Leaves the Grounds at Ten O'Clock—Unloading Will Commence at Day-break.

Early tomorrow morning Cole Brothers World Famed Shows will arrive here and circus day will be realised to the very fullest extent. For two weeks flaming posters both in town and in the country have liberally announced this event, which, when coupled to the excellent reputation both for merit and magnitude, this aggregation possesses, makes it safe to presume that many thousands of strangers will be within the city's gates. There is no tented exhibition touring the country that can compare to that of the Cole Brothers, and no show that ever visited this section came as well recommended as does that which will be here tomorrow.

Over a quarter of a century ago it was organized and prior to its trip around the world, was admitted to be the leading tented show in this country. Since its trip abroad it has been augmented beyond all comparison to its former self and since its return has resumed its place on the very top of the amusement ladder.

Three long trains of double length cars will bring the aggregation here and at daylight the busy and interesting scene of unloading will commence. So perfect and expeditious are the methods with the Cole Brothers that the work of unloading and erection of the huge tents will be accomplished before the good housewife has disposed of her first meal of the day. While the hour will be early it will be none too early for hundreds who will be on hand to speculate as to what every wagon and every box contains as they are taken from the cars. By 9 o'clock the seven hundred and more employees of the show will have breakfasted, the hundreds of horses and animals fed, and watered, preparatory to forming the street parade which will leave the show grounds at ten o'clock.

This street parade which is over a mile in length, and requires a half hour to pass a given point is not only a revelation of splendor, but a modern departure from other parades of a like nature that have been been seen here. There will be many bands of good music, numerous open cages, of wild animals, handsome allegorical and historical floats, huge glistening tableau wagons, brilliant chariots and Roman charioteers, handsomely costumed lady and gentlemen riders, herds of elephants, camels, buffaloes and other led animals, steam organs, caliopes, drum corps, jubilee singers, bagpipes and a host of eccentric and grotesquely costumed clowns. It will be a sight well worth seeing, as will be the free outside exhibition which takes place on the show grounds immediately after the parade. This outside exhibition will be given again tomorrow evening at 6.30 o'clock. Two performances will be given tomorrow at 2 and 8 o'clock p.m. Doors to the menagerie promenade concert and ethnological congress will open at 1 and 7 p.m., thus giving an hour in which to visit the various departments. Fifty uniformed ushers are in attendance to care for ladies and children, and an experienced corps of detectives is always on hand to protect the show's patrons. No gambling or catch penny devices are permitted under any consideration about the show.

All the tents are absolutely rain and sun proof, and every seat is provided with comfortable back and foot rests. The main tent in which the performance is given has a seating capacity of 10,000. Standing room is never sold, thus preventing the obstructed view and crowding to common in all the larger shows.

URGED BY COMPANIONS SETS YOUNG WOMAN ON FIRE

New York, June 12.—Urged on by several companions, a small boy placed a bundle of lighted paper beneath Miss Catherine McCormack, of Mount Vernon, while she was seated on a bench in Rose Hill Park, Fordham, yesterday, and she was severely burned before the flames were smothered.

Her flimsy summer dress caught fire immediately and she ran screaming across the lawn. James Harvey, the principal of public school 5, opposite the station, with the assistance of several male teachers, rolled Miss McCormack in the grass and smothered the flames with their coats. Her hair and eyebrows were almost burned off and her clothing was nearly destroyed. She was taken to Fordham Hospital unconscious.

Francisco Drassino, 17 years old, was arrested and held at the rooms of the Childrens' Society to await the result of the injuries to Miss McCormack.

TOO MANY FOLLOW THEIR OWN STANDARD OF RIGHTEOUSNESS

Immense Gathering at Free Methodist Camp Meeting Last Night—Many Were Converted—Sermon by Rev. Slingerland—Special Constable Will be on Grounds to Preserve Order.

The tabernacle at the Free Methodist camp meeting was crowded last evening and many were unable to obtain admittance. The interest in the meetings continues to grow surprisingly large numbers attending nightly. The service last night was led by District Elder Burnham.

Rev. L. Slingerland preached a strong sermon from the 25th verse of the 24th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, "And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come, Felix trembled." The substance of the preacher's remarks was to the effect that too many people took their own standard of righteousness and temperance instead of God's. The speaker said that the result would be that they would be on the wrong side at the day of judgment.

There are between sixty and seventy camped on the grounds at the present time and they are daily coming and going.

At the close last night a large number went up to the altar and were converted. Rev. O. Cunningham of Warkworth, is preaching this afternoon and it is expected that Rev. Father O'Hagan, of Buffalo, N. Y., will arrive at noon to-day and will speak to-night.

Last night there was some disorderly conduct. This will not be permitted and a special constable has been appointed to preserve order.

MR. JAS. THOMPSON, M.P.P., STATEMENT RE PAMPHLET

A Scheme Devised to Defeat Him—Mr. Thompson Will Pay all Expenses of an Investigation—Ways of the Wicked.

To the Editor of The Review.:

Sir, — Having noticed some comments about the distribution of a pamphlet, and having heard that my opponents have mentioned my name in connection therewith, I wish to state emphatically that neither directly or indirectly have I or any of the agents of the Conservative party been connected with the distribution of the said pamphlet referred to and I further state that I will pay all expenses for an investigation, that the electors may know who distributed said pamphlets in Douro, Westwood, Hastings and other places. A prominent worker in the Liberal party whose name I can produce at the proper time had stated that something would be sprung on the electors at the eleventh hour that would defeat me. This pamphlet is evidently what was referred to.

Yours truly,
JAMES THOMPSON.

MUST NOT TEAR UP CITY STREETS WITHOUT PERMISSION

The Board of Works met last night, with Ald. Phelan in the chair and all the members present. A large amount of business was transacted.

Ald. Phelan expressed himself in opposition to people tearing up the streets without the city's consent. He contended that it is about time the Council understands its position in this regard. He noticed Monday morning that the Gas Company had opened up Simcoe street from the gas works to the city hall without permission from the Council. He thought it time such action was stopped, and asked the solicitor's advice as to the proper course for the city to pursue in such cases.

Mr. E. H. D. Hall answered that a city by-law prohibits the opening of any street without the permission of the Council, but the Peterborough Light and Power Company claim to be privileged under the provisions of an old charter, fifty years old. This would be a matter in which the courts must act, if necessary.

On resolution, it was decided that the Peterborough Light & Power Co. be notified that no streets may be opened without the Council's acquiescence otherwise an injunction will be taken out of the city.

Petitions for sidewalks on several streets in the city were granted.

LAUNCHES THAT ARE ATTRACTING MUCH ATTENTION

Yesterday Mr. Harold P. Rye of Rye's boat house launched the handsome gasoline launch he has constructed for Mr J A B Goubet, the head of the CGE. drafting department.

The launch is a large one, being 25 feet, 3 inches in length with a beam of 3 feet 8 inches and a 4 cylinder, 12 horse power engine. It is capable of a speed of 15 miles an hour. Everything is finished in varnish.

Another gasoline boat that is attracting considerable attention on the lake and river is the one owned by Mr. Osborne of the Brenton Company. It was also manufactured by Mr. Rye. It is 17 3-4 feet in length with a four foot beam, and a two horse-power engine. It is one of the fastest boats afloat of its size and kind.

BE ON THE WATCH FOR THE CROOKS

It is Not at all Likely That Some May Drift into City To-morrow

Keep your doors shut, keep your windows shut, keep you pocket books shut. The circus is here tomorrow. It is a good show under good management but as is generally known it is not always a good crowd that follows any circus.

Realising that a big crowd is always in town on circus day, pickpockets as a rule follow the circus and nearly everyone is bothered with crooks of the above calibre. Last year a smooth quartette composed of Messrs. Bradford, Phelps, Lewis and Goldgarb were rounded up much to the credit of the officer who was instrumental in having them taken into custody. There is liable to be—to use an oft repeated expression—some "light fingered gentry" in the path of the circus that will be here tomorrow and the public for their own protection are advised to take precautions against any undesirable visitors who are more or less likely to be here tomorrow.

If Richard Marks of Kingston does not abstain from liquor for two years he will go to prison for two years for attacking his wife and child in a drunken frenzy.

GRAND MASTER GAVE ADDRESS

At A. O. U. W. District Meeting Last Night—Organizer Burns Was Also Present

The first district meeting of the AOUW. was held in the Foresters' Hall, Simcoe street. Deputy District Grand Master, J. J. Turner, was in the chair. Those in attendance were Grand Master Workman, S. B Morris, Rodney; District Organizer Burns Whitby; Bro. Matheson, financier of the Havelock Lodge; and Bro. Roberts, Master of the same lodge and a large number of local Workmen.

Grand Master Workman Morris who is on a tour of the different lodges under his jurisdiction, gave a most encouraging address showing the Order to be in the best condition both as to finances and membership.

MANY FISHERMEN OUT TO-DAY

Having Good Luck on the Little Lake and the Otonabee

The Little Lake and river was fairly alive with happy anglers this morning.

Before the faintest smile of the sun this morning there were many out with their trawling lines and a number were favored with pretty good luck.

It looks as though the present season will be a pretty good one although, of course, the fish will probably bite a little more eagerly now than they will later on.

THE COST OF FIRES

The fire losses in the United States and Canada during the year 1907 averaged sixhundred thousand dollars per day for every one of the 365 days. The recent fire in Chelsea, Mass., looked big to the people who saw it, but if the loss be figured at $12,000,000 it only represented the regular steady never-let-up loss of any twenty days in the year that you choose to select. In other words, we have one Chelsea fire every three weeks, right straight along. What are we going to do about it?—Fibre and Fabric.

WANT BOTH BANDS ON SAME BASIS

S. A. Band Thinks it Should not Have to Play as Often as 27th Band in View of Difference in Grants.

At the meeting of the City Council last night a letter was read from Bandmaster J. M. Greene, of the Salvation Army Band, stating that it was not fair that the Salvation Army Band should be asked to play the same number of times during the season as the 57th band in view of the fact that the latter received $500 from the city for the season and the Salvation Army Band only $150. The claim was put forth in the letter that both bands should be on an equal footing.

The letter was referred to the Finance Committee.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Review Does Not Hold Itself Responsible for Opinions Expressed by Correspondents

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

To the Editor of The Review.

Dear Sir, — According to a report in your issue of the 6th, Mr. McMurdo appears to have a very wrong conception of Christian Science, for if this science taught what he appears to think it does, then Christian Scientists themselves would be the first to discard it.

Christian Science does not deny the divinity of Christ, the inspiration of the Scriptures, nor the Atonement, as a careful reading of the Christian Science text-book, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker G. Eddy, will at once make plain. True, Christian Scientists differ in their interpretation from some other Christians in regard to some of the truths of the Bible, but their interpretation is based on the teachings of Jesus, and, whether or not their interpretation is the correct one, they are entitled to it the same as Mr. McMurdo is to his. It matters not how much critics may condemn its teachings, the fact remains that Christian Science, as taught by Mrs. Eddy when studied in connection with the Bible, enables those who earnestly study it, to heal themselves and others of not only bodily sickness, but of many forms of sin and vice, of vicious habits and appetites, and is daily making thousands of men and women better and purer and making the world a better place to live in, because of the joy and prosperity and happiness it is bringing into the lives of those who truly live it. Jesus said that a tree was known by its fruits. Then if Christian Science were the "demon-science" which our critic claims it is its fruits would be evil and not good. If we deny the teachings of Christian Science then we must necessarily deny the teachings of Jesus, for the works accomplished through Christian Science are identical with the works which Jesus commanded us to do, and which he said would be done by those who believed on or understood his teachings. Christian Scientists are humbly endeavoring to follow in the Master's footsteps and to obey his commands to the best of their understanding. They try to be just and considerate of other people's views, and only ask the same consideration in return. They are merely on the threshold of this great science, and do not claim to have reached the great heights they hope some day to obtain, but they do ask to be judged not according to what its opponents think Christian Science to be, but by the good it is doing in the world.

Our critic must have been sadly misled in regard to the story of the Christian Scientist who is supposed to have made the remark that "the blood of Christ is no more than the blood of a bull." Such a statement could not have been made by anyone with an understanding of Christian Science, whose teachings are entirely at variance to any such absurd remark.

Yours, respectfully,
C. R. MUNRO.

ALDERMEN WERE READY TO ACT AS FIRE FIGHTERS

Brigade Notified Council Last Night That They Would Act No Longer But a Conference Was Held and an Agreement Reached—Clanging of Fire Bell Added to the Excitement.

It looked for a time last night as if Peterborough was without a fire brigade.

Nearly all the firemen were present at last night's meeting of the City Council, and when the report appointing Mr. W. A. Howard chief was adopted they announced that they were no longer firemen and were no longer responsible for the fire protection of the city. The announcement caused considerable consternation among the aldermen and the situation was viewed with alarm. The special committee maintained that the firemen had promised to remain on duty till midnight on June 30th, whereas the majority of the firemen were of the opinion that they were relieved of duty as soon as the Council adopted the report of the committee. The aldermen were aware of their responsibility, and the Mayor pointed out that it would be necessary to have some one at the fire hall for the night, even if the Mayor and aldermen had to become firemen themselves.

While a discussion was going on as to what was to be done, the fire bell rang and added to the excitement. What would the fire brigade do? It was soon ascertained, however, that the bell had been rung to gather the firemen at the hall for a meeting. A few minutes later an alarm came in from box 21 on King street, quickly followed by another from box 41, on Dublin street. It was quickly ascertained that they were false alarms, and the general impression was that some of the firemen had sent in the alarm on their way home in order to keep up the excitement.

Finally a conference was arranged between the council and the firemen and an amicable agreement was reached.

The committee assured the chief that the provision, "until the committee reported" applied to him only, the men still being in office till the end of the month. A short heart-to-heart talk was here entered into by the aldermen present, and Chief Rutherford, and the latter expressed himself as of the opinion that should a fire occur, the men would not allow any citizen to suffer if within their power to prevent it. Finally Chief Rutherford agreed to interview the men at the fire hall and try and persuade them to remain in office for the time being. In this he was successful and until things are put on a definite footing citizens will be protected from fire as usual by the present brigade.

Are You Strong?

Do You Eat and Sleep Well? —Or Are You Pale, Weak and Miserable?

Has your nerve given out? Have you lost confidence in yourself? Has work become such an awful burden that you look upon it with horror?

There's just one thing left to do, and that is to take Ferrozone and get your system into good shape again.

It's quite impossible for anyone to be weak or nervous that uses Ferrozone. It contains so many strength-giving properties benefit is bound to result from its use.

Ferrozone possesses the power to kindle new vitality and vigor where almost a dying condition of weakness exists.

It is an extraordinary and magical tonic, containing more actual nourishment and strengthening elements than you can get at in any other way. As a blood purifier, nerve strengthener and appetizing tonic there is simply no equal to Ferrozone. Of this we are positively sure.

It is crowned with the success of splendid cures; will restore anyone to health who uses it. The following letters from people who have actually experienced what Ferrozone can do will clearly show you just how beneficially it acts:—

No Medicine Ever Did So Much Lasting Good as Ferrozone.

"It would be difficult to express my thanks for the benefit I have received from Ferrozone," writes Miss Eva Wright, of [illegible]. "I was so weak and miserable that I could scarcely go around the house. My head ached, there was a dragging weakness in my limbs, and I felt as if every spark of life had left me. Ferrozone improved my appetite, toned up my blood, and soon made me well. Nothing I ever used did me half the good I got from Ferrozone."

The Great Tonic, Ferrozone, Brought Back Life.

"I am desirous to speak a good word for such a magnificent tonic as Ferrozone," says [illegible]. "I was previously worn out, I was apprehensive, and lacked confidence. It was simply due to my very weak state. The only [illegible] good was Ferrozone. It rebuilt my strength, has made me as vigorous and happy as a man could be. In the whole range of medicines I never used anything with half the merit I found in Ferrozone."

Though you spend a thousand dollars on doctors, you can't get a more vitalizing, strengthening tonic than Ferrozone. It is the best that money, combined with scientific research, can produce. If anything in this world will make you strong it must be Ferrozone. Others have proved its worth. You can easily do so for yourself. It will send new vital energy and renewed youth singing through your veins. It's nature's own remedy—a true food tonic.

FERROZONE FOR BRACING HEALTH!

TRENT VALLEY LACROSSE SCHEDULE WAS DRAWN UP

A meeting was held here last night of the Trent Valley Lacrosse League for the purpose of drawing up the schedule.

Those present were:

Herb Brundrette, Port Hope; J. H. Garbutt, Lindsay; W. G. Gillott, Millbrook; A. M. Clancy, Trenton; A. W. Frowde, Y.M.C.A.; R. J. Begley, T.A.S.

The schedule is as follows:

Millbrook at Lindsay July 1.
Millbrook at Port Hope July 14.
Millbrook at Trenton August 25.
Millbrook at Peterborough Sept. 17—Labor Day, Monday morning.
Peterborough at Port Hope July 2nd or 3rd.
Peterborough at Millbrook, June 24th.
Peterborough at Lindsay, Aug. 12.
Peterborough at Trenton, August 5th or 6th.
Port Hope at Trenton, June 27.
Port Hope at Lindsay, July 21.
Port Hope, at Peterborough. August 3rd, morning.
Port Hope at Millbrook, July 17.
Lindsay at Peterborough July 9.
Lindsay at Trenton July 15.
Lindsay at Port Hope, July 30.
Lindsay at Millbrook, Aug. 18.
Trenton at Millbrook, July 9.
Trenton at Peterborough, July 21.
Trenton at Port Hope Aug. 12.
Trenton at Lindsay, September 7—Labor Day.

Belleville did not send a representative to the meeting and was not included in the schedule.

It was decided to place only one team in the League from Peterborough and that will be the Y twelve. As a consequence the T.A.S. team will throw in their lot with the former.

SOME LIVE INTELLIGENCE OF THE MAJOR LEAGUERS

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Donlin, of Philadelphia leads the National League in batting with a percentage of 380 with Wagner, the great short stop of Pittsburg, following him closely with 327.

Brown, of Chicago, leads the pitchers of the National League with the good average of 857, he winning 8 games and losing 1.

Joe McGinnity, the pitcher of the New York Nationals, is supposed to be the richest man playing ball to-day, with the exception of Fred Glade of the New York Americans.

Pitcher Overall, the star twirler of the Cubs, who was injured on Decoration Day, may be out of the game all season. It is believed that a kidney has been torn loose.

Hans Wagner was worth any fancy salary that Barney Dreyfuss had to offer to bring him to terms with Pittsburg. The big Fenton is playing the game of his life this season.

Jimmy Sheckard, the great third baseman, of the Cubs, narrowly escaped losing his eyesight on June 2. A bottle of ammonia exploded and but for the prompt measures taken for the injured members, he might have been of little use to his club for the rest of the season, but he is gradually coming around.

Fred Tenney the great, first baseman of the New York Giants, is one of the best impromptu speakers in the professional baseball world. He is down for a baseball talk at a settlement entertainment on the lower East Side in New York this week.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

McConnell, last year with the Eastern League, leads the American League with an average of 329. Turner of Cleveland, is second with 328. Cobb, the sensation of last season, is batting fourth with 317.

Addie Joss, of Cleveland is still the premier twirler of the League this year, winning 12 games and losing four, with the handsome average of 863. Ed Walsh, the spit ball artist, of Chicago White Sox, is second with 11 wins and 3 losses.

President Navin of Detroit, says he will give $5,000 for another young twirler like Ed. Summers or young Manning, of New York.

Pitcher Donovan, of Detroit, is laid up with a lame back.

Jim McGuire has his Boston disciples well trained in the hit and run play.

Bill Hinchman is playing a sensational game at Cleveland's short field and Terry Turner is not missed much.

Short stop Terry Turner is likely to be laid up a long time with a sprained shoulder.

Kid Elberfeld joined the Highlanders the past week and Manager Griffith hopes his team will strike another winning streak.

Ty. Cobb, of Detroit, is still playing, although badly bruised and sore all over. He says nothing but a broken leg can keep him out of the game.

Long Addie Joss is the only twirler Lajoie's outfit are supporting consistently."—Exchange. Likewise is Joss the Cleveland twirler who is pitching consistently.

Pitcher Eddie Summers is the hardest loser in the game. The other day Cleveland took a fall out of his delivery and Detroit bit the dust. After the game Summers retired to the dressing room and shed really and truly salt water tears.

George Stone, of St. Louis, is not only a great hitter, a grand fielder and an honest man, but he can manipulate the turgid rudder of the muley cow, harvest the esculent roasting ear, and make the industrious potato bug hustle on. In other words, Stone is some pumpkins as a farmer.

BRUCE RIDPATH WALKS ON WATER

Latest Sensational Stunt of Bruce Ridpath, the Lakefield Canoeist

Toronto, June 15. — Bruce Ridpath, the professional canoeist whose wonderful stunts made such a sensation in New York and Berlin, Germany, last year, has accomplished the feat of walking on the water.

He made a private trial Friday, and did it in public at the T.C.C. regatta Saturday.

Ridpath uses two five-foot flat bottomed boats about a foot wide. On the bottoms are fins, which shut when he shoves his foot forward and open and grip the water when he shoves forward. He travels at a nice gait, and in a week or so expects to have the stunt down fine.

The late Ned Hanlan once tried this game, but his attempt wasn't a distinct success.

GUIDE TELLS ABOUT GAME AT PORT HOPE

Speaking of the game at Port Hope on Saturday the Guide says:

The locals won their second victory of the season on Saturday by defeating the Athletics of Peterborough by a score of 11 to 2. While many fast plays were pulled off still the game lacked the vim that has marked the other contests, due in a great degree to Quinlan the Peterborough pitcher, taking every advantage to cause delays.

The home team had been strengthened by McGuire, of the St. Mary's team, Toronto, at second, and Dunn, of London, at third, and both imports did good work. O'Toole, who was out of the last game through illness, held down his old position at third, but Jack had evidently left his batting eye in the Queen city, striking out four times.

Jack Wilson did the twirling and made a very favorable impression. He only allowed three scattered hits and made seven of the Peterboroughs fan the air.

Port Hope got busy in the run time in the first innings tallying one on McGuire's and Wilson's hits. They added three in the second, five in the fifth and one in the seventh and one in the eighth. Peterborough scored one in the second and one in the third.

HOWDEN TROPHY

The annual field sports of the Y.M.C.A. will be held this year on Thursday evening of this week commencing at 6.30 at the Nicholls Oval and the man scoring the largest number of points in all the events will hold the magnificent trophy donated by Mr. J. J. Howden for the coming year. There are about 25 entries for these events and some strong competition will be in evidence. The officials picked by the games committee are as follows:

Referee—Chas. Gisson.
Three judges at finish—Mr. Conway, V. Eastwood, J J Turner jr.
Three time keepers—Alex Gibson, E. Watson, Mr. Clark.
Starter—Sergt. Major Brittain.
Inspector—J. J. Howden.
Announcer—E. Daly.
Scorers—Ross Dobbin, H. Warren, W. Hillhouse.

The events are:

100 yards dash.
220 yards dash.
1 mile run.
Running high jump.
Running long jump.
Running hop, step and jump.
Putting 16 pound shot.

The entries to date are: Edwin C. Daly, M. L. Dobson, E. Wilson, Chas. Thorpe, Peter Wallace, M. Watt, J. Drysdale, J. Sanderson, G. E. Bruce, Chas. Walsh, S. F. McFadden, Stanley Caniff, Ray Best, Wm J Todd, H. Munroe, F. O'Connor, R. Adamson.

The track will be prepared tomorrow and everything will be in readiness. Prize medals will be offered for firsts and seconds in each event. Entries will be received up to 6 o'clock on Thursday evening. All the men who have entered must be on the grounds at 6.30 sharp.

FOOTBALL

GOOD PRACTICE

The Y.M.C.A. football team had a large turnout at the practice at Riverside Park last evening; The Havelock eleven plays here Friday night and they will be met by a strong team.

LACROSSE

The senior and junior lacrosse teams will practice at the Riverside Park tomorrow night at 7 o'clock. All the men are requested to be out.

THEY WILL WIN EVERYTHING

Utica Globe Tells Why the American Olympic Team Can't be Beaten

With considerable of the Yankee spirit of boastfulness overbalancing a desirable optimism, the Utica Globe has the following to say of the American Olympic team.

The team selected by the American Olympic Committee to represent this country in the Olympic championships in London next month forms the strongest combination of athletes that ever represented a nation in any athletic meet. Never before in the history of athletics was there such an array of talent to select from, and the committee had no easy task to score them. Every one is a champion in his respective class and it is almost a foregone conclusion that they will uphold the Stars and Stripes in noble style.

The team that will sail on June 27 is by far a stronger one than that which represented America at Athens. Among the list will be found some new shining lights in the athletic world. These men have shown such remarkable form that they are expected to outdo the veterans of the games. Rector, the University of Virginia boy, who makes the team for the 100 metres, is considered the wonder of the athletic world. His great performances before and at the try-outs have made him the favorite for that event in London. The boy is good for 10 2-5 seconds. Cartmell, of the University of Pennsylvania, who will be his running mate, is also a sure point winner.

The trio that will represent Old Glory in the 110 metre hurdle—Smithson, of California, Garrels, of Michigan, and Shaw of Dartmouth—is invincible. The only fight in that event will be between the three. In the 1,500 metre, Halstead the Cornell flyer is the best since the days of Tommy Conneff. No other nation can produce his equal.

Sheppard, the Irish-American A.C. crack, has the 800 metre cinched, while Bromilow, jr., his club mate, will be a hard man to beat for second place. The 400 metre hurdle can be well taken care of by Henry Hillman of the New York A.C., and Charley Bacon, of the Irish-American A.C., Taylor, the colored champion of the University of Pennsylvania, and Atlee, of Princeton, are a good choice for the 400 metre flat. Both athletes show good form at the tryouts and will surely make good. In the hammer and weight events we ought to be able to sweep the boards, our entrants being unbeatable.

SPORTING COMMENT

The officers of the Midland Baseball League should waken up and see that competent umpires are provided for the league games.

Rosevear of Port Hope, is the only man who has held the indicator this year who appears to be fit for the job. Gamsby, of Orono, may be all right personally but he is somewhat of a joke when it comes to handling the indicator and Orton, who umpired Saturday's game at Port Hope, is even worse. The kick is not from one team alone, but from every club on the circuit.

Can't something be done to secure better umpires? The average team finds it hard enough to take a fair defeat with good grace, let alone being robbed by an umpire who appears to know as much about ball as a South Sea Islander.

CRICKET

CRICKET PRACTICE

The cricket club will practice at Nicholls Oval this evening at 6.30 o'clock instead of tomorrow night. A full attendance of the members is requested in preparation for their game on June 27th.

BASEBALL

PRACTICE OF T.A.S.

A full practice of the T.A.S. will be held tonight at the field, Charlotte street. All members are asked to be out tonight to get into shape for the game with the Straths on Saturday.

How a Hat is Sized.

C. writes that the size of a hat is calculated on a curious principle. It is the length plus the breadth divided by 2. Thus a head 8⅝ inches long and 5⅝ inches broad would require a hat size of 14¼ divided by 2, which is 7⅛—Gladstone's size.

Your correspondent C. is perfectly right in his description of the curious way in which the size of a hat is obtained, writes G., but his sample dimensions are slightly misleading. Such an "oval" as 8⅝ inches by 5⅝ inches would scarcely be met with twice in a lifetime. The normal difference between the length and width (technically called the "oval") is invariably through the gamut of sizes 1½ inches. Thus an ordinary 6⅞ hat would measure 7½ inches long and 6 inches wide and a 7⅜ (four sizes bigger) 8 inches long and 6½ inches wide. The longest head I have measured in many thousands was 8⅝ by 7⅝, which is the equivalent of a 2⅝ inch oval. Needless to say, the inside of the hat was the shape of a canalboat. — Manchester Guardian.

It Did Not Work.

Mrs. Billings was installing the new cook, a maiden from Finland, to whom the kitchen contrivances of America were new and wonderful. "This, Ina," said the lady, indicating a perforated wooden board that hung against the kitchen wall, "is the order list. See, it says 'butter, eggs, sugar, coffee, tea, molasses'—everything that we need to eat. Whenever we are out of any of these things all you need to do is to place one of these little pegs in the hole opposite the name and the things will be ordered."

Mrs. Billings is not a methodical housekeeper. There were several consecutive days when she completely forgot the existence of the order list in the kitchen, but Ina labored with it faithfully.

"Meesis," pleaded Ina, after struggling with the order board for three days, "I tank dese board must be out of order. I push dese peg in yust so far as I can, but notting will come—no egg, no butter, no nottings."—Youth's Companion.

The Voice and the Phonograph.

A vaudeville monologue man met a friend in a Broadway car. After they had talked awhile the friend said:

"I've been conscious ever since we began to talk of some change in you, but I couldn't make out what. I know now. It is your voice. You speak so much more distinctly than you used to."

"That is because I have been talking into a phonograph," said the vaudeville performer. "The surest remedy on earth for slovenly speech is to hear a little lecture of your own rolled off a phonograph record and find that about half the words have been pronounced in direct opposition to Webster and all the rest of the authorities. That was my experience. I practiced for two months hard before I could improve a speech that had been good enough for the theater up to the point where it would pass muster in a talking machine."—New York Sun.

A Curious Ear.

The catfish uses his lungs as an organ of hearing. The needless lung becomes a closed sac filled with air and commonly known as the swim bladder. In the catfish, as in the suckers, chubs and most brook fish, the air bladder is large and is connected by a slender tube, the remains of the trachea, to the esophagus. At its front it fits closely to the vertebral column. The anterior vertebrae are much enlarged, twisted together, and through them passes a chain of bones, which connects with the hidden cavity of the air. The bladder therefore assists the ear of the catfish as the tympanum, and its bones assist the ear of the higher animals. An ear of this sort can carry little range of variety in sound. It probably gives only the impression of jars or disturbances in the water.

More About Crusoe.

Robinson Crusoe had just discovered human footprints on his island.

He followed them up.

They led him to a knoll overlooking the sea on which somebody had put up a billboard with this inscription painted upon it:

Use Dusk's Pills
For All Liver Troubles.
25 Cents a Bottle.

Owing to the avarice and greed of the publishers, however, who refused to incorporate this incident in the story unless paid regular advertising rates, it was omitted, and the book went to press in the garbled and incomplete form with which the reading public is familiar.—Chicago Tribune.

The First Monotheists.

So far as we know, the Egyptian priests were the first monotheists. There existed in Egypt two kinds of religious teaching, the "exoteric" and the "esoteric," that for the masses of the people and that for the select few, the little company of the "wise." The masses were polytheists, believing in a multitude of gods, while the few believed only in one god, of whom Osiris, head of the popular deities, was but a weak reflection.—New York American.

Stands For Many.

Boy—Cow is a noun, feminine gender, third person singular, and stands for Mary.

"Stands for Mary?" asked the master in astonishment.

"Yes, sir," responded the urchin, with a grin, "for if the cow didn't stand for Mary how could Mary milk the cow?"—London Express.

PROMPT PAYMENT

Peterborough, Ont., June 12th, 1908

W. H. HILL, Esq., City Representative Liverpool and London, and Globe Fire Insurance Co'y.

DEAR SIR,—

We beg to acknowledge the receipt of cheque for $2,500 in settlement of fire loss, policy No. 8,645,879 Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Company.

We note in connection with this settlement a most unusual feature. They are legally entitled to 1 per cent. of stated sum for payment prior to due date. No business man would for one moment question their right to this amount. But they do not take it. Instead they have purposely waived their privileges and presented us with this additional amount.

We are gratified to note this remarkable action. To adjust and settle a loss within twelve days is noteworthy, but to add to this magnanimity in refusing to take advantage of their discount privileges, places this company in a most favorable position.

We congratulate you upon representing a company of such superior standing.

Yours very truly,

SUPREME COURT OF I.O.F. IS MEETING AT TORONTO

The Supreme Court of the Independent Order of Foresters is meeting to-day in the Temple Building, Toronto. The session will last several days. They meet every three years, about 300 delegates from Canada, United States and Great Britain being in attendance.

The contest for the world famed office of Supreme Chief Ranger of the I.O.F. is expected to be between H. A. Collins, the Supreme Treasurer and Elliott G. Stevenson, the present Supreme Chief Ranger.

Mr. Collins has been treasurer of the I.O.F., for a number of years, and is prominent in the Masonic Order, being at one time Supreme Potentate of the Mystic Shrine.

Mr. Stevenson was law partner of Hon. D. M. Dickinson of Detroit, and was also the Supreme Councillor of the I.O.F. for a number of years. He is considered a cautious cool-calculating, far-seeing sterling, business man, and the best the Order could have chosen as their leader.

The old members' rate at age 18 is 60c per $1,000; the new members' present rate at 18 is 76c per $1,000. The proposed rate on the old members is 82c. Last year $400,000 was paid out in death claims and disability over what the old members paid in. This does not affect the general new members' funds as some contemporaries would try to make out as there was $1,020,250 added to the surplus last year, which, at the end of April amounted to $12,104,073.57 surplus, and in April, according to the returns, over 1,000 new members were added to the membership, which is now about 263,000 so that the present discussion of Government Insurance, Bills and re-sealing of some of the rates are not keeping out uncle, nor money from this secure institution. Mr. Stevenson does not keep his light under a bushel, but lets the world know what is being done to put a strong Order on a still stronger basis.

The proposed rate on old members will cover all their liabilities since 1898 so that there will be no other payments nor reducing of insurance unless any member desires to remain paying his old low rate. The majority of the old members are perfectly satisfied to be raised to the new members at the age they joined. The proposed changes do not affect any of the members who came into the Order after 1898.

TRAMPS ATTEMPTED TO STEAL RIDE ON THE NOON EXPRESS

Were Arrested by P. C. Meagher—Were Badly Intoxicated —Had to be Brought to Police Station in Express Waggon—Strangers in This City.

Much excitement was created at the CPR. station today at noon when two drunken tramps attempted to steal a ride on the express going east and were afterwards arrested. The two fellows, it is alleged, came in on an earlier train and are apparently travelling about the country, living on the general public. Although in a state of intoxication, the couple boarded the train, as it was moving away. However, they had only got as far as the bridge, when the engineer brought the train to a standstill in order to have the fellows put off. One of them fell alongside the track while the other one rolled down the embankment.

P. C. Meagher was 'phoned for and soon arrived. Mr. Fred Sanderson drove the couple to the police station and they were so awfully drunk that they soon fell asleep in their cells.

Their names are unknown and they will appear before Magistrate Dumble in the morning.

SEVERAL GOOD CATCHES REPORTED THIS MORNING

The fishermen are now in their glory. They fairly swarmed on the Otonabee both above and below the city this morning, and there were scores of canoes on Little Lake. It is said that the lunge were biting well and several good catches are reported. Art Herring's name sounds and he lived up to it this morning, landing a fourteen pound lunge in Little Lake. Dr. Amys is also reported to have been among the successful ones, and a number of others also carried home trophies of their skill with the hook and line.

ROBBERY AT NATIONAL HOTEL LAST EVENING

A robbery was committed at the National Hotel last night, some time after eleven o'clock. An entrance was gained through a cellar window and the burglars found their way into the sample room, from where the following articles were stolen:—

Five or six cotton shirts, sizes 15 and 15 1-2.

Two men's fancy white pique fronts, sizes 15 and 15 1-2.

Two men's plain white shirts, pleated front, sizes 15 and 15 1-2.

Two pairs boys' pants, small check and stripes, 22 or 23 inches long.

Four or five pairs men's moleskin pants.

Two boys' print blouses, collar to match, "striped."

One bunch of fancy ladies' combs, four or five dozen, back and small [illegible].

One card of ladies' leather belts, black kid some with brass buckles, 2 to 2 1-2 inches wide, pleated.

Two or three men's umbrellas, steel rod, black with silver tips.

The robbery was discovered this morning and the police were at once notified. They are making an investigation.

JUNE SESSION OF COUNTY COUNCIL OPENED TO-DAY

Much Business to be Transacted—Warden Thompson's Address to the Council—By-law to Borrow $5000 for Construction of Bridges Passed its Third Reading.

The June Sessions of the County Council opened at the Court House at 2 o'clock when the following were present:

Warden Jas. Thompson, MPP, in the chair; Wm Oakman, Asphodel; J Russell, Belmont and Methuen; Charles R D Scott, Burleigh and Anstruther; Wm Hales, Chandos; S Killen, Ennismore; Chas. Coben, Galway and Cavendish; Jas Ingram, Harvey; Denis Maloney, Smith; C. J. Darling, Dummer; Jno Browne, North Monaghan; Jno H Fife, Otonabee; W J. Porter, Otonabee; R. N. Scott and T. H. Graham, Smith; F J. Moore, Lakefield, A. Armour, Norwood.

Before going into regular session a special meeting was held and upon motion bylaw No. 927 passed its third reading.

Bylaw 927 is one providing for the borrowing of $5000 for the construction of bridges in the county.

Warden Thompson said that he had a communication inviting the council to be guests at the Ennismore picnic, but owing to pressure of business they were unable to accept it and upon motion a vote of thanks was passed to those who gave it.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS

To the members of the County Council.

Gentlemen,—Following the example of my predecessors permit me to address you at this regular June session, 1908.

Before referring to the matters of importance that has come up and will come up before you, I am sure I am voicing the sentiments of all of you when I give expression to the recognition of the Hand of a Kind Providence for a splendid harvest judging by the appearance at present.

I am proud of the continued material prosperity of the County, and note with satisfaction the improvement in the amount of money now available for the prosecution of all industries and also for the purchase of municipal debentures, etc.

This as you all are aware is an Agricultural County and Peterborough though having one of the most prosperous cities for its size within its boundaries is among the leading counties of an agricultural country, and I am proud of the position its products have, not only at home, but in the great consuming centre, the British Isles. Canadian cheese is of world wide fame and Peterborough Cheese Board, the banner board of the Province. This is an evidence of the practical and honest contribution of the patrons of the factories brought in co-operatively.

In order to encourage and foster this great Agricultural industry, the Council of the County of Peterborough have been active in providing highways or assisting to provide such and in doing so have built and assumed bridges in different parts of the County.

From the address of the recent Grand Jury to His Honor the County Judge, you will note with satisfaction the absence of serious crime at the present time, also the County Council will hear with pleasure the report of said Jury upon the management and appearance of the County House of Refuge.

I will not deal with the matter of bridges as the councillors will no doubt have reports from their respective bridges.

In the current expenses of any institution or corporation some years will exceed others and it must be apparent to all that this is one of the abnormal years of this county due to absolute necessity which as I have stated will be shown by the commissioners from the bridges, etc.

Some additional repairs have also to be made in the Court House and other county buildings, which will of course also increase the current expenditure.

The facts as I have endeavored to lay before you will, when, as I have no doubt you have already done, looked into, convince you of the amount of careful consideration the chairman of the Finance Committee has had to give to that department.

WARDEN THOMPSON, M.P.P.

As you are aware, we have with the additional debenture of $1,030, first paid last year, another one for this also, following our debenture issue last year.

The debentures we are now about to offer for sale, will, I have no doubt, be disposed of readily and consistent with the market.

Recent legislation has to provide that I think, probably in future, if the act is taken advantage of, will enable municipalities to dispose of their debentures more readily. Some time during the session our solicitor will explain the matter to the Council.

Although our financial standing as a county stands with those at the head of the list, I would respectfully urge upon you all to use economy in every department consistent with with good work so that a continuance of good judgment will be to the credit of the Council of the County of Peterborough as has been credited to and deserved by our predecessors.

Thanking you for the united assistance of all in the performance of the several duties in connection with the wardenship and general county work.

I am,
Yours respectfully,
JAS. THOMPSON.

CATARRH NOW CURABLE

But Never by Medicine Swallowed, Snuffs, Sprays or Douches

Catarrh is not a blood disease and that is why it cannot be cured by any medicine taken into the stomach. Catarrh is a germ trouble contracted from the germ-laden air you breathe inward. These germs fasten themselves in the tissue and air cells of the breathing organs, multiply by millions, cause sneezing, coughing, raising of mucous, discharge from the nose, difficulty in breathing, hoarseness, dryness, and stoppage of the nose, tickling in the throat and other symptoms that can only be reached by the dry air principal of Hyomei.

It medicates the air you breathe with the curative properties of the Australian Eucalyptus Forests where catarrh is unknown.

The reason you get relief in a minute or two from Hyomei is because it destroys every catarrhal germ in the air you breathe, and its deep penetrating aroma will reach the innermost recesses of the air passages, killing millions of germs a minute. Their destruction means freedom for oppressed respiratory organs. W. McDill, druggist, corner of Hunter and George streets, Peterborough, sells Hyomei under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. Price $1.00.

PETERBOROUGH IS PROTESTING

Asks Dominion Govt. not to Pass Dominion Power Company Bill.

The Peterborough city council along with a large number of the municipal corporations is protesting against the passing of the Dominion Power Company Bill by the Dominion Parliament. At the meeting last evening the following resolution was passed:

Moved by Ald. Phelan, seconded by Ald. Morrow;

That this council urge the Parliament of Canada, not to pass the bill respecting the Dominion Power Company, without explicit provisions protecting the authority of municipalities over their streets, and providing that streets and highways may be used only with the consent of the proper municipal authorities.—Carried.

CHAIN LETTER PRAYERS IN CIRCULATION

"Chain letter prayers" are again circulating in Peterborough. A young lady received one this morning, and showed it to the Review. The letter contained a prayer and at the bottom was a request that the recipient write nine copies of the prayer and send them on to persons she knew, with the request that they do likewise. The further request was also contained that the chain should not be broken.

The majority of people who receive the chain letter prayers do not comply with the request as they cannot see what good is going to be done.

ABOUT "CY" YOUNG

The Boston Americans have in Denton T. Young, or Cy Young, as he is known throughout the length and breadth of the land, the most remarkable figure on the diamond for for all time. Cy is pitching as good ball to-day as he ever did and this despite the fact that it is eighteen years ago since he broke into major league ranks as a twirler.

Cy is 41 years old and was born in Gilmore, Tuscarawas county, Ohio. He started in life's battle felling trees on his father's farm. He took to the game early. In 1889 he became a pitcher for the Red Cloud, Neb., team. The next year he hooked up with the Canton club in the Tri-State League. His showing there led to his purchase by the Cleveland National League team the same year. Since then Cy has been making baseball history. He remained with Cleveland until 1898, when the Robinsons went to St. Louis. He was in St. Louis in 1899 and 1900, Then the Boston Americans secured his services. Cy has done the best pitching of his career with this aggregation.

The feats that he has performed since he became a professional twirler are too many to enumerate. There has not been a season when his percentage of victories was not better than that of his team's. Young's strongest point, according to the men who have batted against him is his ability to put the ball wherever he wants it to go. One of the best hitters in the business recently asserted no batter could get Young in the hole, so perfect was his command. Statistics bear out this assertion, for in the last seven years Young has not averaged a base on balls to a game. Possibly no pitcher of modern times wastes fewer balls than Cy, who generally knows what his opponents can hit and is careful to serve them what they don't want, always however, so that the undesired ball will cross the plate.

Cy is one of the most popular players in the game and has ever been a credit to the baseball profession. He has always given the best that was in him to the club that employed him and never sought to shirk his work. When his major league career is ended Cy declares that he will go back to his Ohio home and pass his days in peace and quiet. He is well off in the world's goods, having saved a great part of the big money he made as a star pitcher. From present indications it will be a good many days before Cy's usefulness as a major league twirler is ended.

Fish, Chicken and Veal.

Raw pullet, raw veal and raw fish make the graveyard fat. This is hundreds of years old. A New York caterer (perhaps the most efficient in the city) said to me: "There are three important articles of food that must under no circumstances be served underdone. They are fish, chicken and veal. By chicken I mean all poultry of a domestic nature. All game birds should be rare. You want to be a little careful about lamb too. Give it plenty of cooking."—New York Press.

Buttermilk.

"Which is the cow that gives the buttermilk?" innocently asked the young lady from the city, who was inspecting the herd with a critical eye.

"Don't make yourself ridiculous," said the young lady who had been in the country before and knew a thing or two. "Goats give buttermilk."—Springfield Journal.

Few and Far Between.

"If men really would 'vote as they pray,'" remarked Goodley, "this would truly be a happy world."

"Yes," replied Wise, "but in that case you wouldn't get some men to the polls once in ten years."—Washington Star.

Must Be Stylish.

"Why do you wear that ridiculous hat?" he growled.

"Do you really think it ridiculous?" she replied graciously. "How lovely of you! I was afraid it wasn't quite the style!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

ENGAGEMENT OF NON-UNION BAND THE CAUSE OF A STIR

57th Regiment Band Issues a Call to Union Men to Stay Stay Out of Oddfellows Parade To-morrow Because Non-union Band Has Been Engaged.

The engagement of the Peterborough band to play in connection with the Decoration Day parade on Thursday, and the issuing of a call by the 57th regiment band, asking union men not to participate in the march to the cemetery has aroused a stir among local Oddfellow. The Peterborough band is a non-union organization, whereas the members of 57th band are members of the American Federation of Amalgamated Musicians, or in other words, they are union men. The 57th band has always played for the Decoration Day parade and ceremony in past years, but this time the committee from the two lodges of Oddfellows engaged the Peterborough band, which was organized about the first of the year. The officers of the 57th band state that the new band is playing for $5.00 less than the regimental band played in other years, but claim that they were never approached regarding their price for Thursday's event. In past years the band turned out twenty strong for $30.

The 57th band have called upon all union men to stay out of the parade. As a large number of Oddfellows are union men, it is evident that there will be a smaller turn out than in previous years.

A meeting of the Oddfellows is called for to-night to consider the matter, and it is not unlikely that some change will be made.

SURVEYORS ARE WORKING NEAR LINDSAY ON NEW GRAIN LINE

A Lindsay despatch says:—Surveyors are working between Cambray and Grass Hill on a second railway line, which will run from Midland to Belleville through Lindsay. There is a large staff of men in the surveying party and the work is being pushed rapidly. It is expected that they will reach town some time next week. So far no survey work on this line has been done in this vicinity at all.

"I do not know exactly just where the line will strike Lindsay or whether it will run parallel with the old line or not. It is probable that a new course altogether may be surveyed," said a railway man to the Warder this morning.

FORMER PETERBORO' MAN DONATES LAND FOR PARK IN THE CITY OF HALIFAX

Monument to be Erected on it to Commemorate 150th Anniversary of the Institution of the First Representative Government in the British Possessions—Sir Sanford Fleming Formerly of This City Will Give the Property—Mr. E. H. D. Hall in Ottawa To-day—Will Accompany Sir Sanford to Halifax to Arrange the Formal Transfer.

tI is a matter of interest to all Canadians to learn thta one hundred and fifty years ago, the first representative government in the British possessions throughout the world was instituted at the city of Halifax, Nova Scotia. This fact is now prepared to commemorate, following out the suggestion made by Sir Sandfield Fleming who proposes to donate for the purpose, a large block of very desirable land, on which to erect a suitable monument and institute a fine park for the use of the city of Halifax, NS.

It is many years since Sir Sandford Fleming lived in Peterborough, but he is yet the owner of considerable real estate here. The letter following addressed by Sir Sandford Fleming to the Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia, explains the views of the donor. Today, Mr. E H. D. Hall, who is the solicitor for Sir Sandford, left for Ottawa, from which city he will accompany Sir Sandford to Halifax, and handle legal matters connected with the formal transference of the property to the city, the magnificent gift having been gratefully accepted.

The monument, when erected, will be a conspicuous statue, on entering the harbor of the city and will be a land mark to all the ocean traffic passing in and out of the port and along the coast. Following is the letter referred to;

Ottawa, June 8, 1908.

His Honor, D. C. Fraser,
Lieutenant Governor,
Halifax, N.S.

Sir,—A few days ago I received a copy of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of Nova Scotia, for 1908 and with very great satisfaction I have read the remarks of Hon. Mr. Alexander and other gentlemen, reported on pages 18 to 22 and 40 to 52. It is gratifying to find set forth in much detail the important historical fact that parliamentary government was instituted in Nova Scotia a century and a half ago, that it has been continued up to the present time and that we have now reached the 150th anniversary of the first meeting of the legislature in the city of Halifax.

The Speaker in the Legislative Council to whom I have referred, pointed out that in 1758 under instructions from His Majesty's ministers in England, elected representatives of the settlers met for the first time; that the Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly was then and is now the first example of representative government within the limits of the half continent which is now known as the Dominion of Canada, that when the legislature met in the capital of Nova Scotia in 1758, the provinces of Quebec and Ontario, with much more territory in North America, were subject to military rule under the King of France; that the Legislative Assembly was opened in Nova Scotia long before New Zealand and Australia were first settled or visited by Englishmen; that the event occurred more than a century before British Columbia was discovered, and eighteen years before the United States of America had come into existence.

The event to which special reference is made as having occurred in 1758 appears to have been the beginning of a new order of things in Colonial administration. At this date we recognise what it signified, that it was actually the first step in the enfranchisement of the people in the over sea possessions of England, and that it may indeed be regarded in its essential principle as the foundation stone upon which has steadily been developing and is today being firmly built up in both hemispheres, the British Empire of the centuries to come.

Nova Scotians may rightly claim the 150th anniversary of such an event as an occasion of which they may well be proud, and I understand all are agreed that it should be celebrated in some becoming manner. It has among other things been suggested that an imposing monumental edifice be erected on some conspicuous spot to commemorate such an important historical event. It is felt that such a memorial would, in some degree, be a recognition by the people of the capital city and of Nova Scotia, of the importance of the event dwelt upon by members of the Legislative Council,—a recognition, which in the permanent form proposed, would impress itself on every visitor to this part of the Dominion in all future years.

In my letter to the late Mayor of Halifax, Mr. R. I. McIlreith, I alluded in a few words to this matter. I have learned incidentally that the suggestion made has been viewed with favor, and, assuming that such is the case, I now formally offer the site of the whole of my property on the north west arm for the erection of such a commemorative edifice, along with 70 or 80 acres of land for the purpose of a park, for the use and enjoyment of the public for ever.

In the event of this offer proving generally acceptable, there are some matters of detail which would require to be arranged between the authorities and myself. This probably may be best effected by a personal interview, and with that object in view, I shall be glad to hold myself in readiness to visit Halifax at any time that may be convenient after the present week.

I have the honor to be,
Your obedient servant,
SANDFORD FLEMING.

THERE SHOULD BE GOOD FISHING; WATER CONSIDERABLY LOWER

The fishing season opened today. The mere announcement is not perhaps of any great interest to many but to the true disciple of the rod and line it contains a world of meaning.

From all indications the fishing should be good. The water is now pretty nearly down to its summer level and general conditions for good biting are the best.

Several local sportsmen with piscatorial inclinations were out on the lake and river early this morning or during the day and parties of Americans and numbers from Canada as well are coming to these parts to enjoy fishing in the prolific waters of the Kawartha Lakes, Rice Lakes and the streams and rivers of the waterway.

LOCAL S. A. BAND WILL SPEND THREE DAYS IN LINDSAY

The silver band of the Peterborough Corps of the Salvation Army comes to Lindsay for a three days' stay, arriving here a week from to-day, Saturday June 20th. This famous musical organization will reach town on the 4.40 p.m. train from the Electric City. At eight o'clock that evening a musical festival will be held in the Salvation Army barracks, Peel street. The band will render a programme of choice selections, while in addition special features will be given. The evening is expected to be an unusually interesting one from a musician's point of view. Dr. J. A. White will occupy the chair. On Sunday at 11 a.m. a public service will be held in the barracks. At 6 p.m. the band will render a programme of sacred selections in the park, if the weather permits. If not the Academy of Music will be used for the afternoon service. On Sunday evening commencing at eight o'clock, a public mass meeting is planned to be held in the Academy of Music. The programme will be chiefly musical and will be, no doubt, of a high standard of excellence.

The various services will be in charge of Captain John D. Sharpe, and Mrs. Sharpe. They will be assisted by Ensign Riley—all of their staff officers—while Ensign and Mrs. Calvert will be in charge of the local corps.

The Peterborough band has made an enviable name for itself throughout Central Ontario. Its visit here being looked forward to with much pleasure. Mr. J. M. Greene, the bandmaster, has been singularly successful since he took over the management of the organization some three years ago, and under his direction it has brought honor both to the Salvation Army Corps of Peterborough and to the city of Peterborough.

WHY THE S.A. BAND DIDN'T PLAY IN PARK LAST EVENING

To the Editor of the Review.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of the Salvation Army Band, and with your permission for a small space in your paper, I wish to explain why the concert was not given in Victoria Park last evening as advertised.

When arrangements were made regarding our grant of $150, from the City Council, and the playing in the different parks for said grant, this year, it was particularly mentioned that we should and would be supplied with the proper seating and lighting, in whatever park we may be requested to play.

Last Tuesday we gave our first concert, and there were no chairs for the accommodation of the thirty-five bandsmen and to those who perhaps do not just understand the positioning of a band, in order to produce the proper effects in the different sections and combinations, I wish to say, that it is impossible to play effectively, difficulty parts in the different numbers, where there is simply one seat around the band stand. Chairs or seats, in the centre of a stand are a necessity, for the different groupings.

When the concert of last evening was arranged, I was given to fully understand there would be no difficulty regarding the chairs, but when our band went to the park, there were no chairs. The previous week, we were compelled to ask the friends who had come to the concert to let us have the seats which are distributed about the park for their accommodation, and they very kindly gave them to us. Sir, should this be repeated every time, when there are chairs for the bandsmen's own use. Large numbers of people were coming into the park last night, but I could not ask our band to make the best of the situation, seeing it was the second occurence and that some one is responsible for the placing of these chairs on the stand, therefore we left the park, and gave a few of the numbers, which were on the program at the corner of George and Simcoe streets, after waiting for fifteen minutes, to see whether seating accommodation would come.

We would like to know why we cannot have the chairs, the same as other organizations. They are city property, and a great many of our bandsmen are ratepayers, and for thirty-five or forty men, it may be just difficulty to find a more upright, sober, and law-abiding citizens and yet, seemingly, because it is the Salvation Army, and the idea that anything will be good enough, we are deprived of the common courtesy, and accommodation, which we are entitled to, and which others receive. We believe in British fair-play and shall we have it.

I regret the occurence very much, but again state, that it is and was impossible to render the different parts in difficult music, effectively without proper seating, for the members of the band, therefore we were compelled to withdraw from the park, last evening.

Thanking the many friends who were coming to the festival, and also you, Mr. Editor, for this valuable space,

I beg to remain,
Yours,
J. M. GREENE,
Bandmaster.

THE SEMI-ANNUAL COUNTY MEETING

Orangemen Will Assemble at Lakefield To-night—Number of Local Lodges

The semi-annual meeting of the County Orange Lodge of Peterborough will be held to-night at Lakefield. A large representation of local Orangemen will assemble at the local hall and drive out to Lakefield to attend the meeting.

The other lodges in the county will also be represented.

"IT'S GREAT!"

This just about sums up the performance being given by Richards & Pringle's famous minstrels.

The managers of this noted company have gathered a company of singers, dancers, comedians, specialty artists from the very first ranks of minstrel talent.

The company numbers forty and the programme they are offering is a thoroughly minstrel one; the kind that made this style of entertainment popular in the days of Wambold, the Christys, Charlie White, Backus Emerson and a host of other idols popular in their day but since passed away.

The band, proudly claimed to be the best minstrel band in the world, numbers twenty solo musicians and will be heard upon the streets at noon, and in front of the theatre at 7.30 o'clock in the evening.

The date of their appearance at Peterborough is Saturday, June 20, matinee and night.

UNION MEN ATTENTION!

The Members of Peterboro, local, No. 191, American Federation of Musicians, desire to call the attention of all Union Men to the fact that it is distinctly contrary to the principles of Unionism to join in a parade headed by a non-union band and more especially when the engagement is secured by cutting prices. Our Scale of prices is most moderate and what is more important still, we fill our engagements with competent musicians, using the best instruments manufactured in the world.

Again we ask the hearty co-operation of all Union men in a Fight for fair prices for the men who can deliver the goods.

WEDDING BELLS

MAHONEY—YOUNG

A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning at seven o'clock in St. Martin's church, Ennismore, when Miss Margaret Young, daughter of Mr. Samuel Young, of Ennismore, was united in marriage to Mr. James Mahoney, also of Ennismore. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and the wedding march was played by Miss Agnes Scollard. The bride looked charming in a gown of white silk trimmed with valenciennes lace. She wore a white picture hat. The bridesmaid was Miss Lizzie Young, cousin of the bride, who was becomingly attired in a dress of white mull. She also wore a white hat. The groom was ably supported by Mr. Jack Clancy. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold ring.

After the ceremony congratulations were bestowed upon the happy young couple and a wedding breakfast was partaken of at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. J. Gorman.

Mr. and Mrs. Mahoney left on a honeymoon trip to Rochester, N.Y. Mrs. Mahoney travelled in a suit of navy blue with hat to match.

BILL TO REGULATE TELEGRAPH AND PHONES BEFORE HOUSE

Hon. Mr. Graham Says the Government Believes in Private Ownership—Time not Yet Come for Any Change—Good Argument for Their Nationalization.

Ottawa, June 17.—The House yesterday morning discussed the bill placing telegraphs and telephones under the jurisdiction of the Railway Commission, the Government for the time ignoring the election bill.

Haughton Lennox of South Simcoe place a mass of material before the House in support of an argument for the nationalization of telephones and telegraphs.

He recalled the telephone enquiry made by a House committee presided over by Sir William Mulock. Sir William, he said, had come to the conclusion that telephones should be nationalized, and a difference of opinion with his colleagues in this respect had caused him to leave the Government.

Mr. Graham suggested that Mr. Lennox should start an Ontario campaign for buying out the Bell Telephone Co. in that province. He pointed out that Canada's ownership of railways was not a bed of roses.

The Government had come to the decision that private ownership and Government control was the best method. Rates on railways, telephones and telegraphs depended on density of population. Canada could not have such rates as obtained in New York.

Government ownership might be practicable when our population was denser, but the time had not yet come.

Postmaster-General Lemieux talked improved postal service last night in moving the second reading of his bill to provide for a one-cent drop letter rate in cities and towns having free delivery.

Toronto, he said, led all cities in postal revenue, last year contributing $1,449,000. Montreal was second with $938,000 and Winnipeg third with $555,000.

He said rural offices were behind to the extent of $210,417.

Mr. Armstrong again pressed the claims of the rural sections for free delivery.

"How is the Minister going to spend his surplus?" he asked.

"By extending the service," replied Mr. Lemieux, who went on to say that there must be no discrimination in the matter of free rural mail delivery. If he gave this service to thickly-settled rural communities, he must to others, and the revenue would not stand it.

Mr. Henderson suggested a half-cent drop letter rate in rural districts, but Mr. Lemieux thought this reform could wait.

The bill was given its third reading.

Mr. Aylesworth's bill to restrain the use of tobacco by children under 16 years was yesterday amended by raising the age limit to 18, Mr. Miller (South Grey), suggesting the change.

Mr. Henderson thought there were many people of 25 or older who ought to be restrained in the use of cigarettes. He suggested 21 as the age limit. After several members on both sides had endorsed the amendment, Mr. Aylesworth said all the provinces except Manitoba and Quebec had restraining legislation, with the age limit varying from 15 to 18.

Mr. Blain spoke in favor of the prohibition of the importation and manufacturing of cigarettes and Dr. Sproule supported him. Mr. MacPherson protested against amendment.

The bill was held over for its third reading to enable Mr. Blain to move his prohibition amendment.

Senators Put Bills Through.

Ottawa, June 17.—Forty-five bills, passed by both Houses, were given royal assent by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Deputy Governor-General, in the Senate Chamber yesterday.

The Senators suspended rules to enable the supply bill of over $31,000,000 to be put through its several stages, but not before Senator Lougheed had protested against the railroading process. At the moment the Senate was asked to discuss its provisions the acting governor was at the door awaiting admission.

IS INDICTED FOR MURDER

Nurse Who Shot Dr. Auspitz Creates Scene in Court.

New York, June 17.—Sarah Koten, the nurse who shot and killed Dr. Martin W. Auspitz on June 7, has been indicted by the grand jury on a charge of murder in the first degree.

Miss Koten created a most distressing scene during her arraignment before Judge Mulqueen. She appeared to be entirely rational when she was brought into the court room, but when the clerk read the indictment charging her with the murder of Dr. Auspitz, she uttered a piercing shriek that could be heard on every floor of the building. Two court officers seized her and she fell to the floor and seemed shaken with an epileptic fit. When she became quiet again she was carried to the anteroom by four policemen.

Later in the day the coroner's jury returned a verdict to the effect that Dr. Auspitz came to his death by pistol wounds inflicted by Sarah Koten. In receiving the verdict Coroner Harthurger criticized the action of the district attorney in permitting the case to go to the grand jury before the coroner's jury had made its report.

WERE FETED BY THE PILGRIMS

London Society Banquet Delegates to Pan-Anglican Congress.

London, June 17.—The Pilgrims' Society of London gave a dinner at the Savoy Hotel to welcome the leading delegates attending the Pan-Anglican Conference. Some twenty American bishops, all the colonial archbishops and a number of missionary bishops received invitations.

Lord Curzon of Kedleston presided at the gathering and in proposing a toast to the King and the President of the United States, he spoke of them as the two rulers who had had more influence on the history of the world in the past seven years than any others.

The Premier, Herbert H. Asquith, in responding in a noteworthy speech, paid a high tribute to President Roosevelt and exhorted the church to use its influence for the unity of nations and for peace. He offered a toast to the visitors, and the Archbishop of Rupert's Land replied in behalf of the colonies and the Bishop of Massachusetts for the Americans. The bishops of Missouri and Saskatchewan also spoke eloquently for the guests.

Law Reform in Mexico.

Mexico City, June 17.—Congress adjourned yesterday, after one of the busiest sessions held in recent years.

The last act of Congress was to pass an amendment to the constitution raising the Amparo law. It prevents appeal to the higher courts in civil cases on flimsy technicalities.

Banker Pleads Not Guilty.

New York, June 17.—Charles W. Morse appeared in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the three indictments pending against him. Two of the indictments charge him with grand larceny and the third with perjury.

Village Said to Have Been Destroyed---Sweep of Flames.

Quebec, June 17.—Forest fires are reported to have devasted a large section of country in the Lake St. John region at present.

The scene of the fire is between Lake Cimon and Lake Quaqumaxis, west of the Quebec and Lake St. John Railway. All the houses in the village of Lake Cimon are stated to have been destroyed. A light breeze was directing the fire toward the mountains. It is supposed that the fire was started by imprudent fishermen, who failed to extinguish their camp fires.

At Dequem, about 60 miles further away, a whole side of a mountain was on fire, but a heavy fall of rain somewhat diminished the intensity of the fire.

Sought Peace In Death.

London, June 17.—A woman who registered as Mrs. Hiram Yake, of Thamesford, attempted to kill herself and two-year-old daughter in the C.P.R. Hotel Monday night. She arrived on the midnight train, and after taking a room took laudanum and turned on the gas.

She was not discovered until the next morning, and is at present in an unconscious condition, the physician being unable to say whether she will recover or not. The child has been revived.

It has been learned that the woman has been living with Yake for three years and they quarreled.

She stated in a letter found in the room that she had quarreled with him and was going to commit suicide.

Will Use Ross Rifles.

Niagara Camp, June 17.—It will come as a surprise to many officers and all the troops, to learn that the Ross rifle will be used exclusively for target practice at the ranges this year.

Four hundred of these arms were shipped into camp yesterday, and taken to the old Mississauga Fort, to be overhauled and put in shape for service to-day.

The field drilling will be performed with the old Lee-Enfield arms, but as the various sections are marched down to the butts, these rifles will be stacked and each man will be provided with a Ross gun.

The introduction of the new weapon is regarded rather dubiously by some of the officers commanding companies.

Long Term Prisoner Escapes.

Sarnia, June 17.—Neil Casey was sentenced Saturday to five years in Kingston penitentiary for assaulting an 11-year-old child. Casey was allowed to go into one of the jury rooms for a talk with relatives and made his escape.

Dynamited Coal Plant.

Butler, Pa., June 17.—The plant of the Royal Coal Mines at Argentine, near here, was destroyed by dynamite yesterday. The loss will exceed $20,000. For some time past labor troubles have been experienced at the mines.

Saw Floating Body.

Jordan, Ont., June 17.—Yesterday about noon a human body floated into Jordan harbor, south shore of Lake Ontario, but was again carried into the lake by the tide.

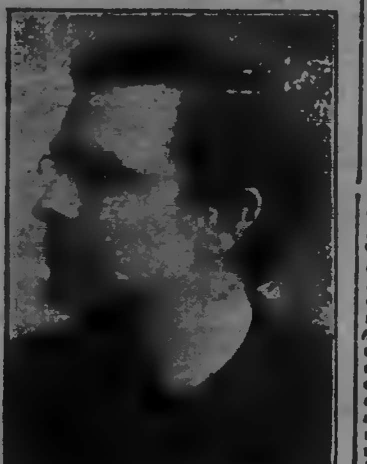
THE BIGGEST YET WAS CROWD AT THE ENNISMORE PICNIC

Over a Thousand People at Eighth Annual Outing at Tara Grove—A Great Success in Every Way—The Crowd Catered to in Excellent Style.

Bright Speeches from Several Prominent Citizens of Peterborough—Splendid Work of the Several Committees.

"It is probably the most successful picnic we have ever held," said Father Fitzpatrick yesterday, when speaking to the newspaper representatives of the Ennismore picnic, and as the annual event referred to is always a success, the one of yesterday may be termed a particularly successful success. Over 1,000 persons were on the grounds, and from eight o'clock in the morning until four in the afternoon there were people streaming in from all directions in buggies, on bicycles and on foot. Practically everybody in Ennismore was at the picnic, and it is the one day above all in the township's year. From outside points there were also large numbers in attendance, and those who were present all had a thoroughly enjoyable time and were indeed repaid for their visit. Everything in connection with the affair was conducted in a most satisfactory way, and Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and the various committees, as well as the large body of workers who had to do with the success of the picnic are deserving of the greatest commendation. The manner in which everything was conducted showed long and painstaking preparation and an intelligent carrying out of all arrangements.

It is noteworthy of the Ennismore picnic that the event is not a local one in any sense of the word, but an occasion marked by attendance from all over the county and even beyond the county limits also.



FATHER FITZPATRICK

The Founder of the Annual Ennismore Picnic and a Clergyman to Whom His Parish is Much Indebted.

During the eight years which the picnics at Ennismore have been held, this city has always had a big representation at the attractive grounds at which they are always held—Tara Park—and yesterday there was the largest number from here there ever has been. From other points there was also a correspondingly big number in attendance, and among other places from which those who patronized the picnic came, were Emily, Young's Point, Douro, Smith, more than ever coming from the latter place, and several were also present from Lindsay. In connection with the amusements, or forms of entertainment, it would be difficult to mention any one as being the most popular. The result of yesterday's picnic means a great deal to Ennismore, far more in fact, than would suggest itself without some knowledge of the affairs of the township. When Father Fitzpatrick made arrangements for the holding of the first Ennismore picnic eight years ago, he had in view the welfare of the parish and thought of having the picnics for the purpose of raising money for the betterment of general conditions. And what is the result? The picnics have proved a greater attraction and much more of a success than he or any of his parishioners had ever anticipated they would be, and from the returns of the one held yesterday the parish is entirely free from debt, and besides this, a splendid hall and a township high school, in which the pupils take up the courses of study in high schools or Collegiate Institutes, have been built in Ennismore.

The beloved parish priest was a happy man yesterday at the success of his idea towards the furtherance of which has been the whole-hearted support of his parishioners, and the excellent patronage of the outside public. It is the intention of Father Fitzpatrick not to hold any more picnics at Ennismore, and unless he changes his mind the one yesterday will mark the last of these enjoyable outings. The reason for his decision is because now that the parish is free from debt and the improvements before mentioned have been made, it will not be necessary to do so. In other words, the object for which the annual Ennismore picnic was conceived has been accomplished. The speakers yesterday and those in attendance as well expressed much regret at the prospect, and it was the unanimous wish that Ennismore's parish could be prevailed upon to again give that treat, which is so much appreciated by all who are fortunate enough to be in attendance—the Ennismore picnic.

On the grounds yesterday were the following clergy: — Father Fitzpatrick, Father McGuire, Downeyville; Father Kelly and Father Galvin, Peterborough, and several well known public men, including both R. R. Hall, M.P., and T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P. Late in the afternoon the speech-making commenced and the speakers confined themselves to addresses that were short and to the point. All the speeches were of an optimistic character. Congratulations were extended Rev. Father Fitzpatrick and the committee in charge, of which Mr. P. J. Flood was secretary, and Mr. John Gannon president, for the excellence of the picnic. They also referred to the good prospects for a bountiful harvest, and hoped that the present season would be a satisfactory one in every way for the community.

As usual dancing was a feature of the day and was indulged in until the evening. A great many dancers were on the platform for all the dances, and the musicians had plenty to do in furnishing the lively airs. Miss Agnes Scollard was organist and was assisted by Miss Gertrude Moloney and Miss Theresa Guiry. The violinists were Messrs. Walter O'Connor, Jas. Hillier, jr., Ed. Donoghue and Hickson Brothers. The floor managers were Messrs. John K. Galvin and Wm. Conway. The music provided was excellent.

If there is one thing the people of Ennismore can do better than another thing, that is providing a good, all-round meal. By an all-round meal is meant one that is substantial and tasty from beginning to end. The ladies in charge of the dining department yesterday made ample provision for the big crowd and it was generously patronized. It must have been a source of great revenue. In the evening the rush for supper was so great that those who didn't happen to be on hand early were unable to get anything to eat until they had waited for a considerable length of time.

The wants of those who gathered at the tables were looked after in a prompt and satisfactory way by the ladies in charge. There were three long tables and five booths in charge of 100 ladies from the parish 10 looking after each department. The gentlemen who were supervisors were Messrs. Timothy Crough and John O'Reilly.

Those who partook of the good things dished up certainly did justice to the fare. The weather was delightfully cool and the fresh air of the park provided a good creator of appetites.

Apropos of the festive board, a little incident that came under the notice of the Review's representative might be mentioned a young man man who had been eating a record meal.

"He's been eating there for about an hour now," remarked the young fellow across the table from him. "You're getting off easy for a quarter. If you ate as much at a Chinese restaurant as you've been eating here it would cost you about $6.50."

The programme of sports this year was an unusually large one and the events proved very interesting and attracted a large number of spectators. The jumping and weight putting events were held in Tara Park, while the running and walking contests were pulled off on the road. The latter, a new feature in athletics, produced some good steppers.

A full report of the sports will be published by about Thursday.

The sports committee was composed of Messrs. James Killen, Daniel Crough, Peter F. Flood and J. O'Donaghue.

Those who looked after the two refreshment booths on the grounds which did an excellent business during the day were Mr. P. J. Scollard in charge of one booth and Miss Lottie Scollard and Miss Katie O'Connor as assistants and the other booth was conducted by Mr. Jas. Galvin, in in charge and Miss Josie Brick and Miss Lizzie Killen. On the gates were Messrs. Pat Crough, John Mahoney, Steven O'Reilly and J. Young. On account of the big crowds the gatemen had a very busy day.

THE SPEECHES.

Rev. Father McGuire, of Downeyville who was chairman, while the speechmaking was going on, said that Father Fitzpatrick had chosen him as chairman and had deprived him of the opportunity of speaking at any length, which privilege had been accorded at former picnics at Ennismore. He then asked the following gentlemen to step up on the platform: Father Fitzpatrick, Father Kelly, Messrs. D. H. Hughes-Charles, R. R. Hall, M. P., T. E. Bradburn, M. P.P., G. A Gillespie, J. H. Burnham and J. R. Stratton.

The chairman said it was well understood that the Ennismore picnic was a Catholic affair and he was pleased to welcome such a large number of Protestants who stood by them (the Catholics) on so many important occasions of a similar character.

Mr. Hughes-Charles who was the first speaker, said he was there because he wanted to be. He complimented Father Fitzpatrick on the picnic and told two or three stories that immensely delighted the crowd.

Father Galvin was next called upon but was not in the vicinity, however, and Mr. Hall, M. P., was requested to speak. Like all the other speakers, he complimented Father Fitzpatrick and his assistants on the great success of the picnic.

Those who were present to enjoy themselves did not, perhaps realize what work and self sacrifice were entailed in getting up such a big affair. Mr. Hall told of the great prospects for a bountiful harvest. He thanked Father Fitzpatrick for the honor he had conferred on him in allowing him to speak.

Mr. Bradburn, in a short and well expressed speech extended his congratulations and expressed his extreme pleasure in being permitted to address those assembled.

Ald. Phelan expressed much pleasure in being present and congratulated Father Fitzpatrick and the committee.

Mr. Gillespie stated that he was pleased to be on the platform with Mr. Bradburn and the other gentlemen who were there. He was glad of the privilege of addressing the people of Ennismore.

Mr. Burnham was most happy to speak before such a magnificent gathering and was delighted to see all the youth and beauty and energy of Ennismore. He hoped the present picnic would not be the last one and would like to see Father Fitzpatrick's parishioners induce him to hold many more.

Hon. Mr. Stratton was the last speaker. He had much pleasure in being present. He had been at Ennismore picnics for the past twenty years. Mr. Stratton spoke at some length and was listened to with much attention.

In a few most appropriate and witty remarks Father McGuire introduced Father Fitzpatrick.

The latter said the receipts of the last seven picnics had totalled over $8,000 and after the present one the parish of Ennismore would be free of debt and wouldn't owe a dollar to anyone. There was now an excellent high school in Ennismore with a class of 36 pupils. He thanked those on the platform for their presence and expressed his gratitude to the neighbournig parishes for the support they had always given the picnics at Ennismore. As everything was free from debt he would not hold any more picnics unless he changed his mind.

In conclusion, he thanked everybody most sincerely.

At the end of Father Fitzpatrick's address, three cheers were given for the chairman, Father Fitzpatrick and the King.

LONE TRAGEDY AT MONTREAL

Parting From Her Sweetheart too Much for Young Girl.

Montreal, June 17.—Hard luck and parting from her lover, who was leaving town in search of work, drove Jennie Stone last Monday night to make an attempt on her life.

Judson O'Connell and his sweetheart had just said good-bye on Beaver Hall Hill when he head cries which drew him back. He found the young woman, who is but 19, had swallowed the contents of a bottle of deadly poison.

The girl was removed to the General Hospital where she will recover.

The girl had been told to pay her board bill or leave the house where she lived, and as she had been out of work the thought that her best friend was going away too, proved too much.

O'Connell had but 65 cents after buying his ticket, and the girl refused to take it.

Shooting Tragedy.

New York, June 17.—Christiance Meinbamyer, aged 60 years, was shot and instantly killed in her room in West 144th street yesterday. Her daughter, Mrs. Hanna Blankmyer, aged 35, was fatally wounded. The police are looking for John Blankmyer, husband of the younger woman, who is alleged to have done the shooting.

THEY WOULD APPLY THE GAG LIBERALS HELD A CAUCUS

Ministerial Programme of Legislation to be Carried Through—Proposal to Introduce the Closure in the House of Commons.

Ottawa, June 17.—The Liberal Senators and members were given an opportunity in the party caucus yesterday morning of expressing their views in regard to matters before Parliament. The caucus was presided over by Peter Mackenzie, of South Bruce, and was followed by an announcement that the Ministerial program of legislation be carried out.

There is intense resentment in the Liberal ranks arising out of the delays of the present session, and this sentiment has already found voice in the demand for the reform of the Parliamentary rules and the introduction of a system of closure as the only effective check to obstructive tactics. The Government following in the House of Commons proclaim themselves ready to face their constituencies whenever the time for dissolution comes and is in no wise dismayed by the results of the recent provincial elections.

Yesterday's caucus brought no announcement in regard to the contentious election bill, but the work of revising the provincial lists of Manitoba is now under way and Liberals claim to be in receipt of numerous complaints as to the way in which it is being done.

THE PROFITS WERE $50,000 ANOTHER "GOOD THING" FOUND

What Fog Signals Cost the Country—Remarkable Evidence of Business Methods—Government Pays High Prices—Patronage List Kept.

Ottawa, June 17.—That there are fortunes in fogs was indicated yesterday in the Cassels' inquiry when J. P. Northey of the Canada Fog Signal Co. was called to the stand.

Mr. Northey said he had calculated that the profit on Government business was 29 per cent. Judge Cassels declared that the books showed a "bonus," which he would style a "dividend" of 150 per cent. on capital stock. It seemed that Mr. Northey had acquired the patent, paying no cash, but giving a royalty. Mr. Northey was asked how much he had made from the company in the past year and a half.

"It might be $50,000," he said, but did not know whether it could be $75,000, though both Judge Cassels and Mr. Watson thought it odd that he should not be able to recollect his profits within $25,000. Asked how much, had he drawn in the last five years, he said it might be $150,000. Examination of the books showed that from Oct. 3 to Sept. 7 Mr. Northey drew out about $50,000 and Mr. Watson figured that he was getting $60,000 a year; that he had not invested a penny; and had put in only a patent and his time.

The orders given by the Marine Department since 1903, Mr. Northey said, amounted to [illegible].

On the diaphones there was a very heavy profit, but Mr. Northey insisted that the cost of the plant should be considered, and that they had occasionally supplied the plant at a loss. The seven-inch instrument supplied to Cape Race cost $800 for the total installation. The firm obtained $13,500, but taking everything into consideration the cost to his firm was $10,000. About 40 three-inch diaphones have been supplied at a price of $4,600, and the cost of each, including royalty, was $600.

The company had not spent one dollar as a bribe or commission or present to any Government official, the witness asserted.

Cecil Doutre, superintendent of wireless stations, testified that since May 19 he had been purchasing agent of the Department. This was a newly created office and it was intended to buy through him all the supplies required by the Department throughout the Dominion.

"Are you using a patronage list," was asked and Mr. Doutre said he was, partially. If he found the list large enough to supply all that was required he bought from them. If not, he went outside. There were Conservatives on this patronage list, and he did not discriminate. The Government generally bought the best class of goods possible and paid for what it got.

He did not regard prices, generally speaking, as excessive. Cash and trade discounts had been allowed the Department for payment of accounts within 30 days. During the time he had been in the Department he knew of no irregularities, except advances made on account of payments. Sometimes the Department brought goods from parties and made partial payments before delivery.

Commander Spain, wreck and pilotage commissioner said when he had command of Dominion steamers the annual expenditure was about $600,000 a year. His relations with the Deputy Minister had always been good. He knew of no friction anywhere in the Department. He traveled a great deal in Canada. His personal expenditure had been once challenged by the Auditor-General. He was allowed $6 a day by order-in-council.

He had charged $8 and $10, and that was what was challenged. He did not think money was spent recklessly in the Department.

WAS JEROME DICE THROWING?

District Attorney Replies to Charge of Violating Gambling Laws.

New York, June 17.—District Attorney Jerome's answers to the three additional specifications in the charges filed against him by a committee headed by Wm. F. King were sent to Governor Hughes at Albany yesterday. The specifications charge Mr. Jerome threw dice "For a dollar a throw and the drinks," during the closing hours of the first Thaw trial; that he advised E. R. Thomas, while under indictment in the banking cases to get another lawyer in place of the one who was representing him; and that he offered immunity to William R. Montgomery, a banker, under certain considerations.

Replying to the charge that he threw dice in a public restaurant, Mr. Jerome alleges that conditions were such at the time that it was apparently as private a place as one's own club and that he does not understand it to be a part of official duties of the district attorney to do police or detective work.

His general answer is that such action is no crime under the laws of the state, so far as the throwing of dice is concerned, and that there is no neglect of duties in failing to arrest the proprietor of the restaurant.

Heir to $1,000,000 Estate.

Windsor, June 17.—From privations of poverty to luxuries in affluence is rapid transition in future of Joseph Hutchinson, who has just been released from the House of Refuge at Leamington.

He is an Englishman about 65 years of age and for a time made his home, such as it was, in Kent County. He drifted to South Essex some time ago, became a public charge, and at last found refuge in the county house. By the death of an uncle in the old country he has fallen heir to an estate in the City of Manchester, valued at a million at a conservative estimate. Hutchinson left as soon as he received the glad tidings, and will henceforth live among the plutocracy.

Burglars entered the public library Monday night, but found only 50 cents in the cash drawer.

PLEA FOR PURITY IN PUBLIC LIFE

Profligates Must Not Hold Public Office, Says Methodist Conference.

Toronto, June 17.—"We believe that an impure, ungodly man, however brilliant, can never perform the work of God. One has said 'The Almighty will have no driftwood for His altar and no driftmen for His servants, and we must declare with voice of thunder that evil men in high places have no chartered right to be left alone. We must sound it forth that public office is a public trust, and it should never be committed to a profligate. We must tell politicians that we will not permit them to build another Pompeii on Canadian soil."

In these words, Rev. John Pickering of Centennial Methodist Church denounced corrupt politicians of all ranks in the annual pastorial address presented to the Toronto Methodist Conference yesterday morning, and the address is to be read in the churches on Sunday.

Contractors Indicted.

Boston, June 17.—The evidence in the so-called "Boston agreement case" was considered insufficient to warrant an indictment, according to a statement yesterday.

The agreement case involved six leading structural steel and iron firms of this city, who, it is alleged, had combined to secure contracts from the city of Boston.

Seven officials connected with the six firms referred to have been arrested and are waiting a hearing in the municipal court Saturday.

Guinness Remains to Be Buried.

Laporte, Ind., June 17.—Coroner Mack yesterday ordered the bodies of Mrs. Belle Guinness and four children, who lost their lives in the destruction of the Guinness house on April 28, turned over the public executor, who has arranged for their shipment to Chicago for burial Thursday, in accordance with a request made by Mrs. Guinness in her will.

THE MORNING AFTER

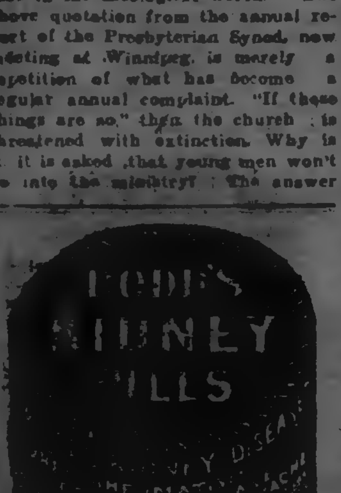
"It is worth while facing the political situation in Ontario squarely and with open eyes. The defeat in the Provincial Elections last week was a call for self-criticism to the Liberals. It was not an accident. It had its efficient causes. Some of these causes were within and some without the range and control of the Liberal party. But so extensive was the defeat of the Liberals, while they may smile at the foolish arrogance of their opponents, would do well to openly and fearlessly take stock of themselves and their party, and so to turn seeming defeat into a new beginning and an assurance of ultimate triumph.

"There are observant and wise friends of the Liberal party who say quite frankly that Liberalism in Ontario is still suffering from a too long lease of power which closed in a lowering of the political ideals and a weakening of the moral fibre. If that be true no defeat can be a disaster if it sends the party back and its leaders with it, to renew their vision and to pledge again their honest and uncompromised allegiance to the simple and eternal principles and ideals which in the days of its greatness made Liberalism a power in the land. The few who stand to profit will fight for mere power and place, but the rank and file of the people, in whom is the life of Liberalism, will not fight long or against great odds except for a principle they cherish and for a cause they believe to be right. —The Globe."

This quotation from the Globe's leader of the 15th inst., displays the first glimpse of consciousness on the part of that journal since it received the knock-out. The remainder of the article charges the Whitney Government with the combined support of the liquor men and it also revives some of the absurdities of the campaign, for like some of its confreres, the Globe dies in agony. But the point we wish to make is that what the Globe herein says is true, painfully true. It is also true of Ottawa. Now then, if what the Globe says is true, how could it have wished such an unclean crew back again in office? The great Liberal journal is not quite consistent. Had it taken stock of the Liberal party before as it did on one occasion in its famous article on "Barnacles," it might have done some good, but under the circumstances what else but a Waterloo could have been expected? The confession is interesting. It simply means that the Liberal party in Ontario was beaten, but not "by accident." It was beaten because it richly deserved it. Surely this is worth preserving as an acknowledgment of guilt. The public is not composed of fools, and the Globe knows it.

A STRANGE CASE

"The horrible menace of all weak fields—a vacancy in the pastorate." seems to furnish the pith of a strange case in the theological world. The above quotation from the annual report of the Presbyterian Synod, now meeting at Winnipeg, is merely a repetition of what has become a regular annual complaint. "If these things are so," then the church is threatened with extinction. Why is it, it is asked, that young men won't go into the ministry? The answer is plain. The salaries are too low. Unless manna is to fall from Heaven no set of men can live in these expensive days on starvation wages. Contributions are part of the process of worship and a very valuable part, too. From the appeals in this respect made by the clergy it is evident that congregations must rise to the occasion in a more practical way than heretofore. At the same time there are many leaks of a cognate character which are gradually bleeding the churches to death. This must not be forgotten. Taken all in all, it is not in the falling away of contributions that the trouble has arisen, but in a lack of loyalty to the churches.



COMPETITORS OF THE ONTARIO FARMER

One of the most important essentials to the intelligent prosecution of farm operations is a reasonably accurate knowledge of what is being done in other countries with which we have been brought into competition by modern development in transportation. The cost of carriage, especially by water, has been so reduced that London is nearer Ontario to-day than Montreal was within the memory of men still living. So far has this reduction gone that in some cases butter, which had been shipped from Montreal to London, has been brought back for sale in Montreal, a comparatively slight increase in price in the latter city having rendered it possible to pay freight both ways and still make a profit. Not only has the cost of transportation been reduced, but the efficiency of the service has been increased to a marvellous extent. During the last few months creamery packages have been sent in cold storage apartments all the way from Australia, across the equator, to London, and has sold in the British market at a price actually above that realized on Danish. As a result of this reduction in freight rates and improvement in cold storage equipment it has been made possible again for Argentine to develop a dressed meat industry by means of which she supplies well on to half the beef imported for consumption in Great Britain.

The competitors of the Ontario farmer are not found so much in the next county as in the Canadian West. * * * Farmer's Sun.

This is what the G.P. is doing for the Ontario Farmer. It is opening up rivals, and at the Ontario farmer's own expense, too! The G. T.P. is the most extensive and expensive fake yet perpetrated on a confiding public.

Since 1906 there has not been a single death from yellow fever on the Panama Canal. The work is at last being done with skill and success. When the canal is opened the freight rates between Pacific and Atlantic ports will fall one-half. It has been a great struggle but the opposition of the railways has been overcome at last.

The juice of a raw onion is the antidote to the sting of a bee or wasp. When stung remove the sting if it be left behind and then lay a slice of raw onion on the place. The smarting will cease at once. It is also said to be very good for the mosquito bite to watch the mosquito coming and just as he settles, to bring the hand down sharply on his back. For the bite of a dog have the teeth removed as quickly as possible from the wound. Then apply Dr. Nuvall's cure No. 147.

Picnics as a rule are—no picnics. But the Ennismore picnic was "really and truly" above criticism. Whether it is the township high school, so ably conducted by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick, and of which the Government inspectors speak so highly, or the general spread of "sweetness and light," at any rate Ennismore is an ideal township with as many pretty girls as can well be suffered to remain there. Yesterday it suffered, however, from a plethora of politicians and bankers, some of whom discoursed upon the appearance of the crops, when as a matter of fact they don't know turnips from fall wheat.

LANDED FOUR 'LUNGE YESTERDAY

Ashburnham Had Great Success on the Opening Day

The opening day of the fishing was at least lucky for one person. Miss S. Calcutt, Robinson street, Ashburnham, while out trawling on the Otonabee River succeeded in landing four nice 'lunge. The fishing in the Otonabee this year promises to be excellent. Miss Calcutt was very much elated over her exceedingly good luck.

LONDON, June 16.—London cables for cattle are steady at 13c to 16½c per pound, dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 10½c to 10¾c per pound.

Toronto Live Stock.

TORONTO, June 16.—Receipts of live stock at the city market as reported by the railways, were 106 carloads, composed of 1514 cattle, 2236 hogs, 879 sheep, 679 calves and one horse.

Exporters.

Export steers are worth from $6 to $6.40; export bulls, $4.75 to $5.25.

Butchers.

Prime picked butchers sold at $5.85 to $6; loads of good, $5.60 to $5.80; medium, $5.15 to $5.50; common, $4.75 to $5.10; cows, $3 to $4.75; canners, $1.50 to $2.50 per cwt.

Feeders and Stockers.

About 2 loads of stockers all told were on sale and these weighed from 500 to 700 and were bought by Messrs. H. and W. Murby at $3.30 to $3.75 per cwt. Mr. Murby reports a moderate demand for both stockers and feeders.

Milkers and Springers.

There was a fair trade in milkers and springers, but no extraordinary prices were reported. Quotations for cows ranged from $30 to $55 each.

Veal Calves.

There was a heavy delivery of veal calves, and prices ranged from $3 to $5.50 per cwt. for the bulk, with a few extra choice at $6 per cwt.

Sheep and Lambs.

Receipts of sheep and lambs are becoming larger each market, as the season advances. Sheep, $4.25 to $4.50 for ewes; rams, $3.50 to $4; spring lambs, $3.50 to $6.50 each.

Hogs.

Mr. Harris quoted selects at $6.15 per cwt., and lights at $5.90 per cwt.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

EAST BUFFALO, N.Y., June 16.—Cattle—Receipts 150 head; fairly active and steady; prime steers, $7.25 to $7.75.

Veals—Receipts 125 head; active and steady.

Hogs—Receipts 3100 head; active and 5c to 10c higher; heavy and mixed, $5.90 to $6; yorkers, $5.25 to $5.95; roughs, $4.50 to $4.75.

New York Live Stock.

NEW YORK, June 16.—Beeves—Receipts 942. No trading. Feeling steady. Dressed beef steady at 10c to 11½c per pound; for ordinary to prime native sides. Exports to-morrow 2762 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts 561. Feeling steady. Ordinary to good calves, $4 to $7.50; common buttermilks, $5; dressed veals, steady, at 10c to 12½c; country dressed, 10c to 11c. Sheep and lambs—Receipts 5723. Sheep steady; lambs 25c lower. Sheep sold at $3 to $5; lambs, $5.25 to $7.25; a few yearlings, $4.25.

Hogs—Receipts 2288. Feeling steady.

Chicago Live Stock.

CHICAGO, June 16.—Cattle—Receipts 4000; market steady; steers, $5 to $8.40; cows, $4 to $6; heifers, $4 to $6.25; bulls, $3.75 to $5.00; calves, $3.00 to $5.75; stockers and feeders, $3.25 to $5.60.

Hogs—Receipts, about 28,000, market 5c to 10c lower; choice heavy shipping, $5.75 to $5.82½; butchers, $5.70 to $5.80; light mixed, $5.50 to $5.65; choice light, $5.65 to $5.75; packing, $4.75 to $5.65; pigs, $4 to $5.30; bulk of sales, $5.60 to $5.75.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, about 15,000, market generally 10c lower, sheep, $4.25 to $5.50; lambs, $5 to $6.50; yearlings, $5.50 to $6.

Frost in the West.

Winnipeg, June 16.—Low temperatures were prevalent throughout Manitoba and Saskatchewan Saturday, and Sunday night when in the former the mercury dipped just below freezing in Winnipeg, and tender garden stuffs were touched, four degrees of frost were reported at Carman and two at Cypress River.

No damage, however, was done to grain crops.

Struck, But Still Lives.

Malone, N.Y., June 16.—Ernest C. Gleason, a well-to-do farmer, who lives just outside of this town, with his two daughters, was sitting on the verandah during an electrical storm when a bolt of lightning crashed into the group. All three were thrown to the floor by the shock, but with the exception of Gleason none was seriously hurt.

CREAMERY NEWS.

Novel Work at the Kansas Experiment Station.

By Professor OSCAR ERF.

Investigations were carried on to construct a floor for a creamery that will be sanitary and at the same time will be comfortable and healthful to the operators. Up to the present time this has been a serious problem. Cement has been the best material to be used for creamery and cheese factory floors, but they have always been cold and unhealthful to the operator. We have therefore devised a floor by which the heating is done through the cement, warming the cement and making it comfortable for the operator, at the same time raising the temperature in the room. This has been one of the most successful experiments of the past year, and the plan has proved to be very successful.

In connection with this we have made also some tests in regard to cement partitions as they should be used in creameries. We have experimented on making sinks for creameries and cheese factories out of cement. The results of these experiments will be observed later.

Insulator For Refrigerators.

The question of securing an insulator for creamery refrigerators has been taken up, and some good results have been obtained. The first experiment in this line was to use baled straw as the insulating material, cementing the bale with Portland cement on both sides. This has proved to be a very successful way of insulating icehouses and refrigerators. Cement was also used in connection with asbestus fiber and sawdust, which proved to be successful for creamery floors by mixing cement with asbestus fiber and sawdust.

No More Lost Buttermilk.

A line of investigation with reference to recovering the buttermilk that has been lost in the large creamery was undertaken, and some very valuable results have been obtained. Buttermilk to the extent of several million dollars has been dumped into the streams of the state of Kansas every year. By drying this buttermilk and turning it into a food product the feeding value of the buttermilk can be fully recovered. Feeding experiments were begun along poultry lines and later with cows. In both cases the casein has proved to be a very profitable feed. It has been estimated that it is worth approximately 7 cents per pound as feed for chickens and about 5 cents per pound as feed for cows. This casein can be produced for the creameryman as well as the feeder, and by this means buttermilk is recovered and not lost, as is now the case.

Points on Machine Milking.

We have just completed the experiments between hand milking and machine milking, which showed an increase of 6 per cent in the maintenance flow of the machine milking.

The question as to stripping the cow after machine or allowing the machine to do all the milking is another experiment which was started, but no definite results have been obtained. The results so far indicate that cows stripped after the milking by machine do not give as good results as where milking is done entirely by the machine.

CATTLE AND SHEEP.

The recently published regulations in regard to Texas cattle fever place the states of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and parts of California, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Arkansas, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina and Virginia under quarantine. Between Feb. 1 and Oct. 31 cattle may be moved from the quarantined area when shipped by rail to market centers for immediate slaughter. Some special rules are provided for other movements of tick free cattle.

Colorado Loss on Lambs.

Senator W. A. Drake of Colorado says: "The prices we are getting for our lambs are losing us all kinds of money. The trouble is the first cost of the stock was too much.

"There will be a big thinning of the ranks of amateur feeders next season owing to the severe monetary losses incurred this season, but the men who make lamb feeding their regular business will be in the game again. They are like the losing poker player in that they will get in again in the hope of retrieving their losses."—Live Stock Report.

Light Feeding Costly.

H. J. Waters of Missouri says that gains made with light winter feeding are relatively costly. The cattle hardly more than keep their weight at best, and therefore practically all the feed consumed was wasted, considered from the standpoint of gains made. As the ration was increased in amount so that the rate of gain increased the cost of gains diminished uniformly. This seems to be true up to the full limit of the appetite of the animal or to the point where the animal is on full feed or approximately on full feed. That is, other things being equal and considering only the cost per pound of gain, the cheapest gains are uniformly made when the animal is on full feed, or approximately so.

Not to Carry Fat to Grass.

It is the opinion of a western cattleman that when cattle are to be grazed during the summer "it is important that they be wintered lightly or in such a way as not to carry to grass any considerable amount of fat."

Him Is It.

A shearer named F. Him broke the machine record at Beardsly, Ariz., last week by clipping 285 sheep in nine hours, and the plant sheared 6,572 sheep in the same time.—Field and Farm.

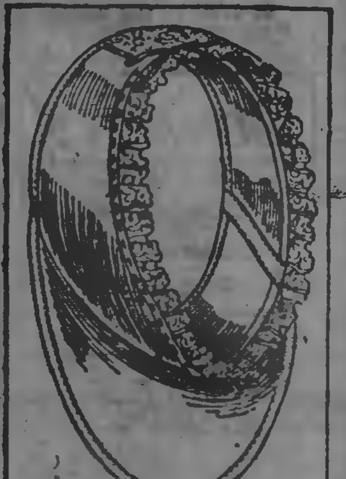
SLEEVE PROTECTOR.

A Clever Little Invention For Sheer Lingerie Blouses.

Just how to wear a thin blouse and keep it fresh and dainty looking in the hot days of midsummer is often a difficult problem. This is especially true if a woman perspires freely, for it is rather hard to adjust a shield in a thin blouse without its showing. A shield is absolutely essential to many women, however, though nothing is uglier than a broad expanse of this protection showing through both bodice and sleeve. A clever little invention makes it possible to solve this problem. A regular shield is used as a foundation.



TO HIDE DRESS SHIELD.

The underside of the shield is to be tucked inside of the corset cover, and the upper half is covered with lawn cut in the shape of a sort of cuff which reaches to the top of the shoulder. This is trimmed with lace and caught at the shoulder with a bow of ribbon, so that even if it shows through the blouse it would never suggest a shield. The stroke of genius in the device is in the whalebones that run from the arm hole to the outer edge, without which the whole thing would prove useless, wrinkling up in a few moments. But by this means it is held firm and smooth and does its work admirably.

FOR THE AUTO TRIP.

Lunch Baskets With Complete Service For a Picnic Meal.

No need for being inconvenienced either by hunger or thirst when on an auto trip these days if the latest luncheon or tea basket is taken along. There have been fitted baskets for auto picnics on the market heretofore, but anything like the compactness, the completeness and the attractiveness of some recent importations it would be difficult to match.

The old style basket was generally of wicker. The later arrivals are of leather, though wicker is not entirely superseded, and the equipment is designed for parties of two, four or six. The prices are remarkably reasonable, ranging from about $8 to a little less than $50, the cost, of course, being regulated by the number of persons provided for and the quality of the fitting of the basket.

The plates, cups and saucers are of white enameled ware, with a gilt rim, giving a delightful suggestion of fine china, with the assurance of practical indestructibility. The necessary tableware is most conveniently disposed, the knives slipping into metal catches that hold them securely and the list being complete even to a carving set and salt spoons for the luncheon baskets. Some of the metal carriers for the sandwiches, salad, game, or whatever composes the menu, are arranged in double tiers, but all are roomy and positively dustproof.

There are separate holders for butter, salt, pepper, and the liquids that are carried with luncheon, while the tea baskets are complete even to the tea caddy. An alcohol lamp and kettle are a feature of the tea baskets, and there are separate carriers for cream in addition to the food carrier and the complement of china and spoons. Picnicking with the aid of these new conveniences is certain to prove a joy for the autoist.

Pompadour Lore.

For the square face the pompadour must be made to follow the outlines of the face.

Round faces should be surrounded by a moderate sized pompadour.

The woman with broad cheek bones and a rather tapering chin will get the best effect by a rather low flaring pompadour surmounted by a broad, low chignon.

The long, thin oval face is most becomingly framed by the same flaring pompadour as in the above without the chignon.

Unless the forehead is very high the line made by the hair around the brow generally forms the prettiest outline for the pompadour.

All exaggerations of the pompadour are bound to make a woman look common.

Potatoes With Mint.

Quite the most delicious way of cooking new potatoes is to place them in boiling water with two or three sprigs of fresh mint. When the potatoes have been cooked and drained, a little melted butter should be poured over them. The mint adds a most delicate but not at all an obtrusive flavor. Instead of trying to peel new potatoes the English cook removes the skins by rubbing them very hard with an extremely stiff brush. This leaves them both white and smooth and obviates the necessity of peeling them after cooking.

Tainted Diamonds.

The lapidary was about to cut the tail off a tadpole shaped yellow diamond.

"The chances are," he said, "that this fellow will turn white from terror when I split him. If he does his value will go up 300 per cent."

The lapidary set his steel knife in position. He prepared to strike on the knife's back the momentous blow.

"Wish me luck," he said.

And the hammer fell, the amputated tail dropped into the box underneath, and, lo, the yellow diamond that had been split was now quite white.

"The yellow taint," the cutter explained, "was only in the tail. Yet the taint was reflected all through the stone, and this made it seem of a uniform yellow throughout. Now the taint is gone, and our yellow diamond is a pure white one.

"The miracle happens fairly often." —Philadelphia Bulletin.

Animals at Play.

Cats delight in racing about, but not so often, I think, in circles, as dogs do. They prefer straight lines and sharp turns with the genuine goat jump. This sudden flight into the air, which appears to take place without the animal's knowledge or intention, cannot here be preparatory to life in the mountains, but the cat finds the high jump very useful, not only in pouncing on its prey, but in escaping its hereditary enemy. Brehm records a movement play of young chamois. When in summer the young chamois climb up to the perpetual snow they delight to play on it. They throw themselves in a crouching position on the upper end of a steep snow covered incline, work all four legs with a swimming motion to get a start and then slide down on the surface of the snow, often traversing a distance of from 100 to 150 meters in this way, while the snow flies up and covers them with a fine powder. Arrived at the bottom, they spring to their feet and slowly clamber up again the distance they have slid down. —"The Play of Animals," by Karl Groos.

The Ananias Story.

Go to church and hear the pastor, in his pulpit large and wide, tell about the dread disaster that o'erwhelmed the man who lied. It was Colonel Ananias, who in days long dead and gone, shocked his neighbors (who were pious) when he put the truth in pawn. Ah, he took the truth and hauled it through the cinders and the slack, and he slugged it, and he mauled it, and he split it up the back; so some bears came up and ate him, at the prophet's stern command, and the generations hate him as they march adown the land. He was cast into a furnace that was full of coal and wood, and he muttered, "This will learn us" (for his grammar wasn't good.) In the Red sea's depths he wallowed, with his chariots and men, till a whale came up and swallowed him, and he felt seedy then. Let us therefore shun the fable and the foolish, futile lie; do the best that we are able, camp in heaven by and by.—Emporia Gazette.

The Glory of New York.

What other city is there of like size which matches New York in position? It is a seaside city; the salt water laves its feet. As the traveler approaches it he thinks of Venice rising from the sea or is perhaps reminded of ancient Tyre, which "stood out in the sea as a hand from a wrist" and of which the houses were impressively tall. "Impressive" is not too indulgent a word for the skyscrapers of New York—clean faced, simple, original and audacious, they are characteristic of the land and of the people. They are not ugly concessions to utility, but a rather grand adaptation of architecture to circumstances. The ancients, harassed with dread of piracy, would not have dared to build a city like New York on the edge of a great harbor open to the sea. It is something which the modern world alone could have given us.—London Spectator.

Work of a Burmese Bud.

Instead of a coming out party as we know it, the Burmese girl's entrance into society begins when she has her ears pierced. As soon after this as she feels inclined she selects a husband and goes to live in a home of her own. The home is provided by the man, but it becomes his wife's as soon as they are married. All women, young and old, are addicted to the use of tobacco. The women seem to prefer the very large size black cigar. Often one meets a woman on the streets of a village with one of these huge cigars in her mouth and two or three more stuck in the holes of each ear.

Deceitful.

"Men are queer animals," said the pessimist. "They are all more or less deceitful."

"Oh, I don't believe that!" replied the optimist. "I think there are plenty of people who strive to be honest. I know I do, and I don't give myself credit for being any better than the majority of men."

"Then why do you ask me how my health is every time we meet and stand around and look bored if I tell you?"

Not Very Flattering.

When the artist had finished his scenic sketch of the stretch of woods skirting the suburban road, he looked up and beheld a serious faced Irishman whom he had previously noticed digging in a trench by the roadside gazing queerly at his canvas.

"Well," said the artist familiarly, "do you suppose you could make a picture like that?"

The Irishman mopped his forehead a moment and, with a deep sigh, answered, "Sure; a man c'n do annything if he's driv to ut!"—Argonaut.

Some Good Anagrams.

The following is a list of very remarkable anagrams:

Astronomers, no more stars; catalogues, got as a clew; elegant, neat leg; impatient, Tim is a pet; matrimony, into my arm; melodrama, made moral; midshipman, mind his map; old England, golden land; parishioners, I hire parsons; parliament, partial men; penitentiary, nay, I repent it; Presbyterian, best in prayer; revolution, to love ruin; sweetheart, there we eat; telegraphs, great helps.

An Impediment to Plain Speaking.

"Down in Pike county," said an Arkansas statesman, "we had a trial I attended once where a man named Joinson was on the stand. Joinson was for the defense, and the way he was setting things straight was a caution.

"'Here,' said the attorney for the prosecution when he took Joinson in hand, 'I want you to stop prevaricating. Don't you know you are under oath?'

"'Stop what?' asked the witness.

"'Stop prevaricating.'

"The witness drew himself up with great dignity. 'Well,' he said, 'I'd like to know how a man can help prevaricatin' when he's lost two front teeth.'"

YOUNG LAMBS.

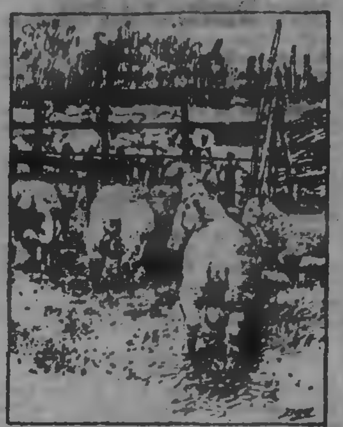
Of Fleeting Memory and Creatures of Opportunity.

Concerning the comfortable quarters that are so necessary for the wee lambs Joseph E. Wing has advised as follows in his book on sheep farming in America:

There must be provided a small room or pen in which the lambs can go and the ewes cannot. This place must be of very convenient access, so that it is really easier for the lamb to go in than to remain outside. This is because lambs have fleeting memories and are largely the creatures of opportunity. They will consume much more feed when it is right at their mouths than if they have to go even a few rods to seek it. This place, which we call a "creep," must be in a light part of the barn, and if the sun can shine in all the better, for lambs are attracted by sunlight and greatly benefited by it.

This creep need not be very large. If it is twelve feet square it will accommodate fifty lambs very nicely, as they will not all be in it at one time. It should be separated from the ewes' part of the barn by a fence of vertical slats spaced about seven inches apart, the slats with rounded edges. This will permit the lambs to pass in and restrain the ewes. After a time the lambs will need some wider openings, and then if small rollers are put up to permit them to squeeze between all the better.

In the creep there must be some flat bottomed troughs in which to feed grain and a hayrack for alfalfa hay or clover if it is the best at hand. The troughs must be low to permit young lambs readily to reach them. As lambs delight to get into troughs with their feet, the troughs must be covered. Let the end of the trough be a solid board extending up twelve inches above the sides of the trough, pointed at the end like the gable of a house roof, and put upon this two boards like an inverted V.



AN ENGLISH LAMB CREEP.

CHEAP FEEDING.

A Practical Kansas Farmer Tells How He Does It.

At one of the meetings during the last "farmers' week" at the Kansas State Agricultural college Dr. J. T. Axtell made a talk of special interest in regard to different ways of feeding alfalfa.

Alfalfa, according to Dr. Axtell, contains from eleven to sixteen and one-half parts protein and forty parts carbohydrates, while corn ranges about one-half that amount of protein and one-third that amount of carbohydrates.

You will see there, he says, that it requires considerably more corn to afford an animal the same amount of protein that he would get from a given quantity of alfalfa meal. Now, we have found that an animal (horse or cow) needs about two and one-half pounds of protein and twelve and one-half pounds of carbohydrates per day.

Alfalfa is wasted feeding as hay, and the meal is too rich as a single feed, so we mix pound for pound of alfalfa meal and ground corn, and in a twenty-five pound feed we have the required amount of both protein and carbohydrates.

When we were feeding alfalfa as hay we found that the average amount eaten by each horse per day was from sixty to eighty pounds. They are now allowed fifteen pounds of alfalfa meal per day and are doing as well on the heavy hay feed.

For Cows and Swine.

A cow giving a good flow of milk gets an average feed of about six or seven and one-half pounds of alfalfa meal and one-half to three-fourths gallons of ground corn, while our driving horses get a ration mixed with three pounds of alfalfa meal and two pounds of ground corn three times per day, with one feed a day of about five pounds of prairie hay.

Our ration for swine is mixed with a bit more of corn in the proportion than in the ration for horse or cow. I don't believe any of you have stock doing better than mine, and I know you are not feeding as cheaply as I am.

Cement Milk Tank.

A cement milk tank is the latest use to which cement has been put. It can be built in one corner of the cellar or milk house, where the water will remain cool much longer than in the old fashioned wood tank and it will be impossible for germs to hide in the pores. —Farmers' Institute Bulletin.

SUGAR BEETS.

Details of Necessary Work During the Growing Period.

As soon as sugar beets are large enough to mark the rows cultivation with the horse or hand hoe may be commenced. Cultivation must not be postponed except for unfit condition of the soil if the grass and weeds appear above the ground at the same time with the beets.

When large fields are cultivated the horse hoe may be used. This plow frees the spaces between the rows of beets from weeds, and the guard prevents the growing beets from being covered by the loose soil.

The Process of Thinning.

When the beets show four leaves the process of thinning should take place. If the rows be eighteen inches apart a vigorous plant should be left every eight or ten inches. Careful selection should be made and all the puny plants destroyed. It is better to save the vigorous plants even if regular intervals are not preserved, but no space should be left greater than from twelve to fifteen inches in extent. Much of the thinning work can be done with a narrow hoe, but when the plants are very close together at the place where the preserved plant is to grow the work must be done by hand. It is well to give a thorough hand hoeing at the time of thinning, and the subsequent cultivation in most seasons may be carried on with horsepower.

When More Advanced.

When the beets are more advanced a few deeper cultivation may be desirable, and for these any good narrow cultivator may be used for single rows or a wider one for double rows. The cultivation in all cases should be conducted for the double purpose of keeping the beets entirely free from weeds and for preserving the proper tilth of the surface of the soil.

It may be said that at least once a week during the period of growing, lasting from six to eight weeks, the beet field should be cultivated. If the season be very dry frequent cultivation will be found useful. The final cultivation should leave the soil practically level. During cultivation care should be taken not to injure either the leaves or the root of the beet, and when the foliage of the growing crop begins to cover well the surface of the soil cultivation may be suspended.

C. S. Knight, Kansas State Agricultural college, in writing to Kansas Farmer, gives the foregoing information on the cultivation of the sugar beet.

Plowing Old Orchards.

We practice plowing our old orchards, being very careful to plow only three or four inches deep when breaking the turf for the first time. The roots frequently run very near the surface in an orchard that has never been plowed, and I have seen an orchard nearly ruined by deep plowing, says a writer in New England Homestead. Where the ground is rough and rocky we use the hogs to plow and fertilize, with very good results, being careful to protect small trees if there are any in the inclosure. We have practiced this method for many years.

Garden Peas.

Sowing garden peas for general crop may begin in May, if not done before. By the selection of suitable varieties and frequent plantings a constant supply of the right age may easily be secured. If a sowing of early, intermediate and late sorts be made at the one time they will come in succession ally.

ORCHARD PRACTICE.

The benefits of heading trees back will be lost in time unless the work be followed up by annual discriminate thinning of the new shoots and cutting back of those selected for future fruit bearing.

Peaches For New England.

The white fleshed peach is coming to be in great demand wherever quality is sought, and as it is more hardy than the yellow fleshed it is better for the New England grower, says J. H. Hale. Greensboro is the earliest good peach; Waddell requires rich feeding and severe thinning; Carman, a handsome peach, of the finest quality, a great money maker; Hiley, high feeding and thinning; Champion, the most delicious flavored peach we have, requires severe thinning; Belle of Georgia, good quality, handsome; Elberta, handsome, of inferior quality, but the best seller and a sure money maker; Crosby, yellow fleshed, but hardy, can get good sized fruit by high feeding and excessive thinning, has extra small pit, fine flavored flesh; Hill's Chili, late, but a fine keeper, needs excessive feeding and thinning.

Tree Labels.

In the fruit plantations labeling is very necessary, but even here there are plenty of small labels that can be attached to the branches and do not look unsightly. Those made of very thin sheet copper on which the name is indented with a hard pointed stick or awl are excellent, as they are practically everlasting, indelible and not unsightly, while if loosely attached to the tree they do not injure the bark by "growing in."

Potash For Fruits.

"Potash for fruits" has been the cry for so long that many fruit growers are misled as to its use. It is true that the "out go" of potash from the soil is relatively great, as shown by analyses, and if the soil lacks this ingredient the trees are not fruitful. But it is becoming more and more apparent that in many orchard soils potash is more abundant or more available or is less needed by the trees than was formerly thought.
